32 Behold, I will come against them that prophecie false dreames, saieth the Lord, and doe tell them, and cause my people to erre by their lies, & by their flatteries, and I sent them not, nor commaunded them: therefore they bring no profite vnto this people, saieth the Lord.

33 And when this people, or the prophet, or a Priest shall aske thee, saying, What is the b burden of the Lord? thou shalt then say vnto them, What burden? I will euen forsake you, saieth the Lord.

34 And the prophet, or the priest, or the people that shal say, The c burden of the Lord, I will euen visite euery such one, and his house.

35 Thus shall ye say euery one to his neighbour, and euery one to his brother, What hath the Lord answered? and what hath the Lorde spoken?

36 And the burden of the Lord shal ye mention no more: for euery mans [d] word shall be his burden: for ye haue peruerted the wordes of the liuing God, the Lord of hostes our God.

37 Thus shalt thou say to the Prophet, What hath the Lord answered thee? and what hath the Lord spoken?

38 And if you say, The burden of the Lorde, Then thus saieth the Lorde, Because yee say this worde, The burden of the Lorde, and I haue sent vnto you, saying, Ye shall not say, The burden of the Lord,

39 Therefore beholde, I, euen I will vtterlie forget you, and I will forsake you, and the citie that I gaue you and your fathers, and cast you out of my presence, 40 And will bring * an euerlasting reproche vpon you, and a perpetuall shame which shal neuer be forgotten.

CHAP. XXIIII.

1 The vision of the two baskets of figs. 4 Signifieth that they that are of the people should be brought again from captiuitie, 8 And that Zedekiah and the rest of the people should be caried away.

THe Lord shewed me, and behold, two [a] baskets of figges were set before the Temple of the Lorde, after that Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel had caried away captiue Ieconiah [b] sonne of Iehoiakim King of Iudah, and the princes of Iudah with the workemen, and the cunning men of Ierusalem, and had brought them to Babel.

2 One basket had very good figges, euen like the figges that are first ripe: and the other basket had very naughtie figs, which could not be eaten, they were so euil.

3 Then sayd the Lorde vnto me, What seest thou, Ieremiah? And I said, Figges: the good figs very good, and the naughtie very naughtie, which cannot be eaten, they are so euil.

4 Againe the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

5 Thus saieth the Lorde, the God of Israel, Like these good figges, so will I know them that are caried away captiue of Iudah to bee good, whome I haue sent out of this [b] place, into the land of the Caldeans.

6 For I wil set mine eies vpon them for good, and I will bring them againe to this land, and I wil build them, and not destroy them, and I will plant them, and not roote them out,

7 And I will giue them [c] an heart to knowe me, that I am the Lord, & they shalbe my * people, and I will be their God: for they shal returne vnto me with their whole heart.

8 * And as the naughtie figges which cannot be eaten, they are so euill (surely thus saieth the Lord) so wil I giue Zedekiah the King of Iudah, and his princes, and the residue of Ierusalem, that remaine in this land, and them that dwel [d] in the land of Egypt:

9 I wil euen giue them for a terrible plague to all the kingdoms of the earth, & for a reproch, and for a prouerbe, for a common talke, & for a curse, in all places where I shal cast them.

10 And I will send the sword, the famine, and the pestilence among them, till they bee consumed out of the land, that I gaue vnto them and to their fathers.

CHAP. XXV.

1 He prophecieth that they shall be in captiuitie seuentie yeres. 12 And that after the seuentie yeres the Babylonians should be destroyed. 15 The destruction of all nations is prophecied.

THe word that came to Ieremiah, concerning all the people of Iudah in the [a] fourth yeere of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah that was in the first yeere of Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel,

2 The which Ieremiah the Prophet spake vnto all the people of Iudah, and to all the inhabitants of Ierusalem, saying,

3 From the thirteenth yeere of Iosiah the sonne of Amon King of Iudah, euen vnto this day (that is the three and twentieth yeere) the word of the Lord hath come vnto me, & I haue spoken vnto you [c] rising early and speaking, but ye would not heare.

4 And the Lord hath sent vnto you all his seruants the Prophets, rising early and sending them, but yee would not heare, nor incline your eares to obey.

5 They [d] sayde, Turne againe now euerie one from his euill way, and from the wickednesse of your inuentions, and yee shall dwell in the lande that the Lorde hath giuen vnto you, and to your fathers for euer and euer.

6 And goe not after other gods to serue them and to worship them, and prouoke me not to anger with the works of your hands, and I will not punish you.

7 Neuertheless ye would not heare me, saith the Lord, but haue prouoked mee to anger with the works of your hands to your owne hurt.

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes, Because ye haue not heard my words, 9 Beholde, I will send and take to mee all the [e] families of the North, saieth the Lord, and Nebuchad-nezzar the King of Babel my [f] seruaunt, and will bring them against this land, and against the inhabitants thereof, and against all these nations [g] round about, and will destroy them, and make them an astonishment and an hissing, and a continuall desolation.

11 And this whole land shal be desolate, and an astonishment, and these nations shal serue the King of Babel seuentie yeeres.

12 And when the [i] seuentie yeeres are accomplished, I will visite [k] the King of Babel and that nation, saieth the Lord, for their iniquities, euen the land of the Caldeans, and wil make it a perpetual desolation.

16 And they shall drinke, and be moued, and be mad, because of the swordes that I will sende among them.

17 Then tooke I the cup at the Lordes hand, and made all people to drinke, vnto whome the Lord had sent me:

18 Euen Ierusalem, and the cities of Iudah, and the Kings therof, and the princes therof, to make them desolate, an astonishment, an hissing, and a curse, [n] as appeareth this day:

19 Pharaoh also, King of Egypt, and his seruants, and his princes, and all his people:

26 And all the Kings of the North, farre and neere one to another, and all the kingdomes of the worlde, which are vpon the earth, & the king of [u] Sheshach shall drinke after them.

27 Therefore say thou vnto them, Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Drinke & be drunken, and spue and fall, and rise no more, because of the sword, which I will send among you.

28 ¶ But if they refuse to take the cuppe at thine hande to drinke, then tell them, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Ye shall certainely drinke.

29 For lo, [x] I begin to plague the citie, where my Name is called vpon, and should you go free? Ye shall not goe quite: for I will call for a sword vpō al the inhabitants of the earth, saith the Lord of hostes.

30 Therefore prophecie thou against them al these swords, and say vnto them, * The Lord shal roare from aboue, and thrust out his voyce from his holy habitation: he shall roare vpon his habitation, & cry aloud as they that presse the grapes, against all the inhabitants of the earth.

31 The sound shall come to the endes of the earth: for the Lord hath a controuersie with the nations, & wil enter into iudgement with al flesh, and hee will giue them that are wicked, to the sword, saith the Lord.

32 ¶ Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Behold, a plague shal go forth from nation to nation, and a [x] great whirlewinde shall be rayſed vp from the coastes of the earth.

33 And [y] the slaine of the Lord shalbe at that day, from one end of the earth, euē vnto the other end of the earth: they shall not be mourned, neither gathered nor buried, but shall be as the dongue vpon the ground.

34 Howle, [z] ye shepherds, and cry, and wallow your selues in the ashes, ye principal of the flocke: for your dayes of slaughter are accomplished, and of your dispersion, and ye shal fall like [a] precious vessels.

35 And the [b] flight shall faile from the shepheards, and the escaping from the principal of the flocke.

36 A voyce of the crie of the shepherds, & an howling of the principal of the flock shalbe heard: for the Lord hath destroyed their pasture.

37 And the † best pastures are destroyed because of the wrath and indignation of the Lord.

a Ieremiah mouth the people to repentance. 7 Hee is taken of the false prophets and Priestes, and brought to iudgement. 23 Vrijah the Prophet is killed of Iehoiakim contrary to the will of God.

IN the beginning of the reigne of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah, came this word from the Lord, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lorde, Stand in the [a] court of the Lords House, and speake vnto all the cities of Iudah, which come to worship in the Lordes House, all the wordes that I commaund thee to speake vnto them: keepe not [b] a worde backe,

3 If so be they will hearken, and turne euery man from his euill way, that I may [c] repent me of the plague, which I haue determined to bring vpon them, because of the wickednesse of their workes.

4 And thou shalt say vnto them, Thus saieth the Lord, If ye will not heare me to walke in my Lawes, which I haue set before you,

5 And to heare the words of my seruants the Prophets, whom I sent vnto you, both rising vp earely, and sending them, and will not obey them,

6 Then will I make this House like [d] Shiloh, and will make this citie [e] a curse to all the nations of the earth.

7 So the Priests, and the Prophets, and all the people heard Ieremiah speaking these wordes in the House of the Lord.

8 Nowe when Ieremiah had made an ende of speaking all that the Lord had commaunded him to speake vnto al the people, then the Priests, and the Prophets, and all the people tooke him, and said, Thou shalt die the death.

9 Why hast thou prophecied in the Name of the Lord saying, This [f] House shalbe like Shiloh, and this citie shalbe desolate without an inhabitant? and al the people were gathered against Ieremiah in the House of the Lord.

10 And when the Princes of Iudah hearde of these things, they came vp from the Kings house into the House of the Lord and sate downe in the entrie of the [g] new gate of the Lords House.

11 Then spake the Priestes, and the Prophets vnto the princes, and to all the people, saying, † This man is worthie to die: for he hath prophecied against this citie, as ye haue heard with your eares.

12 Then spake Ieremiah vnto all the princes, and to all the people, saying, The Lord hath [h] sent me to prophecy against this house and against this citie all the things that ye haue heard.

come to Ierusalē vnto Zedekiah ỹ king of Iudah,

4 And commaund them to say vnto their masters, Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Thus shal ye say vnto your masters,

5 I haue made the earth, the man, & the beast that are vpon the ground, by my great power, & by my outstretched arme, and haue giuen it vnto whom it pleased me,

6 But now I haue giuen all these landes into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzar the King of Babel my c seruant, and the beastes of the fielde haue I also giuen him to serue him.

7 And all nations shall serue him, and his d sonne, and his sonnes sonne vntil the very time of his land come also: then many nations & great Kings shal e serue themselues of him.

8 And the nation and kingdome which will not serue the same Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel, & that wil not put their neck vnder the yoke of the king of Babel, the same nation wil I visite, saith the Lord, with the sworde, and with the famine, and with the pestilence, vntil I haue wholy giuen them into his hands.

9 Therfore heare not your prophets nor your southsayers, nor your dreamers, nor your inchanters, nor your sorcerers, which say vnto you thus, Ye shall not serue the King of Babel.

10 For they prophecie a lie vnto you to cause you to go farre from your land, and that I should cast you out, and you should perish.

11 But the nation that put their neckes vnder the yoke of the King of Babel, & serue him, those will I let remaine stil in their owne land, saith the Lord, and they shall occupie it, and dwel therein.

12 ¶ I spake also to Zedekiah King of Iudah according to all these wordes, saying, Put your neckes vnder the yoke of the King of Babel, and serue him and his people, that ye may liue.

13 Why will ye die, thou, and thy people by the sworde, by the famine, and by the pestilence, as the Lorde hath spoken against the nation, that will not serue the King of Babel?

14 Therfore heare not the words of the prophets, ỹ speake vnto you, saying, Ye shal not serue ỹ King of Babel: for they propheoy a lie vnto you.

15 For I haue not * sent them, saith the Lord, yet they prophecie a lie in my name, that I might cast you out, and that yee might perish, both you, and the prophets that prophecie vnto you.

16 ¶ Also I spake to the Priests, and to all this people, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Heare not the words of your prophets that prophecie vnto you, saying, Behold, * the vessels of the house of the Lord shal now shortly be f brought againe from Babel, for they propheeie a lie vnto you.

17 Heare them not, but serue the King of Babel, that ye may liue: wherefore should this citie be desolate?

18 But if they be Prophets, & if the worde of the Lorde bee with them, let them g intreate the Lorde of hostes, that the vessels, which are left in the House of the Lorde, and in the House of the King of Iudah, & at Ierusalem, goe not to Babel.

19 For thus saith the Lorde of hostes, concerning the * pillars, and concerning the sea, and concerning the bases, and concerning the residue of the vessels that remaine in this citie,

20 Which Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel tooke not, when hee caried * away captiue Ieconiah niah the sonne of Iehoiakim King of Iudah from Ierusalem to Babel, with all the nobles of Iudah and Ierusalem.

21 For thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, concerning the vessels that remaine in the House of the Lorde, and in the house of the King of Iudah, and at Ierusalem, 22 They shalbe brought to Babel, and there they shalbe vntil the day that I visite h them, saith the Lord: then will I bring them vp, and restore them vnto this place.

h That is, for the space of seuentie yeeres, till I haue raised the Medes and Persians to ouercome the Caldeans.

CHAP. XXVIII.

1 The false prophecie of Hananiah. 12 Jeremiah reproueth Hananiah, and prophecieth.

AND that same yeere in the beginning of the a reigne of Zedekiah King of Iudah in the b fourth yeere, and in the fifth moneth Hananiah the sonne of Azur the prophet, which was of c Gibeon, spake to me in the House of the Lorde in the presence of the Priests, and of all the people, and said, a When Ieremiah began to beare their bonds and yokes.

b After that the land had rested, as Leuit. 25. 2.

c This was a citie in Beniamin belonging to the soones of Aaron, Iosh. 21. 17.

2 Thus speaketh the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, saying, I haue broken the yoke of the King of Babel.

3 † Within two yeeres space I will bring into this place all the vessels of the Lordes House, that Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel tooke away from this place, and caried them into Babel.

4 And I will bring againe to this place Ieconiah the sonne of Iehoiakim King of Iudah, with all them that were caried away captine of Iudah, and went into Babel, saieth the Lorde: for I will breake the yoke of the King of Babel.

5 Then the Prophet Ieremiah said vnto the d Prophet Hananiah in the presence of the Priests, and in the presence of all the people that stood in the House of the Lord, d He was so esteemed though he was a false prophet.

6 Euen the Prophet Ieremiah sayde, So be it: the e Lord so doe, the Lord confirme thy wordes which thou hast prophecied to restore the vessels of the Lords House, and all that is caried captiue, from Babel, into this place.

e That is, I would with the same for Gods honour, and wealth of my people, but he hath appointed the contrarie.

7 But heare thou now this worde that I will speake in thine eares and in the eares of all the people.

8 The Prophets that haue bene before mee and before thee in time past, f prophecied against many countries, and against great kingdomes, of warre, and of plagues, and of pestilence.

f Meaning, that the Prophets that did either denounce warre or peace, were tried either true or false by the successe of their prophecies. Also it God maketh to come to passe sometime that which the false prophet speaketh, to trie the faith of his. Deut. 13. 1.

9 And the Prophet which prophecieth of peace when the word of the Prophet shall come to passe, then shall the Prophet bee knowen that the Lord hath truely sent him.

g This declareth the impudencie of the wicked hirelings, which haue no zeale to the truth, but are led with ambition to get the fauour of men, and therefore cannot abide any, that might discredite them, but burst forth into rages, and contrary to their owne conscience, passe not what lies they report, or how wickedly they doe, so that they may maintaine their estimation.

10 Then Hananiah the Prophet tooke the yoke from the Prophet Ieremiahs necke, and g brake it.

11 And Hananiah spake in the presence of all the people, saying, Thus saieth the Lord, Euen so will I breake the yoke of Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel, from the necke of all nations within the space of two yeeres: and the Prophet Ieremiah went his way.

12 ¶ Then the word of the Lord came vnto Ieremiah the Prophet, (after that Hananiah the Prophet had broken the yoke from the necke of the Prophet Ieremiah) saying, 13 Goe, and tell Hananiah, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Thou hast broken the yokes of wood, but thou shalt make for them yokes of iron.

14 For thus saieth the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, I haue put a h yoke of iron vpon the necke of all these nations, that they may serue Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel: for they shall serue him, and I haue giuen him the i beastes of the field also.

h That is hard, & cruell seruitude.

i Signifying, that all should be his, as Dan. 2. 38.

15 Then sayd the Prophet Ieremiah vnto the Prophet Hananiah, Heare nowe Hananiah, the Lorde hath not sent thee, but thou makest this people to trust in a lie.

k Seeing this thing was euident in the eies of the people, and yet they returned not to the Lord, it is manifest, that miracles cannot moone vs, neither the word it selfe, except God touch the heart.

16 Therefore thus saieth the Lord, Beholde, I will cast thee from off the earth: this yeere thou shalt die, because thou hast spoken rebelliously against the Lord.

17 So Hananiah the Prophet k died the same yeere in the seuenth moneth.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 Jeremiah writeth vnto them that were in captiuitie in Babylon. 10 Hee prophecieth their returne after seuentie yeeres. 16 Hee prophecieth the destruction of the King and of the people that remaine in Ierusalem. 21 Hee threatneth the prophets that seduce the people. 25 The death of Shemaiah is prophecied.

NOw these are the wordes of the ‖ booke that Ieremiah the Prophet sent from Ierusalem vnto a the residue of the Elders, which were caried away captiues, and to the Priestes, and to the Propheres, and to all the people whome Nebuchad-nezzar had caried away captiue from Ierusalem to Babel:

‖ Or, letter.

a For some died in the way.

2 (After that Ieconiah the King, and the b Queene, and the eunuches, the * princes of Iudah, and of Ierusalem, and the workmen, and cunning men were departed from Ierusalem)

b Meaning, Ieconiahs mother.

* Ier. 24. 1.

3 By the hand of Elasah the sonne of Shaphan and Gemariah the sonne of Hilkiah, (whom Zedekiah King of Iudah c sent vnto Babel to Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel) saying, c To intreat of some equall conditions.

4 Thus hath the Lorde of hostes, the God of Israel spoken vnto all that are caried away captiues, whom I haue d caused to bee caried away captiues from Ierusalem vnto Babel:

d To wit, the Lord, whose worke this was.

5 Build you houses to dwel in, and plant you gardens, and eate the fruites of them.

6 Take you wiues, & beget sonnes & daughters, and take wiues for your sonnes, and giue your daughters to husbandes, that they may beare sonnes and daughters, that yee may be increased there, and not diminished.

e The Prophet speaketh not this for the affection that he bare to the tyran, but that they should pray for the common rest, and quietnes, that their troubles might not be increased, and that they might with more patience and lesse griefe waite for the time of their deliuerance, which God had appointed most certaine, for els not onely the Israelites, but all the world, yea, and the insensible creatures should rejoice when these tyrants should be destroied, as Iis. 14.

7 And seeke the prosperitie of the citie, whither I haue caused you to be caried away captiues, and e pray vnto the Lord for it: for in the peace thereof shall you haue peace.

8 ¶ For thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Let not your prophets and your south-sayers that bee among you, deceiue you, neither giue eare to your dreames, which you dreame.

9 For they prophecie you false in my Name: I haue not sent them, saith the Lord.

10 But thus saith the Lord, That after seuentie yeeres be accomplished at Babel, I wil visite you, and performe my good promes toward you, and cause you to returne to this place.

11 For I know the thoughtes, that I haue thought towardes you, saieth the Lorde, euen the thoughtes of peace, and not of trouble, to giue you an ende and your hope.

12 Then shall you crie vnto me, and yee shall goe and pray vnto me, and I will heare you.

13 And ye shall seeke mee and finde me, be-

f When your oppression shall be great, and your afflictions cause you to repent your disobedience, and also when the seuentie yeeres of your captiuitie shalbe expired, 2. Chro. 36. 22. Ezra 1, 1. Chap. 25. 12. Dan. 9. 2.

cause ye shall seeke me with all f your heart.

14 And I will be found of you, saith the Lord, and I will turne away your captiuitie, and I will gather you from all the nations, and from all the places, whither I haue cast you, saieth the Lorde, and wil bring you againe vnto the place, whence I caused you to be carried away captiue.

15 ¶ Because ye haue said, The Lord hath raised vs vp g Prophets in Babel, g As Ahab, Zedekiah, and Shemaiah.

16 Therefore thus saieth the Lord of the King, that sitteth vpon the throne of Dauid, and of all the people, that dwell in this citie, your brethren that are not gone foorth with you into captiuitie:

17 Euen thus saieth the Lord of hostes, Beholde, I will send vpon them the h sword, the famine, and the pestilence, and will make them like vile i figs, that cannot be eaten, they are so naughtie.

h Whereby he assureth them, that there shalbe no hope of returning before the time appointed.

i According to the comparison, Chap. 24. 1, 2.

18 And I wil persecute them with the sword, with the famine, and with the pestilence: and I wil make them a terrour to all kingdomes of the earth, and k a curse, and astonishment and an hissing, and a reproch among all the nations whither I haue cast them, k Read Chap. 26. 6.

19 Because they haue not heard my wordes, saieth the Lorde, which I sent vnto them by my seruants the Prophets, l rising vp earely, and sending them, but ye would not heare, saith the Lord.

l Read Chap. 7. 13. & 25. 3. & 26. 5.

20 ¶ Heare ye therefore the word of the Lord all ye of the captiuitie, whom I haue sent from Ierusalem to Babel.

21 Thus saieth the Lorde of hostes, the God of Israel, of Ahab the sonne of Kolaiah, and of Zedekiah the sonne of Maaseiah, which prophecie lies vnto you in my Name, Beholde, I will deliuer them into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel, and he shall slay them before your eies.

22 And all they of the captiuitie of Iudah, that are in Babel, shall take vp this curse against them, and say, The Lorde make thee like Zedekiah and like Ahab, whom the King of Babel burnt m in the fire, m Because they gaue the people hope of speedie returning.

23 Because they haue committed n vilenie in Israel, and haue committed adulterie with their neighbours wiues, and haue spoken lying wordes in my Name, which I haue not commaunded them, euen I knowe it, and I testifie it, saieth the Lord.

n Which was adulterie, and falsifying the word of God.

24 ¶ Thou shalt also speake to Shemaiah the ‖ Nehelamite, saying, ‖ Dreamer.

25 Thus speaketh the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, saying, Because thou hast sent letters in thy Name vnto all the people, that are at Ierusalem, and to Zephaniah the sonne of Maaseiah the Priest, and to all the Priests, saying,

26 The Lord hath made thee Priest, for o Iehoiada the Priest, that ye should be officers in the House of the Lord, for euery man that raueth and maketh himselfe a Prophet, to put him in prison and in the stockes.

o Shemaiah the false prophet laboureth Zephaniah the chiefe Priest, as though God had giuen him the spirit and zeale of Iehoiada to punish whosoeuer misspaked against the word of God, of the which he would haue made Ieremiah one calling him a raiser and a stable preacher.

27 Now, therefore why hast thou not reproued Ieremiah of Anathoth, which prophecieth vnto you?

28 For, for this cause he sent vnto vs in Babel, saying, This captiuitie is long: builde houses to dwell in, and plant gardens, and eate the fruites of them.

29 And Zephaniah the Priest read this letter in the eares of Ieremiah the Prophet.

30 Then came the word of the Lord vnto Ieremiah, saying,

31 Send to all them of the captiuitie, saying, Thus saieth the Lorde of Shemaiah the Nehelamite, Because that Shemaiah hath prophecied vnto you, and I sent him not, and he caused you to trust in a lie, 32 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I will visite Shemaiah the Nehelamite, & his seede: hee shall not haue a man p to dwell among this people, neither shall hee behold the good, that I will do for my people, saieth the Lord, because he hath spoken rebellionsly against the Lord.

p He and his seed shal be destroyed, so that none of them should see the benefite of this deliverance.

CHAP. XXX.

1 The returne of the people from Babylon. 16 He menaceth the enemies, 18 And comforteth the Church.

THe worde, that came to Ieremiah from the Lord, saying, a Because they should be afraid and their posteritie confirmed in the hope of this deliverance promised.

2 Thus speaketh the Lord God of Israel, saying, Write thee all the words, that I haue spoken vnto thee in a a booke.

3 For loe, the daies come, saith the Lord, that I wil bring againe the captiuitie of my people Israel and Iudah, saieth the Lord: for I will restore them vnto the land, that I gaue to their fathers, and they shall possesse it.

4 Againe, these are the wordes that the Lord spake concerning Israel, and concerning Iudah.

5 For thus saieth the Lord, We haue heard a b terrible voyce, of feare and not of peace.

b Of the Caldeans, which should be extremely afflicted by their enemies, and that they should be in such perplexitie and sorow, as a woman in her trauaile, as Ier. 13. 21.

6 Demaund nowe and behold, if man trauell with childe? wherefore doe I behold euery man with his handes on his loines as a woman in trauell, and all faces are turned into c paleneſſe?

c Meaning that the time of their captiuitie should be grieuous.

7 Alas, for this d day is great: none hath bene like it: it is euen the time of Iaakobs trouble, yet shal he be deliuered from it.

d When I shall visite Babylon.

8 For in that d day, saieth the Lord of hostes, I will breake e his yoke from off thy necke, and breake thy bondes, and strangers shall no more serue themselues f of him.

e Of the King of Babylon.

9 But they shall serue the Lord their God, & g Dauid their King, whom I wil raise vp vnto the.

g That is Messias, which should come of the seede of Dauid according to the flesh, and should be the true pastor, as Ezek. 34. 23. who is lie, feeder, and his kingdom that should be euerlasting in the person of Dauid. Hos. 3. 5.

10 Therefore feare not, O my seruant Iaakob, saieth the Lord, neither be afraid, O Israel: for loe, I wil deliuer thee from a farre countrey, and thy seed from the land of their captiuitie, and Iaakob shal turne againe, and shalbe in rest and prosperitie and none shal make him afraid.

h Read Chap. 46. 28.

11 For I am with thee, saith the Lord, to saue thee: though I vtterly destroy all the nations where I haue scattered thee, yet will I not vtterly destroy thee, but I wil correct thee by iudgement, and not h vtterly cut thee off.

12 For thus saith the Lorde, Thy bruising is incurable, and thy wound is dolorous.

i Meaning that no man is able to find out a meane to deliuer them, but that it must be the worke of God.

13 There is none to iudge thy cause, or to lay a plaister, there are no medicines, nor help for thee.

14 All thy k louers haue forgotten thee: they seeke thee not: for I haue striken thee with the wound of an enemie, and with a sharpe chastisement for the multitude of thine iniquities, because thy sinnes were increased.

k The Assirians and Egyptians, whom they did entertaine with gifts, who left them in their affliction.

15 Why criest thou for thine affliction? thy sorow is incurable, for the multitude of thine iniquities: because thy sinnes were increased, I haue done these things vnto thee.

16 Therefore

16 ¶ Therefore all they that deuour thee, shall be deuoured, & all thine enemies euery one shal goe into captiuitie: & they that spoyle thee, shalbe spoyled, and al they that rob be thee, wil I giue to be robbed.

17 For I will restore health vnto thee, and I will heale thee of thy woundes, saith the Lord, because they called thee, The cast away, saying, This is Zion, whom no man seeketh after.

18 Thus saith the Lorde, Beholde, I wil bring againe the captiuitie of Iaakobs tents, and haue compassion on his dwelling places: and the citie shalbe builded vpon her owne heape, [m] and the palace shall remaine after the maner thereof.

19 And out of them shal proceede [n] thankesgiuing, and the voyce of them that are ioyous, and I will multiplie them, and they shall not be fewe: I will also glorifie them, and they shall not be diminished.

20 Their children also shall be as afore time, and their congregation shalbe established before me: and I will visite all that vexe them.

21 And their [o] noble ruler shall be of themselues, & their gouernour shal proceede from the middes of them, & I wil cause him to draw neere, & approch vnto me: for who is this that directeth his [p] heart to come vnto me, sayth the Lord?

22 And yee shall be my people, and I will be your God.

23 Beholde, [q] the tempest of the Lorde goeth foorth with wrath: the whirlewind that hangeth ouer, shal light vpon the head of the wicked.

24 The fierce wrath of the Lord shall not returne, vntill he haue done, and vntil he haue performed the intents of his heart: in the [r] latter daies ye shall vnderstand it.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 He rehearseth Gods benefits after their returne from Babylon, 23 And the spirituall ioy of the faithfull in the Church.

AT the [a] same time, sayth the Lord, will I be the God of all the families of Israel, and they shalbe my people.

2 Thus saith the Lord, The people which [b] escaped the sworde, founde grace in the wildernes: [c] he walked before Israel to cause him to rest.

3 The Lord hath appeared vnto me [d] of old, say they: [e] Yea, I haue loued thee [w] an euerlasting loue, therefore with mercie I haue drawen thee.

4 Againe I will build thee, and thou shalt be builded, O virgine Israel: thou shalt stil [f] be adorned with thy timbrels, and shalt go foorth in the dance of them that be ioyfull.

5 Thou shalt yet plant vines vpon the mountaines of [g] Samaria, and the planters that plant them, [h] shall make them common.

6 For the dayes shall come that the [i] watchmen vpon the mount of Ephraim shal cry, Arise, and let vs go vp vnto [k] Zion to the Lord our God.

7 For thus saith the Lord, Reioyce with gladnesse for Iaakob, and shoute for ioye among the chiefe of the [l] Gentiles: publish praise, and say, O Lord, saue thy people, the remnant of Israel.

8 Beholde, I will bring them from the North countrey, and gather them from the coasts of the world, with the blinde & the lame among them, with the woman with childe, and her that is deliuered also: a great companie shall returne hither.

9 They shal come [m] weeping, and with mercie wil I bring them againe: I will lead them by the riuers of [n] water in a straight way, wherin they shal not stumble: for I am a father to Israel, and Ephraim is [o] my first borne.

10 ¶ Heare the word of the Lord, O ye Gentiles, and declare in the yles afarre off, and say, He that scattered Israel, wil gather him and wil keepe him, as a shepheard doeth his flocke.

11 For the Lord hath redeemed Iaakob, and ransomed him from the hande [p] of him, that was stronger then he.

12 Therefore they shal come, and reioyce in the height of Zion, and shall runne to the bountifulnesse of the Lord, euen for the [q] wheat and for the wine, and for the oyle, and for the increase of sheepe, & bullocks: and their soule shalbe as a watered garden, and they shal haue no more sorow.

13 Then shal [s] ỹ virgine reioyce in the [t] dance, and the yong men and the old men together: for I will turne their mourning into ioy, & will comfort them, and giue them ioy for their sorowes.

14 And I wil repleniſh the soule of the Priests with [f] fatnesse, & my people shalbe satisfied with my goodnesse, saith the Lord.

15 Thus saith the Lord, A voyce was heard on hie, a mourning and bitter weeping, [t] Rahel weeping for her children, refused to be comforted for her children, because they were not.

16 Thus saith the Lorde, Refraine thy voyce from weeping, and thine eyes from teares: for thy worke shalbe rewarded, sayth the Lord, and they shall come againe from the land of the enemie:

17 And there is hope in thine ende, saith the Lord, that thy children shal come againe to their owne borders.

18 I haue heard [u] Ephraim lamenting thus, Thou hast corrected me, and I was chastised as an [x] vntamed calfe: y conuert thou me, and I shalbe conuerted: for thou art the Lord my God.

19 Surely after that I conuerted, I repented: and after that I was instructed, I smote vpon my [z] thigh: I was ashamed, yea, euen confounded, because I did beare the reproch of my youth.

20 Is Ephraim [a] my deare sonne or pleasant child? yet since I spake vnto him, I stil [b] remembred him: therefore my bowels are troubled for him: I wil surely haue cõpassion vpon him, saith ỹ Lord.

21 Set thee vp [c] signes: make thee heapes: set thine heart toward the path and way, that thou hast walked: turne againe, O virgine of Israel: turne againe to these thy cities.

22 How long wilt thou goe astray, O thou rebellious daughter? for the Lord hath created [d] a new thing in the earth: A WOMAN shall compasse a man.

23 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Yet shall they say this thing in the land of

I Herein is commended Gods great mercie toward his, who doth not destroy them for their sinnes, but correct and chastise them, til he haue purged & pardoned them, and so burneth the rods by the which he did punish them, Isa. 33.1.

n He sheweth how the people shall with prayse and thankesgiuing acknowledge this benefite.

u That is, the people that were led captiue.

c Marke by what way thou diddest goe into captiuitie, and thou shalt turne againe by the same.

d Because their deliuerance from Babylon was a figure of their deliuerance from sinne, he sheweth how this should be procured, to wit, by Iesus Christ, whom a woman should conceiue, and beare in her wombe.

V Which is a strange thing in earth, because he should be borne of a virgine without man: or els it meaneth, that Israel which was like a barren woman in her captiuitie, should be as fruitfull as she, that is ioyned in mariage, and whom God blesse with children.

Iudah, and in the cities thereof, when I shal bring againe their captiuitie, The Lord blesse thee, O habitation of iustice and holy mountaine.

24 And Iudah shall dwell in it, and all the cities thereof together, the husbandmen and they that goe foorth with the flocke.

25 For I haue satiate the wearie soule, and I haue repleniſhed euery sorowfull soule.

26 Therefore I awaked and behelde, and my sleepe e was sweete vnto me.

27 Behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I wil sow the house of Israel, & the house of Iudah f with the seed of man and with the seed of beast.

28 And like as I haue watched vpon them, to plucke vp and to roote out, and to throw downe, and to destroy, and to plague them, so wil I watch ouer them, to build & to plant them, saith ỹ Lord.

29 In those dayes shall they say no more, The fathers haue g eaten a sowre grape, and the childrens teeth are set on edge.

30 But euery one shal die for his owne iniquitie: euery man that eateth the sowre grape, his teeth shalbe set on edge.

31 ¶ Behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will make a h new couenant with the house of Israel, and with the house of Iudah, 32 Not according to the couenant that I made with their fathers, when I tooke them by the hand to bring them out of the land of Egypt, the which my couenant they i brake, although I was ‖ an husband vnto them, saith the Lord.

33 But this shall be the couenant that I will make with the house of Israel, After k those daies, saith the Lord, I will put my Law in their inward partes, and write it in their hearts, and wil be their God, and they shalbe my people.

34 And they shall l teach no more euery man his neighbour and euery man his brother, saying, Know the Lord: for they shall all know me from the least of them vnto the greatest of them, saith the Lord: for I will forgiue their iniquitie, and wil remember their sinnes no more.

35 Thus saith the Lorde, which giueth m the sunne for a light to the day, & the courses of the moone and of the starres for a light to the night, which breaketh the sea, when the waues thereof roare: his Name is the Lord of hostes.

36 If these ordinances depart out of my sight, saith the Lord, then shall the seede of Israel cease from being a nation before me, for euer.

37 Thus saith the Lord, If the heauens can be measured, n or ỹ foundations of the earth be searched out beneath, then will I cast off all the seede of Israel, for all that they haue done, saith ỹ Lord.

38 Behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that the o citie shalbe built to the Lord from ỹ tower of Hananeel, vnto the gate of the corner.

40 And ỹ whole valley of the dead bodies, and of the ashes, & all the fields vnto ỹ brooke of Kidron, & vnto the corner of the horsegate toward the East, shalbe holy vnto the Lord, neither shal it be plucked vp nor destroyed any more for euer.

CHAP. XXXII.

Ieremiah is cast into prison because he prophecied that the citie should be taken of the King of Babylon. 7 Hee sheweth that the people should come againe to their owne possession. 38 The people of God are his seruants, and he is their Lord.

THe word that came vnto Ieremiah from the Lord, in the a tenth yeere of Zedekiah king of Iudah, which was the eighteenth yeere of Nebuchad-nezzar.

2 For then the King of Babels hoste besieged Ierusalem: and Ieremiah the Prophet was shutte vp in the court of the prison, which was in the King of Iudahs house.

3 For Zedekiah King of Iudah had shut him vp, saying, Wherefore doest thou prophesie, and say, Thus saith the Lord, *Behold, I will giue this citie into the handes of the King of Babel, and he shall take it?

4 And Zedekiah the King of Iudah shall not escape out of the hand of the Caldeans, but shall surely be deliuered into the handes of the King of Babel, and shall speake with him mouth to mouth, and his eyes shall beholde his face,

5 And he shal lead Zedekiah to Babel, & there shall he be, vntil b I visit him, saith ỹ Lord: though ye fight with the Caldeans, ye shall not prosper.

6 ¶ And Ieremiah said, The word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

7 Beholde, Hanameel, the sonne of Shallum thine vncle, shall come vnto thee and say, c Bie vnto thee my fielde, that is in Anathoth: for the ‖ title by kindred apperteineth vnto thee d to bie it.

8 So Hanameel, mine vncles sonne, came to mee in the court of the prison, according to the word of the Lord, & said vnto me, Bie my e field, I pray thee, that is in Anathoth, which is in the countrey of Beniamin: for the right of the possession is thine, & the purchase belongeth vnto thee: bie it for thee. Then I knewe that this was the word of the Lord.

9 And I bought the field of Hanameel, mine vncles sonne, that was in Anathoth, and weighed him the siluer, euen seuen f shekels, and ten pieces of siluer.

10 And I writ it in the booke and signed it, and tooke witnesses, and weighed him the siluer in the balances.

11 So I tooke the booke of the possession, being sealed g according to the Lawe, and custome, with the booke that was open, 12 And I gaue the booke of the possession vnto Baruch the sonne of Neriah, the sonne of Maaseiah, in the sight of Hanameel mine vncles sonne, and in the presence of the witnesses, written in the booke of the possession, before all the Iewes that sate in the court of the prison.

13 And I charged Baruch before them, saying,

14 Thus saith the Lorde of hostes, the God of Israel, Take the writings, euen this booke of the possession, both that is sealed, and this booke that is open, and put them in an earthen h vessell, that they may continue a long time.

15 For the Lorde of hostes, the God of Israel saith thus, Houses and fieldes, and vineyardes shal be possessed againe in this land.

16 ¶ Now when I had deliuered the booke of the possession vnto Baruch, the sonne of Neriah, I praye d vn to the Lord, saying,

Though the couenant of redemption made to the fathers, and this which was giuen after, seeme diuers, yet they are all one, and grounded on Iesus Christ, saue that this is called newe, because of the manifestation of Christ, and the abundant graces of the holy Ghost giuen to his Church vnder the Gospel.

25 And thou haſt ſayd vnto me, O Lord God, Bye vnto thee the fielde for ſiluer, and take witneſſes: for the citie ſhalbe giuen into the hand of the Caldeans.

26 ¶ Then came the worde of the Lord vnto Ieremiah, ſaying, 27 Beholde, I am the LORD GOD of all m fleſh: is there any thing too hard for me?

28 Therefore thus ſayth the Lorde, Beholde, I wil giue this citie into the hand of the Caldeans, and into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzar, King of Babel, and he ſhall take it.

29 And the Caldeans ſhall come and fight againſt this citie, & ſet fire on this citie and burne it, with the houſes, vpon whoſe rooſes they haue offered incenſe vnto Baal, and powred drinke offrings vnto other gods, to prouoke me vnto anger.

a Which was in the Kings houſe at Ieruſalem, as chap. 32.1,2.

c Reade Chap. 32.24.

4 For thus ſayth the Lord God of Iſrael, concerning the houſes of this citie, and concerning the houſes of the Kings of Iudah, which are deſtroyed by the c mounts, and by the ſword:

5 They come to d fight with the Caldeans, but it is to fill themſelues with the dead bodies of men, whome I haue ſlaine in mine anger and in my wrath: for I haue hid my e face from this citie, becauſe of all their wickednes.

d The Iewes thinke to ouercome the Caldeans, but they ſeeke their owne deſtruction.

e He ſheweth that Gods fauour is cauſe of all proſperitie, as his anger is of all aduerſitie.

6 ¶ Beholde, f I will giue it health & amendment: for I will cure them, and will reueile vnto them the abundance of peace, and trueth.

f In the mids of his threatnings God remembreth him, and comforteth them.

7 And I wil cauſe the captiuitie of Iudah and the captiuitie of Iſrael to returne, and will build them as at the firſt.

8 And I will g clenſe them from all their iniquitie, whereby they haue ſinned againſt me: yea, I wil pardon all their iniquities, whereby they haue ſinned againſt mee, and whereby they haue rebelled againſt me.

9 And it ſhalbe to me a name, a h ioy, a praiſe, and an honour before all the nations of the earth, which ſhal heare all ỹ good that I doe vnto them: and they ſhal feare & tremble for all the goodnes, and for all the wealth, that I ſhew vnto this citie.

10 Thus ſayth the Lord, Againe there ſhall be heard in this place (which ye ſay ſhalbe deſolate, without man, and without beaſt, euen in the cities of Iudah, and in the ſtreetes of Ieruſalem, that are deſolate without man, and without inhabitant, and without beaſt)

11 The voyce of ioy and the voyce of gladnes, the voyce of the bridegrome, and the voice of the bride, the voyce of them that ſhall ſay, i Prayſe the Lord of hoſtes, becauſe the Lord is good: for his mercy endureth for euer, and of them that offer the ſacrifice of praiſe in the Houſe of the Lord, for I will cauſe to returne the captiuitie of the land, as at the firſt, ſayth the Lord.

12 Thus ſayth the Lorde of hoſtes, Againe in this place, which is deſolate, without man, & without beaſt, and in all the cities thereof there ſhall be dwelling for ſhepheards to reſt their flockes.

13 In ỹ cities of the k mountaines, in ỹ cities in the plaine, & in the cities of the South, and in the land of Beniamin, & about Ieruſalem, and in the cities of Iudah ſhal the ſheepe paſſe againe, vnder the hand of him that telleth them, ſaith the Lord.

14 Beholde, the dayes come, ſayth the Lorde, that I wil performe that good thing, which I haue promiſed vnto the houſe of Iſrael, & to the houſe of Iudah.

15 In thoſe dayes and at that time, wil I cauſe l the branch of righteouſneſſe to growe vp vnto Dauid, & he ſhal execute iudgement, and righteouſneſſe in the land.

16 In thoſe dayes ſhall Iudah be ſaued, & Ieruſalem ſhall dwell ſafely, and hee that ſhall call m her, is the Lord our n righteouſneſſe.

17 For thus ſayth the Lord, Dauid ſhall neuer want a man to ſit vpon the throne of the houſe of Iſrael.

18 Neither ſhal the Prieſts and Leuites want a man before me to offer o burnt offerings, & to offer meat offerings, & to doe ſacrifice continually.

19 ¶ And the worde of the Lorde came vnto Ieremiah, ſaying,

20 Thus ſayth the Lord, If you can breake my couenant of the p day, and my couenant of the night, that there ſhould not be day, and night in their ſeaſon, 21 Then may my couenant be broken with Dauid my ſeruant, that he ſhould not haue a ſonne to reigne vpon his throne, and with the Leuites, and Prieſtes my miniſters.

22 As the army of heauen can not be numbred, neither the ſand of the ſea meaſured: ſo will I multiplie the ſeede of Dauid my ſeruant, & the Leuites, that miniſter vnto me.

23 ¶ Moreouer, the worde of the Lord came to Ieremiah, ſaying, 24 Conſidereſt thou not what q this people haue ſpoken, ſaying, The two families, which the Lord hath choſen, hee hath euen caſt them off? thus they haue deſpiſed my people, that they ſhould be no more a nation before them.

25 Thus ſayth the Lorde, If my couenant be not with day and night, and if I haue not appointed the order of heauen and earth, 26 Then will I caſt away the ſeede of Iaakob and Dauid my ſeruant, and not take of his ſeede to be rulers ouer the ſeede of Abraham, Izhak, and Iaakob: for I will cauſe their captiuitie to returne, and haue compaſſion on them.

CHAP. XXXIIII.

a He threateneth that the citie, and the King Zedekiah ſhall be giuen into the hands of the King of Babylon. 11 Hee rebuketh their cruelties toward their ſeruants.

THe worde which came vnto Ieremiah from the Lord (when a Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel, and all his hoſte, and all the kingdomes of the earth, that were vnder the power of his hand, and all people fought againſt Ieruſalem, and againſt all the cities thereof) ſaying,

2 Thus ſayth the Lorde God of Iſrael, Goe, and ſpeake to Zedekiah King of Iudah, and tell him, Thus ſayth the Lord, Beholde, * I will giue this citie into the hand of the King of Babel, and he ſhall burne it with fire,

3 And thou ſhalt not eſcape out of his hand, but ſhalt ſurely be taken, and deliuered into his hand, and thine eyes ſhall beholde the face of the King of Babel, & he ſhal ſpeake with thee mouth to mouth, and thou ſhalt goe to Babel.

4 Yet heare the worde of the Lord, O Zedekiah, King of Iudah: thus ſayth the Lord of thee, Thou ſhalt not dye by the ſword,

5 But thou ſhalt die in b peace: & according to the burning for thy fathers ỹ former kings which were before thee, ſo ſhall they burne odours for thee, & they ſhall lament thee, ſaying, Oh c lorde: for I haue pronounced the worde, ſaith the Lord.

6 Then Ieremiah the Prophet ſpake all theſe words vnto Zedekiah king of Iudah in Ieruſalem,

7 (When the King of Babels hoſte fought againſt Ieruſalem, and againſt all the cities of Iudah, that were left, euen againſt Lachiſh, and againſt Azekah: for theſe ſtrong cities remained of the cities of Iudah)

8 This u the worde that came vnto Ieremiah from the Lord, after that the King Zedekiah had made a couenant with all the people, which were at Ieruſalem, d to proclaime libertie vnto them,

9 That euery man ſhould let his e ſeruant goe free, and euery man his handmayde, which was an Ebrue or an Ebrueſſe, and that none ſhould ſerue himſelfe of them, to wit, of a Iewe his brother.

10 Now when all the princes, and all the people which had agreed to the couenant, heard that euery one ſhould let his ſeruant goe free, & euery one his handmayde, and that none ſhould ſerue them ſelues of them any more, they obeyed and let them goe.

11 But afterwarde they † repented and cauſed the ſeruants and the handmayds, whom they had let go free, to returne, and helde them in ſubiection as ſeruants and handmayds.

12 Therefore the worde of the Lorde came vnto Ieremiah from the Lord, ſaying, 15 And ye were nowe turned, and had done right in my sight, in proclayming libertie euery man to his neighbour, and ye had made a couenant before me in the house, whereupon my Name is called.

16 But ye repented, & polluted my Name: for ye haue caused euery man his seruant, and euery man his handmaid, whom ye had set at libertie at their pleasure, to returne, and holde them in subiection to be vnto you as seruants and as handmaides.

17 Therefore thus saith the Lord, ye haue not obeyed me, in proclayming freedome euery man to his brother, and euery man to his neighbour: beholde, I proclaime a libertie for you, saith the Lord, to g the sword, to the pestilence, and to the famine, and I will make you a terrour to all the kingdomes of the earth.

22 Beholde, I will command, saith the Lord, and cause them to returne to this citie, and they shall fight against it, and take it, and burne it with fire: and I will make the cities of Iudah desolate without an inhabitant.

CHAP. XXXV.

The prophet the vprightnes of the Rechabites, and thereby condemneth the pride of the Iewes.

THe worde which came vnto Ieremiah from the Lorde, in the dayes of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah, saying,

2 Go vnto the house of the a Rechabites, and speake vnto them, and bring them into the house of the Lord into one of the chambers, and giue them wine to drinke.

3 Then tooke I Iaazaniah, the sonne of Ieremiah the sonne of Habazeiniah, and his brethren, and all his sonnes, and the whole house of the Rechabites,

4 And I brought them into the House of the Lord, into the chamber of the sonnes of Hanan the sonne of Igdaliah a man of God, which was by the chamber of the princes, which was aboue the chamber of Maaseiah the sonne of Shallum the keeper of the threshold.

5 And I set before the sonnes of the house of the Rechabites, pots full of wine, and cuppes, and sayd vnto them, Drinke wine.

6 But they sayd, We will drinke no wine: for b Ionadab the sonne of Rechab our father commanded vs, saying, c Ye shall drinke no wine neither you nor your sonnes for euer:

7 Neither shall ye build house, nor sow seede, nor plant vineyard, nor haue any: but all your dayes ye shall dwell in tentes, that yee may liue a long time in the land where ye be strangers.

8 Thus haue we obeyed the voyce of Ionadab the sonne of Rechab our father, in all that he hath charged vs, and we drinke no wine all our dayes, neither we, our wiues, our sonnes, nor our daughters.

9 Neither builde we houses for vs to dwell in, neither haue we vineyard, nor fielde, nor seede.

10 But we haue d remained in tentes, and haue obeyed, and done according to all that Ionadab our father commanded vs.

11 But when Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel came vp into the land, we sayd, Come, & let vs go to Ierusalem, from the hoste of the Caldeans, and from the host of Aramsō we dwel at Ierusalem.

12 Then came the word of the Lord vnto Ieremiah, saying,

13 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Goe, and tell the men of Iudah, and the inhabitantes of Ierusalem, Will e ye not receiue doctrine to obey my wordes, saith the Lord?

14 The commandement of Ionadab the sonne of Rechab that hee commanded his sonnes, that they should drinke no wine, is surely kept: for vnto this day they drinke none, but obey their fathers commandement: notwithstanding I haue spoken vnto you, f rising early, and speaking, but ye would not obey me.

15 I haue sent also vnto you all my seruantes the Prophets, rising vp early, and sending them, saying, g Returne now euery man from his euill way, and amend your workes, and goe not after other gods to serue them, and ye shall dwell in the land which I haue giuen vnto you, and to your fathers, but ye would not encline your eare, nor obey me.

16 Surely the sonnes of Ionadab the sonne of Rechab, haue kept the commandement of their father, which he gaue them, but this people hath not obeyed me.

17 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Beholde, I will bring vpon Iudah, and vpon all the inhabitantes of Ierusalem, all the euill that I haue pronounced against them: because I haue spoken vnto them, but they would not heare, and I haue called vnto them, but they would not answere.

18 And Ieremiah said to the house of the Rechabites, Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Because ye haue obeyed the commandement of Ionadab your father, and kept all his precepts, and done according vnto all that he hath commanded you, 19 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Ionadab the sonne of Rechab shall not cutte a man, to stand before me for euer.

AND in the fourth yeere of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah, came this word vnto Ieremiah from the Lord, saying,

2 Take thee a roule of a booke, and write therein all the wordes that I haue spoken to thee against Israel, and against Iudah, and against all the nations, from the day that I spake vnto thee, euen b from the dayes of Iosiah vnto this day.

3 It may bee that the House of Iudah will heare of all the euill, which I determined to doe vnto them: that they may returne euery man from his euill way, that I may forgiue their iniquitie and their sinne.

4 Then Ieremiah called Baruch the sonne of Nerish, and Baruch wrote c at the mouth of Ieremiah all the wordes of the Lorde, which hee had spoken vnto him, vpon a roule of a booke.

5 And Ieremiah cõmanded Baruch, saying, I am d shut vp, & can not go into the House of the Lord.

6 Therefore goe thou, and reade the roule wherein thou hast written at my mouth the wordes of the Lord, in the audience of the people in the Lordes House vpon the e fasting day: also thou shalt reade them in the hearing of all Iudah, that come out of their cities.

7 It may bee that they will f pray before the Lorde, and euery one returne from his euill way: for great is the anger and the wrath, that the Lord hath declared against this people.

8 So Baruch the sonne of Nerish did according vnto all, that Ieremiah the Prophet commanded him, reading in the booke the wordes of the Lord in the Lords House.

9 ¶ And in the fift g yeere of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah, in the ninth moneth, they proclaimed a fast before the Lord to al the people in Ierusalem, and to all the people that came from the cities of Iudah vnto Ierusalem.

10 Then read Baruch in the booke the wordes of Ieremiah in the house of the Lord, in the chamber of Gemariah the sonne of Shaphan the secretarie, in the hier court at the entry of the h new gate of the Lords house, in the hearing of all the people.

11 When Michaiah the sonne of Gemariah, the sonne of Shaphan had heard out of the booke all the wordes of the Lord, 12 Then hee went downe to the Kings house into the Chancellours chamber, and loe, all the princes sate there, euen Elishama the Chancellour, and Delaiah the sonne of Shemaiah, and Elnathan the sonne of Achbor, and Gemariah the sonne of Shaphan, and Zedekiah the sonne of Hananiah, and all the princes.

13 Then Michaiah declared vnto them all the wordes that he had heard when Baruch read in the booke in the audience of the people.

14 Therefore all the princes sent Iehudi the sonne of Nethaniah, the sonne of Shelemiah, the sonne of Chushi, vnto Baruch, saying, Take in thine hand the roule wherein thou hast read in the audience of the people, and come. So Baruch the sonne of Nerish tooke the roule in his hand, and came vnto them.

15 And they sayde vnto him, Sit downe now, and reade it, that we may heare. So Baruch read it in their audience.

16 Now when they had heard all the wordes, they were afraid both one and other, and sayde vnto Baruch, Wee will certifie the King of all these wordes.

17 And they examined Baruch, saying, Tell vs nowe, howe diddest thou write all these wordes at his mouth?

18 Then Baruch answered them, He pronounced all these wordes vnto me with his mouth, and I wrote them with inke in the booke.

19 Then sayd the princes vnto Baruch, Goe, i hide thee, thou and Ieremiah, and let no man knowe where ye be.

20 ¶ And they went in to the King to the court, but they laide vp the roule in the chamber of Elishama the Chancellour, and tolde the King all the wordes, that he might heare.

21 So the King sent Iehudi to fet the roule, and he tooke it out of Elishama the Chancellours chamber, and Iehudi read it in the audience of the King, and in the audience of al the princes, which stoode beside the King.

22 Now the King sate in the winter House, in the ninth moneth, and there was a fire burning before him.

23 And when Iehudi had read three or foure sides, hee cut it with the penknife and cast it into the fire, that was on the hearth vntill all the roule was consumed in the fire, that was on the hearth.

24 Yet they were not afraide, nor rent k their garments, neither the King, nor any of his seruants, that heard all these wordes.

25 Neuertheless, Elnathan, and Delaiah, and Gemariah had besought the King, that he would not burne the l roule: but he would not heare them.

26 But the King commaunded Ierahmeel the sonne of Hammelech, and Seraiah the sonne of Azriel, and Shelemiah the sonne of Abdiel, to take Baruch the scribe, and Ieremiah the Prophet, but the Lord m hid them.

27 ¶ Then the word of the Lord came to Ieremiah (after that the King had burnt the roule and the wordes that Baruch wrote at the mouth of Ieremiah) saying, 28 Take thee againe another roule, and write in it all the former wordes that were in the first roule which Iehoiakim the King of Iudah hath burnt.

29 And thou shalt say to Iehoiakim King of Iudah, Thus saith the Lord, Thou hast burnt this roule, saying, p Why hast thou written therein, saying, That the King of Babel shall certainely come and destroy this land, and shall take thence both man and beast?

30 Therefore thus saith the Lord of Iehoiakim King of Iudah, He shall haue q none to sit vpon the throne of Dauid, and his r dead body shall be cast out in the day to the heate, and in the night to the frost.

31 And I will visite him and his seede, and his seruants for their iniquitie, and I will bring vpon them and vpon the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and vpon the men of Iudah all the euil that I haue pronounced against them: but they would not heare.

32 Then tooke Ieremiah another roule, and gaue it Baruch the scribe, the sonne of Nerish, which wrote therein at the mouth of Ieremiah all the wordes of the booke which Iehoiakim King of Iudah had burnt in the fire, and there were added besides them many like wordes.

AND King Zedekiah the sonne of Iosiah reigned for a Coniah the sonne of Iehoiakim, whome Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel b made King in the land of Iudah.

2 But neither he, nor his seruants, nor the people of the land would obey the wordes of the Lorde, which he spake by the † ministerie of the Prophet Ieremiah.

3 And Zedekiah the King c sent Iehucal the sonne of Shelemiah, and Zephaniah the sonne of Maaseiah the Priest to the Prophet Ieremiah, saying, Pray now vnto the Lord our God for vs.

4 (Now Ieremiah d went in & out among the people: for they had not put him into the prison.

5 Then Pharaohs hoste was e come out of Egypt: and when the Caldeans that besieged Ierusalem, heard tidings of them, they † departed from Ierusalem)

6 Then came the worde of the Lord vnto the Prophet Ieremiah, saying,

7 Thus sayth the Lorde God of Israel, Thus shal ye say to the King of Iudah, that sent you vnto me to inquire of me, Beholde, Pharaohs hoste, which is come forth to helpe you, shall returne to Egypt into their owne land.

8 And the Caldeans shall come againe, and fight against this citie, and take it and burne it with fire.

9 Thus sayth the Lorde, ‖ Deceine not your selues, saying, The Caldeans shall surely depart from vs: for they shall not depart.

‖ Or, lift not vp your mindes.

10 For though ye had smitten the whole hoste of the Caldeans that fight against you, and there remained but wounded men among them, yet should euery man rise vp in his tent, & burne this citie with fire.

11 ¶ When the hoste of † Caldeans was broken vp frō Ierusalem, because of Pharaohs army, 12 Then Ieremiah went out of Ierusalem to goe into the f land of Beniamin, separating himselfe thence from among the people.

f As fome thinke to go to Anathoth his owne towne.

13 And when hee was in the g gate of Beniamin, there was a chiefe officer, whose name was Iriiah, the sonne of Shelemiah, the sonne of Hananiah, and he tooke Ieremiah the Prophet, saying, Thou † fleest to the Caldeans.

14 Then said Ieremiah, That is false, I flee not to the Caldeans: but he would not heare him: so Iriiah tooke Ieremiah, & brought him to † princes.

15 Wherefore the princes were angry with Ieremiah, and smote him, and layde him in prison in the house of Ionathan the scribe: for they had made that the b prison.

h Because it was a vile and straite prison.

16 When Ieremiah was entred into the dungeon, and into the prisons, & had remained there a long time, 17 Then Zedekiah the King sent, and tooke him out, and the King asked him secretly in his house, and said, Is there eany worde from the Lord? And Ieremiah said, Yea: for, said he, thou shalt be deliuered into the hand of the King of Babel.

18 Moreouer, Ieremiah said vnto King Zedekiah, What haue I offended against thee, or against thy seruants, or against this people, that ye haue put me in prison?

19 * Where are nowe your prophets, which prophecied vnto you, saying, The King of Babel shall not come against you, nor against this land?

* Chap. 28.4.

20 Therefore heare nowe, I pray thee, O my lorde the King: let my prayer be † accepted before thee, that thou cause mee not to returne to the house of Ionathan the scribe, least I die there.

i That is, so long as there was any bread in the citie: thus God prouideth for his that he wil cause their enemies to preserue them to that end whereunto hee hath appointed them.

21 Then Zedekiah the King commanded, that they should put Ieremiah in the court of the prison, & that they should giue him dayly a piece of bread out of the bakers streete vntil all the i bread in the citie were eaten vp. Thus Ieremiah remained in the court of the prison.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

1 By the motion of the rulers, Ieremiah is put into a dungeon. 10 At the request of Ebed-melech the King commandeth Ieremiah to be brought foorth of the dungeon. 17 Ieremiah sheweth the King how he might escape death.

THen Shephatiah the sonne of Mactan, and Gedaliah the sonne of Pashhur, and Iucal the sonne of Shelemiah, and Pashhur the sonne of a Malchiah, heard the wordes that Ieremiah had spoken vnto all the people, saying, a For Zedekiah had sent thide to Ieremiah to inquire at the Lord for the state of the countrey now when Nebuchad-nezzar came, as Chap. 21.1.

2 Thus sayth the Lord, He that remaineth in this citie, shall dye by the sworde, by the famine and by the pestilence: but hee that goeth foorth to the Caldeans, shall liue: for he shall haue his life for b a praye, and shall liue.

b Reade Chap. 21.9. and 46.6.

3 Thus sayth the Lord, This citie shall surely be giuen into the hand of the King of Babels armie, which shall take it.

4 Therefore the Princes sayde vnto the King, We beseech you, let this man be put to death: for thus hee ‖ weakeneth the hands of the men of warre c that remaine in this citie, and the hands of all the people, in speaking such wordes vnto them: for this man seeketh not the wealth of this people, but the hurt.

c Thus wee see how the wicked when they can not abide to heare the truth of Gods worde, seeke to put the ministers to death as traitors & seducers of youthes.

5 Then Zedekiah the King sayd, Behold, he is in your hands, for † king can d doe nothing against you.

d Whereas he grieuously offended in that that not onely hee would not heare the troeth spoken by the Prophet, but also gaue him to the lustes of the wicked to be cruelly intreated.

† Ebr. Cushite, or, Ethiopian.

6 Then tooke they Ieremiah, and cast him into the dungeon of Malchiah the sonne of Hammelech, that was in the court of the prison: and they let downe Ieremiah with coards: and in the dungeon there was no water but myre: so Ieremiah stucke fast in the myre.

e To heare matters and giue sentence.

7 Now when Ebed-melech † a blacke Moore one of † Eunuches, which was in the kings house, heard that they had put Ieremiah in the dungeon, (then the King sate in the e gate of Beniamin)

f Hereby is declared that the Prophet found more fauour at this strangers hands, then he did by all those of his countrey, which was to their great condemnation.

† Ebr. vnder thine hand.

8 And Ebed-melech went out of the Kings house, and spake to the King, saying,

9 My lorde the King, f these men haue done euill in all that they haue done to Ieremiah the Prophet, whom they haue cast into the dungeon, and he dyeth for hunger in the place where he is: for there is no more bread in the citie.

10 Then the King commaunded Ebed-melech the blacke Moore, saying, Take from hence thirtie men † with thee, and take Ieremiah the Prophet out of the dungeon before he dye.

11 So Ebed-melech tooke the men with him and went to the house of the King vnder the treasurie, & tooke there old clouts worne to pieces, and old rotten rags, and let them downe by coards into the dungeon to Ieremiah.

12 And Ebed-melech the blacke Moore sayd vnto Ieremiah, Put now these olde rotten rags and worne, vnder thine arme holes, betweene the coardes. And Ieremiah dyed.

g Where the King hadde set him before to be at more liberte, 32 Chap. 37. 21.

13 So they drewe vp Ieremiah with coardes and tooke him vp out of the dungeon, and Ieremiah remained in the g court of the prison.

14 ¶ Then Zedekiah the King sent, and tooke Ieremiah the Prophet vnto him, into the thirde entrie that is in the House of the Lorde, and the King sayd vnto Ieremiah, I wil aske thee a thing: hide nothing from me.

15 Then Ieremiah sayd to Zedekiah, If I declare it vnto thee, wilt not thou slay me? and if I giue thee counsell, thou wilt not heare me.

16 So the King sware secretly vnto Ieremiah, saying, As the Lorde liueth, that made vs these soules, I will not slay thee, nor giue thee into the hands of those men that seeke thy life.

17 Then sayd Ieremiah vnto Zedekiah, Thus sayth the Lorde God of hostes, the God of Israel, If thou wilt goe foorth vnto the King of Babels h princes, then thy soule shall liue, and this citie shall not be burnt vp with fire, & thou shalt liue, and thine house.

h And yelde thy selfe vnto them.

18 But if thou wilt not go forth to y King of Babels princes, then shall this citie be giuen into the hand of y Caldeans, & they shal burne it with fire, and thou shalt not escape out of their hands.

19 And Zedekiah the King sayde vnto Ieremiah, I am carefull for the Iewes that are fled vnto the Caldeans, least they deliuer me into their hands, and they i mocke me.

i Which declareth that he more feared the reproch of men then the threatnings of God.

20 But Ieremiah sayd, They shall not deliuer thee: hearken vnto the voyce of the Lorde, I beseech thee, which I speake vnto thee: so shal it be well vnto thee, and thy soule shal liue.

21 But if thou wilt refuse to go foorth, this is the worde that the Lorde hath shewed me.

22 And beholde, all the women that are k left in the king of Iudahs house, shalbe brought forth to the King of Babels princes: and those women shall say, Thy friends haue perswaded thee, and haue preuailed against thee: thy feete are fastened in the myre, and they are turned backe.

k When Ieconiah and his mother with others were caried away, these women of the kings house were left: which shalbe taken, sayth the Prophet, and tell the king of Babel howe Zedekiah hath bene seduced by his familiar friends and false prophets, which haue left him in the myre.

23 So they shal bring out all thy wiues, & thy children to the Caldeans, and thou shalt not escape out of their hands, but shalt be taken by the hand of the King of Babel: and this citie shalt thou cause to be burnt with fire.

24 Then sayd Zedekiah vnto Ieremiah, Let no man know of these wordes, & thou shalt not die.

25 But if y princes vnderstand that I haue talked with thee, & they come vnto thee, & say vnto thee, Declare vnto vs now, what thou hast said vnto the King, hide it not from vs, & we will not slay thee: also what the King sayd vnto thee, l Herein appeareth the infirmitie of the Prophet, who did dissemble to saue his life, although it was not to the denial of his doctrine, or to the hurt of any.

26 Then shalt thou say vnto them, I humbly besought the King that he would not cause mee to returne to Ichonathans house, to die there.

27 Then came all the princes vnto Ieremiah and asked him. And he tolde them according to all these wordes that the King had commaunded: so they left off speaking with him, for the matter was not perceiued.

28 So Ieremiah abode still in the court of the prison, vntill the day that Ierusalem was taken: and he was there, when Ierusalem was taken.

CHAP. XXXIX.

1 Nebuchad-nezzar besegeth Ierusalem. 4 Zedekiah fleeing is taken of the Caldeans. 6 His sonnes are slaine. 7 His eyes are thrust out. 11 Ieremiah is prouided for. 15 Ebedmelech is deliuered from captiuitie.

IN * the ninth yeere of Zedekiah King of Iudah in the tenth moneth, came Nebuchadnezzar King of Babel and all his hoste against Ierusalem, and they besieged it.

* 2. King. 25. 1. chap. 52. 4.

2 And in the eleuenth yeere of Zedekiah in the fourth moneth, the ninth day of the moneth, the citie was broken vp.

a The gates and walles were broken downe.

3 And all the princes of the King of Babel came in, and sate in the middle gate, euen Neregal, Sharezer, Samgarnebo, Sarsechim, Rab-saris, Negal, Sharezer, Rab-mag with all the residue of the princes of the King of Babel.

4 And when Zedekiah the King of Iudah saw them, and all the men of warre, then they fled, and went out of the citie by night, through the Kings garden, and by the b gate betweene the two walles, and he went toward the wildernes.

b Which was a posterne doore, reade 2. King. 23. 4.

5 But the Caldeans hoste pursued after them, and ouertooke Zedekiah in the desart of Iericho: and when they had taken him, they brought him to Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel vnto c Riblah in the land of Hamath, where he gaue iudgement vpon him.

c Which is called Antiochia in Syria.

6 Then the King of Babel slewe the sonnes of Zedekiah in Riblah before his eyes: also the King of Babel slewe all the nobles of Iudah.

7 Moreouer he put out Zedekiahs eyes, and bound him in chaines, to cary him to Babel.

8 And the Caldeans burnt the Kings house, and the houses of the people with fire, and brake downe the walles of Ierusalem.

9 Then Nebuzar-adan the ‖ chiefe steward caried away captiue into Babel the remnant of the people that remained in the citie, and those that were fled and fallen vnto him, with the rest of the people that remained.

10 But Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward left the d poore that had nothing in the land of Iudah, and gaue them vineyardes and fieldes at the same time.

d For the riche and the mightie which put their trust in their shifts and meanes, were by Gods iust iudgements most rigorously handled.

11 Nowe Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel gaue charge concerning Ieremiah † vnto Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward, saying, 12 Take him, and † looke well to him, & doe him no harme, but doe vnto him * euen as he shal say vnto thee.

13 So Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward sent, and Nebushaz-ban, Rabsaris, and Neregal, Sharezer, Rab-mag, & all the King of Babels princes:

e Thus God preserued his Prophet by his meanes whome he made the scourge to punish the King, and them that were his enemies.

14 Euen they sent, and tooke Ieremiah out of the court of the prison, and committed him vnto f Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan, that he should cary him home: so he dwelt among the people.

f VVhome the King of Babel had nowe appointed gouernour ouer the rest of the Iewes that he left behinde.

15 Now the word of the Lord came vnto Ieremiah, while he was shut vp in the court of the prison, saying, 16 Go and speake to Ebed-melech the blacke Moore, saying, Thus sayth the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Behold, I wil bring my wordes vpon this citie for euill, and not for good, and they shalbe accomplished in that day before thee.

17 But I wil deliuer thee in that day, sayth the Lorde, and thou shalt not be giuen into the hand of the men whome thou fearest.

18 For I will surely deliuer thee, and thou shalt not fall by the sworde, but thy life shall be for a praye vnto thee, because thou g hast put thy trust in me, sayth the Lorde.

g Thus God recompensed his zeale and fauour, which he shewed to his Prophet in his trouble.

CHAP.

4 Ieremiah hath answered God whether he will, or no: he abideth with the people that remaine with Gedaliah.

THe worde which came to Ieremiah from the Lord after that Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward had let him goe from Ramath, when he had taken him being bound in chaines among all that were caryed away captiue of Ierusalem and Iudah, which were caried away captiue vnto Babel.

2 a And the chiefe steward tooke Ieremiah, and said vnto him, The Lord thy God hath pronounced this plague vpon this place.

3 Nowe the Lorde hath brought it, and done according as he hath said: because ye haue b sinned against the Lord, and haue not obeyed his voyce, therefore this thing is come vpon you.

4 And now behold, I loose thee this day from the chaines which were on thine hands, if it please thee to come with me into Babel, come, and I wil looke wel vnto thee: but if it please thee not to come with me into Babel † tary still: behold, all the land is ‖before thee: whither it seemeth good, and conuenient for thee to goe, thither goe.

5 For yet he was not returned: therefore bee saide, Returne to Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, the sonne of Shaphan, whome the King of Babel hath made gouernour ouer all the cities of Iudah, and dwell with him among the people, or goe whereseoeuer it pleaseth thee to goe. So the chiefe steward gaue him vitailes and a rewarde, and let him goe.

6 Then went Ieremiah vnto Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, to c Mizpah, and dwelt there with him among the people that were left in the land.

7 Nowe when all the captaines of the hoste, d which were in the fieldes, euen they and their men heard, that the King of Babel had made Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam gouernour in the lande, and that he had committed vnto him men, and women, and children, and of the poore of the lande, that were not caryed away captiue to Babel,

8 Then they came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, euen e Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah, and Iohanan, and Ionathan the sonnes of Kareah, and Seraiah the sonne of Tanthumeth, & the sonnes of Ephai, the Netophathite, and Iezaniah the sonne of Maachathi, they and their men.

9 And Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, the sonne of Shaphan *sware vnto them, and to their men, saying, Feare not to serue the Caldeans: dwel in the land, and serue the King of Babel, and it shall be well with you.

10 As for me, behold, I will dwell at Mizpah to ‖serue the Caldeans, which will come vnto vs: but you, gather you wine, and sommer fruites, and oyle, and put them in your vessels, and dwell in your cities, that ye haue ‖taken.

11 Likewise when all the Iewes that were in f Moab, and among the Ammonites, & in Edom, and that were in all the countries, heard that the King of Babel had left a remnant of Iudah, and that he had set ouer them Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan, 12 Euen all the Iewes returned out of al places where they were driuen, and came to the land of Iudah to Gedaliah vnto Mizpah, and gathered wine and sommer fruites, very much.

13 Moreouer Ishmael the sonne of Kareah, and all the captaines of the hoste, that were in the fields, came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, 14 And said vnto him, Knowest thou not that *Baalis the King of † Ammonites hath sent Ishmael † sonne of Nethaniah to slay thee? But Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam beleeued them not.

15 Then Iohanan the sonne of Kareah spake to Gedaliah in Mizpah secretly, saying, Let me go, I pray thee, and I will slay Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah, and no man shall knowe it. Wherefore shoulde he kill thee, that all the Iewes, which are gathered vnto thee, should be scattered, and the remnant in Iudah perish?

16 But Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam said vnto Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, Thou shalt not do this thing: for thou speakest falsely of Ishmael.

CHAP. XLI.

2 Ishmael killeth Gedaliah guiltelesly, and many other with him.
11 Iohanan followeth after Ishmael.

BVt in the a seuenth moneth came Ishmael the b sonne of Nethaniah, the sonne of Elishama of the seede royal, and the princes of the b King, and ten men with him, vnto Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam to Mizpah, & there they did c eate bread together in Mizpah.

2 Then arose Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah with these tenne men that were with him, and smote Gedaliah † sonne of Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan with the sword, & slewe him, whom the King of Babel had made gouernour ouer † land.

3 Ishmael also slew al the Iewes that were with Gedaliah at Mizpah, & al the Caldeans that were found there, and the men of warre.

4 Nowe the second day that he had slaine Gedaliah, and no man knew it,

5 There came men from Shechem, from Shiloh, and from Samaria, euen fourescore men, hauing their beardes shauen, and their clothes rent and cut, with d offerings and incense in their hands to offer in the house of the Lord.

6 And Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah went forth from Mizpah to meete them, weeping as he went: and when he met them, he said vnto them, Come e to Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam.

7 And when they came into the mids of the citie, Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah slew them, and cast them into the mids of the pit, he and the men that were with him.

8 But tenne men were founde among them, that saide vnto Ishmael, Slay vs not: for we haue treasures in the field, of wheate, and of barley, and of oyle, and of honie: so he stayed, and slew them not among their brethren.

9 Nowe the pit wherein Ishmael had cast the dead bodies of the men (whom he had slaine because of Gedaliah) is it, which Asa the King had f made because of Basha King of Israel, and Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah filled it with them that were slaine.

10 Then Ishmael caried away captiue all the residue of the people that were in Mizpah, euen the Kings daughters, & all the people that remained in Mizpah, whom Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward had committed to Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, and Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah caried them away captiue, and departed to goe ouer to the Ammonites.

11 But when Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, & all

15 But Iſhmael the ſonne of Nethaniah, eſcaped from Iohanan with eight men, and went to the h Ammonites.

16 Then tooke Iohanan the ſonne of Kareah, and all the captaines of the hoſte that were with him, all the remnant of ‖ people, whom Iſhmael ‖ ſonne of Nethaniah had caried away captiue frō Mizpah, (after that he had ſlaine Gedaliah ‖ ſonne of Ahikam) euen the ſtrong men of warre, and the women, and the children, and the eunuches, whome he had brought againe from Gibeon:

CHAP. XLII.

1 The captaines aske counſell of Ieremiah what they ought to do. 7 He admoniſheth the remnant of the people not to goe into Egypt.

THen all the captaines of the hoſte, and Iohanan the ſonne of Kareah, and Iezaniah the ſonne of Hoſhaaiah, and all the people from the leaſt vnto the moſt came,

2 And ſaide vnto Ieremiah the Prophet, † Heare our prayer we beſeech thee, and pray for vs vnto the Lorde thy God, euen for all this remnant (for we are left, but a few of many, as thine eyes doe beholde)

3 That the Lorde thy God may ſhewe vs the way wherein we may walke, and the thing that we may a doe.

4 Then Ieremiah the Prophet ſaid vnto them, I haue heard you: behold, I will pray vnto ‖ Lorde your God according to your words, and whatſoeuer thing the Lord ſhal anſwere you, I wil declare it vnto you: I wil keepe nothing backe from you.

5 Then they ſaid to Ieremiah, b The Lorde be a witneſſe of trueth, and faith betweene vs, if we doe not euen according to al things for the which the Lord thy God ſhall ſend thee to vs.

6 Whether it be good or euill, we will obey the voyce of the Lorde God, to whome we ſende thee that it may be well with vs, when we obey the voyce of the Lord our God.

7 ¶ c And ſo after ten dayes came the worde of the Lord vnto Ieremiah,

8 Then called he Iohanan the ſonne of Kareah, and all the captaines of the hoſte, which were with him, & all ‖ people from ‖ leaſt to the moſt,

9 And ſayde vnto them, Thus ſaith the Lorde God of Iſrael, vnto whom ye ſent me to preſent your prayers before him,

10 If ye wil dwell in this land, then I wil build you, and not deſtroy you, and I will plant you, and not roote you out: for I d repent me of the euill that I haue done vnto you.

11 Feare not for the King of Babel, of whome ye are afraid: be not afraid of him, ſaith the Lord: for I am with you, to ſaue you, and to deliuer you e from his hand.

12 And I will graunt you mercie that he may haue compaſſion vpon you, and he ſhall cauſe you to ‖ dwell in your owne land.

13 But if ye ſay, We wil not dwell in this land, neither heare the voyce of the Lord your God,

14 Saying, Nay, but we will goe into the lande of Egypt, where we ſhall ſee no warre, nor heare the ſounde of the trumpet, nor haue hunger of bread, and there will we dwell,

15 (And now therefore heare the word of the Lord, ye remnant of Iudah: thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes the God of Iſrael, If ye ſet your faces to enter into Egypt, and goe to dwell there)

16 Then the ſword that ye feared, f ſhall take you there in the land of Egypt, and the famine, for the which ye care, ſhall there hang vpon you in Egypt, and there ſhall ye die.

17 And all the men that ſet their faces to enter into Egypt to dwel there, ſhall die by ‖ ſword, by the famine and by the peſtilence, and none of them ſhall remaine nor eſcape from the plague, that I will bring vpon them.

18 For thus ſaith the Lorde of hoſtes the God of Iſrael, As mine anger and my wrath hath bene powred forth vpon the inhabitants of Ieruſalem: ſo ſhal my wrath be powred forth vpon you, whē ye ſhal enter into Egypt, and ye ſhall be a deteſtation, and an aſtoniſhment, and a g curſe and a reproch, and ye ſhall ſee this place no more.

19 O ye remnant of Iudah, the Lord hath ſaid concerning you, Goe not into Egypt: knowe certeinely that I haue admoniſhed you this day.

20 Surely ye h diſſembled in your hearts when ye ſent me vnto the Lord your God, ſaying, Pray for vs vnto the Lord our God, and declare vnto vs euen according vnto all that the Lord our God ſhall ſay, and we will doe it.

21 Therefore I haue this day declared it you, but you haue not obeyed the voyce of the Lorde your God, nor any thing for the which hee hath ſent me vnto you.

22 Nowe therefore, knowe certeinely that ye ſhall die by the ſworde, by the famine, and by the peſtilence, i in the place whither ye deſire to goe and dwell.

4 So Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captaines of the hoste, and all the people obeyed not the voice of the Lorde, to dwell in the land of Iudah.

CHAP. XLIIII.

He reproueth the people for their idolatrie. 15 They that set light by the threatning of the Lord, are chastened. 26 The destruction of Egypt, and of the Iewes therein, is prophecied.

THe word that came to Ieremiah concerning all the Iewes, which dwell in the lande of Egypt, and remained at Migdol and at ª Tahpanhes, & at Noph, & in § coūtry of Pathros, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lorde of hostes the God of Israel, Yee haue seene all the euill that I haue brought vpon Ierusalem, and vpon all the cities of Iudah: and behold, this day they are desolate, and no man dwelleth therein,

3 Because of their wickednes which they haue committed, to prouoke me to anger in § they went to burne incēse, & to serue other gods whō they knew not, neither they nor you nor your fathers.

4 Howbeit I sent vnto you all my seruants § Prophets ᵇ rising earely, & sending them, saying, Oh do not this abominable thing that I hate.

5 But they would not heare nor incline their eare to turne from their wickednes, and to burne no more incense vnto other gods.

6 Wherefore ᶜ my wrath, & mine anger was powred forth and was kindled in the cities of Iudah, and in the streetes of Ierusalem, and they are desolate, and waste, as appeareth this day.

7 Therefore now thus saith the Lord of hosts the God of Israel, Wherfore commit ye thus great euil against your soules, to cut off from you man and woman, child and suckling out of Iudah, and leaue you none to remaine?

8 In that yee prouoke mee vnto wrath with the workes of your hands, burning incense vnto other gods in the land of Egypt whither yee bee gone to dwel: that yee might bring destruction vnto your selues, and that yee might be a curse and a reproch among all nations of the earth.

9 Haue ye forgotten the wickednes of your fathers, and the wickednes of the ᵈ Kings of Iudah and the wickednesse of their wiues and your owne wickednes & the wickednes of your wiues, which they haue committed in the land of Iudah and in the streetes of Ierusalem?

10 They are not ‖ humbled vnto this day, neither haue they feared nor walked in my lawe nor in my statutes, that I set before you and before your fathers.

11 Therefore thus saith the Lorde of hostes the God of Israel, Beholde, I wil set my face against you ᵐ to euill and to destroy all Iudah, 12 And I wil take the remnant of Iudah, that haue set their faces to go into the land of Egypt there to dwel, and they shal all be consumed and fall in the lande of Egypt: they shal euen be consumed by the sword and by the famine: they shal die from the least vnto the most, by the sword, & by the famine, and they shal be a detestation and an astonishment and a ᶠ curse and a reproch.

13 For I will visite them that dwel in the land of Egypt, as I haue visited Ierusalem, by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, 14 So that none of the remnant of Iudah, which are gone into the lande of Egypt to dwell there, shal escape or remaine, that they should returne into the land of Iudah to the which they haue a desire to returne to dwel there: for none shal returne, but § such as shall escape.

15 Then all the men which knewe that their wiues had burnt incense vnto other gods and all the women that stood by, a great multitude, euen all the people that dwelt in the land of Egypt in Pathros, answered Ieremiah, saying,

16 The worde that thou hast spoken vnto vs in the Name of the Lorde, wee will ʰ not heare it of thee, 17 But wee will do whatsoeuer thing goeth out of our owne mouth, as to burne incense vnto the Queene of heauen, and to powre out drinke offerings vnto her, as we haue done, both wee and our fathers, our kings and our princes in the cities of Iudah, and in the streetes of Ierusalem: for then † had we ᵏ plentie of vitailes and were well and ‖ felt none euill.

18 But since we left off to burne incense to the Queene of heauen, and to powre out drinke offerings vnto her, wee haue had ‖ scarcenesse of all things, and haue bene consumed by the sword and by the famine.

19 And when we burnt incense vnto § Queene of heauen, and powred out drinke offerings vnto her, § the wemen made them cakes to worship her, and powred out drinke offerings vnto her, without our husbands?

26 Therefore heare the word of the Lorde, all Iudah that dwell in the land of Egypt. Beholde, I haue sworne by my great Name, saith the Lorde, that my Name [n] shall no more be called vpon by the mouth of any man of Iudah, in all the lande of Egypt, saying, The Lord God liueth.

27 Behold, I wil watch ouer them for euil and not for good, and all men of Iudah that are in the land of Egypt, shal be consumed by the sworde, and by the famine, vntil they be vtterly destroied.

26 And I will deliuer them into the handes of those, that seeke their liues, and into the hande of Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel, and into the handes of his seruants, and afterwarde she shall dwell as in the olde time, saith the Lord.

27 ¶ But feare not thou, O my seruant Iaakob, and be not thou afraid, O Israel: for behold, I will deliuer thee from a farre countrey, and thy seede from the land of their captiuitie, and Iaakob shall returne and be in rest, and prosperitie, and none shall make him afraid.

28 Feare thou not, O Iaakob my seruant, saith the Lorde: for I am with thee, and I will vtterly destroy al the nations, whither I haue driuen thee: but I will not vtterly destroy thee, but correct thee by iudgement, and not vtterly cut thee off.

CHAP. XLVII.

The worde of the Lord against the Philistims.

THe words of the Lorde that came to Ieremiah the Prophet, against the Philistims, before that Pharaoh smote Azzah.

2 Thus saith the Lord, Behold, waters rise vp out of the North, and shalbe as a swelling flood, & shal ouerflow the land, and al that is therein, & the cities with thē that dwell therein: then the men shal crie, and all the inhabitants of the land shal howle.

3 At the noyse and stamping of the hooues of his strong horses, at the noyse of his charets, and at the rumbling of his wheeles: the fathers shal not looke backe to their children, for feeblenes of handes,

4 Because of the day that commeth to destroy all the Philistims, and to destroy Tyrus, and Zidon, and all the rest that take their part: for the Lord will destroy the Philistims, the remnant of the yle of Caphtor.

5 Baldnes is come vpon Azzah: Ashkelon is cut vp with the rest of their valleys. Howe long wilt thou cut thy selfe?

6 O thou sword of the Lord, how long will it be or thou cease? turne againe into thy scaberd, rest and be still.

7 Howe can it cease, seeing the Lorde hath giuen it a charge against Ashkelon, and against the sea banke? euen there hath he appointed it.

a Which was also called Gaza a citie of the Philistims.

b He meaneth the armie of the Caldeans, Isa. 8.7,8.

c The great feare shall take away their naturall affection.

d Their heart shal so faile them.

g As the heathen vsed in their mourning which the Lord forbad his people to doe, Deut. 14.1.

h Meaning, that it is not possible that the wicked should by any meanes escape or stay the Lord, when he will take vengeance.

CHAP. XLVIII.

The worde of the Lorde against the Moabites, 26 Because of their pride and cruelty.

COncerning Moab, thus saith the Lorde of hostes, the God of Israel, Woe vnto Nebo: for it is wasted: Kiriathaim is confounded and taken: Misgab is confounded and afraide.

2 Moab shall boast no more of Heshbon: for they haue deuised euill against it. Come, and let vs destroy it, that it be no more a nation: also thou shalt bee destroyed, O Madmen, and the sworde shall pursue thee.

3 A voyce of crying shal be from Horonaim with desolation and great destruction.

4 Moab is destroyed: her little ones haue caused their crie to be heard.

5 For at the going vp of Luhith, the mourner shall goe vp with weeping: for in the going downe of Horonaim, the enemies haue heard a cry of destruction,

6 Flee and saue your liues, and be like vnto the heath in the wilderneſſe.

7 For because thou hast trusted in thy works and in thy treasures, thou shalt also be taken, and Chemosh shal goe forth into captiuitie with his Priestes and his princes together.

8 And the destroyer shal come vpon all cities, & no citie shall escape: the valley also shal perish & the plaine shall be destroyed as the Lord hath spoken.

9 Giue wings vnto Moab, that it may flee and get away: for the cities thereof shall be desolate, without any to dwell therein.

10 Cursed be he that doeth the worke of the Lord negligently, and cursed be he that keepeth backe his sworde from blood.

11 Moab hath bene at rest from his youth: and he hath setled on his lees, and hath not bene powred from vessell to vessell, neither hath he gone into captiuitie: therefore his taste remained in him, and his sent is not changed.

12 ¶ Therefore beholde, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will send vnto him such as shall cary him away, and shall emptie his vessels, and breake their bottels.

13 And Moab shall be ashamed of Chemosh as the house of Israel was ashamed of Beth-el their confidence.

14 How thinke you thus, We are mightie and strong men of warre?

15 Moab is destroyed, & his cities burnt vp, & his cholen yong men are gone downe to slaughter, saith the King, whose name is the Lord of hostes.

16 The destruction of Moab is ready to come, and his plague hasteth fast.

17 All ye that are about him, mourne for him, and all ye that knowe his name, say, How is the strong staffe broken, and the beautifull rod!

18 Thou daughter that doest inhabite Dibon, come downe from thy glorie, and sit in thirst: for the destroyer of Moab shall come vpon thee, and he shall destroy thy strong holdes.

19 Thou that dwellest in Aroer, stand by the way, and beholde: aske him that fleeth and that escapeth, and say, What is done?

20 Moab is confounded: for it is destroyed: howle and cry, tell ye it in Arnon, that Moab is made waste, i Hath not bene remooned as the Iewes haue, but hath lined at ease, and as a wine that feedeth it selfe on his lees.

k As the calfe of Beth-el was not able to deliuer the Israelites: no more shall Chemosh deliuer the Moabites.

l Howe are they destroyed that put their trust in their strength and riches?

m Thus they that flee, shall answere.

21 And iudgement is come vpon the plaine countrey, vpon Holon and vpon Iahzzah, and vpon Mephaath, 22 And vpon Dibon, and vpon Nebo, and vpon the house of Diblathaim, 23 And vpon Kiriathaim, and vpon Beth gamul, and vpon Beth-meon, 24 And vpon Keioth, and vpon Bozrah, & vpon all the cities of ỹ land of Moab farre or neere.

25 The [n] horne of Moab is cut off, & his arme is broken, saith the Lord.

26 Make ye him [o] drunken: for he magnified himselfe against the Lord: Moab shall ‖ wallowe in his vomite, and he also shalbe in derision.

27 For diddest not thou deride Israel, as though hee had bene founde among theeues? for when thou speakest of him, thou art [p] moued.

28 O ye that dwell in Moab, leaue the cities, and dwell in the rockes, and be like the doue, that maketh her nest in the sides of the holes mouth.

29 * We haue heard the pride of Moab (he is exceeding proude) his stoutnesse and his arrogancie, and his pride, and the hautinesse of his heart.

30 I know his wrath, saith ỹ Lord, but it shall not be so: & his dissimulatiõs, for they do not right.

31 [r] Therefore will I howle for Moab, and I will crie out for all Moab: mine heart shal mourne for the men of Kir heres.

32 O vine of Sibmah, I will weepe for thee, as I wept for Iazer: thy plants are gone ouer the sea, they are come to the sea [s] of Iazer: ỹ destroyer is fallen vpon thy sõmer fruits, & vpon thy vintage, 33 And ioye, and gladnesse is taken from the plentifull fielde, and from the land of Moab: and I haue caused wine to faile from the winepresse: none shall treade with shouting: their shouting shall be no shouting.

34 From the cry of Heshbon vnto Elaleh and vnto Iahaz haue they made their noyse: frõ Zoar vnto Horonaim, ỹ heiffer of three yeee old shal go lowing: for ỹ waters also of Nimrim shalbe wasted.

35 Moreouer, I will cause to cease in Moab, saith the Lord him that offered in the high places, and him that burneth incense to his gods.

36 Therefore mine heart shall sound for Moab like a [u] shaume, and mine heart shal sound like a shaume for the men of Ker-heres, because the riches that he hath gotten is perished.

37 * For euery head shalbe ‖ balde, and euery beard plucked: vpon all the handes shall be cuttings, and vpon the loynes sackecloth.

38 And mourning shal be vpon all the house toppes of Moab and in all the streetes thereof: for I haue broken Moab like a vessell wherein is no pleasure, saith the Lord.

39 They shal howle, saying, How is he destroyed? howe hath Moab turned thé backe with shame? so shall Moab be a derision, and a feare to all them about him.

40 For thus saith the Lord, Beholde, [x] he shall flee as an egle, & shal spread his wings ouer Moab.

41 The cities are taken, and the strong holdes are wonne, & the mightie mens hearts in Moabae that day shalbe as ỹ heart of a woman in trauaile.

42 And Moab shalbe destroyed frõ being a people, because he hath set vp himself against ỹ Lord.

43 [y] Feare, and pit, and snare shalbe vpon thee, O inhabitant of Moab, saith the Lord.

44 He that escapeth from the feare, shal fal in the pit, & he that getteth vp out of ỹ pit shall be taken in ỹ snare: for I wil bring vpon it, euen vpon Moab, the yeere of their visitation, saith the Lord.

45 They that fled, stoode vnder the shadowe [z] of Heshbon, because of the force: for [a] the fire came out of Heshbon, and a flame from Sihon, and denoured the corner of Moab, and the top of the seditious children.

46 Wo be vnto thee, O Moab: the people of [b] Chemosh perisheth: for thy sonnes are taken captiues, and thy daughters led into captiuitie.

47 Yet will I bring againe the captiuitie of Moab in the [c] latter dayes, sayeth the Lord. Thus farre of the iudgement of Moab.

CHAP. XLIX.

1 The word of the Lord against the Ammonites, 7 Idumea, 23 Damascus, 28 Kedar, 34 and Elam.

VNto the children of [a] Ammon thus saith the Lord, Hath Israel no sonnes? or hath he none heire? Why then hath their [b] king possessed Gad? and his people dwelt in [c] his cities?

2 Therefore beholde the dayes come, sayeth the Lord, that I will cause a noyse of warre to be heard in [d] Rabbah of the Ammonites, and it shal be a desolate heape, and her daughters shall be burnt with fire: then shall Israel possesse those that possessed him, sayeth the Lord.

3 Howle, O Heshbon, for Ai is wasted: crie ye daughters of Rabbah: girde you with sackecloth: mourne and runne to and fro by the hedges: for their King shal goe into captiuitie, and his Priestes, and his princes likewise.

4 Wherefore gloriest thou in the [e] valleis? thy valley floweth away, O rebellious daughter: she trusted in her treasures, saying, Who shall come vnto me?

5 Beholde, I will bring [f] a feare vpon thee, sayeth the Lord God of hostes, of all those that be about thee, & ye shalbe scattered euery man right forth, and none shall gather him that fleeth.

6 And [h] afterward I will bring againe the captiuitie of the children of Ammon.

7 ¶ To Edom thus sayeth the Lord of hostes, Is wisdome no more in [i] Teman? is counsel perished frõ their children? is their wisdome vanished?

8 Flee, ye inhabitants of Dedan (k they are turned backe, and haue consulted to dwell) for I haue brought the destruction of Esau vpon him, and the time of his visitation.

9 If the [l] grape gatherers come to thee, would they not leaue some grapes? if theeues come by night, they will destroy till they haue ynough.

10 For I haue discouered Esau: I haue vncouered his secrets, and he shall not be able to hide himselfe: his seede is wasted, and his brethren and his neighbours, and there shall be none to say, 11 Leaue thy [m] fatherles children, & I wil preserue them aliue, and let thy widowes trust in me.

12 For thus sayeth the Lord, [n] Beholde, they whose iudgement was not to drinke of the cuppe, haue assuredly drunken, and art thou he that shall escape free? thou shalt not goe free, but thou shalt surely drinke of it.

13 For I haue sworne by my selfe, sayeth the Lord, that [o] Bozrah shall be waste, and for a reproche, and a desolation, and a curse, and all the cities thereof shal be perpetuall desolations.

14 I haue heard a rumour from the Lord, & an ambassadour

[n] That is, his power & strength.

[o] He willed the Caldeans to lay afflictions ynough vpon them, till they be like drunken men that fall downe to their shame and are derided of all.

[y] He that escapeth one danger, shalbe taken of another.

[z] They fled thither thinking to haue succour of the Amorites.

[a] The Amorites had destroyed the Moabites in times past, and now because of their power, the Moabites shall seeke to them for helpe.

[b] Which vanted themselues of their idole as though he could haue defended them.

[c] That is, they shalbe restored by the Messiah.

[l] Meaning, ỹ God would vtterly destroy them and not spare one, though ỹ grape gatherers leaue some grapes and theeues seeke but till they haue ynough, Obad. 1.5.

[m] The destruction shall be so great, that there shall be none left to take [n] I haue not spared mine owne people, and howe should I pitie thee?

[o] Which was a chiefe citie of Edom.

ambassadour is sent vnto the heathen, saying, Gather you together, and come against p her, and rise vp to the battell.

p That is, Bozrah.

15 For loe, I wil make thee but small among the heathen, and despised among men.

16 Thy ||feare, & the pride of thine heart hath deceiued thee, thou that dwellest in the clefts of the rocke, & keepest y height of the hil: though thou shouldest make thy nest as hie as the egle, I wil bring thee down from thence, saith the Lord.

17 ¶ Also Edom shal be desolate: euery one that goeth by it, shall be astonished, and shall hisse at all the plagues thereof.

18 As in the ouerthrowe of Sodom, and of Gomorah, and the places thereof neere about, saith the Lord: no man shall dwell there, neither shall the sonnes of men remaine in it.

19 Behold, q he shal come vp like a lion from the swelling of Iorden vnto the strong dwelling place: for I wil make Israel to rest, euē I wil make r him to haste away from her, and who is a chosen man that I may appoint against her? for who is like me? and who will appoint me the time? and who is the s shepheard that wil stand before me?

q To wit, Nebuchad nezzar after he hath ouercome Iudah, which is meant by the swelling of Iorden, shal come against moūt Seir and Edom.

r That is, the Israelites, whom the Edomites kept as prisoners to haste away from thence.

s The captaine & gouernour of the armie, meaning, Nebuchad-nezzar.

20 Therefore heare the counsell of the Lorde that he hath deuised against Edom, and his purpose that he hath conceiued against the inhabitants of Teman: surely the least t of the flocke shall draw them out: surely u hee shall make their habitations desolate with them.

t They shall not be able to resist his petite captaines.

21 The earth is mooued at the noise of their fall: the crie of their voice is heard in the red sea.

u To wit, the enemie.

22 Behold, he shal come vp, and flie as the Egle, x and spread his wings ouer Bozrah, and at that day shall the heart of the strong men of Edom be as the heart of a woman in trauaile.

x As Chap. 48 40. was said of Moab.

23 ¶ Vnto y Damascus hoe ſ ieth, Hamath is confounded and Arpad, for they haue heard euill tidings, and they are faint hearted as one on the fearefull sea that cannot rest.

y Which was the chiefe citie of Syria, whereby he meaneth y whole countrey.

24 Damascus is discouraged, and turneth her selfe to flight z and feare hath seased her: anguish & sorowes haue taken her as a woman in trauaile.

z When she heard y sudde comming of the enemie.

25 How is the glorious a city not reserued, the citie of my ioy?

a He speaketh this in the person of the King and of them of the countrey, who shall wonder to see Damascus the chiefe citie destroyed.

26 Therefore her yong men shall fall in her streetes, and all her men of warre shal be cut off in that day, saith the Lord of hostes.

27 And I will kindle a fire in the wall of Damascus, which shal consume the palaces of b Benhadad.

b Who was king of Syria, 1. King. 20 26 and had built these palaces, which were stil called the palaces of Ben-hadad.

28 ¶ Vnto c Kedar, and to the kingdomes of Hazor, which Nebuchad-nezzar, king of Babel shal smite, thus saith the Lord, Arise, and goe vp vnto Kedar, and destroy the men of the East.

c Meaning the Arabians, and their borderers.

29 Their tents and their flocks shal they take away: yea, they shal take to themselues their d curtaines and all their vessels, and their camels, and they shall crie vnto them, Feare is on euery side.

d Because they vsed to dwell in tents, he nameth y things that pertaine thereunto.

30 Flee, get you farre off (e they haue consulted to dwel) O ye inhabitants of Hazor, saith the Lord: for Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel hath taken counsell against you, and hath deuised a purpose against you.

e The enemies wil dwell in your places.

31 f Arise, & get you vp vnto the welthy nation y dwelleth without care, saith the Lord, which haue neither gates nor barres, but dwel alone.

f He sheweth that they of Hazor wil flee to the Arabians for succour, but that shall not availe them.

32 And their camels shalbe a bootie, and the multitude of their cattel a spoile, and I wil scatter them into all windes, and to the vtmost corners, and I wil bring their destruction from all the sides thereof, saith the Lord.

33 And Hazor shalbe a dwelling for dragons, and desolation for euer: there shall no man dwel there, nor the sonnes of men remaine in it.

34 ¶ The wordes of the Lorde that came to Ieremiah the Prophet, concerning g Elam, in the beginning of the reigne of Zedekiah King of Iudah, saying, g That is, Persia, so called of Elam the son of Shem.

35 Thus saith the Lorde of hostes, Beholde, I wil breake the h bowe of Elam, euen the chiefe of their strength.

h Because the Persians were good archers, he sheweth that the thing wherein they put their trust should not profite them.

36 And vpon Elam I will bring y foure winds from the foure quarters of heauen, & will scatter them towards all these winds, & there shalbe no natiō, whither the fugitiues of Elā shal not come.

i I wil place Nebuchad-nezzar there, and in these prophesies Ieremiah speaketh of those countries, which should be subdued vnder the first of those foure monarchies whereof Daniel maketh mention.

37 For I wil cause Elam to be afraide before their enemies, and before them that seeke their liues, and will bring vpon them a plague, euen the indignation of my wrath, saith the Lord, & I will send the sworde after them till I haue consumed them.

38 And I wil set my i throne in Elam, & I wil destroy both the King & the princes from thēce, saith the Lord: but k in the latter daies I wil bring againe the captiuitie of Elam, saith the Lord.

k This may be referred to the empire of the Persians, and Medes after the Caldeans, or vnto the time of Christ, as Chap. 48. 47.

CHAP. L.

He prophecieth the destruction of Babylon, and the deliuerance of Israel, which was to captiuate.

THe word that the Lord spake, concerning Babel, and concerning the land of the Caldeans by the † ministerie of Ieremiah the Prophet.

2 Declare among the nations, and publish it, and set vp a standart, proclaime it and conceale it not: say, a Babel is taken, Bel is confounded, b Merodach is broken downe: her idoles are confounded, and their images are burst in pieces.

a After that God hath vsed the Babylonians seruice to punish other nations, he sheweth that their turne shall come to be punished.

b These were two of their chiefe idoles.

3 For out of the North there c commeth vp a nation against her, which shall make her lande waste, and none shal dwel therein: they shal flee, and depart, both man and beast.

c To wit, the Medes, and the Persians.

4 In those dayes, and at that time, saieth the Lord, the children of Israel shal d come, they, and the children of Iudah together, going, and e weeping shal they go, and seeke the Lord their God.

e Reade Chap. 31. 9

5 They shal aske the way to Zion, with their faces thitherward, saying, Come, and let vs cleaue to the Lorde in a perpetuall couenant that shall not be forgotten.

6 ¶ My people hath beene as lost sheepe: their f shepheards haue caused them to go astray, and haue turned them away to the mountaines: they haue gone from g mountaine to hil, and forgotten their resting place.

f Their gouernours and ministers by their examples had prouoked them to idolatrie.

g They haue committed idolatrie in euery place.

7 Al that found them, haue deuoured them, & their enemies said, We offend not, because they haue sinned against the Lord, h the habitation of iustice, euen the Lord the hope of their fathers.

h For the Lord dwelt among thē in his Temple, and would haue maintained them by his iustice against their enemies.

8 i Flee from the middes of Babel, and depart out of the land of the Caldeans, and be ye as the hee goates k before the flocke.

i When God shal deliuer you by Cyrus.

k That is, most forward and without feare.

9 For loe, I wil raise, and cause to come vp against Babel a multitude of mightie nations frō the North countrey, and they shal set themselues in aray against her, whereby she shal be taken: their arrowes shalbe as of a strong man, which is expert, for none shal returne in vaine.

10 And Caldea shal be a spoile: all that spoile her, her, I shalbe satisfied, saith the Lord.

11 Because ye were glad and reioyced in destroying mine heritage, & because ye are growen fatte, as the calues in the grasse, m and neyed like strong horses, 12 Therefore your mother shall bee sore confounded, and she that bare you, shal be ashamed: beholde, the vttermost of the nations shalbe a desert, a drie land, and a wildernesse.

13 Because of the wrath of the Lorde it shall not be inhabited, but shalbe wholy desolate: euery one that goeth by Babel, shall be astonished, n and hisse at al her plagues.

14 o Put your selues in aray against Babel round about: all yee that bend the bowe, shoote at her, spare no arrowes: for shee hath p sinned against the Lord.

15 Crie against her round about: shee hath ‖giuen her hand: her foundations are fallen, and her walles are destroied: for it is the vengeance of the Lord: take vengeance vpon her: as shee hath done, doe vnto her.

16 Destroy the q sower from Babel, and him that handleth the sithe in the time of harueſt: because of the sworde of the oppressour they shall turne euery one to his people, and they shal flee euery one to his owne land.

17 Israel is like scattered sheepe: the lions haue dispersed them: first the king of r Asshur hath deuoured him, and last this Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel hath broken s his bones.

18 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts the God of Israel, Behold, I wil visit ỹ king of Babel, and his land, as I haue visited the king of Asshur.

19 And I wil bring Israel againe to his habitation: he shal feede on Carmel and Bashan, and his soule shal be satisfied vpon the mount Ephraim and Gilead.

20 In those dayes, and at that time, saieth the Lorde, the iniquitie of Israel shal be sought for, & there shalbe none: and the sinnes of Iudah, and they shall not be found: for I wil be merciful vnto them, whome I reserue.

21 Go vp against the land of the t rebelles, euen against it, & against the inhabitants * of ‖Pekod: destroy, and lay it waste after them, saith the Lord, and do according to all that I haue commanded thee.

22 A crie of battell u in the land, and of great destruction.

23 How is the u hammer of the whole worlde destroyed, and broken! howe is Babel become desolate among the nations!

24 I haue snared thee, and thou art taken, O Babel, and thou wast not aware: thou art found, and also caught, because thou hast striuen against the Lord.

25 The Lord hath opened his treasure, and hath brought foorth the weapons of his wrath: for this is the worke of the Lorde God of hostes in the land of the Caldeans.

26 Come against her ‡from the vtmost border: open her store houses: tread on her as on sheaues, & destroy her vtterly: let nothing of her be left.

27 Destroy all her x bullockes: let them goe downe to the slaughter, Wo vnto them, for their day is come, and the time of their visitation.

28 The voice of them that y flee, and escape out of the land of Babel to declare in Zion the vengeance of the Lord our God, and the vengeance of his Temple.

29 Cal vp the archers against Babel: al ye that bend the bowe, besiege it round about: let none thereof escape: * recompence her according to her worke, and according to all that shee hath done, do vnto her: for she hath bin prowd against the Lord, euen against the holy one of Israel.

30 Therefore shall her yoong men fall in the streetes, and al her men of warre shal be destroied in that day, saith the Lord.

31 Beholde, I come vnto thee, O proude man, saith the Lord God of hosts: for thy day is come, euen the time that I will visite thee.

32 And the proude shal stumble and fall, and none shal raise him vp: and I wil kindle a fire in his cities, & it shall deuoure all round about him.

33 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, The children of Israel, and the children of Iudah were oppressed together: and all that tooke them captiues, held them, and would not let them goe.

34 But their strong redeemer, whose Name is the Lord of hostes, he shal maintaine their cause, that he may giue rest to the lande, z and disquiet the inhabitants of Babel.

35 A sworde is vpon the Caldeans, saieth the Lord, and vpon the inhabitants of Babel, and vpon her princes, and vpon her wise men.

36 A sword is vpon the † soothsaiers, and they shall dote: a sword is vpon her strong men, and they shalbe afraide.

CHAP. LI.

Why Babylon is destroyed. 41 The vaine confidence of the Babylonians. 43 The vanitie of idolaters. 59 Jeremiah giueth his booke to Shrajah.

THus sayth the Lord, Behold, I will raise vp against Babel, & against the inhabitants ‖ that lift vp their heart against me, a destroying a wind,

2 And will send vnto Babel fanners that shall fanne her, & shal emptie her land: for in the day of trouble they shalbe against her on euery side.

3 Also to the bender that bendeth his bowe, and to him that lifteth himselfe vp in his brigandine, will I say, Spare not her yong men, but destroy all her hoste.

4 Thus the slaine shall fall in the land of the Caldeans, and they that are thrust through in her streetes.

5 For Israel hath bene no b widowe, nor Iudah from his God, from the Lorde of hostes, though their lande was filled with sinne against the holy one of Israel.

6 ¶ c Flee out of the middes of Babel, and deliuer euery man his soule: be not destroyed in her iniquitie: for this is the time of the Lordes vengeance: he will render vnto her a recompence.

7 Babel hath bene as a golden cuppe in the d Lordes hand, that made all the earth drunken: the nations haue drunken of her wine, therefore doe the nations e rage.

8 *Babel is suddenly fallen, and destroyed: howle for her, bring balme for her sore, if she may be healed.

9 We would haue cured Babel, but she could not be healed: forsake her, and let f vs goe euery one to his owne countrey: for her iudgement is come vp vnto heauen, & is lifted vp to g cloudes.

10 The Lord hath brought forth our g righteousnesse: come and let vs declare in Zion the worke of the Lord our God.

11 Make bright the arrowes: ‖ gather the shieldes: the Lord hath raised vp the spirit of the King of the Medes: for his purpose is against Babel to destroy it, because it is the h vengeance of the Lord, and the vengeance of his Temple.

12 Set vp the standard vpon the walles of Babel, make the watch strong: set vp the watchmen: prepare the skoutes: for the Lord hath both deuised, and done that which he spake against the inhabitants of Babel.

13 O thou that dwellest vpon many i waters, abundant in treasures, thine ende is come, euen the ‖ ende of thy couetousnesse.

14 The Lord of hostes hath sworne by † him *selfe, saying, Surely I will fill thee with men, as with caterpillers, and they shall cry and shoute against thee.

15 k He hath made the earth by his power, & established the world by his wisedome, and hath stretched out the heauen by his discretion.

16 He giueth by his voyce the multitude of waters in the heauen, and he causeth the cloudes to ascend from the endes of the earth: he turneth lightnings to raine, and bringeth forth the winde out of his treasures.

17 Euery man is a beast by his owne l knowledge: euery founder is confounded by the grauen image: for his melting is but falsehood, and there is no breath therein.

18 They are vanitie, and the worke of errors: in the time of their m visitation they shall perish.

19 The n portion of Iaakob is not like them: for he is the maker of all things, & Israel is the rodde of his inheritance: the Lord of hosts is his Name.

20 Thou art mine o hammer, and weapons of warre: for with thee will I breake the nations, and with thee will I destroy kingdomes, 21 And by thee will I breake horse and horseman, and by thee wil I breake the charet and him that rideth therein.

22 By thee also wil I breake man and woman, and by thee wil I breake old and yong, & by thee will I breake the yong man and the mayde.

23 I will also breake by thee the shepheard and his flocke, and by thee will I breake the husbandman and his yoke of oxen, and by thee will I breake the dukes and princes.

24 And I will render vnto Babel, and to all the inhabitants of the Caldeans all their euil, that they haue done in Zion, euen in your sight, sayth the Lord.

25 Beholde, I come vnto thee, O destroying p mountaine, sayth the Lord, which destroyest all the earth: and I wil stretch out mine hand vpon thee, and rolle thee downe from the q rockes, and will make thee a burnt mountaine.

26 They shall not take of thee a stone for a corner, nor a stone for foundations, but thou shalt be destroyed for euer, sayth the Lord.

27 Set vp a standard in the lande: blowe the trumpets among the nations: prepare the nations against her: call vp the kingdomes of r Ararat, Minni, and Ashchenaz against her: appoint the prince against her: cause horses to come vp as the rough caterpillars.

28 Prepare against her the nations with the Kings of the Medes, the dukes thereof, and the princes thereof, & all the land of his dominion.

29 And the land shall tremble and sorowe: for the deuise of the Lorde shalbe performed against Babel, to make the lande of Babel waste without an inhabitant.

30 The strong men of Babel haue ceased to fight: they haue remained in their holdes: their strength hath fayled, and they were like women: they haue burnt her dwelling places, and her barres are broken.

31 A post shall runne to meete the post, and a messenger to meete the messenger, to shewe the King of Babel, that his citie is taken on a s side thereof, 32 And that the passages are stopped, and the reedes burnt with fire, & the t men of warre troubled.

33 For thus sayth the Lord of hosts the God of Israel, the daughter of Babel is like a threshing floore: the time of her threshing is come: yet a litle while, and the time of her harueste u shall come.

34 Nebuchad-nezzar the King of Babel hath x deuoured me, and destroyed me: hee hath made me an emptie vessell: he swallowed mee vp like a dragon, and filled his belly with my delicates, and hath cast me out.

35 The spoyle of me, and that which was left of me, is brought vnto Babel, shall the inhabitant of Zion say: and my blood vnto the inhabitants of Caldea, shall Ierusalem say.

36 Therefore thus sayth the Lorde. Beholde, I wil maintein thy [u] cause, & take vengeance for thee, & I wil drie vp the sea, & drie vp her springs.

37 And Babel shall be as heapes, a dwelling place for dragons, an astonishment, & an hissing, without an inhabitant.

49 I wil bring them downe like lambes to the slaughter, and like rams and goates.

41 How is [y] Sheshach taken! and howe is the glory of the whole earth taken! how is Babel become an astonishment among the nations!

42 The [z] sea is come vp vpon Babel: she is couered with the multitude of the wawes thereof.

43 Her cities are desolate: the land is dry and a wildernes, a land wherein no man dwelleth, neither doth the sonne of man passe thereby.

44 I wil also visite Bel in Babel, & I wil bring out of his mouth, that which [a] he hath swallowed vp, and the nations shal runne no more vnto him, and the wall of Babel shall fall.

45 My people, go out of the middes of her, & deliuer yee euery man his soule from the firece wrath of the Lord, 47 Therefore beholde, the dayes come, that I will visite the images of Babel, & the whole land shall be confounded, and all her slayne shall fal in the middes of her.

48 Then the heauen and [c] the earth, and all that is therein, shall reioyce for Babel: for the destroyers shal come vnto her from the North, saith the Lord.

49 As Babel caused the [d] slaine of Israel to fall, so by Babel the slaine of all the earth did fall.

50 Ye that [e] haue escaped the sworde, goe away, stand not stil: remember the Lord afarre off, and let Ierusalem come into your minde.

51 Wee [f] are confounded because wee haue heard reproch: shame hath couered our faces, for strangers are come into the Sanctuaries of the Lords House.

52 Wherefore behold, the dayes come, sayth the Lord, that I will visite her grauen images, and through all her land the wounded shall grone.

53 Though Babel should mount vp to [g] heauen, and though she should defend her strength on hie, yet from mee shall her destroyers come, sayth the Lord.

54 A sound of a cry commeth from Babel, and great destruction from the land of the Caldeans, 55 Because the Lorde hath layde Babel waste and destroyed from her the great voyce, and her waues shall roare like great waters, and a sounde was made by their noyse:

56 Because the destroyer is come vpon her, euen vpon Babel, and her strong men are taken, their bowes are broken: for the Lorde God that recompenceth, shall surely recompence.

57 And I will [h] make drunke her princes, and her wise men, her dukes, and her nobles, and her strong men: and they shall sleepe a perpetuall sleepe, & not wake, sayth the King, whose Name is the Lord of hostes.

58 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, The [i] thicke wall of Babel shalbe broken, & her hie gates shall be burnt with fire, and the people shall labour in vaine, & the folke in the fire, for they shalbe weary.

59 The worde which Ieremiah the Prophet commanded Sheraiah the sonne of Neriiah, the sonne of Maaseiah, when he went with Zedekiah the King of Iudah into Babel, in the [k] fourth yere of his reigne: and this Sheraiah was a peaceable prince.

60 So Ieremiah wrote in a booke all the euill that should come vpo Babel, euen al these things, that are written against Babel.

61 And Ieremiah sayd to Sheraiah, Whē thou commest vnto Babel, and shalt see, and shalt reade all these wordes, 62 Then shalt thou say, O Lord, thou hast spoken against this place, to destroy it, that none should remaine in it, neyther man nor beast, but that it should be desolate for euer.

63 And when thou hast made an ende of reading this booke, thou shalt binde a [l] stone to it, & cast it in the middes of Euphrates, 64 And shalt say, Thus shal Babel be drowned, and shall not rise from the euill, that I will bring vpon her: and they shall [m] be weary. Thus farre are the wordes of Ieremiah.

3 [a] Doubtlesse because the wrath of the Lord was against Ierusalem and Iudah, till hee had cast them out from his presence, therefore Zedekiah rebelled against the king of Babel.

4 *But in the ninth yere of his reigne, in the tenth moneth the tenth day of the moneth came Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel, hee and all his hoste against Ierusalem, & pitched against it, and built fortes against it round about.

5 So the citie was besieged vnto the eleuenth yeere of the King Zedekiah.

6 Now in the fourth moneth, the ninth day of the month, the famine was sore in the city, so that there was no more bread for the people of the land.

7 Then the citie was broken vp and all the men of warre fled, and went out of the citie by night, by the [b] way of the gate betweene the two walles, which was by the kings garden: (now the Caldeans were by the citie round about) and they went by the way of the wildernes.

8 But the army of the Caldeans pursued after the king, and tooke Zedekiah in the desert of Iericho, and all the hoste was scattered from him.

m God forbiddeth that the Ammonites and Moabites ſhould enter into the Congregation of the Lorde, and vnder them he cõprehendeth all enemies, Deut. 23.3.

10 The enemie hath ſtretched out his hand vpon al her pleaſant things: for ſhe hath ſeene the heathen enter into her Sanctuarie, whome m thou diddeſt commande, that they ſhoulde not enter into thy Church.

n Thus Ieruſalem lamenteth, moouing others to pitie her and to learne by her example.

11 All her people ſigh and ſeeke their bread: they haue giuen their pleaſant thinges for meate to refreſh the ſoule: ſee, O Lord, and conſider: for I am become vile.

12 Haue ye no regarde, all yee that paſſe by this way? behold and ſee, if there be any n ſorowe like vnto my ſorowe, which is done vnto mee, wherewith the Lorde hath afflicted me in the day of his fierce wrath.

o This declareth that we ſhoulde acknowledge God to be the author of al our afflictions, to the intent that we might ſeeke vnto him for remedy.

13 From aboue hath o hee ſent fire into my bones, which preuaile againſt them: he hath ſpred a net for my feete, and turned me backe: he hath made me deſolate, and dayly in heauineſſe.

14 The p yoke of my tranſgreſſions is bound vpon his hand: they are wrapped, and come vp vpon my necke: hee hath made my ſtrength to fal: the Lord hath deliuered me into their hands, neither am I able to riſe vp.

q Hee hath troden them vnder foote as they treade grapes in the wine preſſe.

15 The Lorde hath troden vnder foote all my valiant men in the middes of me: he hath called an aſſembly againſt me to deſtroy my yong men: the Lorde hath troden q the wine preſſe vpon the virgine the daughter of Iudah.

ſ That is, they dyed for hunger.

20 Behold, O Lorde, howe I am troubled: my bowels ſwell: mine heart is turned within me, for I am full of heauines: the ſword ſpoyleth abroad, as death doeth at home.

21 They haue heard that I mourne, but there is none to comfort mee: all mine enemies haue heard of my trouble, and are glad, that thou haſt done it: thou wilt bring the day, that thou haſt pronounced, and they ſhalbe like vnto mee.

a That is, bringeth her from proſperitie to aduerſitie.

HOwe hath the Lord a darkened the daughter of Zion in his wrath! and hath caſt downe from b heauen vnto the earth the beautie of Iſrael, and remembred not his c footeſtoole in the day of his wrath!

b Hath giuen her a moſt ſore fall.

c Alluding to the Temple or to the Arke of the couenant, which was called the footeſtoole of the Lord, becauſe they ſhould not ſet their mindes ſo lowe, but lift vp their hearts toward the heauens.

2 The Lord hath deſtroyed all the habitations of Iaakob, & not ſpared: he hath throwen downe in his wrath ỹ ſtrong holds of the daughter of Iudah: he hath caſt them downe to ỹ ground: he hath polluted the kingdome and the princes thereof.

d Meaning, ỹ glory and ſtrength, as 1. Sam. 2.1.

3 Hee hath cut off in his fierce wrath all the d horne of Iſrael: he hath drawen backe his e right hand from before the enemie, & there was kindled in Iaakob like a flame of fire, which deuoured round about.

e That is, his ſuccour which he was wont to ſend vs, when our enemies oppreſſed vs.

4 He f hath bent his bowe like an enemie: his right hand was ſtretched vp as an aduerſarie, and ſlewe al that was pleaſant to the eye in the tabernacle of the daughter of Zion: he powred out his wrath like fire.

f Shewing ỹ there is no remedie but deſtruction, where God is the enemie.

5 The Lord was an enemie: he hath deuoured Iſrael, & conſumed al his palaces: he hath deſtroied his ſtrong holdes, and hath increaſed in the daughter of Iudah lamentation and mourning.

6 For he hath deſtroyed his Tabernacle, as a garden, hee hath deſtroyed his Congregation: the Lorde hath cauſed the feaſtes and Sabbaths to bee forgotten in Zion, and hath deſpiſed in the indignation of his wrath the King and the Prieſt.

7 The Lord hath forſakẽ his altar: he hath abhorred his Sanctuarie: he hath giuen into the hand of the enemie the walles of her palaces: they haue made a g noyſe in the Houſe of the Lorde, as in the day of ſolemnitie.

g As the people were accuſtomed to praiſe God in ỹ ſolemne feaſtes with a loud voyce, ſo nowe the enemies blaſpheme him with ſhouting and crying.

8 The Lorde hath determined to deſtroye the wall of the daughter of Zion: he ſtretched out a line: hee hath not withdrawen his hande from deſtroying: therefore hee made the rampart h and the wall to lament: they were deſtroyed together.

h This is a figuratiue ſpeach, as that was, when he ſaid, the wayes did lament, Chap. 1.4. meaning, that this ſorowe was ſo great that the inſenſible things had their part thereof.

9 Her gates are ſunke to the grounde: he hath deſtroyed and broken her barres: her King and her princes are among the Gentiles: the Lawe is no more, neither can her Prophets ‖ receiue any viſion from the Lord.

10 The Elders of the daughter of Zion ſit vpon the grounde, and keepe ſilence: they haue caſt vp duſt vpon their heades: they haue girded them ſelues with ſackecloth: the virgins of Ieruſalem hang downe their heades to the grounde.

11 Mine eyes doe faile with teares: my bowels ſwell: my liuer is powred vpon the earth, for the deſtruction of the daughter of my people, becauſe the children and ſucklings ‖ ſwoone in the ſtreetes of the citie.

daughter Ierusalem? what shal I liken to thee, that I may comfort thee, O virgin daughter Zion? for thy breach is great like ỹ sea: who can heale thee?

14 Thy Prophets haue [k] looked out vaine and foolish things for thee, and they haue not discouered thine iniquitie, to turne away thy captiuitie, but haue looked out for thee false ‖ prophesies, and causes of banishment.

15 Al that passe by the way, clap their handes at thee: they hisse and wagge their head vpon the daughter of Ierusalem, saying, Is this the citie that men call, The perfection of beautie, and the ioye of the whole earth?

16 All thine enemies haue opened their mouth against thee: they hisse & gnash the teeth, saying, Let vs deuoure it: certainely this is the day that we looked for: we haue found and seene it.

17 *The Lord hath done that which he had purposed: he hath fulfilled his word that hee had determined of old time: he hath throwen downe, and not spared: hee hath caused thine enemie to reioyce ouer thee, and set vp the horne of thine aduersaries.

18 Their heart * cried vnto the Lord, O wall of the daughter Zion, let teares runne downe like a riuer, day and night: take thee no rest, neither let the apple of thine eie cease.

19 Arise, cry in the night: in the beginning of the watches powre out thine heart like water before the face of the Lord: lift vp thine hands toward him for the life of thy yong children, that faint for hunger in the corners of all the streetes.

20 Beholde, O Lorde, and consider to whome thou hast done thus: shall the women eate their fruit, and children of a ‖ spanne long? shall the Priest and the Prophet be slaine in the Sanctuary of the Lord?

21 The yong and the olde lie on the ground in the streetes: my virgins and my yong men are fallen by the sworde: thou hast slaine them in the day of thy wrath: thou hast killed and not spared.

22 Thou hast called as in a solemne day my ‖ terrours round about, so that in the day of the Lordes wrath none escaped nor remained: those that I haue nourished and brought vp, hath mine enemie consumed.

[k] Because the false prophets called themselues seers, as the other were called, therefore he sheweth that they sawe amisse, because they did not reproue the peoples faults, but flattered them in their sinnes, which was the cause of their destruction.

CHAP. III.

a The prophet cõplaineth of the punishments & afflictions that endured by the false prophets and hypocrites, when hee declared the destruction of Ierusalem, as Iere. 20. 2.

I Am the man, that hath seene [a] affliction in the rod of his indignation.

2 He hath ledde mee, and brought mee into darkenes, but not to light.

3 Surely he is turned against me: he turneth his hand against me all the day.

4 My flesh and my skinne hath he caused to waxe olde, and he hath broken my bones.

b He speaketh this as one that felt Gods heauy iudgements, which he greatly feared, and therefore setteth them out with this diuersity of words.

5 Hee hath [b] builded against me, and compassed me with gall, and labour.

c This is a great temptation to the godly, when they see not the fruit of their prayers, and causeth them to thinke that they are not heard, which thing God vseth to doe, that they might pray more earnestly and the oftner.

6 He hath set me in darke places, as they that be dead for euer.

d And keepeth mee in holde as a prisoner.

7 He hath [d] hedged about mee, that I can not get out: he hath made my chaines heauy.

8 Also when I cry and shoute, hee shutteth out my [c] prayer.

9 He hath [d] stopped vp my wayes with hewen stone, and turned away my paths.

10 [e] He was vnto me as a beare lying in waite, and as a Lion in secret places.

e He hath no pitie on me. † Else sowner.

11 He hath stopped my wayes, and pulled me in pieces: he hath made me desolate.

f With great anguish & sorow he hath made me to lose my sense.

12 He hath bent his bow & made me a marke for the arrowe.

13 He caused † the arrowes of his quiuer to enter into my reines.

g Thus with paine he was driuen to and fro betweene hope & despaire as ỹ godly oftimes are, yet in the ende the Spirit getteth the victorie.

14 I was a derision to al my people, and their song all the day.

15 He hath filled me with bitternes, & made me drunken with [f] wormewood.

h He sheweth that God thus vseth to exercise his, to the intent that hereby they may knowe themselues & seeke his mercies.

16 He hath also broken my teeth with stones, and hath couered me with ashes.

17 Thus my soule was farre off from peace: I forgate prosperitie, i Considering the wickednes of man, it is maruel ỹ any remaineth aliue: but only that God for his owne mercies sake & for his promise will euer haue his Church to remaine though they be neuer so fewe in number, Isa. 1. 9.

18 And I said, My strength and mine hope [g] is perished from the Lord, 19 Remembring mine affliction, & thy mourning, the wormewood and the gall.

20 My soule hath them in remembrance, and is humbled [h] in me.

k We feele thy benefites dayly.

21 I consider this in mine heart: therfore haue I hope.

l The godly put their whole confidence in God, and therfore looke for none other inheritance, as Psal. 16. 5.

22 It is the Lordes [i] mercies that we are not consumed, because his compassions faile not.

23 They are renued [k] euery morning: great is thy faithfulnesse.

24 The Lorde is my [l] portion, sayth my soule: therefore will I hope in him.

m He sheweth that we can neuer begin too timely to be exercised vnder the crosse, that when the affliction grow greater, our patience also by experience may be stronger.

25 The Lord is good vnto them, that trust in him, and to the soule that seeketh him.

26 It is good both to trust, and to waite for the saluation of the Lord.

27 It is good for a man that he beare the yoke in his [m] youth.

n He murmureth not against God, but is patient.

28 He sitteth alone, [n] and keepeth silence, because he hath borne it vpon him.

29 He putteth his [o] mouth in the dust, if there may be hope, o He humbleth himselfe as they that fall downe with their face to the ground, and so with patience waiteth for succour.

30 Hee giueth his cheeke to him that smiteth him: he is filled full with reproches.

31 For the Lord will not forsake for euer.

32 But though he send affliction, yet wil he haue cõpassion according to ỹ multitude of his mercies.

p He taketh no pleasure in it, but doeth it of necessitie for our amendement, when he suffereth ỹ wicked to oppresse ỹ poore.

33 For he doeth not [p] punish † willingly, nor afflict the children of men,

34 In stamping vnder his feete al the prisoners of the earth, q We doubt not but there is 35 In ouerthrowing the right of a man before the face of the most High, r He sheweth that nothing is done without Gods prouidence.

36 In subuerting a man in his cause: the Lord [q] seeth it not.

37 Who is hee then that sayth, & it commeth to passe, and the Lord [r] commandeth it not?

s That is aduersitie, & prosperitie, Amos 3. 6.

38 Out of the mouth of the most High proceedeth not [s] euill and good?

t When God afflicteth him.

39 Wherefore then is the liuing [t] man sore wofull? man suffereth for his sinne.

u That is both hearts and handes for vs to lift vp the hands is but by poesie.

40 Let vs search and try our wayes, and turne againe to the Lord.

41 Let vs lift vp [u] our hearts with our handes vnto God in the heauens.

42 We haue sinned, and haue rebelled, therefore thou hast not spared.

43 Thou hast couered vs with wrath, and persecuted vs: thou hast slaine and not spared.

44 Thou hast couered thy selfe with a cloude, that our prayer should not passe through.

2.Cor.4.13.

45 Thou haſt made vs as the * offſcouring and refuſe in the middes of the people.

46 All our enemies haue opened their mouth againſt vs.

47 Feare, and a ſnare is come vpon vs with deſolation and deſtruction.

48 Mine eye caſteth out riuers of water, for the deſtruction of the daughter of my people.

49 Mine eie droppeth without ſtay and ceaſeth not, x I am ouercome with ſore weeping for all my people.

55 I called vpon thy Name, O Lorde, out of the lowe dungeon.

56 Thou haſt heard my voice: ſtop not thine eare from my ſigh and from my cry.

57 Thou dreweſt neere in the day that I called vpon thee: thou ſaideſt, Feare not.

z Meaning, the cauſe wherfore his life was in danger.

58 O Lord, thou haſt maintained the cauſe of my z ſoule, and haſt redeemed my life.

59 O Lord, thou haſt ſeene my wrong, iudge thou my cauſe.

60 Thou haſt ſeene all their vengeance, and all their deuiſes againſt me.

61 Thou haſt heard their reproch, O Lorde, and all their imaginations againſt me:

62 The lips alſo of thoſe that roſe againſt me, and their whiſpering againſt me continually.

11 The Lord hath accompliſhed his indignation: he hath powred out his fierce wrath, he hath kindled a fire in Zion, which hath deuoured the foundations thereof.

g He meaneth that theſe things are come to paſſe therefore, contrary to all mens expectation.

12 The Kings of the earth, and all the inhabitants of the world would not haue beleeued that the aduerſarie and the enemie ſhould haue entred into the gates of Ieruſalem:

h Some referre this to the blinde men, which as they went ſtumbled on the blood, whereof the citie was full.

13 For the ſinnes of her Prophets, and the iniquities of her Prieſts that haue ſhed the blood of the iuſt in the middes of g her.

15 But they cried vnto them, Depart, ye polluted, depart, depart, touch not: therefore they fled away, and wandered: they haue ſayde among the heathen, They ſhall no more dwell there.

l He ſheweth two principall cauſes of their deſtruction: their crueltie, and their vaine confidence in man: for they truſted in the helpe of the Egyptians.

16 The ‖ anger of the Lorde hath ſcattered them, he will no more regard them: k they reuerenced not the faces of the Prieſts, nor had compaſſion on the Elders.

22 Thy puniſhment is accompliſhed, O daughter Zion: he o will no more carie thee away into captiuitie, but hee will viſite thine iniquitie, O daughter Edom, he will diſcouer thy ſinnes.

CHAP. V.

The prayer of Ieremiah.

a This prayer as is thought, was made when ſome of the people were caried away captiue, others, as ỹ pooreſt remained, & ſome went into Egypt & other places for ſuccour: albeit it ſeemeth that the prophet foreſeeing their miſeries to come, thus prayed.

REmember, O Lorde, what is come vpon vs: a conſider, and behold our reproche.

2 Our inheritance is turned to the ſtrangers, our houſes to the aliants.

3 We are fatherles, euen without father, and our mothers are as widowes.

4 We haue drunken our b water for money, and our wood is ſolde vnto vs.

5 Our neckes are vnder perſecution: wee are wearie, and haue no reſt.

6 We haue giuen our c handes to the Egyptians, c Wee are ioyned in league and amitie with them, or haue ſubmitted our ſelues vnto them.

tians, and to Asshur to be satisfied with bread.

7 Our fathers haue sinned, and are not, and we haue borne their d iniquities.

8 Seruants haue ruled ouer vs, none would deliuer vs out of their hands.

9 Wee gate our breade with the perill of our liues, because of the sword e of the wildernesse.

10 Our skinne was blacke like as an ouen because of the terrible famine.

11 They defiled the women in Zion, and the maydes in the cities of Iudah.

12 The princes are hanged vp by f their hande: the faces of the Elders were not had in honour.

13 They tooke the yong men to grinde, and the children fell vnder g the wood.

14 The Elders haue ceased frō the h gate and the yong men from their songs.

15 The ioy of our heart is gone, our daunce is turned into mourning.

16 The crowne of our head is fallen: wo now vnto vs, that we haue sinned.

17 Therefore our heart is heauie for these things, our i eyes are dimme, 18 Because of the mountaine of Zion which is k desolate: the foxes runne vpon it.

19 But thou, O Lord, remainest for k euer: thy throne is from generation to generation.

20 Wherefore doest thou forget vs for euer, and forsake vs so long time?

21 l Turne thou vs vnto thee, O Lord, and we shall be turned: renue our dayes as of olde.

22 But thou hast vtterly reiected vs: thou art exceedingly angry against vs.

d As our fathers haue bin punished for their sinnes, so we ỹ are culpable of the same sinnes, are punished.

e Because of the enemie ỹ came frō the wilderues, and would not suffer vs to goe & seeke our necessarie foode.

f That is, by the enemies hand.

g Their slauery was so great, that they were not able to abide it.

k And therefore thy couenant and mercies can neuer faile.

l Whereby is declared that it is not in mans power to turne to God, but is onely his worke to conuert vs, and thus God worketh in vs before we can turne to him, Iere. 31.18.

EZEKIEL.

THE ARGVMENT.

After that Iehoiachin by the counsel of Ieremiah and Ezekiel had yeelded himself to Nebuchadnezzar, and so went into captiuitie with his mother and diuers of his princes & of the people, certaine began to repent and murmure that they had obeied the Prophets counsel, as though the things which they had prophecied should not come to passe, and therefore their estate should be stil miserable vnder the Caldeans. By reason whereof he confirmeth his former prophecies, declaring by newe visions and reuelations shewed vnto him, that the cuie should most certainly be destroyed, and the people grieuously tormented by Gods plagues, insomuch that they that remained, shoulde bee brought into cruell bondage. And lest the godly shoulde despaire in these great troubles, hee assureth them that God will deliuer his Church at his time appoynted, and also destroy their enemies which either afflicted them, or reioyced in their miseries. The effect of the one & the other should chiefly be performed vnder Christ, of whom in this booke are many notable promises, and in whom the glory of the new Temple should perfectly be restored. He prophecied these things in Caldea at the same time that Ieremiah prophecied in Iudah, and there began in the fift yeere of Iehoiachins captiuitie.

IT came to passe in the a thirteenth yeere in the fourth moneth, and in the fift day of the moneth (as I was among the captiues by the riuer b Chebar) that the heauens were opened, and I sawe visions of c GOD.

2 In the fift day of the moneth (which was the fift yeere of King Ioiachins captiuitie)

3 The word of the Lorde came vnto Ezekiel the Priest, the sonne of Buzi, in the lande of the Caldeans, by the riuer Chebar, where the d hand of the Lorde was vpon him.

4 And I looked, and beholde, e a whirlwinde came out of the North, a great cloude and a fire wrapped about it, and a brightnesse was about it, and in the middes thereof, to wit, in the middes of the fire came out the likenesse of ‖ amber.

5 Also out of the middes thereof came the likenesse of foure beastes, f and this was their forme: they had the appearance of a man.

6 And euery one had foure faces, and euery one had foure wings.

7 And their feete were streight feete, and the sole of their feete was like the sole of a calues foote, and they sparkled like the appearance of bright brasse.

8 And the hands of a man came out from vnder their wings in the foure parts of them, & they foure had their faces, and their wings.

9 They were g ioyned by their wings one to another, and when they went forth, they returned not, but euery one went streight forward,

10 And the similitude of their faces was as h the face of a man: and they foure had the face of a lyon on the right side, and they foure had the face of a bullocke on the left side: they foure also had the face of an egle.

11 Thus were their faces: but their wings were spred out aboue: two wings of euery one were ioyned one to another, & two couered their bodies.

12 And euery one went streight forward: they went whither their † spirit lead them, and they returned not when they went forth.

13 The similitude also of the beasts, and their appearance was like burning coales of fire, & like the appearance of lampes: for the fire ran among the beastes, and the fire gaue a glister, and out of the fire there went lightning.

14 And the beastes ranne, and i returned like vnto lightning.

15 ¶ Nowe as I behelde the beastes, beholde a wheele appeared vpon the earth by the beastes, hauing foure faces.

16 The fashion of the wheeles and their worke was like vnto a k chrysolite: and they foure had one forme, and their fashion, and their worke was as one wheele in another wheele.

17 Whē they went, they went vpon their foure sides, and they returned not when they went.

18 They had also ‖ rings, and height, and were fearefull to beholde, and their rings were full of eyes, rounde about them foure.

CHAP. II.

The Prophet is sent to call the people from their errour.

AND a he said vnto me, b Sonne of man, stand vp vpon thy feet, and I wil speake vnto thee.

2 c And the Spirit entred into me, when hee had spoken vnto me, and set me vpon my feete, so that I heard him that spake vnto me.

3 And he said vnto me, Sonne of man, I sende thee to the children of Israel, to a rebellious nation that hath rebelled against me: for they & their fathers haue rebelled against mee, euen vnto this very day.

4 For they are † impudent children, and stiffe hearted: I doe send thee vnto them, & thou shalt say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God.

5 But surely they will not heare, neither in deede will they cease: for they are a rebellious house: yet shall they know that d there hath bene a Prophet among them.

6 And thou sonne of man, e feare them not, neither be afraid of their words, although rebels, & thornes be with thee, and thou remainest with scorpions: feare not their words, nor be afraide at their lookes, for they are a rebellious house.

7 Therefore thou shalt speake my words vnto them: but surely they will not heare, neither will they indeede cease: for they are rebellious.

8 But thou sonne of man, heare what I say vnto thee: be not thou rebellious, like this rebellious house: open thy mouth, and f eate that I giue thee.

9 And when I looked vp, beholde, an hande was sent vnto me, and loe, a roule of a booke was therein.

1 The Prophet being fed with the word of God, & with the constant boldnesse of the spirit, is sent vnto the people that were in captiuitie. 17 The office of true ministers.

MOreouer he said vnto me, Sonne of man, eate that thou findest: a eate this roule, and goe, and speake vnto the house of Israel.

2 So I opened my mouth, and hee gaue mee this roule to eate.

3 And he saide vnto me, Sonne of man, cause thy belly to eate, and fill thy bowels with this roule that I giue thee. Then did I eate it, & it was in my mouth as sweete as honie.

4 And he said vnto me, Sonne of man, go, and enter into the house of Israel, and declare them my wordes.

5 For thou art not sent to a people of an vnknowen † tongue, or of an hard language, but to the house of Israel,

6 Not to many people of an vnknown tongue, or of an hard language, whose wordes thou canst

7 But the house of Israel will not obey thee: for they will not obey me: yea, all the house of Israel are impudent and stiffe hearted.

8 Beholde, I haue made thy face b strong against their faces, and thy forehead harde against their foreheads.

9 I haue made thy forehead as the adamant, and harder then the flint: feare them not therfore, neither be afraid at their lookes: for they are a rebellious house.

10 He said moreouer vnto me, Sonne of man, c receiue in thine heart all my words that I speak vnto thee, and heare them with thine eares, 11 And goe and enter to them that are led away captiues vnto the children of thy people, and speake vnto them, and tell them, Thus saith the Lord God: but surely they will not heare, neither will they indeede cease.

12 Then the spirite tooke me vp, and I hearde behinde mee a noyse of a great rushing, saying, d Blessed be the glory of the Lord out of his place.

13 I heard also the noyse of the winges of the beasts, that touched one another, and the ratling of the wheeles that were by them, euen a noise of a great rushing.

14 So the Spirit lift me vp, and tooke me away & I e went in bitternes, & indignation of my spirit, but the hand of the Lord was strong vpon me.

15 Then I came to them that were led away captiues to f Tel-abib, that dwelt by the riuer Chebar, and I sate where they sate, and remained there astonished among them g seuen dayes.

16 And at the end of seuen dayes, the word of the Lord came againe vnto me, saying, 17 Sonne of man, I haue made thee a h watchman vnto the house of Israel: therefore heare the word at my mouth, and giue them warning from me.

18 When I shall say vnto the wicked, Thou shalt surely die, and thou giuest not him warning, nor speakest to admonish the wicked of his wicked way, that he may liue, the same wicked man shal die in his iniquitie: but his blood wil I require at thine hand.

19 Yea, if thou warne the wicked, and he turne not from his wickednesse, nor from his wicked way, he shal die in his iniquitie, but thou hast deliuered thy soule.

20 Likewise if a i righteous man turne from his righteousnesse, and commit iniquitie, I wil lay a k stumbling blocke before him, and he shal die, because thou hast not giuen him warning: he shall die in his sinne, and his i righteous deedes, which he hath done, shall not bee remembred: but his blood will I require at thine hand.

21 Neuertheless, if thou admonish that righteous man, that the righteous sinne not, and that he doeth not sinne, he shal liue because hee is admonished: also thou hast deliuered thy soule.

22 And the m hand of the Lord was there vpon me, and he said vnto me, Arise, and go into the ‖ field, and I will there talke with thee.

23 So when I had risen vp, and gone forth into the field, behold, the n glory of the Lord stood there, as the glory which I saw by the riuer Chebar, and I fell downe vpon my face.

CHAP IIII.

1 The beſieging of the citie of Ieruſalem is ſignified. 9 The long continuance of the captiuitie of Iſrael. 16 An hunger is propheſied to come.

THou alſo ſonne of man, take thee a bricke, & lay it before thee, and pourtray vpon it the citie, euen Ieruſalem.

2 And lay ſiege againſt it, and build a fort againſt it, & caſt a mount againſt it, ſet the campe alſo againſt it, and lay engins of warre againſt it round about.

3 Moreouer, take an a yron pan, and ſet it for a wall of yron betweene thee and the citie, & direct thy face toward it, and it ſhalbe beſieged, & thou ſhalt lay ſiege againſt it: this ſhalbe a ſigne vnto the houſe of Iſrael.

4 Sleepe thou alſo vpon thy left ſide, and lay the iniquitie of the b houſe of Iſrael vpon it: according to the number of the dayes, that thou ſhalt ſleepe vpon it, thou ſhalt beare their iniquitie.

b Hereby he repreſented the idolatrie and ſinne of the ten tribes (for Samaria was on his left hand ſith Babylon) and how they had remained therein three hundreth and ninetie yeeres.

5 For I haue layde vpon thee the yeeres of their iniquitie, according to the number of the dayes, euen three hundreth and ninetie dayes: ſo ſhalt thou beare the iniquitie of the houſe of Iſrael.

f Meaning, that the famine ſhould be ſo great, that they ſhould bee glad to eate whatſoeuer they could get.

9 Thou ſhalt take alſo vnto thee wheate, and barley, and beanes, and lentiles, and millet, f and fitches, and put them in one veſſel, & make thee bread thereof according to the number of the dayes, that thou ſhalt ſleepe vpon thy ſide: euen g three hundreth and ninetie daies ſhalt thou eate thereof.

b To wit, of that citie which he had pourtrayed vpon the bricke, Chap. 4.1. By the fire and peſtilence he meaneth the famine, wherewith one part periſhed during the ſiege of Nebuchad-nezzar. c Meaning, that a very few ſhould be left, which the Lord would preſerue among all theſe ſtormes, but not without troubles and tryall.

4 Then take of them againe and caſt them into the middes of the fire, and burne them in the fire: d for thereof ſhall a fire come forth into all the houſe of Iſrael.

d Out of that fire which thou kindleſt, ſhall a fire come, which ſhall ſignifie the deſtruction of Iſrael.

e My words and lawe into idolatrie and ſuperſtitions.

7 Therefore thus ſayth the Lorde God, Becauſe your f multitude is greater then the nations that are round about you, and yee haue not walked in my ſtatutes, neither haue yee kept my iudgements: no, ye haue not done according to the iudgements of the nations, that are round about you,

9 And I will doe in thee, that I neuer did before, neither will do any more the like, becauſe of all thine abominations.

10 For in the middes of thee, the fathers * ſhall eate their ſonnes, and the ſonnes ſhall eate their fathers, & I will execute iudgement in thee, and the whole remnant of thee will I ſcatter into all the windes.

neither ſhall mine eie ſpare thee, neither will I haue any pitie.

12 The third part of thee ſhall die with the peſtilence, and with famine ſhall they be conſumed in the middes of thee: and another third part ſhal fall by the ſword round about thee: and I wil ſcatter the laſt third part into all winds, and I wil drawe out a ſword after them.

13 Thus ſhall mine anger bee accompliſhed, and I will cauſe my wrath to ceaſe in them, and I will be gcomforted: and they ſhall know, that I the Lord haue ſpoken it in my zeale, when I haue accompliſhed my wrath in them.

b Read 2.King. 23.11.

6 In all your dwelling places the cities ſhalbe deſolate, and the hie places ſhalbe laied waſte, ſo that your altars ſhalbe made waſte and deſolate, and your idoles ſhalbe broken, and ceaſe, & your images of the Sunne ſhal be cut in pieces, & your workes ſhalbe aboliſhed.

7 And the ſlaine ſhall fall in the middes of you, and ye ſhal know that I am the Lord.

8 Yet wil I leaue a remnant, d that you may haue ſome that ſhall eſcape the ſword among the nations, when you ſhalbe ſcattered through the countries.

d He ſheweth that in all dangers God wil preſerue a few, which ſhall be as the ſeed of his Church, & call vpon his Name.

9 And they that eſcape of you, ſhall remember me among the nations, where they ſhalbe in captiuitie, becauſe I am grieued for their whoriſh hearts, which haue departed from mee, and for their eies, which haue gone a whoring after their idoles, and they e ſhalbe diſpleaſed in themſelues for the euils, which they haue committed in all their abominations.

e They ſhalbe aſhamed to ſee that the it hope in idoles was but vaine, and ſo ſhall repent.

10 And they ſhal know that I am the Lord, and that I haue not ſaid in vaine, that I would do this euil vnto them.

11 Thus ſaieth the Lord God, f Smite with thine hand, and ſtretch foorth with thy foote, and ſay, Alas, for all the wicked abominations of the houſe of Iſrael: for they ſhal fall by the ſworde, by the famine, and by the peſtilence.

f By theſe ſignes he would that the Prophet ſhould ſignifie the great deſtruction to come.

12 He that is farre off, ſhal die of the peſtilence, and he that is neere, ſhal fall by the ſword, and hee that remaineth and is beſieged, ſhal die by the famine: thus will I accompliſh my wrath vpon them.

13 Then g ye ſhal know, that I am the Lord, when their ſlaine men ſhalbe among their idoles round about their altars, vpon euery hie hil in all the toppes of the mountaines, and vnder euery greene tree, and vnder euery thicke oke, which is the place where they did offer ſweete ſauour to all their idoles.

g That is, all nations when you ſhal ſee my iudgements.

CHAP. VII.

The end of all the land of Iſrael ſhall ſuddenly come.

MOreouer the worde of the Lord came vnto me, ſaying,

2 Alſo thou ſonne of man, thus ſaith the Lord God, An end is come vnto the land of Iſrael: the ende is come vpon the foure corners of the land.

3 Now is the end come vpon thee, and I wil ſend my wrath vpon thee, and will iudge thee according to thy wayes, and will lay vpon thee all a thine abominations.

a I will puniſh thee as thou haſt deſerued for thine idolatrie.

4 Neither ſhall mine eie ſpare thee, neither will I haue pitie: but I will lay thy wayes vpon thee: and thine abomination ſhall bee in the middes of thee, and ye ſhall know that I am the Lord.

‖ Or, behold, euill commeth after euill.

5 Thus ſaieth the Lord God, ‖ Beholde, one euil, euen one euil is come.

b He ſheweth that the iudgements of God euer watch to deſtroy the ſinners, which notwithſtanding he delaieth till there be no more hope of reſtance.

6 An end is come, the end is come, it b watched for thee: behold, it is come.

c The beginning of his puniſhments is already come.

7 The c morning is come vnto thee, that dwelleſt in the land: the time is come, the day of trouble is neere, and not the d ſounding againe of the mountaines.

d Which was a voyce of ioy, and mirth.

8 Now I wil ſhortly powre out my wrath vpon thee, and fulfill mine anger vpon thee: I will iudge thee according to thy wayes, and will laie vpon thee all thine abominations.

e The ſcourge is in a readineſſe.

9 Neither ſhal mine eie ſpare thee, neither wil I haue pitie, but I will lay vpon thee according to thy wayes, and thine abominations ſhal be in the middes of thee, and yee ſhall know that I am the Lord that ſmiteth.

f That is, the proud tyrant Nebuchad-nezzar hath gathered his force & is ready.

10 Beholde, the day, beholde, it is come: the morning is gone forth, the e rod floriſheth: f pride hath budded.

g This cruell enemie ſhall be a ſharpe ſcourge for their wickednesſe.

11 gCrueltie is riſen vp into a rod of wickednesſe: none of them ſhall remaine, nor of their riches, nor of any of theirs, neither ſhall there bee h lamentation for them.

h Their owne affliction ſhalbe ſo great, that they ſhall haue no regard to lament for others.

12 The time is come, the day draweth neere: let not the buier reioice, nor let him that ſelleth, i For the preſent profite.

k mourne: for the wrath is vpon all the multitude thereof.

13 For hee that selleth, shall not l returne to that which is sold, although they were yet aliue: for the m vision was vnto all the multitude thereof, and they returned not, n neither doeth any encourage himselfe in the punishment of his life.

14 o They haue blowen the trumpet, and prepared all, but none goeth to the battell: for my wrath is vpon all the multitude thereof.

15 The sword is without, and the pestilence, and the famine within: he that is in the field, shal die with the sword, and hee that is in the citie, famine and pestilence shal deuoure him.

16 But they that flee away from them, shall escape, and shall be in the mountaines, like the doues of the vallies: all they shal mourne, euery one for his iniquitie.

17 *All handes shall bee weake, and all knees shall fall away as water.

18 * They shall also girde themselues with sackecloth, and feare shal couer them, and shame shalbe vpon all faces, & baldnes vpon their heads.

19 They shall cast their siluer in the streetes, and their gold shalbe cast farre off: their * siluer and their gold cannot deliuer them in the day of the wrath of the Lord: they shal not satisfie their soules, neither fil their bowels: for this ruine is for their iniquitie.

20 Hee had also set the beautie of his p ornament in maiestie: but they made images of their abominations, and of their idoles therein: therfore haue I set it farre from them.

21 And I will giue it into the handes of the q strangers to be spoiled, and to the wicked of the earth to be robbed, and they shal pollute it.

22 My face will I turne also from them, and they shal pollute my r secrete place: for the destroyers shall enter into it, and defile it.

23 ¶ Make a chaine: for the land is ful of the iudgement of blood, & the citie is ful of crueltie.

24 Wherefore I wil bring the most wicked of the heathen, and they shall possesse their houses: I will also make the pompe of the mightie to cease, and their s holy places shalbe defiled.

25 When destruction commeth, they shall seeke peace, and shal not haue it.

26 Calamitie shall come vpon calamitie, and rumour shall bee vpon rumour: then shall they seeke a vision of the Prophet: but the Lawe shall perish from the Priest, and counsell from the Ancient.

27 The King shal mourne, and the prince shall be clothed with desolation, and the hands of the people in the land shalbe troubled: I wil do vnto them according to their wayes, and according to their iudgements wil I iudge them, and they shal know that I am the Lord.

CHAP. VIII.

1 An appearance of the similitude of God. 3 Ezekiel is brought to Ierusalem in the spirit. 6 The Lord sheweth the Prophet the idolatries of the house of Israel.

AND in the a sixt yeere, in the b sixt moneth, and in the fift day of the moneth, as I sate in mine house, and the Elders of Iudah sate before me, the hand of the Lord God fel there vpon me.

2 Then I beheld, and lo, there was a likenesse, as the appearance of t fire, to looke to, from his loines downeward, & from his loines vpward, as the appearance of brightnesse, & like vnto amber.

3 And he stretched out the likenes of an hand, and tooke mee by an hairie locke of mine head, and the Spirit lift me vp betweene the earth, and the heauen, and brought me † by a Diuine d vision to Ierusalem, into the entrie of ỹ inner e gate that lieth toward the North, where remained the idole of f indignation, which prouoked indignation.

4 And behold, the glory of the God of Israel was there according to the vision, that I sawe g in the field.

5 Then said hee vnto me, Sonne of man, lift vp thine eies nowe toward the North. So I lift vp mine eies toward the North, and beholde, Northward, at the gate of the h altar, this idole of indignation was in the entrie.

6 He said furthermore vnto me, Sonne of man, seest thou not what they doe? euen the great abominations that the house of Israel committeth here to cause me to depart from i my Sanctuarie? but yet turne thee and thou shalt see greater abominations.

7 And he caused me to enter at the gate of the court: and when I looked, behold, an hole was in the wall.

8 Then said he vnto me, Sonne of man, digge now in the wall. And when I had digged in the wall, behold, there was a doore.

9 And he said vnto me, Goe in, and beholde the wicked abominations that they doe here.

10 So I went in, and sawe, and beholde, there was euery similitude of creeping things and k abominable beastes and all the idoles of the house of Israel painted vpon the wall round about.

11 And there stoode before them seuentie l men of the Ancients of the house of Israel, & in the middes of them stood Iaazaniah, the sonne of Shaphan, with euery man his censor in his hand, & the vapor of the incense went vp like m a cloud.

12 Then saide hee vnto mee, Sonne of man, hast thou seene what the Ancients of the house of Israel n do in the darke, euery one in the chamber of his imagerie ? for they say, The Lorde seeth vs not, the Lord hath forsaken the earth.

13 Againe hee said also vnto me, Turne thee againe, and thou shalt see greater abominations that they doe.

14 And he caused me to enter into the entrie of the gate of the Lords house, which was toward the North: and beholde there sate women mourning for o Tammuz.

15 Then said he vnto me, Hast thou seene this, O sonne of man? Turne thee again, and thou shalt see greater abominations then these.

16 And hee caused me to enter into the inner court of the Lordes house, and beholde, at the doore of the Temple of the Lord, betweene the porche and the altar were about fiue and twentie men with their backes toward the Temple of the Lorde, and their faces toward the East, and they worshipped the sunne, toward the East.

17 Then he said vnto me, Hast thou seene this, O sonne of man? Is it a smal thing to the house of Iudah to commit these abominations which they doe here ? for they haue filled the land with crueltie, and haue returned to prouoke me: and loe, they haue cast out p stinke before their noses.

18 Therefore will I also execute my wrath: mine

l In the yeere of the Iubile, meaning that none should enioy the priuiledge of the lawe. Leuit. 25 13. for they should all be caried away captiues.

m This vision signified, that all should be caried away, and none should returne for the Iubile.

n No man for all this, indeuoureth himselfe or taketh heart to repent for his euill life. Some reade, for none shalbe strengthened in his iniquitie of his life: meaning, that they should gaine nothing by flattering themselues in euil.

CHAP. IX.

1 The destruction of the citie. 4 They that shall be saued, are marked. 8 A complaint of the Prophet for the destruction of the people.

HEe cried also with a loud voice in mine eares, saying, The visitations of a the citie drawe neere, and euery man hath a weapon in his hand to destroy it.

a The time to take vengeance.

2 And behold, sixe b men came by the way of the hie gate, which lieth toward the c North, and euery man a weapon in his hand to destroy it: and one man among th. ē was clothed with linen, with a writers d ynkehorne by his side, and they went in and stood beside the brasen altar.

b Which were Angels in the similitude of men. c Signifying, that the Babylonians should come from the North to destroy the citie and the Temple. d To marke them that should be saued.

3 And ỹ glory of the God of Israel was e gone vp from the Cherub, wherupon he was and stood on the ‖ doore of the house, and he called to the man clothed with linen, which had the writers ynkhorne by his side.

e Which declared, that hee was not bound thereunto, neither would remaine any longer, then there was hope that they would returne frō their wickednes, and worship him aright. ‖ Or, thresholde.

4 And the Lord saide vnto him, Goe through the mids of the citie, euen through the mids of Ierusalem, and ‖ set a marke vpon the foreheads of them that f mourne, and cry for all the abominations that be done in the mids thereof.

‖ Or, marke with Thau. f Hee sheweth what is the maner of Gods children, whom he marketh to saluation: to wit, to mourne, and crie out against the wickednes which they see committed against Gods glorie.

5 And to the other he said, that I might heare, Goe ye after him through the citie, and smite: let your eye spare none, neither haue pitie.

6 Destroy vtterly the old, and the young, and the maides, and the children, and the women, but touch no man, vpon whom is the g marke, and begin at my Sanctuary. Then they began at the h ancient men, which were before the house.

g Thus in all his plagues the Lord preserueth his small number, which hee marketh, as Exod. 12.22. reuel.7.3. but the chiefe marke is the Spirit of adoption, wherwith the heart is sealed vp to life euerlasting. h VVhich were the chiefe occasion of all these euils, as Chap.8.1 &c.

7 And he said vnto them, Defile the house, & fill the courts with the slaine, then goe forth: and they went out, and slew them in the citie.

8 Nowe when they had slaine them, and I had escaped, I fel downe vpon my face, and cried, saying i Ah Lord God, wilt thou destroy all the residue of Israel, in powring out thy wrath vpon Ierusalem?

i This declareth, that the seruants of God haue a cō passion, when they see his iudgemēts executed.

9 Then said he vnto me, The iniquity of the house of Israel, and Iudah is exceeding great: so that the land is k full of blood, and the citie ful of corrupt iudgement: for they say, The Lord hath forsaken the earth, and the Lord seeth vs not.

k That is, with all kind of wickednesse, read Isa.1.15.

10 As touching me also, mine eye shall not spare them, neither wil I haue pitie, but wil recompence their wayes vpon their heads.

11 And beholde, the man clothed with linen which had the ynkhorne by his side, made report, and saide, Lorde, I haue done as thou hast commanded me.

CHAP. X.

1 Of the man that tooke hote burning coales out of the middle of the wheeles of the Cherubims. 8 A rehearsall of the vision of the wheeles, of the beasts, and of the Cherubims.

AND as I looked, beholde, in the * firmament that was aboue the head of the a Cherubims there appeared vpon thē like vnto the similitude of a throne, as it were a saphir stone.

* Chap.1.22.

a VVhich in the first Chap ver.5. he called the foure beastes.

2 And hee spake vnto the man clothed with linen, and said, Go in betweene the wheeles, euen vnder the Cherub, & fill thine hands with coales of fire from betweene the Cherubims, and scatter them ouer b the city. And he went in in my sight.

b This signified, that the citie should be burnt.

3 Now the Cherubims stood vpon the right side of the house, when the man went in, and the cloude filled the inner court.

4 Then the glory of the Lorde c went vp from the Cherub, and stood ouer the doore of the house, & the house was filled with ỹ cloud, & the court was filled with the brightnes of the Lords glory.

c Meaning, that the glory of God should depart from the Temple.

5 And the d sounde of the Cherubims winges was heard into the vtter court, as the voyce of the Almightie God, when he speaketh.

d Reade Chap.1.24

6 And when hee had commaunded the man clothed with linen, saying, Take fire frō between the wheeles, and from betweene the Cherubims, then he went in and stood beside the wheele.

7 And one Cherub stretched foorth his hand from betweene the Cherubims vnto the fire, that was betweene the Cherubims, and tooke thereof, and put it into the hands of him that was clothed with linen: who tooke it and went out.

8 And there appeared in the Cherubims, the likenesse of a mans hand vnder their wings.

9 And when I looked vp, beholde, foure wheeles were beside the Cherubims, one wheele by one Cherub, and another wheele by another Cherub, & the appearance of the wheeles was as the colour of a e Chrysolite stone.

e Reade Chap.1.16

10 And their appearance (for they were all foure of one facion) was as if one wheele had bin in another wheele.

11 When they went foorth, they went vpon their foure sides, and they returned not as they went: but to the place whither the first went, they went after it, and they f turned not as they went.

f Vntil they had executed Gods iudgements.

12 And their whole bodie, and their ‖ rings, and their hands, and their wings, and the wheeles were full of eyes rounde about, euen in the same foure wheeles.

13 And the Cherub cryed to these wheeles in mine hearing, saying, O wheele.

14 And euery beast had foure faces: the first face was the face of a Cherub, & the second face was the face of a man, and the third the face of a lyon, and the fourth the face of an Eagle.

15 And the Cherubims were lifted vp: * this is the beast that I saw at the riuer Chebar.

* Chap.1.5.

16 And when ỹ Cherubims went, the wheeles went by them: and when the Cherubims list vp their wings to mount vp from the earth, the same wheeles also turned not from beside them.

17 When the Cherubims stood, they stood: and when they were lifted vp, they lifted themselues vp also: for the g spirite of the beast was in them.

g There was one consent betweene the Cherubims and the wheeles.

18 h Then the glorie of the Lorde departed from aboue the doore of the house, and stood vpon the Cherubims.

h Reade Chap 9.3.

19 And the Cherubims lift vp their wings and mounted vp from the earth in my sight: whē they went out, the wheeles also were besides them: and euery one stoode at the entrie of the gate of the Lords House at the East side, and the glory of the God of Israel was vpon them on hie.

20 * This is the i beast that I sawe vnder the God of Israel by the riuer Chebar, and I knewe that they were the Cherubims.

* Chap.1.19.

i That is, the whole body of the foure beastes or Cherubims.

21 Euery one had foure faces, and euery one foure wings, and the likenesse of mans hands was vnder their wings.

22 And the likenesse of their faces was the self same faces, which I sawe by the riuer Chebar,

and

and the appearance of the Cherubims was the self same, and they went euery one straight forward.

CHAP. XI.

Who they were that seduced the people of Israel. 5 Against these he propheciethe, shewing them howe they shalbe dispersed abroad. 19 The renewing of the heart commeth of God. 21 He threatneth them that haue vnto their owne counsels.

MOreouer, the Spirite lift me vp, and brought me vnto the East gate of the Lordes house, which lyeth Eastward, & behold, at the entrie of the gate were fiue & twentie men: among whome I saw Iaazaniah the sonne of Azur, and Pelatiah the sonne of Benaiah, the princes of the people.

2 Then said he vnto me, Sonne of man, these are the men that imagine mischiefe, and deuise wicked counsell in this citie.

3 For they say, [a] It is not neere, let vs builde houses: this citie is the [b] caldron, and we be the flesh.

4 Therefore propheeie against them, sonne of man, prophecie.

5 And the Spirit of the Lord fel vpon me, and sayde vnto me, Speake, Thus saith the Lorde, O ye house of Israel, this haue ye said, and I know that which riseth vp of your mindes.

6 Many haue ye murthered in this citie, and ye haue filled the streetes thereof with the slaine.

7 Therefore thus saith the Lorde God, They that ye haue slaine, and haue laid in the middes of it, they are [c] the flesh, and this citie is the caldron, but I will bring you forth of the mids of it.

8 Ye haue feared the sword, and I wil bring a sword vpon you, saith the Lord God.

9 And I will bring you out of the mids thereof, and deliuer you into the [d] handes of strangers, and will execute iudgements among you.

10 Ye shal fall by the sworde, and I wil iudge you in the border of [e] Israel, & ye shal know that I am the Lord.

11 This citie shal not be your caldron, neither shal ye be the flesh in the middes thereof, but I wil iudge you in the border of Israel.

12 And ye shall know that I am the Lord: for ye haue not walked in my statutes, neither executed my iudgements, but haue done after the maners of the heathen, that are round about you.

13 ¶ And when I propheeied, Pelatiah the sonne of [f] Benaiah died: then fell I downe vpon my face, and cryed with a loude voyce, and sayd, Ah Lorde God, wilt thou then vtterly destroy all the remnant of Israel?

14 Againe the word of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

15 Sonne of man, thy [g] brethren, euen thy brethren, the men of thy kinred, and all the house of Israel, wholy are they vnto whom the inhabitants of Ierusalem haue said, Depart ye farre from the Lord: for the land is giuen vs in possession.

16 Therefore say, Thus saith the Lorde God, Although I haue cast them farre off among the heathen, and although I haue scattered them among the countreis, yet wil I be to them as a litle [h] Sanctuary in y countreis where they shal come.

17 Therefore say, Thus saith the Lord God, I will gather you againe from the people, & assemble you out of the countreyes where ye haue bin scattered, and I will giue you the land of Israel.

18 And they shal come thither, and they shall take away all the idoles thereof, and all the abominations thereof from thence.

19 * And I wil giue them one heart, and I wil put a new spirit within their bowels & I wil take the [i] stonie heart out of their bodies, and wil giue them an heart of flesh, 20 That they may walke in my statutes, and keepe my iudgements, and execute them: & they shalbe my people, and I wil be their God.

21 But vpon them, whose heart is toward their idoles, and whose affection goeth after their abominations, I will lay their way vpon their owne heads, saith the Lord God.

22 ¶ Then did the Cherubims lift vp their wings, and the wheeles besides them, & the glory of the God of Israel was vpon them on hie.

23 And the glory of the Lord went vp frō the mids of the citie, and stood vpon the mountaine which is toward the East side of the citie.

24 Afterwarde the Spirite tooke mee vp, and brought me in a vision by the Spirite of God into Caldea to them that were ledde away captiues: so the vision that I had seene, went vp from me.

25 Then I declared vnto them that were [k] led away captiues, all the thinges that the Lorde had shewed me.

CHAP. XII.

The parable of the captiuitie. 18 Another parable whereby the distresse of hunger and thirst is signified.

THe worde of the Lorde also came vnto mee, saying,

2 Sonne of man, thou dwellest in the middes of a rebellious house, which haue eyes to see, and see [a] not: they haue eares to heare, and heare not: for they are a rebellious house.

3 Therefore thou sonne of man, † prepare thy stuffe to goe into captiuitie, and goe forth by day in their sight: and thou shalt passe from thy place to another place in their sight, if it be possible that they may consider it: for they are a rebellious house.

4 Then shalt thou bring foorth thy stuffe by day in their sight as the stuffe of him that goeth into captiuitie: and thou shalt go forth at euen in their sight, as they that goe forth into captiuitie.

5 Digge thou through the wall in their sight, and cary out thereby.

6 In their sight shalt thou beare it vpon thy shoulders, & cary it forth in the darke: thou shalt couer thy face that thou see not the earth: for I haue set thee as a [b] signe vnto the house of Israel.

7 And as I was cōmanded, so I brought forth my stuffe by day, as the stuffe of one that goeth into captiuity: & by night I digged through the wall with mine hand, and brought it forth in the dark, & I bare it vpō my shoulder in their sight.

8 And in the morning came the worde of the Lord vnto me, saying,

9 Sonne of man, hath not the house of Israel, the rebellious house, said vnto thee, What [c] doest thou?

10 But say thou vnto them, Thus sayeth the Lord God, This ‖ burden concerneth the chiefe in Ierusalem, and all the house of Israel that are among them.

11 Say, I am your signe: like as I haue done, so shall it be done vnto them: they shall goe into bondage and captiuitie.

12 And the chiefest that is among them, shall beare vpon his shoulder in the darke, and shall goe a Thus the wicked derided the Prophets, as though they preached but errors, and therefore gaue themselues still to their pleasures.

b We shall not be pulled out of Ierusalem, till the houre of our death come, as the flesh is not taken out of the caldron till it be sodde.

c Contrary to their vaine confidence he sheweth in what sense this citie is the caldron: that is, because of the dead bodies that haue bene murthered therein, and so lie as flesh in the caldron.

d That is, of the Caldeans.

e That is, in Riblah, reade 2. King. 25. 6.

f It seemeth that this noble man died of some terrible death, and therefore the Prophet feared some strange iudgement of God towarde the rest of the people.

g They that remained still at Ierusalem thus reproched them that were gone into captiuitie, as though they were cast off and forsaken of God.

h They shall be yet a litle Church: shewing that the Lord will euer haue some to call vpon his Name, whome hee will preserue and restore, though they be for a time afflicted.

*Iere. 32. 39. chap. 36. 26.

i Meaning, the heart wherein nothing can enter, and regenerate them anewe, so that their heart may be soft, and ready to receiue my graces.

a That is, they receiue not the fruite of that which they see and heare.

b That as thou doest, so shall they doe, and therefore in thee they shall see their owne plague and punishment.

c Doe not they deride thy doings?

goe foorth: they shall digge through the wall, to carie out thereby: he shal couer his face, that he see not the ground with his eyes.

d When the king shall thinke to escape by fleeing, I wil take him in my net, as Chap. 17.20. and 32.3.

13 My net also will I spread vpon d him, and he shall be taken in my net, and I will bring him to Babel to the land of the Caldeans, yet shall he not see it, though he shal die there.

14 And I will scatter toward euery winde all that are about him to helpe him, and all his garisons, and I wil draw out the sword after them.

15 And they shall know that I am the Lorde, when I shall scatter them among the nations, and disperse them in the countreis.

e Which should beare his Name, and should be his Church, read Chap. 14. 16.

16 But I will leaue a e litle nomber of them from the sworde, from the famine, and from the pestilence, that they may declare all their abominations among the heathen, where they come, & they shal know, that I am the Lord.

17 ¶ Moreouer, the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

18 Sonne of man, eate thy bread w trembling, & drinke thy water w trouble, & with carefulnes, 19 And say vnto the people of the land, Thus saieth the Lorde God of the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and of the lande of Israel, They shal eate their bread with carefulnesse, & drinke their water with desolation: for the land shalbe desolate frō her abundance because of the crueltie of them that dwel therein.

20 And the cities that are inhabited, shall bee left voyd, and the land shalbe desolate, and ye shal know that I am the Lord.

21 ¶ And the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

22 Sonne of man, what is that prouerbe that you haue in the land of Israel, saying, The dayes f are prolonged and all visions ¶ faile?

f Because they did not immediately see the propecies accomplished, they contemned them as though they should neuer be fulfilled. ¶ Or, take none effect.

23 Tell them therefore, Thus saieth the Lord God, I wil make this prouerbe to cease, and they shall no more vse it as a prouerbe in Israel: but say vnto them, The dayes are at hand and the effect of euery vision.

24 For no vision shalbe any more in vaine, neither shall there bee any flattering diuination within the house of Israel.

25 For I am the Lord: I wil speake, and that thing that I shall speake, shall come to passe: it shalbe no more prolonged: for in your dayes, O rebellious house, wil I say the thing, and will performe it, saieth the Lord God.

26 Againe the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying, 27 Sonne of man, beholde, they of the house of Israel say, The vision that he seeth, is for g many dayes to come, and he prophecieth of the times that are farre off.

g That is, it shall not come to passe in our dayes, and therefore we care not for it: thus the wicked euer abuse Gods patience & benignitie.

28 Therefore say vnto them, Thus saieth the Lord God, All my wordes shal no longer be delaied, but that thing which I haue spoken, shall be done, saieth the Lord God.

CHAP. XIII.

2 The worde of the Lord against false prophets, which teach the people the counsels of their owne hearts.

AND y word of y Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, prophecie against the prophets of *Israel, that prophecie, and say thou vnto them, that prophecie out of their a owne hearts, Heare the word of the Lord.

*Chap. 14. 9.

a After their own fantasie, and not as hauing the reuelation of the Lord, Iere. 23. 16.

3 Thus saieth the Lord God, Woe vnto the foolish Prophetes that follow their owne spirite, and haue seene nothing?

4 O Israel, thy Prophets are like the foxes b in the waste places.

b Watching to destroy the vineyard.

5 c Ye haue not risen vp in the gaps, neither made vp the hedge for y house of Israel, to stand in the battel in the day of the Lord.

c He speaketh to the gouernours and true ministers that should haue resisted them.

6 They haue seene vanitie, and lying diuination, saying, The Lord saieth it, and the Lorde hath not sent them: and they haue made others to hope y they would cōfirme the word of their prophecie.

7 Haue ye not seene a vaine vision? and haue ye not spoken a lying diuination? d yee say, The Lord saieth it, albeit I haue not spoken.

d Ye promised peace to this people, and now ye see their destruction, so that it is manifest, that ye are false prophets.

8 Therefore thus saieth the Lord God, Because ye haue spoken vanitie & haue seene lies, therfore behold, I am against you, saieth the Lord God, 9 And mine hand shalbe vpon the Prophetes that see vanitie, and diuine lies: they shall not be in the assemblie of my people, neither shall they be written in the e writing of the house of Israel, neither shal they enter into the land of Israel: and ye shal know that I am the Lord God.

e That is, in the booke of life, wherein the true Israelites are written.

10 And therefore, because they haue deceiued my people, saying, f Peace, & there was no peace: and one built vp a g wall, and beholde, the others daubed it with vntempered morter, f Read Iere 6. 14.

g Whereas the true Prophets prophecied the destruction of the citie to bring the people to repentance, the false prophets spake the contrary & flattered them in their vanities, so that what one false prophet sayd, (which is here called y building of the wall) an other false prophet would affirme, though he had neither occasion nor good ground to beare him.

11 Say vnto them which daube it with vntempered morter, that it shall fall: for there shal come a great showre, and I wil send haile-stones, which shal cause it to fall, and a stormie wind shal breake it.

12 Lo, when the wall is fallen, shall it not be sayd vnto you, Where is the daubing wherewith ye haue daubed it?

13 Therefore thus saieth the Lord God, I will cause a stormie wind to breake forth in my wrath, and a great showre shalbe in mine anger, & haile-stones in mine indignation to consume it.

14 So I wil destroy the wall that ye haue daubed with vntempered morter, and bring it downe to the ground, so that the foundation thereof shalbe discouered, and it shall fall, and ye shalbe consumed in the mids thereof, and ye shal know, that I am the Lord.

h Whereby is meant whatsoeuer man of himselfe setteth forth vnder the authoritie of Gods word.

15 Thus will I accomplish my wrath vpon the wall, and vpon them that haue daubed it with h vntempered morter, and wil say vnto you, The wall is no more, neither the daubers thereof, 16 To wit, the Prophets of Israel, which prophecie vpon Ierusalem, and see visions of peace for it, and there is no peace, saith the Lord God.

i These superstitious women foreshewed prophecie and tell euery man his fortune, giuing them pillowes to leane vpon, & kerchiefs to couer their heads to the intent they might the more allure them and bewitch them.

17 Likewise thou sonne of man, set thy face against the daughters of thy people, which prophecie out of their owne heart: and prophecie thou against them, and say.

18 Thus saieth the Lord God, Woe vnto the women that sowe i pillowes vnder all arme holes, and make vailes vpon the head of euery one that standeth vp, to hunt soules: wil ye hunt the soules of my people, & wil ye giue life to the soules that come vnto you?

k Will ye make my word to lerne your bellies?

19 And wil yee pollute me among my people for handfuls of k barly, and for pieces of bread to slay the soules of them that should not dye, and l to giue life to the soules that should not liue in lying vnto my people, that heare your lies?

l These forcerers made the people beleeue that they could preserue life or destroy it, and that it should come to euery one according as they prophecied.

20 Wherefore thus saieth the Lord God, Behold, I wil haue to doe with your pillowes, wherewith

with yee hunt the [m] soules to make them to flie, and I will teare them from your armes, and will let the soules goe, euen the soules, that ye hunt to make them to flie.

21 Your vailes also will I teare, and deliuer my people out of your hand, and they shall bee no more in your hands to be hunted, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

22 Because with your lies yee haue made the heart of the [n] righteous sadde, whome I haue not made sad, and strengthened the hands of the wicked, that hee should not returne from his wicked way, by promising him life, 23 Therefore ye shal see no more vanitie, nor diuine diuinations: for I wil deliuer my people out of your hand, & ye shal know that I am the Lord.

[m] That is, to cause them to perish, and that they should depart from the body.

[n] By threatning them that were godly, and vpholding the wicked.

CHAP. XIIII.

4 The Lorde sendeth false Prophetes for the ingratitude of the people. 22 He reserueth a small portion for his Church.

THen came certaine of the Elders of Israel vnto me, and [a] sate before me.

2 And the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

3 Sonne of man, these men haue set vp their idoles in their [b] heart, and put the stumbling blocke of their iniquitie before their face: should I, being required, answere them?

4 Therefore speake vnto them, and say vnto them, Thus saieth the Lord God, Euery man of the house of Israel that setteth vp his idoles in his heart, and putteth the stumbling blocke of his iniquitie before his face, and commeth to the [c] Prophet, I the Lord will answere him that commeth, according to the multitude [d] of his idoles:

5 That [e] I may take the house of Israel in their owne heart, because they are all departed from me through their idoles.

6 Therefore say vnto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God, Returne, and withdraw your selues, and turne your faces from your idoles, and turne your faces from all your abominations.

7 For euery one of the house of Israel, or of the stranger that soiourneth in Israel, which departeth from me, and setteth vp his idoles in his heart, and putteth the stumbling blocke of his iniquitie before his face, and commeth to a Prophet, for to inquire of him for me, I the Lord will answere him ‖ for my selfe,

8 And I wil set my face against that man, and will make him an example and prouerbe, and I will cut him off from the middes of my people, & ye shal know that I am the Lord.

9 And if the Prophet be [f] deceiued, when he hath spoken a thing, I the Lorde haue deceiued that Prophet, and I wil stretch out mine hand vpon him, and will destroy him from the middes of my people of Israel.

10 And they shal beare their punishment: the punishment of the Prophet shall bee euen as the punishment of him that asketh, 11 That [g] house of Israel may go no more astray frō me, neither bee polluted any more w all their transgressions, but [g] they may bee my people, & I may be their God, saieth the Lord God.

12 ¶ The word of the Lord came againe vnto me, saying,

13 Sonne of man, when [g] land sinneth against me by committing a trespasse, then wil I stretch out mine hand vpon it, [h] & wil breake the staffe of the bread thereof, and will send famine vpon it, and I wil destroy man and beast forth of it.

14 Though these three men, [i] Noah, Daniel, and Iob were among them, they should deliuer but their owne soules by their [k] righteousnes, saith the Lord God.

15 If I bring noisome beastes into the land & they spoile it, so that it bee desolate, that no man may passe through, because of beasts, 16 Though these three men were in the mids thereof, As I liue, saieth the Lord God, they shall saue neither sonnes nor daughters: they onely shalbe deliuered, but the land shall be waste.

17 Or if I bring a sworde vpon this land, and say, Sword, go through the land, so that I destroy man and beast out of it, 18 Though these three men were in the mids thereof, As I liue, saieth the Lorde God, they shall deliuer neither sonnes nor daughters, but they onely shalbe deliuered themselues.

19 Or if I send pestilence into this land, and powre out my wrath vpon it in blood, to destroy out of it man and beast, 20 And though Noah, Daniel and Iob were in the mids of it, As I liue, saith [g] Lord God, they shal deliuer neither sonne nor daughter: they shall but deliuer their owne soules by their righteousnesse.

21 For thus saieth the Lorde God, How much more when I send my * foure sore iudgements vpon Ierusalem, euen the sworde, and famine, and the noisome beast, and pestilence, to destroy man and beast out of it?

22 Yet beholde, therein shall bee left a [l] remnant of them that shal be caried away both sonnes and daughters: behold, they shal come forth vnto you, & ye shal see their way, and their enterprises: and ye shalbe comforted, concerning the euil that I haue brought vpon Ierusalem, euen concerning all that I haue brought vpon it.

23 And they shal comfort you, when yee see their way and their enterprises: & ye shal knowe, that I haue not done without cause al that I haue done in it, saieth the Lord God.

[a] He sheweth the hypocrisie of the idolaters, who wil dissemble to heare the Prophets of God, though in their heart they follow nothing lesse then their admonitions, and also how by one meanes or other, God doeth discouer them.

[b] They are not onely idolaters in heart, but also worship their filthy idoles openly, which leade them in blindnesse, and cause them to stumble, and cast them out of Gods fauour, so that he will not heare them when they call vnto him, read Iere. 10. 15.

[c] To inquire of things which the Lord hath appointed to come to passe.

[d] As his abomination hath deserued: that is, he shall be led with lies according as he delited therein, 2. Thes. 2. 10.

[e] That is, conuince them by their owne conscience.

‖ Or, by my selfe.

[f] The Prophet declareth that God for mans ingratitude raiseth vp false Prophets to seduce them that delite in lies rather then in the truth of God, and thus he punisheth sinne by sinne, 1. King. 22. 20, 22. & destroieth aswell those Prophets as y people.

[g] Thus Gods iudgements against the wicked, are admonitions to the godly, to cleane vnto the Lord, and not to defile themselues with like abominations.

[h] Read Chap. 4. 16. & 5. 17. Isa. 3. 1.

[i] Though Noah & Iob were now aliue, which in their time were most godly men (for at this time Daniel was in captiuitie with Ezekiel) and so these three together should pray for this wicked people, yet would I not heare them, read Iere. 15. 1.

[k] Meaning, that a very few (which he calleth the remnant, vers. 22.) should escape these plagues, whom God hath sanctified and made righteous, so that this righteousnes is a signe that they are the Church of God, whom he would preserue for his owne sake.

* Chap. 5. 17.

[l] Read Chap. 5. 3.

CHAP. XV.

As the vnprofitable wood of the vine tree is cast into the fire, so Ierusalem shalbe burnt.

ANd y word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, what commeth of the vine tree aboue all other trees? and of the vine branch, which is among the [a] trees of the forest?

3 Shall wood bee taken thereof to doe any worke? or will men take a pin of it to hang any vessel thereon?

4 Behold, it is cast in the fire to be consumed: the fire consumeth both the endes of it, and the mids of it is burnt. Is it meete for any worke?

5 Behold, when it was whole, it was meete for no worke: how much lesse shall it be meete for any worke, when the fire hath consumed it, and it is burnt?

6 Therefore thus saieth the Lord God, As the vine tree, that is among the trees of the forrest, which I haue giuen to the fire to be consumed, so wil I giue the inhabitants of Ierusalem.

7 And I will set my face against them: they shal goe out from one [b] fire, and another fire shall consume them: and ye shall know, that I am the Lord,

[a] Which bringeth foorth no fruit, no more then the other trees of the forest doe: meaning, that if Ierusalem, which bare the name of his Church, did not bring forth fruite, it should be vtterly destroyed.

[b] Though they escape one danger, yet another shall take them.

Lord, when I set my face against them,

8 And when I make the land waste, because they haue greatly offended, saith the Lord God.

CHAP. XVI.

The Prophet declareth the benefites of God towarde Ierusalem. 15 Their vnkindnesse. 46 He iustifieth the wickednesse of other people in comparison of the sinnes of Ierusalem. 49 The cause of the abominations, into which the Sodomites fell. 60 Mercie is promised to the repentant.

AGaine, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, cause Ierusalem to knowe her abominations,

3 And say, Thus saith the Lord God vnto Ierusalem, Thine habitation and thy kindred is of the land [a] of Canaan: thy father was an Amorite, and thy mother an Hittite.

4 And in thy natiuitie whē thou wast [b] borne, thy nauell was not cut: thou wast not washed in water to soften thee: thou wast not salted with salt, nor swadled in cloutes.

5 None eye pitied thee to do any of these vnto thee, for to haue compassion vpon thee, but thou wast cast out in the open fielde to the contempt of thy person in the day ỹ thou wast borne.

6 And when I passed by thee, I saw thee polluted in thine [c] owne blood, and I said vnto thee, whē thou wast in thy blood, Thou shalt liue: euen when thou wast in thy blood, I sayde vnto thee, Thou shalt liue.

7 I haue caused thee to multiplie as the bud of the fielde, and thou hast encreased and waxen great, and thou hast gotten excellent ornaments: thy breastes are fashioned, thine haire is growen, whereas thou wast naked and bare.

8 Nowe when I passed by thee, and looked vpon thee, beholde, thy time was as the time of loue, and I spred my skirts ouer thee, and couered [d] thy filthines: yea, I sware vnto thee, and entred into a couenant with [e] thee, saith the Lord God, and thou becamest mine.

9 Then washed I thee with [f] water: yea, I washed away thy blood from thee, and I [g] anointed thee with oyle.

10 I clothed thee also [h] broydred worke, and shod thee with badgers skin: and I girded thee about with fine linen, & I couered thee with silke.

11 I decked thee also with ornaments, & I put bracelets vpō thine hāds, & a chaine on thy neck.

12 And I put a frontlet vpon thy face, and earerings in thine eares, and a beautifull [b] crowne vpon thine head.

13 Thus wast thou deckt with gold and siluer, and thy raiment was of fine linen, and silke, and broydred worke: thou diddest eat fine floure, and hony and oyle, and thou wast very beautifull, and thou diddest grow vp into a kingdome.

14 And thy name was spred among the heathen for thy beautie: for it was perfite through my [i] beautie which I had set vpon thee, saith the Lord God, 15 Nowe thou dideſt [k] trust in thine owne beautie, and playedst ỹ harlot, because of thy renowme, and hast powred out [l] thy fornications on euery one that passed by, thy desire was to him.

16 And thou dideſt take thy garments, & deckedst thine hie places with diuers colours, [m] and playedst the harlot thereupon: the like things

17 Thou hast also taken thy faire iewels made of my golde and of my siluer, which I had giuen thee, and [n] madest to thy selfe images of men, & diddest commit whoredome with them,

18 And tookest thy broydred garments, and coueredst them: and thou hast set mine oyle and my perfume before them.

19 My meate also, which I gaue thee, as fine floure, oyle, and honie, wherewith I fedde thee, thou hast euen set it before them for a sweete sauour: thus it was, saith the Lord God.

20 Moreouer thou hast taken thy sonnes and thy daughters, whom thou hast borne vnto mee, and these hast thou sacrificed vnto them, to [o] be deuoured: is this thy whoredome a small matter?

21 That thou hast slaine my childrē, & deliuered thē to cause them to passe through fire for thē?

22 And in all thine abominations and whoredomes thou hast not remembred the dayes of thy youth, when thou wast naked and bare, and wast polluted in thy blood.

23 And beside all thy wickednes (wo, wo vnto thee, saith the Lord God)

24 Thou hast also built vnto thee an hie place, and hast made thee an hie place in euery streete.

25 Thou hast built thine hie place at euery ‖ corner of the way, and hast made thy beautie to be abhorred: thou hast opened thy feete to euery one that passed by, & multiplied thy whoredome.

26 Thou hast also committed fornication with the [p] Egyptians thy neighbours, which haue great members, and hast encreased thy whoredome, to prouoke me.

27 Beholde, therefore I did stretch out mine hand ouer thee, and wil diminish thine ordinarie, and deliuer thee vnto the will of them that hate thee, euen to the ‖ daughters of the Philistims, which are ashamed of thy wicked way.

28 Thou hast played the whore also with the Assyrians, because thou wast insatiable: yea, thou hast played the harlot with them, and yet couldest not be satisfied.

29 Thou hast moreouer multiplied thy fornication from the lande of Canaan vnto Caldea, and yet thou wast not satisfied herewith.

30 How weake is thine heart, saith the Lord God, seeing thou doest all these things, euen the worke of a ‖ presumptuous whorish woman?

31 In that thou buildest thine hie place in the corner of euery way, and makest thine hie place in euery streete, and hast not bene as an harlot [q] that despiseth a reward,

32 But as a wife that playeth the harlot, and taketh others for her husband:

33 They giue giftes to all other whores, but thou giuest giftes vnto all thy louers, and rewardest them, that they may come vnto thee on euery side for thy fornication.

34 And the contrary is in thee from other women in thy fornications, neither the like fornication shalbe after thee: for in that thou giuest a reward, and no reward is giuen vnto thee, therefore thou art contrary.

35 Wherefore, O harlot, heare the worde of the Lord.

36 Thus saith the Lorde God, Because thy ‖ shame was powred out, and thy filthinesse discouered through thy fornications with thy louers, a Thou boastest to be of ỹ seede of Abrahā, but thou art degenerate & followest the abominations of ỹ wicked Canaanites, as children doe the maners of their fathers, Isa. 1, 4. and 57. 3.

b When I first brought thee out of Egypt, & planted thee in this lande to be my Church.

c Being thus in thy filthines and forsaken of all men, I tooke thee & gaue thee life: whereby is meant that before God wash his Church, and giue life, there is nothing but filthines and death.

d These words, as blood, pollution, nakednes, & filthines are alttimes repeated, to beate downe their pride, and to cause them to consider what they were before God receiued thē to mercy, fauoured them and couered their shame.

e That thou shouldest be a chaste wife vnto me, and that I should maintaine thē & endue thee w all graces.

f I washed away thy sinnes.

g I sanctified thee with mine holy Spirit.

h Here by he sheweth how he sued his Church, enriched it, and gaue it power and dominion to reigne.

i Hee declareth wherin the dignity of Ierusalē stood: to wit, in that that the Lord gaue thē of his beautie and excellencie.

k In abusing my giftes & in putting thy confidence in thine own wisdom and dignitie, which were the occasions of thine idolatrie.

l There was none idolatrie so vile wherewith thou diddest not pollute thy selfe.

m This declareth how the idolaters put their chiefe delight in those things, which please the eyes and outward senses, n Thou hast conuerted my vessels and instruments, which I gaue thee to serue mee with, to the vse of thine idoles.

o Meaning, by fire, reade Leuit. 18, 21. 2. King. 23. 10.

p He noteth the great impietie of this people, who first falling from God to seeke helpe at strange nations, did also at length embrace their idolatrie, thinking thereby to make their amitie more strong.

q Meaning, that some harlots contemne small rewards, but no louers gaue a reward to Israel, but they gaue to all others, signifying, that the idolaters bestow all their substance, which they receiue of God for his glorie, to serue their vile abominations.

and with all the idoles of thine abominations, and by the blood of thy children, which thou diddest offer vnto them, 37 Behold, therefore I will gather all [r] thy louers, with whom thou hast taken pleasure, and all them that thou hast loued, with al them that thou hast hated: I will euen gather them round about against thee, and wil discouer thy filthinesse vnto them, that they may see all thy filthines.

38 And I wil iudge thee after [s] maner of them that are [t] harlots, and of them that shead blood, and I wil giue thee the blood of wrath & ielousie.

39 I wil also giue thee into their handes, and they shal destroy thine hie place, and shal breake downe thine hie places: they shal strippe thee also out of thy clothes, and shal take thy faire iewels, and leaue thee naked and bare.

40 They shal also bring vp a company against thee, and they shall stone thee with stones, and thrust thee through with their swordes.

41 And they [u] shal burne vp thine houses with fire, and execute iudgementes vpon thee in the sight of many women: and I will cause thee to cease from playing the harlot, and thou shalt giue no reward any more.

42 So will I make my wrath towarde thee to rest, and my [x] ielousie shall depart from thee, and I will cease and be no more angry.

43 Because thou hast not remembred the daies of thy youth, but hast prouoked me with all these things, behold, therfore I also haue [y] brought thy way vpon thy head, saith [z] Lord God: yet hast not thou had consideration of al thine abominations.

44 Behold, all that vse prouerbes, shall vse this prouerbe against thee, saying, As is the mother, [a] so is her daughter.

45 Thou art thy mothers daughter, that hath cast off her husband and her children, and thou art the sister of thy [b] sisters, which forsooke their husbands and their children: your mother is an Hittite, and your father an Amorite.

46 And thine elder sister is Samaria, and her [c] daughters, that dwell at thy left hand, and [†] thy yong sister, that dwelleth at thy right hand, is Sodom, and her daughters.

47 Yet hast thou [a] not walked after their wayes, not done after their abominations: but as it had bene a very litle thing, thou wast corrupted more then they in all thy wayes.

48 As I liue, saith the Lord God, Sodom thy sister hath not done, neither shee nor her daughters, as thou hast done and thy daughters.

49 Behold, this was [d] iniquitie of thy sister Sodom, [b] Pride, fulnesse of bread, and aboundance of idlenes was in her, & in her daughters: neither did she strengthen the hand of the poore and needie.

50 But they were hautie, and committed abomination before mee: therefore I tooke them away, as pleased me.

51 Neither [e] hath Samaria committed halfe of thy sinnes, but thou hast exceeded them in thine abominations, and hast [d] iustified thy sisters in all thine abominations, which thou hast done.

52 Therefore thou which hast iustified thy sisters, beare thine owne shame for thy sinnes, that thou hast committed more abominable then they which are more righteous then thou art: be thou therefore confounded also, and beare thy shame, seeing that thou hast iustified thy sisters.

53 Therefore I will bring againe [e] their captiuitie with the captiuitie of Sodom, and her daughters, and with the captiuitie of Samaria, and her daughters: euen the captiuitie of thy captiues in the middes of them, 54 That thou maiest beare thine owne shame, and mayest be confounded in all that thou hast done, in that thou hast [f] comforted them.

55 And thy sister Sodom and her daughters shal returne to their former estate: Samaria also and her daughters shall returne to their former state, [g] when thou and thy daughters shall returne to your former state.

56 For thy sister Sodom † was not heard of [h] by thy report in the day of thy pride.

57 Before thy wickednes was [i] discouered, as in the same time of the reproch of the daughters of Aram, and of all the daughters of the Philistims round about [k] her which despise thee on all sides.

58 Thou hast borne therefore thy wickednesse and thine abomination, sayth the Lord.

59 For thus saith the Lord God, I might euen deale with thee, as thou hast done: when thou diddest despise the [l] othe, in breaking the couenant.

60 Neuertheless, I wil [m] remember my couenant made with thee in the daies of thy youth, & I wil confirme vnto thee an euerlasting couenant.

61 Then thou shalt remember thy wayes, and be ashamed, when thou shalt receiue [n] thy sisters, both thy elder & thy yonger, and I will giue them vnto thee for daughters, but not [o] by thy couenāt.

62 And I wil establish my couenant with thee, and thou shalt know that I am the Lord, 63 That thou mayest remember, & be [p] ashamed, & neuer open thy mouth any more: because of thy shame when I am pacified toward thee, for all that thou hast done, sayth the Lord God.

[r] Egyptians, Assyrians and Caldeans, whom thou tookest to be thy louers, shall come and destroy thee, Chap. 23.9.

[s] I wil iudge thee to death, as the adulterers and murtherers.

[t] 2. Kings 25.9.

[u] I will vtterly destroy thee, and so my ielousie shal cease.

[x] I haue punished thy faultes, but thou wouldest not repent.

[y] As were the Canaanites, and the Hittites & others your predecessours, so are you their successours.

[z] That is, of Samaria and Sodom.

[a] That is, her cities.

[d] Which worshipped the calues in Beth-el and Dan.

[e] Thou art so wicked, that in respect of thee Sodom & Samaria were iust.

[f] In that thou hast shewed thy selfe worse then they, & yet thoughtest to escape punishment.

[g] Meaning, that it should neuer come to passe.

† Ebr. was not a rumour in thy mouth.

[h] Thou wouldest not cal her punishment to minde when thou wast a loft, to learne by her example to feare my iudgements.

CHAP. XVII.

The parable of the two Egles.

AND the word of the Lorde came vnto mee, saying,

2 Sonne of man, put foorth a parable and speake a prouerbe vnto the house of Israel,

3 And say, Thus sayth the Lorde God, The great [a] egle with great wings, and long wings, and ful of fethers, which had diuers colours, came vnto Lebanon, & tooke the hiest branch of the cedar,

4 And brake off the toppe of his twigge, and caried it into the land [b] of Marchants, and set it in a citie of marchants.

5 He tooke also of the [c] seede of the lande, and planted it in a fruitfull ground: he placed it by great waters, and set it as a willow tree.

6 And it budded vp, and was [d] like a spreading vine of [e] low stature, whose branches turned toward it, and the rootes thereof were vnder it: so it became a vine, and it brought foorth branches, and shot foorth buds.

7 There was also [f] another great egle with great wings and many fethers, and beholde, this vine did turne her rootes toward it, & spred forth her branches toward it, that she might water it by the trenches of her plantation.

8 It was planted in a good soyle by great [g] waters, that it should bring forth branches, and beare

[a] That is, Nebuchad nezzar, who hath great power, riches, and many countreyes vnder him, shall come to Ierusalē and take away Ieconiah the King, as verse 12.

[b] Meaning, to Babylon.

[d] This was Zedekiahs kingdome.

[e] That it might not haue power to rebel against Babylon, as verse 14.

beare fruite, and be an excellent vine.

9 Say thou, Thus sayth the Lord God, Shall it prosper? shall [h] he not pull vp the rootes thereof, and destroy the fruite thereof, and cause them to drie? all the leaues of her bud shall wither without great power, or many people, to plucke it vp by the rootes thereof.

10 Beholde, it was planted: but shal it prosper? shall it not be dried vp, and wither? [i] when the East winde shall touch it, it shall wither in the trenches, where it grewe.

11 Moreouer, the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

12 Say now to this rebellious house, Know ye not, what these things meane? tell them, Beholde, the King of Babel is come to Ierusalem, and hath taken [k] the king thereof, and the princes thereof, and led them with him to Babel,

13 And hath taken one of the Kings seede, and made a couenant with him, & hath taken [l] an othe of him: he hath also taken the princes of the land, 14 That the kingdome might be in subiection, and not lift it selfe vp, but keepe their couenant, and stand to it.

15 But he rebelled against him, and sent his ambassadours into Egypt, that they might giue him horses, and much people: shall hee prosper? shall he escape, that doeth such things? or shall he breake the couenant, and be deliuered?

16 As I liue, saith the Lord God, he shall die in the middes of Babel, in the place of the King, that had made him King, whose othe he despised, and whose couenant made with him, he brake.

17 Neither shall Pharaoh with his mightie hoste, and great multitude of people, mainteine him in the warre, when they haue cast vp mounts, and builded ramparts to destroy many persons.

18 For he hath despised the othe, & broken the couenant (yet lo, he had giuen [m] his hand) because he hath done all these things, he shall not escape.

19 Therefore, thus sayth the Lorde God, As I liue, I wil surely bring mine othe that he hath despised, and my couenant that he hath broken vpon his owne head.

20 * And I wil spread my net vpon him, & he shalbe taken in my net, & I will bring him to Babel, and will enter into iudgement with him there for his trespasse that he hath cõmitted against me.

21 And all that flee from him with all his hoste, shall fall by the sword, and they that remaine, shalbe scattered towarde all the windes: and yee shall know that I the Lord haue spoken it.

22 Thus sayth the Lorde God, I wil also take off the top [n] of this hie cedar, and wil set it, and cut off the [o] top of the tender plant thereof, and I wil plant it vpon an hie mountaine and great.

23 Euen in the hie mountaine of Israel will I plant it: and it shall bring forth boughes & beare fruite, and be an excellent cedar, and vnder it shall remaine all birds, and euery [p] foule shall dwell in the shadow of the branches thereof.

24 And all the [q] trees of the fielde shal knowe that I the Lord haue brought downe the hie tree, and exalted the lowe tree: that I haue dried vp the greene tree, & made the drie tree to florish: I the Lord haue spoken it, and haue done it.

[h] Shall not Nebuchad-nezzar destroy it?

[i] By this drie winde, he meaneth the Babylonians.

[k] That is, Ieconiah, 2. King. 24. 15.

[m] Because hee tooke the Name of God in vaine, & brake his othe which he had confirmed by giuing his hand, therefore the Prophet declareth that God would not suffer such periurie and infidelitie to escape punishment. * Chap. 12. 13. and 32. 3.

[n] This promes is made to the Church which shalbe as a smal remnant, & as the top of a tree.

[o] I will trimme it and dresse it.

[p] Both the Iewes & Gentiles shalbe gathered into it.

[q] All the world shall know that I haue pluckt downe the proude enemies, & set vp my Church which was lowe and contemned.

CHAP. XVIII.

2 He sheweth that euery man shall beare his owne sinne. 21 To him that amendeth, is saluation promised. 24 Death is propheried to the righteous, which turneth backe from the right way.

THe worde of the Lord came vnto me againe, saying,

2 What meane yee that yee speake this prouerbe, concerning the land of Israel, saying, [a] The fathers haue eaten sowre grapes, and the childrens teeth are set on edge?

3 As I liue, saith the Lord God, yee shall vse this prouerbe no more in Israel.

4 Beholde, all soules are mine, both the soule of the father, and also the soule of the sonne are mine: the soule that sinneth, it shall die.

5 But if a man be iust, and doe that which is lawfull, and right,

6 And hath not eaten [b] vpon the mountaines, neither hath lift vp his eyes to the idols of the house of Israel, neither hath defiled his neighbours wife, neither hath † lien with a *menstruous woman,

7 Neither hath oppressed any, but hath restored the pledge to his debtour: he that hath spoyled none by violence, * but hath giuen his bread to the hungry, and hath couered the naked with a garment,

8 And hath not giuen foorth vpon * vsurie, neither hath taken any increase, but hath withdrawen his hand from iniquitie, and hath executed true iudgement betweene man and man,

9 And hath walked in my statutes, and hath kept my iudgements to deale truely, he is iust, he shall surely liue, saith the Lord God.

10 ¶ If he beget a sonne, that is ‖ a thiefe, or a sheader of blood, if he do any one of these things,

11 Though hee doe not all these things, but either hath eaten vpon the mountaines, or defiled his neighbours wife,

12 Or hath oppressed the poore and needy, or hath spoyled by violence, or hath not restored the pledge, or hath lift vp his eyes vnto the idoles, or hath committed abomination,

13 Or hath giuen forth vpon vsurie, or hath taken increase, shal he liue? he shall not liue: seeing he hath done all these abominations, [c] he shal die the death, and his blood shall be vpon him.

14 ¶ But if he beget a sonne, that seeth all his fathers sinnes, which he hath done, and feareth, neither doeth such like,

15 That hath not eaten vpon the mountaines, neither hath lift vp his eyes to the idols of the house of Israel, nor hath defiled his neighbours wife,

16 Neither hath oppressed any, nor hath withholden the pledge, neither hath spoyled by violence, but hath giuen his bread to the hungry, and hath couered the naked with a garment,

17 Neither hath withdrawen his hand from the afflicted, nor receiued vsurie nor increase, but hath executed my iudgements, and hath walked in my statutes, he shall not die in the iniquitie of his father, but he shall surely liue.

18 His father, because hee cruelly oppressed and spoyled his brother by violence, and hath not done good among his people, loe, euen he dyeth in his iniquitie.

19 Yet say ye, Wherefore shall not the sonne beare the iniquitie of the father? because the sonne hath executed iudgement & iustice, and hath kept all my statutes, & done them, he shall surely liue.

20 * The same soule that sinneth, shall die: the sonne shall not beare the iniquitie of the father, neither shall the father beare the iniquitie of the sonne, but the righteousnes of the righteous shall be vpon him, and the wickednesse of the wicked shall be vpon him selfe.

21 But if the wicked will returne from all his sinnes that he hath committed, and keepe all my d statutes, and doe that which is lawfull & right, he shall surely liue, and shall not die.

22 All his transgressions that he hath committed, they shal not be ‖ mentioned vnto him, but in his e righteousnes that he hath done, he shall liue.

23 f Haue I any desire that the wicked should die, sayth the Lord God? ‖ or shall hee not liue, if he returne from his wayes?

24 But if the righteous turne away from his righteousnes, & commit iniquitie, and doe according to all ỹ abominations, that the wicked man doeth, shall he liue? all his g righteousnes that hee hath done, shall not be mentioned: but in his transgression that he hath committed, and in his sinne that he hath sinned, in them shall he die.

25 Yet ye say, The way of the Lorde is not h equall: heare now, O house of Israel. Is not my way equall? or are not your wayes vnequall?

26 For when a righteous man turneth away from his righteousnes, and committeth iniquitie, he shall euen die for the same, he shall euen die for his iniquitie, that he hath done.

27 Againe when ỹ wicked turneth away from his wickednes ỹ he hath committed, & doeth that which is lawful & right, he shal saue his soule aliue.

28 Because he considereth, and turneth away from all his transgressions that he hath committed, he shall surely liue and not die.

29 Yet saith ỹ house of Israel, The way of the Lord is not equall. O house of Israel, are not my wayes equall? or are not your wayes vnequall?

30 Therefore I will iudge you, O house of Israel, euery one according to his wayes, sayth the Lord God: returne therefore and cause others to turne away from all your transgressions: so iniquitie shall not be your destruction.

31 Cast away from you all your transgressions, whereby ye haue transgressed, & make i you a newe heart and a new spirit: for why wil ye die, O house of Israel?

32 For I desire not the death of him that dyeth, sayth the Lord God: cause therefore one another to returne, and liue ye.

d He loyneth the obseruation of the commandements with repentance: for none can repent in deede except he labour to keepe the Lawe.
‖ Or, not layde to his charge.
e That is, in the fruites of his faith which declare that God doeth accept him.
f He speaketh this to commend Gods mercy to poore sinners, who rather is ready to pardon, then to punish, as his long suffering declareth, Chap. 33.11. Albeit God in his eternall counsell appointed the death and damnation of the reprobate, yet the end of his counsell was not their death onely, but chiefly his owne glory. And also because he doeth not approoue sinne, therefore it is here sayd that he would haue them to turne away from it that they might liue.
‖ Or, rather that he may returne from his wayes and liue.
g That is, the false opinion that the hypocrites haue of their righteousnes.
h In punishing the father with the children.
i He sheweth that man can not forsake his wickednes till his heart be changed, which is onely the worke of God.

CHAP. XIX.

1 The captiuitie of the Kings of Iudah signified by the lyons whelpes, and by the lyon. 10 The prosperitie of the citie of Ierusalem that is past, and the miserie thereof that is present.

THou also, take vp a lamentation for the a princes of Israel,

2 And say, Wherefore lay thy b mother as a lyoneesse among the lyons? shee nourished her yong ones among the lyons whelps,

3 And shee brought vp one of her whelps, and it became a lyon, and it learned to catch the praye, and it deuoured men.

4 The c nations also heard of him, and he was taken in their nets, and they brought him in chaines vnto the land of Egypt.

5 Nowe when shee sawe, that shee had waited and her hope was lost, she tooke another of her d whelps, and made him a lyon.

6 Which went among the lyons, and became a lyon, and learned to catch the praye, and he deuoured e men.

7 And he knew their widowes, & he destroyed their cities, and the land was wasted, and all that was therein by the noyse of his roaring.

8 Then the f nations set against him on euery side of the countreys, and laide their nets for him: so he was taken in their pit.

9 And they put him in prison and in chaines, and brought him to the King of Babel, and they put him in holdes, that his voyce should no more be heard vpon the mountaines of Israel.

10 Thy g mother is like a vine in thy blood, planted by the waters: she brought foorth fruite and branches by the abundant waters, 11 And she had strong rods for the scepters of them that beare rule, and her stature was exalted among the branches, and shee appeared in her height with the multitude of her branches.

12 But she was plucked vp in wrath: she was cast downe to the ground, & the h East winde dried vp her fruite: her branches were broken, & withereed: as for the rod of her strength, the fire consumed it.

13 And now she is planted in the wildernes in a drie and thirstie ground.

14 And fire is gone out i of a rod of her branches, which hath deuoured her fruite, so that she hath no strong rod to be a scepter to rule: this is a lamentation and shalbe for a lamentation.

g Hee speaketh this in the reproch of this wicked King, in whose blood, that is, in the race of his predecessours, Ierusalem should haue bene blessed, according to Gods promes, and florished as a fruitfull vine.
h Meaning, that the Caldeans should destroy them as the East winde doeth the fruite of the vine.
i Destruction is come by Zedekiah who was the occasion of this rebellion.

CHAP. XX.

3 The Lord denieth that he will answere them when they pray, because of their vnkindnes. 33 Hee promiseth that his people shall returne from captiuitie. 46 By the forest that should be burnt, is signified the burning of Ierusalem.

AND in ỹ a seuenth yere, in ỹ fift moneth, ỹ tenth day of ỹ moneth, came certaine of the elders of Israel to enquire of the Lord, & sate before me.

2 Then came the worde of the Lorde vnto me, saying,

3 Sonne of man, speake vnto the Elders of Israel, & say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Are ye come to enquire of me? as I liue, sayth the Lord God, when I am asked, I wil not answer you.

4 Wilt thou iudge them, sonne of man? wilt thou iudge them? cause b them to vnderstand the abominations of their fathers,

5 And say vnto them, Thus sayth the Lorde God, In the day when I chose Israel, and c lift vp mine hand vnto the seede of the house of Iaakob, and made my selfe knowen vnto them in the land of Egypt, when I lift vp mine hand vnto them, and sayd, I am the Lord your God,

6 In the day ỹ I lift vp mine hand vnto them to bring them forth of the land of Egypt, into a land that I had prouided for them, flowing with milke & hony, which is pleasant among all lands,

7 Then sayd I vnto them, Let euery man cast away the abominations of his eyes, d and defile not your selues with the idoles of Egypt: for I am the Lord your God.

8 But they rebelled against me, & would not heare me: for none cast away the abominations of e their eyes, neither did they forsake the idoles of Egypt: then I thought to powre out mine indignation vpon them, & to accomplish my wrath against them in the midst of the land of Egypt.

9 But I had respect to my f Name, that it should not be polluted before the heathen, among whome they were, & in whose sight I made my selfe knowen vnto them in bringing them forth of the land of Egypt.

a Of the captiuitie of Ieconiah.
b This declareth the great lenitie and patience of God which calleth sinners to repentance before hee condemne them.
c I sware that I would be their God, which maner of othe was obserued from all antiquitie, where they vsed to lift vp their hands toward the heauen, acknowledging God to be the authour of trueth, & the defender thereof, and also ỹ iudge of the heart, wishing that he should take vengeance, if they cõcealed any thing which they knew to be trueth.
d God had forbidden them to make mention of the idols, Exod. 23.13. Psal. 16.4.
e Which thing declareth ỹ wickednes of mans heart which iudge Gods seruice by their eies & outward senses.
f God had euer this respect to his glory, ỹ he would not haue his Name euil spoken of among the Gentiles for the punishment that his people deserued, in confidence whereof the godly euer prayed, as Exod. 32.12. Num. 14.13.

10 Nowe

10 Nowe I caried them out of the land of Egypt, and brought them into the wilderneſſe.

11 And I gaue them my ſtatutes, and declared my iudgements vnto them, * which if a man do, he ſhall liue in them.

12 Moreouer I gaue them alſo my * Sabbaths to be a ſigne betwene me & them, that they might knowe that I am the Lord, that ſanctifie them.

13 But the houſe of Iſrael rebelled againſt me in the wilderneſs: they walked not in my ſtatutes, and they caſt away my iudgements, which if a man doe, he ſhall liue in them, and my Sabbaths haue they greatly polluted: then I thought to powre out mine indignation vpon them * in the wilderneſſe to conſume them, 14 But I had reſpect to my Name, that it ſhoulde not bee polluted before the g heathen in whoſe ſight I brought them out.

15 Yet neuerheleſſe, I lift vp mine hand vnto them in the wilderneſſe that I woulde not bring them into the lande, which I had giuen them, flowing with milke and honie, which was pleaſant aboue all lands, 16 Becauſe they caſt away my iudgements, and walked not in my ſtatutes, but haue polluted my h Sabbaths: for their heart went after their idoles.

17 Neuertheleſſe, mine eye ſpared them, that I would not deſtroy them, neither woulde I conſume them in the wilderneſſe.

18 But I ſaid vnto their children in the wildernes, Walke ye not in the ordinances of your i fathers, neither obſerue their maners, nor defile your ſelues with their idoles.

19 I am the Lord your God: walke in my ſtatutes, and keepe my iudgements and doe them, 20 And ſanctifie my Sabbaths, and they ſhall bee a ſigne betweene mee and you, that ye may know that I am the Lord your God.

21 Notwithſtanding the children rebelled againſt me: they walked not in my ſtatutes, nor kept my iudgements to doe them, which if a man doe, hee ſhall liue in them, but they polluted my Sabbaths: then I thought to powre out mine indignation vpon them, and to accompliſh my wrath againſt them in the wilderneſſe.

22 Neuertheleſſe I withdrewe mine hand and had reſpect to my Name that it ſhoulde not bee polluted before the heathen, in whoſe ſight I brought them foorth.

23 Yet I lift vp mine hand vnto them in the wildernes, that I would ſcatter them among the heathen, and diſperſe them through the countreys, 24 Becauſe they had not executed my iudgements, but had caſt away my ſtatutes, and had polluted my Sabbaths, and their eyes were after k their fathers idoles.

25 Wherefore I l gaue them alſo ſtatutes that were not good, and iudgements, wherein they ſhould not liue.

26 And I polluted them in their owne m giftes in that they cauſed to paſſe by the fire all that firſt openeth ỹ wombe, that I might deſtroy them, to the ende that they might know that I am ỹ Lord.

27 Therefore, ſonne of man, ſpeake vnto the houſe of Iſrael, and ſay vnto them, Thus ſaith the Lord God, Yet in this your fathers haue blaſphemed me, though they had before grieuouſly tranſgreſſed againſt me.

28 n For when I had brought them into the land, for the which I lifted vp mine hand to giue it to them, then they ſaw euery hie hill, and al the thicke trees, and they offred there their ſacrifices, and there they preſented their offering of prouocation: there alſo they made their ſweete ſauour, and powred out there their drinke offrings.

29 Then I ſayde vnto them, What is the hie place whereunto ye goe? And the name thereof was called o Bamah vnto this day.

30 Wherefore, ſay vnto the houſe of Iſrael, Thus ſaith the Lord God, Are yee not polluted † after the maner of your fathers? and commit ye not whoredome after their abominations?

31 For when you offer your giftes, and make your ſonnes to paſſe through the fire, you pollute your ſelues with al your idoles vnto this day: ſhal I anſwere you when I am asked, O houſe of Iſrael? As I liue, ſaith the Lord God, p I will not anſwere you when I am asked.

32 Neither ſhall that bee done that commeth into your minde: for ye ſay, We wil be as the heathen, and as the families of the countreys, and ſerue wood, and q ſtone.

33 As I liue, ſaith the Lord God, I will ſurely rule you with a mighty hand, and with a ſtretched out arme, and in my wrath powred out,

34 And will bring you from the people, and will gather you out of the countreys, wherein ye are ſcattered, with a mightie hand, & with a ſtretched out arme, and in my wrath powred out,

35 And I wil bring you into ỹ r wildernes of the people, & there wil I plead with you face to face.

36 Like as I pleaded with your fathers in the wilderneſſe of the land of Egypt, ſo will I pleade with you, ſaith the Lord God.

37 And I wil cauſe you to paſſe vnder the rod, and wil bring you into the bond of the couenant.

38 And I wil ſ chuſe out from among you the rebels, and them that tranſgreſſe againſt mee: I will bring them oût of the land where they dwel, and they ſhall not enter into the land of Iſrael, and ye ſhall know that I am the Lord.

39 As for you, O houſe of Iſrael, thus ſaith the Lorde God, t Goe you, and ſerue euery one his idole, ſeeing that ye will not obey me, and pollute mine holy Name no more with your giftes and with your idoles.

40 For in mine holy mountaine, euen in the hie mountaine of Iſrael, ſaith the Lord God, there ſhall all the houſe of Iſrael, and all in the lande, ſerue me: there will I accept them, and there will I require your offrings and the firſt frutes of your oblations, with all your holy things.

41 I will accept your ſweete ſauour, when I bring you from the people, and gather you out of the countreys, wherin ye haue bene ſcattered, that I may be ſanctified in you before the heathen.

42 And ye ſhall knowe, that I am the Lorde, when I ſhall bring you into the land of Iſrael, into the land, for the which I lifted vp mine hand to giue it to your fathers.

43 And there ſhall ye remember your wayes, and all your works, wherein ye haue bene defiled, and ye u ſhall iudge your ſelues worthy to be cut off, for all your euils, that ye haue committed.

44 And ye ſhall knowe, that I am the Lord, when I haue reſpect vnto you for my Names ſake, and not after your wicked wayes, nor according to your corrupt workes, O yee houſe of

45 ¶ Moreouer, the worde of the Lord came vnto me, ſaying,

46 Sonne of man, Set thy face toward the way of Teman, and drop thy word towarde [x] the South, and prophecie towarde the foreſt of the fielde of the South, 47 And ſay to the foreſt of the South, Heare the word of the Lord: thus ſaith the Lord God, Beholde, I will kindle a fire in thee, and it ſhall deuoure all the [y] greene wood in thee, and all the drie wood: the continual flame ſhall not be quenched, and euery face from the South to the North ſhalbe burnt therein.

48 And all fleſh ſhal ſee, that I the Lord haue kindled it, and it ſhall not be quenched. Then ſaid I, Ah Lord God, they ſay of me, Doeth not he ſpeake [z] parables?

CHAP. XXI.

3 He threatneth the ſworde, and deſtruction to Ieruſalem. 25 He ſheweth the fall of King Zedekiah. 28 He is commaunded to prophecie the deſtruction of the children of Ammon. 30 The Lord threatneth to deſtroy Nebuchad-nezzar.

THe word of [y] Lord came to me againe, ſaying,

2 Sonne of man, ſet thy face toward Ieruſalem, [a] and drop thy word toward the holy places, and prophecie againſt the land of Iſrael,

3 And ſay to the land of Iſrael, Thus ſaith the Lord, Behold, I come againſt thee, and will draw my ſword out of his ſheath, and cut off from thee both the [b] righteous and the wicked.

4 Seeing then that I will cut off from thee both the righteous and wicked, therefore ſhal my ſworde goe out of his ſheath againſt al fleſh from the South to the [c] North,

5 That all fleſh may knowe that I the Lorde haue drawen my ſworde out of his ſheath, and it ſhall not returne any more.

6 Mourne therefore, thou ſonne of man, as in the paine of thy [d] reines, and mourne bitterly before them.

7 And if they ſay vnto thee, Wherefore mourneſt thou? then anſwere, Becauſe [e] of the bruite: for it commeth, and euery heart ſhall melt, and al handes ſhall be weake, and all mindes ſhall faint, and all knees ſhall fall away, as water: behold, it commeth, and ſhall be done, ſaith the Lord God.

8 ¶ Againe, the word of the Lord came vnto me, ſaying,

9 Sonne of man, prophecie, and ſay, Thus ſaith the Lord God, ſay, A ſworde, a ſworde both ſharpe and fourbiſhed.

10 It is ſharpened to make a ſore ſlaughter, and it is fourbiſhed that it may [f] glitter: how ſhal we reioyce? for it contemneth the [g] rod of my ſonne, as [h] all other trees.

11 And he hath giuen it to be fourbiſhed, that he may handle it: this ſword is ſharpe, & is fourbiſhed, that he may giue it into [y] hand of the [i] ſlaier.

12 Cry, and houle, ſonne of man: for this ſhall come to my people, and it ſhall come vnto al the princes of Iſrael: the terrours of the ſword ſhalbe vpon my people: [k] ſmite therefore vpō thy thigh.

13 For it is a triall, [l] and what ſhall this be, if the ſworde contemne euen the rodde? It ſhall be no more, ſaith the Lord God.

14 Thou therefore, ſonne of man, prophecie, and ſmite [m] hand to hand, and let the ſword be doubled: let the ſworde that hath killed, returne the third time: it is the ſword of the great ſlaughter entring into their priuie chambers.

15 I haue brought the feare of the ſword into all their gates to make their heart to faint, and to multiplie their ruines. Ah, it is made bright, and it is dreſſed for the ſlaughter.

16 Get thee [n] alone: goe to the right hand, or get thy ſelfe to the left hand, whitherſoeuer thy face turneth.

17 I wil alſo ſmite mine hands together, & wil cauſe my wrath to ceaſe. I the Lord haue ſaid it.

18 ¶ The word of the Lord came vnto mee againe, ſaying, 19 Alſo thou ſonne of man, appoint thee [o] two wayes, that the ſword of the King of Babel may come: both twaine ſhall come out of one lande, and chuſe a place, and chuſe it in the corner of the way of the citie.

20 Appoint a way, that the ſworde may come to Rabbath of the Ammonites, and [p] to Iudah in Ieruſalem the ſtrong citie.

21 And [y] King of Babel ſtood at the [q] parting of the way, at the head of the two wayes, conſulting by diuination, and made his arrowes bright: he conſulted with idoles, and looked in [r] the liuer.

22 At his right hand was the diuination for Ieruſalem to appoint captaines, to open their mouth in the ſlaughter, and to lift vp their voyce with ſhouting, to lay engins of warre againſt the gates, to caſt a mount, and to builde a fortreſſe.

23 And it ſhalbe vnto them [s] as a falſe diuination in their ſight for the othes made vnto them: [t] but he will call to remembrance their iniquitie, to the intent they ſhould be taken.

24 Therfore thus ſaith the Lord God, Becauſe ye haue made your iniquitie to be remembred in diſcouering your rebellion, that in all your works your ſinnes might appeare: becauſe I ſay, that ye are come to remembrance, ye ſhall be taken with the hand.

25 And thou [u] prince of Iſrael polluted, and wicked, whoſe day is come, when iniquitie ſhall haue an ende, 26 Thus ſaith the Lord God, I will take away the [x] diademe, and take off the crowne: this ſhall be no more the ſame: I wil exalt the humble, and will abaſe him that is hie.

27 I will ouerturne, ouerturne, ouerturne it, and it ſhall bee no more vntill hee [y] come, whoſe right it is, and I will giue it him.

28 ¶ And thou, ſonne of man, prophecie, & ſay, Thus ſaith Lord God to the children of Ammon, and to their blaſphemie: ſay thou, I ſay, The ſword, the ſword is drawen foorth, and fourbiſhed to the ſlaughter, to conſume, becauſe of the glittering:

29 Whiles they ſee [z] vanitie vnto thee, and prophecied a lie vnto thee to bring thee vpon the neckes of the wicked that are ſlaine, whoſe day is come, when their iniquitie ſhall haue an ende.

30 Shall I cauſe it to returne into his ſheath? I will iudge thee in the place where thou waſt created, euen in the land of thine habitation.

31 And I wil powre out mine indignation vpon thee, and will blowe againſt thee in the fire of my wrath, & deliuer thee into the hand of beaſtly men, and skilfull to deſtroy.

32 Thou ſhalt bee in the fire to be deuoured: thy blood ſhall be in the middes of the land, and thou ſhalt be no more remembred: for I the Lord haue ſpoken it.

CHAP. XXII.

1 Jerusalem is reprooued for crueltie. 25 Of the wicked doctrine of the false prophets and Priests, and of their vnsatiable couetousnesse. 27 The tyrannie of rulers. 29 The wickednesse of the people.

MOreouer, the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

2 Now thou sonne of man, wilt thou [a] iudge, wilt thou iudge this bloody citie? wilt thou shewe her all her abominations?

3 Then say, Thus sayth the Lorde God, The citie sheddeth blood in the middes of it, that her [b] time may come, and maketh idoles [c] against her selfe to pollute her selfe.

4 Thou hast offended in thy blood, that thou hast shed, & hast polluted thy selfe in thine idols, which thou hast made, and thou hast caused thy dayes to draw neere, & art come vnto thy terme: therefore haue I made thee a reproch to the heathen, and a mocking to all countreys.

5 Those that be neere, and those that be farre from thee, shall mocke thee, which art vile in [d] name and sore in affliction.

6 Beholde, the princes of Israel euery one in thee was ready to his power, to shed blood.

7 In thee haue they despised father and mother: in the middes of thee [e] haue they oppressed the stranger: in thee haue they vexed the fatherlesse and the widowe.

8 Thou hast despised mine holy things, and hast polluted my Sabbaths.

9 In thee are men that cary tales to shed blood: in thee are they that eate vpon the mountaines: in [f] mids of thee they cõmit abomination.

10 * In thee haue they discouered their fathers shame: in thee haue they vexed her that was polluted in her floures.

11 And euery one * hath committed abomination with his neighbours wife, and euery one hath wickedly defiled his daughter in lawe, and in thee hath euery man forced his owne sister, euen his fathers daughter.

12 In thee haue they taken gifts to shed blood: thou hast taken vsurie and the increase, and thou hast defrauded thy neighbours by extortion, & hast forgotten me, saith the Lord God.

13 Beholde, therefore I haue [f] smitten mine handes vpon thy couetousnesse, that thou hast vsed, and vpon the blood, which hath bene in the middes of thee.

14 Can thine heart endure, or can thine hands [g] be strong, in the dayes that I shall haue to doe with thee? I the Lorde haue spoken it, and will doe it.

15 And I wil scatter thee among the heathen, and disperse thee in the countreys, and will cause thy [h] filthines to cease from thee.

16 And thou shalt take thine [i] inheritance in thy selfe in the sight of the heathen, & thou shalt knowe that I am the Lord.

17 ¶ And the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

18 Sonne of man, the house of Israel is vnto me as [k] drosse: all they are brasse, and tinne, and yron, and leade in the mids of the fornace: they are euen the drosse of siluer.

19 Therefore, thus sayth the Lorde God, Because ye are all as drosse, beholde, therefore I will gather you in the middes of Ierusalem.

20 As they gather siluer and brasse, and yron, and leade, and tinne into the middes of the fornace, to blowe the fire vpon it to melt it, so will I gather you in mine anger and in my wrath, and wil put you there [l] and melt you.

21 I wil gather you, I say, and blowe the fire of my wrath vpon you, and you shalbe melted in the middes thereof.

22 As siluer is melted in the midst of the fornace, so shal ye be melted in the mids thereof, and ye shall knowe, that I the Lorde haue powred out my wrath vpon you.

23 And the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

24 Sonne of man, say vnto her, Thou art the land, that is vncleane, [m] and not rained vpon in the day of wrath.

25 There is a conspiracie [n] of her prophets in the mids thereof like a roaring lyon, rauening the praye: they haue deuoured soules: they haue taken the riches and precious things: they haue made her many widowes in the mids thereof.

26 Her Priestes haue broken my Lawe, and haue defiled mine holy things: they haue put no difference betweene the holy and prophane, neither discerned betweene the vncleane, and the cleane, and haue hid their [o] eyes from my Sabbaths, and I am prophaned among them.

27 Her princes in * the mids thereof are like woolues, rauening the praye to shed blood, and to destroy soules for their owne couetous lucre.

28 And her [p] prophets haue dawbed them with vntempered morter, seeing vanities, and diuining lies vnto them, saying, Thus saith the Lord God, when the Lord had not spoken.

29 The people of the land haue violently oppressed by spoyling and robbing, and haue vexed the poore and the needy: yea, they haue oppressed the stranger against right.

30 And I sought for a man among them, that should [q] make vp the hedge, and stand in the gap before me for the land, that I should not destroy it, but I found none.

31 Therefore haue I powred out mine indignation vpon them, and consumed them with the fire of my wrath: their owne wayes haue I rendred vpon their heads, sayth the Lord God.

CHAP. XXIII.

Of the idolatrie of Samaria and Ierusalem, vnder the names of Aholah and Aholibah.

THe worde of the Lord came againe vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, there were two women, the daughters of one [a] mother.

3 And they committed fornication in [b] Egypt, they committed fornication in their youth: there were their breasts pressed, and there they bruised the teates of their virginitie.

4 And [ỹ] names of [c] them were Aholah the elder, & Aholibah her sister: and they were mine, & they bare sonnes and daughters: thus were their names. Samaria is Aholah, & Ierusalem Aholibah.

5 And Aholah played the harlot † when [d] she was mine, and she was set on fire with her louers, to wit, with the Assyrians her neighbours,

6 Which were clothed with blewe silke, both captaines and princes, they were all pleasant yong men, and horsemen riding vpon horses.

a Art thou ready to execute thy charge, which I commit vnto thee against Ierusalem; that murdereth the Prophets, and them that are godly?

b That is, the time of her destruction.

c To her owne vndoing.

d Whose very name al men hate.

e Hee meaneth hereby that there was no kinde of wickednes which was not committed in Ierusalem, and therefore the plagues of God should speedily come vpon her.

* Leuit. 20.11,18.

* Iere. 5.8.

f In token of my wrath and vengeance.

g That is, able to defende thy selfe.

h I wil thus take away the occasion of thy wickednes.

i Thou shalt be no more the inheritance of the Lord, but forsaken.

k Which before was most precious.

l Meaning hereby, that the godly should be tried and the wicked destroyed.

m Thou art like a barren land which the Lord plageth with drought.

n The false prophets haue conspired together to make their doctrine more probable.

o They haue neglected my seruice.

* Mich. 3.11. Zepha. 3.3.

p They which should haue reproued them, flattered them in their vices and couered their doings with lyes, Chap. 13.10.

q Which would shew himselfe zelous in my cause by resisting vice, Isa. 59.16 and 63.5. and also pray vnto me to withholde my plagues, Psal. 106.23.

a Meaning, Israel and Iudah, which came both out of one familie.

b They became idolaters after the maner of the Egyptians.

c Aholah signifieth a mansion or dwelling in her selfe, meaning Samaria which was the royall citie of Israel: and Aholibah signifieth my mansion in her, whereby is meant Ierusalem where Gods Temple was.

† Ebr. vnder me. d When the Israelites were named the people of God, they became idolaters, and forsooke God and put their trust in the Assyrians.

7 Thus she committed her whoredome with them, euen with all them that were the chosen men of Assur, and with all on whom she doted, and defiled her selfe with all their idoles.

8 Neither left she her fornications, learned of the Egyptians: for in her youth they [e] lay with her, and they bruised the breasts of her virginitie, and powred their whoredome vpon her.

9 Wherefore I deliuered her into the handes of her louers, euen into the handes of the Assyrians, vpon whome she doted.

10 These discouered her shame: they tooke away her sonnes & her daughters, & slewe her with the sword, and she had an euill name among women: for [f] they had executed iudgement vpon her.

11 And when her sister Aholibah sawe this, she marred her selfe with inordinate loue, more then she, and with her fornications more then her sister with her fornications.

12 She doted vpon the Assyrians her neighbours, both captaines and princes clothed with diuers sutes, horsemen riding vpon horses: they were all pleasant yong men.

13 Then I sawe that she was defiled, and that they were both after one sort,

14 And that she increased her fornications: for when she sawe men [g] painted vpon the wall, the images of the Caldeans painted with vermillion,

15 And girded with girdles vpon their loynes, and with dyed attire vpon their heads (looking all like princes after the maner of the Babylonians in Caldea, the land of their natiuitie)

16 Assoone, I say, as she saw them, she doted vpon them, and sent messengers vnto them, into Caldea.

17 Nowe when the Babylonians came to her into the bed of loue, they defiled her with their fornication, and she was polluted with them, and her lust departed from them.

18 So she discouered her fornication, and discloſed her shame: then mine heart forsooke her, like as mine heart had forsaken her sister.

19 Yet she increased her whoredome more, & called to remembrance [ỹ] daies of her youth wherein she had played the harlot in the land of Egypt.

20 For she doted vpon their seruants whose members are as the members of asses, and whose yssue is like the yssue of horses.

21 Thou calledst to remembrãce the wickednes of thy youth, whẽ thy teates were bruised by [ỹ] Egyptians: therefore [ỹ] paps of thy youth are thus.

22 Therefore, O Aholibah, thus sayeth the Lorde God, Beholde, I will raise vp thy louers against thee, from whome thine heart is departed, and I wil bring them against thee on euery side, 23 To wit, the Babylonians, and all the Caldeans, [h] Peked, and Shoah, and Koa, and all the Assyrians with them: they were all pleasant yong men, captaines and princes: all they were valiant and renoumed, riding vpon horses.

24 Euen these shall come against thee [w̃] charets, waggons, and wheeles, and with a multitude of people, which shall set against thee buckler and shield, and helmet round about: and † I will leaue the punishment vnto them, and they shall iudge thee according to their ‖ iudgements.

25 And I wil lay mine indignation vpon thee, and they shall deale cruelly with thee: they shall cut off thy [i] nose and thine eares, and thy remnant shall fall by the sword: they shall cary away thy sonnes and thy daughters, and thy residue shall be deuoured by the fire.

26 They shal also strip thee out of thy clothes, and take away thy faire iewels.

27 Thus wil I make thy wickednesse to cease from thee and thy fornication out of the land of Egypt: so that thou shalt not lift vp thine eyes vnto them, nor remember Egypt any more.

28 For thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I wil deliuer thee into the hand of them, whome thou hatest: euen into the hands of them from whome thine heart is departed.

29 And they shall handle thee despitefully, and shall take away all thy [k] labour, and shall leaue thee naked and bare, and the shame of thy fornications [l] shalbe discouered, both thy wickednesse, and thy whoredome.

30 I wil doe these things vnto thee, because thou hast gone a whoring after the heathen, and because thou art polluted with their idoles.

31 Thou hast walked in the way of thy sister: therefore wil I giue her [m] cup into thine hand.

32 Thus saith [ỹ] Lord God, Thou shalt drinke of thy sisters cup, deepe and large: thou shalt be laughed to scorne and had in derision, because it containeth much.

33 Thou shalt be filled with [n] drunkennes and sorow, euen with the cup of destruction, and desolation, with the cup of thy sister Samaria.

34 Thou shalt euen drinke it, and wring it out to the dregges, and thou shalt breake the sheards thereof, and teare thine owne breastes: for I haue spoken it, sayth the Lorde God.

35 Therefore thus sayth the Lorde God, Because thou hast forgotten mee, and cast mee behinde thy backe, therefore thou shalt also beare thy wickednes and thy whoredome.

36 ¶ The Lord said moreouer vnto me, Sonne of man, wilt thou iudge Aholah & Aholibah? and wilt thou declare to them their abominations?

37 For they haue played the whores, and blood is in their hands, and with their idoles haue they committed adulterie, and haue also caused their sonnes, whome they bare vnto me, to passe by the fire to be their [o] meate.

38 Moreouer, thus haue they done vnto mee: they haue defiled my Sanctuarie in the same day, and haue prophaned my Sabbaths.

39 For when they had slaine their children to their idoles, they came the same day into my Sanctuarie to defile it: and loe, thus haue they done in the middes of mine house.

40 And howe much more is it that they sent for men to come from [p] farre vnto whom a messenger was sent, and loe, they came? for whome thou diddest wash thy selfe, and paintedst thine eyes, and deckedst thee with ornaments, 41 And satest [q] vpon a costly bed, and a table prepared before it, whereupon thou hast set mine incense and mine oyle.

42 And a voyce of a multitude being at ease, was with her: and with the men to make the company great were brought men of [r] Saba from the wildernes, which put bracelets vpon their hands, and beautifull crownes vpon their heads.

43 Then I sayd vnto her that was olde in adulteries, Now shall she and her fornications come to an end.

44 And

e The holy Ghost vseth these termes which seeme straãge to chaste eares, to cause this wicked vice of idolatrie so to be abhorred that vneth any should abide to heare the name thereof mentioned.

f Meaning, the Assyrians.

g This declareth that no wordes are able sufficiently to expresse the rage of idolaters, and therefore the holy Ghost here compareth them to those which in their raging loue and filthie lustes dote vpon the images and paintings of them after whome they lust.

h These were the names of certaine princes and captaines vnder Nebuchad-nezzar.

† Ebr. I will giue iudgement before them.

i They shall destroy thy princes and Priests with the rest of thy people.

k All thy treasures and riches which thou hast gotten by labour.

l All the worlde shall see thy shamefull forsaking of God to serue idoles.

m I wil execute the same iudgements and vengeance against thee, and that with greater seueritie.

n Meaning, that the afflictions should be so great that they should cause them to lose their senses, and reason.

o That is, to be sacrifices to their idols, reade Chap. 16. 20.

p They sent into other countreys to haue such as should teach the seruice of their idoles.

q He meaneth the altar, that was prepared for the idoles.

r Which should teach the maner of worshipping their gods.

44 And they went in vnto her as they goe to a common harlot: ſo went they to Aholah and Aholibah the wicked women.

45 And the righteous men they ſhal iudge thē, after the maner of [f] harlots, and after the maner of murtherers: for they are harlots, and blood is in their hands.

46 Wherefore thus ſaith the Lord God, I will bring a multitude vpon them, and will giue them vnto the tumult, and to the ſpoyle, 47 And the multitude ſhall ſtone them with ſtones, and cut them with their ſwordes: they ſhal ſlay their ſonnes, and their daughters, and burne vp their houſes with fire.

48 Thus will I cauſe wickednes to ceaſe out of the land, that all [t] women may be taught not to doe after your wickednesse.

49 And they ſhall lay your wickednesse vpon you, and ye ſhall beare the ſinnes of your idoles, and ye ſhal know that I am the Lord God.

CHAP. XXIIII.

He ſheweth the deſtruction of Ieruſalem by a parable of a ſeething pot. 16 The parable of Ezekiels wife being dead.

AGaine in the [a] ninth yeere, in the tenth moneth, in the tenth day of the [b] moneth, came the word of the Lord vnto me, ſaying,

2 Sonne of man, write thee the name of the day, euen of this ſame day: for the King of Babel ſet himſelfe againſt Ieruſalem this ſame day.

3 Therefore ſpeake a parable vnto the rebellious houſe, and ſay vnto them, Thus ſaith the Lord God, Prepare a [c] pot, prepare it, and alſo power water into it.

4 Gather the [d] pieces thereof into it, euen euery good piece, as the thigh and the ſhoulder, and fill it with the chiefe bones.

5 Take one of the beſt ſheepe, and ‖ burne alſo the [e] bones vnder it, and make it boyle wel, and ſeeth the bones of it therein,

6 Because the Lord God ſaith thus, Woe to the bloody citie, euen to the pot, [f] whoſe skumme is therein, & whoſe skumme is not gone out of it: bring it out piece by piece: let no lot fal vpon it.

7 For her blood is in the middes of her: ſhee ſet it vpon an high [i] rocke, and powred it not vpon the ground to couer it with duſt,

8 That it might cauſe wrath to ariſe, and take vengeance: euen I haue ſet her blood vpon an high rocke that it ſhould not be couered.

9 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God, * Woe to the bloody city, for I wil make ‖ the burning great.

10 Heape on much wood: [k] kindle the fire, conſume the fleſh, and caſt in ſpice, and let the bones be burnt.

11 Then ſet it emptie vpon the coles thereof, that ‖ the braſſe of it may be hot, and may burne, and that the filthineſſe of it may be molten in it, and that the skumme of it may be conſumed.

12 [l] She hath wearied her ſelfe with lyes, and her great skumme went not out of her: therefore her skumme ſhalbe conſumed with fire.

13 Thou remaineſt in thy filthineſſe and wickednesse: because I woulde [m] haue purged thee, and thou waſt not purged, thou ſhalt not be purged from thy filthineſſe, till I haue cauſed my wrath to light vpon thee.

14 I the Lord haue ſpoken it: it ſhall come to paſſe, and I wil doe it: I will not goe backe, neither will I ſpare, neither will I repent: according to thy wayes, & according to thy workes ſhal [n] they iudge thee, ſaith the Lord God.

15 ¶ Alſo the word of the Lorde came vnto me, ſaying, 16 Sonne of man, beholde, I take away from thee the [o] pleaſure of thine eyes with a plague: yet ſhalt thou neither mourne nor weepe, neither ſhal thy teares runne downe.

17 Ceaſe from ſighing: make no mourning for the dead, and binde the tyre of thine head vpon thee, [p] and put on thy ſhooes vpon thy feete, and couer not thy lips, & eate [q] not the bread of men.

18 So I ſpake vnto the people in the morning, and at euen my wife dyed: and I did in [r] the morning, as I was commanded.

19 And the people ſaid vnto me, Wilt thou not tel vs what theſe things meane towarde vs that thou doeſt ſo?

20 Then I anſwered them, The word of the Lorde came vnto me ſaying, 21 Speake vnto the houſe of Iſrael, Thus ſaith the Lord God, behold, I wil [ſ] pollute my Sanctuarie, euen the pride of your power, the pleaſure of your eyes, and your hearts deſire, and your ſonnes, and your daughters whom ye haue left, ſhall fall by the ſword.

22 And ye ſhal doe as I haue done: ye ſhal not couer your lips, neither ſhal ye eate [ȳ] bread of mē.

23 And your tyre ſhalbe vpon your heads, and your ſhooes vpon your feete: ye ſhal not mourne nor weepe, but ye ſhal pine away for your iniquities, and mourne one toward another.

24 Thus Ezekiel is vnto you a ſigne: according to all that he hath done, ye ſhal do: and when this commeth, ye ſhall know that I am the Lord God.

25 Alſo, thou ſonne of man, ſhall it not be in the day when I take from them their power, [ȳ] ioy of their honor, [ȳ] pleaſure of their eyes, & the [†] deſire of their heart, their ſonnes & their daughters?

26 That he that eſcapeth in that day, ſhal come vnto thee to tell thee that which he hath hearde with his eares?

27 In that day ſhall thy mouth bee opened to him which is eſcaped, and thou ſhalt ſpeake, & be no more dumme, and thou ſhalt be a ſigne vnto them, and they ſhall know that I am the Lord.

CHAP. XXVI.

1 He prophecieth that Tyrus shall be ouerthowen because it reioyced at the destruction of Ierusalem. 15 The wondring and astonishment of the marchants for the destruction of Tyrus.

AND in the [a] eleuenth yeere, in the first day of the moneth, the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, because that Tyrus hath said against Ierusalem, Aha, the [b] gate of the people is broken: it is turned vnto me: for seeing she is desolate: I shalbe [c] repleniſhed,

3 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I come against thee, O Tyrus, and I will bring vp many nations against thee, as the sea mounteth vp with his waues.

4 And they shall destroy the walles of Tyrus and breake down her towres: I will also scrape her dust from her, & make her like the top of a rocke.

5 Thou shalt be for the spreading of nettes in the mids of the sea: for I haue spoken it, saith the Lord God, and it shall be a spoyle to the nations.

6 And her [d] daughters which are in the fielde, shalbe slaine by the sworde, and they shall knowe that I am the Lord.

7 For thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will bring vpon Tyrus Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel, a King of Kings from the North, with horses and with charets, and with horsemen, with a multitude and much people.

8 He shall slay with the sworde thy daughters in the fielde, and he shal make a fort against thee, and cast a mount against thee, & lift vp the buckler against thee.

9 He shall set engins of warre before him against thy walles, and with his weapons breake downe thy towres.

10 The dust of his horses shall couer thee, for their multitude: thy walles shal shake at the noise of the horsemen, and of the wheeles, and of the charets, when he shal enter into thy gates as into the entrie of a citie that is broken downe.

11 With the hooues of his horses shal he tread downe all thy streetes: he shal slay thy people by the sword, and the [e] pillars of thy strength shal fal downe to the ground.

12 And they shall robbe thy riches, and spoyle thy marchandise, and they shal breake downe thy walles, and destroy thy pleasant houses, and they shal cast thy stones and thy timber and thy dust into the mids of the water.

13 * Thus will I cause the sound of thy songs to cease, and the sound of thine harpes shall be no more heard.

14 I wil lay thee like the top of a rocke: [f] thou shalt be for a spreading of nets: thou shalt be built no more: for I the Lord haue spoken it, saith the Lord God.

15 Thus saith the Lord God to Tyrus, Shal not the yles tremble at the sound of thy fal? and at the crie of the wounded, when they shal be slaine and murthered in the mids of thee?

16 Then all the princes of the [g] sea shal come downe frō their thrones: they shal lay away their robes, and put off their broydered garments, and shall clothe themselues with astonishment: they shal sit vpon the ground and be astonied at euery moment, and be amased at thee.

17 And they shall take vp a lamentation for thee, and say to thee, Howe art thou destroyed, that wast inhabited [h] of the sea men, the renowmed citie which was strong in the sea, both she and her inhabitants, which cause their feare to be on all that haunt therein!

18 Now shal the yles be astonished in the day of thy fall: yea, the yles that are in the sea, shall be troubled at thy departure.

19 For thus saith the Lord God, when I shall make thee a desolate citie, like the cities that are not inhabited, and when I shall bring the deepe vpon thee, and great waters shall couer thee,

20 When I shall cast thee downe with them that descend into the pit, with the people of olde time, & shal set thee in ỹ low parts of ỹ earth, like the old ruines, with them, I say, which goe downe to the pit, so that thou shalt not be inhabited, and I shall shewe my glory in the land of the [k] liuing, 21 I wil ‖ bring thee to nothing, and thou shalt be no more: though thou be sought for, yet shalt thou neuer be found againe, saith the Lord God.

CHAP. XXIX.

He prophecieth againſt Pharaoh & Egypt. 13 The Lorde promiſeth that he will reſtore Egypt after fourtie yeeres. 18 Egypt is the reward of King Nebuchad nezzar for the labour, which he tooke againſt Tyrus.

IN the [a] tenth yeere, and in the tenth moneth in the twelfth day of the moneth, the word of the Lord came vnto me, ſaying, 2 Sonne of man, ſet thy face againſt Pharaoh the king of Egypt, and prophecie againſt him, and againſt all Egypt.

3 Speake, and ſay, Thus ſaith the Lord God, Beholde, I come againſt thee, Pharaoh king of Egypt, the great [b] dragon, that lieth in the middes of his riuers, which hath ſaid, The riuer is mine, and I haue made it for my ſelfe.

4 But I wil put [c] hookes in thy chawes, and I will cauſe the fiſh of thy riuers to ſticke vnto thy ſcales, and I wil drawe thee out of the middes of thy riuers, and all the fiſh of thy riuers ſhall ſticke vnto thy ſcales.

5 And I wil leaue thee in the wildernes, both thee & al the fiſh of thy riuers: thou ſhalt fal vpō ỹ open field: thou ſhalt not be brought together, nor gathered: for I haue giuen thee for meate to the beaſts of the field, & to ỹ foules of ỹ heauen.

6 And al the inhabitants of Egypt ſhal know that I am the Lord, becauſe they haue bin a ſtaffe of [d] reede to the houſe of Iſrael.

7 When they tooke holde of thee with their hand, thou diddeſt breake, & rent al their ſhoulder: & when they leaned vpon thee, thou brakeſt and madeſt al their loynes to ‖ ſtand [e] vpright.

8 Therefore thus ſaieth the Lorde God, Behold, I wil bring a ſword vpon thee, and deſtroy man and beaſt out of thee,

9 And the land of Egypt ſhalbe deſolate, & waſte, & they ſhal know ỹ I am the Lord: becauſe he hath ſaid, [f] The riuer is mine, & I haue made it, 11 No foote of man ſhal paſſe by it, nor foote of beaſt ſhal paſſe by it, neither ſhal it be inhabited fourtie yeeres.

12 And I wil make the land of Egypt deſolate in the middes of the countries, that are deſolate, and her cities ſhall bee deſolate among the cities that are deſolate, for fourtie yeeres: and I wil ſcatter the Egyptians among the nations, and wil diſperſe them through the countries.

13 Yet thus ſaith the Lord God, * At the end of fourtie yeeres wil I gather the Egyptians from the people, where they were ſcattered, 14 And I wil bring againe the captiuitie of Egypt, and wil cauſe them to returne into the land of Pathros, into the land of their habitation, and they ſhalbe there a [g] ſmall kingdome.

e When they felt their hurt, they would ſtay no more vpon thee, but ſtoode vpon their feete, and put their truſt in others.

f Thus God can not ſuffer that man ſhould arrogate any thing to himſelfe, or put his truſt in any thing ſaue in him alone.

† Ebr. Cuſh, or Ethiopia.

* Iere. 46.26.

g Meaning that they ſhould not haue full dominion, but be vnder the Perſians, Grecians and Romans, and the cauſe is, that the Iſraelites ſhould no more put their truſt in them, but learne to depend on God.

15 It shalbe the smallest of the kingdomes, neither shall it exalt it selfe any more aboue the nations: for I will diminish them, that they shall no more rule the nations.

16 And it shall bee no more the confidence of the house of Israel, to bring their [h] iniquitie to remembrance by looking after them, so shal they know that I am the Lord God.

17 ¶ In the [i] seuen and twentieth yeere also in the first moneth, and in the first day of the moneth, came the word of the Lord vnto me, saying,

18 Sonne of man, Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel caused his armie to serue a great [k] seruice against Tyrus: euery head was made balde, and euery shoulder was made bare: yet had he no wages, [l] nor his armie for Tyrus, for the seruice that hee serued against it.

19 Therefore thus saith the Lorde God, Beholde, I will giue the land of Egypt vnto Nebuchad-nezzar the King of Babel, and he shall take her multitude, and spoyle her spoyle, and take her pray, and it shalbe the wages for his armie.

20 I haue giuen him the land of Egypt for his labour, that he serued ‖ against it, because they wrought ‖ for me, saith the Lord God.

21 In that day wil I cause ẏ horne of the house of Israel to growe, and I will giue thee an open mouth in the mids of them, and they shall knowe that I am the Lord.

CHAP. XXX.

The destruction of Egypt and the cities thereof.

THe word of the Lorde came againe vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, prophecie, and say, Thus saith the Lord God, Howle and crie, Wo be vnto this day.

3 For the day is neere, and the day of the Lord is at hand, a cloudie day, and it shal be the time of the heathen.

4 And the sword shall come vpon Egypt, and feare shal be in Ethiopia, when ẏ slaine shal fall in Egypt, when they shall take away her multitude, and when her foundations shalbe broken downe.

5 [a] Ethiopia and Phut, and Lud, and all the common people, & Cub, and the men of the land, that is in league, shal fall with them by the sword.

6 Thus saith ẏ Lord, They also that mainteine Egypt, shall fal, and the pride of her power shall come downe: from the towre of [b] Seueneh shall they fall by the sword, saith the Lord God.

7 And they shall be desolate in the mids of the countries that are desolate, and her cities shalbe in the mids of the cities that are wasted.

8 And they shall knowe that I am the Lorde, when I haue set a fire in Egypt, and when all her helpers shall be destroyed.

9 In that day shall there messengers goe forth from me in ships, to make the careless Moores afraid, and feare shall come vpon them, as in the day of Egypt: for loe, it commeth.

10 Thus saith the Lord God, I will also make the multitude of Egypt to cease by the hand of Nebuchad nezzar King of Babel.

11 For he and his people with him, euen the terrible nations shall be brought to destroy the land: and they shall drawe their swordes against Egypt, and fill the land with the slaine.

12 And I will make the riuers drye, and sel the land into the hands of the wicked, & I will make the land waste, and al that therein is by the hands of strangers: I the Lord haue spoken it.

13 Thus saith the Lord God, I will also destroy the idoles, and I will cause their idoles to cease out of ‖ Noph, and there shall be no more a prince of the land of Egypt, and I will send a feare in the land of Egypt.

14 And I will make Pathros desolate, and will set fire in ‖ Zoan, and I will execute iudgement in No.

15 And I wil powre my wrath vpon ‖ Sin, which [u] the strength of Egypt: and I will destroy the multitude of ‖ No.

16 And I will set fire in Egypt: Sin shal haue great sorowe, and No shalbe destroyed, and Noph shall haue sorowes dayly.

17 The yong men of ‖ Auen, and of ‖ Phibeseth shal fall by the sword: and these cities shall go into captiuitie.

18 At Tehaphnehes the day [c] shal restraine his light, when I shall breake there the [d] barres of Egypt: and when the pompe of her power shall cease in her, the cloude shall couer her, and her daughters shall goe into captiuitie.

19 Thus will I execute iudgements in Egypt, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

20 ¶ And in the [e] eleuenth yeere, in the first moneth, and in the seuenth day of the moneth, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

21 Sonne of man, [f] I haue broken the arme of Pharaoh King of Egypt: & lo, it shal not be bound vp to be healed, neither shall they put a roule to binde it, and so make it strong, to hold the sword.

22 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I come against Pharaoh King of Egypt, and will breake [g] his arme that was strong, but is broken, and I will cause the sworde to fall out of his hand.

23 And I wil scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and will disperse them through the countries.

24 And I wil strengthen the arme of the King of Babel, and put my sword in his hand but I will breake Pharaohs armes, and he shal cast out sighings, as the sighings of him, that is wounded before him.

25 But I wil strengthen the armes of the king of Babel, and the armes of Pharaoh shall fall downe, and they shall knowe, that I am the Lord, [h] when I shal put my sword into the hand of the King of Babel, and he shal stretch it out vpon the land of Egypt.

26 And I wil scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and disperse them among the countries, and they shall know, that I am the Lord.

CHAP. XXXI.

A comparison of the prosperitie of Pharaoh with the prosperitie of the Assyrians. 10 He propheseth a like destruction to them both.

ANd in the [a] eleuenth yere, in the third moneth and in the first day of the moneth the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, speake vnto Pharaoh King of Egypt, and to his multitude, Whom art thou [b] like in thy greatnesse?

3 Beholde, Asshur was like a cedar in Lebanon with faire branches, and with thicke shadowing boughes, and hoe vp very hie, and his toppe was among the thicke boughes.

4 The waters nourished him, and the deepe exalted

[h] Least I should by this meanes punish their sines.
[i] Counting from the captiuitie of Ieconiah.
[k] He tooke great paines at the siege of Tyrus and his armie was sore buddled.
[l] Signifying, that Nebuchad-nezzar had more paines then profite, by the taking of Tyrus.
‖ Or, in it.
‖ Or, euill against me.
[a] By Phut and Lud are meant Aphrica and Libya.
[b] Which was a strong citie of Egypt, Chap. 29.10.
‖ Or, Alexandria.
‖ Or, Heliopolis.
‖ Or, Pubastum.
[c] Meaning, that there shall be great sorow and affliction.
[d] That is, the strength and force.
[e] Of the captiuitie of Ieconiah or of Zedekiahs reigne.
[f] For Nebuchadnezzar destroyed Pharaoh Necho at Charchemish, Ierem. 46.26.
[g] His force and power.
[h] Whereby we see that tyrants haue no power of themselues, neither can doe any more harme then God appointeth, and when he will they must cease.
[a] Of Zedekiahs reigne or of Ieconiahs captiuitie.
[b] Meaning, that he was not like in strength to the King of the Assyrians, whom the Babylonians ouercame.

exalred him on hie with her riuers running round about his plants, and ſent out her c litle riuers vnto all the trees of the ‖ fielde.

c Many other nations were vnder their dominion. ‖ Or, country.

5 Therefore his height was exalted aboue all the trees of the fielde, and his boughes were multiplied, and his branches were long, becauſe of the multitude of the waters, which the deepe ſent out.

6 All the foules of the heauen made their neſtes in his boughes, and vnder his branches did all the beaſtes of the fielde bring foorth their yong, and vnder his ſhadowe dwelt all mighty nations.

7 Thus was he faire in his greatneſſe, and in the length of his branches: for his roote was neere great waters.

d Signifying, that there was no greater power in the worlde then his was.

8 The cedars in the garden d of God coulde not hide him: no firre tree was like his branches: and the cheſſenut trees were not like his boughes: all the trees in the garden of God were not like vnto him in his beautie.

9 I made him faire by the multitude of his branches: ſo that all the trees of Eden, that were in the garden of God, enuied him.

‖ Or, thou waſt lift vp.

10 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God, Becauſe ‖ he is lift vp on high, and hath ſhot vp his toppe among the thicke boughes, and his heart is lift vp in his height, e That is, of Nebuchad nezzar, who afterwarde was the monarche and onely ruler of the worlde.

11 I haue therefore deliuered him into the handes of the e mightieſt among the heathen: he ſhall handle him, for I haue caſt him away for his wickedneſſe.

f Hereby is ſignified ỹ deſtruction of the power of the Aſſyrians by the Babylonians.

12 And the ſtrangers haue deſtroyed him, euen the terrible nations, and they haue left him vpon the mountaines, and in all the valleys his branches are fallen, and his boughes are f broken by all the riuers of the land: and all the people of the earth are departed from his ſhadowe, and haue forſaken him.

13 Vpon his ruine ſhal al the foules of the heauen remaine, and all the beaſtes of the fielde ſhall be vpon his branches, g The deepe waters that cauſed him to mount ſo hie (meaning his great abundance and pompe) ſhall nowe lament as though they were couered with ſackecloth.

14 So that none of all the trees by the waters ſhalbe exalted by their height, neither ſhal ſhoote vp their toppe among the thicke boughes, neither ſhall their leaues ſtand vp in their height, which drinke ſo much water: for they are all deliuered vnto death in the nether partes of the earth in the mids of the childen of men among them that goe downe to the pit.

h To cauſe this deſtruction of the King of Aſſyria to ſeeme more horrible, he ſetteth forth other kings & princes which are dead, as though they reioyced at the fall of ſuch a tyrant.

15 Thus ſaith the Lord God, In the day when he went downe to hell, I cauſed them to mourne, and I g couered the deepe for him, and I did reſtreine ỹ floods thereof, & the great waters were ſtayed: I cauſed Lebanon to mourne for him, and all the trees of the fielde fainted.

i Meaning, that Pharaohs power was nothing ſo great as his was.

k Reade Chap. 28.10.

16 I made the nations to ſhake at the ſounde of his fall, when I caſt him downe to hell, with them that deſcend into the pit, and all the excellent trees of Eden, and the beſt of Lebanon: euen all that are nouriſhed with waters, ſhal h be comforted in the nether partes of the earth.

17 They alſo went downe to hel with him vnto them that be ſlaine with the ſword, and his arme, and they that dwelt vnder his ſhadow in the mids of the heathen.

18 To whom i art thou thus like in glory & in greatnes among the trees of Eden? yet thou ſhalt be caſt downe with the trees of Eden vnto ỹ nether partes of the earth: thou ſhalt ſleepe in ỹ mids of the vncircumciſed, with them that be ſlaine by the ſword: this is Pharaoh and al his multitude, ſaith the Lord God.

CHAP. XXXII.

2 The Prophet is commanded to bewaile Pharaoh King of Egypt.
11 He propheciеth that deſtruction ſhall come vnto Egypt through the King of Babylon.

a Which was the firſt yeere of the generall captiuitie vnder Zedekiah.

AND in the a twelfth yeere in the twelfth moneth, and in the firſt day of the moneth, the word of the Lord came vnto me, ſaying, b Thus the ſcriptures compare tyrants to cruell and huge beaſts which deuoure all that be weaker then they, and ſuch as they may ouercome.

2 Sonne of man, take vp a lamentation for Pharaoh King of Egypt, and ſay vnto him, Thou art like a b lyon of the nations and art as a ‖ dragon in the ſea: thou caſtedſt out thy riuers c and troubledſt the waters with thy feete, and ſtampedſt in the riuers.

‖ Or, whale.

c Thou prepareds great armies.

3 Thus ſaith the Lord God, * I will therefore ſpread my net ouer thee with a great multitude of people, and they ſhall make thee come vp into my net.

* Chap. 12.13. and 17.20.

4 Then will I leaue thee vpon the land, and I wil caſt thee vpon the open field, and I will cauſe all the ſoules of the heauen to remaine vpon thee, and I will fill all the beaſtes of the filde with thee.

5 And I wil lay thy fleſh vpon the mountaines, and fill the valleys d with thine height.

d With heapes of the carkaſes of thine armie.

6 I will alſo water with thy blood the lande wherein thou e ſwimmeſt, euen to the mountaines, and the riuers ſhall be full of thee.

e As Nilus ouerfloweth Egypt, ſo will I make the blood of thine hoſte to ouerflowe it.

7 And when I ſhall f put thee out, I will couer the heauen, and make the ſtarres thereof darke: * I will couer the ſunne with a cloude, and the moone ſhall not giue her light.

f The word ſignifieth to be put out as a candle, is put out.

* Iſa. 13.10. Ioel. 2.31. and 3.15. math. 24.29.

8 All the lightes of heauen will I make darke for thee, and bring g darkenes vpon thy land, ſaith the Lord God.

g By this maner of ſpeach is meant the great ſorow that ſhall be for the ſlaughter of the King and his people.

9 I wil alſo trouble the hearts of many people, when I ſhall bring thy deſtruction among the nations, and vpon the countries which thou haſt not knowen.

10 Yea, I will make many people amaſed at thee, and their Kings ſhalbe aſtoniſhed with feare for thee, when I ſhall make my ſword to glitter againſt their faces, and they ſhal be afraid at euery moment: euery man for his owne life in the day of thy fall.

11 For thus ſaith the Lord God, The ſword of the King of Babel ſhall come vpon thee.

12 By the ſwords of the mightie wil I cauſe thy multitude to fal: they all ſhall be terrible nations, and they ſhal deſtroy the h pompe of Egypt, and all the multitude thereof ſhalbe conſumed.

h This came to paſſe in leſſe then foure yeeres after this prophecie.

13 I wil deſtroy alſo the beaſtes thereof from the great waterſides, neither ſhal ỹ foote of man trouble them any more, nor the hooues of beaſt trouble them.

14 Then wil I make i their waters deepe, and cauſe their riuers to runne like oyle, ſaith the Lord God.

i To wit, of the Caldeans thine enemies, which ſhal quietly enioy all thy commodities.

15 When I ſhall make the land of Egypt deſolate, and the countrey with all that is therein, ſhal be laid waſte: when I ſhal ſmite al thē which dwel therein, then ſhal they know that I am the Lord.

16 This is the mourning wherewith they ſhal lament her: the daughters of the nations ſhall lament her: they ſhal lament for Egypt, and for all her multitude, ſaith the Lord God.

17 ¶ In the twelfth yeere alſo in the fifteenth day of the moneth, came the worde of the Lorde vnto me, ſaying, 18 Sonne of man, lament for the multitude of Egypt,

Egypt, and k caſt them downe, euen them and the daughters of the mighty nations vnto the nether partes of the earth, with them that go downe into the pit.

k That is, propheſie, that they ſhall be caſt downe: thus the Lord gineth his Prophets power both to plant and to deſtroy by his word, reade Iere. 1.10. l Haue not other kingdomes, more beautifull then thou periſhed? m That is, Egypt. n To make the matter more ſenſible, he bringeth in Pharaoh whome the dead ſhal meet in manuaile at him, reade Iſa. 14.9.

19 Whome doeſt thou paſſe l in beautie? goe downe and ſleepe with the vncircumciſed.

20 They ſhall fall in the middes of them that are ſlaine by the ſword: m ſhe is deliuered to the ſword: draw her downe, and all her multitude.

21 The moſt mighty & ſtrong ſhal ſpeake to n him out of the mids of hel with them that helpe her: they are gone downe and ſleepe with the vncircumciſed that be ſlaine by the ſword.

22 Aſſhur is there and al his companie: their graues are about him: all they are ſlaine and fallen by the ſword.

23 Whoſe graues are made in the ſide of the pit, and his multitude are round about his graue: all they are ſlaine and fallen by the ſword, which cauſed feare to be in the land of the liuing.

o Meaning, the Perſians.

24 There is o Elam and al his multitude round about his graue: al they are ſlaine & fallen by the ſword, which are gone down with the vncircumciſed into ỹ nether parts of the earth, which cauſed themſelues to be feared in the land of the p liuing, yet haue they borne their ſhame with them that are gone downe to the pit.

p Whom in this life all the world feared.

25 They haue made his bed in the mids of the ſlaine with al his multitude: their graues are round about him: al theſe vncircũciſed are ſlaine by the ſword: though they haue cauſed their feare in the land of ỹ liuing, yet haue they borne their ſhame with them that go downe to the pit: they are laid in the middes of them, that be ſlaine.

q That is, the Cappadocians and Italians, or Spaniards, as Ioſephus writeth.

26 There is q Meſhech, Tubal, & al their multitude: their graues are round about them: al theſe vncircumciſed were ſlaine by the ſword, though they cauſed their feare to be in ỹ land of ỹ liuing.

r Which died not by cruell death, but by the courſe of nature, and are honorably buried with their coate armour and ſignes of honour.

27 And they ſhal not lie ẅ the valiant r of the vncircumciſed, ỹ are fallen, which are gone down to the graue, with their weapons of war, & haue laid their ſwords vnder their heads, but their iniquitie ſhalbe vpon their bones: becauſe they were the feare of the mighty in the land of the liuing.

28 Yea, thou ſhalt be broken in the middes of the vncircumciſed, and lie with them that are ſlaine by the ſword.

29 There is Edom, his kings, and all his princes, which with their ſtrength are laied by them that were ſlaine by the ſworde: they ſhall ſleepe with the vncircumciſed, and with them that goe downe to the pit.

f The kings of Babylon.

30 There be al the princes of the f North, with al the Zidonians, which are gone downe with the ſlaine, with their feare: they are aſhamed of their ſtrength, and the vncircumciſed ſleep with them that be ſlaine by the ſword, and beare their ſhame with them that go downe to the pit.

t As the wicked reioyce when they ſee others partakers of their miſeries.

31 Pharaoh ſhal ſee thẽ, & he ſhalbe t comforted ouer al his multitude: Pharaoh, and all his army ſhal be ſlaine by the ſword, ſaith ỹ Lord God.

u I will make the Egyptians afraide of me, as they cauſed others to feare them.

32 For I haue cauſed my u feare to be in the land of the liuing: and he ſhalbe laide in the mids of the vncircumciſed with them, that are ſlaine by the ſword, euen Pharaoh and all his multitude, ſaith the Lord God.

CHAP. XXXIII.

The office of the gouernours and miniſters. 14 He ſtrengtheneth them that deſpaire, and boldneth them with the promes of mercie. 30 The words of the Lord againſt the mockers of the Prophet.

AGaine, the word of the Lord came vnto me, ſaying,

2 Sonne of man, ſpeake to the children of thy people, and ſay vnto them, When I bring the ſworde vpon a lande, if the people of the lande take a man ‖ from among them, and make him their a watchman, a He ſheweth that the people ought to haue continually gouernours and teachers which may haue a care ouer them, and to warne them euer of the dangers which are at hand.

3 If when he ſeeth the ſword come vpon the land, he blow the trumpet, & warne the people,

4 Then hee that heareth the ſounde of the trumpet, and wil not be warned, if the ſworde come, and take him away, his blood ſhal be vpon his owne head.

5 For he heard the ſound of the trumpet, and woulde not be admoniſhed: therefore his blood ſhalbe vpon him: but he that receiueth warning, ſhal ſaue his life.

6 But if the watchman ſee the ſword come, & blow not ỹ trumpet, & the people be not warned: if the ſword come, & take any perſon from amõg them, he is taken away for his b iniquitie, but his blood will I require at the watchmans hand.

b Signifying, that the wicked ſhal not eſcape puniſhment though the watchman be negligent: but if the watchman blowe the trumpet, and then he will not obey, he ſhall deſerue double puniſhment.

7 *So thou, O ſonne of man, I haue made thee a watchman vnto the houſe of Iſrael: therefore thou ſhalt heare the worde at my c mouth, and admoniſh them from me.

* Chap. 3.17.

c Which teacheth that he that receiueth not his charge at the Lords mouth, is a ſpie, and not a true watchman.

8 When I ſhall ſay vnto the wicked, O wicked man, thou ſhalt die the death, if thou doeſt not ſpeake, and admoniſh the wicked of his way, that wicked man ſhal die for his iniquitie, but his blood will I d require at thine hand.

d The watchman muſt anſwere for ỹ blood of all that periſh through his negligence.

9 Neuertheleſſe, If thou warne the wicked of his way, to turne from it, if he do not turne from his way, he ſhal die for his inquitie, but thou haſt deliuered thy ſoule.

e Thus the wicked when they heare Gods iudgements for their ſinnes, deſpaire of his mercies and murmure.

10 Therefore, O thou ſonne of man, ſpeake vnto the houſe of Iſrael, Thus ye ſpeake and ſay, If our tranſgreſſions and our ſinnes be vpon vs, ỹ and we are conſumed becauſe of them, e howe ſhould we then liue?

f Reade Chap. 18.23.

11 Say vnto them, As I liue, ſaieth the Lorde God, f I deſire not the death of the wicked, but that the wicked turne from his way and liue: turne you, turne you from your euill wayes, for why will ye die, O ye houſe of Iſrael?

g Reade of this righteouſneſſe, Chap. 18.22, 24.

12 Therefore thou ſonne of man, ſay vnto the children of thy people, The g righteouſneſſe of the righteous ſhall not deliuer him in the day of his tranſgreſſion, nor the wickedneſſe of the wicked ſhal cauſe him to fall therein, in the day that he returneth from his wickednes, neither ſhal the righteous liue for his righteouſneſſe in the day that he ſinneth.

13 When I ſhal ſay vnto the righteous, that he ſhall ſurely liue, if he truſt to his owne righteouſnes, and commit iniquitie, al his righteouſnes ſhal be no more remembred, but for his iniquitie that he hath committed, he ſhall die for the ſame.

h Hereby he condemneth all them of hypocriſie, which pretend to forſake wickednes, & yet declare not themſelues ſuch by their fruits, that is, in obeying Gods commandements and by godly life,

14 Againe when I ſhall ſay vnto the wicked, thou ſhalt die the death, if he turne from his ſin, and do that which is lawfull and h right, 15 To wit, if the wicked reſtore the pledge, and giue againe that he had robbed, and walke in the ſtatutes of life, without committing iniquity, he ſhall ſurely liue, and not die.

16 None of his ſinnes that he hath cõmitted, ſhalbe mentioned vnto him: becauſe he hath done that, that, which is lawfull, & right, he shal surely liue.

17 Yet the children of thy people say, * The way of the Lorde is not equall: but their owne way is vnequall.

18 When the righteous turneth from his righteousnesse, and committeth iniquitie, he shall euen die thereby.

19 But if the wicked returne from his wickednesse, and do that which is lawfull and right, hee shal liue thereby.

20 Yet ye say, The way of the Lorde is not equall. O ye house of Israel, I will iudge you euery one after his wayes.

21 Also in the twelfth yeere of i our captiuitie, in the tenth moneth, and in the fist day of the moneth, one that had escaped out of Ierusalem, came vnto me, and said, The citie is smitten.

22 Now the k hand of the Lord had bin vpon me in the euening afore hee that had escaped, came, and had opened my mouth vntill he came to me in the morning: and when he had opened my l mouth, I was no more dumme.

23 Againe the word of the Lorde came vnto me, and said,

24 Sonne of man, these that dwel in the desolate places of the land of Israel, talke and say, m Abraham was but one, and hee possessed the land: but we are many, therefore the land shall be giuen vs in possession.

25 Wherefore say vnto them, Thus saith the Lorde God, Yee eate with the n blood, and lift vp your eies toward your idoles, and sheade blood: should ye then possesse the lands?

26 Ye leane vpon your o swordes: yee worke abomination, and ye defile euery one his neighbours wife: should ye then possesse the land?

27 Say thus vnto them, Thus saith the Lorde God, As I liue, so surely they that are in the desolate places, shal fall by the sword: and him that is in the open field, wil I giue vnto the beasts to be deuoured: and they that be in the fortes and in the caues, shall die of the pestilence.

28 For I will lay the land desolate and waste, and the * pompe of her strength shall cease: and the mountains of Israel shalbe desolate, and none shal passe through.

29 Then shall they know that I am the Lord, when I haue laid q land desolate & waste, because of al their abominations, q they haue committed.

30 Also thou sonne of man, the children of thy people that p talke of thee by the walles & in the dores of houses, and speake one to another, euery one to his brother, saying, Come, I pray you, and heare what is the word that cõmeth from q Lord.

31 For they come vnto thee, as the people vseth to come: and my people sit before thee, and heare thy wordes, but they will not do them: for with their mouthes they make q iestes, and their heart goeth after their couetousnesse.

32 And lo, thou art vnto them, as a iesting song of one that hath a pleasant voice, & can sing wel: for they heare thy words, but they do them not.

33 And when this commeth to passe (for loe, it wil come) then shal they know, that a Prophet hath bene among them.

CHAP. XXXIIII.

Against the shepheards that despised the flocke of Christ, and seeke their owne gaines. 7 The Lord saith that he wil visite his dispersed flocke, and gather them together. 23 He promiseth the true shepheard Christ, and with him peace.

AND the word of the Lord came vnto mee, saying,

2 Sonne of man, prophecie against the shepherds of Israel, prophecie & say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God vnto the shepheards, * Wo be vnto the a shepheards of Israel, that feede themselues: should not the shepheards feed the flocks?

3 Yee eate the b fat, and yee clothe you with the wooll: ye kil them that are fed, but ye feede not the sheepe.

4 The c weake haue ye not strengthened, the sicke haue ye not healed, neither haue yee bound vp the broke, nor brought againe that which was driuen away, neither haue yee sought that which was lost, but with crueltie, and with rigour haue ye ruled them.

5 And they were scattered without a shepheard: and when they were dispersed, they were d deuoured of all the beasts of the field.

6 My sheep wandred through al the mountaines, and vpon euery hie hil: yea, my flocke was scattered through all the earth, and none did seeke or search after them.

7 Therefore ye shepherds, heare the word of the Lord.

8 As I liue, saieth the Lorde God, surely because my flocke was spoiled, and my sheepe were deuoured of all the beasts of the field, hauing no shepheard, neither did my shepheards seeke my sheepe, but the shepheards fedde themselues, and fedde not my sheepe, 9 Therefore, heare ye the word of the Lord, O ye shepheards.

10 Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I come against the shepheards, and will require my sheep at their hands, and cause them to cease from feeding the sheepe: neither shal the shepheards feed themselues any more: for I wil deliuer my sheep from e their mouthes, and they shall no more deuoure them.

11 For thus saieth the Lorde God, Behold, I wil search my sheepe, and seeke them out.

13 And I will bring them out from the people, and gather them from the countries, and will bring them to their owne land, and feede them vpon the mountaines of Israel, by the riuers, and in all the inhabited places of the countrey.

14 I wil feed them in a good pasture, and vpõ ỹ hie mountaines of Israel shal their fold be: there shal they lie in a good fold, and in fat pasture shal they feede vpon the mountaines of Israel.

a He promiseth to deliuer Israel from the Gentiles. 22 The benefites done vnto the Iewes, are to be ascribed to the mercie of God, and not vnto their deserunges. 26 God reneweth our hearties, that we may walke in his commandements.

10 And I wil multiply the men vpon you, euen all the house of Israel wholly, and the cities shalbe inhabited, and the desolate places shalbe builded.

16 ¶ Moreouer the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

17 Sonne of man, when the house of Israel dwelt in their owne land, they defiled it by their owne wayes, and by their deedes: their way was before me as the filthines of the menstruous.

18 Wherfore I powred my wrath vpon them, for the blood that they had shed in the land, and for their idoles, wherewith they had polluted it.

19 And I scattered them among the heathen, and they were dispersed through the countreis: for according to their wayes, and according to their deedes, I iudged them.

20 * And when they entred vnto the heathen, whither they went, they polluted mine holy Name, when they sayde of them, These are the people of the Lord, and are gone out of his land.

21 But I fauoured mine holy [l] Name which the house of Israel had polluted among the heathen, whither they went.

22 Therfore say vnto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God, I do not this for your sakes, O house of Israel, but for mine [m] holy Names sake which ye polluted among the heathen whither ye went.

23 And I wil sanctifie my great Name, which was polluted among the heathen, among whome you haue polluted it, and the heathen shall know that I am the Lord, sayeth the Lord God, when I shalbe sanctified in you before [n] their eyes.

24 For I will take you from among the heathen, and gather you out of all countreys, and wil bring you into your owne land.

25 Then wil I powre cleane * water vpo you, and ye shalbe cleane: yea, from all your filthines, and from all your idoles wil I cleanse you.

26 * A newe heart also will I giue you, and a newe spirit will I put within you, and I wil take away the stony heart out of your body, and I will giue you an heart of flesh.

27 And I will put my spirite within you, and cause you to walke in my statutes, and yee shall keepe my iudgements, and doe them.

28 And ye shall dwell in the land, that I gaue to your fathers, and ye shalbe my people, and I wil be your God.

29 I will also deliuer you from all your filthinesse, and I wil call for [o] corne, and wil increase it, and lay no famine vpon you.

30 For I will multiplie the fruite of the trees, and the increase of the field, that ye shal beare no more the reproch of famine among the heathen.

31 Then shal ye remember your owne wicked wayes, & your deedes that were not good, & shal iudge your selues worthy to haue bene [p] destroyed for your iniquities, and for your abominations.

32 Bee it knowen vnto you that I doe not this for your sakes, saith the Lord God: therefore, O ye house of Israel, bee ashamed, and confounded for your owne wayes.

33 Thus saith the Lorde God, What time as I shall haue cleansed you from all your iniquities, I will cause you to dwell in the cities, and the desolate places shalbe builded.

34 And the desolate land shalbe tilled, whereas it lay waste in the sight of all that passed by.

35 For they said, This waste land was like the garden of Eden, and these waste and desolate and ruinous cities were strong, and were inhabited.

36 Then the residue of the heathen that are left round about you, shall know that I the Lord builde the ruinous places, and plant the desolate places: I the Lord haue spoken it, and wil doe it.

37 Thus saith the Lord God, I wil yet for this be sought of [q] house of Israel, to performe it vnto them: I wil encrease them with men like a flocke.

38 As the holy flocke, as the flocke of Ierusalem in their solemne feastes, so shall the desolate cities be filled with flockes of men, and they shal know, that I am the Lord.

CHAP. XXXVII.

1 He prophesieth the bringing againe of the people, being in captiuitie. 16 He sheweth the vnion of the ten tribes with the two.

1 He hand of the Lorde was vpon me, & caried me out in [r] spirite of the Lord, & set me downe in [s] mids of the [t] fielde, which was full of [u] bones.

2 And hee led me round about by them, and beholde, there were very many in the open fielde, and loe, they were very drie.

3 And he sayde vnto me, [x] Sonne of man, can these bones liue? And I answered, O Lorde God, thou knowest.

4 Againe hee sayde vnto mee, Prophecie vpon these bones and say vnto them, O yee [y] bones, heare the word of the Lord.

5 Thus saith the Lord God vnto these bones, Beholde, I wil cause breath to enter into you, and ye shal liue.

6 And I will lay sinewes vpon you, and make flesh grow vpon you, and couer you with skinne, and put breath in you, that yee may liue, and yee shall know that I am the Lord.

7 So I prophecied, as I was commaunded: and as I prophecied, there was a noyse, and beholde, there was a shaking, & the bones came together, bone to his bone.

8 And when I beheld, loe, the sinewes, and the flesh grewe vpon them, and aboue, the skinne couered them, but there was no breath in them.

9 Then sayde he vnto me, Prophecie vnto the winde:

b Signifying, all parts whereas the Israelites were scattered: that is, the faithful shalbe brought to y same vnitie of spirit, and doctrine, where soeuer they are scattered through the world.

10 So I prophecied as he had commanded me: and the breath came into them, and they lued, and stood vp vpon their feete, an exceeding great armie.

11 Then he said vnto me, Sonne of man, these bones are the whole house of Israel. Behold, they say, Our bones are dried, and our hope is gone, and we are cleane cut off.

12 Therefore prophecie, and say vnto them, Thus sayth the Lord God, Beholde, my people, I will open your graues, and cause you to come vp out of your sepulchres, and bring you into the land of Israel, c That is, when I haue brought you out of those places, and townes where you are captiues.

d Which signifieth the ioyning together of y two houses of Israel, and Iudah.

17 And thou shalt ioyne them one to another into one tree, & they shalbe as one in thine hand.

18 And when the children of thy people shall speake vnto thee, saying, Wilt thou not shewe vs what thou meanest by these?

19 Thou shalt answere them, Thus sayth the Lord God, Behold, I wil take the tree e of Ioseph, which is in the hand of Ephraim, and the tribes of Israel his fellowes, and wil put them with him, euen with the tree of Iudah, and make them one tree, and they shall be one in mine hand.

e That is, the house of Israel.

20 And the pieces of wood, whereon thou writest, shalbe in thine hand, in their sight.

21 And say vnto them, Thus sayth the Lorde God, Beholde, I will take the children of Israel from among the heathen, whither they be gone, and will gather them on euery side, & bring them into their owne land.

22 And I will make them one people in the land, vpon the mountaines of Israel, * and one king shalbe king to them all: and they shall be no more two peoples, neither be diuided any more henceforth into two kingdomes.

* Iohn 10. 16.

24 And Dauid my * seruant shalbe king ouer them, and they all shall haue one shepheard: they shall also walke in my iudgements, and obserue my statutes, and doe them.

* Isa. 40. 11. Ier. 23. 5. chap. 34. 23. dan. 9. 24.

f Meaning, that the elect by Christ shall dwell in the heauenly Ierusalem, which is meant by the land of Canaan.

26 Moreouer, I will make * a couenant of peace with them: it shall be an euerlasting couenant with them, and I will place them, and multiplie them, and will set my Sanctuarie among them for euermore.

* Psal. 109. 4. and 116. 2.

27 My tabernacle also shalbe with them: yea, I wil be their God, and they shall be my people.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

1 He prophecieth that Gog and Magog shall fight with great power against the people of God. 21 Their destruction.

AND the worde of the Lorde came vnto mee, saying,

2 Sonne of man, set thy face against a Gog, and against the land of Magog, the chiefe prince of Meshech & Tubal, and prophecie against him, a Which was a people that came of Magog y sonne of Iapheth, Gen. 10. 2. Magog also here signifieth a certaine countrey, so that by these two countreys, which had the gouernment of Grecia & Italie, he meaneth the principal enemies of y Church, Rom. 20. 8.

3 And say, Thus sayth the Lord God, Behold, I come against thee, O Gog the chiefe prince of Meshech and Tubal.

4 And I wil destroy thee, & put hookes in thy chawes, and I will bring thee foorth, and all thine hoste, both horses, & horsmen, all clothed with all sortes of armour, euen a great multitude with bucklers, and shieldes, all b handling swordes.

b He sheweth that y enemies should bend themselues against the Church, but it should be to their owne destruction.

d Gomer was Iaphets sonne & Togarmah the sonne of Gomer, and are thought to be they that inhabite Asia minor.

7 Prepare thy selfe, & make thee ready, both thou, and al thy multitude, that are assembled vnto thee, and be thou their safegard.

8 After many dayes thou shalt be visited: for in the latter yeeres thou shalt come into the land, that hath bene destroyed with the sworde, and is gathered out of many people vpon the mountaines of Israel, which haue long lien waste: yet ‖ they haue bene brought out of the people, and they shall dwell all safe.

e Signifying, that all the people of the world should assemble themselues against the Church & Christ their head.

‖ Or, it is meaning, the land of Israel.

9 Thou shalt ascend and come vp like a tempest, and shalt be like a cloude to couer the land, both thou, and all thy bandes, and many people with thee.

f That is, to roote and destroy the Church.

10 Thus sayth the Lord God, Euen at y same time shall many things come into thy minde, and thou shalt thinke f euill thoughts.

g Meaning, Israel which had nowe bene destroyed & was not yet built againe: declaring hereby the simplicitie of the godly, who seeke not to much to fortifie themselues by outward force, as to depend on y prouidence and goodnesse of God.

11 And thou shalt say, I will go vp to the land that hath no walled towres: g I will goe to them that are at rest, & dwell in safetie, which dwell all without walles, & haue neither barres nor gates, h One enemie shall ennie another because euery one shal thinke to haue the spoyle of the Church.

12 Thinking to spoyle the praye, and to take a bootie, to turne thine hand vpon the desolate places that are nowe inhabited, and vpon the people, that are gathered out of the nations which haue gotten cattell and goods, and dwell in the middes of the land.

i Shalt not thou spie thine occasions to come against my Church, when they suspect nothing?

13 Sheba and Dedan, and the marchants of Tarshish with all the lyons thereof shall say vnto thee, h Art thou come to spoyle the praye? hast thou gathered thy multitude to take a booty? to cary away siluer and golde, to take away cattell and goods, and to spoyle a great praye?

14 Therefore, sonne of man, prophecie, and say vnto Gog, Thus sayeth the Lorde God, In that day when my people of Israel i dweleth safe, shalt thou not know it?

15 And come from thy place out of the North partes, thou and many people with thee? all shall ride vpon horses, euen a great multitude and a mightie armie.

16 And thou shalt come vp against my people of Israel, as a cloude to couer the land: thou shalt be in the k latter daies, & I will bring thee vpō my land, that ỹ heathen may know me, when I shall be sanctified in thee, O Gog, before their eyes.

17 Thus saith the Lord God, Art not thou he, of whome I haue spoken in olde time, m by the hand of my seruants the Prophets of Israel which prophecied in those dayes & yeeres, that I would bring thee vpon them?

18 At ỹ same time also when Gog shall come against the land of Israel, saith the Lord God, my wrath shall arise in mine anger.

19 For in mine indignation and in the fire of my wrath haue I spoken it: and at that time there shalbe a great shaking in the land of Israel, 20 So that the fishes of the sea, and the foules of the heauen, & the beasts of the field & all that moue & creepe vpon ỹ earth, & all the men ỹ are vpon the earth, shal tremble at my presence, & the mountaines shalbe ouerthrowen, and the ‖ staires shall fall, and euery wall shall fall to the ground.

21 For I will call for a sworde against him o throughout all my mountaines, saith the Lorde God: euery mans sword shalbe against his brother.

22 And I will pleade against him with pestilence, and with blood, and I will cause to raine vpon him and vpon his bands, and vpon the great people that are with him, a fore raine, and haile stones, fire, and brimstone.

CHAP. XXXIX.

1 Hee sheweth the destruction of Gog, and Magog. 11 The graues of Gog and his hoste. 17 They shalbe deuoured of birds and beastes. 23 Wherefore the house of Israel is captiue. 24 Their bringing againe from captiuitie is promised.

THerefore, thou sonne of man, prophecie against Gog, and say, Thus saieth the Lorde God, Beholde, I come against thee, O Gog, the chiefe prince of Meshech and Tubal.

2 And I wil destroy thee a and leaue but the sixt part of thee, and will cause thee to come vp from the North partes and will bring thee vpon the mountaines of Israel:

3 And I will smite thy bowe out of thy left hand, and I wil cause thine arrowes to fall out of thy right hand.

4 Thou b shalt fal vpon the mountaines of Israel, and all thy bands and the people, that is with thee: for I will giue thee vnto the birdes and to euery feathered foule and beast of the fielde to be deuoured.

5 Thou shalt fall vpon the open fielde: for I haue spoken it, saith the Lord God.

6 And I will send a fire on Magog, and among them that dwell safely in the c yles, and they shall knowe that I am the Lord.

7 So wil I make mine holy Name knowen in the middes of my people Israel, and I wil not suffer them to pollute mine holy Name any more, and the heathen shall know that I am the Lord, the holy one of Israel.

8 Beholde, it is come, & is done, saith the Lord God: this is the day whereof I haue spoken.

9 And they that dwell in the cities of Israel, shall e goe forth, and shall burne & set fire vpon the weapons, and on the shieldes, and bucklers, vpon the bowes, and vpon the arrowes, and vpon the staues of their handes, and vpon the speares, and they shall burne them with fire seuen yeeres.

10 So that they shall bring no wood out of the fields, neither cut downe any out of the forestes: for they shall burne the weapons with fire, and they shall robbe those that robbed them, and spoyle those that spoyled them, saith the Lorde God.

11 And at the same time will I giue vnto Gog f a place there for a buriall in Israel, euen the valley whereby men goe toward the East part of the sea: and it shal cause them that passe by, to stoppe their g noses, and there shall they bury Gog with all his multitude: and they shall call it, the valley of ‖ Hamon-Gog.

12 h And seuen moneths long shall the house of Israel be burying of them, that they may cleanse the land.

13 Yea, all the people of the land shall burie them, and they shall haue a name when I shall be glorified, saith the Lord God.

14 And they shall chuse out men to goe continually through the i land with them that trauile, to bury those that remaine vpon ỹ ground, and cleanse it: they shall search to the ende of seuen moneths.

15 And the trauilers that passe through the land, if any see a mans bone, then shall he set vp a signe by it, till the buriers haue buried it, in the valley of Hamon-Gog.

16 And also the name of the citie shalbe ‖ Hamonah: thus shall they cleanse the land.

17 And thou sonne of man, thus saith the Lorde God, Speake vnto euery feathered foule, and to all the beastes of the fielde, Assemble your selues, and come: k gather your selues on euery side to my sacrifice: for I do sacrifice a great sacrifice for you vpon the mountaines of Israel, that ye may eate flesh, and drinke blood.

18 Ye shall eate the flesh of the valiant, and drinke the blood of the princes of the earth, of the weathers, of the lambes, and of the goates, and of bullockes, euen of all fat beastes of Bashan.

19 And ye shall eate fat till you be full, and drinke blood, till yee be drunken of my sacrifice, which I haue sacrificed for you.

20 Thus you shall be filled at my table with horses and chariots, with valiant men, and with all men of warre, saith the Lord God.

21 And I wil set my glory among ỹ heathen, and all the heathen shall see my iudgement, that I haue executed, and mine hand, which I haue layed vpon them.

22 So the house of Israel shall knowe, that I am the Lord their God frō that day and so forth.

23 And the heathen shal know, that the house of Israel went into captiuitie for l their iniquitie, because they trespassed against me: therefore hid I my face from them, & gaue them into the hand of their enemies: so fell they all by the sword.

24 According to their vncleannes, and according to their transgressions haue I done vnto them, and hid my face from them.

25 There-

k Meaning, in the last age, and from the comming of Christ vnto the end of the world.
l Signifying, that God wil be sanctified by maintening his Church, and destroying his enemies, as Chap. 36.23. and 37.28.
m Hereby he declareth that none affliction can come to the Church, whereof they haue not bene aduertised afore time, to teach them to indure all things with more patience when they knowe that God hath so ordeined.
n All meanes whereby man should thinke to saue himselfe shall faile, the affliction in those dayes shall be so great, and the enemies destruction shalbe so terrible.
o Against the people of Gog and Magog.
* Chap. 36.23. and 38.16.

a Or, destroy thee with fiue plagues, as Chap. 38.22.

b Meaning, that by the vertue of Gods worde the enemie shalbe destroyed wheresoeuer he assaileth his Church.

c That is among all nations where the enemies of my people dwell, though they neuer so farre separate.

d That is, this plague is fully determined in my counsel & cannot be changed.
e After this destruction ỹ Church shall haue great peace and tranquilitie, and burne all their weapons, because they shall no more feare the enemie: and this is chiefly ment of the accomplishment of Christs kingdome, when by their head Christ all enemies shalbe ouercome.
f Which declareth that the enemies shall haue an horrible fall.
g For the stinke of the carkeises. ‖ Or, of the multitude of Gog.
h Meaning, a long time.

i Partly that the holy land should not be polluted, and partly for the compassion that the children of God haue, euen on their enemies.

k Whereby hee signifieth the horrible destruction that should come vpon the enemies of his Church.

l The heathē shall knowe that they ouercame not my people by their strength, neither yet by the weakenes of mine arme, but that this was for my people sinnes.

25 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Nowe will I bring againe the captiuitie of Iaakob, and haue compassion vpon the whole house of Israel, and will be iealous for mine holy Name, 26 After that they haue borne their shame, & all their transgression, whereby they haue transgressed against me, when they dwelt safely in their land, and without feare of any.

27 When I haue brought them againe from the people, and gathered them out of their enemies landes, and am * sanctified in them in the sight of many nations,

*Chap.36.23.

28 Then shall they knowe, that I am the Lord their God, which caused them to be led into captiuitie among the heathen: but I haue gathered them vnto their owne land, and haue left none of them any more there, 29 Neither will I hide my face any more from them: for I haue powred out my Spirit vpon the house of Israel, sayth the Lord God.

CHAP. XL.

The restoring of the citie and the Temple.

IN the fiue and twentieth yeere of our being in captiuitie, in the ‖ beginning of the yeere, in the tenth day of the moneth, in the fourteenth yeere after that the citie was smitten, in the selfe same day, the hand of the Lord was vpon mee, & broughte me thither.

‖ The Iewes counted the beginning of the yeere after two sortes: for their feasts they began to count in March, and for their other affaires in September: so that this is to be vnderstood of September.

2 Into the land of Israel brought hee mee by ‖ a diuine vision, & set me vpon a very hie mountaine, whereupon was as the building of a citie, ‖ or, visions of God.

3 And he brought me thither, & behold, there was a man, whose similitude was so like to brasse, with a linnen thread in his hand, and a reede to measure with: and he stoode at the gate.

a Which was an Angel in forme of a man, that came to shewe and this building.

4 And the man sayd vnto me, Sonne of man, beholde with thine eyes, and heare with thine eares, and set thine heart vpon all that I shall shew thee: for to the intent, that they might be shewed thee, art thou brought hither: declare all that thou seest, vnto the house of Israel.

5 And beholde, I saw a wall on the outside of the house round about: and in the mans hand was a reede to measure with, of sixe cubites long, by the cubite, and an hand breadth: so he measured the breadth of the building with one reede, and the height with one reede.

6 Then came he vnto the gate, which looketh toward the East, and went vp the staytes thereof, and measured the ‖ poste of the gate, which was one reede broade, and ‖ the other poste of the gate, which was one reede broade.

‖ or, threshold. ‖ or, Vpper post.

7 And euery chamber was one reede long, and one reede broade, and betweene the chambers were fiue cubites: and the poste of the gate by the porch of the gate within was one reede.

8 Hee measured also the porch of the gate within with one reede.

9 Then measured he the porch of the gate of eight cubites, and the ‖ postes thereof, of two cubites, and the porch of the gate was inward.

‖ or, posts.

12 The space also before the chambers was one cubite on this side, and the space was one cubite on that side, and the chambers were sixe cubites on this side, and sixe cubites on that side.

13 He measured then the gate from the rouse of a chamber to the top of the gate: the breadth was fiue and twentie cubites, doore against doore.

14 He made also postes of threescore cubites, and the postes of the court, and of the gate had one measure round about.

15 And vpon the forefront of the entrie of the gate vnto the forefront of the porch of the gate within were fiftie cubites.

16 And there were narrowe windowes in the chambers, & in their postes within the gate round about, and likewise to the arches: and the windowes went rounde about within: and vpon the postes were palme trees.

17 ¶ Then brought he me into the outward court, and loe, there were chambers, and a pauement made for the court round about, and thirtie chambers were vpon the pauement.

18 And the pauement was by the side of the gates ouer against the length of the gates, and the pauement was beneath.

19 Then hee measured the breadth from the forefront of the lower gate without, vnto the forefront of the court within, an hundreth cubites Eastward and Northward.

20 And the gate of the outward court, that looked toward the North, measured he after the length and breadth thereof.

21 And the chambers thereof were three on this side, and three on that side, and the postes thereof and the arches thereof were after the measure of the first gate: the length thereof was fiftie cubites, and the breadth fiue and twentie cubites.

22 And their windowes, and their arches with their palme trees, were after the measure of the gate that looketh toward the East, and the going vp vnto it had seuen steppes, and the arches thereof were before them.

23 And the gate of the inner court stood ouer against the gate toward the North, and towarde the East, and hee measured from gate to gate an hundreth cubites.

24 After that, hee brought me towarde the South, and loe, there was a gate towarde the South, and hee measured the postes thereof, and the arches thereof according to these measures.

25 And there were windowes in it, and in the arches thereof round about, like those windowes: the height was fiftie cubites, and the breadth fiue and twentie cubites.

26 And there were seuen steps to goe vp to it, and the arches thereof were before them: and it had palme trees, one on this side, and another on that side vpon the post thereof.

27 ¶ And there was a gate in the inner court toward the South, and hee measured from gate to gate toward the South an hundreth cubites.

28 And he brought me into the inner court by the South gate, and he measured the South gate according to these measures, 29 And the chambers thereof, and the postes thereof, and the arches thereof according to these measures, and there were windowes in it, and in the arches thereof round about, it was fiftie cubites long, and fiue and twentie cubites broade.

30 And the arches round about were fiue and twentie cubites long, and fiue cubites broad.

31 And the arches thereof were towarde the vtter court, and palme trees were vpon the postes thereof, and the going vp to it had eight steppes.

32 ¶ Againe hee brought mee into the inner court toward the East, and he measured the gate according to these measures.

33 And the chambers thereof, and the postes thereof, and the arches thereof were according to these measures, and there were windowes therein, and in the arches thereof round about it was fiftie cubites long, and fiue and twentie cubites broade.

34 And the arches thereof were towarde the vtter court, and palme trees were vpon the postes thereof, on this side and on that side, and the going vp to it had eight steppes.

35 ¶ After hee brought mee to the North gate, and measured it, according to these measures, 36 The chambers thereof, the postes thereof, and the arches thereof, and there were windowes therein rounde about: the height was fiftie cubites, and the breadth fiue and twentie cubites.

37 And the postes thereof were towarde the vtter court, and palme trees were vpon the postes thereof on this side, and on that side, and the going vp to it had eight steps.

38 And every chamber, and the entrie thereof was vnder the postes of the gates: there they washed the burnt offering.

39 And in the porch of the gate stoode two tables on this side, and two tables on that side, vpon the which they slew the burnt offring, and the sinne offering, and the trespasse offering.

40 And at the side beyond the steppes, at the entrie of the North gate stoode two tables, and on the other side which was at the porch of the gate were two tables.

41 Foure tables were on this side, and foure tables on that side by the side of the gate, euen eight tables whereupon they slew their sacrifice.

42 And the foure tables were of hewen stone for the burnt offering, of a cubite and an halfe long, and a cubite and an halfe broade, and one cubite hie: whereupon also they layde the instruments wherewith they slew the burnt offring and the sacrifice.

43 And within were borders an hand broade, fastened round about, and vpon the tables lay the flesh of the offring.

44 And without the inner gate were the chambers of the singers in the inner Court, which was at the side of the North gate: and their prospect was towarde the South: and one was at the side of the East gate, hauing the prospect toward the North.

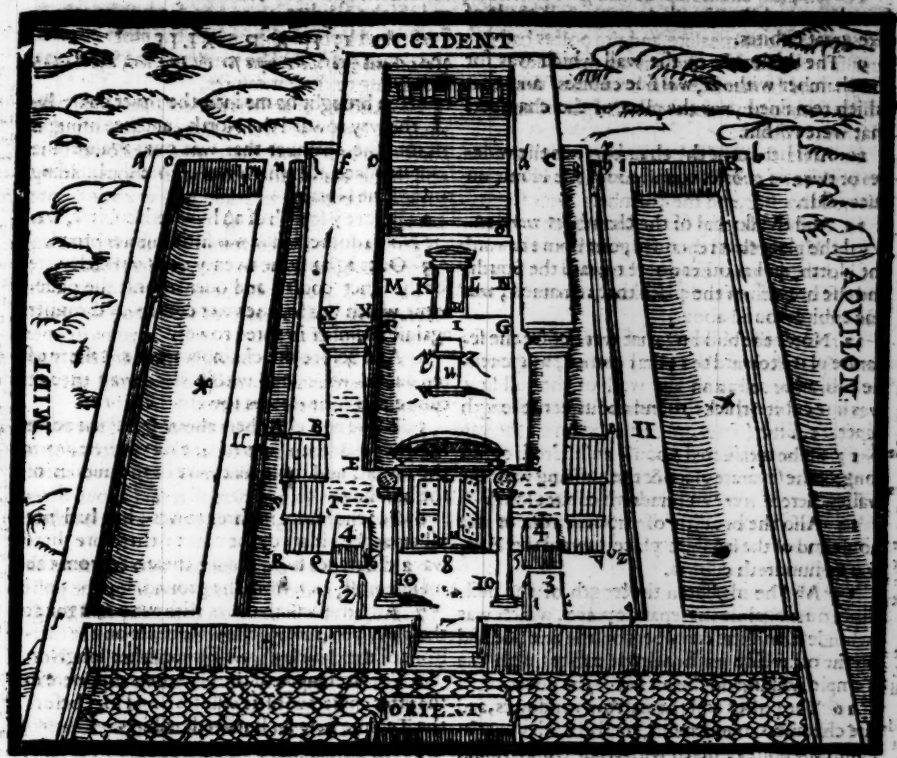
THE VISION OF THE TEMPLE.



45 And he said vnto me, This chamber whose prospect is toward the South, is for the Priestes that haue charge to keepe the house.

46 And the chamber whose prospect is toward the North, is for the Priestes that haue the charge to keepe the altar: these are the sonnes of Zadok among the sonnes of Leui which may come neere to the Lord to minister vnto him.

47 So he measured the court, an hundreth cubits long, & an hundreth cubits broad, euen foure square: likewise the altar that was before ỹ house.

48 And he brought me to the porch of the house, and measured the postes of the porch, fiue cubites on this side, and fiue cubites of that side: and the breadth of the gate was three cubites on this side, and three cubites on that side.

49 The length of the porch was twentie cubites, & the breadth eleuen cubites, & he brought me by the steps whereby they went vp to it, and there were pillars by the postes, one on this side, and another on that side.

CHAP. XLI.

1 The disposition and order of the building of the Temple and the other things thereto belonging.

AFterward, he brought mee to the Temple, and measured the postes, sixe cubites broade on the one side, and sixe cubites broad on the other side, which was the breadth of the Tabernacle.

2 And the breadth of the entrie was ten cubites, and the sides of the entrie were fiue cubites on the one side, and fiue cubites on the other side, and hee measured the length thereof fourtie cubites, and the breadth twentie cubites.

3 Then went he in, and measured the postes of the entrie two cubites, and the entrie sixe cubites, and the breadth of the entrie seuen cubites.

4 So he measured the length thereof twentie cubites, and the breadth twentie cubites before the Temple. And he sayd vnto mee, This is the most holy place.

5 After, hee measured the wall of the house, sixe cubites, and the breadth of euery chamber foure cubites round about the house, on euery side.

6 And the chambers were chamber vpon chamber, three and thirtie in order, and they entred into the wall made for the chambers which was round about the house, that the postes might be fastened therein, and not be fastened in the wall of the house.

7 And it was large and went round mounting vpward to the chambers: for the staire of the house was mounting vpwarde, round about the house: therefore the house was larger vpward: so they went vp from the lowest chamber to the hiest by the middes.

9 The thicknesse of the wall which was for the chamber without, was fiue cubites, and that which remained, was the place of the chambers that were within.

10 And betweene the chambers was the wideges of twentie cubites round about the Houſe on euery ſide.

11 And the doores of the chambers were toward the place that remained, one doore toward the North, and another doore toward the South, and the breadth of the place that remained, was fiue cubites round about.

12 Nowe the building that was before the ſeparate place toward the Weſt corner, was ſeuentie cubites broad, and the wall of the building was fiue cubites thicke, round about, & the length ninetie cubites.

13 So he meaſured ỹ houſe an hũdreth cubits long, & the ſeparate place & the building with the walles thereof were an hundreth cubites long.

14 Alſo the breadth of the forefrõt of the houſe and of the ſeparate place toward the Eaſt, was an hundreth cubites.

21 The poſtes of the Temple were ſquared, & thus to looke vnto was the ſimilitude and forme of the Sanctuarie.

22 The altar of wood was three cubites hie, and the length thereof two cubites, and the corners thereof and the length thereof and the ſides thereof were of wood. And he ſayd vnto me, This is the table that ſhalbe before the Lord.

23 And the Temple and the Sanctuarie had two doores.

24 And the doores had two wickets, euen two turning wickets, two wickets for one doore, and two wickets for another doore.

25 And vpon the doores of the Temple there were made Cherubims and palme trees, like as was made vpon the walles, and there were thicke plankes vpon the forefront of the porch without.

26 And there were narow windowes & palme trees on the one ſide, and on the other ſide, by the ſides of the porch, & vpon the ſides of the houſe, and thicke plankes.

CHAP. XLII.

Of the chambers of the Temple for the Preeſtes, and the holy ordinaces.

THen brought he me into the inner court by the way toward the North, and hee brought me into the chamber that was ouer againſt the ſeparate place, & which was before the building toward the North.

2 Before ỹ length of an hundreth cubites, was the North doore, and it was fiftie cubites broad.

3 Ouer againſt the twenty cubites which were for the inner court, and ouer againſt the pauement, which was for the vtter court, was chamber againſt chamber in three rowes.

4 And before the chambers was a gallery of ten cubites wide, and within was a way of one cubite, and their doores toward the North.

5 Nowe the chambers aboue were narrower: for thoſe chambers ſeemed to eate vp theſe, to wit the lower, and thoſe that were in the middes of the building.

6 For they were in three rowes, but had not pillars as the pillars of the court: therefore there was a difference from them beneath & from the middemoſt, euen from the ground.

7 And the wall that was without ouer againſt the chambers, toward the vtter court on the forefront of the chambers, was fiftie cubites long.

8 For the length of the chambers that were in the vtter court, was fiftie cubites: and loe, before the Temple were an hundreth cubites.

9 And vnder thoſe chambers was the entrie, on the Eaſt ſide, as one goeth into them from the outward court.

10 The chambers were in the thicknes of the wall of the court toward ỹ Eaſt, ouer againſt the ſeparate place, and ouer againſt the building.

11 And the way before them was after the maner of the chambers, which were toward the North, as long as they, and as broad as they: and all their entries were like, both according to their facions, and according to their doores.

12 And according to ỹ doores of ỹ chambers that were toward the South, was a doore in the corner of the way, euen the way directly before the wall toward the Eaſt, as one entreth.

13 Then ſaid he vnto me, The North chambers and ỹ South chambers which are before ỹ ſeparate place, they be holy chambers, wherein the Prieſts that approch vnto ỹ Lord, ſhal eat the moſt holy things: there ſhall they lay the moſt holy things, and the meate offering, and the ſinne offering, and the treſpaſſe offering: for the place is holy.

14 When the Prieſtes enter therein, they ſhall not go out of the holy place into the vtter court, but there they ſhall lay their garments wherein they miniſter: for they are holy, and ſhall put on other garments, and ſo ſhall approch to thoſe things, which are for the people.

15 Nowe when he had made an ende of meaſuring the inner houſe, he brought me foorth toward the gate whoſe proſpect is toward the Eaſt, and meaſured it round about.

16 He meaſured the Eaſt ſide with the meaſuring rod, fiue hundreth reedes, euen with the meaſuring rod round about.

17 He meaſured alſo the Northſide, fiue hundreth

3 And when the man that had the line in his hand, went foorth Eastward, he measured a thousand cubites, and he brought me through the waters: the waters were to the ancles.

4 Againe hee measured a thousand, and brought me through the waters: the waters were to the knees: againe he measured a thousand, and brought me through the waters were to ỹ loynes.

b Signifying that the graces of God shoulde neuer decrease but euer abound in his Church.

5 Afterwarde hee measured a thousand, and it was a [b] riuer, that I could not passe ouer: for the waters were risen, and the waters did flowe, as a riuer that could not be passed ouer.

c Meaning, the multitude of them that shoulde bee refreshed by the spirituall waters.

6 And he said vnto me, Sonne of man, hast thou seene this? Then he brought me, and caused me to returne to the brinke of the riuer.

d Shewing that the abundance of these graces should be so great, that all the world should be full thereof, which is here meant by the Persian Sea, or Genesareth, and the sea called Mediterranean, Zech. 14. 8.

7 Now when I returned, behold, at the brinke of the riuer were very many [c] trees on the one side, and one the other.

8 Then sayde he vnto me, These waters issue out toward the East countrey, and runne downe into the plaine, and shall goe into ỹ [d] sea: they shall runne into another sea, and the [e] waters shall be wholesome.

e The waters which of nature are salt and bitter, shall become sweete and comfortable.

9 And euery thing that liueth, which mooueth, whersoeuer the riuers shall come, shal liue, and there shalbe a very great multitude of fish, because these waters shall come thither: for they shall be wholesome, and euery thing shall liue whither the riuer commeth.

10 And

10 And then the ſ fiſhers ſhall ſtand vpon it, and from En-gedi euen vnto ‖ En-eglaim, they ſhal ſpread out their nets: for their fiſh ſhalbe according to their kindes, as the fiſh of h the maine ſea, exceeding many.

11 But i the mirie places thereof, and the miriſes thereof ſhall not be wholeſome: they ſhall be made ſalt pits.

12 And by this riuer vpon the brinke thereof, on this ſide, and on that ſide ſhal grow all ‖ fruitfull trees, whoſe leafe ſhal not fade, neither ſhal ŷ fruit thereof faile: it ſhal bring forth new fruit according to his monethi, becauſe their waters run out of the Sanctuary: and the fruit thereof ſhalbe meate, and the leafe thereof ſhalbe for ‖ medicine.

13 ¶ Thus ſaith the Lord God, This ſhalbe the border, whereby ye ſhall inherite the land according to the twelue tribes * of Iſrael: Ioſeph ſhall haue two portions.

14 And ye ſhall inherite it, one as well as another: * concerning the which I lift vp mine hand to giue it vnto your fathers, and this land ſhal fall vnto you for inheritance.

15 And this ſhalbe the border k of the lande towarde the North ſide, from the maine ſea toward Hethlon as men goe to Zedadah:

16 Hamath, Berothah, Sibraim, which is betweene the border of Damaſcus, and the border of Hamath, and Hazar, Hatticon, which is by the coaſt of Hauran.

17 And the border from the ſea ſhalbe Hazar, Enan, and the border of Damaſcus, and the reſidue of the North, Northwarde, and the border of Hamath: ſo ſhalbe the North part.

18 But the Eaſt ſide ſhall ye meaſure frō Hauran, and from Damaſcus, and from Gilead, and from the land of Iſrael by Iorden, and from the border vnto the Eaſt ſea: and ſo ſhalbe ŷ Eaſt part.

19 And the Southſide ſhalbe towarde Teman from Tamar to ŷ waters of ‖ Meriboth in Kadeſh, and the riuer to the maine ſea: ſo ſhalbe the South part toward Teman.

20 The Weſt part alſo ſhalbe the great ſea from the border, till a man come ouer againſt Hamath: this ſhalbe the Weſt part.

21 So ſhal ye deuide this land vnto you, according to the tribes of Iſrael.

22 And you ſhall diuide it by lot for an inheritance vnto you, and to the ſtrangers that dwell among you, which ſhal beget childrē among you, & they ſhalbe vnto you, as borne in the countrey among the children of Iſrael, l they ſhall part inheritance with you in the middes of the tribes of Iſrael.

23 And in what tribe the ſtranger dwelleth, there ſhall ye giue him his inheritance, ſaieth the Lord God.

CHAP. XLVIII.

The leſſe of the tribes. 9 The parcel of the poſſeſſion of the Prieſtes, of the Temple, of the Leuites, of the citie and of the Prince are vnderſtood.

NOwe theſe are the names of the a tribes. From the North ſide, to the coaſt towarde Hethlon, as one goeth to Hamath, Hazar, Enan, and the border of Damaſcus Northwarde the coaſt of Hamath, euen from the Eaſt ſide to the Weſt ſhall be a portion for Dan.

2 And by the border of Dan from the Eaſt ſide vnto the Weſt ſide, a portion for Aſher.

3 And by the border of Aſher, from the Eaſt parte euen vnto the Weſt parte, a portion for Naphtali.

4 And by the border of Naphtali, from the Eaſt quarter vnto the Weſt ſide, a portion for Manaſſeh.

5 And by the border of Manaſſeh, from the Eaſt ſide vnto the Weſt ſide, a portion for Ephraim.

6 And by the border of Ephraim, from the Eaſt part euen vnto the Weſt part, a portion for Reuben.

7 And by the border of Reuben, from the Eaſt quarter vnto ŷ Weſt quarter, a portion for Iudah.

8 And by the border of Iudah from the Eaſt part vnto the Weſt part, b ſhalbe the offring which they ſhall offer of fiue and twentie thouſande reeden broade, and of length as one of the other parts, from the Eaſt ſide vnto the Weſt ſide, & the Sanctuarie ſhalbe in the middes of it.

11 It ſhalbe for the Prieſtes that are ſanctified of the ſonnes of * Zadok, which haue kept my charge, which went not aſtray when the children of Iſrael went aſtray, as the Leuites went aſtray.

12 Therefore this oblation of the land that is offered, ſhalbe theirs, as a thing moſt holy by the border of the Leuites.

13 And ouer againſt the border of the Prieſts the Leuites ſhall haue fiue and twentie thouſande long, and ten thouſand broad: all the length ſhall be fiue & twentie thouſand, and the breadth tenne thouſand.

14 And they ſhal not ſell of it, neither change it, nor abalienate the firſt fruites of the lande: for it is holy vnto the Lord.

15 And the fiue thouſande that are left in the breadth ouer againſt the fiue and twentie thouſand, ſhalbe a prophane place for the citie, for houſing, and for ſuburbes, and the citie ſhalbe in the mids thereof.

16 And theſe ſhalbe the meaſures thereof, the North part fiue hundreth and foure thouſand, and the South part fiue hundreth and foue thouſand, and the Eaſt part fiue hundreth and foure thouſand, and the Weſt part fiue hundreth and foure thouſand.

17 And the ſuburbes of the citie ſhalbe toward the North two hundreth and fiftie, & toward the South two hundreth and fiftie, and towarde the Eaſt two hundreth and fiftie, and towarde the Weſt, two hundreth and fiftie.

18 And the reſidue in length ouer againſt the oblation of the holy portion ſhalbe ten thouſande Eaſtward, and tenne thouſand Weſtward: and it ſhalbe ouer againſt the oblation of the holy portion, and the increaſe thereof ſhall be for foode vnto them that ſerue in the citie.

19 And they that ſerue in the citie, ſhalbe of all the tribes of Iſrael that ſhall ſerue there.

DANIEL.

THE ARGVMENT.

THE great prouidence of God, and his singular mercie towarde his Church are most liuely here set forth, who neuer leaueth his destitute, but nowe in their greatest miseries and afflictions giueth them Prophets, as Ezekiel, and Daniel, whome hee adorned with such graces of his holy spirite, that Daniel aboue all other had most speciall reuelations of such thinges as should come to the Church, euen from the time that they were in captiuitie, to the last ende of the worlde, and to the generall resurrection, of all the foure Monarchies and Empires of the worlde, to wit, of the Babylonians, Persians, Grecians, and Romanes. Also of the certaine nomber of the times euen vnto Christ, when all ceremonies and sacrifices should cease, because he should be the accomplishment thereof: moreouer he sheweth Christs office and the cause of his death, which was by his sacrifice to take away sinne, and to bring everlasting life. And as from the beginning God euer exercised his people vnder the crosse, so he teacheth here, that after that Christ is offered, he will still leaue this exercise to his Church vntill the dead rise againe, and Christ gather his into his kingdome in the heauens.

CHAP. I.

1 The captiuitie of Iehoiakim King of Iudah. 4 The King chuseth certaine yong men of the Iewes to learne his lawe. 5 They haue the Kings orainarie appointed, 8 But they abstaine from it.

IN the [a] third yeere of the reigne of Iehoiakim king of Iudah, came Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel vnto Ierusalem and besieged it.

2 And the Lord gaue Iehoiakim king of Iudah into his hand, with part of the vessels of the house of God, which he carried into the land of [b] Shinar, to the house of his god, & he brought the vessels into his gods treasurie.

3 And the King spake vnto [c] Ashpenaz the master of his [d] Eunuches, that he should bring certeine of the children of Israel, of the [e] Kings seede, and of the princes:

4 Children in whom was no blemish, but well fauoured, and instruct in all wisedome, and well seene in knowledge, and able to vtter knowledge, & such as were able to stand in the kings palace, and whome they might teach the [f] learning, and the tongue of the Caldeans.

5 And the king appointed them prouision euery day of a [h] portion of the Kings meate, and of the wine, which hee dranke, so nourishing them [i] three yeere, that at the end thereof, they might stand [k] before the King.

6 Now among these were certeine of the children of Iudah, Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael and Azariah.

a Reade 2. King. 24. 1. & Iere. 25. 1.

b Which was a plaine by Babylon, where was the Temple of their great god, and is here taken for Babylon.

c Who was as master of the wardes.

d He calleth them Eunuches whome the King nourished and brought vp to be rulers of other countreis afterward.

e His purpose was to keepe them as hostages, and that he might shew himselfe victorious, & also by their good intreatie and learning of his religion, they might fauour rather him then the Iewes, and so to be able to serue him as gouernors in their land: moreouer by this meanes the Iewes might be better kept in subiection, fearing otherwise to procure hart to these noblemen.

f The King required three things, that they should be of noble birth, that they should be witte and learned, and that they should haue a strong and comely nature, that they might do him better seruice: this he did for his owne commoditie, therefore it is not to praise his liberalitie: yet in this he is worthie praise, that he esteemed learning, and knewe that it was a necessary meane to gouerne by. g That they might forget their owne religion, and country facions, to serue him the better to his purpose: yet it is not to be thought y Daniel did learne any knowledge that was not godly: in all points he refused the abuse of things & superstition, insomuch that he would not eate the meate which the King appointed him, but was content to learne the knowledge of naturall things. h That by their good entertainment they might learne to forget the mediocritie of their owne people. i To the intent that in this time they might both learne the maners of the Caldeans, and also their tongue. k Aswell to serue at the table, as in other offices.

7 Vnto whome the chiefe of the Eunuches gaue other names: for hee called Daniel, Beltesshazzar, and Hananiah, Shadrach, and Mishael, Meshach, and Azariah, Abednego.

8 ¶ But Daniel had determined in his heart, that hee woulde not [m] defile himselfe with the portion of the Kings meate, nor with the wine which he dranke: therefore he required the chiefe of the Eunuches that he might not defile himself.

9 (Nowe God hath brought Daniel into fauour, and tender loue with the chiefe of the Eunuches)

10 And the chiefe of the Eunuches saide vnto Daniel, [n] I feare my lord the king, who hath appointed your meate and your drinke: therefore if he see your faces worse liking then the other children, which are of your sort, then shall you make me lose mine head vnto the king.

11 Then saide Daniel to Melzar, whome the chiefe of the Eunuches had set ouer Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah, 12 Prooue thy seruants, I beseech thee, [o] ten dayes, and let them giue vs [p] pulse to eate, and water to drinke.

13 Then let our countenances bee looked vpon before thee, and the countenances of the children that eate of the portion of the Kings meate: and as thou seest, deale with thy seruants.

14 So hee consented to them in this matter, and prooued them ten dayes.

15 And at the ende of ten daies, their [q] countenances appeared fairer, and in [†] better liking then all the childrens, which did eate the portion of the kings meate.

16 Thus Melzar tooke away the portion of their meate, and the wine that they should drink, and gaue them pulse.

17 As for these foure children, God gaue them knowledge, and vnderstanding in all learning [r] and wisedome: also he gaue Daniel vnderstanding of all [s] visions and dreames.

18 Nowe when the time [t] was expired, that the king had appointed to bring them in, the chiefe of the Eunuches brought them before Nebuchad-nezzar.

19 And the king communed with them: and among them all was found none like Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah: therefore stoode they before the King.

20 And in all matters of wisedome, and vnderstanding that the King enquired of them, hee found them teane times better then all the inchanters and astrologians, that were in all his realme.

21 And Daniel was vnto [u] the first yeere of king Cyrus.

[l] That they might altogether forget their religion: for the Iewes gaue their children names, which might ouer put them in remembrance of some point of religion: therefore this was a great tentation & a signe of seruitude which they were not able to resist.

[m] Not that hee thought any religion to be in the meate or drinke (for afterward he did eate) but because y king should not entise him by this sweet poyson to forget his religiō & accustomed sobrietie, & that in his meate & drinke he might dailie remember of what people he was: and Daniel beginneth this in to shew how God from the beginning assisted him with his Spirit, and at length called him to be a Prophet.

[n] He supposed they did this for their religion, which was contrarie to the Babylonians, and therefore herein he representeth them, which are of no religion: for neither hee would condemne them nor maintaine his owne.

[o] Meaning, that within this space he might haue the triall, and that no man shoulde be able to discerne it: and thus hee spake, being moued by the Spirit of God.

[p] Not that it was a thing abominable to eate deintie meates, and to drinke wine, as both before and after they did but if they should haue hereby bene wonne to the King and haue refused their owne religion, that meate and drinke had bene accursed.

[q] This bare feeding and that also of Moses when he fled from the court of Egypt, declareth that wee must liue in such sobrietie as God doeth call vs vnto, seeing he will make it more profitable vnto vs, then all deinties: for his blessing onely sufficeth. [†] Ebr. fatter in flesh.

[r] Meaning, in the liberall sciences, and naturall knowledge, & not in the idolatrous arts which are forbidden, Deut. 8. 11.

[s] So that he onely was a Prophet by name of y other, for by dreames & visions God appeared to his Prophets, Num. 12. 6.

[t] Of the three yeeres aboue mentioned vers. 5.

[u] That is, he was continued in Babylon as a Prophet so long as that common wealth stoode.

CHAP. II.

1 The dreame of Nebuchad-nezzar. 13 The King commaundeth all the wise men of Babylon to be slaine because they could not interprete his dreame. 16 Daniel requireth time to solue the question. 25 Daniel is brought vnto the King and foreshewe him his dreame and the interpretation thereof. 44 Of the euerlasting kingdome of Christ.

AND in the [a] second yeere of the reigne of Nebuchad-nezzar, Nebuchad-nezzar dreamed [b] dreames wherewith his spirit was [c] troubled, and his [d] sleepe was vpon him.

2 Then the King commanded to call the inchanters, and the astrologians and the sorcerers, and the [e] Caldeans for to shewe the King his dreames; so they came and stoode before the King.

3 And the King sayd vnto them, I haue dreamed a dreame, and my spirit was troubled to knowe the dreame.

4 Then spake the Caldeans to the King in the [f] Aramites language, O King, liue for euer: shewe thy seruants the dreame, and wee shall shewe the interpretation.

5 And the King answered & said to the Caldeans, The thing is gone from me. If yee will not make me vnderstand the dreame with the interpretation thereof, ye [g] shall be drawen in pieces, and your houses shalbe made a takes.

6 But if yee declare the dreame and the interpretation thereof, ye shall receiue of me gifts and rewardes, and great honour: therefore shewe me the dreame and the interpretation of it.

7 They answered againe, and saide, Let the King shewe [h] his seruants the dreame, and we wil declare the interpretation thereof.

8 Then the King answered, and said, I know certainly that ye [†] would gaine the time, because ye see the thing is gone from me.

9 But if yee will not declare me the dreame, there is but one iudgement for you: for ye haue prepared lying and corrupt wordes, to speake before me till the time bee changed: therefore tell me the dreame, that I may knowe, if yee can declare me the interpretation thereof.

10 Then the Caldeans answered before the King, and saide, There is no man vpon earth that can declare the Kings matter: yea, there is neither King nor Prince nor Lorde that asked such things at an inchanter or astrologian or Caldean.

11 For it is a rare thing that the King requireth, and there is none other that can declare it before the King, except the gods whose dwelling is not with flesh.

12 For this cause the King was angrie and in great furie, and commaunded to destroy all the wise men of Babel.

13 ¶ And when sentence was giuen, the wise men were slaine: and they [i] sought Daniel and his fellowes to be put to death.

14 Then Daniel answered with counsell and wisedome to Arioch the Kings [‖] chiefe steward, which was gone foorth to put to death the wise men of Babel.

15 Yea, hee answered and saide vnto Arioch the kings captaine, why is the sentence so hastie from the king? Then Arioch declared the thing to Daniel.

16 So Daniel went and desired the King that hee would giue him leasure, and that he woulde shewe the King the interpretation thereof.

[a] The father and the sonne were both called by this name: so that this is ment of y sonne, when he reigned alone: for he reigned also after a sort w his father.

[b] Not that hee had many dreames, but because many matters were conteined in this dreame.

[c] Because it was so rare & strange a dreame that he had not had the like.

[d] He was so heavy with sleepe that he began to sleepe & gaine. Some read, and his sleepe was broken from him.

[e] For all these Astrologers and sorcerers called themselues by this name of honor, as though all the wisdome & knowledge of the countrey depended vpon them, & that al other countries were voyd of the same.

[f] That is, in y Syrian tongue which differed not much from the Caldean, sane it seemeth to be more eloquent, and therefore the learned vsed to speake it: as the Iewish writers do to this day.

[g] This is a iust reward of their arrogantie (which vaunted of them) that they had the knowledge of all things that they should be proued fooles and that to their perpetuall shame and confusion.

[h] Herein appeared their ignorance, that notwithstanding their brags, yet were they not able to tell the dreame, except he entred then into the matter, and therefore they would pretend knowledge where was but mere ignorance, and so as deluders of the people, they were worthie to die.

[†] Ebr. redeme the time.

[i] Which declareth that God would not haue his seruants ioyned in the companie of these sorcerers, and Astrologers, whose artes were wicked, and therefore iustly ought to die, though the king did it vpon a rage, and no zeale. [‖] Or, the captaine of the garde.

17 ¶ Then

17 ¶ Then Daniel went to his house, and shewed the matter to Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah his companions, 18 That they should beseech the God of heauen for grace in this secrete, that Daniel and his fellowes shoulde not perish with the rest of the wise men of Babel.

19 Then was the secrete reuelled vnto Daniel in a vision by night: therefore Daniel praised the God of heauen.

20 And Daniel answered and sayde, * The Name of God bee praysed for euer and euer: for wisedome and strength are his,

21 And he changeth the times and seasons: he taketh away kings: he setteth vp kings: he giueth wisedome vnto the wise, and vnderstanding to those that vnderstand.

22 Hee discouereth the deepe and secrete things: he knoweth what is in the darkenes, and the [k] light dwelleth with him.

23 I thanke thee and praise thee, O thou God of my [l] fathers, that thou hast giuen me wisdome and [m] strength, and hast shewed me nowe the thing that we desired of thee: for thou hast declared vnto vs the kings matter.

24 ¶ Therefore Daniel went vnto Arioch, whome the King had ordeyned to destroy the wise men of Babel: hee went and sayde thus vnto him, Destroy not [n] the wise men of Babel, but bring me before the King, and I will declare vnto the King the interpretation.

25 Then Arioch brought Daniel before the King in all haste, and sayd thus vnto him, I haue found a man of the children of Iudah that were brought captiues, that will declare vnto the King the interpretation.

26 Then answered the King, and sayde vnto Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, Art thou able to shewe me the dreame, which I haue seene, and the interpretation thereof?

27 Daniel answered in [y] presence of the King, and sayd, The secret which [y] King hath demaunded, can neither the wise, the astrologians, the inchanters, nor [y] southsayers declare vnto the King.

28 But there is a God in [o] heauen that reueileth secrets, and sheweth the King Nebuchadnezzar what shall bee in the latter dayes. Thy dreame, and the things which thou hast seene in thine head vpon thy bed, is this.

29 O King, when thou wast in thy bedde, thoughts came into thy minde, what should come to passe hereafter, and hee that reueileth secrets, telleth thee, what shall come.

30 As [p] for me, this secret is not shewed me for any wisedome that I haue, more then any other liuing, but onely to shewe the King the interpretation, and that thou mightest knowe the thoughts of thine heart.

31 O King, thou sawest, and beholde, there was a great image: this great image whose glory was so excellent, stood before thee, and the forme thereof was terrible.

32 This images head was of fine [q] golde, his breast and his armes of siluer, his belly and his thighs of brasse, 33 His legges of yron, and his feete were part of yron and part of clay.

34 Thou beheldest it till a stone was cut wout hands, which smote the image vpon his feete, that were of yron & clay, and brake them to pieces.

35 Then was the yron, the clay, the brasse, the siluer and the golde broken all together, and became like the chasse of the sommer floures, and the winde caried them away, that no place was found for them: and the stone that smote the image, became a great mountaine, and filled the whole earth.

36 This is the dreame, and we wil declare before the King the interpretation thereof.

37 ¶ O King, thou art a King of Kings: for the God of heauen hath giuen thee a kingdome, power, and strength, and glory.

38 And in all places where the children of men dwell, the beasts of the fielde, and the foules of the heauen hath he giuen into thine hand, and hath made thee ruler ouer them all: thou art this head of golde.

38 And after thee shal rise another kingdome, [s] inferiour to thee, of siluer, and another [t] third kingdome shalbe of brasse, which shall beare rule ouer all the earth.

40 And the fourth kingdome shall be strong as yron: for as yron breaketh in pieces, and subdueth all things, and as yron bruiseth all these things, so shall it breake in [u] pieces, and bruise all.

41 Where as thou sawest the feete and toes, part of potters clay, and part of yron: the kingdome shalbe [x] diuided, but there shalbe in it of the strength of the yron, as thou sawest the yron mixt with the clay, and earth.

42 And as the toes of the feete were part of yron, and part of clay, so shall the kingdome bee partly strong, and partly broken.

43 And where as thou sawest yron mixt with clay and earth, they shal mingle themselues with [x] the seede of men: but they shall not inyne one with an other, as yron cannot bee mixed with clay.

44 And in the dayes of these Kings, shall the God of heauen set vp a kingdome, which [z] shall neuer be destroyed: and this kingdome shall not be giuen to another people, but it shall breake, and destroy all these kingdomes, and it shall stand for euer.

45 Where as thou sawest, that the [a] stone was cut off the mountaine without handes, and that it brake in pieces the yron, the brasse, the clay, the siluer, and the golde: so the great God hath shewed the King, what shall come to passe hereafter, and the dreame is true, and the interpretation thereof is sure.

46 ¶ Then the King Nebuchad-nezzar fell vpon his face, and [b] bowed himselfe vnto Daniel, and commaunded that they shoulde offer meate offrings, and sweete odours vnto him.

47 Also the King answered vnto Daniel, and

* Psal. 113. 2. and 145. 21.

k He sheweth that man hath neither wisdome nor knowledge, but very darke blindenesse, & ignorance of himselfe: for it commeth onely of God, that man vnderstandeth any thing.

l To whome thou madest thy promise, and who liued in thy feare: whereby he excludeth al other gods.

m Meaning power to interprete it.

n Whereby appeareth that many were slaine, as vers. 13. and the rest at Daniels offer were preserued on condition, not that Daniel ignored their wicked profession, but that he had respect to equitie because the King proceeded according to his wicked affection, & not considering if their science were lawful or no.

o He affirmeth that man by reason & arte is not able to atteine to the cause of Gods secrets, but the vnderstanding onely thereof must come of God: whereby he smiteth [y] King with a certaine feare & reuerence of God, that he might be the more apt to receiue the hie misteries, that should be reuelled.

p Because he had said that God onely must reueale the significatio of this dreame, the King might haue asked, why Daniel did enterprise to interprete it, and therefore he sheweth, that he was but Gods minister, and had no giftes, but such as God had giuen him to set forth his glory.

q By golde, siluer, brasse and yron, are ment the Caldean, Persian, Macedonian, and Romane kingdome, which should successiuely rule all the worlde till Christ (which is here called the stone) come himselfe, and destroy the last: and this was to assure the Iewes, that their afflictions should not ende with the empire of the Caldeans, but that they should patiently abide the comming of Messiah, which should be at the ende of this fourth monarchie.

r Daniel knoweth not the kingdom of the Assyrians which was before the Babylonians both because it was not a monarchie and generall empire, and also because he would declare the things that were to come, to the comming of Christ, for the comfort of the elect among these wonderful alterations and he calleth the Babylonian kingdome the golden head, because in respect of the other three, it was the best, & yet was of it selfe wicked and cruell.

s Meaning the Persians, which was not inferiour in dignitie, power, & riches, but were worse touching ambition, cruelty, and all kinde of vice: shewing that the worlde should grow worse and worse till it were restored by Christ.

t That is, of the Macedonians shalbe of brasse, not alluding to the hardenesse therof, but to the valens in respect of siluer.

u That is, the Romane empire shall subdue all these aforenamed, which after Alexander were diuided into the Macedonians, Grecians, Syrians and Egyptians.

x They shall haue ciuill wars & continual discordes among themselues.

y They shall by marriages and affinities make them selues strong: yet shall they neuer be ioyned in hearts.

z His purpose is to shewe, that all the kingdomes of the worlde are transitorie, & that the kingdome of Christ shall onely remaine for euer.

a Meaning, Christ who was sent of God, and not set vp by man, whose kingdome at the beginning should be small and without beautie to mans iudgement, but should at length growe and fill the whole earth, which he calleth a great mountaine, as verse 35. And this kingdome, which is not onely referred to the person of Christ, but also to the whole body of his Church, and to euery member thereof, shalbe eternall: for the spirit that is in them, is life eternall, Rom. 8. 10.

b Though this humbling of the King seemed to deserue commendation, yet because hee ioyned Gods honour with the Prophets, it is to be reprooued, and Daniel herein erred, if hee suffered it: but it is credible that Daniel admonished him of his fault, and did not suffer it.

said, I know of a trueth that your c God is a God of gods, and the Lord of Kings, and the reueiler of secrets, seeing thou couldest open this secret.

48 So ᵍ King made Daniel a great man, & gaue him many & great d giftes. He made him gouernour ouer the whole prouince of Babel, & chiefe of the rulers, and aboue al the wise men of Babel.

49 Then Daniel e made request to the King, and he set Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego ouer the charge of the prouince of Babel: but Daniel sate in the f gate of the King.

c This confession was but a sodden motion, as it was also in Pharaoh, Exod. 9. 28. but his heart was not touched, as appeared soone afterward.

d Not that the Prophet was desirous of giftes or honour, but beside by this meanes he might relieue his poore brethren which were grieuously oppressed in this their captiuitie, and also he receiued them, lest he should offend this cruell King, which willingly gaue them.

e He did not this for their priuate profite, but that the whole Church which was then there in affliction, might haue some releasse and ease, by this benefite.

f Meaning, that either he was a iudge, or that he had the whole authoritie, so that none could be admitted to the Kings presence, but by him.

CHAP. III.

1 The King setteth vp a golden image. 8 Certaine are accused because they despised the Kings commandment, and are put into a burning oven. 25 By beliefe in God they are deliuered from the fire. 26 Nebuchad-nezzar confesseth the power of God, after the sight of the miracle.

NEbuchad-nezzar the King made a an image of gold, whose height was threescore cubites, and the breadth thereof sixe cubites: he set it vp in the plaine of Dura, in the prouince of Babel.

2 Then Nebuchad-nezzar the King sent forth to gather together the nobles, the princes and the dukes, the iudges, the receiuers, the counsellers, the officers, and al the gouernours of the prouinces, that they should come to the b dedication of the image, which Nebuchad-nezzar the c King had set vp.

3 So the nobles, princes and dukes, the iudges, the receiuers, the counsellers, the officers, and all the gouernours of the prouinces were assembled vnto the dedicating of the image, that Nebuchad-nezzar the King had set vp: and they stood before the image, which Nebuchad-nezzar had set vp.

4 Then an herald cried aloude, Be it knowen to you, O people, d nations, and languages,

5 That when yee heare the sound of the cornet, trumper, harpe, sackebut, psalterie, dulcimer, and all instruments of musike, ye fall downe and worship the golden image, that Nebuchad-nezzar the King hath set vp,

6 And whosoeuer falleth not downe & worshippeth, shall the same houre bee cast into the middes of an hote firie fornace.

7 Therefore assoone as all the people heard the sound of the cornet, trumper, harpe, sackebut, psalterie, and all instruments of musike, all the people, nations, and languages fell downe, and worshipped the golden image, that Nebuchad-nezzar the King had set vp.

8 ¶ By reason whereof at that same time came men of the Caldeans, and grieuously accused the Iewes.

9 For they spake and said to the King Nebuchad-nezzar, O King, liue for euer.

10 Thou O King, hast made a decree, that euery man that shall heare the sound of the cornet, trumpet, harpe, sackebut, psalterie, and dulcimer, and all instruments of musicke, shall fall downe and worship the golden image, 11 And whosoeuer falleth not downe, and worshippeth, that he should be cast into the midst of an hote fierie fornace.

12 There are certaine Iewes whom thou hast set ouer the charge of the prouince of Babel, e Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego: these men, O King, haue not regarded thy commandement, neither will they serue thy gods, nor worship the golden image, that thou hast set vp.

13 ¶ Then Nebuchad-nezzar in his anger and wrath commanded that they should bring Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego: so these men were brought before the King.

14 And Nebuchad-nezzar spake, and said vnto them, What diforder? will not you, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego serue my god, nor worship the golden image, that I haue set vp?

15 f Now therefore are ye readie when ye heare the sound of the cornet, trumpet, harpe, sackebut, psalterie, and dulcimer, and al instruments of musike, to fall downe, and worship the image, which I haue made? for if ye worship it not ye shall be g cast immediatly into the middes of an hote fierie fornace: for who is that God, that can deliuer you out of mine hands?

16 Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego answered and said to the King, O Nebuchad-nezzar, we are not carefull to answere thee in this matter.

17 Behold, our God whom we serue, is h able to deliuer vs from the hote fierie fornace, and hee will deliuer vs out of thine hand, O King.

18 But if not, be it knowen to thee, O King, that we will not serue thy gods, nor worship the golden image, which thou hast set vp.

19 ¶ Then was Nebuchad-nezzar full of rage, and the forme of his visage was changed against Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego: therefore hee charged and commanded that they should heate the fornace at once seuen i times more then it was wont to be heat.

20 And hee charged the most valiant men of warre that were in his armie, to binde Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, and to cast them into the hote fierie fornace.

21 So these men were bounde in their coates, their hosen, and their clokes, with their other garments, and cast into the middes of the hote fierie fornace.

22 Therfore, because the Kings cómandement was straite, that the fornace should be exceeding hote, the flame of the fire slewe those men that brought forth Shadrach, Meshach & Abednego.

23 And these three men Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego fell downe bound into the middes of the hote fierie fornace.

24 ¶ Then Nebuchad-nezzar the King was astonied and rose vp in haste, and spake, and saide vnto his counsellers, Did not we cast three men bound into the middes of the fire? Who answered and said vnto the King, It is true, O King.

25 And he answered, and said, Loe, I see foure men loose, walking in the middes of the fire, and they haue no hurt, and the forme of the fourth is like the k sonne of God.

26 Then the King Nebuchad-nezzar came neere to the mouth of the hote fierie fornace, and spake and said, Shadrach, Meshach, & Abednego, e It seemeth, that they named not Daniel because he was greatly in the Kings fauour, thinking if these three had bin destroyed, they might haue had better occasion to accuse Daniel: and this declareth that this policie of erecting this image was inuented by the malicious flatterers, which sought nothing but the destruction of the Iewes, whom they accused of rebellion and ingratitude.

f Signifying, that he would receiue them to grace, if they would nowe at the length obey his decree.

g For they should haue done iniurie to God, if they should haue doubted in this holy cause, and therefore they say, that they are resolued to die for Gods cause.

h They ground on two points first on the power, and prouidence of God ouer them, and secondly on their cause, which was Gods glory, and the testifying of his true religion with their blood, and so make open confession, that they will not so much as outwardly consent to idolatrie.

i This declareth that the more that tyrants rage, and the more wittie they shew themselues in inuenting strange and cruell punishments, the more is God glorified by his seruants to whom he giueth patience and constancie to abide the end of their punishment: for either he deliuereth them from death, or else for this life giueth them a better.

k For the Angels were called the sonnes of God, because of their excellencie: therefore the King called this Angel, whom God sent to comfort his in these great torments, the sonne of God.

a Vnder pretence of religion, & holinesse in making his image to his idol Bel, he sought his owne ambition and vaine glorie: and this declareth that he was not touched with the true feare of God before, but that he confessed him on a sodden motion, as the wicked when they are ouercome with the greatnes of his works. The Greeke interpreters write, that this was done eighteen yeeres after the dreame, and as may appeare, the King feared lest the Iewes by their religion should haue altered the state of his common wealth, and therefore he ment to bring all to one kinde of religion, and so rather sought his owne quietnesse, then Gods glorie.

b Shewing, that the idole is not knowen for an idole so long as he is with the workeman: but when the ceremonies and customes are recited and vsed, and the consent of the people is there, then of a blocke they thinke they haue made a god.

c This was sufficient with the wicked at all times to approoue their religion, if the Kings authoritie were alledged for the establishment thereof, not considering in the meane season what Gods word did permit.

d These are the two dangerous weapons wherewith Satan vseth to fight against the children of God, the consent of the multitude and the cruelties of the punishment: for though some feared God, yet the multitude, which consented to the wickednesse, allowed them: and here the King required not an inward consent, but an outward gesture, that the Iewes might by litle and litle learne to forget their true religion.

the seruants of the hie God, goe foorth and come hither: so Shadrach, Meshach & Abednego [l] came foorth of the middes of the fire.

27 Then the nobles, princes and dukes, and the Kings counsellers came together to see these men, because the fire had no power ouer their bodies: for not an haire of their head was burnt, neither were their coates changed, nor any smell of fire came vpon them.

28 Wherefore Nebuchad-nezzar spake and said, [m] Blessed be the God of Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego, who hath sent his Angel, and deliuered his seruants, that put their trust in him, and haue changed the Kings commandement, and yeelded their bodies rather then they would serue or worship any god, saue their owne God.

29 Therefore I make a decree, that euery people, nation, and language, which speake any [n] blasphemie against the God of Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego, shalbe drawen in pieces, and their houses shall be made a iakes, because there is no god that can deliuer after this sort.

30 Then the King promoted Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego in the prouince of Babel.

31 Nebuchad-nezzar King vnto all people, nations and languages, that dwell in all the [o] world, Peace be multiplied vnto you:

32 I thought it good to declare the signes and wonders, [p] the hie God hath wrought toward me.

33 How great are his signes, and howe mightie are his wonders! [p] his kingdome is an euerlasting kingdome, and his dominion is from generation to generation.

l This commendeth their obedience vnto God, that they would not for any feare depart out of this furnace, till the time was appoynted, as Noah remained in the Arke till the Lord called him forth.

m He was moued by the greatnesse of the miracle to praise God, but his heart was not touched. And here we see that miracles are not sufficient to conuert men to God, but that doctrine most chiefly be adioyned without the which there can be no faith.

n If this heathen King moued by Gods Spirit would not see blasphemie vnpunished, but made a lawe and set a punishment to such transgressours, much more ought all they that professe religion, take order that such impietie reigne not, left according as their knowledge and charge is greater, so they suffer double punishment.

o Meaning, so farre as his dominion extended.

CHAP. IIII.

2 Another dreame of Nebuchad-nezzar, which Daniel declareth. 29 The Prophet declareth howe of a proude King hee shoula become a beast. 31 After, hee confesseth the power of God, and is restored to his former dignitie.

I Nebuchad-nezzar being at [a] rest in mine house, and flourishing in my palace,

2 Sawe a [b] dreame, which made me afraid, and the thoughtes vpon my bed, and the visions of mine head troubled me.

3 Therefore made I a decree, that they should bring all the wise men of Babel before mee, that they might declare vnto me the interpretation of the dreame.

4 So came the inchanters, the astrologians, the Caldeans & the soothsayers, to whom I tolde the dreame, but [c] they could not shew me the interpretation thereof.

5 Till at the last Daniel came before mee, (whose name was [d] Beltesshazzar, according to the name of my god, which hath the spirite of the holy gods in him) and before him I tolde the dreame, saying,

6 O Beltesshazzar, [e] chiefe of the inchanters, because I know, that the spirit of the holy gods is in thee, and no secret troubleth thee, tell me the visions of my dreame, that I haue seene, and the interpretation thereof.

7 Then were the visions of mine head in my bed, And beholde, I saw a [f] tree in the middes of the earth, and the height thereof was great:

8 A great tree and strong, and the height thereof reached vnto heauen, and the sight thereof to the endes of all the earth.

9 The boughes thereof were faire, and the fruite thereof much, and in it was meate for all: it made a shadowe vnder it for the beastes of the fielde, and the foules of the heauen dwelt in the boughes thereof, and all flesh fed of it.

10 I sawe in the visions of mine head vpon my bed, and beholde, a [g] watchman and an holy one came downe from heauen, 11 And cried aloud, and said thus, Hew downe the tree, & breake off his branches: shake off his leaues, & scatter his fruite, that the beasts may flee from vnder it, and the foules from his branches.

12 Neuertheless leaue the stumpe of his rootes in the earth, and with a band of yron and brasse binde it among the grasse of the fielde, and let it be wet with the dewe of heauen, and let his portion be with the beastes among the grasse of the field.

13 [h] Let his heart be changed from mans nature, and let a beasts heart be giuen vnto him, and let seuen times be passed ouer him.

14 [i] The sentence is according to the decree of the watchmen, and according to the word of the holy ones: the demaunde was answered, to the intent that liuing men may knowe, that the most High hath power ouer the kingdome of men, and giueth it to whomsoeuer he will, and appoynteth ouer it the most abiect among men.

15 This is the dreame, that I King Nebuchad-nezzar haue seene: therefore thou, O Beltesshazzar, declare the interpretation thereof: for all the wisemen of my kingdome are not able to shewe me the interpretation: but thou art able, for the spirit of the holy gods is in thee.

16 ¶ Then Daniel (whose name was Beltesshazzar) helde his [k] peace by the space of one houre, and his thoughts troubled him, and the King spake and said, Beltesshazzar, let neither the dreame, nor the interpretation thereof trouble thee. Beltesshazzar answered and saide, My lord, the dreame be to them that hate thee, and the interpretation thereof to thine enemies.

17 The tree that thou sawest, which was great and mightie, whose height reached vnto the heauen, and the sight thereof through all the world,

18 Whose leaues were faire, & the fruit thereof much, and in it was meate for all, vnder the which the beastes of the fielde dwelt, and vpon whose branches the foules of the heauen did sit,

19 It is thou, O King, that art great and mightie: for thy greatnesse is growen, and reacheth vnto heauen, and thy dominion to the endes of the earth.

20 Where as the King sawe a watchman, and an holy one, that came downe from heauen, and said, Hew downe the tree and destroy it, yet leaue the stumpe of the rootes thereof in the earth, and with a band of yron and brasse binde it among the grasse of the fielde, and let it be wette with the dewe of heauen, and let his portion be with the beastes of the field, till seuen times passe ouer him,

21 This is the interpretation, O King, and it is the decree of the most High, which is come vpon my lord the King, a There was no trouble that might cause mee to dreame, and therefore it came onely of God.

b This was another dreame besides that which he sawe of the foure empires: for Daniel both declared what that dreame was, and what it meant: and here he onely expoundeth the dreame.

c In that that he sent abroade to others, whose ignorance in times past he had experimented and left Daniel which was euer ready at hand, it declareth the nature of the vngodly, which neuer seeke to the seruants of God, but for very necessitie, and then they spare no flatterings.

d This no doubt was a great griefe to Daniel not only to haue his name changed, but to be called by the name of a vile idole, which thing Nebuchad-nezzar did to make him forget the true religion of God.

e Which also was a great griefe to the Prophet to be numbred among the sorcerers and men whose practises were wicked and contrary to Gods word.

f By the tree, is signified the dignitie of a King, whom God ordeineth to be a defence for all kinde of men, and whose state is profitable for mankinde.

g Meaning, the Angel of God, which neither eateth nor sleepeth, but is euer readie to do Gods will, and is not infect with mans corruption, but is euer holy: and in that that he commandeth to cut downe this tree, he knewe that it should not be cut downe by man but by God.

h Hereby he meaneth that Nebuchad-nezzar should not onely for a time lose his kingdome, but be like a beast.

i God hath decreed this iudgement, and the whole armie of heauen haue as it were subscribed vnto it, like as also they abhorre the execution of his decree against al them that list vp themselues against God.

k He was troubled for the great iudgement of God which he sawe ordeined against the King: and so the Prophets vsed on the one part to denounce Gods iudgements for the zeale they bare to his glorie, and on the other part to haue compassion vpon men, and also to consider that they should be subiect to Gods iudgements, if he did not regard them with pitie.

l Whereby he meaneth a long space, as shall appeare. Some interprete seuen moneths, and others seuen weeks but it seemeth he meant of yeres.

22 That they shall driue thee from men, and thy dwelling shalbe with the beasts of the fielde: they shal make thee to eate grasse as the [m] oxen, and they shal wet thee with the dewe of heauen: and seuen times shall passe ouer thee, till thou knowe, that [n] the most High beareth rule ouer the kingdome of men, and giueth it to whome so euer he will.

23 Where as they sayd, that one should leaue the stumpe of the tree rootes, thy kingdome shall remaine vnto thee: after that, thou shalt knowe, that the heauens haue the rule.

24 Wherefore, O King, let my counsell be acceptable vnto thee: and [o] breake off thy sinnes by righteousnes, & thine iniquities by mercy toward the poore: lo, let there be a [p] healing of thine errour.

25 All these things shal come vpon the King Nebuchad-nezzar.

26 ¶ At the end of twelue [q] moneths, he walked in the royall palace of Babel.

27 And the King spake, and sayd, Is not this great Babel, that I haue built for the house of the kingdome by the might of my power, and for the honour of my maiestie?

28 While the word was in the Kings mouth, a voyce came downe from heauen, saying, O king Nebuchad-nezzar, to thee be it spoken, Thy kingdome is departed from thee, 29 And they shall driue thee from men, and thy dwelling shalbe with the beastes of the fielde: they shall make thee to eate grasse, as the oxen, and seuen times shall passe ouer thee, vntill thou knowest, that the most High beareth rule ouer the kingdome of men, and giueth it vnto whomsoeuer he will.

30 The very same houre was the thing fulfilled vpon Nebuchad-nezzar, and hee was driuen from men, and did eate grasse as the oxen, and his body was wet with the dewe of heauen, till his haires were growen as egles feathers, & his nailes like birds clawes.

31 And at the end of these [r] dayes I Nebuchad-nezzar lift vp mine eyes vnto heauen, and mine vnderstanding was restored vnto me, and I gaue thankes vnto the most High, and I [s] praysed and honoured him, that liueth for euer, * whose power is an euerlasting power, and his kingdome is from generation to generation.

32 And all the inhabitants of the earth are reputed as nothing: and according to his [t] will hee worketh in the armie of heauen, and in the inhabitants of the earth: and none can stay his hand, nor say vnto him, What doest thou?

33 At the same time was mine vnderstanding restored vnto mee, and I returned to the honour of my kingdome: my glory and my beautie was restored vnto mee, and my counsellours [u] and my princes sought vnto me, and I was stablished in my kingdome, and my glory was augmented toward me.

34 Now therefore I Nebuchad-nezzar [w] praise, and extoll & magnifie the King of heauen, whose workes are al trueth, & his wayes iudgement, and those that walke in pride, he is able to abase.

CHAP. V.

Belshezzar King of Babylon feeth an hand writing on the wall. 8 The soothsayers called of the King, cannot expound the writing. 25 Daniel readeth it, and interpreteth it also. 30 The King is slaine. 31 Darius enioyeth the kingdome.

KIng [a] Belshazzar made a great feast to a thousand of his princes, and dranke wine [b] before the thousand.

2 And Belshazzar ‖ whiles he tasted the wine, commaunded to bring him the golden and siluer vessels, which his [c] father Nebuchad-nezzar had brought from the Temple in Ierusalem, that the King and his princes, his wiues, and his concubines might drinke therein.

3 Then were brought the golden vessels, that were taken out of the Temple of the Lords house at Ierusalem, and the King and his princes, his wiues and his concubines drauke in them.

4 They drunke wine and praysed the [d] gods of golde, and of siluer, of brasse, of yron, of wood and of stone.

5 At the same houre appeared fingers of a mans hand, which wrote ouer [e] against the candlesticke vpon the plaister of the wall of the Kings palace, and the King sawe the palme of the hand that wrote.

6 Then the Kings countenance was changed, and his thoughts troubled him, so that the ioynts of his loynes were loosed, and his [f] knees smote one against the other.

7 Wherefore the King cryed loude, that they should bring [g] the astrologians, the Caldeans and the soothsayers. And the King spake, and sayd to the wise men of Babel, Whosoeuer can reade this writing, and declare me the interpretation thereof, shalbe clothed with purple, and shall haue a chaine of golde about his necke, and shall be the third ruler in the kingdome.

8 Then came all the Kings wise men, but they could neither reade the writing, nor shewe the King the interpretation.

9 Then was King Belshazzar greatly troubled, and his countenance was changed in him, and his princes were astonied.

10 Nowe the [h] Queene by reason of the talke of the King and his princes came into the banket house, and the Queene spake, and sayde, O King, liue for euer: let not thy thoughtes trouble thee, nor let thy countenance be changed.

11 There is a man in thy kingdome, in whome is the spirit of the holy gods, and in the dayes of thy father, light and vnderstanding and wisdome like the wisdome of the gods, was found in him: whom the king Nebuchad-nezzar thy father, the King, I say, thy father, made chiefe of the [i] enchanters, astrologians, Caldeans, and soothsayers,

12 Because a more excellent spirit, and knowledge, and vnderstanding (for hee did expound dreames, & declare hard sentences, and dissolued doubtes) were found in him, euen in Daniel, whom the King named Beltheshazzar: now let Daniel be called, and he will declare the interpretation.

13 ¶ Then was Daniel brought before the King, and the King spake and sayd vnto Daniel, Art thou that Daniel, which art of the children of the captiuitie of Iudah, whome my father the King brought out of Iewrie?

14 Now I haue heard of thee, that [k] the spirit of the holy gods is in thee, and that light and vn-a Daniel reciteth this historie of King Belshazzar Euilmerodachs sonne, to shewe Gods iudgements against the wicked for the deliuerance of his Church and how the prophecie of Ieremiah was true, that they should be deliuered after seuentie yeeres.

b The King of the East parts then vsed to sit alone commonly, & disdained that any should sit in their company: and now to shew his power, & how little he fet by his enemie, which then besieged Babylon, he made a solemne banket, & vsed excesse in their company which is meant here by drinking wine: thus the wicked are most dissolute, and negligent when their destruction is at hand.

c Meaning, his grandfather.

d In contempt of the true God they praysed their idols, not that they thought, that the gold or siluer were gods, but that there was a certaine vertue, and power in them to doe them good, which is also the opinion of idolaters.

e That it might the better be seene.

f So hee that before contemned God, was moued by this sight to tremble for feare of Gods iudgement.

g Thus the wicked in their troubles seeke many meanes, who draw them from God, because they seeke not to him who is the onely comfort in all afflictions.

h To wit, his grandmother Nebuchad-nezzars wife, which for her age was not before at the feast, but came thither when she heard of these things.

newes. i Reade Chap. 4. 6. and hee declareth, that both this name was giuen vnto him, and also that he did not vse these vile practises, because hee was not among them when all were called. k For the idolaters thought the Angels had power as God, & therefore had them in like estimation as they had God, thinking that the spirite of prophecie, and vnderstanding came of them.

m Not that his shape or forme was changed into a beast, but that he was either striken mad, and so auoyded mans company, or was cast out for his tyrannie and so wandred among the beastes and ate herbes and grasse.

n Daniel sheweth the cause, why God thus punished him.

o Cease from prouoking God to anger any longer by thy sinnes, that he may mittigate his punishment, if thou shewe by thine vpright life that thou hast true faith and repentance.

p Suffer the errors of thy former life to be redressed.

q After that Daniel had declared this vision: and this his pride declareth that it is not in man to conuert to God except his Spirit moue him, seeing that these terrible threatnings could not moue him to repent.

r When the terme of these seuen yeeres were accomplished.

* Chap.7.14. mich 4.17. Iude 1.25.

s He confesseth Gods will to be the rule of all iustice and a most perfite law whereby hee gouerneth both man and Angels & deuils, so ought none to murmure, or aske a reason of his doings, but onely to stand content therewith & giue him the glory.

t By whom it seemeth that hee had bene put from his kingdome before.

u He doeth not onely prayse God for his deliuerance, but also confesseth his fault that God may onely haue the glory and man the shame, and that he may be exalted and man cast downe.

derstanding & excellent wisdome is found in thee.

15 Now therefore, wisemen and astrologians haue bene brought before mee, that they should reade this writing, and shewe mee the interpretation thereof: but they could not declare the interpretation of the thing.

16 Then heard I of thee, that thou couldest shewe interpretations, and dissolue doutes: nowe if thou canst reade the writing, and shewe me the interpretation thereof, thou shalt be clothed with purple, and shalt haue a chaine of gold about thy necke, & shalt be the third ruler in the kingdome.

17 Then Daniel answered, and said before the King, Keepe thy rewards to thy selfe, and giue thy giftes to another: yet I will reade the writing vnto the King, and shew him the interpretation.

18 O King, heare thou, The most high God gaue vnto [1] Nebuchad-nezzar thy father a kingdome, and maiestie, and honour, and glory, 19 And for the maiestie that he gaue him, all people, nations, and languages trembled, and feared before him: he put to death whome he would: he smote whome he would: whome he would he set vp, and whome he would he put downe.

20 But when his heart was puft vp, and his minde hardened in pride, hee was deposed from his kingly throne, and they tooke his honour from him.

21 And hee was driuen from the sonnes of men, and his heart was made like the beastes, and his dwelling was with the wilde asses: they fed him with grasse like oxen, and his body was wet with the dewe of the heauen, till he knewe, that the most high God bare rule ouer the kingdome of men, and that hee appointeth ouer it, whomsoeuer he pleaseth.

22 And thou his sonne, O Belshazzar, hast not humbled thine heart, though thou knewest all these things, 23 But hast lift thy selfe vp against the Lorde of heauen, and they haue brought the vessels of his House before thee, and thou and thy princes, thy wiues and thy concubines haue drunke wine in them, and thou hast praysed the gods of siluer and golde, and brasse, yron, wood & stone, which neither see, neither heare, nor vnderstand: and the God in whose hand thy breath is and all thy wayes, him hast thou not glorified.

24 [m] Then was the palme of the hand sent from him, and hath written this writing.

25 And this is the writing that he hath written, ‖ MENE, MENE, TEKEL VPHARSIN.

26 This is the interpretation of the thing, MENE, God hath numbred thy kingdome, and hath finished it.

27 TEKEL, thou art weyed in the balance, and art found ‖ too light.

28 PERES, thy kingdome is diuided, and giuen to the Medes and Persians.

29 Then at the commaundement of Belshazzar they clothed Daniel with purple, and put a chaine of golde about his necke, and made a proclamation concerning him that hee should be the third ruler in the kingdome.

30 The same night was Belshazzar the King of the Caldeans slaine.

31 And Darius [o] of the Medes tooke the kingdome, being threescore and two yeeres olde.

CHAP. VI.

1 Daniel is made ruler ouer the gouernours. 5 An act against Daniel. 16 He is put into a denne of lyons by the commaundement of the King. 23 Hee is deliuered by faith in God. 24 Daniels accusers are put vnto the lyons. 25 Darius by a decree magnifieth the God of Daniel.

IT pleased Darius to set ouer the kingdome [a] an hundreth and twenty gouernours, which should be ouer the whole kingdome.

2 And ouer these, three rulers (of whome Daniel was one) that the gouernours might giue accompts vnto them, and the King should ‖ haue no domage.

3 Now this Daniel [b] was preferred aboue the rulers and gouernours, because the spirit was excellent in him, and the King thought to set him ouer the whole realme.

4 ¶ Wherefore the rulers and the gouernours [c] sought an occasion against Daniel concerning the kingdome: but they could finde none occasion nor fault: for hee was so faithfull that there was no blame nor fault found in him.

5 Then sayde these men, We shall not finde an occasion against this Daniel, except we finde it against him concerning the Lawe of his God.

6 Therefore the rulers and these gouernours went together to the King, and sayd thus vnto him, King Darius, liue for euer.

7 All the rulers of thy kingdome, the officers and gouernours, the counsellers, and dukes haue consulted together to make a decree for ỹ King and to establish a statute, that whosoeuer shall aske a petition of any god or man for thirtie dayes saue of thee, O King, he shalbe cast into the denne of lyons.

8 Nowe, O King, confirme the decree, and seale the writing, that it be not changed, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which altereth not.

9 Wherefore King Darius [d] sealed the writing and the decree.

10 ¶ Nowe when Daniel vnderstood that hee had sealed the writing, hee went into his house, and his [e] window being open in his chamber toward Ierusalem, he kneeled vpon his knees three times a day, and prayed & praysed his God, as he did aforetime.

11 Then these men assembled, & found Daniel praying, and making supplication vnto his God.

12 So they came, & spake vnto the King concerning the Kings decree, Hast thou not sealed the decree that euery man that shall make a request to any God or man within thirtie dayes, saue to thee, O King, shalbe cast into the denne of lyons? The King answered, and sayde, The thing is true, according to the Lawe of the Medes and Persians, which altereth not.

13 Then answered they, and sayde vnto the King, This Daniel which is of the children of the captiuitie of Iudah, regardeth not thee, O King, nor the decree, that thou hast sealed, but maketh his petition three times a day.

14 When the King heard these wordes, hee was sore displeased with himselfe, and set his heart on Daniel, to deliuer him: and hee laboured till the sunne went downe, to deliuer him.

15 Then these men assembled vnto the King, and sayde vnto the King, Vnderstand, O King, that the lawe of the Medes and Persians is, that no decree nor statute which the King confirmeth,

[1] Before he reade the writing, hee declareth to the King his great ingratitude toward God, who could not be moued to giue him the glory, considering his wonderfull worke toward his grandfather, & so sheweth, that he doeth not sinne of ignorance, but of malice.

[m] After that God had so long time deferred his anger, and patiently waited for thine amendement.

[n] This worde is writte written for the certaintie of the thing: shewing that God had most surely counted: signifying also that God hath appointed a terme for all kingdoms, and that a miserable ende shall come on all that raise themselues against him.

‖ Or, wanting.

[o] Cyrus his sonne in lawe gaue him this title of honour, although Cyrus in effect had the dominion.

[a] Reade Ester, Chap. 1. 1.

[b] This heathen King preferred Daniel a stranger to all his nobles and familiars, because the graces of God were more excellent in him then in others.

[c] Thus the wicked can not abide the graces of God in others, but seeke by all occasions to deface them: therefore against such assaults there is no better remedie then to walke vprightly in the feare of God, & to haue a good conscience.

[d] Herein is condemned the wickednesse of the King, who would be set vp as a god, and passed not what wicked lawes he approued for the maintenance of the same.

[e] Because hee would not by his silence shew that he consented to this wicked decree, he set open his windowes toward Ierusalem, when he prayed: both to stirre vp himselfe with the remembrance of Gods promises to his people when they should pray toward the Temple, and also that others might see, that he would neither consent in heart nor deede for these fewe dayes to any thing that was contrary to Gods glory.

16 ¶ Then the king commaunded, and they brought Daniel, and caſt him into the denne of lyons: now the king ſpake, and ſaide vnto Daniel, Thy God, whom thou alway ſerueſt, euen he will deliuer thee.

17 And a ſtone was brought, and laid vpon the mouth of the denne, and the King ſealed it with his owne ſigner, and with the ſigner of his princes, that the purpoſe might not be changed, concerning Daniel.

18 Then ſ king went vnto his palace, & remained faſting, neither were ſ inſtruments of muſike brought before him, & his ſleepe went from him.

19 ¶ Then the King aroſe early in the morning, & went in all haſte vnto the denne of lions.

20 And when he came to the denne, he cried with a lamentable voyce vnto Daniel: and the king ſpake, and ſaid to Daniel, O Daniel, the ſeruant of ſ liuing God, is not thy God (whom thou alway ſerueſt) g able to deliuer thee from ſ lions?

21 Then ſaid Daniel vnto the King, O King, liue for euer.

22 My God hath ſent his Angel and hath ſhut the lions mouthes, that they haue not hurt mee: for h my iuſtice was found out before him: and vnto thee, O King, I haue done i no hurt.

23 Then was the King exceeding glad for him, & commanded that they ſhould take Daniel out of the denne: ſo Daniel was brought out of the denne, and no manner of hurt was found vpon him, becauſe he k beleeued in his God.

24 And by the commaundement of the King theſe mē which had accuſed Daniel, were broght, and were l caſt into the denne of lions, euen they, their children, and their wiues: and the lions had the maſtrie of them, & brake al their bones apieces, or euer they came at the ground of the denne.

25 ¶ Afterward king Darius wrote, Vnto all people, nations and languages, that dwel in al the world: Peace be multiplied vnto you.

26 I make a decree that in all the dominion of my kingdome, men tremble and feare m before the God of Daniel: for he is the n liuing God, and remaineth for euer: and his kingdome ſhall not periſh, and his dominion ſhalbe euerlaſting.

27 He reſcueth and deliuereth, and hee worketh ſignes & wonders in heauen & in earth: who hath deliuered Daniel frō the power of the lions.

28 So this Daniel proſpered in the reigne of Darius and in the reigne of Cyrus of Perſia.

f This declareth that Darius was not touched with the true knowledge of God, becauſe he doubted of his power.

g My iuſt cauſe & vprightnes in this thing, wherein I was charged, is approoued of God.

h For he did diſobey the kings wicked commandemēt to obey God, and ſo did no iniurie to ſ King, who ought to cōmaund nothing whereby God ſhould be diſhonoured.

i Becauſe he committed himſelfe wholy vnto God whoſe cauſe he did defend, he was aſſured, that nothing but good could come vnto him: wherein we ſee the power of faith, as Ebrew. 11. 33.

k This is a terrible example againſt al the wicked, which doe againſt their conſcience make cruel lawes to deſtroy the children of God, and alſo admoniſheth Princes how to puniſh ſuch, when their wickednēsis come to light: though not in euery point or with like circumſtances, yet to execute true iuſtice vpon them.

l This prooueth not that Darius did worſhip God aright, or els was converted: for then he would haue deſtroyed all ſuperſtition and idolatrie, and not onely giuen God the chiefe place, but alſo haue ſet him vp, and cauſed him to bee honoured according to his word: but this was a certaine confeſſion of Gods power, whereunto he was compelled by this wonderfull miracle.

m Which hath not onely life in himſelfe, but is the onely fountaine of life, and quickeneth all things, ſo that without him there is no life.

CHAP. VII.

3. A viſion of foure beaſtes is ſhewed vnto Daniel. 8 The ten hornes of the fourth beaſt. 27 Of the euerlaſting kingdome of Chriſt.

a Whereas the people of Iſrael looked for a continuall quietneſſe after theſe ſeuentie yeres, as Ieremiah had declared, he ſheweth that this reſt ſhal not be a deliuerance from all troubles but a beginning, and therefore incouraged them to looke for a continuall affliction till the Meſſiah be vttered & reuciled, by whom they ſhould haue a ſpirituall deliuerance, and all the promiſes fulfilled: whereof they ſhoulde haue a certaine token in the deſtruction of the Babylonicall kingdome.

IN the firſt yeere of Belſhazzar King of Babel, Daniel ſawe a dreame, and there were viſions in his head, vpon his bed: a then hee wrote the dreame, and declared the ſumme of the matter.

2 Daniel ſpake and ſaide, I ſawe in my viſion by night, and behold, the foure winds of the heauen ſtroue vpon b the great ſea.

3 And foure great beaſtes came vp from the ſea one diuers from another.

4 The firſt was as a c lion, & had egles wings: I beheld, till the wings thereof were pluckt off, & it was lifted vp from the earth, and ſet vpon his feete as a man, and a mans heart was giuen him.

5 And behold, another beaſt which was the ſecond, was like a d beare & ſtood vpon the e one ſide: and he had three ribbes in his f mouth betweene his teeth, g and they ſaide thus vnto him, Ariſe and deuoure much fleſh.

6 After this I beheld, and loe, there was an other like a h leopard, which had vpon his backe i foure wings of a fowle: the beaſt had alſo foure heads, and k dominion was giuen him.

7 After this I ſaw in the viſions by night, and behold, the l fourth beaſt was fearefull and terrible and very ſtrong. It had m great yron teeth: it deuoured and brake in pieces and ſtamped n the reſidue vnder his feete: and it was vnlike to the beaſts that were before it: for it had o ten horns.

8 As I conſidered the hornes, beholde, there came vp among them another little p horne, before whome there were q three of the firſt hornes pluckt away: & behold, in this horne were r eies like the eies of man, and a mouth ſpeaking prelumptuous things.

9 I beheld till the ſ thrones were ſet vp, and the t Ancient of dayes did ſit, whoſe garment was white as ſnowe, and the haire of his head like the pure wooll: his throne was like the firie flame, and his wheeles, as burning fire.

10 A firie ſtreame iſſued, and came footh from before him: thouſand thouſandes miniſtred vnto him, and tenne thouſand u thouſands ſtoode before him: the iudgemeut was ſet, and the x bookes opened.

b Which ſignified that there ſhould be horrible troubles and afflictions in the world in all corners of the world and at ſundrie times.

c Meaning, the Aſſyrian and Caldean empire, which was moſt ſtrong and fierce in power, and moſt ſoone come to their authoritie as though they had bad wings to flie: yet their wings were pulled by the Perſians, and they went on their ſeete, and were made like other men, which is here meant by mans heart.

d Meaning the Perſians, which were barbarous and cruel.

e They were ſmal in the beginning and were ſhut vp in their mountaines and had no haute.

f That is deſtroied many kingdomes, and was inſatiable.

g To wit, the Angels by Gods commandement, who by this meanes puniſhed the ingratitude of the world.

h Meaning, Alexander the King of Macedonie.

i That is his ſome chiefe captaines, which had the empire among them after his death. Seleucus had Aſia the great, Antigonus, the leſſe, Caſſander and after him Antipater was King of Macedonia, and Ptolemeus had Egypt.

k It was not of himſelfe nor of his owne power that he gate all theſe countries: for his armie conteined but thirtie thouſand men, and hee ouercame in one battell Darius, which had tenne hundreth thouſand, when he was ſo heauie with ſleepe that his eyes were ſcarſe open, as the ſtories report: therefore this power was giuen him of God.

l That is, the Romane empire which was as a monſter & could not be compared to any beaſt, becauſe the nature of none was able to expreſſe it.

m Signifying the tyrannie and greedineſſe of the Romanes.

n That which the Romanes could not quietly inioy in other countries, they would giue it to other Kings and rulers, that at all times when they would, they might take it againe: which liberalitie is heere called the ſtamping of the reſt vnder the feete.

o That is, ſundrie and diuers prouinces which were gouerned by the deputies and proconſuls, wherof euery one might be compared to a King.

p Which is meant of Iulius Cæſar, Auguſtus, Tiberius, Caligula, Claudius, and Nero, &c. who were as Kings in effect, but becauſe they coulde not rule, but by the conſent of the Senate, their power is compared to a litle horne. For Mahomet came not of the Romane empire, and the Pope hath no vocation of gouernement: therefore this cannot be applied vnto them. and alſo in this propheſie the Prophets purpoſe is chiefly to comfort the Iewes vnto the reuelation of Chriſt. Some take it for the whole body of Antichriſt.

q Meaning, a certaine portion of the tenne hornes: that is, a part from the whole eſtate was pluckt away. For Auguſtus tooke from the Senate the libertie of chooſing the deputies to ſend into the prouinces, and tooke the gouernement of certaine countries to himſelfe.

r Theſe Romane Emperours at the firſt vſed a certaine humanitie and gentleneſſe, and were content that others, as the Conſuls and Senate, ſhould beare the name of dignitie, ſo that they might haue the profite, and therefore in elections and counſels would behaue themſelues according as did other Senatours: yet againſt their enemies and thoſe that would reſiſt them, they were fierce and cruell, which is here meant by the proud mouth.

ſ Meaning the places where God and his Angels ſhould come to iudge theſe Monarchies, which iudgement ſhould beginne at the firſt comming of Chriſt.

t That is, God which was before all times, and is heere deſcribed as mans nature is able to comprehend ſome portion of his glorie.

u That is, an infinite number of Angels, which were readie to execute his commandement.

x This is meant of the firſt comming of Chriſt, when as the will of God was plainely reuciled by his Goſpel.

11 Then I behelde, y because of the voyce of the presumptuous words, which the horne spake: I behelde, euen till the beast was slaine, and his body destroyed, and giuen to the burning fire.

12 As z concerning the other beasts, they had taken away their dominion: yet their liues were prolonged for a certaine time and season.

13 ¶ As I behelde in visions by night, beholde, a one like the sonne of man came in the cloudes of heauen, and b approched vnto the Ancient of dayes, and they brought him before him.

14 And he gaue him c dominion, and honour, and a kingdome, that all people, nations and languages should serue him: his dominion is an euerlasting dominion, which shall neuer bee taken away: and his kingdome shall neuer be destroyed.

15 ¶ I Daniel was d troubled in my spirit, in the middes of my body, and the visions of mine head made me afraid.

16 Therefore I came vnto e one of them that stoode by, and asked him the trueth of all this: so he tolde me, and shewed me the interpretation of these things.

17 These great beastes which are foure, are foure Kings, which shall arise out of the earth, 18 And they shall take the f kingdome of the Saints of the g most High, which shall possesse the kingdome for euer, euen for euer and euer.

19 ¶ After this, I would know the trueth of the fourth beast, which was so h vnlike to all the others, very fearefull, whose teeth were of yron, and his nailes of brasse: which deuoured, brake in pieces, and stamped the i residue vnder his feete.

20 Also to know of the ten hornes that were in his head, and of the other which came vp, before whom three fell, and of the horne that had eyes, and of y mouth that spake presumptuous things, whose k looke was more stoute then his fellowes.

21 I beheld, and the same l horne made battell against the Saints, yea, & preuailed against them, 22 Vntill m the Ancient of dayes came, and iudgement was giuen to the Saintes of the most High: and the time approched, that the Saintes possessed the kingdome.

23 Then he said, The fourth beast shall be the fourth kingdome in the earth, which shall be vnlike to all the kingdomes, and shall deuoure the whole earth, and shall treade it downe and breake it in pieces.

24 And the ten hornes out of this kingdome are tenne Kings that shall rise: and an other shall rise after them, and he shall be vnlike to the first, and he shall subdue n three Kings,

25 And shall speake words against o the most High, and shall consume the Saintes of the most High, and thinke that he may p change times and lawes, and they shalbe giuen into his hand, vntil a time, and times, and the diuiding of time.

26 But the q iudgement shall sit, and they shal take away his dominion, to consume and destroy it vnto the ende.

27 And the r kingdome, and dominion, and the greatnesse of the kingdome vnder the whole heauen shalbe giuen to s holy people of the most High, whose kingdome is an euerlasting kingdome and all t powers shall serue and obey him.

28 Euen this is the ende of the matter. I Daniel had many u cogitations which troubled mee, and my countenance changed in me: but I kept the matter in mine heart.

y Meaning, that he was astonied, when he saw these Emperours in such dignitie, and pride, and so suddenly destroyed at the comming of Christ, when this fourth Monarchie was subiect to men of other nations.

z As the three former Monarchies had an ende at the time that God appointed, although they florished for a time, so shall this fourth haue, and they that patiently abide Gods appointment, shal enioy the promises.

a Which is meant of Christ, who had not yet taken vpon him mans nature, neither was the sonne of Danid according to the flesh, as he was afterward: but appeared then in a figure, and that in the cloudes: that is, being separate from the common sort of men by manifest signes of his diuinitie.

b To wit, when he ascended into the heauens, and his diuine maiestie appeared, and all power was giuen vnto him in respect of that that he was our Mediatour.

c This is ment of the beginning of Christs kingdome when God the Father gaue vnto him all dominion, as to the Mediatour, to the intent that he should gouerne here his Church in earth continually till the time that he brought them to eternall life.

d Through the strangenesse of the vision.

e Meaning, of the Angele, as verse 16.

f Because Abraham was appointed heire of all the worlde, Rom. 4. 13. and in him all the faithfull, therefore the kingdome therof is theirs by right, which these foure beasts or tyrants should inuade, & vsurpe vntil the world were restored by Christ: & this was to confirme them that were in troubles, that their afflictions should haue an end at length.

g That is, of the most high things, because God hath chosen them out of this world, that they should looke vp to the heauens, whereon all their hope dependeth.

h For the other three Monarchies were gouerned by a King, & the Romane empire by Consuls: the Romanes changed their gouernours yerely, & the other Monarchies reteined them for terme of liues: also the Romanes were the strongest of all the other, and were neuer quiet among themselues.

i Reade vers. 7.

k This is ment of the fourth beast, which was more terrible then the other.

l Meaning the Romane Emperours, who were most cruel against y Church of God both of the Iewes & of the Gentiles.

m Til God shewed his power in the person of Christ, & by the preaching of the Gospel gaue vnto him some rest, and so obteined a famous name in the world, and were called the Church of God, or the kingdome of God.

n Reade y exposition hereof, verse 8.

o That is, shal make wicked decrees and proclamations against Gods word, and send throughout all their dominion, to destroy all that did professe it.

p These Emperours shal not consider that they haue their power of God, but think it is in their owne power to change Gods lawes and ordinances, and as it were the order of nature, as appeareth by Octauian, Tiberius, Caligula, Nero, Domitianus, &c.

q God shall suffer them thus to rage against his Saintes for a long time, which is meant by the time & times, but at length will asswage these troubles and shorten the times for his elects sake, Matth. 24. 22. which is here meant by the diuiding of time.

r God by his power shall restore things that were out of order, and so destroy this little horne, that is shal neuer rise vp againe.

s He sheweth wherefore the beast should be destroyed, to wit, that his Church might haue rest and quietnesse, which though they do not fully enioy here, yet they haue it in hope and by the preaching of the Gospel enioy the beginning thereof, which is meant by these wordes, vnder the heauens and therefore he heere speaketh of the beginning of Christes kingdome in this world, which kingdome the faithfull haue by the participation that they haue with Christ their head.

t That is, some of euery sort that beare rule.

u Though he had many motions in his heart which mooued him to and fro to seeke out this matter curiously: yet he was content with that which God reuealed, and kept it in memorie, and wrote it for the vse of the Church.

CHAP. VIII.

A vision of a battell betweene a ramme and a goate. 20 The vnderstanding of the vision.

IN the third yeere of the reigne of King Belshazzar, a vision appeared vnto mee, euen vnto me Daniel, a after that which appeared vnto mee at the first.

2 And I saw in a vision, and when I sawe it, I was in the palace of Shushan, which is in the prouince b of Elam, and in a vision me thought I was by the riuer of Vlai.

3 Then I looked vp and sawe, and beholde, there stoode before the riuer a c ramme, which had two hornes: and these two hornes were hie: but one was d hier then another, and the highest came vp last.

4 I saw the ramme pushing against the West, and against the North, and against the South: so that no e beastes might stand before him, nor could deliuer out of his hand, but he did what he listed, and became great.

5 And as I considered, beholde, f a goate came from the West ouer the whole earth, and touched not the grounde: and this goate had an g horne that appeared betweene his eyes.

6 And he came vnto the ramme that had the two hornes, whome I had seene standing by the riuer, and ranne vnto him in his fierce rage.

7 And I sawe him come vnto the ramme, and being moued against him, he h smote the ramme, and brake his two hornes: and there was no power in the ramme to stand against him, but he cast him downe to the ground, and stamped vpon him, and there was none that coulde deliuer the ramme out of his power.

8 Therefore the goate waxed exceeding great, and when he was at the strongest, his great i horne was broken: and for it came vp foure that a After the generall vision, he commeth to certaine particular visions as touching the destruction of the Monarchie of the Persians, and Macedonians: for the ruine of the Babylonians was at hand, and also he had sufficiently spoken thereof.

b That is, of Persia.

c Which represented the kingdome of the Persians and Medes, which were ioyned together.

d Meaning Cyrus, which after grewe greater in power then Darius his vncle and father in lawe.

e That is, no kings or nations.

f Meaning Alexander that came from Grecia with great speede and expedition.

g Though he came in the name of all Grecia, yet hee bare the title and dignitie of the generall captaine, so that the strength was attributed to him, which is meant by this horne.

h Alexander ouercame Darius in two sundrie battels, and so had the two kingdomes of the Medes and Persians.

i Alexanders great power was broken: for when he had ouercome all the East, hee thought to returne toward Grecia to subdue them that there had rebelled, and so died by the way.

appeared toward y foure windes of the heauen.

9 And out of one of them came foorth l a little horne, which waxed very great towarde the m South, and toward the n East, and towarde the o pleasant land.

10 Yea, it grewe vp vnto the p hoste of heauen, and it cast downe some of the hoste, & of the starres to the ground, and trode vpon them,

11 And exalted himselfe against the q prince of the hoste from whome the r dayly sacrifice was taken away, and the place of his Sanctuarie was cast downe.

12 And s a time shall be giuen him ouer the dayly sacrifice for the iniquitie: and it shall t cast downe the trueth to the ground, and thus shall it doe, and prosper.

13 Then I heard one of the u Saints speaking, and one of the Saints spake vnto a certaine one, saying, Howe long shall endure the vision of the dayly sacrifice, and the iniquitie of the x desolation to treade both the Sanctuarie and the y armie vnder foote?

14 And z he answered me, Vnto the a euening and the morning, two thousand and three hundreth: then shall the Sanctuarie be clensed.

15 ¶ Nowe when I Daniel had seene the vision, and sought for the meaning, beholde, there stoode before me b like the similitude of a man.

16 And I heard a mans voyce betweene the bankes of Vlai, which called, and sayde, Gabriel, c make this man to vnderstand the vision.

17 So he came where I stood: and when hee came, I was afraide, and fell vpon my face: but he sayd vnto me, Vnderstand, O sonne of man; for d in the last time shall be the vision.

18 Nowe as he was speaking vnto mee, I being asleepe fell on my face to the ground: but he touched me, and set me vp in my place.

19 And hee sayd, Beholde, I will shewe thee what shalbe in the last e wrath: for in the end of the time appointed it shall come.

20 The ramme which thou sawest hauing two hornes, are the Kings of the Medes and Persians.

21 And the goate is the King of Grecia, and the great horne that is betweene his eyes, is the first King.

22 And that that is broken, and foure stoode vp for it, are foure kingdomes, which shall stand vp f of that nation, but not g in his strength.

23 And in the end of their kingdome, when the rebellious shalbe consumed, a King of h fierce countenance, and vnderstanding darke sentences, shall stand vp.

24 And his power shalbe mightie, but not i in his strength: and hee shall destroy wonderfully, and shall prosper, and practise, and shall destroy the k mightie, and the holy people.

25 And through his l pollicie also, he shall cause craft to prosper in his hand, and he shall extoll himselfe in his heart, and by m peace shal destroy many: hee shall also stand vp against the n prince of princes, but he shalbe broken downe o without hand.

26 And the vision of the p euening and the morning, which is declared, is true: therefore seale thou vp the vision, for it shall be after many dayes.

27 And I Daniel was stricken and sicke q certaine dayes: but when I rose vp, I did the kings businesse, and I was astonished at the vision, but none vnderstood it.

CHAP. IX.

3 Daniel desireth to haue that performed of God, which hee had promised concerning the returne of the people from their banishment in Babylon. 5 A true confession. 20 Daniels prayer is heard. 21 Gabriel the Angel expounderh vnto him the vision of the seuentie weekes. 24 The anointing of Christ. 25 The building againe of Ierusalem. 26 The death of Christ.

1 NThe first yeere of Darius the sonne of a Ahasuerosh, of the seede of the Medes, which was made King ouer the b realme of the Caldeans,

2 Euen in the first yeere of his reigne, I Daniel vnderstood by c bookes the number of the yeeres, whereof the Lord had spoken vnto Ieremiah the Prophet, that he would accomplish seuentie yeeres in the desolation of Ierusalem.

3 And I turned my face vnto the Lord God, and d sought by prayer and supplications with fasting and sackcloth and ashes.

4 And I prayed vnto the Lord my God, and made my confession, saying, Oh Lord God, which art e great and fearefull, & keepest couenant and mercy toward them which loue † thee, and toward them that keepe thy commandements.

5 We haue sinned, and haue committed iniquitie and haue done wickedly, yea, we haue rebelled, and haue departed from thy precepts, and from thy iudgements.

6 For wee would not obey thy seruants the Prophets, which spake in thy Name to our kings, to our princes, and to our fathers, and to all the people of the land.

7 O Lord, f righteousnes belongeth vnto thee, and vnto vs † open shame, as appeareth this day vnto euery man of Iudah, and to the inhabitants of Ierusalem: yea, vnto all Israel, both neere and farre off, through all the countreys, whither thou hast driuen them, because of their offences, that they haue committed against thee.

8 O Lorde, vnto vs appertaineth open shame, to our g Kings, to our princes, and to our fathers, because we haue sinned against thee.

9 Yet compassion and forgiuenesse is in the Lorde our God, albeit wee haue rebelled against him.

10 For we haue not obeyed the h voyce of the Lorde our God, to walke in his lawes, which hee had layde before vs by the ministerie of his seruants the Prophets.

11 Yea, all Israel haue transgressed thy lawe, and are turned backe, and haue not heard thy voyce: therefore the i curse is powred vpon vs, and the othe that is written in the Lawe of Moses d Hee speaketh not of that ordinarie prayer, which hee vsed in his house thrise a day, but of a rare & vehement prayer, lest their sinnes should cause God to delay the time of their deliuerance prophecied by Ieremiah.

12 And he hath confirmed his wordes, which he spake against vs, and against our iudges that ‖ iudged vs, by bringing vpon vs a great plague: for vnder the whole heauen hath not bene the like, as hath bene brought vpon Ierusalem.

13 All this plague is come vpon vs, as it is written in ỹ Law of Moses: yet made we not our prayer before the Lord our God, that we might turne from our iniquities and vnderstand thy trueth.

14 Therefore hath the Lord † made ready the plague, and brought it vpon vs: for the Lord our God is righteous in all his workes which hee doeth: for we would not heare his voyce.

15 * And nowe, O Lorde our God, that hast brought thy people out of the land of Egypt with a mightie hand, and hast gotten thee renoume, as appeareth this day, we haue sinned, we haue done wickedly.

16 O Lorde, according to all thy k righteousnes, I beseech thee, let thine anger and thy wrath be turned away from thy citie Ierusalem thine holy Mountaine: for because of our sinnes, & for the iniquities of our fathers, Ierusalem and thy people are a reproche to all that are about vs.

17 Nowe therefore, O our God, heare the prayer of thy seruant, and his supplications, and cause thy face to l shine vpon thy Sanctuarie, that lyeth waste for the m Lords sake.

18 O my God, encline thine eare and heare: open thine eyes, and beholde our desolations, and the citie whereupon thy Name is called: for we doe not present our supplications before thee for our owne n righteousnes, but for thy great tender mercies.

19 O Lorde heare, O Lorde forgiue, O Lorde o consider, and doe it: deferre not, for thine owne sake, O my God: for thy Name is called vpon thy citie, and vpon thy people.

20 ¶ And whiles I was speaking and praying, and confessing my sinne, and the sinne of my people Israel, and did present my supplication before the Lorde my God, for the holy Mountaine of my God, 21 Yea, while I was speaking in prayer, euen the man * Gabriel, whome I had seene before in the vision, came flying, and touched mee about the time of the euening oblation.

22 And he informed me, and talked with me, and sayd, O Daniel, I am now come forth to giue thee knowledge and vnderstanding.

23 At the beginning of thy supplications the commandement came foorth, and I am come to shewe thee, for thou art greatly beloued: therefore vnderstand the matter and consider the vision.

24 Seuentie p weekes are determined vpon q thy people, and vpon thine holy citie, to finish the wickednes, and to seale vp the r sinnes, and to reconcile the iniquitie, & to bring in euerlasting righteousnes, and to seale vp the vision and prophecie, and to anoynt the most Holy.

25 Knowe therefore and vnderstand, that from s the going foorth of the commaundement to bring againe the people, and to builde Ierusalem, vnto Messiah the prince, shall be seuen t weekes and u threescore & two weekes, and the streete shalbe built againe, and the wall euen in a † troublous time.

26 And after threescore & two x weekes, shal Messiah be slaine, and shall y haue nothing, and the people of z the prince that shall come, shall destroy the citie and the Sanctuarie, and the ende thereof shalbe with a flood: and vnto the ende of the battell it shalbe destroyed by desolations.

27 And he a shall confirme the couenant with many for one weeke: and in the middes of the weeke he shall cause the sacrifice and the oblation to b cease, c and for the ouerspreading of the abominations, he shall make it desolate, euen vntill the consummation determined shalbe powred vpon the desolate.

CHAP. X.

There appeareth vnto Daniel a man clothed in linnen, 11 Which sheweth him wherefore he is sent.

IN the a third yeere of Cyrus King of Persia, a thing was reuciled vnto Daniel (whose name was called Beltesshazzar) & the word was true, but the time appointed was b long, and he vnderstood the thing, and had vnderstanding of the vision.

a He noteth this third yere, because at this time the building of the Temple began to be hindered by Cambyses Cyrus sonne, when the father made warre in Asia minor against the Scythians, which was a discouraging to godly and a great feare to Daniel.
b Which is to declare that the godly should not faile too much but patiently to abide the yssue of Gods promes.

2 At the same time I Daniel was in heauines for three weekes of dayes.

3 I ate no pleasant bread, neither came flesh nor wine in my mouth, neither did I anoint my selfe at all, till three weekes of dayes were fulfilled.

4 And in the foure and twentieth day of the c first moneth, as I d was by the side of that great riuer, euen Hiddekel,

5 And I lift vp mine eyes, and looked, and beholde, there was a man e clothed in linnen, whose loynes were girded with fine golde of * Vphaz.

c Called Abib, which conteineth part of March and part of April.
d Being caried by the Spirit of prophecie to haue the sight of this riuer Tygris.
e This was the Angel of God, which was sent to assure Daniel in this prophecie that followeth.
*Ezec. 10. 9.

6 His body also was like the Chrysolite, and his face (to looke vpon) like the lightning, & his eyes as lamps of fire, and his armes and his feete were like in colour to polished brasse, & the voyce of his wordes was like the voyce of a multitude.

7 And I Daniel alone sawe the vision: for the men that were with me, sawe not the vision: but a great feare fell vpon them, so that they fled away and hid themselues.

8 Therefore I was left alone, and sawe this great vision, and there remained no strength in me: for f my strength was turned in me into corruption, and I reteined no power.

9 Yet heard I the voyce of his wordes: and when I heard the voyce of his wordes, I slept on my face: and my face was toward the ground.

10 And behold, an hand g touched me, which set me vp vpon my knees and vpon the palmes of mine hands.

11 And he sayd vnto mee, O Daniel, a man greatly beloued, vnderstand the wordes that I speake vnto thee, and stand in thy place: for vnto thee am I nowe sent. And when hee had sayd this worde vnto me, I stood trembling.

12 Then sayd he vnto me, Feare not, Daniel: for from the first day that thou diddest set thine heart to vnderstand, and to humble thy selfe before thy God, thy wordes were heard, and I am come for thy wordes.

f The worde also signifieth comelines, or beautie, so that for feare he was like a dead man for deformitie.
g Which declareth that when we are stricken down with the maiestie of God, we cannot rise except he also lift vs vp with his hand, which is his power.

13 But

13 But the [h] prince of the kingdome of Persia withstoode me one and twentie dayes: but loe, [i] Michael one of the chiefe princes, came to helpe me, and I remained there by the Kings of Persia.

14 Nowe I am come to shewe thee what shall come to thy people in the latter dayes: for yet the [k] vision is for many dayes.

15 And when he spake these words vnto me, I set my face toward the ground, and held my tongue.

16 And behold, one like the similitude of the sonnes of man touched my lippes: then I opened my mouth, & spake, and said vnto him that stood before me, O my Lord, [m] by the vision my sorowes are returned vpon me, and I haue retained no strength.

17 For howe can the seruant of this my Lord talke with my Lord being such one? for as for me, straightway there remained no strength in me, neither is there breath left in me.

18 Then there came againe and touched me one like the appearance of a man, and he strengthened me, 19 And saide, O man, greatly beloued, feare not: [n] peace be vnto thee: be strong and of good courage. And when he had spoken vnto me, I [o] was strengthened, and said, Let my Lord speake: for thou hast strengthened me.

20 Then saide he, Knowest thou wherefore I am come vnto thee? but nowe will I returne to fight with the Prince of Persia: and when I am gone forth, loe, the [p] prince of Grecia shal come.

21 But I will shew thee [y] which is decreed in the Scripture of truth: [q] & there is none [y] holdeth with me in these things, but Michael your prince.

11 Also I, in [y] first yere of Darius of [y] Medes, [even] I [a] stood to incourage & to strengthen him.

2 And now will I shew thee [y] trueth. Behold, there shall stand vp yet [b] three Kings in Persia, & the fourth shalbe farre richer then they all: and by his strength, and by his riches hee shall stirre vp [c] all against the realme of Grecia.

3 But a [d] mightie King shall stand vp, that shall rule with great dominon, and do according to his pleasure.

4 And when he shall stand vp, [e] his kingdome shalbe broken, [f] and shall be deuided toward the [g] foure windes of heauen: and not to his [h] posteritie, nor according to [i] his dominion, which he ruled: for his kingdome shalbe pluckt vp, euen to be for others besides [k] those.

5 And [y] king of [y] South shalbe mighty, [and] one of [m] his princes, and shal preuaile against him, & beare rule: his dominio shalbe a great dominio.

6 And in the ende of yeeres they shalbe ioyned together: for the Kinges [n] daughter of the South shall come to the King of the North to make an agreement, but she shal not retaine the power of the [o] arme, neither shal [p] hee continue, nor his [q] arme: but she shall be deliuered to death, and they that brought her, and he [r] that begate her, and he that comforted her in these times.

7 But out of the bud of her [r] rootes shall one stand vp in his stead, [s] which shall come with an armie, and shall enter into the fortresse of the King of the North, and doe with them as he list, and shall preuaile,

8 And shal also carie captiues into Egypt their gods with their molten images, and with their precious vessels of siluer and of gold, and he shall continue [u] mo yeres then the king of the North.

9 So the king of the South shall come into his kingdome, and shall returne into his owne land.

10 Wherefore his [x] sonnes shall be stirred vp, and shall assemble a mightie great armie: and one [y] shal come, and ouerflowe, & passe through: then shal he [z] returne, & be stirred vp at his fortresse.

11 And the King of the South shall be angrie, and shall come forth, and fight with him, euen with the king of the North: for he shall set forth a great [a] multitude, and the multitude shal be giuen into his hand.

12 Then the multitude shall be proude, and their heart shall be lifted vp: for hee shall cast downe thousands: but he shall not still preuaile.

13 For the king of the North [b] shall returne, and shal set forth a greater multitude then afore, and shall come foorth (after certaine yeeres) with a mightie armie, and great riches.

14 And at the same time there shall [c] manie stand vp against the King of the South: also the rebellious children of thy [d] people shal exalt themselues to establish the vision, but they shall fall.

15 So the King of the North shal come, & cast vp a mount, & take the strong citie: and the armes of [y] South shal [e] not resist, neither his chosen people, neither shal there be any strength to withstand.

16 But he that shall come, shall doe vnto him as he list, and none shall stand against him: & he shall stand in the [f] pleasant land, which by his hand shalbe consumed.

17 Againe he shall [g] set his face to enter with the power of his whole kingdome, & his consederates with him: thus shall he doe, & he shal giue him [y] [h] daughter of women, to destroy her: but a Meaning Cambyses who reigned in his fathers absence, and did not only for this space hinder the building of the Temple, but would haue farther angred, if God had not sent me to resist him, and therefore haue I stayed for the profite of the Church.

[k] she

i Though God could by one Angel destroy all the world, yet to assure his children of his loue, he sendeth fourth double power, euen Michael, that is, Christ Iesus the head of Angels.

k For though the Prophet Daniel shoulde ende and cease, yet this doctrine should continue till the comming of Christ, for the comfort of his Church.

l This was the same Angel that spake with him before in the similitude of a man.

m I was ouercome with feare and sorowe, when I sawe the vision.

n He declareth hereby that God would be mercifull vnto the people of Israel.

o Which declareth that when God smiteth downe his children, he doeth not immediatly lift the vp at once (for now the Angel had touched him twise) but by litle and litle.

p Meaning that he would not onely himselfe bridle the rage of Cambyses, but also the other Kinges of Persia, by Alexander the King of Macedonia.

q For this Angel was appointed for the defence of the Church vnder Christ, who is the head thereof.

CHAP. XI.

A prophecie of the kingdomes, which should be enemies to the Church of God, as of Persia, 3 Of Greece, 5 Of Egypt, 28 of Syria, 36 And of the Romanes.

1 The Angel affirmeth Daniel that God hath giuen him power to performe these things, seeing he appointed him to assist Darius, when he ouercame the Caldeans.

b Whereof Cambyses that nowe reigned, was the first, the second Smerdes, the third, Darius the sonne of Hystaspis, and the fourth Xerxes, which all were enemies to the people of God and stood against them.

c For he rayseth vp all the East countries to fight against the Grecians: and albeit he had in his armie nine hundred thousand men, yet in foure battels he was discomfited and fled away with shame.

d That is, Alexander the great.

e For when his estate was most flourishing, he ouercame himselfe with drinke, and so fell into a disease: or as some write, was poysoned by Cassander.

f For his twelue chiefe princes first deuided his kingdome among themselues.

g After this his Monarchie was deuided into foure: for Selencus had Syria, Antigonus Asia minor, Cassander the kingdome of Macedonia, and Ptolemeus Egypt.

h Thus God reuenged Alexanders ambition and cruelty in causing his posteritie to be murthered, partly of the fathers chiefe friendes, and partly one of another.

i None of these foure shalbe able to be compared to the power of Alexander.

k That is, his posteritie hauing no part thereof.

m That is, Antiochus the sonne of Selencus, and one of Alexanders princes shall be more mightie: for he should haue both Asia & Syria.

n That is, Berenice the daughter of Ptolemeus Philadelphus shall be giuen in marriage to Antiochus Theos, thinking by this affinitie that Syria and Egypt should haue a continuall peace together.

o That force and strength shall not continue: for soone after Berenice and her yong sonne after her husbands death, was slaine of her stepsonne Seleucus Calinicus the sonne of Laodice, the lawfull wife of Antiochus, but put away for this womans sake.

p Neither Ptolemeus nor Antiochus.

q Some read, seed, meaning the child begotten of Berenice.

r Some read, she that begate her, and thereby vnderstand her nurse, which brought her vp: so that all these that were occasion of this mariage, were destroyed.

s Meaning, that Ptolemeus Euergetes after the death of his father Philadelphus should succeed in y kingdome being of the same stocke that Berenice was.

t To reuenge his sisters death against Antiochus Calinicus king of Syria.

u For this Ptolemeus reigned fiue and fourtie yeeres.

x Meaning Seleucus and Antiochus the Great, the sonnes of Calinicus shall make warre against Ptolemeus Philopater the sonne of Philadelphus.

y For his elder brother Seleucus died, or was slaine while the warres were preparing.

z That is, Philopater when he shall see Antiochus to take great dominions from him in Syria, and also ready to inuade Egypt.

a For Antiochus had sixe thousand horsemen and three score thousand footemen.

b After the death of Ptolemeus Philopater, who left Ptolemeus Epiphanes his heire.

c For not onely Antiochus came against him, but also Philip King of Macedonia, and these two brought great power with them.

d For vnder Onias which falsely alleged that place of Isa. 19. 19. certaine of the Iewes retyred with him into Egypt to fulfil this prophesie: also the Angel sheweth that all these troubles which are in the Church, are by the prouidence and counsell of God.

e The Egyptians were not able to resist Stopas Antiochus captaine.

f He sheweth that he shall not onely afflict the Egyptians, but also the Iewes, & shal enter into their country, where of he admonisheth the before, that they may know that all these things come by Gods prouidence.

g This was y second battell that Antiochus fought against Ptolemeus Epiphanes.

h To wit, a beautifull woman, which was Cleopatra Antiochus daughter.

i For he regarded not the life of his daughter in respect of the kingdom of Egypt.

h she shal not stand on his side, neither be for him.

18 After this shall he turne his face vnto the Iyles, and shal take many, but a prince u shal cause his shame to light vpon him, beside that he shall cause his owne shame to turne vpon n himselfe.

19 For he shal turne his face toward the fortes of o his owne land: but he shall be ouerthrowen and fall, and be no more p found.

20 q Then shal stand vp in his place in the glorie of the kingdome, one that shal raise taxes: but after fewe dayes he shall be destroyed, neither in r wrath, nor in battell.

21 And in his place shall stand vp a s vile person, to whom they shall not giue the honour of the kingdome: but hee shall come in peaceablie, and obteine the kingdome by flatteries.

22 And the t armes shal be ouerthrowen with a flood before him, and shall be broken: and also the prince of the u couenant.

23 And after x the league made with him, hee shall worke deceitfully: for he shal come vp, and ouercome with a y small people.

24 He shall enter into the quiet and plentifull prouince, and he shall doe that which his fathers z haue not done, nor his fathers fathers: he shal deuide among them the praie and the spoile, and the substance, yea, and he shall forecast his deuises against the strong holdes, euen for a a time.

25 Also he shal stirre vp his power & his courage against y King of the South with a great armie, and the King of the South shall be stirred vp to battel with a very great & mightie armie: but he shall not b stand: for they shall forecast and practise against him.

26 Yea, they that feede of the portion of c his meate, shall destroy him: & his armie d shall ouerflow: and many shall fall, and be slaine.

27 And both these Kings hearts shalbe to doe e mischiefe, and they shall talke of deceit at one table: but it shall not availe: for f yet the ende shall be at the time appointed.

28 Then shall hee returne into his land with great g substance: for his heart shall bee against the holy couenant: so shall he doe and returne to his owne land.

29 At the time appointed he shall returne, & come toward the South: but the last shall not be as the first.

30 For the ships h of Chittim shall come against him: therefore he shalbe sory and returne, and fret against the holy couenant: so shall hee doe, hee shal euen returne i and haue intelligence with them that forsake the holy couenant.

31 And armes k shal stand on his part, & they shall pollute the Sanctuarie l of strength, and shal take away the daily sacrifice, and they shall set vp the abominable desolation.

32 And such as wickedly m breake y couenant, shal he cause to sinne by flatterie: but the people that do know their God, shal preuaile & prosper.

33 And they y vnderstand among n the people, shall instruct many: o yet they shal fall by sword, & by flame, by captiuitie & by spoile many daies.

34 Now when they shal fal, they shall be holpen with a p litle helpe: but many shal cleaue vnto them q fainedly.

35 And some of r thē of vnderstanding shal fal to trie them, & to purge, & to make them white, til the time be out: for there is a time appointed.

36 And the s king shall doe what him list: he shall exalt himselfe, and magnifie himself against all, that is God, & shall speake marueilous things against y God of gods, & shall prosper, til y wrath t be accomplished: for the determination is made.

37 Neither shal he regard the u God of his fathers, nor the desires x of women, nor care for any God: for he shal magnifie himselfe aboue all.

38 But in his place shall he honour the y god Mauzzim, and the god whom his fathers knewe not, shall he honour with z gold and with siluer, and with precious stones, and pleasant things.

39 Thus shal he do in a the holdes of Mauzzim with a strange god whom he shall acknowledge: he shal increase his glory, and shal cause them to rule ouer many, and shall deuide y land for gaine.

40 And at y end of time shall the King of the b South push at him, & the King of the North shal come against him like a whirlewind w charets, & with horsmen, and w many ships, & he shal enter into y countries, & shal ouerflow & passe through.

41 He shal enter also into the c pleasant land, and many countries shalbe ouerthrowen: but these shal escape out of his hand, euen Edom & Moab, and the chiefe of the children of Ammon.

42 He shall stretch foorth his hands also vpon y countries, & the land of Egypt shal not escape.

43 But he shall haue power ouer the treasures of golde and of siluer, and ouer all the precious things of Egypt, and of the Libyans, and of the blacke Mores where he shall passe.

k She shall not agree to his wicked counsell, but shal loue her husband, as her duetie requireth, and not seeke his destruction.

l That is, toward Asia, Grecia, and those yles which are in the Sea called Mediterraneum: for the Iewes called al countries yles which were deuided frō them by Sea.

m For whereas Antiochus was wont to contemne the Romanes, and put their ambassadours to shame in all places, Attilius the Consull, or Lucius Scipio put him to flight, and caused his shame to turne on his owne head.

n By his wicked life and obeying of foolish counsel.

o For feare of the Romanes he shal flee to his holdes.

p For when as vnder the pretence of powertie he would haue robbed the Temple of Iupiter Dodoneus, the countrey men slew him.

q That is, Seleucus shall succeed his father Antiochus.

r Not by forreine enemies, or battel, but by treason.

s Which was Antiochus Epiphanes, who as is thought, was the occasion of Seleucus his brothers death, and was of a vile, cruel and flattering nature, and defrauded his brothers sonne of the kingdome, and vsurped the kingdome without the consent of the people.

t Hee sheweth that great forreine powers shal come to helpe the yong sonne of Selencus against his vncle Antiochus, and yet shall bee ouerthrowen.

u Meaning Ptolemeus Philometor Philopaters sonne, who was this childes cousin germane, and is here called the prince of the couenant, because he was the chiefe, and all other followed his conduct.

x For after the battel Philometor and his vncle Antiochus made a league.

y For he came vpon him at vnwares, and when hee suspected his vncle Antiochus nothing.

z Meaning, in Egypt.

a He will content himselfe with the small holdes for a time, but euer labour by craft to attaine to the chiefest.

b He shall be ouercome with treason.

c Signifying his princes and the chiefe about him.

d Declaring that his souldiours shall brast out and venture their life to slay and to be slaine for the sauegard of their prince.

e The vncle and the nephew shall take truce, and banket together, yet in their hearts they shall imagine mischiefe one against another.

f Signifying, that it standeth not in the counsell of men to bring things to passe, but in the prouidence of God, who ruleth the Kings by a secret bridle, that they cannot doe what they list themselues.

g Which he shall take of the Iewes in spoiling Ierusalem and the Temple, and this is told them before to moone them to patience, knowing that all things are done by Gods prouidence.

h That is, the Romane power shall come against him: for P. Popilius the Ambassadour appointed him to depart in the Romanes name, to which thing he obeied, although with griefe, and to reuenge his rage he came against the people of God the second time.

i With the Iewes which shal forsake the couenant of the Lord: for so he was called a Iason the high priest, & this setled time by Menelaus.

k A great faction of the wicked Iewes shall hold with Antiochus.

l So called, because the power of God was nothing diminished, although this tyrant set vp in the Temple the image of Iupiter Olympius, and so began to corrupt y pure seruice of God.

m Meaning such as bare the name of Iewes, but in deed were nothing lesse: for they sold their soules, and betraied their brethren for gaine.

n They that remaine constant among the people shall teach others by their example, and edifie many in the true religion.

o Whereby he exhorteth y godly to constancie, although they should perish a thousand times, and though their miseries endure neuer so long.

p As God will not leaue his Church destitute, yet will he not deliuer it all at once, but so helpe, as they may still seeme to fight vnder the crosse, as he did in the time of the Maccabees whereof he here prophecieth.

q That is, there shall be euen of this small number many hypocrites.

r To wit, of them that feare God and will lose their life for the defence of true religion, signifying also that the Church must continually be tried and purged, and ought to looke for one persecution after another: for God hath appointed the time: therefore we must obey.

s Because the Angel's purpose is to shew the whole course of the persecutions of the Iewes vnto the comming of Christ, he now speaketh of the Monarchie of the Romanes which he noteth by the name of a King, who were without all religion and contemned the true God.

t So long the tyrants shall prevaile as God hath appointed to punish his people: but he sheweth that it is but for a time.

u The Romanes shall obserue no certaine fourme of religion as other nations, but shall change their gods at their pleasures, yea, contemne them and preferre themselues to their gods.

x Signifying that they should be without all humanitie: for the lone of women is taken for singular or great loue, as 2. Sam. 1. 26.

y That is, the god of power and riches: they shal esteeme their owne power aboue all their gods and worship it.

z Vnder pretence of worshipping the gods, they shal enrich their citie with the most precious iewels of all the world, because that hereby all men should haue them in admiration for their power & riches.

a Although in their hearts they had no religiō, yet they did acknowledge the gods, & worshipped them in their temples, least they should haue bin despised as Atheists: but this was to increase their fame & riches: and when they gate any countrey, they so made others the rulers thereof, that the profite euer came to the Romanes.

b That is, both the Egyptians and the Syrians shall at length fight against the Romanes, but they shal be ouercome.

c The Angel forewarneth the Iewes that when they should see the Romanes inuade them, and that the wicked should escape their hands, then they should not thinke but that all this was done by Gods prouidence, forasmuch as he warned them of it so long afore, and therefore he would still preserue them.

d Hearing that Cassius was slaine and Antonius discomfited.
e For Augustus ouercame the Parthians, and recouered that which Antonius had lost.
f The Romanes after this reigned quietly through all countries and from sea to sea, and in Iudea: but at length (for their sinne) the God shall destroy them.

44 But the tidings out of the East & the North shall d trouble him: therefore he shall goe foorth e with great wrath to destroy & roote out many.
45 And he shall plant the tabernacles f of his palace betwene the seas in the glorious and holie mountaine, yet he shal come to his end, and none shall helpe him.

CHAP. XII.

1 Of the deliuerance of the Church by Christ.

a The Angel here noteth two things: first that ỹ Church shalbe in great affliction & trouble, ar Christs cõming, & next ỹ God wil send his Angel to deliuer it, whome here he calleth Michael, meaning Christ, which is published by the preaching of the Gospel.
b Meaning, al shal rise at the generall resurrection, which thing he here nameth, because the faithful should haue euer their respect to that: for in the earth there shalbe no sure comfort.
c Who haue kept ỹ true feare of God & his religion.
d He chiefly meaneth the ministers of Gods word, & next all the faithful which instruct the ignorant, and bring them to the true knowledge of God.
e Though the most part despise this prophesie, yet keepe thou it sure & esteeme it as a treasure.
f Till the time that God hath appointed for the ful reuelation of these things: and then many shal runne to and fro to search the knowledge of these mysteries, which things they obtaine now by the light of the Gospel.

AND at ỹ a time shal Michael stand vp, ỹ great prince, which standeth for the childrẽ of thy people, and there shalbe a time of trouble, such as neuer was since there began to be a nation vnto ỹ same time: and at ỹ time thy people shalbe deliuered, euery one ỹ shalbe found written in ỹ booke.
2 And many b of them that sleepe in the dust of the earth, shall awake, some to euerlasting life, and some to shame and perpetuall contempt.
3 And they ỹ be c wise, shal shine, as ỹ brightnes of ỹ firmament: & they ỹ d turne many to righteousnes, shal shine as the starres, for euer and euer.
4 But thou, O Daniel, e shut vp the words, & seale the booke f til the end of ỹ time: many shal run to and fro, and knowledge shal be increased.
5 ¶ Thẽ I Daniel loked, & behold, there stood other two, ỹ one on this side of ỹ brinke of ỹ riuer, & the other on ỹ side of ỹ brink of the riuer.
6 And one saide vnto the man clothed in linen, which was vpon the waters of the riuer, When shalbe the end of these wonders?
7 And I heard the man clothed in linen which was vpon the waters of the riuer, whẽ he held vp his g right hand, and his left hand vnto heauen, & sware by him that liueth for euer, that it shall tarie for a i time, two times & an halfe: and whẽ he shal haue accomplished k to scatter the power of the holy people, all these things shal be finished.
8 Thẽ I heard it, but I vnderstood it not: thẽ said I, O my Lord, what shalbe ỹ end of these things?
9 And he said, Go thy way, Daniel: for ỹ words are closed vp, and sealed, till the end of the time.
10 Many shalbe purified, made white, & tried: but the wicked shall doe wickedly, and none of the wicked shall haue vnderstanding: but the wise shal vnderstand.
11 And frõ ỹ time ỹ the l daily sacrifice shalbe takẽ away, & ỹ abominable desolatiõ set vp, there m shalbe a thousand, two hundred & ninety days.
12 Blessed is he that waiteth & commeth to ỹ thousand, three hundreth & n fiue & thirty daies.
13 But go o thou thy way til ỹ end be: for thou shalt rest & stand vp in thy lot, at ỹ end of ỹ days.

g Which was Tygris.
h Which was as it were a double oth and did the more cõfirme the thing.
i Meaning, a long time, a longer time, and at length a short time, signifying that their troubles should haue an end.
k When ỹ Church shalbe scattered and diminished in such sort as it shal seem to haue no power.
l From the time that Christ by his sacrifice shal take away the sacrifice and ceremonies of the Lawe.
m Signifying that the time shal be long of Christes second comming, and yet the children of God ought not to be discouraged, though it be deferred.
n In this number he adde the months and an halfe to the former number, signifying that it is not in man to appoint the time of Christes comming, but that they are blessed that patiently abide his appearing.
o The Angell warneth the Prophet patiently to bide, till the time appointed come, signifying that he should depart this life, and rise againe with the elect, when God had sufficiently humbled and purged his Church.

HOSEA,

THE ARGVMENT.

After that the ten tribes had fallen away frõ God by the wicked & subtile counsel of Ieroboã the son of Nebat, & in stead of his true seruice cõmãded by his word, worshipped him according to their own fãtasies & traditiõs of mẽ, giuing thẽselues to most vile idolatry & superstitiõ, the Lord frõ time to time sent thẽ Prophets to call thẽ to repentance: but they grew euer worse & worse, & stil abused Gods benefits. Therfore now when their prosperity was at the highest vnder Ieroboã the son of Ioash, God sent Hosea & Amos to the Israelites (as he did at the same time Isaiah & Micah to them of Iudah) to condemne thẽ of their ingratitude: & whereas they thought thẽselues to be greatly in the fauor of God, & to be his people, the Prophet calleth thẽ bastards & children borne in adultery: & therfore sheweth thẽ that God would take away their kingdom, & giue thẽ to the Assyrians to be led away captiues. Thus Hosea faithfully executed his office for the space of seuenty yeres, though they remained stil in their vices & wickednes, & derided the prophets, & contẽned Gods iudgements. And because they should neither be discouraged with threatnings only, nor yet flatter thẽselues by the sweetnes of Gods promises, he setteth before thẽ the two principal parts of the Law, which are the promes of saluation, & the doctrine of life: for the first part he directeth the faithful to Messiah, by whõ only they should haue true deliuerãce: and for the second, he vseth threatnings & menaces to bring them frõ their wicked maners & vices, & thus is the chiefe scope of all the Prophets, either by Gods promises to allure them to be godly, or else by threatnings of his iudgements to feare them from vice: and albeit that the whole Lawe contains these two points, yet the Prophets moreouer note peculiarly both the time of Gods iudgements & the maner.

CHAP. I.

1 The time wherein Hosea prophecied. 2 The idolatrie of the people. 10 The calling of the Gentiles. 11 Christ is the head of all people.

a Called also Azariah, who being a leper was deposed from his kingdom.
b So that it may be gathered by the reigne of these foure kings, that he preached aboue threescore yeeres.
c That is, one that of long time hath accustomed to play the harlot: not that the Prophet did this thing in effect, but he sawe this in a vision, or else was commanded by God to set foorth vnder this parable or figure the idolatrie of the Synagogue, and of the people her children.

THE worde of the Lorde that came vnto Hosea the sonne of Beeri, in the daies a of Vzziah, Iotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah b kings of Iudah, and in the dayes of Ieroboam the sonne of Ioash king of Israel.
2 At the beginning the Lord spake by Hosea, and the Lord said vnto Hosea, Go, c take vnto thee a wife of fornications, and children of fornications: for the land hath committed great whoredome, departing from the Lord.
3 So he went, & tooke d Gomer, ỹ daughter of Diblaim, which cõceiued & bare him a sonne.
4 And the Lord said vnto him, Call his name e Izreel: for yet a litle, and I will visite the blood of Izreel vpon the house f of Iehu, and wil cause to cease the kingdome of the house of Israel.
5 And at that g day will I also breake the bowe of Israel in the valley of Izreel.
6 She conceiued yet againe, & bare a daughter, and God said vnto him, Call her name h Lo-d Gomer signifieth a consumption or corruption. & Diblaim clusters of figs, declaring that they were al corrupt like rotten figs.

e Meaning, ỹ they should be no more called Israelites of the which name they boasted, because Israel did preuaile with God: but that they were as bastards, and therefore should be called Izreelites, that is, scattered people, alluding to Izreel, which was ỹ chiefe city of the ten tribes vnder Ahab where Iehu shed so much blood, 2 Kin. 10. 8
f I wil be reuenged vpon Iehu for the blood that he shed in Izreel: for albeit God stirred him vp to execute his iudgements, yet he did them for his own ambition, and not for the glory of God, as the end declared: for he built vp that idolatrie, which he had destroyed.
g When the measure of their iniquity is ful, and I shall take vengeance and destroy all their policie and force.
h That is, not obtaining mercy: whereby he signifieth, that Gods fauor was departed from the ruhamah: for I wil no more haue pitie vpon the house of Israel: but I will vtterly i take the away.

7 Yet I will haue mercie vpon the house of Iudah, and will k saue them by the Lorde their God, and will not saue them by bowe, nor by sword nor by battell, by horses, nor by horsemen.

8 Now when she had wained Lo-ruhamah, she conceiued, and bare a sonne.

9 Then said God, Call his name l Lo ammi: for yee are not my people: therefore will I not bee yours.

10 Yet the number of the m children of Israel shalbe as the sand of the sea, which can not bee measured nor told: and in the place where it was said vnto them, Ye are not my people, it shall be saide vnto them, Ye are the sonnes of the liuing God.

11 Then shall the children of Iudah, and the children of Israel be n gathered together, and appoint themselues one head, & they shall come vp out of the land: for great is the o day of Izreel.

i For the Israelites neuer returned after that they were taken captiues by the Assyrians.

k For after their captiuitie he restored them miraculously by ȳ meanes of Cyrus, Ezr. 1.1.

l That is, not my people.

m Because they thought that God could not haue bin true in his promes except he had preserued them, he declareth, that though they were destroied, yet the true Israelites, which are ȳ sonnes of ȳ promes shuld be without nüber, which stand both of the Iewes, and the Gentiles, Rom. 9 26.

n To wit, after the captiuitie of Babylon when the Iewes were restored: but chiefly this is referred to the time of Christ, who should be the head both of the Iewes and Gentiles.

o The calamitie and destruction of Izreel shall be so great, that to restore them shall be as a miracle.

CHAP. II.

1 The people is called to repentance. 5 He sheweth their idolatrie and threatneth them except they repent.

SAy vnto your a brethren, Ammi, and to your sisters, Ruhamah.

2 Pleade with your b mother: plead with her: for she is not my wife, neither am I her husband: but let her take away her fornications out of her sight, & her adulteries c frō betwene her breasts,

3 d Lest I strip her naked, & set her as in the day that she was borne, e & make her as a wildernes, and leaue her like a dry land, and slay her for thirst.

4 And I wil haue no pitie vpon her children: for they be the f children of fornications.

5 For their mother hath played the harlot: she that conceiued them, hath done shamefully: for she said, I will goe after my g louers that giue me my bread and my water, my wooll and my flaxe, mine oyle and my drinke.

6 Therefore beholde, I will stoppe h thy way with thornes, and make an hedge, that shee shall not finde her paths.

7 Though she followe after her louers, yet shall shee not come at them: though shee seeke them, yet shall she not finde them: then shall she say, i I will go and returne to my first husband: for at that time was I better then now.

8 Now shee did not knowe that I k gaue her corne, and wine, and oyle, and multiplied her siluer and gold, which they bestowed vpon Baal.

9 Therefore will I returne, and take away l my corne in the time thereof, and my wine in the season thereof, and wil recouer my wooll and my flaxe lent, to couer her shame.

10 And now will I discouer her m lewdnesse in the sight of her louers, and no man shal deliuer her out of mine hand.

a Seeing ȳ I haue promised you deliuerance, it remaineth that you incourage one another to embrace the same, considering that ye are my people on whome I will haue mercy.

b God sheweth that the fault was not in him but in their Synagogue, & their idolatries, that he forsooke them, Isa. 50.1.

c Meaning, that their idolatrie was so great, that they were not ashamed, but boasted of it, Ezek. 16.25.

d For though this people were as an harlot for their idolatries, yet he had left them with their apparell and dowrie & certaine signes of his fauor, but if they stil continued, he would vtterly destroy them.

e When I brought her out of Egypt, Ezek. 16.4.

f That is, bastards and begotten in adulterie.

g Meaning, the idoles which they serued & by whom they thought they had wealth & abundance.

h I wil punish thee that then thou maiest trie whether thine idoles can help thee, and bring thee into such streightnesse, that thou shalt haue no lust to play the wanton.

i This he speaketh of ȳ faithful, which are truely conuerted, and also sheweth the vse and profite of Gods rod.

k This declareth that idolaters defraude God of his honour when they attribute his benefites to their idoles.

l Signifying that God wil take away his benefits when man by his ingratitude doth abuse them.

m That is, all her seruice, ceremonies and inuentions whereby she worshipped her idoles.

11 I will also cause all her mirth to cease, her feast dayes, her newe moones, and her Sabbaths, and all her solemne feasts.

12 And I will destroy her vines & her figtrees, whereof she hath said, These are my rewards that my louers haue giuen me: and I will make them as a forest, and the wilde beasts shal eate them.

13 And I wil visit vpon her the daies of p Baalim, wherein she burnt incense to them: and shee decked her selfe with her q earings & her iewels, and she followed her louers, and forgate me, saith the Lord.

14 Therefore behold, I will r allure her, and bring her into the wildernesse, and speake friendly vnto her.

15 And I will giue her her vineyardes from thence, and the valley s of Achor for the doore of hope, and she shall t sing there as in the dayes of her youth, and as in the dayes when she came vp out of the land of Egypt.

16 And at that day, saith the Lord, thou shalt call me u Ishi, and shalt call me no more t Baali.

17 For I will take away the names of Baalim out of her mouth, and they shall be no more remembred by their u names.

18 And in that day wil I make a couenant for them, with the x wild beasts, and with the foules of the heauen, and with that that creepeth vpon the earth: and I will breake the bowe, and the sworde and the battell out of the earth, and will make them to sleepe safely.

19 And I will marry thee vnto me for euer: yea, I will marry thee vnto me in righteousnes, & in iudgement, and in mercy and in compassion.

20 I will euen marry thee vnto me in y faithfulnesse, and thou shalt know the Lord.

21 And in that day I wil heare, saith the Lord, I will euen heare z the heauens, and they shall heare the earth.

22 And the earth shal heare the corne, and the wine, and the oile, and they shall heare Izreel.

23 And I will sowe her vnto me in the earth, and I will haue mercie vpon her, that was not pitied, and I will say to them which were not my people, *Thou art my people. And they shal say, Thou art my God.

n I wil punish her for her idolatrie.

o By shewing how harlots trim themselues to please others, he declareth how the superstitious idolaters set a great part of their religiō in decking themselues on their holidaies.

p By my benefites in offring his grace & mercie euen in that place where she shall think her selfe destitute of all helpe and comfort.

q Which was a plentiful valley, and wherein they had great comfort when they came out of the wildernes, as Iosh 7.26, and is called the doore of hope, because it was a departing frō death, and an entrie into life.

r She shal then praise God as she did when she was deliuered out of Egypt.

s That is, mine husband, knowing ȳ I am ioyned to thee by an inuiolable couenant.

t That is, my master: which name was applied to their idoles.

u No idolatrie shall once come into their mouth, but they shal serue me purely according to my word.

x Meaning, that he will so blesse them that all creatures shall fauour them.

y With a couenant that neuer shall be broken.

z Then shall the heauen desire raine for the earth which shall bring foorth for the vse of man.

* Rom. 9.25. *1.pet.*2.10.

CHAP. III.

1 The Iewes shalbe cast off for their idolatry. 5 Afterward they shall returne to the Lord.

THen said the Lord to me, a Go yet, and loue a woman (beloued of her husband, and was an harlot) according to the loue of the Lord toward the children of Israel: yet they looked to other gods, and b loued the wine bottels.

2 So c I bought her to me for fifteene pieces of siluer, and for an homer of barlie and an halfe homer of barlie.

3 And I said vnto her, Thou shalt abide with d me many daies: thou shalt not play the harlot, and thou shalt be to none other man, and I wil be so vnto thee.

4 For the children of Israel shall e remaine a Herein the Prophet representeth the person of God, which loued his Church before he called her, and did not withdraw the same whē she gaue her selfe to idoles.

b That is, gaue themselues wholy to pleasures, and could not take vp, as they that are giuen to drunkennesse.

c Yet I loued her, and payed a small portion for her, lest shee perceiuing the greatnes of my loue, should haue abused mee and not beene vnder duetie: for fifteene pieces of siluer were but halfe the price of a slaue. Exodus 21.32.

d I will trie thee a long time as in thy widowhoode whether thou wilt be mine or no.

e Meaning

many dayes without a King & without a ſprince, and without an offering, and without an image, and without an Ephod, and without Teraphim.

5 Afterward ſhall the children of Iſrael conuert, and ſeeke the Lord their God, and g Dauid their King, and ſhal feare the Lord, and his goodnes in the latter dayes.

CHAP. IIII.

A complaint againſt the people, and the Prieſts of Iſrael.

HEare the word of the Lord, ye children of Iſrael: for the Lord a hath a controuerſie with the inhabitants of the land, becauſe there is no trueth nor mercie nor knowledge of God in the land.

2 By ſwearing, and lying, and killing, & ſtealing, and whoring they breake out, and b blood toucheth blood.

3 Therefore ſhall the land mourne, and euery one that dwelleth therein, ſhall be cut off, with the beaſts of the field, and with the foules of the beauen, and alſo the fiſhes of the ſea ſhal be taken away.

4 Yet c let none rebuke, nor reproue another: for thy people are as they that rebuke the Prieſt.

5 Therefore ſhalt thou fall in the d day, and the Prophet ſhall fall with thee in the night, and I will deſtroy thy e mother.

6 My people are deſtroyed for lacke of knowledge: becauſe f thou haſt refuſed knowledge, I wil alſo refuſe thee, that thou ſhalt be no Prieſt to me: and ſeeing g thou haſt forgotten the Law of thy God, I will alſo forget thy children.

7 As they were h increaſed, ſo they ſinned againſt me: therefore will I change their glory into ſhame.

8 i They eate vp the ſinnes of my people, and lift vp their mindes in their iniquitie.

9 And there ſhall be like people, like k Prieſt: for I wil viſite their wayes vpon them, & reward them their deeds.

10 For they ſhall eate, and not haue ynough: they ſhal l commit adulterie, & ſhal not increaſe, becauſe they haue left off to take heed to ſy Lord.

11 mWhoredome, and wine, and newe wine take away their heart.

12 My n people aske counſell at their ſtocks, and their ſtaffe teacheth them: for the o ſpirit of fornications hath cauſed them to erre, and they haue gone a whoring from vnder their God.

13 They ſacrifice vpon the tops of the mountaines, and burne incenſe vpon the hils vnder the okes, and the poplar tree, and the elme, becauſe the ſhadow thereof is good: therfore your daughters ſhall be p harlots, and your ſpouſes ſhall be whores.

14 I wil not q viſite your daughters when they are harlots: nor your ſpouſes, whē they are whores: for they themſelues are ſeparated with harlots, and ſacrifice with whores: therefore the people that doeth not vnderſtand, ſhall fall.

15 Though thou, Iſrael, play the harlot, yet r let not Iudah ſinne: come not ye vnto ſ Gilgal, neither goe yee vp to t Beth-auen, nor ſweare, The Lord liueth.

16 For Iſrael is rebellious as an vnruly heifer. Nowe the Lord will feede them as a u lambe in a large place.

17 Ephraim is ioyned to idoles: let him alone.

18 Their drunkennes ſtinketh: they haue committeth whoredome: their rulers loue to ſay with ſhame, x Bring ye.

19 The winde hath y bound them vp in her wings, & they ſhalbe aſhamed of their ſacrifices.

a Becauſe the people would not obey the admonitions of the Prophet, he citeth them before the iudgement ſeat of God, againſt whō they chiefly offended, Iſa. 7 13. Zecha. 11. 10. mich. 6. 1, 2.

b In euery place appeareth a libertie to moſt haynous vices, ſo that one followeth in the necke of another.

c As though he would ſay that it were in vaine to rebuke them: for no man can abide it: yea, they will ſpeake againſt the Prophets & prieſts whoſe office it is chiefly to rebuke them.

d Ye ſhall periſh altogether: the one, becauſe he would not obey, and the other becauſe he would not admonith.

e That is, the Synagogue wherein thou boaſteſt.

f That is, the Prieſts ſhall be caſt off, becauſe that for lacke of knowledge, they are not able to execute their charge, & inſtruct others. Deut. 33. 9. Mal. 2. 7.

g Meaning, the whole body of the people, which were wearie with hearing the word of God.

h The more I was beneficiall vnto them.

i To wit, ſy Prieſts ſeeke to eate the peoples offerings and flatter them in their ſinnes.

k Signifying, that as they haue ſinned together, ſo ſhall they be puniſhed together.

l Shewing, that their wickednes ſhall be puniſhed on all ſortes: for though they thinke by the multitude of wiues to haue many children, yet they ſhal be deceiued of their hope.

m In giuing themſelues to pleaſures, they become like brute beaſts.

n Thus he ſpeaketh by deriſion in calling them his people, which nowe for their ſinnes they were not: for they forgot helpe of ſtockes and ſtickes.

o They are caried away with a rage.

p Becauſe they take away Gods honour, and giue it to idoles, therefore hee will giue them vp to their luſtes, that they ſhall diſhonour their owne bodies, Rom. 1. 28.

q I will not correct your ſhame to bring you to amendment, but let you runne headlong to your owne damnation.

r God complaineth that Iudah is infected, and willeth thē to learne by their example to returne in time.

ſ For albeit the Lord had honoured this place in time paſt by his preſence, yet becauſe it was abuſed by their idolatrie, he would not that his people ſhould reſort thither.

t He calleth Beth-el, that is, the houſe of God, Beth-auen, that is, ſy houſe of iniquitie, becauſe of their abominations ſet vp there, ſignifying that no place is holy where God is not purely worſhipped.

u God will ſo diſperſe them that they ſhall not remaine in any certaine place.

x They are ſo impudent in receiuing bribes, that they will command men to bring them vnto them.

y To cary them ſuddenly away.

CHAP. V.

1 Againſt the Prieſtes and rulers of Iſrael. 13 The helpe of man is in vaine.

OYe Prieſtes, heare this, and hearken ye, O houſe of Iſrael, and giue ye eare, O houſe of the King: for iudgement is toward you, becauſe you haue bene a a ſnare on Mizpah, and a net ſpred vpon Tabor.

2 Yet they were profound, to decline to b ſlaughter, though I haue bene a c rebuker of them all.

3 I know d Ephraim, and Iſrael is not hid frō me: for nowe, O Ephraim thou art become an harlot, and Iſrael is defiled.

4 They will not giue their mindes to turne vnto their God: for the ſpirite of fornication is in the mids of them, and they haue not knowen the Lord.

5 And the e pride of Iſrael doeth teſtifie to his face: therefore ſhal Iſrael and Ephraim fal in their iniquitie: Iudah alſo ſhall fall with them.

6 They ſhall goe with their ſlkepe, and with their bullockes to ſeeke the Lord: but they ſhall not finde him: for he hath withdrawen himſelfe from them.

7 They haue tranſgreſſed againſt the Lord: for they haue begotten f ſtrange childrē: nowe ſhal g a moneth deuoure them with their portions.

8 Blowe yee the trumpet in Gibeah, and the ſhaume in Ramah: crie out at Beth-auē, after thee, O h Beniamin.

9 Ephraim ſhall bee deſolate in the day of rebuke: among the tribes of Iſrael haue I cauſed to i know the trueth.

10 The princes of Iudah were like them that k remooue the bound: therefore will I powre out my wrath vpon them like water.

11 Ephraim is oppreſſed, & broken in iudgemēt, becauſe he willingly walked after the l commandement.

12 Therfore wil I be vnto Ephraim as a moth, and to the houſe of Iudah as a rottennеſſe.

13 When Ephraim ſawe his ſickneſſe, and Iudah his wound, thē went Ephraim vnto m Aſſhur, and ſent vnto King n Iareb: yet could hee not heale you, nor cure you of your wound.

14 For I wil bee vnto Ephraim as a Lion, and as a lions whelpe to the houſe of Iudah: I, euen I will ſpoyle, and goe away: I will take away, and none ſhall reſcue it.

15 I will goe, & returne to my place, till they acknowledge their fault, & ſeeke me: in their affliction they will ſeeke me diligently.

a The Prieſts and princes catched the poore people in their ſnares as the foulers did the birds, in theſe two high mountains.

b Notwithſtanding they ſeemed to be giuen altogether to holines and to ſacrifices, which here he calleth ſlaughter in contempt.

c Though I had admonithed them continually by my Prophets.

d They boaſted themſelues not onely to be Iſraelites, but alſo Ephraimites, becauſe their King Ieroboam came of that tribe.

e Meaning their conſumming of all admonitions.

f That is, their children are degenerate, ſo ſy there is no hope in them.

g Their deſtruction is not farre off.

h That is, all Iſrael comprehended vnder this part, ſignifying that the Lordes plagues ſhould purſue thē from place to place till they were deſtroyed.

i By the ſucceſſe they ſhall know that I haue ſurely determined this.

k They haue turned vpſide downe all political order, and all maner of religion.

l To wit, after King Ieroboams commandement and did not rather follow God.

m In ſtead of ſeeking for remedie in Gods hand.

n Who was king of the Aſſyrians,

CHAP. VI.

1 Affliction cauſeth a man to turne to God. 9 The wickedneſſe of the Prieſts.

COme, and let vs a returne to the Lord: for he hath ſpoiled, and he will heale vs: hee hath wounded vs, and he will binde vs vp.

2 After two dayes will b he reuiue vs, and in the third day he will raiſe vs vp, and we ſhall liue in his ſight.

3 Then ſhal we haue knowledge, & indeuour our ſelues to know the Lord: his going foorth is prepared as the morning, & he ſhal come vnto vs as the raine, & as the latter raine vnto the earth.

4 O Ephraim, what ſhall I doe vnto thee? O Iudah, how ſhall I intreate thee? for c your goodneſſe is as a morning cloud, and as the morning dewe it goeth away.

5 Therefore haue I d cut downe by the Prophets: I haue ſlaine them by the wordes of my mouth, and thy e iudgements were as the light that goeth foorth.

6 For I deſired f mercy, and not ſacrifice, and the knowledge of God more then burnt offrings.

7 But they g like men haue tranſgreſſed the couenant: there haue they treſpaſſed againſt me.

8 h Gilead is a citie of them that worke iniquitie, and is polluted with blood.

9 And as theeues waite for a man, ſo the companie of Prieſtes murther in the way by conſent: for they worke miſchiefe.

10 I haue ſeene vilenie in the houſe of Iſrael: there is ỹ whoredom of Ephraim: Iſrael is defiled.

11 Yea, Iudah hath ſet a iplant for thee, whiles I would returne the captiuitie of my people.

a He ſheweth the people how they ought to turne to the Lord, that he might call backe his plagues.
b Though he correct vs from time to time, yet his helpe will not be farre off, if we returne to him.
c You ſeeme to haue a certaine holineſſe and repentance, but it is vpõ the ſudden, & as a morning cloud.
d I haue ſtill laboured by my prophets, and as it were framed you to bring you to amendment, but all was in vaine: for my word was not meate to feed them, but a ſword to ſlay them.
e My doctrine which I taught thee, was moſt euident.
f He ſheweth to what ſcope his doctrine tended, that they ſhould ioyne the obedience of God, and the loue of their neighbour with outward ſacrifice. g That is, like light and weake perſons. h Which was the place where the Prieſts dwelt, & which ſhould haue bene beſt inſtructed in my word. i That is, doeth imitate thine idolatrie, & hath taken graſſes of thy trees.

CHAP. VII.

1 Of the vices and wantonneſſe of the people. 12 Of their puniſhment.

WHen I would haue healed Iſrael, then the iniquitie of Ephraim was diſcouered, and the wickednеſſe of Samaria: for they haue dealt falſly: and a the thiefe commeth in, and the robber ſpoileth without.

2 And they conſider not in their hearts, that I remember all their wickednes: now their owne inuentions haue beſet them about: they are in my ſight.

3 They make the b King glad with their wickedneſſe, and the princes with their lies.

4 They are all adulterers, and as a very c ouen heated by the baker, which ceaſeth frõ raiſing vp, & from kneading ỹ dough vntil it be leauened.

5 This is the d day of our King: the princes haue made him ſicke with flagons of wine: hee ſtretcheth out his hand to ſcorners.

6 For they haue made readie their heart like an ouen whiles they lie in waite: their baker ſleepeth all the night: in the morning it burneth as a flame of fire.

7 They are all hote as an ouen, and haue e deuoured their iudges: all their Kings are fallẽ: there is none among them that calleth vnto me.

8 Ephraim hath f mixt himſelfe among ỹ people. Ephraim is as a cake on ỹ hearth not turned.

9 Strangers haue deuoured his ſtrength, and he knoweth it not: yea, g gray haires are here and there vpon him, yet he knoweth not.

10 And the pride of Iſrael teſtifieth to his face, and they doe not returne to the Lord their God, nor ſeeke him for all this.

11 Ephraim alſo is like a doue deceiued, without b heart: they call to Egypt: they go to Aſſhur.

12 But when they ſhal goe, I will ſpred my net vpon them, and drawe them downe as the foules of the heauen: I will chaſtiſe them as their congregation hath heard.

13 Wo vnto them: for they haue fled away from me: deſtruction ſhalbe vnto them, becauſe they haue tranſgreſſed againſt me: though I haue k redeemed them, yet they haue ſpoken lies againſt me.

14 And they haue not cried vnto mee with their hearts, l when they howled vpon their beds: m they aſſemble themſelues for corne, and wine, and they rebell againſt me.

15 Though I haue bound & ſtrengthened their arme, yet doe they imagine miſchiefe againſt me.

16 They returne, but not to the moſt high: they are like a deceitfull bowe: their princes ſhall fall by the ſword, for the rage n of their tongues: this ſhall be their deriſion in the land of Egypt.

a Meaning, that there was no one kind of vice among them, but that they were ſubiect to all wickedneſſe, both ſecret and open.
b They ſeeme their wicked king Ieroboam aboue God, and ſeeke but how to flatter and pleaſe him.
c He compareth the rage of the people to a burning ouen which the baker heateth ſtill till his dough be leauened and raiſed.
d They vſed all riot and exceſſe in their feaſts and ſolemnities, wherby their King was ouercome with ſurfet, & brought into diſeaſes, & delited in flatteries.
e By their occaſion God hath deprined them of all good rulers. f That is, he counterfaited the religion of the Gentiles, yet is hee as a cake baked on the one ſide and rawe on the other, that is, neither through hote, nor through cold, but partly a Iew, and partly a Gentile.
g Which are ſo token of his manifold afflictions.
h That is, without all iudgement, as they that cannot tell whether it is better to cleaue onely to God, or to ſeeke the helpe of man.
i According to my curſes made in the whole congregation of Iſrael.
k That is, diuers times redeemed them, and deliuered them from death.
l When they were in affliction and cried out for paine, they ſought not vnto me for helpe.
m They onely ſeeke their owne commodities and wealth, and paſſe not for me their God.
n Because they boaſt of their owne ſtrength, and paſſe not what they ſpeake againſt me & my ſeruants, Pſalm. 73. 9.

CHAP. VIII.

1 The deſtruction of Iudah & Iſrael, becauſe of their idolatrie.

SEt the trumpet to thy a mouth: he ſhall come as an egle againſt the Houſe of the Lord, becauſe they haue tranſgreſſed my couenant, & treſpaſſed againſt my Lawe.

2 Iſrael ſhall b crie vnto me, My God, wee know thee.

3 Iſrael hath caſt off the thing that is good: the enemie ſhall purſue him.

4 They haue ſet vp a c King, but not by mee: they haue made princes, & I knew it not: of their ſiluer and their gold haue they made them idoles: therefore ſhall they be deſtroied.

5 Thy calfe, O Samaria, hath caſt thee off: mine anger is kindled againſt them: howe long will they be without d innocencie!

6 e For it came euen from Iſrael: the workeman made it, therefore is it not God: but the calfe of Samaria ſhalbe broken in pieces.

7 For they haue f ſowen the winde, and they ſhall reape the whirlewind: it hath no ſtalke: the bud ſhal bring foorth no meale: if ſo be it bring foorth, the ſtrangers ſhall deuoure it.

8 Iſrael is deuoured, now ſhall they be among the Gentiles as a veſſell wherein is no pleaſure.

9 For they are gone vp to Aſſhur: they are as a g wilde aſſe alone by himſelfe: Ephraim hath hired louers.

10 Yet though they haue hired among ỹ nations, now wil I gather them, & they ſhall ſorow a litle, for the h burden of the King & the princes.

11 Becauſe Ephraim hath made many altars to ſinne, his altars ſhalbe to ſinne.

12 I haue written to thẽ the great things of my Law: but they were counted as a i ſtrange thing.

13 They ſacrifice fleſh for the ſacrifices of mine offerings, and eate it: but the k Lord accepteth them not: now will he remember their iniquitie, and viſite their ſinnes: they ſhal returne to Egypt.

a God encourageth the Prophet to ſignifie ỹ ſpeedie coming of the enemy againſt Iſrael, which was once the people of God.
b They ſhall erie like hypocrites, but not from the heart, as their deeds declare.
c That is, Ieroboam, by whom they ſought their owne libertie, and not to obey my will.
d That is, vpright iudgement and godly life.
e Meaning, the calfe was inuented by themſelues, and of their fathers in the wildernеſſe.
f She wing ỹ their religion hath but a ſhew, and is it ſelfe is but vanitie.
g They neuer ceaſe but runne to & fro to ſeeke helpe.
h That is, for the tribute which the King and the princes ſhall lay vpon them: which meanes the Lord vſeth to bring them to repentance.
i Thus the idolaters count the word of God as ſtrange in reſpect of their owne inuentions.
k Saying that they offer it to ỹ Lord, but he accepteth no ſeruice, which he himſelfe hath not appointed.

14 For Israel hath forgotten his maker, and buildeth temples, & Iudah hath increased strong cities: but I will send a fire vpon his cities, and it shall deuoure the palaces thereof.

CHAP. IX.

Of the hunger and captiuitie of Israel.

REioyce not, O Israel for ioy [a] as other people: for thou hast gone a whoring from thy God: thou hast loued [b] a reward vpō euery corne floore.

2 [c] The floore, and the wine presse shall not feede them, and the new wine shal faile in her.

3 They will not dwell in the Lords land, but Ephraim will returne to Egypt, and they wil eate vncleane things in Asshur.

4 They shall not offer [d] wine to the Lorde, neither shal their sacrifices be pleasant vnto him: but they shal be vnto them as the bread of mourners: all that eate thereof, shal be polluted: for their bread [e] for their soules shall not come into the house of the Lord.

5 What wil ye do [f] then in the solemne day, and in the day of the feast of the Lord?

6 For loe, they are gone from [g] destruction: but Egypt shal gather them vp, and Memphis shal burie them: the nettle shall possesse the pleasant places of their siluer, and the throne shal be in their tabernacles.

7 The dayes of visitation are come: the dayes of recompence are come: Israel shall knowe it: [h] the Prophet is a foole: the spirituall man is mad, for the multitude of thine iniquity: therefore the hatred is great.

8 The watchman of Ephraim [i] shoulde be with my God: but the Prophet is the snare of a fouler in all his wayes, and hatred in the House of his God.

9 They [k] are deepely set: they are corrupt as in the daies of Gibeah: therefore he will remember their iniquitie, he wil visite their sinnes.

10 I found Israel like [l] grapes in the wildernes: I sawe your fathers as the first ripe in the fig tree at her first time: but they went to Baal-Peor, and separated themselues vnto that shame, and their abominations were according to [m] their louers.

11 Ephraim: their glorie shall flee away like a birde: from the birth [n] and from the wombe, and from the conception.

12 Though they bring vp their children, yet I wil depriue them from being men: yea, woe to them, when I depart from them.

13 Ephraim, as I sawe, is as a tree [o] in Tyrus planted in a cottage: but Ephraim shall bring foorth his children to the murtherer.

14 O Lorde, giue them: what wilt thou giue them? giue them a [p] barren wombe and drie breasts.

15 All their wickednesse is in [q] Gilgal: for there do I hate them: [r] for the wickednes of their inuentions, I wil cast them out of mine House: I will loue them no more: all their princes are rebels.

16 Ephraim is smitten, their roote is dried vp, they can bring no fruite: yea, though they bring forth, yet wil I slay euen [s] deerest of their bodie.

17 My God wil cast them away, because they did not obey him: and they shall wander among the nations.

CHAP. X.

1 Against Israel and his idoles. 14 His destruction for the same.

ISrael is an [a] empeie vine, yet hath it brought foorth fruit vnto it selfe, and according to the multitude of the fruit thereof hee hath increased the altars: according to the [b] goodnesse of their land they haue made faire images.

2 Their heart is [c] diuided: now shall they be found faultie: he shal breake downe their altars: he shall destroy their images.

3 For now they shal say, We haue no [d] King because we feared not the Lord: and what should a King do to vs?

4 They haue spoken wordes, swearing falsely in making [e] a couenant: thus [f] iudgement groweth as wormewood in the furrowes of the field.

5 The inhabitants of Samaria shall [g] feare because of the calfe of Beth-auen: for the people thereof shall mourne ouer it, and the [h] Chemarims thereof, that reioyced on it for the glorie thereof, because it is departed from it.

6 It shall be also brought to Asshur, for a present vnto King Iareb: Ephraim shall receiue shame, and Israel shall be ashamed of his owne counsel.

7 Of Samaria, the king thereof is destroyed, as the fome vpon the water.

8 The high places also of [i] Auen shal be destroyed, euen the sinne of Israel: the thorne and the thistle shal growe vpon their altars, and they shal say to the mountaines, [*] Couer vs, and to the hils, Fall vpon vs.

9 O Israel, thou hast [k] sinned from the daies of Gibeah: there they [l] stoode: the battel in Gibeah against the children of iniquitie did not [m] touch them.

10 It is my desire [n] that I shoulde chastice them, and the people shal be gathered against them, when they shall gather themselues in their two [o] furrowes.

11 And Ephraim is as an heifer vsed to delite in [p] threshing: but I will passe by her [q] faire necke: I wil make Ephraim to ride: Iudah shall plow, and Iakob shal breake his clodds.

12 Sowe to your selues in righteousnes: reape after the measure of mercie: [r] breake vp your fallow ground: for it is time to seeke the Lorde, till he come and raine righteousnesse vpon vs.

13 But you haue plowed wickednesse: yee haue reaped iniquitie: you haue eaten the fruit of lies: because thou didded trust in thine owne wayes, and in the multitude of thy strong men,

14 Therefore shall a tumult arise among thy people, and all thy munitions shall be destroied, as [s] Salman destroyed Beth-arbel in the day a For though all other people should escape, yet thou shalt be punished.

b Thou hast committed idolatry in hope of reward, & to haue thy barnes filled, Ierem. 44. 17. as an harlot that had rather liue by playing the whore then to be interteined of her own husband.

c These outward things that thou seekest, shal be taken from thee.

d All their doings both touching policie and religion, shalbe reiected as things polluted.

e The meat offring which they offred for themselues.

f When the Lorde shall take away all the occasions of serving him, which shal be the most grieuous point of your captiuitie, when ye shall see your selues cut off from God.

g Though they thinke to escape by doeing the destruction that is at hand, yet shal they be destroied in the place whither they flee for succour.

h Then they shall know that they were deluded by them who shalen-ged to themselues to be their prophets and spiritual men.

i The Prophets duety is to bring men to God, & not to be a snare to pul them from God.

k This people is so rooted in their wickednesse, that Gibeah which was like to Sodom, was nothing more corrupt, Iud. 19. 22

l Meaning, that he so esteemed the land defiled in the, as if they were as abominable vnto him as their louers

m Signifying, that God would destroy their children by these sundry meanes, and so plainly in their houres to Tyrus go preserue them from the cold aire of the Sea, so was Ephraim at the first vnto mee, but nowe I will giue him to the slaughter.

n The Prophet seeing the great plagues of God toward Ephraim, prayeth to God to make them barren, rather then that this great slaughter should come vpon their children.

o The chiefe cause of their destruction is that they commit idolatrie, and corrupt my religion in Gilgal, a Whereof though the grapes were gathered, yet euer as it gathered new strength, it increased new wickednesse, so that the correction which shoulde haue brought them to obedience, did but vtter their stubbernesse.

b As they were rich and had abundance.

c To wit, from God.

d The day shall come that God shall take away their King, and then they shall feele the fruit of their sinnes, and how they trusted in him in vaine, 2. King 17. 4, 7.

e In promising to be faithfull toward God.

f Thus their integritie and fidelitie which they pretended, was nothing but bitternes and griefe.

g When the calfe shalbe caried away.

h Chemarims were certaine idolatrous priestes, which did weare blacke apparell in their sacrifices and cried with a loude voyce: which superstition Elisha derided, 1. King. 18. 27. reade 2. Kin. 23. 5.

i This he speaketh in contempt of Beth-el, reade Chap. 4. 15. & 5. 5. Amos 5. 5. Luke 23. 30.

k Reuel. 6. 16. and 9. 6.

l In those dayes wast thou as wicked as the Gibeonites, as God there partly declared: for thy zeale could not bee good in executing Gods iudgements, seeing thine owne deedes were as wicked as theirs.

m The Israelites were not moued by their example to cease from their sinnes.

n Because they are so desperate, I will delight to destroy them.

o That is, when they haue gathered all their strength together.

p Wherein is pleasure, as in plowing is labour and paine.

q I will lay my yoke vpon her fat necke.

r Reade Ieremie 4. 4.

s That is, Shalmanazar in the destruction of that citie spared neither kinde nor age.

of battell: the mother with the children was dashed in pieces.

15 So shall Beth-el doe vnto you, because of your malicious wickednes: in a morning shal the King of Israel be destroied.

CHAP. XI.

1 The benefites of the Lord toward Israel. 5 Their ingratitude against him.

WHen Israel [a] was a childe, then I loued him, and called my sonne out of Egypt.

2 They called them, but they [b] went thus from them: they sacrificed vnto Baalim, and burnt incense to images.

3 I ledde Ephraim also, as one should beare them in his armes: but they knew not that I healed them.

4 I led them with cordes [c] of a man, euen with bandes of loue, and I was to them, as he that taketh off the yoke from their iawes, and I layed the meate vnto them.

5 He shall no more returne into the land of Egypt: but Asshur shall be his [d] King, because they refused to conuert.

6 And the sword shall fall on his cities, and shall consume his barres, and deuoure them, because of their owne counsels.

7 And my people are bent to rebellion against me: though [e] they called them to the most hie, yet none at all would exalt him.

8 [f] How shall I giue thee vp, Ephraim? how shall I deliuer thee, Israel? how shall I make thee, as [g] Admah? how shal I set thee, as Zeboim? mine heart is turned within mee: [h] my repentings are rouled together.

9 I will not execute the fiercenesse of my wrath: I wil not returne to destroy Ephraim: for I am God, and not man, the holy one in the mids of thee, and I wil not [i] enter into the citie.

10 They shal walke after the Lord: hee shall roare like a lyon: when he shall roare, then the children of the West shall feare.

11 [k] They shal feare as a sparow out of Egypt, and as a doue of the land of Asshur, and I will place them in their houses, saith the Lord.

12 Ephraim [l] compasseth me about with lies, and the house of Israel with deceit: but Iudah yet ruleth with [l] God, and is faithfull with the Saints.

a While the Israelites were in Egypt and did not prouoke my wrath by their malice and ingratitude.
b They rebelled and went a contrary way when the prophets called them to repentance.
c That is, friendly: and not as beasts or slaues.
d Seeing they contemne al this kindnesse, they shall be led captiue into Assyria.
e To wit, the Prophets.
f God considereth with himselfe, and that with a certaine griefe howe to punish them.
g Which were two of the cities y were destroyed w Sodom, deu. 29. 23.
h Meaning that his loue wherwith he first loued thē, made him betweene doubt and assurance what to do: and herein appeareth his fatherly affectiō, that his mercy toward his shal ouercome his iudgements, as he declareth in the next verse.
i To consume thee, but will ease thee to yeeld and so receiue thee to mercie: and this is meant of the smal number who shall walke after the Lord.
k The Egyptians and Assyrians shall be afraide when the Lord maintaineth his people.
l Gouerneth their state according to Gods word, and doeth not degenerate.

CHAP. XII.

He admonisheth by Iaakobs example to trust in God, and not in man.

EPhraim is fed [a] with the wind, and followeth after the East winde: he increaseth daily lies and destruction, and they doe make a couenant with Asshur, and [b] oile is carried into Egypt.

2 The Lorde hath also a controuersie with [c] Iudah, and will visite Iaakob, according to his wayes: according to his workes, wil he recompence him.

3 Hee tooke his brother by the heele in the wombe, and by his strength hee had [d] power with God,

4 And had [e] power ouer the Angel, and preuailed: he wept and praied vnto him: [f] he found him in Beth-el, and there he spake with vs.

a That is, flattereth himselfe with vaine confidence.
b Meaning, presents to get friendship.
c Which in these pointes was like to Ephraim, but not in idolatries.
d Seeing that God did thus preferre Iaakob their father, Iudahs ingratitude was the more to be abhorred.
e Reade Ge. 32. 31.
f God found Iaakob as he lay sleeping in Bethel, Gene. 28. 12. and so spake with him there, that the fruite of that speach appertained to the whole bodie of the people, whereof we are.

5 Yea, the Lord God of hostes, the Lorde is himselfe his memoriall.

6 Therefore turne thee to thy God: keepe mercy and iudgement, and hope still in thy God.

7 He is [g] Canaan: the balances of deceit are in his hand: he loueth to oppresse.

8 And Ephraim saide, Notwithstanding I am rich, I haue found me out riches in al my labours: they shall finde none iniquitie in me, [h] that were wickednesse.

9 Though I am the Lord thy God, from the land of Egypt, yet wil I make thee to dwel in the tabernacles, as in [i] the daies of the solemne feast.

10 I haue also spoken by the Prophets, and I haue multiplied visions, and vsed similitudes by the ministerie of the Prophets.

11 Is there [k] iniquity in Gilead? surely they are vanitie: they sacrifice bullocks in Gilgal, & their altars are as heapes in the furrowes of the field.

12 [l] And Iaakob fled into the countrey of Aram, and Israel serued for a wife, and for a wife he kept sheepe.

13 And by a [m] Prophet [y] Lord brought Israel out of Egypt, & by a Prophet was he reserued.

14 But Ephraim prouoked him with his places: therfore shal his blood be powred vpon him, and his reproch shall his Lord reward him.

g As for Ephraim he is more like the wicked Canaanites thē godly Abraham or Iaakob.
h Thus the wicked measure Gods fauour by outward prosperitie, & like hypocrites can not abide that any should reproue their doings.
i Seeing thou wilt not acknowledge my benefits, I will bring thee againe to dwel in tents as in the feast of the Tabernacles, which thou doest now contemne.
k The people thought that no man durst haue spoken against Gilead, that holy place, and yet the Prophet saieth, that all their religion was but vanitie.
l If you boast of your riches and pollicie, yee seeme to reproch your father who was a poore fugitiue and seruant.
m Meaning Moses, whereby appeareth, that whatsoeuer they haue, it commeth of Gods free goodnesse.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The abomination of Israel, 9 And the cause of their destruction.

WHen Ephraim spake, there was [a] trembling: he [b] exalted himselfe in Israel, but he hath sinned in Baal, [c] and is dead.

2 And now they sinne more and more, and haue made them molten images of their siluer, and idoles according to their owne vnderstanding: they were all the worke of the craftsmen: they say one to an other whiles they sacrifice a [d] man, Let them kisse the calues.

3 Therefore they shall bee as the morning cloude, and as the morning dewe that passeth away, as the chaffe that is driuen with a whirlewinde out of the floore, and as the smoke that goeth out of the chimney.

4 Yet I am the Lorde thy God [e] from the land of Egypt, and thou shalt know no God but me: for there is no Sauiour beside me.

5 I did knowe thee in the wildernesse, in the land of drought.

6 As in their pastures, so were they filled: they were filled, and their heart was exalted: therefore haue they forgotten me.

7 And I wil be vnto them as a very lion, and as a leopard in the way of Asshur.

8 I will meete them, as a beare that is robbed of her whelpes, and I will breake the kall of their heart, and there will I deuoure them like a lion: the wilde beast shal teare them.

9 O Israel, one [f] hath destroyed thee, but in me is thine helpe.

10 [g] I am: where is thy King, that should helpe thee in all thy cities? and thy iudges, of whom thou saidest, Giue me a King, and princes?

11 I gaue thee a King in mine anger, and I tooke him away in my wrath, a He sheweth the excellencie, and authoritie that this tribe had aboue all the rest.

b He made a king of his tribe.
c The Ephraimites are not farre from destruction, & haue lost their authoritie.
d The false prophets perswaded idolaters to offer their children after y exaple of Abraham, and he sheweth howe they would exhort one another to the same, and to kisse and worship these calues which were their idoles.
e He calleth them to repentance and reproueth their ingratitude.
f Thy destruction is certaine, and my benefits toward thee declare that it commeth not of me: therfore thine owne malice, idolatrie & vaine confidence in men must needes be the cause thereof.
g I am all one James 1. 17.

12 The

12 The iniquitie of Ephraim is bound vp: his sinne is hid.

13 The sorowes of a trauelling woman shall come vpon him: he is an vnwise sonne, els would he not stand still at the time, euen at the i breaking forth of the children.

14 I will redeeme them from the power of the graue: I will deliuer them from death: O k death, I will be thy death: O graue, I will be thy destruction: l repentance is hid from mine eyes.

15 Though he grewe vp among his brethren, an East winde shall come, euen the winde of the Lord shall come vp from the wilderneſſe, and drie vp his veine, and his fountaine shalbe dried vp: he shall spoyle the treasure of all pleasant vessels.

CHAP. XIIII.

1 The destruction of Samaria. 2 He exhorteth Israel to returne to God, who requireth praise and thanks.

SAmaria shalbe desolate: for she hath rebelled against her God: they shall fall by the sword: their infants shalbe dashed in pieces, and their women with childe shalbe ript.

2 O Israel, a returne vnto the Lord thy God: for thou hast fallen by thine iniquitie.

3 Take vnto you words, & turne to the Lord, and say vnto him, b Take away all iniquitie, and receiue vs graciously: so will we render the calues of our c lippes.

4 Asshur shal d not saue vs, neither will we ride vpon horses, neither will we say any more to the worke of our handes, Ye are our gods: for in thee the fatherlesse findeth mercie.

5 e I wil heale their rebellion: I wil loue them freely: for mine anger is turned away from him.

6 I will bee as the dewe vnto Israel: hee shall grow as the lilie and fasten his rootes, as the trees of Lebanon.

7 His branches shall spread, and his beautie shalbe as the oliue tree, and his smell as Lebanon.

8 They that dwell vnder his f shadow, shall returne: they shall reuiue as the corne, and florish as the vine: the sent thereof shalbe as the wine of Lebanon.

9 Ephraim shall say, What haue I to doe any more with idoles? I g haue heard him, and looked vpon him: I am like a greene firre tree: vpon me is thy fruite found.

10 Who is h wise, and he shall vnderstand these things? and prudent, and hee shall knowe them? for the wayes of the Lord are righteous, and the iust shall walke in them: but the wicked shall fall therein.

i It is surely layd vp to be punished, as Iere.17.1.

j But would come out of the wombe, that is, out of this danger wherein he is, and not tary to be stifeled.

k Meaning, that no power shall resist God when he wil deliuer his, but euen in death will he giue them life.

l Because they wil not turne to me, I will not change my purpose.

a He exhorteth them to repentance, to auoyde all these plagues, willing them to declare by wordes their obedience and repentance.

b He sheweth the how they ought to confesse their sinnes.

c Declaring, that this is the true sacrifice, that the faithfull can offer, euen thanks and praise, Heb.13.15.

d He will leaue off all vaine confidence and pride.

e Hee declareth how ready God is to receiue them that doe repent.

f Whosoeuer ioyne themselues to this people, shalbe blessed.

g God sheweth how prompt he is to beare his, when they repent, and to offer himselfe, as a protection, & safegard vnto them as a most sufficient fruite and profite.

h Signifying, that the true wisedome & knowledge consisteth in this, euen to rest vpon God.

IOEL.

THE ARGVMENT.

THe Prophet Ioel first rebuketh them of Iudah, that being now punished with a great plague of famine, remaine still obstinate. Secondly he threatneth greater plagues, because they grew dayly to a more hardnesse of heart, and rebellion against God notwithstanding his punishments. Thirdly he exhorteth them to repentance, shewing that it must be earnest, and proceede from the heart because they had grieuously offended God. And so doing, he promiseth that God wil be merciful, & not forget his couenant that he made with their fathers: but wil send his Christ who shal gather the scattered sheepe, and restore them to life and liberte, though they seemed to be dead.

CHAP. I.

1 A prophecie against the Iewes. 2 He exhorteth the people to prayer, and fasting for the misere that was at hand.

THe word of the Lord that came to Ioel the sonne of Pethuel.

2 Heare ye this, O a Elders, and hearken yee all inhabitants of the land, whether b such a thing hath beene in your dayes, or yet in the dayes of your fathers.

3 Tell you your children of it, and let your children shew to their children, and their children to another generation.

4 That which is left of ℣ palmer worme, hath the grashopper eaten, & the residue of ℣ grashopper hath the canker worme eaten, and the residue of the canker worme hath the caterpiller eaten.

5 Awake ye c drunkards, and weepe, & howle all ye drinkers of wine, because of the new wine: for it shalbe pulled from your mouth.

6 Yea, d a nation commeth vpon my lande, mightie, & without number, whose teeth are like the teeth of a lyon, and hee hath the iawes of a great lion.

7 He maketh my vine waste, & pulleth off the barke of my figge tree: he maketh it bare, and casteth it down: ℣ branches thereof are made white.

8 Mourne like a virgine girded with sackcloth for the e husband of her youth.

9 The meate offring, & the drinke offring is f cut off from the House of the Lord: the Priests the Lords ministers mourne.

10 The fielde is wasted: the land mourneth: for the corne is destroyed: g the new wine is dried vp, and the oyle is decayed.

11 Be ye ashamed, O husband men: howle, O ye vine dressers for the wheate, and for the barley, because the harueſt of the field is perished.

12 The vine is dried vp, and the figge tree is decayed: the pomegranate tree & the palme tree, and the apple tree, euen all the trees of the fielde are withered: surely the ioy is withered away from the sonnes of men.

13 h Girde your selues and lament, ye Priests: howle ye ministers of the altar: come, and lie all night in sackecloth, ye ministers of my God: for the meate offring, and the drinke offring is taken away from the house of your God.

14 Sanctifie you a fast: call a solemne assembly: gather the Elders, and all the inhabitants of the lande into the House of the Lorde your God, and crie vnto the Lord, 15 Alas: for the day, for the i day of the Lord is at hand, and it commeth as a destruction from the Almightie.

16 Is not ℣ meate cut off before our eyes? and ioy, and gladnesse from the house of our God?

17 The seede is rotten vnder their clods: the garners are destroyed: the barnes are broken downe, for the corne is withered.

18 How did the beasts mourne! the herdes of cattell pine away, because they haue no pasture, and the flockes of sheepe are destroyed.

19 O Lord, to thee wil I cry: for the fire hath deuoured a Signifying, the Princes, ℣ priests, & the gouernours.

b He calleth the Iewes to the consideration of Gods iudgements, who had now plagued the fruites of the ground for ℣ space of foure yeere, which was for their sinnes, and to call them to repentance.

c Meaning, that ℣ occasion of their excesse & drunkennes was take away.

d This was another plague wherewith God had punished them, when he stirred vp ℣ Assyrians against the.

e Mourne grieuously as a woman, which hath lost her husband, to whom she hath beene maried in her youth.

f The tokens of Gods wrath did appeare in his Temple, insomuch as Gods seruice was left off.

g All comfort & substance for nourishment is taken away.

h He sheweth that the onely meanes to auoyde Gods wrath, and to haue all things restored, is vnfeined repentance.

i We see by these great plagues that vtter destruction is at hand.

deuoured the paſtures of the wilderneſſe, and the flame hath burnt vp all the trees of the field.

20 The beaſts of the fielde cry alſo vnto thee: for the riuers of waters are dried vp, and the [k] fire hath deuoured the paſtures of the wilderneſſe.

k That is, drought.

CHAP. II.

He prophecith of the comming and malice of their enemies. 13 An exhortation to moone them to conuert. 18 The loue of God toward his people.

a He ſhewe the great iudgements of God, which are at hand, except they repent.

BLowe [a] the trumpet in Zion, and ſhoute in mine holy mountaine: let all the inhabitants of the land tremble: for the day of the Lord is come: for it is at hand, b Of affliction and trouble.

2 A [b] day of darkeneſſe, and of blackeneſſe, a day of clouds, and obſcuritie, as the morning ſpred vpon the mountaines, ſo is there a great people, and a mightie: there was none like it from the beginning, neither ſhalbe any more after it, vnto the yeeres of many generations.

c Meaning, the Aſſyrians.

3 A fire deuoureth before him, and behinde him a flame burneth vp: the land is as the garden of [d] Eden before him, and behinde him a deſolate wilderneſſe, ſo that nothing ſhall eſcape him.

d The enemie deſtroyeth our plentiful countrey whereſoeuer he commeth.

4 The beholding of him is like the ſight of horſes, and like the horſemen, ſo ſhall they runne.

5 Like the noyſe of charres in the toppes of the mountaines ſhall they leape, like the noiſe of a flame of fire that deuoureth the ſtubble, and as a mightie people prepared to the battell.

6 Before his face ſhall the people tremble: all faces [e] ſhall gather blackeneſſe.

e They ſhalbe pale and blacke for feare, Nahum 2.10.

7 They ſhall runne like ſtrong men, and goe vp to the wall like men of warre, and euery man ſhall goe forward in his wayes, and they ſhall not ſtay in their paths.

f For none ſhalbe able toreſiſt them.

8 Neither ſhall one [f] thruſt another, but euery one ſhall walke in his path: and when they fall vpon the ſword, they ſhall not be wounded.

9 They ſhall runne to & fro in the citie: they ſhal runne vpon the walls: they ſhal clime vp vpon the houſes, & enter in at [g] windowes like [g] thiefe.

g Reade verſes 2, 31. & 16. 13.10. ezek.32.7. chap.3. 15. matt.24.29.

10 The earth ſhall tremble before him, the heauens ſhall ſhake, the [g] ſunne & the moone ſhalbe darke, and the ſtarres ſhal withdraw their ſhining, h The Lord ſhall ſtirre vp the Aſſyrians to execute his iudgements. Iere.30.7. amos 5. 18. zeph.1.15.*

11 And the Lord ſhall [h] vtter his voyce before his hoſte: for his hoſte is very great: for he is ſtrong that doeth his word: * for the day of the Lord is great and very terrible, and who can abide it?

i Mortifie your affections & ſeeke God with purenes of heart, and not with ceremonies.

12 Therefore alſo now the Lord ſaith, Turne you vnto me with all your heart, & with faſting, and with weeping, and with mourning, 13 And [i] rent your heart, & not your clothes: and turne vnto the Lord your God, for he is gracious, and mercifull, ſlowe to anger, and of great kindneſſe, and repenteth him of the euill.

k He ſpeaketh this to ſtirre vp their ſlouthfulneſſe, and not that he doubted of Gods mercies, if they did repent. How God repenteth, reade Iere.18.8.

14 Who knoweth, if he wil [k] returne & repent & leaue a bleſſing behinde him, euen a meate offring, & a drinke offring vnto [g] Lord your God?

l That as all haue ſinned, ſo all may ſhew forth ſignes of their repentance, that men ſeeing the children, which are not free frō Gods wrath, might be the more lively touched with the conſideration of their owne ſinnes. Pſal.79.10.*

15 Blowe the trumpet in Zion, ſanctifie a faſt, call a ſolemne aſſemblie, 16 Gather the people: ſanctifie the congregation: gather the elders: aſſemble the [l] children, and thoſe that ſucke the breaſtes: let the bridegrome goe foorth of his chamber, and the bride out of her bride chamber.

17 Let the Prieſtes, the miniſters of the Lord weepe betweene the porch and the altar, and let them ſay, Spare thy people, O Lord, and giue not thine heritage into reproch that the heathen ſhould rule ouer them. * Wherefore ſhould they ſay among the people, Where is their God?

18 Then will the Lord bee [m] iealous ouer his land, and ſpare his people.

m If they repent he ſheweth that God will preſerue and defend them with a moſt ardent affection.

19 Yea, the Lord will anſwere and ſay vnto his people, Beholde, I will ſend you corne, and wine, and oyle, and you ſhalbe ſatisfied therewith: and I will no more make you a reproch among the heathen, n That is, the Aſſyrians your enemies.

20 But I will remooue farre off from you the [n] Northren armie, and I wil driue him into a land, barren & deſolate with his face toward the [o] Eaſt ſea, and his ende to the vtmoſt ſea, and his ſtinke ſhall come vp, and his corruption ſhall aſcend, becauſe he hath exalted himſelfe to doe this.

o Called the ſalt ſea, or Perſian ſea: meaning, that though his armie were ſo great, that it filled all from this ſea to the ſea called Mediterraneum, yet he would ſcatter them.

21 Feare not, O land, but be glad, and reioyce: For the Lord will doe great things.

22 Be not afraid, ye beaſtes of the fielde: for the paſtures of the wilderneſſe are greene: for the tree beareth her fruite: the figge tree and the vine doe giue their force.

p That is, ſuch as ſhould come by iuſt meaſure, and as was wont to be ſeen when God was reconciled with them. * Leuit.26.4. deut.11.14.

23 Be glad then, ye children of Zion, and reioyce in the Lord your God: for hee hath giuen you the raine of [p] righteouſneſſe, * & he wil cauſe to come downe for you the raine, euen the firſt raine, and the latter raine in the firſt moneth.

q That is, in greater abundance and more generally then in times paſt: and this was fulfilled vnder Chriſt, when as Gods graces, and his Spirit vnder the Goſpel was abundantly giuen to the Church, Iſa 44.3. act.2.17. ioh.7.38,39.

24 And the barnes ſhall be full of wheate, and the preſſes ſhall abound with wine and oyle.

25 And I will render you the yeeres that the graſſhopper hath eaten, the canker worme and the caterpiller and the palmer worme, my great hoſte which I ſent among you.

r As they had viſions and dreames in olde time, ſo ſhall they nowe haue cleerer reuelations.

26 So you ſhall eate and be ſatisfied and praiſe the Name of the Lord your God, that hath dealt maruellouſly with you: and my people ſhal neuer be aſhamed.

27 Ye ſhall alſo know, that I am in the middes of Iſrael, and that I am the Lord your God and none other, & my people ſhall neuer be aſhamed.

28 And afterward will I powre [q] out my Spirit vpon all fleſh: and your ſonnes & your daughters ſhall prophecie: your olde men ſhall dreame [r] dreames, and your yong men ſhall ſee viſions, f He warneth the faithfull what terrible things ſhould come, to the intent that they ſhould not looke for continuall quietneſſe in this world, and yet in all theſe troubles he would preſerue them.

29 And alſo vpon the ſeruants, and vpon the maydes in thoſe dayes will I powre my Spirit.

30 And I will ſhewe [ſ] wonders in the heauens and in the earth: blood & fire, & pillars of ſmoke.

t The order of nature ſhall ſeeme to be changed for the horrible affliction that ſhalbe in the world, Iſa.13.10. ezek.32.7. chap.3.

31 The [t] ſunne ſhalbe turned into darkeneſſe, and the moone into blood, before the great and terrible day of the Lord come.

32 But whoſoeuer ſhall call [u] on the Name of the Lord, ſhalbe ſaued: for in mount Zion, & in Ieruſalem ſhalbe deliuerance, as the Lord hath ſaid, and in the [x] remnant, whom the Lord ſhall call.

15. matt.24.29. u Gods iudgements are for the deſtruction of the infidels, & to moouе the godly to call vpon the Name of God, who will giue them ſalnation.

x Meaning hereby the Gentiles, Rom, 10.13.

CHAP. III.

Of the iudgement of God againſt the enemies of his people.

a When I ſhal deliuer my Church, which ſtandeth of the Iewes, and of the Gentiles.

FOr beholde, in [a] thoſe dayes and in that time, when I ſhall bring againe the captiuitie of Iudah and Ieruſalem, b It appeareth that he alludeth to that great victorie of Iehoſhaphat, when as God without mans helpe deſtroyed the enemies, 2. Chron. 20.26. alſo he hath reſpect to this word Iehoſhaphat, which ſignifieth pleading, or iudgement, becauſe God would iudge the enemies of his Church as he did there.

2 I will alſo gather all nations, and will bring them downe into [b] the valley of Iehoſhaphat, and will pleade with them there for my people, and for mine heritage Iſrael, whom they haue ſcattered among the nations, and parted my land.

3 And they haue caſt lottes for my people, and haue giuen the childe for the harlot, & solde the gitle for wine, that they might drinke?

and

4 Yea, and d what haue you to doe with me, O Tyrus and Zidon and all the coastes of Palestina? wil ye render me e a recompence? and if yee recompence me, swiftly and speedily wil I render your recompence vpon your head:

5 For ye haue taken my siluer and my golde, and haue caried into your temples my goodly and pleasant things.

6 The children also of Iudah and the children of Ierusalem haue you solde vnto the Grecians, that ye might send them farre from their border.

7 Beholde, I will raise them out of the place where ye haue solde them, & wil render your reward vpon your owne head,

8 And I wil sell your sonnes and your daughters into the hand of the children of Iudah, and they f shall sell them to the Sabeans, to a people farre off: for the Lorde hath spoken it.

9 Publish this among the Gentiles: prepare warre, wake vp the mightie men: let all the men of warre drawe neere and come vp.

10 g Breake your plowshares into swords, and your sithes into speares: let the weake say, I am strong.

11 Assemble your selues, and come all ye heathen & gather your selues together round about: there shal the Lord cast downe the mightie men.

12 Let the heathen be wakened, & come vp to the valley of Iehoshaphat: for there wil I sit to iudge all the heathen round about.

13 ¶ Put in your h sithes, for the haruest is ripe: come, get you downe, for the winepresse is full: yea, the winepresses runne ouer, for their wickednesse is great.

14 O multitude, O multitude, come into the valley of threshing: for the day of the Lorde is neere in the valley of threshing.

15 The sunne and moone shalbe darkened, and the starres shal withdraw their light.

16 The Lord also shal roare out of Zion, and vtter his voyce from Ierusalem, and the heauens and the earth shall shake, but the Lord wil be the i hope of his people, and the strength of the children of Israel.

17 So shall ye know that I am the Lord your God dwelling in Zion, mine holy Mountaine: then shall Ierusalem be holy, and there shall no stranger go k thorowe her any more.

18 And in that day shal the mountaines l drop downe newe wine, and the hilles shall flowe with milke, and all the riuers of Iudah shal runne with waters, and a fountaine shal come foorth of the House of the Lorde, and shall water the valley of Shittim.

19 m Egypt shalbe waste, and Edom shall be a desolate wildernesse, for the iniuries of the children of Iudah, because they haue shed innocent blood in their land.

20 But Iudah shal dwel for euer, and Ierusalem from generation to generation.

21 For I wil n clense their blood, that I haue not clensed, and the Lord wil dwell in Zion.

c That which the enemie gate for the sale of my people, he bestowed vpon harlots and drinke.

d He taketh the cause of his Church in hand against the enemie, as though the iniurie were done to himselfe.

e Haue I done you wrong, that ye wil render me the like?

f For afterward God solde them by Nebuchad-nezzar, and Alexander the great, for the loue he bare to his people, & thereby they were comforted as though the price had bene theirs.

g When I shall execute my iudgements against mine enemies, I will cause euery one to be ready, and to prepare their weapons to destroy one another, for my Churches sake.

h Thus he shal encourage y godlies when their wickednesse is full ripe to destroy one another, which he calleth the valley of Gods iudgement.

i God assureth his against all troubles, that when he destroyeth his enemies, his children shalbe deliuered.

k The strangers shal no more destroy his Church which if they doe, it is the people which by their sinnes make the breach for the enemie.

l He promiseth to his Church abundance of graces, reade Ezek. 47. 1. which should water & comfort the most barren places, Amos 9. 13.

m The malicious enemies shall haue no part of this grace.

n He had suffered his Church hitherto to lie in their filthinesse, but now he promiseth to clense them and to make them pure vnto him.

AMOS.

THE ARGVMENT.

AMong many other Prophets that God raised vp to admonish the Israelites of his plagues for their wickednes and idolatrie, he stirred vp Amos, who was an heardman or shepheard of a poore towne, and gaue him both knowledge & constancie to reproue all estates and degrees, & to denounce Gods horrible iudgements against them, except they did in time repent: shewing them, that if God spare not the other nations about them, who had liued as it were in ignorance of God in respect of them, but for their sinnes wil punish them, that they could looke for nothing, but an horrible destruction, except they turned to the Lord by vnfained repentance. And finally, he comforteth the godly with hope of the comming of the Messiah, by whome they should haue perfite deliuerance and saluation.

CHAP. I.

1 The time of the prophecie of Amos. 3 The wordes of the Lord against Damascus, 6 The Philistims, Tyrus, Idumea and Ammon.

THe wordes of Amos, who was among the heardmen at a Tecoa, which he sawe vpon Israel, in the dayes of Vzziah King of Iudah, and in the dayes of b Ieroboam the sonne of Ioash King of Israel, two yeere before the c earthqnake.

2 And he sayd, The Lord shall roare from Zion, and vtter his voyce from Ierusalem, and the dwelling places of the shepheards shal perish, and the top of d Carmel shall wither.

3 ¶ Thus saith the Lord, For e three transgressions of Damascus, and for foure, I wil not turne to it, because they haue f threshed Gilead with threshing instruments of yron.

4 Therefore wil I send a fire into the house of Hazael, and it shall deuoure the g palaces of Ben-hadad.

5 I will breake also the barres of Damascus, and cut off the inhabitant of Bikeath-auen: and him that holdeth the scepter out of Beth-eden, and the people of Aram shall goe into captiuitie vnto h Kir, sayth the Lorde.

6 Thus sayth the Lorde, For three transgressions of Azzah, and for foure, I wil not turne to it, because they i caried away prisoners the whole captiuitie to shut them vp in Edom.

7 Therefore will I send a fire vpon the walles of Azzah, and it shall deuoure the palaces thereof.

8 And I will cut off the inhabitant from Ashdod, and him that holdeth the scepter from Ashkelon, and turne mine hand to Ekron, and the remnant of the Philistims shall perish, sayth the Lorde God.

9 ¶ Thus sayth the Lord, For three transgressions of Tyrus, and for foure, I will not turne to a Which was a towne sixe miles from Ierusalem in Iudea, but he prophecied in Israel.

b In his dayes the kingdome of Israel did most flourish.

c Which as Iosephus writeth, was whē Vzziah would haue vsurped the Priests office, and therefore was smitten w the leprosie.

d Whatsoeuer is fruitfull and pleasant in Israel shall shortly perish.

e He sheweth first that al the people round about should be destroyed for their manifolde sinnes: which are meant by three & foure which make seuen, because the Israelites should the more deepely consider Gods iudgements toward them.

f If the Syrians shall not be spared for committing this crueltie against one citie, it is not possible that Israel shou'd escape punishment, which hath committed so many and grieuous sinnes against God and man.

g The antiquitie of their buildings shall not auoyde my iudgements, reade Iere. 49. 27.

h Tiglath Pileser led the Syrians captiue, & brought them to Cyrene, which he calleth here Kir.

i They ioyned themselues with the Edomites their enemies, which caried them away captiues.

it, because they shut the whole captiuitie in Edom, and haue not remembred the k brotherly couenant.

k For Esau (of whom came the Edomites) and Iaakob were brethren: therefore they ought to haue admonished them of their brotherly friendship, and not to haue prouoked them to hatred.

10 Therefore wil I send a fire vpon the walles of Tyrus, and it shall deuoure the palaces thereof.

11 ¶ Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of Edom, & for foure, I wil not turne to it, because he did pursue his brother with the sword, & did † cast off all pitie, and his anger spoyled him euermore, & his wrath watched him l alway.

†Ebr. corrupt his compassions.

l He was a continuall enemie vnto him.

12 Therefore will I send a fire vpon Teman, and it shall deuoure the palaces of Bozrah.

13 ¶ Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of the children of Ammon, and for foure, I will not turne to it, because they m haue ript vp the women with child of Gilead, that they might enlarge their border.

m He noteth the great crueltie of the Ammonites that spared not the women, but most tyrannously tormented them, and yet the Ammonites came of Lot who was of the houshold of Abraham.

14 Therefore wil I kindle a fire in the wall of Rabbah, and it shal deuoure the palaces thereof, with shouting in the day of battell, and with a tempest in the day of the whirlewinde.

15 And their King shall go into captiuitie, he and his princes together, saith the Lorde.

CHAP. II.

Against Moab, Iudah, and Israel.

THus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of Moab, and for foure, I will not turne to it, because it burnt the a bones of the King of Edom into lime.

a For the Moabites were so cruell against the King of Edom that they burnt his bones after that hee was dead: which declared their barbarous rage, seeing they would reuenge themselues of the dead.

2 Therefore wil I send a fire vpon Moab, and it shall deuoure the palaces of Kerioth, and Moab shall die with tumult, with shouting, and with the sound of a trumpet.

3 And I wil cut off the iudge out of the mids thereof, and will slay all the princes thereof with him, saith the Lord.

4 ¶ Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of Iudah, and for foure, b I will not turne to it, because they haue cast away the Lawe of the Lorde, and haue not kept his commaundements, and their lies caused them to erre after the which their fathers haue walked.

b Seeing the Gentiles that had not so farre knowledge were thus punished, Iudah which was so fully instructed of the Lords will, might not thinke to escape.

5 Therefore will I send a fire vpon Iudah, and it shall deuoure the palaces of Ierusalem.

6 ¶ Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of c Israel, and for foure, I will not turne to it, because they solde the righteous for siluer and the poore for d shooes.

c If he spare not Iudah vnto whom his promises were made, much more he wil not spare this degenerate kingdome.

d They esteemed most vile bribes more then mens liues.

7 They gape ouer the head of the poore, in the e dust of the earth, and peruert the wayes of the meeke: and a man and his father will goe in to a mayde to dishonour mine holy Name.

e When they haue spoyled him and throwen him to the ground, they gape for his life.

8 And they lye downe vpon clothes layde to pledge f by euery altar: and they g drinke the wine of the condemned in the house of their God.

f Thinking by these ceremonies, that by sacrificing, and being neere mine altar, they may excuse all their other wickednesse.

g They spoyle others and offer thereof vnto God, thinking that hee will dispence with them, when hee is made partaker of their iniquities. † Ebr. in the house.

9 Yet destroyed I the h Amorite before them, whose height was like the height of the cedars, and he was strong as the okes: notwithstanding I destroyed his fruite from aboue, and his roote from beneath.

h The destruction of their enemies and his mercy towarde them should haue caused their hearres to melt for loue towarde him.

10 Also I brought you vp from the land of Egypt, and led you fourtie yeeres thorowe the wildernesse, to possesse the land of the Amorite.

11 And I raised vp of your sonnes for Prophets, and of your yong men for Nazarites. Is it not euen thus, O ye children of Israel, saith the Lord?

i Ye contemned my benefites, and abused my graces, and craftily went about to stoppe the mouthes of my Prophets.

12 But ye gaue the Nazarites wine to drinke, and commanded the Prophets, saying, Prophecie not.

13 Behold, I am k pressed vnder you as a cart is pressed that is full of sheaues.

k You haue wearied me with your sinnes, Isa. 1.14.

14 Therefore the flight shall perish from the l swift, and the strong shall not strengthen his force, neither shall the mightie saue his life.

l None shall be deliuered by any meanes.

15 Nor he that handleth the bowe, shal stand, and he that is swift of foote, shall not escape, neither shall he that rideth the horse, saue his life.

16 And he that is of a mightie courage among the strong men, shal flee away naked in that day, saith the Lord.

CHAP. III.

Hee reproueth the house of Israel of ingratitude. 11 For the which God will punish them.

HEare this word that the Lord pronounceth against you, O children of Israel, euen against the whole famile which I brought vp from the land of Egypt, saying,

2 You a onely haue I knowen of all the families of the earth: therefore I will visite you for all your iniquities.

a I haue onely chosen you to be mine among all other people, and yet you haue forsaken me.

3 Can two walke together except they bee b agreed?

b Hereby the Prophet signifieth that he speaketh not of himselfe, but as God guideth and moueth him, which is called the agreement betweene God and his Prophets.

4 Will a c lion roare in the forest, when hee hath no pray? or will a lyons whelpe cry out of his den, if he haue taken nothing?

c Wil God threaten by his Prophets, except there be some great occasion?

5 d Can a bird fall in a snare vpon the earth, where no fouler is? or will he take vp the e snare from the earth, and haue taken nothing at all?

d Can any thing come without Gods prouidence?

e Shall his threatnings be in vaine?

6 Or f shall a trumpet be blowen in the citie, and the people be not afraide? or shall there g be euill in a citie, and the Lord hath not done it?

f Shall the Prophets threaten Gods iudgements and the people not be afraide?

g Doeth any aduersitie come without Gods appoyntment? Isa 45 7.

7 Surely the Lord God will doe nothing, but he h reuealeth his secrete vnto his seruants the Prophets.

h God dealeth not with the Israelites as he doeth with other people: for he euer warneth them before of his plagues by his Prophets.

8 The lyon hath roared: who will not bee afraid? the Lord God hath spoken: who can but i prophecie?

i Because the people euer murmured against the Prophets, he sheweth that the Spirit mooued them so to speake as they did.

9 Proclaime in the palaces at k Ashdod, and in the palaces in the land of Egypt, & say, Assemble your selues vpon the mountaines of Samaria: so beholde the great tumultes in the middes therof, and the oppressed in the middes thereof.

k He calleth the strangers, as the Philistims and Egyptians to be witnesses of Gods iudgements against the Israelites for their crueltie and oppression.

10 For they know not to doe right, saith the Lord: they store vp violence, and robbery l in their palaces.

l The fruite of their crueltie & theft appeareth by their great riches, which they haue in their houses.

11 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, An aduersarie shall come euen round about the countrey, and shall bring downe thy strength from thee, and thy palaces shalbe spoyled.

12 Thus saith the Lord, As the shepheard taketh m out of the mouth of the lyon two legges, or a piece of an eare: so shall the children of Israel bee taken out that dwell in Samaria in the corner of a bed, and in n Damascus as in a couche.

m When the Lyon hath saciate his hunger, the shepheard findeth a legge or a tippe of an eare to shewe that the sheepe hath bene worried.

n When they thought to haue had a sure holde, and to haue bene in safetie.

13 Heare, and testifie in the house of Iaakob, saith the Lord God, the God of hostes.

14 Surely in the day that I ſhall viſit the tranſgreſſions of Iſrael vpon him, I will alſo viſite the altars of Beth-el, and the hornes of the altar ſhal be broken off, and fall to the ground.

15 And I will ſmite the winter houſe with the ſummer houſe, & the houſes of yuorie ſhal periſh, and the great houſes ſhalbe cõſumed, ſaith ỹ Lord.

CHAP. IIII.

Againſt the gouernours of Samaria.

HEare this worde, ye [a] kine of Baſhan that are in the mountaine of Samaria, which oppreſſe the poore, and deſtroy the needie, and they ſay to their maſters, [b] Bring, and let vs drinke.

2 The Lord God hath ſworne by his holines, that loe, the dayes ſhall come vpon you, that hee wil take you away with [c] thornes, and your poſteritie with fiſh hookes.

3 And yee ſhall goe out at the breaches euery kowe forward: and ye ſhall caſt your ſelues out of the palace, ſaith the Lord.

4 Come to [d] Beth-el, & tranſgreſſe: to Gilgal, & multiply tranſgreſſion, & bring your ſacrifices in the morning, & your tithes after three [e] yeres.

5 And offer a thanſgiuing [f] of leauen, publiſh and proclame the free offerings: for this [g] liketh you, O ye children of Iſrael, ſaith the Lord God.

6 And therefore haue I giuen you [h] cleannes of teeth in all your cities, and ſcarceneſſe of bread in all your places, yet haue yee not returned vnto me, ſaith the Lord.

7 And alſo I haue withholden the raine from you, when there were yet three [i] moneths to the harueſt, & I cauſed it to raine vpon one citie, and haue not cauſed it to raine vpon another city: one piece was rained vpon, and the piece whereupon it rained not, withered.

8 So two or three cities wandred vnto one citie to drinke water, but they were [k] not ſatisfied: yet haue ye not returned vnto me, ſaith the Lord.

9 I haue ſmitten you with blaſting, and mildewe: your great gardens and your vineyards, and your figtrees, and your oliue trees did the palmer worme deuoure: yet haue yee not returned vnto me, ſaith the Lord.

10 Peſtilence haue I ſent among you, after the maner of [l] Egypt: your yong men haue I ſlaine with the ſword, and haue taken away your horſes: and I haue made the ſtinke of your tents to come vp euen into your noſtrels: yet haue ye not returned vnto me, ſaith the Lord.

11 I haue ouerthrowē you, as God ouerthrew Sodom & Gomorah: and ye were as a [m] firebrand pluckt out of the burning: yet haue ỹe not returned vnto me, ſaith the Lord.

12 Therefore, thus will I do vnto thee, O Iſrael: and becauſe I will doe this vnto thee, prepare to [n] meete thy God, O Iſrael.

13 For loe, hee that formeth the mountaines, and createth the winde, and declareth vnto man what is his thought: which maketh the morning darkneſſe, and walketh vpon the hie places of the earth, the Lord God of hoſtes is his Name.

CHAP. V.

A lamentation for the captiuitie of Iſrael.

HEare ye this word, which I lift vp vpon you, euen a lamentation of the houſe of Iſrael.

2 The [a] virgine Iſrael is fallen, and ſhall no more riſe: ſhee is left vpon her lande, and there is none to raiſe her vp.

3 For thus ſaith ỹ Lord God, The citie which went out by a thouſand, ſhall leaue an [b] hundreth: and that which went forth by an hundreth, ſhall leaue ten to the houſe of Iſrael.

4 For thus ſaith the Lorde vnto the houſe of Iſrael, Seeke ye me, and ye ſhall liue.

5 But ſeeke not Beth-el, nor enter into [c] Gilgal, and go not to Beer-ſheba: for Gilgal ſhall go into captiuitie, and Beth-el ſhall come to nought.

6 Seeke the Lorde, and yee ſhall liue, leaſt he breake out like fire in the houſe of Ioſeph and deuoure it, & there be none to quench it in Beth-el.

7 They turne [d] iudgement to wormewood, and leaue off righteouſneſſe in the earth.

8 Hee [e] maketh Pleiades, and Orion, and hee turneth the ſhadowe of death into the morning, and he maketh the day darke as night: hee calleth the waters of the ſea, and powreth them out vpon the open earth: the Lord is his Name.

9 Hee ſtrengtheneth the deſtroyer againſt the mightie: and the deſtroyer ſhall come againſt the fortreſſe.

10 They haue hated him, [f] that rebuked in the gate: & they abhorred him ỹ ſpeaketh vprightly.

11 Foraſmuch then as your treading is vpon the poore, & gye take frõ him burdens of wheat, ye haue built houſes of hewen ſtone, but yee ſhall not dwell in them: ye haue planted pleaſant vineyards, but ye ſhall not drinke wine of them.

12 For I know your manifolde tranſgreſſions, and your mightie ſinnes: they afflict the iuſt, they take rewards, & they oppreſſe ỹ poore in the gate.

13 Therefore [h] the prudent ſhal keepe ſilence in that time, for it is an euil time.

14 Seeke good and not euil, that ye may liue: and the Lord God of hoſtes ſhall bee with you, as you haue ſpoken.

15 Hate the euill, and loue the good, and eſtabliſh iudgement in the gate: it may bee that the Lord God of hoſtes wil be merciful vnto the remnant of Ioſeph.

16 Therfore the Lord God of hoſts, the Lord ſaith thus, Mourning ſhalbe in all ſtreets: and they ſhal ſay in all the hie wayes, Alas, alas: & they ſhal cal the [i] husbandman to lamentation, and ſuch as can mourne, to mourning.

17 And in all the vines ſhalbe lamentation: for I will paſſe through thee, ſaith the Lord.

18 Woe vnto you, that [k] deſire the day of the Lorde: what haue you to doe with it? the day of the Lord is darkeneſſe and not light.

19 As if a man did flee from a lyon, & a beare met him: or went into the houſe, and leaned his hand on the wall, and a ſerpent bit him.

20 Shall not the day of the Lord be darknes, and not light? euen darkenes and no light in it?

21 I hate and abhorre your feaſt dayes, and I will not ſmell in your ſolemne aſſemblies.

22 Though ye offer me burnt offrings & meat offrings, I will not accept them: neither wil I regard the peace offerings of your fat beaſtes.

23 Take thou away from mee the multitude of thy ſongs (for I will not heare the melodie of thy violes)

24 And let iudgement runne downe as [m] waters, and righteouſneſſe as a mightie riuer.

25 Haue ye offered vnto me ſacrifices and offrings in the wilderneſſe fourtie yeeres, O houſe of Iſrael?

[a] Thus he calleth the princes & gouernours, which being ouerwhelmed with the great abundance of Gods benefites, forgate God, and therefore he calleth them by the name of beaſtes and not of men.

[b] They incourage ſuch as haue authoritie ouer the people, to powle them, ſo that they may haue profite by it.

[c] He alludeth to fiſhers which catch fiſh by hookes and thornes.

[d] He ſpeaketh this in contempt of them which reſorted to theſe places, thinking that their great deuotion and good intention had bene ſufficient to haue bound God vnto them.

[e] Reade Deut. 14. 28.

[f] As Leuit. 7. 13.

[g] You onely delite in theſe outward ceremonies and haue none other reſpect.

[h] That is lacke of bread and meate.

[i] I ſtayed the raine till the fruites of the earth were deſtroied [w] drought, and yet you would not conſider it to returne to me by repentance.

[k] They could not find water ynough where they had heard ſay it had rained.

[l] As I plagued the Egyptians, Exod. 9. 10.

[m] You were almoſt al conſumed, and a fewe of you wonderfully preſerued, 2. kin. 14. 26.

[n] Turne to him by repentance.

[a] He ſo calleth them, becauſe they ſo boaſted of themſelues, or becauſe they were giuen to wantonneſſe and deintineſſe.

[b] Meaning, that the tenth part ſhould ſcarcely be ſaued.

[c] In theſe places they worſhipped new idoles, which afore time ſerued for the true honor of God: therefore he ſaith that theſe ſhal not ſaue them.

[d] In ſteade of iudgement and equitie they execute crueltie and oppreſſion.

[e] He deſcribeth the power of God, Iob 9. 9.

[f] They hate the Prophets, which reproue them in the open aſſemblies.

[g] Ye take both his money & alſo his foode wherewith he ſhould liue.

[h] God will ſo plague them, that they ſhal not ſuffer the godly once to open their mouths to admoniſh them of their faultes.

[i] So that all degrees ſhall haue matter of lamentation for the great plagues.

[k] Thus he ſpeaketh becauſe the wicked and hypocrites ſayde they were content to abide Gods iudgements, whereas the godly tremble and feare, Iere. 30. 7. ioel 2. 2, 11. zeph. 1. 15.

[l] Becauſe ye haue corrupt my true ſeruice & remaine obſtinate in your vices, Iſa. 1. 11. Iere. 6. 20.

[m] Do your duetie to God & to your neighbour, & ſo ye ſhal feele his grace plentifully, if you ſhew your abundant affections according to Gods word.

n That idole which you esteemed as your king, and caried about, as you did Chiun, in the which images you thought that there was a certaine diuinitie.

26 But you haue borne n Sicceuth your King, and Chiun your images, and the starre of your gods, which ye made to your selues.

27 Therefore wil I cause you to goe into captiuitie beyond Damascus, saith the Lorde, whose Name u the God of hostes.

CHAP. VI.

Against the princes of Israel liuing in pleasures.

a The Prophet threatneth ỹ wealthie, which regarded not Gods plagues nor menaces by his Prophets.
b These two cities were famous by their first inhabitants the Canaanites: and seeing before time they did nothing availe them that were here borne, why should you looke that they should saue you which were brought in to dwell in other mens possessions?
c If God haue destroyed these excellent cities in three diuers kingdomes, as in Babylon, Syria, and of the Philistims, and hath brought their wide borders into a greater streightnesse, then yours yet are, thinke you to be better or to escape?
d Ye that continue still in your wickednesse & thinke that Gods plagues are not at hand but giue your selues to all idlenesse, wantonnesse and riot.
e As he caused diuers kindes of instruments to be made to serue Gods glorie, so these did contend to inuent as many to serue their wanton affections and lustes.
f They pitied not their brethren, wherof now many were slaine and caried away captiue.
g Some reade, the ioy of them that stretch themselues, shall depart. h Reade Iere. 51. 14. i That is, the riches & pompe. k The destruction shalbe so great, that none shall almost be left to burie the dead: and therfore they shall burne them at home, to cary out the burnt ashes with more ease. l That is, to some neighbour, that dwelleth round about. m They shall be so astonished at this destruction, that they shall boast no more of the Name of God, and that they are his people: but they shalbe dumme when they heare Gods Name, and abhorre it, as they that are desperate or reprobate. n He compareth them to barren rockes whereupon it is in vaine to bestow labour: shewing that Gods benefites can haue no place among them. o Reade Chap. 5. 7. p That is, power and glorie. q From one corner of the countrey to another.

WOe to a them that are at ease in Zion and trust in ỹ mountaine of Samaria, b which were famous at the beginning of the nations: and the house of Israel came to them.

2 Goe you vnto Calneh, and see: and from thence goe you to Hamath the great: then goe downe to Gath of the Philistims: be c they better then these kingdomes? or the border of their land greater then your border,

3 Ye that put farre away the d euill day, and approch to the seate of iniquitie?

4 They lie vpon beddes of yuorie, and stretch themselues vpon their beddes, & eate the lambes of the flocke, and the calues out of the stall.

5 They sing to the sounde of the viole: they inuent to themselues instruments of musike like e Dauid.

6 They drinke wine in bowles, and anoynt themselues with the chiefe ointments, but no man is f sorie for the affliction of Ioseph.

7 Therefore nowe shall they go captiue with the first that go captiue, and g the sorow of them that stretched themselues, is at hand.

8 h The Lorde God hath sworne by himselfe, saith the Lord God of hostes, I abhorre i the excellencie of Iaakob, & hate his palaces: therefore will I deliuer vp the citie with all that is therein.

9 And if there remaine ten men in one house, they shall die.

10 And his vncle k shall take him vp & burne him to cary out the bones out of the house, and shall say vnto him, that is by the l sides of the house, Is there yet any with thee? And he shall say, None. Then shall he say, m Hold thy tongue: for we may not remember the Name of the Lord.

11 For behold, the Lord commandeth, and he will smite the great house with breaches, and the litle house with clefts.

12 Shall horses n runne vpon the rocke? or wil one plowe there with oxen? for yee haue turned iudgement into gall, and the fruite of righteousnesse into o wormewood.

13 Ye reioyce in a thing of nought: yee say, Haue not wee gotten vs p hornes by our owne strength?

14 But behold, I will raise vp against you a nation, O house of Israel, sayeth the Lord God of hosts: and they shall afflict you from the entring in of q Hamath vnto the riuer of the wildernesse.

CHAP. VII.

God sheweth certaine visions, whereby he signifieth the destruction of the people of Israel. 10 The false accusation of Amaziah. 12 His crafty counsell.

THus hath the Lorde God shewed vnto mee, and beholde, he formed a grashoppers in the beginning of the shooting vp of the latter grouth: and loe, it was in the latter grouth b after the Kings mowing.

2 And when they had made an end of eating the grasse of the land, then I sayd, O Lorde God, spare, I beseech thee: who shall raise vp Iaakob? for he is small.

3 So the Lord c repented for this. It shall not be, sayth the Lorde.

4 ¶ Thus also hath the Lord God shewed vnto me, and behold, the Lord God called to iudgement by fire, d and it deuoured the great deepe, and did eate vp a part.

5 Then said I, O Lorde God, cease, I beseech thee: who shall raise vp Iaakob? for he is small.

6 So the Lord repented for this. This also shal not be, sayth the Lord God.

7 ¶ Thus againe he shewed me, and beholde, the Lorde stoode vpon a wall made by line e with a line in his hand.

8 And the Lorde sayd vnto me, Amos, what seest thou? And I said, A line. Then said the Lord, Beholde, I will set a line in the middes of my people Israel, and will passe by them no more.

9 And the hie places of Isaak shall be desolate, and the temples of Israel shall be destroyed: and I wil rise against the house of Ieroboam with the sword.

10 ¶ f Then Amaziah the Priest of Beth-el sent to Ieroboam King of Israel, saying, Amos hath conspired against thee in the mids of the house of Israel: the land is not able to beare all his wordes.

11 For thus Amos saith, Ieroboam shall die by the sword, and Israel shalbe led away captiue out of their owne land.

12 Also g Amaziah sayd vnto Amos, O thou the Seer, goe, flee thou away into the land of Iudah, and there eate thy bread & prophecie there.

13 But prophecie no more at Beth-el: for it is the Kings chapel, and it is the Kings court.

14 Then answered Amos, & said to Amaziah, I was no h Prophet, neither was I a prophets sonne, but I was an heardman, & a gatherer of wilde figs.

15 And the Lord tooke mee as I followed the flocke, and the Lord said vnto me, Goe, prophecie vnto my people Israel.

16 Now therefore heare thou the word of the Lorde. Thou sayest, Prophecie not against Israel, and speake nothing against the house of Isaak.

17 Therefore thus sayth the Lord, i Thy wife shalbe an harlot in the citie, and thy sonnes and thy daughters shal fall by the sword, and thy land shall be diuided by line: and thou shalt die in a polluted land, and Israel shal surely go into captiuitie forth of his land.

a To deuoure the land: & he alludeth to the inuading of the enemies.
b After the publike cõmandement for mowing was giuen: or as some reade, when the Kings sheepe were shorne.
c That is, stayed this plague at my prayer.
d Meaning, that Gods indignation was inflamed against the stubbernes of this people.
e Signifying, that this should be the last measuring of the people, & that he would deferre his iudgement no longer.
f That is, when Amos had prophecied that the King should be destroyed: for this wicked Priest more for hatred he bare to the Prophet then for loue toward the King, thought this accusation sufficient to condemne him, where as none other could take place.
g When this instrument of Satan was not able to compasse his purpose by the King, he assayed by another practise: ỹ was to feare the Prophet, that he might depart, & not reproue their idolatrie there openly, & so hinder his profit.
h Thus he sheweth by his extraordinary vocation, ỹ God had giuen him a charge which he must needes execute.
i Thus God vsed to approue the authoritie of his Prophets by his plagues & iudgements against them, which were malicious enemies, Iere. 28. 12. and 29. 21, 25.

as this day he doeth against them that persecute the ministers of his Gospell.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Against the rulers of Israel. 7 The Lord sweareth. 11 The famine of the worde of God.

THus hath the Lorde God shewed vnto mee, and beholde, a basket of sommer fruite.

2 And he said, Amos, what seest thou? And I sayd, A basket of sommer a fruite. Then sayd the Lord vnto mee, The ende is come vpon my people of Israel, I will passe by them no more.

3 And the songs of the Temple shalbe howlings in that day, saith the Lord God: many dead bodies a Which signified the ripenesse of their sinnes & the readines of Gods iudgements.

bodies shalbe in euery place: they shall cast them foorth with [b] silence.

4 Heare this, O yee that [c] swallowe vp the poore, that yee may make the needy of the land to fayle,

5 Saying, When will the [d] newe moneth be gone, that we may sell corne? and the Sabbath, that we may set foorth wheate, and make [e] the Ephah small, and the shekel great, and falsifie the weights by deceit?

6 That we may buy the poore for siluer, and the needy for shooes: yea, and sell the refuse of the wheate.

7 The Lorde hath sworne by the excellencie of Iaakob, Surely I will neuer forget any of their workes.

8 Shall not the land tremble for this, & euery one mourne, that dwelleth therein? and it shall rise vp wholy as a flood, and it shall be cast out, and [f] drowned as by the flood of Egypt.

9 And in that day, sayth the Lord God, I will cause the [g] sunne to go downe at noone: and I will darken the earth in the cleare day.

10 And I will turne your feastes into mourning, and all your songs into lamentation: and I will bring sackcloth vpon all loynes, and baldnes vpon euery head: and I wil make it as the mourning of an onely sonne, and the ende thereof as a bitter day.

11 Beholde, the dayes come, sayth the Lorde God, that I wil send a famine in the land, not a famine of bread, nor a thirst of water, but of hearing the worde of the Lorde.

12 And they shall wander from sea to sea, and from the North euen vnto the East shall they run to and fro to seeke the [h] worde of the Lorde, and shall not finde it.

13 In that day shall the faire virgines and the yong men perish for thirst.

14 They that sweare by the sinne of [i] Samaria, and that say, Thy God, O Dan, liueth, and [k] the maner of Beer-sheba liueth, euen they shall fall, and neuer rise vp againe.

b There shall be none left to mourne for them.
c By staying the sale of foode and necessarie things which you haue gotten into your owne hands, and so cause the poore to spend quickly that litle that they haue, and at length for necessitie to become your slaues.
d When y dearth was once come, they were so greedy of gaine, that they thought the holy day to be an hinderance vnto them.
e That is, the measure small, and the price great.
f That is, the inhabitants of the land shalbe drowned, as Nilus drowneth many when it ouerfloweth.
g In the middes of their prosperitie, I will sende great affliction.
h Whereby hee sheweth that they shall not onely perish in body, but also in soule for lacke of Gods worde, which is the foode thereof.
i For the idolaters did vse to sweare by their idoles: which here he calleth their sinne, as the papists yet doe by theirs.
k That is, the common maner of worshipping and the seruice or religion there vsed.

CHAP. IX.

1 Threatnings against the Temple, 2 And against Israel. 11 The restoring of the Church.

I Sawe the Lorde standing vpon the [a] altar, and he sayde, Smite the lintel of the doore, that the postes may shake: and cut them in pieces, euen the [b] heads of them all, and I will slay the last of them with the sword: he that fleeth of them, shall not flee away: and he that escapeth of them, shall not be deliuered.

2 Though they digge into the hel, thence shal mine hand take them: though they clime vp to heauen, thence will I bring them downe.

3 And though they hide themselues in the top of Carmel, I will search and take them out thence: and though they be hid from my sight in the bottome of the sea, thence will I commaund the [c] serpent, and he shall bite them.

4 And though they go into captiuitie before their enemies, thence wil I commaund the sword, and it shall slay them: and I wil set mine eyes vpon them for euill, and not for good.

5 And the Lord God of hostes shal touch the land, and it shal melt away, & all that dwell therein shall mourne, and it shall rise vp wholy like a flood, and shall be drowned as by the flood of Egypt.

6 He buildeth his [d] spheres in the heauen, and hath layde the foundation of his globe of elements in the earth: he calleth the waters of the sea, and powreth them out vpon the open earth: the Lord is his Name.

7 Are ye not as the Ethiopians [e] vnto mee, O children of Israel, sayth the Lorde? haue not I brought vp Israel out of the land of Egypt? and the Philistims from [f] Caphtor, & Aram from Kir?

8 Beholde, the eyes of the Lord God are vpon the sinfull kingdome, and I will destroy it cleane out of the earth. Neuertheless I will not vtterly [g] destroy the house of Iaakob, sayth the Lord.

9 For loe, I will commaund and I will sift the house of Israel among all nations, like as corne is sifted in a sieue: yet shall not the [h] least stone fall vpon the earth.

10 But all the sinners of my people shall dye by the sword, which say, The euill shal not come, nor haften for vs.

11 In that day will I raise vp the [i] tabernacle of Dauid, that is fallen downe, and close vp the breaches thereof, and I wil raise vp his ruines, and I wil build it, as in the dayes of olde, 12 That they may possesse the remnant of [k] Edom, and of all the heathen, because my Name is called vpon them, sayth the Lorde, that doeth this.

13 Behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that the plowman shall [l] touch the mower, and the treader of grapes him that soweth seede: and the mountaines shall [m] drop sweete wine, and all the hilles shall melt.

14 [n] And I will bring againe the captiuitie of my people of Israel: and they shal build the waste cities, and inhabite them, & they shall plant vineyardes, and drinke the wine thereof: they shall also make gardens, and eate the fruites of them.

15 And I wil plant them vpon their land, and they shall no more be pulled vp againe out of their land, which I haue giuen them, sayth the Lorde thy God.

a Which was at Ierusalem: for hee appeared not in the idolatrous places of Israel.
b Both the chiefe of them and also the common people.
c Hee sheweth that God wil declare himselfe enemie vnto them in all places, and that his elements and all creatures shall be enemies to destroy them.
d He declareth by the wonderfull power of God by the making of the heauens and the elements that it is not possible for man to escape his iudgements when he punisheth.
e Am I more bound to you then to the Ethiopians or Blackmoores? yet haue I bestowed vpon you greater benefites.
f Reade Iere. 47. 4.
g Though he destroy the rebellious multitude, yet he will euer reserue the remnant his Church to call vpon his Name.
h Meaning, that none of his should perish in his wrath.
i I wil send the Messiah promised and restore by him the spirituall Israel, Act. 15. 16.
k Meaning, that the very enemies, as were the Edomites and others, should be ioyned with the Iewes in one societie and body, whereof Christ should be the head.
l Signifying that there shall bee great plentie of all things, so that when one kinde of fruite is ripe, another shoulde followe and euery one in course, Leuit. 26. 5.
m Reade Ioel 3. 18.
n The accomplishment hereof is vnder Christ, when they are planted in his Church, out of the which they can neuer be pulled, after they are once graffed therein.

OBADIAH.

THE ARGVMENT.

THe Idumeans which came of Esau, were mortall enemies alway to the Israelites, which came of Iaakob, and therefore did not onely vexe them continually with sundry kindes of crueltie, but also stirred vp others to fight against them. Therefore when they were nowe in their greatest prosperitie, and did most triumph against Israel, which was in great affliction and miserie, God raised vp his Prophet to comfort the Israelites, forasmuch as God had nowe determined to destroy their aduersaries, which did so sore vexe them, and to send them such as should deliuer them, and set vp the kingdome of Messiah, which he had promised.

THe viſion of Obadiah. Thus ſayth the Lorde God againſt Edom, a We haue heard a rumour frō the Lorde, and an ambaſſadour is ſent among the heathen: ariſe, and b let vs riſe vp againſt her to battel.

2 Beholde, I haue made thee ſmall among the heathen: thou art veterly deſpiſed.

3 The c pride of thine heart hath deceiued thee: thou ỹ dwelleſt in the cleftes of the rockes, whoſe habitation is hie, that ſaith in his heart, Who ſhall bring me downe to the ground?

4 Though thou exalt thy ſelfe as the eagle, and make thy neſt among the ſtarres, thence will I bring thee downe, ſayth the Lorde.

5 d Came theeues to thee or robbers by night? howe waſt thou brought to ſilence? would they not haue ſtolen, till they had ynough? if the grape gatherers came to thee, would they not leaue ſome grapes?

6 Howe are the things of Eſau ſought vp, and his treaſures ſearched?

7 All the men of thy confederacie e haue driuen thee to ỹ borders: the men that were at peace ẅ thee, haue deceiued thee, and preuailed againſt thee: they that eate thy f bread, haue laid a wound vnder thee: there is none vnderſtanding in him.

8 Shall not I in that day, ſaith the Lord, euen deſtroy the wiſe men out of Edom, and vnderſtanding from the mount of Eſau?

9 And thy ſtrong men, O Teman, ſhall be afraide, becauſe euery one of the mount of Eſau ſhalbe cut off by ſlaughter.

10 For thy crueltie againſt thy g brother Iaakob, ſhame ſhall couer thee, & thou ſhalt be cut off for euer.

11 When thou ſtoodeſt h on the other ſide, in the day ỹ the ſtrangers caried away his ſubſtance, and ſtrangers entred into his gates, and caſt lots vpon Ieruſalem, euen thou waſt as one of them.

12 But thou ſhouldeſt not haue beholden the day of thy brother, in the day that hee was made i a ſtranger, neither ſhouldeſt thou haue reioyced ouer the children of Iudah, in the day of their deſtruction: thou ſhouldeſt not haue ſpoken proudly in the day of affliction.

13 Thou ſhouldeſt not haue entred into the gate of my people, in the day of their deſtruction, neither ſhouldeſt thou haue once looked on their affliction in the day of their deſtruction, nor haue layde hands on their ſubſtance in the day of their deſtruction.

14 Neither ſhouldeſt thou haue ſtood in the croſſe wayes to cut off them, that ſhould eſcape, neither ſhouldeſt thou haue ſhut vp the remnant thereof in the day of affliction.

15 For the day k of the Lorde is neere, vpon all the heathen: as thou haſt done, it ſhall bee done to thee: thy reward ſhal returne vpon thine head.

16 For as yee haue l drunke vpon mine holy Mountaine, ſo ſhall all the heathen drinke continually: yea, they ſhal drinke and ſwallow vp, and they ſhall be m as though they had not bene.

17 But vpon mount Zion ſhalbe deliuerance, and it ſhalbe holy, and the houſe of Iaakob ſhall poſſeſſe their poſſeſſions.

18 And the houſe of Iaakob ſhalbe n fire, and the houſe of Ioſeph a flame, and the houſe of Eſau as ſtubble, and they ſhall kindle in them and deuoure them: and there ſhall be no remnant of the houſe of Eſau: for the Lord hath ſpoken it.

19 And they ſhall poſſeſſe the South ſide of the o mount of Eſau, and the plaine of the Philiſtims: and they ſhall poſſeſſe the fieldes of Ephraim, and the fieldes of Samaria, and Beniamin ſhall haue Gilead.

20 And the captiuitie of this hoſte of the children of Iſrael, which were among the p Canaanites, ſhall poſſeſſe vnto Zarephath, and the captiuitie of Ieruſalem, which is in Sepharad, ſhall poſſeſſe the cities of the South.

21 And they q that ſhall ſaue, ſhall come vp to mount Zion to iudge the mount of Eſau, and the kingdome ſhalbe the Lords.

a God hath certainely reueiled to his Prophets that he wil raiſe vp the heathen to deſtroy ỹ Edomites, whereof the rumour is now publiſhed, Iere. 49. 14.

b Thus the heathē encourage themſelues to riſe againſt Edom.

c Which deſpiſeſt al others in reſpect of thy ſelfe, & yet are but an handfull in compariſon of others, & art ſhut vp among ỹ hilles as ſeparate frō the reſt of the world.

d God will ſo deſtroy them that he will leaue none, though theeues when they come, take but till they haue inough, and they that gather grapes, euer leaue ſome behinde thē, Iere. 49. 9.

e They in whome thou diddeſt truſt, for to haue helpe and friendſhip of them, ſhalbe thine enemies and deſtroy thee.

f That is, thy familiar friends and gheſtes haue by ſecret practiſes deſtroyed thee.

g He ſheweth the cauſe why the Edomites were ſo ſharpely puniſhed: to wit, becauſe they were enemies to his Church, whome now he comforteth by puniſhing their enemies.

h When Nebuchad-nezzar came againſt Ieruſalem, thou ioyneddſt with him, & hadſt part of the ſpoyle, and ſo didſt reioyce when my people, that is, thy brother, were afflicted, whereas thou ſhouldeſt haue pitied & holpen thy brother.

i When the Lord deprined them of their former dignitie & gaue them to be caried into captiuitie.

k When he will ſummon all ỹ heathen, & ſend them to deſtroy thee.

l That is, reioyced and triumphed.

m The Edomites ſhalbe vtterly deſtroyed, and yet in deſpite of all the enemies I wil reſerue my Church and reſtore it.

n God attributeth this power, to conſume his enemies, to his Church, which power is onely proper to himſelfe, as Iſa. 10, 17. deut. 4. 24. heb. 12. 29.

o He deſcribeth howe the Church ſhalbe enlarged & haue great poſſeſſions, but this chiefly is accompliſhed vnder Chriſt when as the faithfull are made heires and lordes of all things by him which is their head.

p By the Canaanites the Iewes meane ỹ Dutchmē, and by Zarephath, Fraunce, & by Sepharad, Spaine.

q Meaning, ỹ God wil raiſe vp in his Church ſuch as ſhall rule and gouerne for the defence of the ſame, and deſtruction of his enemies vnder Meſsiah, whome the Prophet calleth here the Lord and head of this kingdome.

IONAH.

THE ARGVMENT.

WHen Ionah had long prophecied in Iſrael and had litle profited, God gaue him expreſſe charge to goe, and denounce hu iudgements againſt Nineueh the chiefe citie of the Aſſyrians, becauſe hee had appointed, that they which were of the heathen, ſhould conuert by the mightie power of his word, & that within three dayes preaching, that Iſrael might ſee howe horribly they had prouoked Gods wrath, which for the ſpace of ſo many yeeres, had not conuerted to the Lord for ſo many Prophets and ſo diligent preaching. He prophecied vnder Ioaſh, and Ieroboam, as 2. Kings 14. 25.

CHAP. I.

1. Ionah fled when he was ſent to preach. 4. A tempeſt ariſeth, and he is caſt into the ſea for his diſobedience.

THe worde of the Lorde came a alſo vnto Ionah the ſonne of Amittai, ſaying, 2 Ariſe, and goe to b Nineueh, that c great citie, and crye againſt it: for their wickednes is come vp before mee.

3 But Ionah roſe vp to d flee into Tarſhiſh frō the preſence of the Lord, and went downe to e Iapho: and he found a ſhip going to Tarſhiſh: ſo he payed the fare thereof, and went downe into it, that he might go with them vnto Tarſhiſh, from the f preſence of the Lord.

4 But the Lorde ſent out a great winde into a After that hee had preached a long time in Iſrael: and ſo Ezekiel, after that for a time he had prophecied in Iuda, he had viſions in Babylon, Ezek. 1. 1.

b For ſeeing the great obſtination of the Iſraelites, he ſent his Prophet to the Gentiles that they might prouoke them to repentance, or at leaſt make them inexcuſable: for Nineueh was the chiefe citie of the Aſſyrians.

c For as authours write, it conteined in circuit about eight and fourty miles, and had a thouſand and fiue hundreth towres, and at this time there were an hundreth & twenty thouſand children therein, Chap. 4. 11.

d Whereby hee declared his weakeneſſe, that woulde not promptly follow the Lords calling, but gaue place to his owne reaſon, which perſwaded him that he ſhould nothing at all profite there, ſeeing he had done ſo ſmall good among his owne people, Chap. 4. 2.

e Which was the hauen, and porte to take ſhipping thither, called alſo Ioppe.

f From that vocation whereunto God had called him, and wherein he would haue aſſiſted him.

the

the sea, and there was a mightie tempest in the sea, so that the shippe was like to be broken.

5 Then the mariners were afraide, and cryed euery man vnto his God, and cast the wares that were in the ship, into the sea to lighten it of them: but Ionah was gone downe ginto the sides of the ship, and he lay downe, and was fast asleepe.

6 So the shipmaster came to him, and sayde vnto him, What meaneſt thou, O sleeper? Arise, call vpon thy h God, if so be that God will thinke vpon vs, that we perish not.

7 And they saide euery one to his fellowe, Come, and let vs cast i lottes, that we may knowe, for whose cause this euill is vpon vs. So they cast lottes, and the lot fell vpon Ionah.

8 Then said they vnto him, Tell vs for whose cause this euill is vpon vs? What is thine occupation? and whence commeſt thou? which is thy countrey? and of what people art thou?

9 And he answered them, I am an Ebrewe, and I feare the Lord God of heauen, which hath made the sea, and the dry land.

10 Then were the men exceedingly afraide, and said vnto him, Why hast thou done this? (for the men knew, that he fled from the presence of the Lord, because he had tolde them)

11 Then said they vnto him, What shall wee doe vnto thee, that the sea may be calme vnto vs? (for the sea wrought and was troublous)

12 And he said vnto them, Take me, and cast me into the sea: so shall the sea bee calme vnto you: for I knowe that for my sake this great tempest is vpon you.

13 Neuertheleſſe, the men rowed to bring it to the lande, but they coulde not: for the sea wrought, and was troublous against them.

14 Wherefore they cryed vnto the Lord, and said, k We beseech thee, O Lord, we beseech thee, let vs not perish for this mans life, and lay not vpon vs innocent blood: for thou, O Lord, hast done as it pleased thee.

15 So they tooke vp Ionah, and cast him into the sea, and the sea ceased from her raging.

16 Then the men l feared the Lord exceedingly, & offered a sacrifice vnto the Lord, & made vowes.

17 Nowe the Lorde had prepared a great fish to swallowe vp Ionah: and Ionah was in the m belly of the fish three dayes, and three nights.

g As one that would haue cast off this care and sollicitude, by seeking rest and quietneſſe.

h As they had called on their idoles, which declareth that idolaters haue no stay nor certeintie, but in their troubles seeke, they can not tell to whome.

i Which declareth that the matter was in great extremitie, and doubt, which thing was Gods motion in them for the triall of the cause: and this may not be done but in matters of great importance.

k This declareth that the very wicked in their necessities flee vnto God for succour, and also that they are touched with a certaine feare to shed mans blood, whereas they knowe no manifest signe of wickednes.

l They were touched with a certaine repentance of their life past, and began to worship the true God, by whome they sawe themselues so wonderfully deliuered: but this was done for feare and not of a pure heart and affection, neither according to Gods worde.

m Thus the Lord would chastise his Prophet with a most terrible spectacle of death, and hereby also confirmed him of his fauour and support in this his charge which was inioyned him.

CHAP. II.

1 Ionah is in the fishes bellie. 2 His prayer. 10 He is deliuered.

THen Ionah prayed vnto the Lorde his God a out of the fishes belly,

2 And said, I cryed in mine affliction vnto the Lorde, and he heard me: out of the bellie b of hell cryed I, and thou heardeſt my voyce.

3 For thou haddeſt cast me into the bottome in the middeſt of the sea, and the floods compaſſed me about: all thy surges, and all thy waues passed ouer me.

4 Then I saide, I am c cast away out of thy sight: yet will I looke againe toward thine holy Temple.

5 The waters compaſſed me about vnto the soule: the depth closed me rounde about, and the weedes were wrapt about mine head.

6 I went downe to the bottome of the mountaines: the earth with her barres was about me for euer, yet hast thou brought vp my d life from the pit, O Lord my God.

7 When my soule fainted within me, I remembred the Lorde: and my prayer came vnto thee, into thine holy Temple.

8 They that waite vpon lying e vanities, forsake their owne f mercie.

9 But I will sacrifice vnto thee with the voyce of thankesgiuing, and will pay that that I haue vowed: saluation is of the Lord.

10 And the Lorde spake vnto the fish, and it cast out Ionah vpon the dry land.

a Being nowe swallowed vp of death, and seeing no remedie to escape, his faith brast out vnto the Lord, knowing that out of the very hell he was able to deliuer him.

b For he was nowe in the fishes bellie as in a graue or place of darknes

c This declared what his prayer was, and how he laboured betweene hope and despaire, considering the neglect of his vocation and Gods iudgements for the same: but yet in the ende faith gate the victorie.

d Thou hast deliuered me from the bellie of the fish and from the gates of dangers, as it were raising me from death to life.

e They that depend vpon any thing saue on God alone.

f They refuse their owne felicitie, and that goodnes which they should els receiue of God.

CHAP. III.

1 Ionah is sent againe to Nineueh. 5 The repentance of the King of Nineueh.

ANd the word of the Lorde came vnto a Ionah the second time, saying,

2 Arise, goe vnto Nineueh that great citie, & preach vnto it the preaching, which I bid thee.

3 So Ionah arose and went to Nineueh according to the word of the Lord: now Nineueh was a b great & excellent citie of three dayes iourney.

4 And Ionah began to enter into the citie a daies c iourney, and he cryed, and said, Yet fourty dayes, and Nineueh shalbe ouerthrowen.

5 So the people of Nineueh d beleeued God, and proclaimed a fast, and put on sackcloth from the greatest of them euen to the least of them.

6 For worde came vnto the King of Nineueh, and he arose from his throne, and he layed his robe from him, and couered him with sackecloth, and sate in ashes.

7 And he proclaimed and said through Nineueh, (by the counsell of the king & his nobles) saying, Let neither mā, nor e beast, bullock nor sheep taste any thing, neither feede, nor drinke water.

8 But let man and beast put on sackecloth, and f crie mightily vnto God: yea, let euery man turne from his euill way, and from the wickednesse that is in their handes.

9 g Who can tell if God will turne, and repent and turne away from his fierce wrath, that we perish not?

10 And God sawe their h workes that they turned from their euill wayes: and i God repented of the euill that he had said that hee woulde doe vnto them, and he did it not.

a This is a great declaration of Gods mercie, that he receiueth him againe and sendeth him forth as his Prophet, which had before shewed so great infirmitie.

b Reade Chap. I. 2

c He went forwarde one day in the citie, and preached, and so he continued till the citie was conuerted.

d For he declared that he was a Prophet sent to them from God to denounce his iudgments against them.

e Not that the dumbe beasts had sinned or could repent, but that by their example man might be astonished, considering that for his sinne the anger of God hanged ouer all creatures.

f He willed, that the men should earnestly call vnto God for mercie.

g For partly by threatning of the Prophet, and partly by the motion of his owne conscience, he doubted whether God would shew them mercie.

h That is, the fruites of their repentance, which did proceede of faith which God had planted by the ministerie of his Prophet.

i Reade Ierem. 18. 8.

CHAP. IIII.

The great goodnes of God toward his creatures.

THerefore it displeased a Ionah exceedingly, and he was angrie.

2 And he prayed vnto the Lord, and saide, I pray thee, O Lord, was not this my saying, when I was yet in my countrey? therefore I preuented it to flee vnto b Tarshish: for I knewe that thou art a gracious God, & merciful slow to anger, and of great kindnes, and repentest thee of the euill.

3 Therefore nowe O Lorde, take, I beseech thee, my life c from me: for it is better for me to die then to liue.

4 Then saide the Lorde, Doest thou well to a Because hereby he shoulde be taken as a false prophet, and so the Name of God, whith he preached, should be blasphemed.

b Reade Chap. 1. 3.

c Thus he prayed of griefe, fearing least Gods Name by this forgiueneſſe might be blasphemed as though he sent his Prophets foorth to denounce his iudgements in vaine.

d Wilt thou be iudge when I doe thing: for my glorie, & when I doe not?

e For he doubted as yet whether God would shew them mercie or no: and therefore after fourtie dayes he departed out of the citie, looking what issue God would send.

f Which was a further meanes, to couer him from the heate of the sunne, as he remained in his boothe.

be d angry?

5 So Ionah went out of the citie and sate on the East side of the citie, and there made him a boothe, and sate vnder it in the shadowe e till he might see what should be done in the citie.

6 And the Lorde God prepared a f gourde, and made it to come vp ouer Ionah, that it might bee a shadowe ouer his head and deliuer him from his griefe. So Ionah was exceeding glad of the gourde.

7 But God prepared a worme when the morning rose the next day, and it smote the gourde, that it withered.

8 And when the sunne did arise, God prepared also a feruent East winde: and the sunne beat vpon the head of Ionah, that he fainted, and wished in his heart to die, and said, It is better for me to die then to liue.

9 And God said vnto Ionah, Doest thou well to be angrie for the gourde? And he sayde, I doe well to be angrie vnto the death.

10 Then saide the Lorde, Thou hast had pitie on the gourde for the which thou hast not laboured, neither madest it growe, which came vp in a night, and perished in a night, 11 And shouldst h not I spare Nineueh that great citie, wherein are sixe score thousande persons, that i cannot discerne betweene their right hand, and their left hand, and also much cattell?

g This declareth the great inconueniences wherinto Gods seruants do fal when they giue place to their own affections, and do not in all things willingly submit themselues to God.

h Thus God mercifully reproueth him, which would pitie himselfe, and this gourde, and yet would restraine God to shewe his compassion to so many thousande people.

i Meaning, that they were children and infants.

MICAH.

THE ARGVMENT.

Micah the Prophet of the tribe of Iudah serued in the worke of the Lord, concerning Iudah and Israel at the least thirtie yeeres: at what time Isaiah prophecied. He declareth the destruction, first of the one kingdome, and then of the other, because of their manifolde wickednesse, but chiefly for their idolatrie. And to this end he noteth the wickednesse of the people, the crueltie of the princes and gouernours, and the permission of the false prophets, and the delighting in thē. Then he setteth foorth the comming of Christ, his kingdome, and the felicitie thereof. This Prophet was not that Micah, which resisted Ahab, and all his false proppets, as 1. King. 22. 8. but another of the same name.

CHAP. I.

1 The destruction of Iudah and Israel because of their idolatrie.

THe worde of the Lorde, that came vnto Micah the a Morashite in the dayes of Iotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah Kings of Iudah, which he sawe concerning Samaria, and Ierusalem.

2 Heare, b all ye people: hearken thou, O earth, & all that therein is, & let the Lorde God be witnes against you, euen ỹ Lord from his holy Tẽple.

3 For beholde, the Lorde commeth out of his place, and will come c downe, and tread vpon the hie places of the earth.

4 And the mountaines shall melt vnder him (so shall the valleyes cleaue) as waxe before the fire, and as ỹ waters that are powred downeward.

5 For the wickednes of Iaakob is all this, and for the sinnes of the house of Israel: what is the wickednes of Iaakob? Is not d Samaria? & which are the hie e places of Iudah? Is not Ierusalem?

6 Therefore I will make Samaria as an heape of the fielde, and for the planting of a vineyard, and I will cause the stones thereof to tumble downe into the valley, and I will discouer the foundations thereof.

7 And all the grauen images thereof shall be broken, and all the f giftes thereof shall be burnt with the fire, and all the idoles thereof will I destroy: for she gathered it of the hire of an harlot, and they shal returne g to the wages of an harlot.

8 Therefore I will mourne and howle: I will goe without clothes, and naked: I will make lamentation like the dragons, and mourning as the ostriches.

9 For her plagues are grieuous: for it is come into Iudah: the enemie is come vnto the gate of my people, vnto Ierusalem.

10 Declare ye it not at h Gath, neither weepe ye: for the house of i Aphrah roule thy selfe in the dust.

11 Thou ỹ dwellest at k Shaphir, goe together naked with shame: she that dwelleth at Zaanan, shal not come forth in ỹ mourning of Beth-ezel: the enemie shall l receiue of you for his standing.

12 For the inhabitant of Maroth wayted for good, but euill came from the Lorde vnto the m gate of Ierusalem.

13 O thou inhabitant of Lachish, binde the charet to the beastes n of price: she o is the beginning of the sinne to the daughter of Zion: for the transgressions of Israel were found in thee.

14 Therefore shalt thou giue presents to Moresheth p Gath: the houses of Achzib shalbe as a lye to the Kings of Israel.

15 Yet will I bring an q heire vnto thee, O inhabitant of Maresha, hee shall come vnto Adullam, r the glorie of Israel.

16 Make thee balde: and shaue thee for thy delicate children: enlarge thy baldnesse as the eagle, for they are gone into captiuitie from thee.

a Borne in Maresha a citie of Iudah.

b Because of the malice, & obstinacie of the people whom he had so oft exhorted to repentance, he summoneth them to Gods iudgements, taking all creatures, and God himselfe to witnes, that the preaching of the Prophets, which they haue abused, shalbe reuenged.

c Meaning hereby, that God will come to iudgement against the strong cities and holdes.

d Samaria, which should haue bene an example to all Israel of true religion and iustice, was the puddle, and stewes of all idolatrie and corruption, & boasted themselues of their father Iaakob.

e That is, the idolatrie and infection.

f Which they gathered by euill practises, and thought that their idoles had enriched them therewith for their seruice vnto them.

g The gaine that came by their idoles, shall be consumed as a thing of nought: for as the wages or riches of harlots are wickedly gotten, so are they vilely and speedily spent.

h Lest the Philistims our enemies reioyce at our destruction.

i Which was a citie neere to Ierusalem, Iosh. 18. 23. there called Ophrah, & signifieth dust: therefore he willeth them to mourne, and roule themselues in the dust, for their dustie citie.

k These were cities whereby the enemie should passe as he came to Iudah.

l He shall no departure before he hath ouercome you, and so you shall pay for his tarying.

m For Rabshakeh had shut vp Ierusalem, that they could not send to succour them.

n To flee away: for Sancheribs laid siege first to that citie, and remained therein when hee sent his captaines and armie against Ierusalem.

o Thou first receiuedst the idolatrie of Ieroboam, and so diddest infect Ierusalem.

p Thou shalt bribe the Philistims thy neighbours, but they shall deceiue thee, as well as they of Ierusalem.

q He prophecieth against his owne citie, and because it signified an heritage, hee saieth that God would send an heire to possesse it.

r For so they thought themselues for the strength of their citie.

CHAP. II.

1 Threatnings against the wanton and deinsie people. 6 They would teach the Prophets to preach.

WO vnto them that imagine iniquitie, and worke wickednesse vpon their beddes: a when the morning is light they practise it because their hand † hath power.

a Assoone as they rise, they execute their wicked deuises of the night, and according to their power hurt others.

2 And

2 And they couet fieldes, and take them by violence, and houses, and take them away: so they oppresse a man and his house, euen man and his heritage.

3 Therefore thus saith the Lorde, Beholde, against this family haue I deuised a plague, whereout ye shall not plucke your neckes, and ye shall not go so proudly, for this time is euill.

4 In that day shall they take vp a parable against you, and lament with a dolefull lamentation, and say, [b] We be vtterly wasted: hee hath changed the portion of my people: how hath he taken it away to restore it vnto me? hee hath diuided our fields.

5 Therefore thou shalt haue none that shall cast a corde by lot in [c] the congregation of the Lord.

6 [d] They that prophecied, prophecie ye not. [e] They shal not prophecie to them, neither shall they take shame.

7 O thou that art named of the house of Iaakob, is the Spirite of the Lorde shortened? [f] are these his workes? are not my words good vnto him [g] that walketh vprightly?

8 But he that was [h] yesterday my people, is risen vp on the other side, as against an enemie: they spoile the [i] beautifull garment from them that passe by peaceably, as though they returned from the warre.

9 The women of my people haue ye cast out from their pleasant houses, and from their childrē haue ye taken away [k] my glorie continually.

10 Arise and depart, for this is not your [l] rest: because it is polluted, it shall destroy you, euen with a sore destruction.

11 If a man [m] walke in the Spirit, and woulde lie falsely, saying, [n] I wil prophecie vnto thee of wine, and of strong drinke, hee shall euen be the prophet of this people.

12 I will surely gather [o] thee wholy, O Iaakob: I wil surely gather the remnant of Israel: I will put them together as the sheepe of Bozrah, euen as the flocke in the mids of their folde: the cities shalbe full of brute of the men.

13 The [p] breaker vp shall come vp before them: they shall breake out, and passe by [q] gate, and goe out by it, and their King shal goe before them, and the Lord shalbe [q] vpon their heads.

b Thus the Iewes lament & say that there is no hope of restitution, seeing their possessions are diuided among the enimies.
c Ye shal haue no more lands to deuide, as you had in times past, and as you vsed to measure them in the Iubile.
d Thus the people warne [y] prophets that they speake to them no more: for they cannot abide their threatnings.
e God saith that they shall not prophecie, nor receiue no more of their rebukes not tauts.
f Are these your workes according to his Law?
g Do not the godly find my words comfortable?
h That is, afore time.
i The poore can haue no commoditie by them, but they spoile them, as though they were enemies.
k That is, their substance and lining, which is Gods blessing, and as it were, parte of his glorie.
l Ierusalem shall not be your safegard: but the cause of your destructiō.
m That is, shew himselfe to be a Prophet.
n He sheweth what Prophets they delite in: that is, in flatterers, which tell them pleasant tales, and speake of their commodities.
o To destroy thee.
p The enemie shall breake their gates and walles & leade them into Caldea.
q To driue them forward, and to helpe their enemies.

CHAP. III.

1 Against the tyrannie of princes and false prophets.

AND I said, Heare, I pray you, O heads of Iaakob, and yee princes of the house of Israel: should not ye know [a] iudgement?

2 But they hate the good, and loue the euil: they plucke off their skinnes from them, & their flesh from their bones.

3 And they eate also the [b] flesh of my people, and flay off their skinne from them, and they breake their bones, and chop them in pieces, as for the pot, and as flesh within the caldron.

4 Then [c] shall they crie vnto the Lorde, but he will not heare them: he wil euen hide his face from them at that time, because they haue done wickedly in their workes.

5 Thus saith the Lord, Concerning the prophets that deceiue my people, and [d] bite them with their teeth, and crie peace, but if a man put not into their mouthes, they prepare warre against him.

6 Therefore [e] night shalbe vnto you for a vision, and darkenes shal be vnto you for a diuination, and the sunne shall go downe ouer the prophets, and the day shalbe darke ouer them.

7 Thē shal the Seers be ashamed, & the southsayers confounded: yea, they shall al couer [f] their lips, for they haue none answere of God.

8 Yet notwithstanding I am full [g] of power by the Spirit of the Lord, and of iudgement, and of strength to declare vnto Iaakob his transgression, and to Israel his sinne.

9 Heare this, I pray you, ye heads of [y] house of Iaakob, and princes of the house of Israel: they abhorre iudgement, and peruert all equitie.

10 They build vp Zion with [h] blood, and Ierusalem with iniquitie.

11 The heads thereof iudge for rewards, and the Priests thereof teach for hyre, and the prophets thereof prophecie for money: yet wil they [i] leane vpon the Lord, and say, Is not the Lorde among vs? no euil can come vpon vs.

12 Therefore shall Zion [k] for your sake bee plowed as a field, & Ierusalem shal be an heape, and the mountaine of the house, as the hie places of the forest.

a That thing which is iust and lawful, both to gouerne my people aright, and also to discharge your owne conscience?
b The Prophet cōdemneth [y] wicked gouerners not only of couetousnesse, theft & murther, but compareth them to wolues lions, and most cruel beasts.
c That is, when I shal visite their wickednes: for though I heare the godly before they crie, Isa. 65.24. yet I wil not heare these though they crie, Isai. 1.15. and Ezek. 8.18. 1 Sam. 2.12. 1. Pet. 3.11, 12.
d They deuoure all their substance, & then flatter thē, promising that all shal go well: but if one restraine from their bellies, then they inuent all waies to mischiefe.
e As you haue loued to walke in darkenesse, and to prophecie lies, so God shall reward you with grosse blindnesse, and ignorance, so that when all others shall see the bright beames of Gods graces, ye shall as blinde men grope as in the night.
f When God shal discouer them to the world, they shalbe afraide to speake: for all shall knowe that they were but false prophets, and did belie the worde of God.
g The Prophet being assured of his vocation by the Spirit of God, setteth himselfe alone against all the wicked, shewing how God both gaue him gifts, abilitie and knowledge, to discerne betweene good and euill, and also constancie to reproone the sinnes of the people, and not to flatter them.
h They builde them houses by briberie, which he calleth blood & iniquitie.
i They will say, that they are the people of God, and abuse his Name as a pretence to cloke their hypocrisie.
k Reade Ierem 26.18.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Of the kingdome of Christ, and felicitie of his Church.

BVt in the [a] last dayes it shall come to passe, that the mountaine of the House of the Lord shalbe prepared in the toppe of the mountaines, and it shalbe exalted aboue the [b] hilles, and people shall flowe vnto it.

2 Yea, many nations shal come & say, Come, and let vs goe vp to the Mountaine of the Lord, and to the House of the God of Iaakob, and hee will [c] teach vs his wayes, and we wil walke in his paths: for the Lawe shall goe forth of Zion, and the word of the Lord from Ierusalem.

3 And he shal iudge among many people, & [d] rebuke mightie nations afarre off, & they shall breake their swordes into mattockes, and their speares into [e] sythes: nation shall not lift vp a sword against nation, neither shall they [f] learne to fight any more.

4 But they shal sit euery man vnder his vine, and vnder his figge tree, and none shall make them afraid: for the mouth of the Lord of hosts hath spoken it.

5 For al people wil walke [g] euery one in the name of his God, & we wil walke in the Name of the Lord our God, for euer and euer.

6 At the same day, saith the Lorde, will I gather her that halteth, and I will gather her that is cast out, and her that I haue afflicted.

7 And I will make her that halted, [h] a remnant, and her that was cast farre off, a mightie nation: and the Lorde shall reigne ouer them in a When Christ shall come, and the Temple shalbe destroyed.

b Reade Isa. 2.2.
c He sheweth that there is no true Church but where as the people are taught by Gods pure word.
d By his corrections & threatnings he will bring the people into subiection which are in the vtmost corners of the world.
e They shal abstaine from all euil doing, and exercise themselues in godlinesse and in well doing to others.
f Reade Isa. 2.4.
g He sheweth that the people of God ought to remaine constant in their religion, albeit all the world should giue themselues to their superstition and idolatrie.
h I will cause that Israel, which is now as one lame and halting, and so almost destroyed, shal liue againe and growe into a great people.

Mount

Mount Zion, from hence forth euen for euer.

i Meaning Ierusalem, where ỹ Lords flocke was gathered.

8 And thou, O i towre of the flocke, the strong holde of the daughter Zion, vnto thee shall it come, euen k the first dominion, and kingdome shall come to the daughter Ierusalem.

k The florishing state of the kingdome as it was vnder Dauid and Salomon, which thing was accomplished to the church by the cõming o Christ.

9 Now why doest thou crie out with lamentation? is l there no king in thee? is thy counseller perished? for sorow hath taken thee, as a woman in trauaile.

l In the meane season he sheweth that they should endure great troubles and temtations when they sawe themselues neither to haue king nor counsel.

10 Sorow and mourne, O daughter Zion, like a woman in trauaile: for now shalt thou go forth of the citie, and dwel in the field, and shalt go into Babel, but there shalt thou be deliuered: there the Lorde shall redeeme thee from the hande of thine enemies.

11 Nowe also many nations are gathered against thee, saying, Zion shal be condemned and our eie shall looke vpon Zion.

12 But they m knowe not the thoughts of the Lord: they vnderstand not his counsel, for he shal gather them as the sheaues in the barne.

m He sheweth that the faithfull ought not to measure Gods iudgements by ỹ brags and threatnings of the wicked, but thereby are admonished to lift vp their harts to God to call for deliuerance.

13 Arise, and thresh, n O daughter Zion: for I will make thine horne yron, and I will make thine hooues brasse, and thou shalt breake in pieces many people: and I wil consecrate their riches vnto the Lord, and their substance vnto the ruler of the whole world.

n God giueth his Church this victorie, so oft as hee ouercommeth their enemies; but the accomplishment hereof shal be at the last comming of Christ.

CHAP. V.

1 The destructiõ of Ierusalem. 2 The excellency of Beth leem.

NOw assemble thy garisons, O daughter o of garisons: he hath laid siege against vs: they shall smite the iudge of Israel with a rod vpon ỹ cheek.

o He forewarneth them of the dangers ỹ shall come before they enioy these comforts, shewing that forasmuch as Ierusalem was accustomed with her garisons to trouble others, the Lord would now cause other garisons to vexe her, & that her Rulers should be smitten on ỹ face most contemptuously.

2 And thou Beth leem Ephrathah art p little to be among the thousands of Iudah, yet out of thee shall he come forth vnto me, that shalbe the ruler in Israel: whose q goings forth haue bin from the beginning and from euerlasting.

p For so ỹ Iewes diuided their cõtrey, that for euery thousãd there was a chiefe captaine: and because Beth-leem was not able to make a thousand, he calleth it little, but yet God will raise vp his captaine & gouernour therein: and thus it is not the least by reason of this benefite, as Matth. 2. 6.

q He sheweth that the comming of Christ and all his wayes were appointed of God from all eternitie.

3 Therefore will he giue them vp, vntill the time that r she which shall beare, shall trauaile: then the remnant of their brethren shall returne vnto the children of Israel.

r Meaning Ierusalem, which shall be destroyed, and the people caried away captiue.

4 And he shal s stand, & feed in the strength of the Lord, and in the maiestie of the Name of the Lord his God, & they shal dwel still: for now shal he be magnified vnto the ends of the world.

s Christ.

5 And he t shall be our peace when Asshur shall come into our land: when he shal treade in our palaces, then shall we raise against him seuen shepheards, and eight principall men.

t Christ shall be our peace, when we shall be reconciled vnto God by him, and when he shall defend vs against our enemies.

6 And they shall destroy u Asshur with the sword, & the land of Nimrod with their swords: thus shal he x deliuer vs from Asshur, when hee commeth into our land, and when he shall tread within our borders.

u Christ shall destroy Asshur, that is, all the enemies of his Church.

x He shall deliuer vs from the tyrannie of Asshur, that is, of the Babylonians, which were the chiefe at that time.

7 And the y remnant of Iaakob shalbe amõg many people, as z dew from the Lord, and as the showres vpon the grasse, that waiteth not for mã, nor hopeth in the sonnes of Adam.

y Christ shall be a sufficient safegard for vs, and though the enemie inuade vs for a time, yet shall God stir vp many which shalbe able to deliuer vs.

z These whom God shal raise vp for the deliuerance of his Church, shal destroy all the enemies thereof, which are meant here by the Assyrians and Babylonians which were the chiefe at that time.

8 And the remnant of Iaakob shalbe among the Gentiles in the middes of many people, as the lion among the beastes of the forest, and as the lyons whelpe among the flockes of sheepe, who when he goeth thorow, treadeth downe and teareth in pieces, and none can deliuer.

a Meaning the Gentiles.

9 Thine hand shal be lift vp vpon thine aduersaries, and all thine enemies shalbe cut off.

10 And it shal come to passe in that day, saith the Lord, that I will cut off thine b horses out of the middes of thee, and I wil destroy thy charets.

b I will destroy all things wherein thou putteste thy confidence, as thy vaine confidence and idolatrie, and so wil helpe thee.

11 And I wil cut off the cities of thy land, and ouerthrowe all thy strong holdes.

12 And I will cut off thine enchanters out of thine hand: and thou shalt haue no more southsayers.

13 Thine idoles also will I cut off, and thine images out of the mids of thee: and thou shalt no more worship the worke of thine hands.

14 And I wil plucke vp thy groues out of the middes of thee: so wil I destroy thine enemies.

15 And I wil execute a vengeance in my wrath and indignation vpon the heathen, I which they haue not heard.

c It shalbe so terrible that ỹ like hath not bin heard of.

CHAP. VI.

An exhortation to the dumme creatures to heare the iudgement against Israel being vnkind. 6 What manner of sacrifices do please God.

HEarken yee now what the Lorde saieth, Arise thou, and contend before the a mountaines, and let the hilles heare thy voyce.

a He taketh ỹ hie mountains & hard rocks to witnes against the obstinacie of his people,

2 Heare ye, O mountaines, the Lordes quarel, and ye mightie foundations of the earth: for the Lord hath a quarel against his people, and he wil pleade with b Israel.

b I haue not hurt thee, but bestowed infinite benefites vpon thee.

3 O my people, what haue I done vnto thee? or wherin haue I grieued thee? testifie against me.

c That is, remember my benefites from the beginning how I deliuered you from Balaams curse, and also spared you from Shittim, which was in the plaine of Moab, till I brought you into the land promised.

4 Surely I c brought thee vp out of the land of Egypt, and redeemed thee out of the house of seruants, and I haue sent before thee, Moses, Aaron, and Miriam.

5 O my people, remember now what Balak king of Moab had deuised, & what Balaam ỹ son of Beor answered him, frõ d Shittim vnto Gilgal, that ye may know the e righteousnes of ỹ Lord.

d That is, ỹ meeting of his promes and his manifold benefites toward you.

e Thus the people by hypocrisie aske how to please God, and are content to offer sacrifices, but will not change their liues.

6 Wherewith f shal I come before the Lord, and bowe my selfe before the h'e God? Shall I come before him with burnt offerings, and with calues of a yeere olde?

f There is nothing so deare to man, but the hypocrites will offer it vnto God, if they think thereby to auoyde his anger: but they will neuer be brought to mortifie their owne affections & to giue themselues wil-

7 Wil the Lord be pleased with thousands of rams, or with ten thousand riuers of oyles? shall I giue my f first borne for my transgression, euen the fruit of my body, for the sinne of my soule?

8 Hee hath shewed thee, O man, what is good, and what the Lord requireth of thee: g surely to do iustly, and to loue mercy, and to humble thy selfe, to walke with thy God.

lingly to serue God as he commandeth.

g The Prophet in fewe wordes calleth them to the obseruation of the second table, to know if they will obey God aright or no, saying that God hath prescribed them to doe this.

9 The Lordes voyce crieth vnto the h citie, and the man of wisedome shall see thy name: Heare the rodde, and who hath appointed it.

h Meaning, that when God speaketh to any citie or nation, the godly will acknowledge his maiestie, and consider not the mortall man that bringeth the threatning, but God that sendeth it.

10 Are yet the treasures of wickednesse in the house of the wicked, and the scant measure, that is abominable?

11 Shall

11 Shall I iustifie the wicked balances, and the bag of deceitfull weightes?

12 For the rich men [1] therefore are full of crueltie, & the inhabitants thereof haue spoken lies, and their tongue is deceitfull in their mouth.

13 Therefore also will I make thee sicke in smiting thee, and in making thee desolate, because of thy sinnes.

14 Thou shalt eate and not be satisfied, and [k] thy casting downe shall be in the mids of thee, and thou [l] shalt take holde, but shalt not deliuer, and that which thou deliuerest, will I giue vp to the sworde.

15 Thou shalt sowe, but not reape: thou shalt treade the oliues, but thou shalt not anoint thee with oyle, and make sweete wine, but shalt not drinke wine.

16 For the [m] statutes of Omri are kept, & all the maner of the house of Ahab, and ye walke in their counsels, that I should make thee waste, and the inhabitanas thereof an hissing: therefore ye shall beare the reproche of my people.

i That is, of Jerusalem.
k Thou shalt be consumed with inwarde griefe and euils.
l Meaning, that the citie shoulde goe about to saue her men, as they that lay holde on that which they would preserue.
m You haue receiued all the corruption and idolatrie, wherewith the ten tribes were infected vnder Omri and Ahab his sonne: and to excuse your doings, you alledge the Kings authoritie by his statutes, and also wisedome and policie in so doing, but you shall not escape punishment, but as I haue shewed you great fauour, and taken you for my people, so shall your plagues be accordingly, Luke 12.47.

CHAP. VII.

1 A complaint for the small nombre of the righteous. 4 The wickednesse of those times. 14 The prosperitie of the Church.

WO is me, for I am as [a] the sommer gatherings, and as the grapes of the vintage: there is no cluster to eate: my soule desired the first ripe fruites.

2 The good man is perished out of the earth, and there is none righteous among men: [b] they all lye in waite for blood: euery man hunteth his brother with a net.

3 To make good for the euil of their hands, the prince asked, and the iudge iudgeth for a reward: therefore the [c] great man he speaketh out the corruption of his soule: so [d] they wrapt it vp.

4 The best of them is as [e] a brier, and the most righteous of them is sharper then a thorne hedge: the daye of [f] thy watchmen and thy visitation commeth: then shall be their confusion.

5 Trust ye not in a friend, neither put ye confidence in a counseller: keepe the doores of thy mouth from her that lyeth in thy bosome.

6 For the sonne reuileth the father: [g] daughter riseth vp against her mother: the daughter in lawe against her mother in lawe, and a mans enemies are the men of his owne house.

7 Therefore [g] I will looke vnto the Lorde, I will waite for God my Sauiour: my God will heare me.

8 Reioyce not against me, [h] O mine enemie: though I fall, I shall arise: when I shal sit in darknesse, the Lord shalbe a light vnto me.

9 [i] I will beare the wrath of the Lorde, because I haue sinned against him, vntill he pleade my cause, and execute iudgement for me: then will he bring me foorth to the light, and I shall see his righteousnesse.

10 Then she that is mine enemie, shall looke vpon it, and shame shall couer her, which said vnto me, Where is the Lorde thy God? Mine eyes shall behold her: now shal she be troden downe as the mire of the streetes.

11 This is [k] the day, that thy walles shalbe built: this day shall driue farre away [k] the decree.

12 In this day also they shall come vnto thee from [l] Asshur, and from the strong cities, and from the strong holdes euen vnto the riuer, and from Sea to Sea, and from mountaine to mountaine.

13 Notwithstanding, the land shall be desolate because of them that dwell therein, and for the fruites of [m] their inuentions.

14 [n] Feede thy people with thy rod, the flocke of thine heritage (which dwell solitarie in the wood) as in the middes of Carmel: let them feede in Bashan and Gilead, as in olde time.

15 [o] According to the dayes of thy comming out of the lande of Egypt, will I shewe vnto him marueilous things.

16 The nations shall see, and bee confounded for all their power: they shall [p] lay their hande vpon their mouth: [q] their eares shall be deafe.

17 They shall [r] licke the dust like a serpent: they shall moouе out of their holes like wormes: they shalbe afraide of the Lord our God, and shal feare because of thee.

18 Who is a God like vnto thee, that taketh away iniquitie, and [s] passeth by the transgression of the remnant of his heritage? He reteineth not his wrath for euer, because mercie pleaseth him.

19 He will turne againe, and haue compassion vpon vs: he will subdue our iniquities, and cast all [t] their sinnes into the bottome of the sea.

20 Thou wilt perfourme thy [u] trueth to Iakob, and mercy to Abraham, as thou hast sworne vnto our fathers in olde time.

a The Prophet taketh vpon him the person of the earth, which complaineth that all her fruites are gone, so that none is left: that is, that there is no godly man remaining: for all are giuen to crueltie and deceite, so that none spareth his owne brother.
b He sheweth that the prince, the iudge and the rich man are linked together, all to doe euill and to cloke [g] doings one of another.
c That is, the rich man that is able to giue money, abstaineth from no wickednesse nor iniurie.
d These men agree among themselues and conspire with one consent to doe euill. e They that are of most estimation and are counted most honest among them, are but thornes and briers to pricke. f Meaning, of the Prophets and gouernours. g The Prophet sheweth [g] the onely remedy for [g] godly in desperate euils is to flee vnto God for succour.
h This is spoken in the person of the Church, which calleth the maligner Church her enemie.
i To wit, when God shall shewe himselfe a deliuerer of his Church and a destroyer of his enemies.
k Meaning, the cruel empire of the Babylonians.
l When the Church shall be restored, they that were enemies afore, shall come out of all the corners of the worlde vnto her, so that neither holdes, riuers, seas nor mountaines shall be able to let them.
m After this grace [illegible] he sheweth [illegible] griefe [illegible] hypocrites [illegible] selues shall be punished, seeing that the earth it selfe, which can not sinne, shalbe made waste because of their wickednesse.
n The Prophet prayeth to God to be mercifull vnto his Church, when they should be scattered abroade as in solitarie places in Babylon, and to be beneficiall vnto them as in time past.
o God promiseth to be fauourable to his people as he had bene afore time.
p They shall be as dumme men and dare bragge no more.
q They shalbe astonished, & afraid to heare men speake, least they should heare of their destruction. r They shall fall flat on the grounde for feare. s As though he would not see it, but winke at it. t Meaning, of his elect. u The Church is assured, that God will declare in effect the trueth of his mercifull promes, which he had made of olde to Abraham, and to all that shoulde apprehende the promise by faith.

NAHVM.

THE ARGVMENT.

AS they of Nineueh shewed themselues prompt and readie to receiue the word of God at Jonahs preaching, and so turned to the Lord by repentance: so after a certaine time rather giuing themselues to worldly meanes to encrease their dominion, then seeking to continue in the feare of God, and trade wherein they had begunne, they cast off the care of religion, and so returned to their vomite, and prouoked Gods iust iudgement against them, in afflicting his people. Therefore their citie Nineueh was destroyed, and Meroch-baladan King of Babel (or as some thinke Nebuchad-nezzar) enioyed the empire of the Assyrians. But because God hath a continuall care of his Church, he stirreth vp his Prophet to comfort the godly, shewing that the destruction of their enemies should be for their consolation. And as it seemeth, he prophecied about the time of Hezekiah, and not in the time of Manasseh his sonne, as the Iewes write.

CHAP. I.

Of the destruction of the Assyrians, and of the deliuerance of Israel.

THe [a] burden of Nineueh, [b] The booke of the vision of Nahum the [c] Elkeshite.

2 God is [d] ielous, and the Lord reuengeth: the Lorde reuengeth: euen the Lorde [e] of anger, the Lord will take vengeance on his aduersaries, & he reserueth wrath for his enemies.

3 The [f] Lord is slow to anger, but he is great in power, and will not surely cleare the wicked: the Lord hath his way in ỹ whirlewinde, & in the storme, & the cloudes are the dust of his feete.

4 He rebuketh the sea, and dryeth it, and he dryeth vp all the riuers: Bashan is wasted and Carmel, and the floure of Lebanon is wasted.

5 The mountaines tremble for him, and the hilles melt, and the earth is burnt at his sight, yea, the worlde, and all that dwell therein.

6 [g] Who can stand before his wrath? or who can abide in the fiercenesse of his wrath? his wrath is powred out like fire, and the rockes are broken by him.

7 The Lord is good [h] and as a strong holde in the day of trouble, and he knoweth them that trust in him.

8 But passing ouer as with a flood, he will vtterly destroy the [i] place thereof, and darkenesse shall pursue his enemies.

9 What doe ye [k] imagine against the Lorde? he will make an vtter destruction: affliction shall not rise vp the second time.

10 For he shall come as vnto [l] thornes folden one in another, and as vnto drunkardes in their drunkennesse: they shall be deuoured as stubble fully dryed.

11 There [m] commeth one out of thee that imagineth euill against the Lorde, euen a wicked counsellour.

12 Thus saith the Lorde, Though they bee [n] quiet, and so many, yet thus shall they be cut off when he shall passe by: though I haue afflicted thee, I will afflict thee no more.

13 For now I will breake his yoke from thee, and will burst thy bondes in sunder.

14 And the Lorde hath giuen a commaundement concerning thee, that no more of thy name be [o] sowen: out of the house of thy gods will I cut off the grauen, and the molten image: I will make it thy graue for thee, for thou art vile.

15 * Beholde vpon the mountaines the feete of him that declareth, and publisheth [p] peace: O Iudah, keepe thy solemne feastes, perfourme thy vowes: for the wicked shall no more passe thorowe thee: he is vtterly cut off.

[a] Reade Isa. 13. 1.
[b] The vision or reuelation, which God commanded Nahum to write concerning the Nineuites.
[c] That is, borne in a poore village in the tribe of Simeon.
[d] Meaning, of his glory.
[e] With his he is but angrie for a time, but his anger neuer asswageth toward the reprobate, though for a time he deferre it.
[f] Thus the wicked would make Gods mercy an occasion to sinne, but the prophet willeth them to consider his force and iustice.
[g] If all creatures be at Gods commandement and none is able to resist his wrath, shall man flatter himselfe, and thinke by any meanes to escape when he prouoketh his God to anger?
[h] Lest the faithfull should be discouraged by heating the power of God, he sheweth them that his mercies appertaine vnto them, and that he hath care ouer them.
[i] Signifying, that God will suddenly destroy Nineueh, and the Assyrians, in such sort as they shall lie in perpetuall darkenesse, and neuer recouer their strength againe.
[k] He sheweth that the enterprises of the Assyrians against Iudah and the Church, were against God, and therefore he would so destroy them at once, that he should not neede to returne the second time.
[l] Though the Assyrians thinke themselues like thornes that pricke on all sides, yet the Lord will set fire on them, and as drunken men are not able to stand against any force, so they shall be nothing able to resist him.
[m] Which may be vnderstood either of Sancherib or of the whole body of the people of Nineueh.
[n] Though they thinke themselues in most safetie, and of greatest strength, yet when God shall passe by, he will destroy them: notwithstanding he comforteth his Church, and promiseth to make an ende of punishing them by the Assyrians.
[o] Meaning Sancherib, who should haue no more children, but be slaine in the house of his gods, 2. Kin. 19. 36. 37. * Isa. 52. 7. romans 10. 15.
[p] Which peace the Iewes should enioy by the death of Sancherib.

CHAP. II.

He describeth the victories of the Caldeans against the Assyrians.

THe [a] destroyer is come before thy face: keepe the munition: looke to the way: make thy loynes strong: increase thy strength mightily.

2 For the Lord hath [b] turned away the glorie of Iaakob, as the glorie of Israel: for the emptiers haue emptied them out, and [c] marred their vine branches.

3 The shielde of his mightie men is made red: [d] the valiant men are in skarlet: the charets shal be as in the fire and flames in the day of his preparation, and [e] the firre trees shall tremble.

4 The charets shall rage in the streetes: they shall runne to and fro in the hie wayes: they shall seeme like lampes: they shall shoote like the lightning.

5 [f] He shal remember his strong men: they shal stumble as they goe: they shall make haste to ỹ walles thereof, and the defence shall be prepared.

6 The gates of the riuers shall be opened, and the place shal melt.

7 And Huzzab the Queene shall be led away captiue, and her maides shall leade her as with the voyce of doues, smiting vpon their breastes.

8 But Nineueh is [g] of olde like a poole of water: yet they shall flee away. Stande, stande, shall they crie: but none shall looke backe.

9 [h] Spoyle ye the siluer, spoyle the golde: for there is none ende of the store, and glory of all the pleasant vessels.

10 [i] She is emptie and voyde and waste, and the heart melteth, and the knees smite together, and sorowe is in all loynes, and the faces [k] of them all gather blackenesse.

11 Where is the [l] dwelling of the lyons, and the pasture of the lyons whelpes? where the lyon, and the lyoneesse walked, and the lyons whelpe, & none made them afraide.

12 The lyon did teare in pieces ynough for his whelpes, and woryed for his lyoneesse, and filled his holes with praye, and his dennes with spoyle.

13 Beholde, I come vnto thee, saith the Lorde of hostes, and I will burne her charets in the [m] smoke, and the sworde shall deuoure thy yong lyons, and I will cut off thy spoyle from the earth, and the voyce of thy [n] messengers shall no more be heard.

[a] That is, Nebuchadnezzar is in a readinesse to destroy the Assyrians: and the Prophet deuideth the enterprises of the Assyrians which prepared to resist him.
[b] Seeing God hath punished his owne people Iudah and Israel, he will now punish the enemies by whome he scourgeth them, reade Isa. 10. 12.
[c] Signifying that the Israelites were vtterly destroyed.
[d] Both to feare the enemie, and also that they themselues should not so soone espie blood one of another to discourage them.
[e] Meaning, their speares shoulde shake and crash together.
[f] Then the Assyrians shall seeke by all meanes to gather their power, but all things shall faile them.
[g] The Assyrians will scatter themselues and say, that Nineueh is so ancient that it can neuer perish, and is as a fishpoole, whose waters they that walke on the bankes can not touch, but they shal be scattered, & shal not looke backe though men would call them.
[h] God commandeth the enemies to spoyle Nineueh, and promiseth them infinite riches and treasures.
[i] That is, Nineueh, and the men thereof shalbe after this sort.
[k] Reade Ioel. 2. 6.
[l] Meaning Nineueh, whose inhabitants are cruel lyke the Lyons, and giuen to all oppression, and spared no violence or tyrannie to prouide for their wiues and children.
[m] That is assoone as my wrath beginneth to kindle.
[n] Signifying the heraldes, which were accustomed to proclaime warre. Some reade of thy gumme teeth wherewith Nineueh was wont to bruise the bones of ỹ poore.

CHAP. III.

1 Of the fall of Nineueh. 8 No power can escape the hande of God.

OBloodie citie, it is all full of lyes, and robberie: [a] the pray departeth not:

2 The noyse of the whippe, [b] and the noyse of the mouing of the wheeles, and the beating of the horses, and the leaping of the charets.

3 The horseman lifteth vp both the bright sword, and the glittering speare, and a multitude is slaine, and the dead bodies are many: there is none ende of the corpses: they stumble vpon their corpses,

4 Because of the multitude of the fornications of the [c] harlot that is beautiful, and is a mistresse of witchcraft, & selleth the people thorow her beautie and subtiltie entiseth yong men, and bringeth them to destruction,

[a] It neuer ceaseth to spoyle and robbe.
[b] He sheweth howe the Caldeans shall haste, and how courageous their horses shall be in beating the grounde when they come against the Assyrians.
[c] He compareth Nineueh to an harlot, which by her her whoredome, and the nations through her witchcrafts.

5 Beholde, I come vpon thee, ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, and will diſcouer thy skirtes vpon thy face, and wil ſhew the nations thy filthineſſe, and the kingdomes thy ſhame.

6 And I wil caſt filth vpon thee, and make thee vile, and will ſet thee as a gaſing ſtocke.

7 And it ſhal come to paſſe, that al they that looke vpon thee, ſhall flee from thee, and ſay, Nineueh is deſtroyed, who will haue pitie vpon her? where ſhall I ſeeke comforters for thee?

d Meaning, Alexandria, which was in league with ſo many nations, and yet was now deſtroyed.

8 Art thou better then d No, which was full of people? that lay in the riuers, and had the waters round about it? whoſe ditch was the ſea, and her wall was from the ſeas?

9 Ethiopia and Egypt were her ſtrength, and there was none ende: Put and Lubim were ‖ her helpers.

‖ Or, thine.

10 Yet was ſhee carried away, and went into captiuitie: her young children alſo were daſhed in pieces at the head of all the ſtreetes: and they caſt lottes for her noble men, and all her mightie men were bound in chaines.

11 Alſo thou ſhalt be drunken: thou ſhalt hide thy ſelfe, & ſhalt ſeeke help becauſe of ỹ enemie.

12 Al thy ſtrong cities ſhal be like figge trees with the firſt ripe figs: for if they be ſhaken, they fall into the mouth of the eater.

13 Beholde, thy people within thee are women: the gates of thy lande ſhall be opened vnto thine enimies, & the fire ſhal deuoure thy barres.

14 Drawe thee waters for the ſiege: fortifie thy ſtrong holdes: goe into the clay, and temper the morter: make ſtrong bricke.

15 There ſhal the fire deuoure thee: the ſword ſhall cut thee off: it ſhall eate thee vp like the e locuſtes, though thou be multiplied like the locuſtes, and multiplied like the graſhopper.

e Signifying, that Gods iudgements ſhould ſuddenly deſtroy the Aſſyrians, as theſe vermine are with raine or change of weather.

16 Thou haſt multiplied thy marchantes aboue the ſtarres of heauen: the locuſt ſpoyleth and flieth away.

17 Thy princes are as the graſhoppers, and thy captains as the great graſhoppers which remaine in the hedges in the colde day: but when the ſunne ariſeth, they flee away and their place is not knowen where they are.

18 Thy f ſhepherds do ſleep, O king of Aſſhur: thy ſtrong men lie downe: thy people is ſcattered vpon the mountains, & no man gathereth them.

f Thy princes and counſellers.

19 There is no healing of thy wounde: thy plague is grieuous: all that heare the brute of thee, ſhall clap the handes ouer thee: for vpon g whom hath not thy malice paſſed continually?

g Meaning, that there was no people, to whom the Aſſyrians had not done hurt.

HABAKKVK.

THE ARGVMENT.

THe Prophet complaineth vnto God, conſidering the great felicitie of the wicked, and the miſerable oppreſſion of the godly, which indure all kind of affliction and crueltie, and yet can ſee none ende. Therefore he had this reuelation ſhewed him of God, that the Caldeans ſhould come & take them away captiues, ſo that they could looke for none end of their troubles as yet, becauſe of their ſtubbernneſſe and rebellion againſt the Lord. And leſt the godly ſhould deſpaire, ſeeing this horrible confuſion, hee comforteth them by this that God will puniſh the Caldeans their enemies, when their pride and crueltie ſhal be at height: wherefore he exhorteth the faithful to patience by his owne example, and ſheweth them a forme of praier, wherewith they ſhould comfort themſelues.

CHAP. I.

2 A complaint againſt the wicked that perſecute the iuſt.

a The Prophet complaineth vnto God & bewaileth that among the Iewes is left none equitie nor brotherly loue: but inſtead hereof reigneth cruelty, theft, contention and ſtrife.

b To ſuppreſſe him if any ſhulde ſhew himſelfe zealous of Gods cauſe.

c Becauſe the iudges which ſhould redreſſe this exceſſe, are as euill as the reſt.

d As in times paſt you would not beleeue Gods word, ſo ſhall ye not now beleeue ỹ ſtrange plagues which are at hand.

e They thẽſelues ſhalbe your iudges in this cauſe, and none ſhall haue authoritie ouer them to controll them.

THE burden, which Habakkuk the Prophet did ſee.

2 O Lorde, howe long ſhall I crie, and thou wilt not heare! euen crie out vnto thee a for violence, and thou wilt not helpe!

3 Why doeſt thou ſhew mee iniquitie, and cauſe me to behold ſorowe? for ſpoyling, and violence are before me: and there are that raiſe vp ſtrife and contention.

4 Therefore the Law is diſſolued, and iudgement doth neuer goe forth: for the wicked doth b compaſſe about the righteous: therfore c wrong iudgement proceedeth.

5 Beholde among the heathen, and regarde, and wonder, and marualle: for I will worke a worke in your dayes: d yee will not beleeue it, though it be tolde you.

6 For lo, I raiſe vp the Caldeans, that bitter and furious nation, which ſhall goe vpon the breadth of the land to poſſeſſe the dwelling places, that are not theirs.

7 They are terrible & fearefull: e their iudgement & their dignitie ſhal proceed of themſelues.

8 Their horſes alſo are ſwifter then the Leopards, and are more fierce then the wolues in the *euening: and their horſemen are many: and their horſemen ſhal come from farre: they ſhall flie as the eagle haſting to meate.

* Zeph. 3. 3.

9 They come all to ſpoyle: before their faces ſhal be an f Eaſtwinde, and they ſhall gather the captiuitie, g as the ſand.

f For the Iewes moſt feared this winde, becauſe it deſtroyed their fruites.

g They ſhalbe ſo many in number.

10 And they ſhall mocke the kings, and the princes ſhal be a ſkorne vnto them: they ſhall deride euery ſtrong holde: for they ſhall gather h duſt, and take it.

h They ſhall caſt vp mounts againſt it.

11 Then ſhal they i take a courage, and tranſgreſſe and do wickedly, imputing this their power vnto their god.

i The Prophet comforteth the faithfull that God will alſo deſtroy the Babylonians, becauſe they ſhall abuſe this victorie & become prowd and inſolent, attributing the praiſe hereof to their idoles.

12 Art thou not of olde, O Lorde my God, mine holy one? we ſhall k not die: O Lord, thou haſt ordained them for iudgement, and O God, thou haſt eſtabliſhed them for correction.

k He aſſureth the godly of Gods protection, ſhewing that the enemie can doe no more then God hath appointed, and alſo that their ſinnes required ſuch a ſharpe rod.

13 Thou art of pure eyes, and canſt not ſee euil: thou canſt not beholde wickednes: wherefore doeſt thou looke vpon the tranſgreſſors, and holdeſt thy tongue when the wicked deuoureth the man, that is more righteous then he?

14 And makeſt men as the l fiſhes of the ſea, and as the creeping things, that haue no ruler ouer them.

l So that the great deuoureth the ſmall, and the Caldeans deſtroy al the world,

15 They

15 They take vp all with the angle: they catch it in their net, and gather it in their yarne, wherefore they reioyce and are glad.

16 Therefore they ſacrifice vnto their [m] net, and burne incenſe vnto their yarne, becauſe by them their portion is fat & their meat plenteous.

17 Shall they therefore ſtretch out their net and not ſpare continually to ſlay [n] the nations?

CHAP. II.

2 A viſion, 5 Againſt pride, couetouſneſſe, drunkennes, and idolatrie.

I Will ſtand vpon my [a] watch, and ſet me vpon the towre, and wil looke & ſee what he woulde ſay vnto mee, and what I ſhall anſwere to him that rebuketh me.

2 And the Lorde anſwered mee, and ſaide, Write the viſion, and make it plaine vpon tables, that he may runne [b] that readeth it.

3 For the viſion is yet for an appointed time, but at the [c] laſt it ſhal ſpeake, and not lie: though it tarie, waite: for it ſhall ſurely come, and ſhall not ſtay.

4 Beholde, [d] hee that lifteth vp himſelfe, his minde is not vpright in him, but the iuſt ſhall liue by his faith,

5 Yea, indeede the proude man is as [e] he that tranſgreſſeth by wine: therefore ſhall he not endure, becauſe he hath enlarged his deſire as the hell, and is as death, and can not be ſatisfied, but gathereth vnto him all nations, and heapeth vnto him all people.

6 Shall not al theſe take vp a parable againſt him, and a tanting prouerbe againſt him, and ſay, Ho, he that increaſeth that which is not his? how long? and he [f] that ladeth himſelfe with thicke clay?

7 Shall [g] they not riſe vp ſuddenly, that ſhall bite thee? and awake, that ſhall ſtirre thee? and thou ſhalt be their pray?

8 Becauſe thou haſt ſpoiled many nations, all the remnant of the people ſhall ſpoyle thee, becauſe of mens blood, and for the wrong done in the land, in the citie, and vnto all that dwell therein.

9 Ho, he that coueteth an euill couetouſnes to his houſe, that hee may ſet his neſt on hie, to eſcape from the power of euill.

10 Thou [h] haſt conſulted ſhame to thine own houſe, by deſtroying many people, and haſt ſinned againſt thine owne ſoule.

11 For the [i] ſtone ſhall crie out of the wall, and the beame out of the timber ſhall anſwere it.

12 Woe vnto him that buildeth a towne with blood, and erecteth a citie by iniquitie.

13 Beholde, is it not of the [k] Lorde of hoſtes that the people ſhal labour in [ſ] very fire? the people ſhal euen weary themſelues for very vanitie.

14 For the earth ſhall [l] bee filled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lorde, as the waters couer the ſea.

15 Wo vnto him that giueth his neighbour [m] drinke: thou ioyneſt thine heate, & makeſt him drunken alſo, that thou maieſt ſee their priuities.

16 Thou art filled with ſhame [n] for glorie: drinke thou alſo, and be made naked: the cup of the Lords right hand ſhall be turned vnto thee, and ſhamefull ſpuing ſhalbe for thy glorie.

17 For the [o] crueltie of Lebanon ſhall couer thee: ſo ſhall the ſpoile of the beaſtes, which made them afraide, becauſe of mens blood, and for the wrong done in the land, in the citie, and vnto all that dwell therein.

18 What profiteth the [p] image? for the maker thereof hath made it an image, and a teacher of lies, though he that made it, truſt therein, when hee maketh dum idoles.

19 Wo vnto him that ſaith to the wood Awake, and to the dumme ſtone, Riſe vp, it ſhall teach thee: [q] beholde, it is laide ouer with golde and ſiluer, and there is no breath in it.

20 But the Lord is in his holy Temple; let al the earth keepe ſilence before him.

[m] Meaning, that ſ enimies flatter themſelues, & glorie in their owne force, power and wit.

[n] Meaning, that they ſhould not.

[a] I wil renounce mine owne iudgement, & onely depēd on God to be inſtructed what I ſhal anſwere them ſ abuſe my preaching, & to be armed againſt al tētatiōs.

[b] Write it in great letters, that he that runneth, may reade it.

[c] Which conteined the deſtructiō of the enemie, and the comfort of the Church: which thing though God execute not according to mans haſty affections, yet the iſſue of both is certaine at his time appointed.

[d] To truſt in himſelfe, or in any worldly thing, is neuer to be quiet: for the onely reſt is to ſtay vpon God by faith, Rom. 1.17. gala. 3.11. heb. 10.38.

[e] He compareth the proude, and couetous man to a drunkard that is without reaſon & ſenſe, whō God will puniſh, and make him a laughing ſtocke to all ſ world: and this he ſpeaketh for the comfort of the godly, & againſt the Caldeans.

[f] Signifying, that al the world ſhall wiſh the deſtructiō of tyrants, and that by their oppreſſion and couetouſneſſe, they heape but vpon themſelues more heauie burdens: for the more they get, the more are they troubled.

[g] That is, the Medes and Perſians, that ſhould deſtroy the Babylonians? h Signifying, that the couetous man is the ruine of his owne houſe, when as he thinketh to enrich it by crueltie and oppreſſion. i The ſtones of the houſe ſhall crie, and ſay that they are built of blood, and the wood ſhal anſwere and ſay the ſame of it ſelfe. k Meaning, that God wil not deferre his vengeance long, but will come and deſtroy all their labours, as though they were conſumed with fire. l In the deſtruction of the Babylonians his glorie ſhall appeare through all the world. m Hee reprocheth thus the king of Babylon, who as he was drunken with couetouſnes and crueltie, ſo he prouoked others to the ſame, and inflamed them by his rage, and ſo in the end brought them to ſhame.

[n] Whereas thou thoughteſt to haue glorie of thine ydoings, they ſhall turne to thy ſhame: for thou ſhalt drinke of the ſame cup with others in thy turne.

[o] Becauſe the Babylonians were cruel not only againſt other nations, but alſo againſt the people of God, which is meant by Lebanō, & the beaſts therein, he ſheweth that the like crueltie ſhalbe executed againſt them.

[p] He ſheweth that the Babyloniās gods could nothing auaile them: thou wilt confeſſe what it is, and how that it hath neither breath nor life, but is a dead thing.

[q] If they were but blockes or ſtones, reade Iere. 10.8.

CHAP. III.

2 A prayer for the faithfull.

A Prayer of Habakkuk the Prophet for the ignorances.

2 [b] O Lord, I haue heard thy voyce, and was afraide: O Lord, reuiue thy [c] worke in the mids of the people, in the mids of the yeeres make it knowen: in wrath remember mercie.

3 God commeth from [d] Teman, & the holie one from mount Paran, Selah. His glory coureth the heauens, and the earth is full of his praiſe,

4 And his brightneſſe was as the light: [e] he had hornes comming out of his handes, and there was the hiding of his power.

5 Before him went the peſtilence, and burning coales went forth before his feete.

6 He ſtoode and meaſured the earth: he beheld and diſſolued the nations and the euerlaſting mountaines were broken, and the ancient hilles did bowe: his [f] wayes are euerlaſting.

7 [g] For his iniquitie I ſaw the tents of Cuſhan, & the curtaines of the land of Midian did trēble.

8 Was the Lord angry againſt the [h] riuers? or was thine anger againſt the floods? or was thy wrath againſt the ſea, that thou diddeſt ride [i] vpon thine horſes? thy charets brought ſaluation.

9 Thy [k] bowe was manifeſtly reueiled, and the [l] othes of the tribes were a ſure worde, Selah. thou [m] diddeſt cleaue the earth with riuers.

10 The mountaines ſawe thee, & they trembled: the ſtreame of the water [n] paſſed by: the deepe made a noyſe, and lift vp his hand on hie.

11 The [o] ſunne and moone ſtood ſtil in their habitation: [p] at the light of thine arrowes they went, and at the bright ſhining of the ſpeares.

12 Thou trodeſt downe the lande in anger,

[a] The Prophet inſtructeth his people to pray vnto God not onelie for their great ſins, but alſo for ſuch as they had committed of ignorance.

[b] Thus the people were afraide when they heard Gods threatnings, and prayed.

[c] That is, the ſtate of thy Church which is now readie to periſh, before it come to halfe a perfect age, which ſhould be vnder Chriſt.

[d] Teman and Paran were neere Sinai where the Law was giuen: whereby is ſignified that his deliuerance was as preſent now as it was tha.

[e] Whereby is meant a power ſ was ioyned wh his brightnes, which was hid to the reſt of the world, but was reueiled in mount Sinai to his people, Pſal. 21.16.

[f] Signifying, that God hath wonderful meanes, and euer had a maruelous power when he would deliuer his Church.

[g] The iniquitie of this King of Syria in vexing thy people was made manifeſt by thy iudgement, to the comfort of thy Church, Iudg 3.10, and alſo of the Midianites, which deſtroyed themſelues, Iudg. 7 22.

[h] Meaning, that God was not angry with the waters, but that by this meanes hee woulde deſtroy his enemies and deliuer his Church.

[i] And ſo didſt vſe all the elements as inſtruments for the deſtruction of thine enemies.

[k] That is, thy power.

[l] For he had not onely made a couenant with Abraham, but renued it with his poſteritie.

[m] Reade Num 20.11.

[d] He alludeth to the red ſea and Iorden, which gaue paſſage to Gods people, and ſhewed ſignes of their obedience, as it were by lifting vp of their hands.

[o] As appeareth, Ioſh. 10.12.

[p] According to thy commaundement the ſunne was directed by the weapons of thy people, that fought in thy cauſe, as though it durſt not goe forward.

and

and diddest thresh the heathen in displeasure.

13 Thou wentest foorth for the saluation of thy people, euen for saluation with thine q Anoynted: thou hast wounded the head of the house of the wicked, and discoueredst the foundations vnto the r necke, Selah.

14 Thou diddest f strike thorow with his owne staues the heads of the villages: they came out as a whirle winde to scatter me: their reioycing was as to deuoure the poore secretly.

15 Thou diddest walke in the sea with thine horses vpon the heape of great waters.

16 When I t heard, my bellie trembled: my lippes shooke at the voyce: rottennesse entred into my bones, and I trembled in my selfe, that I might rest in u the day of trouble: for when he cōmeth vp * vnto the people, he shall destroy them.

17 For the fig tree shall not flourish, neither shall fruite be in the vines: the labour of the oliue shall faile, and the fieldes shall yeelde no meate: the sheepe shall be cut off from the folde, and there shalbe no bullocke in the stalles.

18 But I will reioyce in the Lorde: I will ioy y in the God of my saluation.

19 The Lorde God u my strength: hee will make my feete like hindes feete, and he will make me to walke vpon mine hie places. z To the chiefe singer on Neginothai.

q Signifying that there is no saluation but by Christ.
r From the toppe to the toe thou hast destroyed the enemies.
f God destroyed his enemies both great and small with their owne weapons though they were neuer so fierce against his Church.
t He returneth to which he spake in the second verse, and sheweth howe he was afraid of Gods iudgements.
u He sheweth that the faithfull can neuer haue true rest, except they feele before the weight of Gods iudgements.
x That is, the enemie: but the godly shall be quiet, knowing that all things shall turne to good vnto y He declareth wherein standeth the comfort and ioy of the faithfull, though they see neuer so great affliction prepared. z The chiefe singer vpon the instruments of musicke shall haue occasion to praise God for this great deliuerance of his Church.

ZEPHANIAH.

THE ARGVMENT.

Seeing the great rebellion of the people, & that there was now no hope of amendement, he denounceth the great iudgement of God, which was at hand, shewing that their coūtry should be vtterly destroied, and they caried away captiues by the Babylonians. Yet for the comfort of the faithfull he prophecied of Gods vengeance against their enemies, as the Philistims, Moabites, Assyrians, & others, to assure them that God had a continuall care ouer them. And as the wicked should be punished for their sinnes and transgressions: so he exhorteth the godly to patience, and to trust to find mercie by reason of the free promise of God made vnto Abraham: and therefore quietly to abide till God shewe them the effect of that grace, whereby in the end they should be gathered vnto him, and counted as his people and children.

CHAP. I.

Threatnings against Iudah and Ierusalem, because of their idolatrie.

THE word of the Lord, which came vnto Zephaniah a sonne of Cushi, the sonne of Gedaliah, the sonne of Amariah, the sonne of Hizkiah, in the dayes of * Iosiah, the sonne of * Amon King of Iudah.

2 I will surely destroy al things from off the land, saith the Lord.

3 I will destroy man and beast: I will destroy the b foules of the heauen, and the fishes of the sea, and ruines shalbe to the wicked, and I will cut off man from off the land, saith the Lord.

4 I will also stretch out mine hand vpon Iudah, and vpon all the inhabitants of Ierusalem, & I wil cut off the remnant of Baal from this place, and the name of the b Chemarims with c Priestes,

5 And them that worship the hoste of heauen vpon the house tops, and them that worship and sweare by the Lord, and sweare by d Malcham,

6 And them that are turned backe from the Lord, and those that haue not sought the Lorde, nor inquired for him.

7 Be still at the presence of the Lord God: for the day of the Lord is at hand: for the Lord hath prepared a sacrifice, and hath sanctified his ghests.

8 And it shalbe in the day of c Lords sacrifice, that I wil visite the princes & the King's children, and all such as are clothed with d strange apparell.

9 In the same day also will I visite all those that e dance vpon the threshold so proudly, which fill their masters houses by crueltie and deceite.

10 And in that day, saith the Lord, there shall be a noise, and cry from the f fishgate, and an howling from the second gate, and a great destruction from the hilles.

11 Howle ye inhabitants of g the low place: for the company of the merchants is destroyed: all they that beare siluer, are cut off.

12 And at that time will I searche Ierusalem with h lightes, and visite the men that are frosen i in their dregges, & say in their hearts, The Lord will neither doe good nor doe euill.

13 Therefore their goods shalbe spoyled, and their houses waste: * they shall also build houses, but not inhabite them, and they shal plant vineyards, but not drinke the wine thereof.

17 And I will bring distresse vpon men, that they shal walke like blind men, because they haue sinned against the Lorde, and their blood shall be powred out as dust, and their flesh as the doung.

HAGGAI.

THE ARGVMENT.

VVHen the time of the seuentie yeeres captiuitie prophecied by Ieremiah, was expired, God vsed vp Haggai, Zechariah, & Malachi to comfort the Iewes and to exhort them to the building of the Temple, which was a figure of the spirituall Temple and Church of God, whose perfection and excellencie stood in Christ. And because that all were giuen to their owne pleasures and commodities, he declareth that that plague of famine, which God sent them among them, was a iust rewarde of their ingratitude, in that they contemned Gods honour, who had deliuered them. Yet he comforteth them, if they will returne to the Lorde, with the promes of greater felicitie, forasmuch as the Lord will finish the worke that he hath begun, and send Christ whome he had promised, and by whome they should attaine to perfite ioy and glory.

CHAP. I.

1 The time of the prophecie of Haggai. 8 An exhortation to build the Temple againe.

IN the second yeere of King a Darius, in the sixt moneth, the first day of the moneth, came the worde of the Lord (by the ministerie of the Prophet Haggai) vnto b Zerubbabel the sonne of Shealtiel, a prince of Iudah, and to Iehoshua the sonne of Iehozadak the hie Preist, saying,

2 Thus speaketh the Lorde of hostes, saying, This people say, The time is not yet come, c that the Lords House should be builded.

3 Then came the worde of the Lorde by the ministerie of the Prophet Haggai, saying,

4 Is it time for your selues to dwell in your d sieled houses, and this House lie waste?

5 Now therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes, Consider your owne wayes in your hearts.

6 e Yee haue sowen much, and bring in litle: ye eate, but ye haue not ynough: ye drinke but ye are not filled: yee clothe you, but ye be not warme: and he that earneth wages, putteth the wages into a broken bagge.

7 Thus sayeth the Lorde of hostes, Consider your owne wayes in your hearts.

8 Goe f vp to the mountaine, & bring wood, and build this House, and g I wil be fauourable in it, and I will h be glorified, sayth the Lorde.

9 Yee looked for much, and lo, it came to litle: and when ye brought it home, I did blowe i vpon it. And why, sayth the Lord of hostes? Because of mine House that is waste, and ye runne euery man vnto his owne house.

10 Therefore the heauen ouer you stayed it selfe from dewe, and the earth stayed her fruit.

11 And I called for a drought vpon the land, and vpon the mountaines, and vpon the corne, & vpon the wine, and vpon the oyle, vpon all that the ground bringeth foorth: both vpon men and vpon cattel, and vpon all the labour of the hands.

12 Whē Zerubbabel the sonne of Shealtiel, & Iehoshua the sonne of Iehozadak the hie Prieſt with al the remnant of the people, heard ỹ k voice of the Lord their God, and the words of the Prophet Haggai (as the Lord their God had sent him) then the people did feare before the Lord.

13 Then spake Haggai the Lords messenger in the Lords message vnto the people, saying, I am with you, sayth the Lord.

14 And the Lord stirred vp l the spirite of Zerubbabel, the sonne of Shealtiel a prince of Iudah, and the spirit of Iehoshua the sonne of Iehozadak the hie Prieſt, and the spirite of al the remnant of the people, and they came, and did the worke in the House of the Lorde of hostes their God.

CHAP. II.

Her she weth that the glorie of the seconde Temple shall excede the first.

IN the foure and twentieth day of the sixt moneth, in the second yeere of King Darius,

2 In the seuenth moneth, in the one & twentieth day of the moneth, came the worde of the Lord by ỹ ministery of ỹ Prophet Haggai, saying,

3 Speake nowe to Zerubbabel the sonne of Shealtiel prince of Iudah, and to Iehoshua the sonne of Iehozadak the hie Prieſt, and to the residue of the people, saying,

4 Who is left among you, that sawe this a House in her first glory, and how doe you see it nowe? is it not in your eyes, in comparison of it as nothing?

5 Yet nowe bee of good courage, O Zerubbabel, sayth the Lord, and be of good comfort, O Iehoshua, sonne of Iehozadak the hie Prieſt: and be strong, al ye people of the land, saith the Lord, & b do it: for I am ỹ you, saith the Lord of hostes, 6 According to the worde that I couenanted with you, when ye came out of Egypt: so my Spirite shall remaine among you, feare ye not.

7 For thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, c Yet a litle while, and I will shake the heauens and the earth, and the sea, and the dry land:

8 And I will moue all nations, and d the desire of all nations shall come, and I will fil this House with glory, sayeth the Lord of hostes.

9 The e siluer is mine, and the golde is mine, sayth the Lorde of hostes.

10 The glorie of this last House shall be greater then the first, sayth the Lorde of hostes: and in this place will I giue f peace, sayeth the Lord of hostes.

11 ¶ In the foure and twentieth day of the ninth moneth, in the second yeere of Darius, came the worde of the Lorde vnto the Prophet Haggai, saying,

12 Thus sayth the Lord of hostes, Aske now the Priests concerning the Lawe, and say, 13 If one beare g holy flesh in the skirt of his garment, & with his skirt doe touch the bread, or the potage, or the wine, or oyle, or any meare, shal it be holy? And the Priests answered and said, No.

14 Then said Haggai, If a polluted person touch any of these, shall it be vncleane? And the Priests answered and said, It shall be vncleane.

15 Then answered Haggai, and said, So is this people, and so is this nation before me, saith the Lord: and so is euery worke of their hands: and that which they offer there, is vncleane.

16 And now, I pray you, consider from this day and vpward, before a stone was laid vpon a stone in the Temple of the Lord:

17 Since those dayes were, when one came to an heape of twentie measures, there were but ten: when one came vnto the presse fat, to draw out fifty vessels out of the presse, there were but twentie.

18 I smote you with blasting, and with mildew, and with hayle in all the labours of your hands: yet ye turned not to me, saith the Lord.

19 Consider now from this day and vpward, from the foure and twentieth day of the ninth moneth, euen from the day that the foundation of the Lords Temple was laid, consider it.

20 Is the seede yet in the barne? yea, as yet the vine, and the figtree, and the pomegranate, and the oliue tree hath not brought forth: but from this day will I blesse you.

21 ¶ And the worde of the Lord came vnto Haggai the second time in the foure and twentieth day of the moneth, saying,

22 Speake to Zerubbabel the gouernour of Iudah, saying, I will shake the heauens and the earth:

23 And I will ouerthrowe the throne of kingdomes, and I will destroy the power of the kingdomes of the heathen, and I will ouerthrowe the charets, and those that ride in them: and the horses and their riders shall come downe, euery one by the sword of his brother.

24 In that day, saith the Lord of hostes, will I take thee, O Zerubbabel, my seruant, the sonne of Shealtiel, saith the Lord, and will make thee as a signet: for I haue chosen thee, saith the Lord of hostes.

a Who was the sonne of Hystaspis and the third King of the Persians, as some thinke.

b Because the building of the Temple began to cease by reason that the people were discouraged by their enemies: and if these two notable men had neede to be stirred vp & admonished of their dueties, what shall we think of other gouernours, whose doings are either against God, or very colde in his cause?

c Not that they condemned the building thereof, but they preferred policie and priuate profite to religion, being content with small beginnings.

d Shewing that they sought not onely their necessities, but their very pleasures before Gods honour.

e Consider the plagues of God vpon you for preferring your policies to his religiō, and because ye seeke not him first of all.

f Meaning, that they should leaue off their owne commodities, and go forwarde in the building of Gods Temple, and in the setting forth of his religion.

g That is, I will heare your prayers according to my promes, 1. King. 8. 21, 29.

h That is, my glorie shall be set forth by you.

i And so bring it to nothing.

k This declared that God was the author of the doctrine, & that he was but the minister, as Exod. 14. 31. iudg 7. 19. 2 Chr 15. 28.

l Which declareth that men are vnapt and dull to serue the Lorde, neither can they obey his worde or his messengers before God reforme their hearts and giue them new spirits, Iohn 6. 44.

a For the people, according as Iia. 30 11. and Ezek. 41. had prophecied, thought this Temple should haue bene more excellent then Salomons Temple, which was destroyed by the Babylonians, but the Prophets meant the spiritual Temple, the Church of Christ.

b That is, go forward in building the Temple.

c He exhorteth them to patience though they see not as yet this Temple so glorious as the Prophets had declared: for this should be accomplished in Christ by whom all things should be renued.

d Meaning Christ whome all ought to looke for and desire: for by desire he may fingatiue al precious things, as riches & such like.

e Therefore when his time commeth, he can make all the treasures of the world to serue his purpose: but the glory of this second Temple doeth not stand in material things, neither can be built.

f Meaning all spirituall blessings and felicitie purchased by Christ. Phil. 2. 7.

g That is, the flesh of the sacrifices: whereby he signifieth that that thing, which of it selfe is good, cannot make an other thing so: and therefore they ought not to iustifie themselues by their sacrifices and ceremonies: but contrary be that is vncleane and not pure of heart, doeth corrupt those things and make them detestable vnto God, which els are good and godly.

Priestes answered and saide, It shall be vncleane.

15 Then answered Haggai, and said, So is this people, and so is this nation before me, sayth the Lord: and so are all the workes of their hands, and that which they offer, is vncleane.

16 And nowe, I pray you, consider in your mindes: from this [h] day, and afore, euen afore a stone was laide vpon a stone in the Temple of the Lord:

17 [i] Before these things were, when one came to an heape of twentie measures, there were but ten: when one came to the wine presse, for to drawe out fiftie vessels out of the presse, there were but twentie.

18 I smote you with blasting, and with mildewe, and with haile, in all the labours of your hands: yet you turned not to me, saith the Lord.

19 Consider, I pray you in your mindes, from [k] this day, and afore from the foure & twentieth day of the ninth moneth, euen from the day that the foundation of the Lordes Temple was laide: consider it in your mindes.

20 Is the [l] seede yet in the barne? as yet the vine, and the figtree, and the pomegranate, and the oliue tree hath not brought forth: from this day will I blesse you.

21 And againe the worde of the Lorde came vnto Haggai in the foure & twentieth day of the moneth, saying,

22 Speake to Zerubbabel the prince of Iudah, and say, I [m] wil shake the heauenes and the earth, 23 And I wil ouerthrowe the throne of kingdomes, & I wil destroy the strength of the [n] kingdomes of the heathen, and I will ouerthrowe the charets, and those that ride in them, and the horse and the riders shal come downe, euery one by the sword of his brother.

24 In that day, saith the Lord of hostes, will I take thee, O Zerubbabel my seruant, the sonne of Shealtiel, sayth the Lord, and I will make thee as a [o] signet: for I haue chosen thee, sayth the Lord of hostes.

h Consider howe God did plague you with famine afore you began to build the Temple.
i That is, before the building was begun.
k From the time they began to build the Temple, he promiseth that God would blesse them: and albeit as yet the fruite was not come forth yet in the gathering they should haue plentie.
l He exhorteth them to patience and to abide till the haruest came, & that they should see Gods blessings.
m I will make a change and renouel things in Christ, of whome Zerubbabel here is a figure.
n Hereby hee sheweth that there shalbe no let or hinderance when God wil make this wonderful restitution of his Church.
o Signifying that his dignitie should be most excellent, which thing was accomplished in Christ.

ZECHARIAH.

THE ARGVMENT.

Two moneths after that Haggai had begunne to prophecie, Zechariah was also sent of the Lord to help him in the labour, and to confirme the same doctrine. Frist therefore hee putteth them in remembrance, for what cause God had so sore punished their fathers: and yet comforteth them, if they will repent vnfainedly, and not abuse this great benefite of God in their deliuerance, which was a figure of that true deliuerance, that all the faithfull should haue, from death and sinne by Christ. But because they still remained in their wickednesse, and coldnes to set forth Gods glory, and were not yet made better by their long banishment, he rebuketh them most sharpely: yet for the comfort of the repentant, hee euer mixeth the promes of grace, that they might by this meanes be prepared to receiue Christ, in whome all should be sanctified to the Lorde.

CHAP. I.

a Hee exhorteth the people to returne to the Lorde, and to eschewe the wickednesse of their fathers. 7 Hee signifieth the restitution of Ierusalem and the Temple.

a Who was the sonne of Histaspis.
b This was not that Zechariah, whereof is mention 2. Chro. 24. 20. but had the same name, and is called the sonne of Berechiah, as he was, because he came of those progenitours, as of Ioiada or Berechiah and Iddo.
c He speaketh this to feare them with Gods iudgements that they should not prouoke him as their fathers had done, whome he so grieuously punished.
d Let your fruites declare that you are Gods people, and that he hath wrought in you by his spirite and mortified you: for els man hath no power to returne to God, but God must conuert him, as Ierem. 31. 18. lamen. 5. 21. Isai. 21. 8. and 31. 6. and 45. 22. * Ierem. 3. 12. Ezek. 18. 30. hos. 14. 2. ioel. 2. 12. e Though your fathers be dead, yet Gods iudgements in punishing them ought still to be before your eyes: and though the Prophets be dead, yet their doctrine remaineth for euer, 2. Pet. 1. 15. f Seeing ye sawe the force of my doctrine in punishing your fathers, why do not ye feare the threatnings conteined in the same and declared by my Prophets? g As men astonished with my iudgements, and not that they were touched with true repentance.

IN the eight moneth of the second yeere of [a] Darius, came the worde of the Lorde vnto [b] Zechariah the sonne of Berechiah, the sonne of Iddo, the Prophet, saying,

2 The Lorde hath bene [c] sore displeased with your fathers.

3 Therefore say thou vnto them, Thus sayth the Lord of hostes, [d] Turne ye vnto me, saith the Lord of hostes, and I will turne vnto you, sayth the Lord of hostes.

4 Be ye not as your fathers, vnto whome the former* prophets haue cryed, saying, Thus sayth the Lord of hostes, Turne you nowe from your euill wayes, and from your wicked workes: but they would not heare, nor hearken vnto me, saith the Lord.

5 Your fathers, where [e] are they? and doe the Prophets liue for euer?

6 But did not my wordes and my statures, which I commanded by my seruants [f] Prophets, take holde of [g] your fathers? and they returned, and said, As the Lord of hostes hath determined to doe vnto vs, according to our owne wayes, and according to our workes, so hath hee dealt with vs.

7 Vpon the foure and twentieth day of the eleuenth moneth, which is the moneth [h] Shebat, in the second yeere of Darius, came the worde of [i] Lord vnto Zechariah the sonne of Berechiah, the sonne of Iddo the Propher, saying,

8 I [i] saw by night, and behold [k] a man riding vpon a red horse, and hee stood among the mirre trees, that were in a bottome, and behinde him were there [l] red horses speckled and white.

9 Then sayd I, O my Lorde, what are these? And the Angel that talked with mee, sayde vnto me, I will shew thee what these be.

10 And the man that stood among the mirre trees, answered and sayde, These are they whome the Lord hath sent to go through the world.

11 And they answered the Angel of the Lord, that stood among the mirre trees, and said, We haue gone thorowe the world: and beholde, all the world sitteth still, and is at rest.

12 Then the [m] Angel of the Lorde answered and sayd, O Lorde of hostes, how long wilt thou be vnmercifull to Ierusalem, and to the cities of Iudah, with whom thou hast bene displeased now these threescore and ten yeeres?

13 And the Lorde answered the Angel that talked with me, with good wordes and comfortable wordes.

14 So the Angell that communed with mee, said vnto me, Crie thou, & speake Thus saith the h Which conteineth part of Ianuarie and part of Februarie.

i This vision signifieth the restauration of the Church, but as yet it should not appeare to mans eies which is here meant by the night, by the bottome, and by the mirre trees which are blacke, and giue a darke shadowe: yet he compareth God to a King, who hath his postes and messengers abroad by whome he still worketh his purpose and bringeth his matters to passe.
k Who was the cheefe among the rest of [f] horsemen.
l These signified the diuers offices of Gods angels by whome God sometime punisheth, & sometime comforteth and bringeth forth his workes in diuers sortes.
m That is, Christ the Mediatour praieth for the salvation of his Church, which was now troubled when al the countries about them were at rest.

Lord

Lorde of hostes, I am c ielous ouer Ierusalem and Zion with a great zeale, 15 And am greatly angrie against the careleſſe heathen: for I was angrie but a litle, and they helped forward the affliction.

16 Therefore thus saith the Lord, I will returne vnto Ierusalem with tender mercie: mine house shall be buildded in it, saith the Lord of hostes, and a line p shall be stretched vpon Ierusalem.

17 Cry yet, and speake, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, My cities shal yet q be broken with plentie: the Lord shal yet comfort Zion, and shall yet chuse Ierusalem.

18 Then lift I vp mine eyes and sawe, and beholde, r foure hornes.

19 And I said vnto the Angel that talked with me, What be these? And he answered me, These are the hornes which haue scattered Iudah, Israel, and Ierusalem.

20 And the Lord shewed me foure s carpenters.

21 Then sayd I, What come these to doe? And he answered, and said, These are the hornes, which haue scattered Iudah, so that a man durst not lift vp his head: but these are come to fray them, and to cast out the hornes of the Gentiles, which lift vp their horn ouer the land of Iudah, to scatter it.

a Though for a time God deferre his helpe and comfort from his Church, yet this declareth that he loueth them still most dearely as a most mercifull father his children, or an husband his wife, and when it is expedient for them, his helpe is euer ready.

b In destroying the reprobate I shewed my selfe but a litle angry toward my Church, but the enemie would haue destroyed them also, and considered not the ende of my chastisements.

c To measure out the buildings.

d The abundance shalbe so great that the places of store shall not be able to conteine these blessings that God will send, but shal euen breake for fulnesse.

e Which signified all the enemies of the Church, East, West, North, South.

f These Carpenters or Smithes are Gods instruments, which with their mallets and hammers breake these hard and strong hornes, which would ouerthrow the Church, & declare that none enemies horne is so strong, but God hath an hammer to breake it in pieces.

CHAP. II.

The restoring of Ierusalem and Iudah.

1 LIft vp mine eyes againe & looked, and behold, a a man with a measuring line in his hand.

2 Then saide I, Whither goest thou? And he saide vnto me, To measure Ierusalem, that I may see what is the breadth thereof, and what is the length thereof.

3 And beholde, the Angel that talked with me, went foorth: and another Angel went out to meete him,

4 And sayd vnto him, Runne, speake to this b yong man, and say, c Ierusalem shalbe inhabited without walles, for the multitude of men and cattell therein.

5 For I, saith the Lord, will be vnto her a wall of d fire round about, and will e be the glory in the midde of her.

6 Ho, ho, come f forth, & flee from the land of the North, saith the Lord: for I haue scattered you into the foure g winds of the heauen, saith the Lord.

7 h Saue thy selfe, O Zion, that dwellest with the daughter of Babel.

8 For thus saith the Lord of hostes, After this i glory hath he seht me vnto the nations, which spoyled you: for he that toucheth you, toucheth the k apple of his eye.

9 For beholde, I will lift vp mine hand l vpon them: and m they shalbe a spoyle to those that serued them, and ye shall knowe, that the Lord of hostes hath n sent me.

10 Reioyce, and be glad, O daughter Zion: for loe, I come, and will dwell in the middes of thee, saith the Lord.

11 And many nations shalbe ioyned to the Lord in that day, and shalbe my people: and I will dwell in the middes of thee, and thou shalt knowe that the Lord of hostes hath sent me vnto thee.

12 And o the Lord shall inherite Iudah his portion in the holy land, & shall chuse Ierusalem againe.

13 Let all flesh be still before the Lord: for he is raised vp out of his holy place.

CHAP. III.

A prophesie of Christ and of his kingdome.

AND hee shewed me Iehoshua the hie Prieſt, a standing before the Angel of the Lord, and b Satan stood at his right hand to resist him.

2 And the c Lord said vnto Satan, the Lorde reprooue thee, O Satan: euen the Lord that hath choſen Ierusalem, reprooue thee. Is not this a d brand taken out of the fire?

3 Nowe Iehoshua was clothed with filthie garments, and stood before the Angel.

4 And he answered and spake vnto those that stoode before him, saying, Take away the e filthie garments from him. And vnto him he sayde, Behold, I haue caused thine iniquitie to depart from thee, & I will cloth thee with change of raiment.

5 And I sayde, Let them g set a faire diademe vpon his head. So they set a faire diademe vpon his head, and clothed him with garments, and the Angel of the Lord stood by.

6 And the Angel of the Lorde testified vnto Iehoshua, saying,

7 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, If thou wilt walke in my wayes, and keepe my watch, thou shalt also h iudge mine House, and shalt also keepe my i courtes, and I will giue thee place among k these that stand by.

8 Heare now, O Iehoshua the hie Prieſt, thou and thy felowes that sit before thee: for they l are monstrous persons: but behold, I will bring forth the m Branch my seruant.

9 For loe, the n stone that I haue laid before Iehoshua: vpon one stone shalbe seuen eyes: behold, I will o cut out the grauing thereof, sayth the Lord of hostes, and I will take p away the iniquitie of this land in one day.

10 In that day, saith the Lord of hostes, shall ye call euery man his neighbour vnder the q vine, and vnder the figge tree.

a Hee prayed to Christ the Mediatour for the state of the Church.

b Which declareth that the faithfull haue not only warre with flesh and blood, but with Satan himselfe and spirituall wickednesses, Ephes. 6. 12.

c That is, Christ speaketh to God as the Mediatour of his Church that he would rebuke Satan: and here he sheweth himselfe to be the continuall preseruer of his Church.

d Meaning that Iehoshua was wonderfully preserued in the captiuitie, and now Satan sought to afflict and trouble him when he was doing his office.

e In respect of the glorious garments & precious stones that the priestes did weare before the captiuitie: and by this contemptible state the Prophet signifieth that these small beginnings should be made excellent when Christ shall make the full restitution of his Church.

f Hee sheweth of what apparell hee speaketh, which is when our filthie sinnes are taken away and we are clad with Gods mercies, which is meant of the spirituall restitution.

g The Prophet prayeth that besides the rayment, the Priest might also haue tire for his head accordingly, that is, that the dignitie of the Priesthood might be perfect: and this was fulfilled in Christ, who was both Priest and King: and here all such are condemned that can content themselues with any meane reformation in religiō seeing the Prophet desireth the perfection, and obteineth it.

h That is, haue rule and gouernment in my Church, as thy predecessours haue had.

i Whereby he meaneth to haue the whole charge and ministerie of the Church.

k That is, the Angels who represented the whole number of the faithfull, signifying that all the godly shoulde willingly receiue him.

l Because they followe my worde, they are contemned in the worlde, and esteemed as monsters, Isa. 8. 18.

m That is, Christ, who did so humble himselfe, that not onely he became the seruant of God, but also the seruant of men: and therefore in him they should haue comfort although in the world they were contemned, Isa. 11. 1. Iere. 23. 5 and 33. 14, 15.

n Hee sheweth that the ministers can not build, before God lay the first stone, which is Christ, who is full of eyes, both because he giueth light vnto all others, and that all ought to seeke light at him, Chap. 4. 10.

o That is, I will make it perfect in all pointes as a thing wrought by the hand of God.

p Though I haue punished this land for a time, yet I will euen now be pacified, and visite their sinnes no more.

q Ye shall then liue in peace and quietnesse, that is, in the kingdome of Christ, Isa. 2. 2. micah 4. 4. haggai 2. 10.

m This must necessarily be vnderstande of Christ, who being God equall with his Father, was sent as he was Mediatour to dwell in his church and to gouerne them.

CHAP IIII.

The vision of the golden candlesticks, and the exposition thereof.

AND the Angel that talked with me, came againe and waked me, as a man that is rayſed out of his ſleepe,

2 And ſaid vnto me, What ſeeſt thou? And I ſaid, I haue looked, and behold, a [a] candleſticke al of gold with a bowle vpon the toppe of it, and his ſeuen lampes therein, and ſeuen [b] pipes to the lampes, which were vpon the toppe thereof.

3 And two oliue trees ouer it, one vpon the right ſide of the bowle, and the other vpon the left ſide thereof.

4 So I anſwered, and ſpake to the Angel that talked with me, ſaying, What are theſe, my Lord?

5 Then the Angel that talked with mee, anſwered and ſaid vnto me, Knoweſt thou not what theſe be? And I ſaid, No, my Lord.

6 Then he anſwered and ſpake vnto me, ſaying, This is the word of the Lord vnto [c] Zerubbabel, ſaying, Neither by [d] an armie nor ſtrength, but by my ſpirit, ſaith the Lord of hoſts.

7 Who art thou, O [e] great mountaine, before Zerubbabel? thou ſhalt be a plaine, and [f] hee ſhall bring foorth the head ſtone thereof, with ſhoutings, crying, Grace, grace vnto it.

8 Moreouer, the word of the Lord came vnto me, ſaying,

9 The handes of Zerubbabel haue layed the foundation of this houſe: his handes ſhall alſo finiſh it, and [g] thou ſhalt know that the Lorde of hoſts hath ſent me vnto you.

10 For who hath deſpiſed the day of the [h] ſmall things? but they ſhall reioyce, and ſhall ſee the ſtone of [i] tinne in the hand of Zerubbabel: [k] theſe ſeuen are the eies of the Lord, which goe thorow the whole world.

11 Then anſwered I, and ſaid vnto him, What are theſe two oliue trees vpon the right and vpon the left ſide thereof?

12 And I ſpake moreouer, and ſaid vnto him, What be theſe two oliue branches, which thorowe the two golden pipes emptie themſelues into the golde?

13 And he anſwered mee, and ſaide, Knoweſt thou not what theſe bee? And I ſaide, No, my Lord.

14 Then ſaid he, Theſe are [l] two oliue branches, that ſtand with the ruler of the whole earth.

a Which was euer in the mids of the Temple, ſignifying that the graces of Gods ſpirit ſhould ſhine there in moſt abundance, and in all perfection.

b Which conueyed the oyle that dropped from the trees into the lamps, ſo that the light neuer failed: and this viſion was to confirme the faithful that God had ſufficient power in himſelfe to continue his graces, & to bring his promes to paſſe, though he had no helpe of man.

c Who was a figure of Chriſt, and therefore this doctrine was directed to all the Church who are his body and members.

d He ſheweth that Gods power only is ſufficient to preſerue his Church, though he vſe not mans helpe there vnto.

e He compareth the power of the aduerſaries to a great mountaine, who thought the Iewes nothing in reſpect of them, and would haue hindered Zerubbabel, who repreſented Chriſt, whō the enemies daily labour to let in the building of his ſpirituall Temple, but all in vaine.

f Though the enemies thinke to ſtay this building, yet Zerubbabel ſhal lay the higheſt ſtone thereof, and being it to perfection, ſo that all the godly ſhall reioyce, and pray vnto God that hee woulde continue his grace and fauour towarde the Temple.

g Meaning, the Prophet, that I am Chriſt ſent of my Father for the building and preſeruation of my ſpirituall Temple.

h Signifying that al were diſcouraged at the ſmall & poore beginnings of the Temple.

i Whereby he ſignifieth the plūmet and line, that is, Zerubbabel which repreſented Chriſt, ſhoulde goe forward with his building to the ioy and comfort of the godly, though the worlde bee againſt him, and though his for a while be diſcouraged, becauſe they ſee not things pleaſant to the eie.

k That is, God hath ſeuen eyes: meaning, a continual prouidence, ſo that neither Satan nor any power in the world can go about or bring any thing to paſſe to hinder his worke, Chap. 3. 9.

l Which were euer greene and full of oyle, ſo that ſtill they powred foorth oyle into the lampes: ſignifying, that God will continually maintaine and preſerue his Church, and indue it ſtill with abundance and perfection of graces.

CHAP. V.

1 The viſion of the flying booke, ſignifying the curſe of theeues, and ſuch as abuſe the Name of God. 6 By the viſion of the meaſure is ſignified the bringing of Iudahs affliction, into Babylon.

THEN I turned me, and lifted vp mine eies and looked, and behold, a flying booke.

2 And he ſaid vnto me, What ſeeſt thou? And I anſwered, I ſee a flying [a] booke: the length thereof is twentie cubites, and the breadth thereof ten cubites.

3 Then ſayd he vnto me, This is the curſe that goeth forth ouer the whole earth: for euery one that [b] ſtealeth, ſhalbe cut off aſwell on this [c] ſide, as on that: and euery one that [d] ſweareth, ſhall be cut off aſwell on this ſide, as on that.

4 I wil bring it forth, ſaith the Lord of hoſts, and it ſhall enter into the houſe of the thiefe, and into the houſe of him, that falſely ſweareth by my Name: and it ſhall remaine in the middes of his houſe, and ſhal conſume it, with the timber thereof, and ſtones thereof.

5 Then the Angel that talked with me, went foorth, and ſaid vnto me, Lift vp now thine eyes, and ſee what is this that goeth foorth.

6 And I ſaide, What is it? And hee ſayde, This is an [e] Ephah that goeth foorth. He ſayde moreouer, This is the [f] ſight of them through all the earth.

7 And beholde, there was lift vp a [g] talent of lead: and this is a [h] woman that ſitteth in the middes of the Ephah.

8 And he ſaid, This is [i] wickednes, and he caſt it into the middes of the Ephah, and hee caſt the weight of lead vpon the mouth thereof.

9 Then lift I vp mine eyes, and looked: and beholde, there came out two [k] women, and the winde was in their wings (for they had wings like the wings of a ſtorke) and they lift vp the Ephah betweene the earth and the heauen.

10 Then ſaide I to the Angel that talked with me, Whither doe theſe beare the Ephah?

11 And hee ſayde vnto mee, [l] To builde it an houſe in the land of Shinar, and it ſhall be eſtabliſhed and ſet there vpon her owne place.

a Because they had prouoked Gods plagues by contemning his word, and caſting off all vnderſtanding and equitie, here ſhewed that Gods curſes written in this booke had inſtly light back on them, and their fathers: but now if they would repent, God would ſende the ſame among the Caldeans their former enemies.

b That is, vſeth any iniury toward his neighbour.

c Meaning, where ſoeuer he be in the world.

d He that tranſgreſſeth the firſt table, and ſeemeth not God aright, but abuſeth Gods Name.

e Which was a meaſure in drie things containing about tenne pottels.

f That is, all the wickedneſſe of the vngodly is in Gods ſight, which he keepeth in a meaſure and cauſeth it or open it at his pleaſure.

g To couer the meaſure.

h Which repreſenteth iniquitie, as in the next verſe.

i Signifying, that Satan ſhoulde not haue ſuch power againſt the Iewes to tempt them, as he had in time paſt, but that God would ſhut vp iniquitie in a meaſure as in a priſon.

k Which declared that God would execute his iudgements by the meanes of weake & infirme meanes.

l To remoue the iniquitie and afflictions that came for the ſame from Iudah, to place it for euer in Babylon.

CHAP. VI.

By the foure charets he deſcribeth the foure monarchies.

AGAINE I turned and lift vp mine eyes, and looked: and beholde, there came foure [a] charets out from betweene [b] two mountaines, and the mountaines were mountaines of braſſe.

2 In the firſt charet were [c] red horſes, and in the ſecond charet [d] blacke horſes,

3 And in the third charet [e] white horſes, and in the fourth charet, horſes of [f] diuers colours, and reddiſh.

4 Then I anſwered, and ſaide vnto the Angell that talked with mee, What are theſe, my Lord?

5 And the Angel anſwered, and ſayde vnto mee, Theſe are the [g] foure ſpirites of the heauen, which goe foorth from ſtanding with the Lord of all the earth.

6 That with the blacke horſe went forth ina By charets here, as by horſes afore, he meaneth the ſwift meſſengers of God to execute and declare his will.

b By the braſen mountaines hee meaneth the eternall counſell and prouidence of God, whereby he hath from before all eternitie decreed what ſhall come to paſſe, and that which neither Satan nor all the world can alter.

c Which ſignified the great cruelties and perſecutions that the Church had endured vnder diuers enemies.

d Signifying that they had endured great afflictions vnder the Babylonians.

e Theſe repreſented their ſtate vnder the Perſians which reſtored them to libertie.

f Which ſignified that God woulde ſometime giue his Church reſt, and powre his plagues vpon their enemies, as he did indeſtroying Nineueh and Babylon, and other their enemies.

g Meaning all the actions and motions of Gods Spirit, which according to his vnchangeable counſell he cauſeth to appeare through all the world.

to the land of the North, and the white went out after them, and they of diuers colours went forth toward the [b] South countrey.

7 And the [i] reddish went out, and required to go, and passe through the worlde, and he sayd, Goe passe through the worlde. So they went thorowout the world.

8 Then cryed hee vpon mee, and spake vnto me, saying, Beholde, these that goe towarde the North countrey, haue pacified my [k] spirit in the North countrey.

9 And the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

10 Take of the of the captiuitie, euen of Heldai, and of Tobijah, and Iedaiah, which are come from Babel, and come thou the same day, and goe vnto the house [l] of Ioshiah, the sonne of Zephaniah.

11 Take euen siluer, and golde, and make crownes, and set them vpon the [m] heade of Iehoshua, the sonne of Iehozadak the hie Priest, 12 And speake vnto him, saying, Thus speaketh the Lord of hostes, & saith, Behold the man whose name is the [n] Baruch, and he shall growe [o] vp out of his place, & he shal [p] build the Temple of the Lord.

13 Euen hee shall builde the Temple of the Lord, and hee shall beare the [q] glory, and shall sit and rule vpon his throne, and hee shalbe a Priest vpon his throne, and the counsell of peace shall be betweene them both.

14 And the crownes shall be to [r] Helem, and to Tobiiah, & to Iedaiah, and to [s] Hen the sonne of Zephaniah, for a [t] memoriall in the Temple of the Lord.

15 And they that are [x] farre off, shal come and build in the Temple of [y] Lord, & ye shal knowe, that the Lord of hostes hath sent mee vnto you. And this shal come to passe, if ye will [y] obey the voyce of the Lord your God.

[b] That is, toward Egypt, and other countreys there about.
[i] That is, they of diuers colours, which aske leaue, to signifie that Satan hath no power to hurt or afflict til God giue it him, Iob 1.12.
[k] By punishing the Caldeans mine anger ceased, and you were deliuered.
[l] To receiue of him and the other three, money to make the two crownes: which were men of great authoritie among the Iewes, and doubted of the restitution of the kingdome and of the priesthood, & hurt others by their example.
[m] Because this could not be attributed to any one according to the Lawe, therfore it followeth that Iehoshua must represent the Messiah who was both Priest and King.
[n] Meaning, Christ, of whom Iehoshua was the figure: for in Greeke they were both called Iesus.
[o] That is, of himselfe without the helpe of man.
[p] Which declareth that none could build this Temple, whereof Haggai speaketh but only Christ: & therefore it was spirituall, and not materiall, Hag. 2.10.
[q] Whereof Iehoshua had but a shadow. [r] The two offices of the kingdom, and Priesthood shalbe so ioined together, that they shal no more be diuiserd. [s] Who was also called Heldai. [t] He was also called Ioshiah. [u] That they may acknowledge their infirmitie, which looked [y] all things should haue bin restored incontinently: & of this their infidelitie these two crownes shal remain as tokens, Act. 1.6. [x] That is, the Gentiles by [y] preaching of the Gospel shal help toward [y] building of this spirituall Temple. [y] If ye wil beleeue & remain in [y] obedience of faith.

CHAP. VII.

5 The true fasting. 11 The rebellion of the people is the cause of their affliction.

AND in the fourth yeere of King Darius, the worde of the Lorde came vnto Zechariah in the fourth day of the ninth moueth, euen in [a] Chisleu,

2 For [b] they had sent vnto the House of God Sharezer, and Regem-melech and their men to pray before the Lord,

3 And to speake vnto the Priests, which were in the house of the Lorde of hostes, and to the Prophets, saying, Should I [c] weepe in the fift moneth, and [d] separate my selfe as I haue done these so many [e] yeeres?

4 Then came the word of the Lord of hostes vnto me, saying,

5 Speake vnto al the people of the land, and to the [f] Priests, and say, When ye fasted, & mourned in the fift & seuenth moneth, euen these seuentie yeeres, did ye fast vnto mee? [g] doe I approue it?

6 And when yee did eate, and when yee did drinke, did ye not eate [h] for your selues, and drink for your selues?

7 Should ye not heare the wordes, which the Lord [i] hath cried by the ministerie of the former Prophets when Ierusalem was inhabited, and in prosperitie, & the cities thereof round about her, when the South and the plaine was inhabited?

8 And the worde of the Lord came vnto Zechariah, saying,

9 Thus speaketh the Lorde of hostes, saying, [k] Execute true iudgement, and shewe mercy and compassion, euery man to his brother,

10 And oppresse not the widowe, nor the fatherles, the stranger nor the poore, & let none of you imagin euil against his brother in your heart.

11 But they refused to hearken, and [l] pulled away the shoulder, and stopped their eares, that they should not heare.

12 Yea, they made their hearts as an adamant stone, least they should heare the Lawe and the wordes which the Lord of hostes sent in his spirit by the ministerie of [y] former Prophets: therefore came a great wrath from the Lord of hostes.

13 Therfore it is come to passe, that as he cried, and they would not heare, so they cried, and I would not heare, saith the Lord of hostes.

14 But I scattered them among al the nations, whom they knew not: thus the land was desolate [n] after them, that no man passed through nor returned: for they layde the pleasant land [o] waste.

[a] Which conteined part of November, and part of December.
[b] That is, the rest of the people that remained yet in Caldea, sent to the Church at Ierusalem, for the resolution of these questions, because these feasts were consented vpon by the agreement of the whole Church, the one in the moneth that the Temple was destroyed, and the other when Gedaliah was slaine, Iere. 41.2. [c] By weeping and mourning appeare what exercises they vsed in their fasting. [d] That is, prepare my selfe with all deuotion to this fast. [e] Which was now since the time the Temple was destroyed.
[f] For these were both of the people, and of the Priestes, which doubted as touching this controuersie, besides the which as yet remained in Calden, and reasoned of it, as of one of the chiefe poynts of their religion.
[g] For they thought they had deserued towarde God because of this fast, which they intended of themselues: and though fasting of it selfe be good, yet because they thought it a seruice toward God, and trusted therein, it is herein reproued.
[h] Did ye not eate, & drinke for your owne commoditie and necessitie? and so likewise ye did abstaine according to your owne fantasies, and not after the prescript of my Law.
[i] Hereby he condemneth their hypocrisie, which thought by their fasting to please God and by such things as they inuented, & in the meane season would not heare him as he had commanded. [k] He sheweth, that they did not fast with a syncere heart, but for an hypocrisie, and that it was not done of a pure religion, because that they lacked their offices of charitie, which shoulde they were godly, Mat. 23.23. [l] And would not carry the Lordes burthen, which was sweete & easie, but would beare their owne, which was heauie and grieuous to the flesh, thinking to merite thereby: which similitude is taken of oxen, which shrinke at the yoke, Nehe. 9.29. [m] Which declareth that they rebelled not onely against the Prophets, but against the Spirit of God that spake in them. [n] That is, after they were caried captiue. [o] By their sins wherby they prouoked Gods anger.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Of the returne of the people vnto Ierusalem, and of the mercy of God toward them. 16 Of good workes. 20 The calling of the Gentiles.

AGaine the worde of the Lord of hostes came to me, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, I was [a] ielous for Zion with great ielousie, and I was ielous for her with great wrath,

3 Thus saith the Lord, I will returne vnto Zion, & wil dwel in the mids of Ierusalem: & Ierusalem shalbe called a [b] citie of truth, & the Mountaine of the Lord of hostes, the holy Mountaine.

4 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, There shall yet olde [c] men and olde women dwell in the streetes of Ierusalem, & euery man with his staffe in his hand for very age.

5 And the streetes of the citie shall be full of boyes and girles, playing in the streetes thereof.

6 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Though it be [d] vnpossible in the eyes of the remnant of this people in these dayes, should it therefore be vnpossible in my sight, saith the Lord of hostes?

7 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Beholde, I will deliuer my people from the East countrey and from the West countrey,

[a] I loued my citie with a singular loue, so that I could not abide that any should doe her any iniurie.
[b] Because she shalbe faithfull, and loyall toward me her husband.
[c] Though their enemies did grieuously molest & trouble them, yet God would come and dwel amõg them, and so preserue them so long as nature would suffer them to liue, and encrease their children in great abundance.
[d] He sheweth wherin our faith standeth, that is, to beleeue that God can performe that which hee hath promised though it seeme neuer so vnpossible to man, Rom 4.20. Gen. 18.14.

8 And I wil bring them, & they shal dwel in the mids of Ierusalem, & they shal be my people, & I wil be their God in truth, & in righteousnes.

9 Thus saith the Lorde of hostes, Let your f handes be strong, yee that heare in these dayes these words by the month of the Prophets, which were in the day, that the foundatiō of the House of the Lorde of hostes was laide, that the Temple might be builded.

10 For before these dayes there was no hire for g man nor any hire for beast, neither was there any peace to him that went out or came in because of the affliction: for I set all men, euery one against his neighbour.

11 But now, I will not intreate the residue of this people as aforetime, saith the Lord of hostes.

12 For the seede shall be prosperous: the vine shall giue her frute, and the ground shal giue her increase, and the heauens shall giue their dewe, and I will cause the remnant of this people to possesse all these things.

13 And it shal come to passe, that as ye were a curse among the heathen, O House of Iudah, and house of Israel, so wil I deliuer you, & ye shalbe a blessing: feare not, but let your hands be strong.

14 For thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, As I thought to punish h you, when your fathers prouoked me vnto wrath, saith the Lord of hostes, and repented not,

15 So againe haue I determined in these daies i to doe well vnto Ierusalem, and to the house of Iudah: feare ye not.

16 These are the things that ye shal do. Speake ye euery man the trueth vnto his neighbour: execute iudgement truely & vprightly in your gates, 17 And let none of you imagine euill in your hearts against his neighbour, & loue no false othe: for al these are the things ȳ I hate, saith the Lord.

18 And the word of the Lord of hostes came vnto me, saying,

19 Thus sayth the Lord of hostes, The fast of the fourth moneth, and the fast of the fift, and the fast of the seuenth, & the fast of the k tenth, shall be to ȳ house of Iudah ioy & gladnes & prosperous hie feastes: therefore loue the truth & peace.

20 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, That there shall yet come l people, and the inhabitants of great cities, 21 And they that dwell in one citie, shal go to another, saying, * Vp, let vs go & pray before the Lord, and seeke the Lord of hostes: I wil go also.

22 Yea, great people and mightie nations shal come to seeke the Lorde of hostes in Ierusalem, and to pray before the Lord.

23 Thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, In those dayes shall ten men take holde out of al languages of the nations, euen take holde of the skirt of him that is a Iewe, and say, We will go with you: for we haue heard, that God is with you.

CHAP IX.

1 The threatning of the Gentiles. 9 The comming of Christ.

THe burthen of the worde of the Lorde in the land of a Hadrach: and Damascus shalbe his b rest: when the c eyes of man, euen of all the tribes of Israel shalbe toward the Lord.

2 And Hamath also shall border d thereby: Tyrus also and Zidon, though they be e very wise.

3 For Tyrus did build her selfe a strong holde, and heaped vp siluer as the dust, and golde as the myre of the streetes.

4 Behold, the Lord wil spoyle her, and he wil smite her f power in the Sea, and she shal be deuoured with fire.

5 Ashkelon shall see it, and feare, and Azzah also shall be very sorowfull, and Ekron: for her countenance shalbe ashamed, & the king shal perish frō Azzah, & Ashkelō shal not be inhabited.

6 And the g stranger shall dwell in Ashdod, and I will cut off the pride of the Philistims.

7 And I will take away his blood out of his mouth, and his abominations from betweene his h teeth: but he that remaineth, euen he shalbe for our God, and he shal be as a prince in Iudah, but i Ekron shalbe as a Iebusite.

8 And I will campe about k mine House against the armie, against him that passeth by, and against him that returneth, and no oppressour shall come vpon them any more: for now l haue I seene with mine eyes.

9 Reioyce greatly O daughter of Zion: shoute for ioy, O daughter Ierusalem: behold, thy King commeth vnto thee: m he is iust and saued himselfe, poore and riding vpon an n asse, and vpon a colt the foale of an asse.

10 And I wil cut off the o charets from Ephraim, and the horse from Ierusalem: the bowe of the battel shalbe broken, & he shal speak peace vnto the heathen, & his dominion shalbe from sea vnto sea, & from the q Riuer to the end of the land.

11 r Thou also shalt bee saued through the blood of thy couenant. I haue loosed thy s prisoners out of the pit wherein is no water.

12 Turne you to the t strong holde, ye u prisoners of hope: euen to day doe I declare, that I will render the x double vnto thee.

13 For Iudah haue I y bent as a bowe for me: Ephraims hand haue I filled, and I haue raised vp thy sonnes, O Zion, against thy sonnes, O Grecia, and haue made thee as z gyants sword.

14 And the Lord shalbe seene ouer them, and his arrowe shal go forth as the lightning: and the Lord God shal blowe the trumpet, and shal come forth with the whirlewinds of the South.

15 The Lorde of hostes shall defend them, & they shal deuoure them, z and subdue them, with sling stones, and they shall drinke, and make a noyse as thorowe wine, and they shalbe filled like bowles, and as the hornes of the altar.

16 And the Lord their God shal deliuer them in that day as the flocke of his people: for they meant of Christ, as Mat 21.5. o No power of man or creature this kingdome of Christ, and hee shall peaceably gouerne p That is, from the red sea to the sea called Syriacum: and by these places which the Iewes knew, he meant an infinite space and compasse ouer the whole worlde. q That is, from Euphrates r Meaning, Iernsalem or the Church, which is saued by the blood of Christ, whereof the blood of the sacrifices was a figure, and is here called the couenant of the Church, because God made it with his Church & left it with them for the loue that he bare vnto them. f God sheweth that he wil deliuer his Church out of al dangers, seeme they neuer so great. t That is, into the holy lande where the citie and the Temple are, where God will defende you. u Meaning, the faithful which semed to be in danger of their enemies on euery side, and yet liued in hope that God would restore them to libertie. x That is double benefites, and prosperitie in respect of that which your fathers inioyed from Dauids time to the captiuitie. y I will make Iudah and Ephraim, that is, my whole Church, victorious against all enemies, which he here meaneth by the Grecians. z He promiseth that the Iewes shall destroy their enemies and haue abundance, and excesse of all things, as there is abundance on the altar when the sacrifice is offered: Which things are not to moue them to intemperancie, but to sobrietie, and a thankefull remembrance of Gods great liberalitie.

e So that their returne shall not be in vaine: for God will accomplish his promise, and their prosperitie shalbe sure and stable.

f Let neither respect of your priuate commodities, neither counsell of others, nor feare of enemies discourage you in the going forward with the building of the Temple, but be constant and obey the Prophets, which incourage you thereunto.

g For God curled your worke, so that neither man nor beast had profite of their labours.

h Reade Ezek. 18. 20.

i Which declareth, that man can not turne to God til he change mans heart by his Spirit, and so begin to do well, which is to pardon his sinnes and to giue him his graces.

k Which fast was appoynted when the citie was besieged, and was the first fast of these foure: and here the Prophet sheweth, that if the Iewes will repent, and turne wholy to God, they shall haue no more occasion to fast, or to shew signes of beauines: for God wil send them ioy and gladnesse.

l He declareth the great zeale that God should giue the Gentiles to come to his Church and to ioyne with the Iewes in his true religion, which should be in the kingdome of Christ.

* Isa. 2. 2. mich. 4. 1.

a Whereby hee meaneth Syria.

b Gods anger shal abide vpon their chiefe citie, & not spare so much as that. c When the Iewes shall conuert and repent then God will destroy their enemies. d That is, by Damascus: meaning that Hamath or Antiochia should be vnder the same yoke and plague.

e Hee secretly sheweth the cause of their destruction, because they deceiued all other by their craft and subtiltie, which they cloked with this name of wisdome.

f Though they of Tyrus think themselues inuincible by reason of the sea, that cōpasseth them round about, yet they shall not escape Gods iudgments.

g Meaning, that all should be destroyed saue a very few, that should remaine as strangers.

h He promiseth to deliuer the Iewes when he shall take vengeance on their enemies, for their crueltie, & wrongs done to them.

i As the Iebusites had bin destroyed, so should Ekron & all the Philistims.

k He sheweth that Gods power only shal be sufficient to defend his Church against all aduersaries be they neuer so cruell, or assemble their power neuer so often.

l That is, God hath nowe seene the great iniuries and afflictions wherewith they haue bene afflicted by their enemies.

m That is, he hath righteousnes, and saluation in himselfe for the vse & commoditie of his Church.

n Which declareth that they should not looke for such a King as should be glorious in the eyes of man, but should be poore, and yet in himselfe hath all powes to deliuer his: and this is shalbe able to let them by his worde.

o No power of man or creature shalbe able to let this kingdome of Christ, and hee shall peaceably gouerne them by his worde.

p That is, from the red sea to the sea called Syriacum: and by these places which the Iewes knew, he meant an infinite space and compasse ouer the whole worlde.

q That is, from Euphrates

r Meaning, Iernsalem or the Church, which is saued by the blood of Christ, whereof the blood of the sacrifices was a figure, and is here called the couenant of the Church, because God made it with his Church & left it with them for the loue that he bare vnto them.

f God sheweth that he wil deliuer his Church out of al dangers, seeme they neuer so great.

t That is, into the holy lande where the citie and the Temple are, where God will defende you.

u Meaning, the faithful which semed to be in danger of their enemies on euery side, and yet liued in hope that God would restore them to libertie.

x That is double benefites, and prosperitie in respect of that which your fathers inioyed from Dauids time to the captiuitie.

y I will make Iudah and Ephraim, that is, my whole Church, victorious against all enemies, which he here meaneth by the Grecians.

z He promiseth that the Iewes shall destroy their enemies and haue abundance, and excesse of all things, as there is abundance on the altar when the sacrifice is offered: Which things are not to moue them to intemperancie, but to sobrietie, and a thankefull remembrance of Gods great liberalitie.

z The faithfull shalbe preserued, and reuenged of all, that the very enemies shall be compelled to esteeme them: for Gods glorie shal shine in them, as Iosephus declareth of Alexander the great when he met Iadi the high Priest.

shalbe as the a stones of his crowne lifted vp vpon his land.

17 For how great is his goodnesse! and howe great is his beautie! corne shall make the young men cheereful, and newe wine the maides.

CHAP. X.

2 The vanitie of idolatrie. 3 The Lorde promiseth to visite and comfort the house of Israel.

ASke you of the a Lord rain in the time of the latter raine: so shall the Lorde make white cloudes, and giue you showres of raine, and to euery one grasse in the field.

2 Surely b the idoles haue spoken vanitie, and the southsayers haue seene a lie, and the dreamers haue told a vaine thing: they comfort in vaine: therefore c they went away as sheepe: they were troubled, because there was no shepheard.

3 My wrath was kindeled against the shepherdes, and I did visite the d goates: but the Lorde of hosts will visite his flocke the house of Iudah, and will make them as e his beautifull horse in the battell.

4 Out f of him shall the corner come foorth: out of him the naile, out of him ẏ bowe of battel, and out of him euery g appointer of tribute also.

5 And they shalbe as the mightie men, which treade downe their enemies in the myre of the stretes in the battel, and they shal fight, because the Lorde is with them, and the riders on horses shalbe confounded.

6 And I will strengthen the house of Iudah, and I will preserue the house h of Ioseph, & I wil bring them againe, for I pitie them: and they shall be as though I had not cast them off: for I am the Lord their God, and wil heare them.

7 And they of Ephraim shall bee as a gyant: and their heart shall reioyce thorowe wine: yea, their children shall see it, and be glad: and their heart shal reioyce in the Lord.

8 I wil i hisse for them, and gather them: for I haue redeemed them: and they shal encrease, as they haue increased.

9 And I wil k sow them among the people, & they shal remember me in farre countreis: & they shal liue with their children and l turne againe.

10 I will bring them againe also out of the land of Egypt, & gather them out of Asshur: and I wil bring them into the land of Gilead, and Lebanon, and place shal not be found for them.

11 And he m shall goe into the sea with affliction, and shall smite the waues in the sea, and all the depthes of the riuer shal dry vp: and the pride of Asshur shall be cast downe, and the scepter of Egypt shal depart away.

12 And I will strengthen them in the Lord, and they shall walke in his Name, saith the Lord.

a The prophet reproueth the Iewes because by their owne infidelitie they put backe Gods graces promised, and so famine came by Gods iust iudgement: therefore to auoyde this plague he willeth them to turne to God, and to pray in faith to him, and so he will giue them abundance.

b He calleth to remembrance Gods punishments in times past because they trusted not in him, but in their idoles and sorcerers who euer deceiued them.

c That is, the Iewes went into captiuitie.

d Meaning, the cruel gouernours which did oppresse the poore sheepe. Ezek 34.16.17.

e He wil be mercifull to his Church and cherish them as a King or Prince doth his best horse which shalbe for his owne vse in the warre.

f Out of Iudah shall the chiefe gouernour proceede, who shalbe as a corner to vphold the building, & as a naile to fasten it together.

g Ouer their enemies.

h That is, the ten tribes, which should be gathered vnder Christ to the rest of the Church.

i Whereby he declareth the power of God who needeth no great preparation when he will deliuer his: for with a beck or hisse hee can cal them from al places suddenly.

k Though they shall yet be scattered and seeme to be lost, yet it shall be profitable vnto them: for there they shall come to the knowledge of my Name, which was accomplished vnder the Gospel, among whom it was first preached.

l Not that they should returne into their countrey, but bee gathered and ioyned in one faith by the doctrine of the Gospel.

m He alludeth to the deliuerance of the people out of Egypt, where as the Angel smote the floods and riuers.

CHAP. XI.

1 The destruction of the Temple. 4 The care of the faithfull is committed to Christ. 7 A grieuous vision against Ierusalem and Iudah.

OPen thy doores, O a Lebanon, and the fire shall deuoure thy cedars.

2 Houle, b firre trees: for the cedar is fallen, because all the mighty are destroyed: houle ye, O okes of Bashā, for ẏ defensed forest is cut down.

3 There is the voyce of the houling of the shepheardes: for their d glorie is destroyed: the voyce of the roaring of lyons whelpes: for the pride of Iorden is destroyed.

4 Thus saieth the Lorde my God, Feede the sheepe of the e slaughter.

5 They that possesse them, slay them f and sinne not: and they that sell them, say, g Blessed be the Lord: for I am rich, and their owne shepheards spare them not.

6 Surely I wil no more spare those that dwell in the land, saith the Lord: but loe, h I will deliuer the men euery one into his neighbours hand, and into the hand of his i king: and they shal smite the land, & out of their hands I wil not deliuer them.

7 For I fed the sheepe of slaughter, euen the k poore of the flocke, and I tooke vnto me l two staues: the one I called Beautie, and the other I called Bands, and I fed the sheepe.

8 m Three shepherds also I cut off in one moneth, and my soule lothed n them, and their soule abhorred me.

9 Then said I, I will not feede you: that that dieth, let it die: and that that perisheth, let it perish: and let the remnant eate, euery one the flesh of his neighbour.

10 And I tooke my staffe, euen Beautie, and brake it, that I might disanul my couenant, which I had made with all people.

11 And it was broken in that day: and so the o poore of the sheep that waited vpon me, knew that it was the word of the Lord.

12 And I sayd vnto them, If ye think it good, giue me my p wages: and if no, leaue off: so they weighed for my wages thirtie pieces of siluer.

13 And the Lord said vnto me, Cast it vnto the q potter: a goodly price, that I was valued at of them. And I tooke the thirtie pieces of siluer, and cast them to the potter in the house of the Lorde.

14 Then brake I mine other staffe, euen the Bands, that I might dissolue the brotherhood betweene Iudah and Israel.

15 And the Lorde said vnto me, Take to thee yet r the instruments of a foolish shepheard.

16 For lo, I wil raise vp a shepheard in ẏ land, which shal not look for the thing, that is lost, nor seeke the tender lambes, nor heale that ẏ is hurt, nor feede that that ſ standeth vp: but he shall eate the flesh of the fat, & teare their clawes in pieces.

17 O idole shepheard that leaueth the flocke: the sword shalbe vpon his t arme, & vpon his right a Because ẏ Iewes thought their selues so strong by reason of this mountaine, that no enemie coulde come to hurt them, the Prophet sheweth, that when God sendeth the enemies, it shal shewe it selfe ready to receiue them.

b Shewing that if the strong men were destroyed, the weaker were not able to resist.

c Seeing that Lebanon was destroyed, which was the strongest munition, the weaker places could not thinke to hold out.

d That is, the renoume of Iudah and Israel should perish.

e Which being nowe destinate to be slaine, were deliuered as out of the lyons mouth.

f Their gouernours destroy them without anie remorse of conscience, or yet thinking that they doe euill.

g He noteth the hypocrites, which euer haue the Name of God in their mouthes, though in their life and doings they denie God, attributing their gaine to Gods blessing, which commeth of the spoyle of their brethren.

h I will cause one to destroy another.

i Their gouernours shall execute cruelties ouer the.

k That is, the small remnant, whom he thought worthie to shew mercie vnto.

l God sheweth his great benefites toward his people to conuince them of greater ingratitude, which would neither be ruled by his most beautifull order of gouernement, neither continue in the bandes of brotherly vnitie, and therefore hee breaketh both the one and the other. Some reade, for Bandes Destroyers, but in the 14. verse the first reading is confirmed.

m Whereby he sheweth his care and diligence that he would suffer them to haue no euill rulers, because they should consider his great loue.

n Meaning, the people because they would not acknowledge these great benefites of God.

o He sheweth that the least part euer profite by Gods iudgements.

p Besides their ingratitude God accuseth them of malice and wickednesse, which did not only forget his benefites, but esteemed them as things of nought.

q Shewing that it was too litle to pay his wages, which could scarce suffice to make a sewe tyles for to couer the Temple.

r Signifying, that they should haue a certaine kinde of regiment, and outward shewe of gouernement: but in effect it should be nothing: for they shoulde be wolues, and deuouring beasts in stead of shepheardes.

ſ And is in health and sound.

t By the arme he signifieth strength, as he doeth wisedome and iudgement by the eye: that is, the plague of God shall take away both thy strength and iudgement.

eye.

eye. His arme shall bee cleane dryed vp, and his right eye shalbe vtterly darkened.

CHAP. XII.

Of the deſtruction and building againe of Ieruſalem.

THe burden of the worde of the Lorde vpon a Iſrael, ſaith the Lorde, which ſpred the heauens, and laid the foundation of the earth, & formed the ſpirit of man within him.

2 Behold, I will make Ieruſalem a b cuppe of poyſon vnto all the people round about: and alſo with Iudah wil he be, in ‖ ſiege againſt Ieruſalem.

3 And in that day will I make Ieruſalem an heauie ſtone for all people: all that lift it vp, ſhall be torne, though all the people of the earth bee gathered together againſt it.

4 In that day, ſaieth the Lorde, I will ſmite euery horſe with aſtoniſhment, and his rider with madneſſe, and I will open mine eyes vpon the houſe of Iudah, and will ſmite euery horſe of the people with blindneſſe.

5 And the princes of Iudah ſhall ſay in their hearts, The c inhabitants of Ieruſalem ſhalbe my ſtrength in the Lord of hoſtes their God.

6 In that day will I make the princes of Iudah like coles of fire among the wood, and like a fire brand in the ſheafe, and they ſhall deuoure all the people round about on the right hand, and on the left: and Ieruſalem ſhall be inhabited againe in her owne place, euen in Ieruſalem.

7 The Lorde alſo ſhall preſerue the d tents of Iudah, as afore time: therefore the glory of the houſe of Dauid ſhall not boaſt, nor the glorie of the inhabitants of Ieruſalem againſt Iudah.

8 In that day ſhall the Lord defende the inhabitants of Ieruſalem, & he that is feeble among them, in that day ſhall be as Dauid: and the houſe of Dauid ſhalbe as Gods houſe, and as the Angel of the Lord before them.

9 And in that day will I ſeeke to deſtroy all the nations that come againſt Ieruſalem.

10 And I will powre vpon the houſe of Dauid, & vpon the inhabitants of Ieruſalem the Spirit of e grace & of compaſſion, and they ſhal looke vpō me, whom they haue f pearced, & they ſhal lamēt for g him, as one mourneth for his onely ſonne, & be ſorie for him as one is ſory for his firſt borne.

11 In that day ſhal there be a great mourning in Ieruſalem, as the h mourning of i Hadadrimmon in the valley of Megiddon.

12 And the k land ſhal bewayle euerie familie apart, the familie of the m houſe of Dauid apart, and their wiues apart: and familie of the houſe of Nathan apart, and their wiues apart:

13 The familie of the houſe of Leui apart, and their wiues apart: the familie of n Shemei apart, and their wiues apart:

14 All the families that o remaine, euery familie apart, and their wiues apart.

a That is, the ten tribes, which neglected Gods benefit in deliuering their brethren, and had rather remaine in captiuitie, then to returne home, when God called them.

b Ieruſalem ſhall be defēded againſt all her enemies: ſo ſhal God defend all Iudah alſo, and ſhal deſtroy the enemies.

c Euery captaine, that had many vnder him afore, ſhall nowe thinke that the ſmall power of Ieruſalem ſhall be ſufficient to defend them againſt all enemies, becauſe the Lord is among them.

d The people which are nowe as it were diſperſed by the fieldes, and lie open to their enemies, ſhall be no leſſe preſerued by my power, then if they were vnder their Kings, (which is meant by the houſe of Dauid) or in their defenſed cities.

e They ſhall haue the feeling of my grace by faith, and know that I haue compaſſion on thē.

f That is, whom they haue continually vexed with their obſtinacie, and grieued my Spirit, Iohn 19.37. where it is referred to Chriſts body, which here is referred to the Spirit of God.

g They ſhall turne to God by true repentance, whom before they had ſo grieuouſly offended by their ingratitude.

h They ſhall lament and repent exceedingly for their offences againſt God. i Which was the name of a towne and place neere to Megiddo where Ioſiah was ſlaine. 2. Chro. 35.22. k That is, in al places where the Iewes ſhall remaine. l Signifying that this mourning or repentance ſhould not be a vaine ceremonie: but euery one touched with his owne griefe ſhall lament. m Vnder theſe certaine families he conteineth all the tribes, and ſheweth ſhortly, how the Kings and the Prieſts had by their ſinnes perced Chriſt. n Called alſo Simeon. o To wit, which were elect by grace, and preſerued from the common deſtruction.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Of the fountaine of grace. 2 Of the cleane riddance of idolatrie. 3 The zeale of the godly againſt falſe prophets.

IN that day there a ſhall be a fountaine opened to the houſe of Dauid, and to the inhabitants of Ieruſalem, for ſinne and for vncleanneſſe.

2 And in that day, ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, I will cut off the b names of the idoles out of the land: and they ſhall no more be remembred: and I will cauſe the c prophets, and the vncleane ſpirit to depart out of the land.

3 And when any ſhall yet d prophecie, his father and his mother that begate him, ſhall ſay vnto him, Thou ſhalt not liue: for thou ſpeakeſt lies in the name of the Lorde: and his father and his mother that begat him, ſhal thruſt him through, when he prophecieth.

4 And in that day ſhall the propheres f bee aſhamed euery one of his viſion, when he hath prophecied: neither ſhall they weare a rough garment to deceiue.

5 But hee ſhall ſay, I am no g Prophet: I am an husbandman: for man taught mee to be an heardman from my youth vp.

6 And one ſhal ſay vnto him, What are theſe h woundes in thine handes? Then he ſhal anſwere, Thus was I wounded in the houſe of my friends.

7 ¶ Ariſe, O ſword, vpon my i ſhepheard, and vpon the man, that is my fellow, ſaith the Lord of hoſtes: ſmite the ſhepheard, and the ſheepe ſhall be ſcattered: and I wil turne mine hand vpon the litle ones.

8 And in all the land, ſayeth the Lorde, k two partes therein ſhall be cut off, and die: but the third ſhalbe left therein.

9 And I will bring that third part thorow the fire, & wil fine them as the ſiluer is fined, and will trie thē as gold is tried: they ſhal cal on my name, and I will heare them: I will ſay, It is my people, and they ſhal ſay, The Lord is my God.

a He ſheweth what ſhall be the fruite of their repentance, to wit, remiſſio of ſinne, by the blood of Chriſt, which ſhall be a continual running fountaine, and purge them from all vncleanneſſe.

b He promiſeth that God will alſo purge them from all ſuperſtition, and that their religion ſhalbe pure.

c Meaning, the falſe prophets and teachers, who are the corrupters of all religion, whom the Prophet here calleth vncleane ſpirits.

d That is, when they ſhall prophecie lies, and make God, whois the authour of them, a cloake thereto.

e Hee ſheweth what zeale the godly ſhal haue vnder the kingdome of Chriſt, Deut 13.6.9.

f God ſhall make them aſhamed of their errours and lies, and bring them to repentance, and they ſhall no more weare Prophets apparel to make their doctrine ſeeme more holy.

g They ſhall confeſſe their former ignorance, and be content to labour for their liuing.

h Here by hee ſheweth that though their parentes and friendes dealt more gently with them, and put them not to death, yet they would ſo puniſh their children, that became falſe prophets, that the markes and ſignes ſhoulde remaine for euer.

i The Prophet warneth the Iewes, that before this great comfort ſhould come vnder Chriſt, there ſhould bee an horrible diſſipation among the people: for their gouernours and paſtours ſhoulde be deſtroyed, and the people ſhould be as ſcattered ſheepe: and the Euangeliſt applieth this to Chriſt, becauſe he was the head of all Paſtours, Matth. 26.31.

k The greateſt part ſhall haue no portion of theſe bleſſings, and yet they that ſhall enioy them, ſhalbe tryed which great afflictions, ſo that it ſhalbe known that onely Gods power and his mercies doe preſerue them.

CHAP. XIIII.

8 Of the deſtruction that ſhall precede out of the Church, and of the reſtauration thereof.

BEholde, the day of the Lorde commeth, and thy ſpoyle ſhalbe a diuided in the middes of thee.

2 For I wil gather all nations againſt Ieruſalem to battell, and the citie ſhalbe taken, and the houſes ſpoyled, and the women defiled, and halfe of the citie ſhall goe into captiuitie, and the reſidue of the people ſhal not be cut off from ‖ citie.

3 Then ſhall the Lorde goe foorth, and fight againſt thoſe nations, as when b he fought in the day of battel.

4 And his feete ſhall ſtande in that day vpon the c mount of oliues, which is before Ieruſalem on the Eaſtſide, & the mount of oliues ſhal cleane in the middes thereof: toward the Eaſt & toward the Weſt there ſhalbe a very great d valley, & halfe a Hee armeth the godly againſt the great tentation that ſhould come, before they enioyed this proſperous eſtate promiſed vnder Chriſt, that when theſe dangers ſhould come, they might know ‖ they were warned of them afore.

b As your fathers, and you haue had experience both at the red ſea, and at all other times.

c By this maner of ſpeech the Prophet ſheweth Gods power & care ouer his Church, and howe hee will as it were by miracle ſaue it.

d So that out of all the parts of the world, they ſhal ſee Ieruſalem, which was before hid with this mountain: & this he meaneth of the ſpiritual Ieruſalē ‖ Church.

of the mountaine shal remoue toward the North, and halfe of the mountaine toward the South.

5 And yee shall flee vnto the c valley of the mountaines: for the valley of the mountains shal reach vnto Azal: yea, ye shall flee likeas yee fled from the f earthquake in the dayes of Vzziah King of Iudah: and the Lord my God shall come, and all the Saints with thee.

6 And in that day shall there bee no cleare light, but darke.

7 And there shall bee a day (it is knowen to the Lord) h neither day nor night, but about the euening time it shall be light.

8 And in that day shal there i waters of life go out from Ierusalem, halfe of them toward the East sea, and halfe of them toward the vttermost sea, and shall be, both in sommer and winter.

9 And the Lord shall bee King ouer all the earth: in that day shall there be one k Lord, and his Name shalbe one.

10 All the land shall bee turned l as a plaine from Geba to Rimmon, toward the South of Ierusalem, and it shall be lifted vp, and inhabited in her place: from Beniamins gate vnto the place of the first gate, vnto the corner gate, and from the towre of Hananiel, vnto the Kings wine presses.

11 And men shall dwell in it, and there shall be no more destruction, but Ierusalem shalbe safely inhabited.

12 And this shall bee the plague, wherewith the Lord will smite all people, that haue fought against Ierusalem: their flesh shal consume away, though they stand vpon their feete, and their eies shal consume in their holes, and their tongue shall consume in their mouth.

13 But in that day m a great tumult of the Lord shall be among them, and euery one shall take n the hand of his neighbour, and his hand shall rise vp against the hand of his neighbour.

14 And Iudah shall fight also against Ierusalem, and the wealth of all the heathen shall be gathered round about, with o gold and siluer, and great abundance of apparell.

15 Yet this shal be the plague of the horse, of the mule, of the camell and of the asse and of all the beasts that be in these tents as this p plague.

16 But it shall come to passe that euery one that is left of all the nations, which came against Ierusalem, shal go vp from yeere to yeere to worship the King the Lord of hostes, & to keepe the feast of Tabernacles.

17 And who so wil not come vp of all the families of the earth vnto Ierusalem to worship the King the Lorde of hostes, euen vpon them shall come no raine.

18 And if the familie of q Egypt goe not vp, and come not, it shall not raine vpon them. This shall be the plague wherewith the Lord wil smite all the heathen, that come not vp to keepe the feast of Tabernacles.

19 This shal be the punishment of Egypt, and the punishment of all the nations that come not vp to keepe the feast of Tabernacles.

20 In that day shal there be written vpon the r bridles of the horses, The holinesse vnto the Lord, and the s pots in the Lordes house shall bee like the bowles before the altar.

21 Yea, euery pot in Ierusalem & Iudah shall be holy vnto the Lord of hostes, & all they that sacrifice, shall come and take of them, and seeth therein: and in that day there shalbe no more the t Canaanite in the House of the Lord of hostes.

a He speaketh of the hypocrites, which could not abide Gods presence, but should flee into all places, where they might hide them among the mountaines.

f Read Amos 1.1.

g Because they did not credit the Prophets words he turneth to God, and comforteth himselfe in that that he knew that these things should come, and saieth, Thou, O God, with thine Angels wilt come to performe this great thing.

h Signifying, that there should be great troubles in the Church, & that the time here of is in the Lordshande, yet at length (which is here meant by the euening) God would send comfort.

i That is, the spirituall graces of God, which should euer continue in most abundance.

k All idolatry and superstition shall be abolished, and there shalbe one God, one faith, and one religion.

l This new Ierusalem shall be seene through all the world, and shall excell the first in excellencie, wealth and greatnesse.

m God will not onely raise vp warre without, but sedition at home to trie them.

n To hurt and oppresse him.

o The enemies are rich, and therefore shall not come for a praie, but to destroy and shed blood.

p As the men should be destroyed, verse 12.

q By the Egyptians, which were greatest enemies to true religion, he meaneth all the Gentiles.

r Signifying, that to what seruice they were put now (whether to labour, or to serue in warre) they were now holy, because the Lord had sanctified them.

s As precious the one as the other, because they shal be sanctified.

t But all shall be pure, and cleane, and there shal neither be hypocrites, nor any that shall corrupt the true seruice of God.

MALACHI.

THE ARGVMENT.

THis Prophet was one of the three, which God raised vp for the comfort of his Church after the captiuitie, & after him there was no more vntil Iohn Baptist was sent, which was either a token of Gods wrath, or an admonition that they should with more feruent desires looke for the comming of Messiah. He confirmeth the same doctrine, that the two former do, but chiefly he reprooueth the Priests for their couetousnesse, and for that they serued God after their own fantasies, & not according to the prescripts of his word. He also noteth certaine peculiar sinnes, which were then among them, as marying of idolatrous and many wiues, murmurings against God, impatiencie, and such like. Notwithstanding, for the comfort of the godly, hee declareth that God would not forget his promise made vnto their fathers, but would send Christ his messenger, in whom the couenant should be accomplished, whose comming should be terrible to the wicked, and bring all consolation and ioy vnto the godly.

CHAP. 1.

A complaint against Israel and chiefly the Priests.

a Read Isa.13.1.

b Which declareth their great ingratitude that did not acknowledge this loue, which was so euident, in that he chose Abraham from out of all the world, & next chose Iaakob the yonger brother of whom they came, and left Esau the elder.

c For besides that the signes of mine hated appeared euen when hee was made seruant vnto his yonger brother, being yet in his mothers bellie, and also afterward in that hee was put from his birthright, yet euen now before your eies the figues hereof are euident, in that that his countrey lieth waste, and he shall neuer returne to inhabite it, whereas ye my people, whom the enemie hated more then them, are by my grace and loue toward you deliuered, read Rom.9.13.

THE burden a of the worde of the Lord to Israel by the ministerie of Malachi.

2 I haue loued you, saieth the Lord: yet ye say, b Wherein hast thou loued vs? Was not Esau Iaakobs brother, saith the Lord? yet I loued Iaakob,

3 And I c hated Esau, and made his mountains waste, and his heritage a wildernes for dragons.

4 Though Edom say, Weeare impouerished, but we will returne and build the desolate places, yet saieth the Lord of hostes, They shal build, but I wil destroy it, and they shal call them, The border of wickednes, and the people, with whom the Lord is angry for euer.

5 And your eyes shall see it, and ye shall say, The Lord will bee magnified vpon the border of Israel.

6 A sonne honoureth his father, and a seruant his master. If then I be a father, where is mine honour? and if I be a master, where is my feare, saith the Lord of hostes vnto you, d O Priests, that despise my Name? and yee say, e Wherein haue wee despised thy Name?

d Besides the rest of the people he condemneth the Priests chiefly, because they should haue reproued others for their hypocrisie, and obstinacie against God, and not haue hardened them by their example to greater euils.

e He noteth their grosse hypocrisie, which would not see their faults, but most impudently couered them, & so were blind guides.

7 Yee.

7 Yee offer vncleane bread vpon mine altar, and you say, Wherein haue we polluted thee? In that ye say the table of the Lord is not g to be regarded.

8 And if yee offer the blind for sacrifice, it is h not euil: and if yee offer the lame and sicke, it is not euil: offer it now vnto thy prince: will he bee content with thee, or accept thy person, saieth the Lord of hostes?

9 And nowe, I pray you, i pray before God, that he may haue mercy vpon vs: this hath bene by your meanes: will hee regard k your persons, saieth the Lord of hostes?

10 Who is there euen among you, that would shut the doores, and kindle not fire on mine altar in vaine? I haue no pleasure in you, saieth the Lord of hostes, neither will I accept an offering at your hand.

11 For from the rising of the sunne vnto the going downe of the same, my Name is m great among the Gentiles, and in euery place incense shalbe offred vnto my Name, and a pure offring: for my Name is great among the heathen, saieth the Lord of hostes.

12 But ye haue polluted it, in that ye say, The table of the Lord is n polluted and the fruit thereof, euen his meate is not to be regarded.

13 Ye said also, Behold, it is a o weatinesse, and ye haue snuffed at it, saith the Lord of hostes, and ye offred that which was torne, and the lame and the sicke: thus yee offred an offring: should I accept this of your hand, saith the Lord?

14 But cursed be the deceiuer, which hath in his flocke p a male, & voweth, and sacrificeth vnto the Lord a corrupt thing: for I am a great King, saieth the Lord of hostes, and my Name is terrible among the heathen.

g He sheweth what were the true conditions of the couenant made with the tribe of Leui, on Gods part, that he would giue them long life and felicitie, and on their part, that they should faithfully serue him according to his word.

h I prescribed Leui a certaine law to serue me.

i He serued me and set foorth my glory with all humilitie and submission.

k He sheweth that the Priest ought to haue knowledge to instruct other in the word of the Lord.

l He is as the treasure house of Gods word, and ought to giue to euery one according to their necessitie, and not to reserue it for himselfe.

m Shewing, that whosoeuer doeth not declare Gods will, is not his messenger, and Priest.

n The Prophet accuseth the ingratitude of the Iewes toward God and man: for seeing they were all borne of one father Abraham, and God had elected them to be his holy people, they ought neither to offend God nor their brethren.

o Whereby they had bound themselues to God to be an holy people.

p They haue ioyned themselues in mariage with them that are of another religion.

q That is, the Priests.

r Ye cause the people to lament, because that God doeth not regard their sacrifices, so that they seeme to sacrifice in vaine.

s This is another fault, whereof hee accuseth them, that is, that they brake the lawes of mariage.

t As the one halfe of thy selfe.

u Shee that was ioyned to thee by a solempne couenant, and by the inuocation of Gods name.

x Did not God make man and woman as one flesh and not many?

y By his power and vertue hee could haue made many women of one man.

z Such as should bee borne in lawfull and moderate mariage wherein is no excesse of lustes.

a Containe your selues within your boundes, and bee subiect in mirde, and bridle your affections.

b Not that hee doeth allowe diuorcement, but of the two faultes hee sheweth, which is the lesse.

c Hee thinketh it sufficient to keepe his wife still, albeit hee take others, and so as it were couereth his fault.

d Yee murmured against God, because hee heard not you as soone as yee called.

e In thinking that God fauoured the wicked, and hath no respect to them that serue him.

f Thus they blasphemed God in condemning his power and iustice, because hee iudged not according to their fantasies.

f Ye receiue all maner offrings for your owne griedines, and doe not examine whether they be according to my Law or no.

g Not that they said thus, but by their doings they declared no lesse.

h You make it no fault: whereby he condemneth them, that thinke it sufficient to serue God partly as he hath commanded, and partly after mans fantasie, & so come not to that purenesse of religion, which he requireth, and therefore in reproch he sheweth them that a mortal man would not be content to be so serued.

i Hee derideth the Priests who bare the people in hand, that they prayed for them, and sheweth that they were the occasion, that these euils came vpon the people.

k Will God consider your office and state, seeing you are so couetous, and wicked?

l Because the Leuites, who kept the doores, did not trie whether the sacrifices that came in, were according to the Lawe, God wisheth that they would rather shut the doores, than to receiue such as were not perfite.

m God sheweth that their ingratitude, and neglect of his true seruice shal be the cause of the calling of the Gentiles: and heere the Prophet that was vnder the Law framed his wordes to the capacitie of the people, and by the altar and sacrifice he meaneth the spirituall seruice of God, which should be vnder the Gospell, when an ende should bee made to all these legall ceremonies by Christes onely sacrifice.

n Both the Priestes and the people were infected with this error, that they passed not what they offred: for they thought that God was as well content with the leane as with the fatte: but in the meane season they shewed not that obedience to God, which he required, and so committed both impietie, and also shewed their contempt of God, and couetousnesse.

o The Priestes and people were both wearie with seruing God, and passed not what maner of sacrifice and seruice they gaue to God, for that which was least profitable, was thought good enough for the Lord.

p That is, hath habilitie to serue the Lord according to his word, and yet will serue him according to his couetous mind.

CHAP. II.

Threatnings against the Priests, beeing seducers of the people.

A Nd now, O ye a Priests, this commandement is for you.

2 If yee will not heare it, nor consider it in your heart, to giue glory b vnto my Name, saieth the Lord of hostes, I will euen send a curse vpon you, and will curse your c blessings: yea, I haue cursed them alreadie, because ye do not consider it in your heart.

3 Behold, I will corrupt d your seed, and cast dongue vpon your faces, euen the e dongue of your solemne feasts, and you shal be like vnto it.

4 And yee shall know, that I haue f sent this commandement vnto you, that my couenant, which I made with Leui, might stand, saieth the a He speaketh vnto them chiefly, but vnder them he conteineth the people also.

b To serue me according to my word.

c That is, the abundance of Gods benefites.

d Your seede sowen shall come to no profite.

e You boast of your holinesse, sacrifices and feasts, but they shal turne to your shame, and be as vile as dongue.

f The Priests obiected against the Prophet that he could not reproue them, but he must speake against the Priesthood, and the office established of God by promise, but hee sheweth, that the office is nothing slandered when these villaines and dongue are called by their owne names.

Lord of hostes.

5 My g couenant was with him of life and peace, and I h gaue him feare, and hee feared mee, and was afraid before i my Name.

6 The law of k trueth was in his mouth, and there was no iniquitie found in his lips: hee walked with me in peace and equitie, and did turne many away from iniquitie.

7 For the Priests l lips should preserue knowledge, & they should seeke the Law at his mouth: for he is the m messenger of the Lord of hostes.

8 But yee are gone out of the way: yee haue caused many to fall by the Law: ye haue broken the couenant of Leui, saith the Lord of hostes.

9 Therefore haue I also made you to bee despised, and vile before all the people, because yee keepe not my wayes, but haue bene partiall in the Lawe.

10 Haue we not all one n father? hath not one God made vs? why doe we transgresse euery one against his brother, and breake the couenant of o our fathers?

11 Iudah hath transgressed, and an abomination is committed in Israel and in Ierusalem: for Iudah hath defiled the holinesse of the Lorde, which he loued, and hath maried the p daughter of a strange god.

12 The Lorde will cut off the man that doeth this: both the master and the seruant out of the Tabernacle of Iaakob, and him that q offereth an offering vnto the Lord of hostes.

13 And this haue ye done againe, and r couered the altar of the Lorde with teares, with weeping and with mourning: because the offering is no more regarded, neither receiued acceptably at your hands.

14 Yet ye say, s Wherein? Because the Lorde hath bene witnesse betweene thee and the wife of thy youth, against whom thou hast transgressed: yet is shee thy t companion, and the wife of thy u couenant.

15 And did not x he make one? yet had hee y abundance of spirit: and wherefore one? because he sought a godly z seede: therefore keepe your selues in your a spirite, & let no bee trespasse against the wife of his youth.

16 If thou hatest her, b put her away, saieth the Lord God of Israel, yet he couereth c the iniurie vnder his garment, saith the Lord of hostes: therefore keepe your selues in your spirite, and transgresse not.

17 Yee haue d wearied the Lorde with your wordes: yet ye say, Wherein haue wee wearied him? When ye say, Euery one that e doeth euill, is good in the sight of the Lord, and he deliteth in them. Or where is the God of f iudgement?

CHAP. III.

1 Of the Forerunner of the Lord, Iohn Baptist, and of Christes office.

BEhold, I will send my a messenger, and he shal prepare the way before me: and b the Lorde whom ye seeke, shall speedily come to his Temple: euen the c messenger of the couenant whō ye desire: behold, he shal come, saith the Lord of hostes.

2 But who d may abide the day of his comming? and who shall endure, when he appeareth? for he is like a purging fire, and like Fullers sope.

3 And he shall sit downe to trie and fine the siluer: he shall euen fine the sonnes of e Leui and purifie them as golde and siluer, that they may bring offrings vnto the Lord in righteousnesse.

4 Then shall the offerings of Iudah and Ierusalem be acceptable vnto the Lord, as in old time and in the yeeres afore.

5 And I wil come neere to you to iudgement, and I will bee a swift witnesse against the southsayers, and against the adulterers, and against false swearers, and against those that wrongfully keepe backe the hirelings wages, and vexe the widowe, and the fatherlesse, and oppresse the stranger, and feare not me, saith the Lord of hostes.

6 For I am the Lord: I change not, and yee sonnes of Iaakob f are not consumed.

7 From the dayes of your fathers, ye are gone away from mine ordinances, and haue not kept them: g returne vnto me, and I will returne vnto you, saith the Lord of hostes: but ye said, Where. in shall we returne?

8 Will a h man spoile his gods? yet haue yee spoyled me: but ye say, Wherein haue wee spoyled thee? In i tithes, and offerings.

9 Ye are cursed with a curse: for ye haue spoiled me, euen this whole nation.

10 Bring ye all the tythes into the storehouse that there may be meate in mine house, & proue me nowe herewith, saith the Lorde of hostes, if I will not open the windowes of heauen vnto you, and powre you out a blessing k without measure.

11 And I will rebuke the l deuourer for your sakes, and hee shall not destroy the fruite of your grounde, neither shall your vine be barren in the field, saith the Lord of hostes.

12 And al nations shal cal you blessed: for yee shalbe a pleasant land, saith the Lord of hostes.

13 Your words haue bene stout m against me, saith the Lord: yet ye say, What haue we spoken against thee?

14 Ye haue said, It is in vaine to serue God: and what profite is it that we haue kept his commandement, and that we walked humbly before the Lord of hostes?

15 Therefore we count the proude blessed: euen they that worke wickednesse, are set vp, and they that tempt God, yea they are n deliuered.

16 o Then spake they that feared the Lorde, euery one to his neighbour, and the Lorde hearkened & heard it, and p a booke of remembrance was written before him for them that feared the Lord, and that thought vpon his Name.

17 And they shalbe to me, sayeth the Lord of hostes, in that day q that I shal do this, for a flock, and I wil q spare them, as a man spareth his owne sonne that serueth him.

18 Then shall you returne, and discerne betweene the righteous and wicked, betweene him that serueth God, and him that serueth him not.

a This is meant of Iohn Baptist, as Christ expounded it, Luke 7.27.
b Meaning Messiah, as Psal. 45. 2. Dan. 9. 17, 25.
c That is, Christ by whome the couenant was made and ratified, who is called the Angel or messenger of the couenant because he reconcileth vs vnto his Father: & is Lorde or king, because he hath the gouernmēt of his Church.
d Hee sheweth that the hypocrites which wish so much for the Lords comming will not abide when he draweth neere: for he will consume them, and purge his and make them cleane.
e He beginneth at the Priests that they might bee lightes and shine vnto others.
f They murmured against God because they saw not his helpe euer present to defende them: and therefore he accuseth them of ingratitude, and sheweth that in that they are not daily consumed, it is a token, that he doth still defend them: and so his mercie toward them neuer changeth.
g Reade Zech 1.3
h There are none of the heathen so barbarous, that wil defraude their gods of their honour, or deale deceitfully with them.
i Whereby the seruice of God should haue bene maintained, and the Priestes and the poore relieued.
k Not having respect how much ye need, but I wil giue you in all abundance: so that yee shall lacke place to put my blessings in.
l Meaning, the caterpiller, and whatsoeuer destroyeth corne and fruits.
m The prophet condemneth them of double blasphemie against God: first in that they said that God had no respect to them that serued him, and next that the wicked were more in his fauour then the godly.
n They are not onely preserued to honour, but also deliuered from dangers.
o After these admonitions of the Prophet some were lively touched, and incouraged others to feare God.
p Both because the thing was strange that some turned to God in that great and vniuersall corruption, and also that this might be an example of Gods mercies to all penitent sinners.
q When I shall restore my Church according to my promise, they shalbe as mine owne proper goodes.
r That is, forgiue their sinnes, and gouerne them wth my Spirite.

CHAP IIII.

The day of the Lord, before the which Eliah should come.

FOr behold, the day commeth that shal a burne as an ouen, and all the proude, yea, and al that doe wickedly, shall be stubble, and the day that commeth, shall burne them vp, saith the Lord of hostes, and shall leaue them neither roote nor branche.

2 But vnto you that feare my Name, shall the b sunne of righteousnesse arise, and health shalbe vnder his wings, and ye shall c goe forth, & grow vp as fat calues.

3 And ye shall treade downe the wicked: for they shall bee dust vnder the soles of your feete in the day that I shall doe this, saith the Lorde of hostes.

4 d Remember the lawe of Moses my seruant, which I commanded vnto him in e Horeb for all Israel with the statutes and iudgements.

5 Beholde, I will sende you e Eliiah the Prophet before the comming of the great and f feareful day of the Lord.

6 And he shal g turne the heart of the fathers to the children, and the heart of the children to the fathers, least I come h and smite the earth with cursing.

a He propheseth of Gods iudgements against the wicked, who would not receiue Christ, when as God should send him for the restauration of his Church.
b Meaning Christ, who with his wings or beames of his grace should lighten and comfort his Church, Ephes. 5. 14. and he is called the sunne of righteousnesse because in himselfe he hath all perfection, and also the iustice of the Father dwelleth in him: whereby hee regenereteth vs into righteousnesse, cleanseth vs from the filth of this world, and reformeth vs to the APOCRYPHA.

THE ARGVMENT.

THese bookes that follow in order after the Prophets vnto the New Testament, are called Apocrypha, that is, bookes, which were not receiued by a common consent to be read & expounded publikely in the Church, neither yet serued to proue any point of Christian religion, saue in asmuch as they had the cõsent of the other Scriptures called Canonicall to confirme the same, or rather whereon they were grounded: but as bookes proceeding from godly men, were receiued to be read for the aduancement and furtherance of the knowledge of the historie, & for the instruction of godly maners: which bookes declare that at all times God had an especial care of his Church, and left them not vtterly destitute of teachers and meanes to confirme them in the hope of the promised Messiah, and also witnesse that those calamities that God sent to his Church, were according to his prouidence, who had both so threatened by his Prophets, and so brought it to passe for the destruction of their enemies, and for the tridll of his children.

I. ESDRAS.

CHAP. I.

1 Iosias appointeth Priests, and keepeth the Passeouer. 7 Offrings for the Priests and the people. 21 The order of the Leuites. 23 The vpright life of Iosias. 25 His death and the occasion thereof, and the lamentation for him. 33 Ioachaz appointed King. 53 The destruction of Ierusalem.

ANd Iosias kept the *Passeouer to his Lord in Ierusalem, and offered the Passeouer in the foureteenth day of the first moneth,

* 2. King. 23. 21. 2. chro. 35. 1.

2 And appointed ỹ Priests according to their daily courses, being clothed with long garments in the Temple of the Lord.

3 And he spake to the Leuites the holy Ministers of Israel, that they should sanctifie themselues to the Lord, to set the holy Arke of the Lord in the House, which Salomon the sonne of King Dauid had built,

4 And sayde, Ye shall no more beare the Arke vpon your shoulders: now therfore serue the Lord your God, & take ỹ charge of his people of Israel, & prepare according to your families & tribes,

5 After the writing of Dauid King of Israel, & according to the Maiestie of Salomon his sonne, and stand in the Temple (according to the order of the dignitie of your fathers the Leuites) which were appointed before your brethren the children of Israel.

6 Offer in order the Passeouer, and make readie the sacrifices for your brethren, and keepe the Passeouer after the Lordes commandement giuen to Moyses.

7 And Iosias gaue to the people that was present, thirtie thousand lambes and kids with three thousand calues.

8 These were giue of the kings possessions according to the promes, to the people, and to the Priests, and to the Leuites. Then gaue Helkias and Zacharias & ‖ Syelus the gouernours of the Temple, to the Priests for the Passeouer two thousand fiue hundreth shee, e, and three hundreth calues,

‖ Or, Iehiel.

9 Furthermore, Iechonias, & Samaias, & Nathanael his brother, and ‖ Sabias and ‖ Chielus, and ‖ Ioră captaines gaue to the Leuites for the Passeouer fiue thousande sheepe, and seuen hundreth calues.

‖ Or, Hasabias. ‖ Or, Iehiel. ‖ Or Zhorabia.

10 And when these things were done, ỹ Priests and the Leuites stood in order, hauing vnleauened bread according to the tribes, 11 And after the order of the dignitie of their fathers, before the people to offer to the Lord, as it is written in the bookes of Moyses: and thus they did in the morning.

12 And they rosted the Passeouer with fire as * apperteined, and they solde their offrings with perfumes in caldrons and pots,

* Exodus 12.

13 And set it before all them that were of the people, and afterwarde they prepared for themselues, & for the Priests their brethren the sonnes of Aaron, 14 For the Priests offered the fat vnto the euening, and the Leuites did make ready for themselues, & for the Priests their brethren the sonnes of Aaron.

15 And the holy singers, the sonnes of Asaph, were in their orders, according to the appointed ordinances of Dauid, to wit, Aseph, & Zacharias, & ‖ Eddinus, which was of the kings appointment.

‖ Or, Iedithun.

16 And

16 And the porters were at euery gate, so that it was not lawfull, that any ſhould paſſe his ordinary watch: for their brethren the Leuites made readie for them.

17 And in that day thoſe things which appertained to the ſacrifice of the Lord, were accompliſhed, that they might offer the Paſſeouer, 18 And offer ſacrifices vpon the altar of the Lord, according to the commandement of King Ioſias.

19 So the children of Iſrael, which were preſent at that time, kept the Paſſeouer and the feaſt of vnleauened bread ſeuen dayes.

20 And there was not ſuch a Paſſeouer kept in Iſrael ſince the time of Samuel the Prophet, 21 And all the Kings of Iſrael did not offer ſuch a Paſſeouer as did Ioſias, and the Prieſts, and the Leuites, and the Iewes, and all Iſrael, which were found to remaine in Ieruſalem.

22 In the eighteenth yere of the reigne of Ioſias was this Paſſeouer kept.

23 The works of Ioſias were vpright before his Lord with a heart full of godlineſſe.

24 And concerning the things which came to paſſe in his time, they are written before, to wit, of thoſe that ſinned and did wickedly againſt the Lord, aboue euery nation & kingdome, and grieued him with ‖ ſenſible things, ſo that the words of the Lord ſtood vp againſt Iſrael.

‖ Or, by worſhipping ſenſible creatures.

25 ¶ * Now after all theſe acts of Ioſias, it came to paſſe that when Pharao King of Egypt came to moue warre at Carchamis vpon Euphrates, Ioſias went out againſt him.

* 2.Chro.35.20.

26 But the King of Egypt ſent to him, ſaying, What haue I to do with thee, O King of Iudea?

27 I am not ſent of ỹ Lord God againſt thee: but my war is vpon Euphrates, & now the Lord is with me, and the Lord haſteneth me forward: depart from me, and be not againſt the Lord.

28 But Ioſias would not turne backe his chariot from him, but prepared himſelfe to fight with him, not regarding the words of Ieremias the Prophet by the mouth of the Lord.

29 But he ſet himſelfe in battell aray againſt him in the field of Megeddo, and the Princes came downe to King Ioſias.

30 And the King ſayd to his ſeruants, Conuey me out of the battell, for I am very weake. And by & by his ſeruants brought him out of ỹ battel.

31 So he gat vp on his ſecond chariot, and being come againe to Ieruſalem he changed his life, and was buried in his fathers graue.

32 And in all Iudea was Ioſias bewayled, yea, Ieremias the Prophet did lament for Ioſias, and the gouernours and their wiues did lament him vnto this day: and this was ordeined in all the kinred of Iſrael, to be done continually.

33 But theſe things are written in the booke of the ſtories of the Kings of Iudea, and euery one of the acts that Ioſias did, and his glory, and his knowledge in the Law of the Lord, & the things which he did before, and the things now rehearſed are regiſtred in the booke of the Kings of Iſrael and Iudea.

34 Then they of the nation tooke * Ioachaz the ſonne of Ioſias, and made him King in ſtead of his father Ioſias, when he was three and twenty yere olde.

* 2.King.23.30. 2.Chro.36.1.

35 And he reigned in Iudea and in Ieruſalem three moneths: for the King of Egypt depoſed him from reigning in Ieruſalem.

36 He taxed alſo the people of an hundred talents of ſiluer, and one talent of golde.

37 And the king of Egypt made Ioacim his brother King of Iudea and Ieruſalem.

38 And he bound Ioachaz and his gouernors: but when he had taken Zaraces his brother, he led him away into Egypt.

39 Twentie and fiue yeere olde was Ioacim, when he reigned in Iudea and Ieruſalem, and he did euill in the ſight of the Lord.

40 Wherfore againſt him came vp Nabuchodonoſor King of Babylon, who when hee had bound him with a chaine of braſſe, lead him away into Babylon.

41 Then Nabuchodonoſor tooke of the holy veſſels of the Lord, and caried them away, and ſet them in his Temple at Babylon.

42 But all his acts, and his prophanation, and his reproch are written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings.

43 And Ioacim his ſonne reigned for him: and when hee was made King, hee was eighteene yere olde.

44 And he reigned three moneths and tenne dayes in Ieruſalem, and he did euill in the ſight of the Lord.

45 ¶ So a yeere after Nabuchodonoſor ſent and brought him to Babylon with the holy veſſels of the Lord.

46 And hee made Sedecias king of Iudea and Ieruſalem, when hee was one and twentie yeere olde, and he reigned eleuen yeres.

47 And he did euill in the ſight of the Lord, neither did he feare the words ſpoken * by Ieremias the Prophet from the mouth of the Lord.

* Iere.38.21

48 For after that he was ſworne to King Nabuchodonoſor, he forſware himſelfe by the Name of the Lord and fell away, and hardned his necke and his heart, and tranſgreſſed the lawes of the Lord God of Iſrael.

49 Alſo the gouernours of the people, and the Prieſts committed many things againſt the Lawes and paſſed all the pollutions of all nations, and polluted the Temple of the Lord, which was ſanctified in Ieruſalem.

50 Neuertheleſſe the God of their fathers ſent his meſſengers to call them backe, becauſe he ſpared them and his owne Tabernacle.

51 But they derided his meſſengers, and in the day, that the Lord ſpake vnto them, they mocked his Prophets, 52 So that he, being mooued to anger againſt his people for their great wickedneſſe, commanded the Kings of the Caldeans to inuade them.

53 Theſe killed their yong men with ỹ ſword round about their holy Temple, neither did they ſpare yong man, nor mayden, neither olde man, nor childe among them.

54 But he deliuered them all into their hands, and all the holy veſſels of the Lord, both great and ſmall with the veſſels of the Arke of God: and they tooke, and caried away the Kings treaſures into Babylon.

55 And they ſet fire in the Houſe of the Lord, and brake downe the walles of Ieruſalem, and burnt their towres with fire.

56 They cõſumed alſo all the precious things thereof, thereof, and brought them to Babylon, and those were they that the first time were sent againe by that worde he had carried away into Babylon.

57 And they were seruantes to him, and to his children till the Persians reigned, to fulfil the word of the Lord by the mouth of Ieremias, 58 And that the lande might enioy her Sabbaths all the time, that it was desolate, till fourtie yeeres were accomplished.

CHAP. II.

1 Cyrus gaue leaue to the Iewes to returne. 10 He sent also holy vessels. 13 The names of them that returned. 16 Their aduersaries write letters against their building, and the Kings letters for the same.

NOw * the first yeere of the reigne of Cyrus king of the Persians, to fulfill the word of the Lorde by the mouth of Ieremias,

2.Chro.36.22. Ezra.1.1.

5 The Lord raised vp the spirit of Cyrus king of the Persians, and he made proclamation throughout all his kingdome, euen by expresse letters,

3 Saying, Thus sayth Cyrus king of the Persians, The Lord of Israel, euen the most high Lorde, hath made me king ouer the whole world,

4 And he hath commanded me to build him an house in Ierusalem, which is in Iudea.

5 If there bee any therefore of you of his people, let the Lorde, euen his Lord be with him, and let him goe vp to Ierusalem, which is in Iudea, and builde the house of the Lorde of Israel: hee is the Lord which dwelleth in Ierusalem.

6 All they then that dwell in the places rounde about, those, I say, that are in his place, let them helpe him with gold and siluer,

7 With giftes, with horses and cattell, and other things, which shall be brought according to the vowes into the Temple of the Lord, which is in Ierusalem.

8 ¶ Then arose the chiefe of the families of Iudea, and of the tribe of Beniamin, and the Priestes and Leuites, and all whose minde the Lorde had moued to go vp, and build an house to the Lorde in Ierusalem.

9 And those that were about them, helped them in all things with siluer and gold, horses, and cattel, and with diuers vowes of many whose mindes were stirred vp.

10 Also king Cyrus brought out the holy vessels of the Lord, which Nabuchodonosor had caried out of Ierusalem, and had consecrated them in the Temple of his idoles.

11 Nowe when Cyrus king of the Persians had brought them out, he deliuered them to Mithridates his treasurer, 12 By whome they were giuen to ‖ Abatar the gouernour of Iudea.

‖ Or, Sassabazar, or, Sanabassar.

13 Whereof this was the number: a thousande golden cups, & a thousand siluer cups, basins of siluer for the sacrifices nine and twentie, viols of gold thirtie, and of siluer two thousand, foure hundreth and ten, and a thousand other vessels.

14 So all the vessels of golde and siluer, which they caryed away, were fiue thousande, foure hundreth, threescore and nine.

15 They were brought by Sanabassar with the of the captiuitie of Babylon to Ierusalem.

16 ¶ But * in the time of Artaxerxes king of the Persians ‖ Belemus, and Mithridates, and Tabellius, and Rathumus, and Beeltethmus, and ‖ Semellius the secretarie, and others which were ioyned to these, dwelling in Samaria and in other places, wrote vnto them, that dwelt in Iudea & Ierusalem, the CHAPTER III.

17 The letter. 17 Rathumus the writer of things that come to passe, and Semellius the secretary, and the rest of their counsell, and the iudges which are in Coelosyria and Phenice, 18 Be it now therefore knowen to our Lord the King, that the Iewes which came vp from you, are come to vs into Ierusalem, that rebellious & wicked citie, and build the market places, and make vp the walles thereof, and lay the foundations of the Temple.

19 Therfore if this citie be built, and the walles bee finished, they will not onely not indure to pay tribute, but will also resist kings.

20 And because the things pertaining to ‖ Temple, goe forward, we thought it not meete to passe ouer such a thing, 21 But to declare it to our Lord the King, that if it be thy pleasure, it may bee sought out in the bookes of thy fathers.

22 And thou shalt finde in the Chronicles the writings concerning these things, and shalt knowe that this citie did alwayes rebell, and did trouble both kings and cities, 23 And that the Iewes are rebellious, raising alwayes warres therein: for the which cause also this citie was made desolate.

24 Now therefore, O lord the King, we declare it, that if this citie bee built and the walles thereof repaired, you shall haue no more passage into Coelosyria, nor Phenice.

25 ¶ Then the king wrote againe to Rathumus, that wrote the things that came to passe, & to Beeltethmus, & to Semellius the secretarie, and to the rest of those that were ioyned with them, and to the dwellers of Samaria, Sydonia and Phenice, these things that follow.

26 I haue read the Epistle, which you sent to me: therefore I cómanded, that it should be sought out, and it was founde, that this citie hath alwayes practised against Kings, 27 And that the men thereof were giuen to rebellion and warres, and howe that mighty kings and fierce haue reigned in Ierusalem, which tooke tribute of Coelosyria and Phenice.

28 Now therefore I haue commanded to forbid these men to build vp the citie and that is be taken heede that no more be done, 29 And that those wicked things, which should molest the king, go not forward.

30 Then when Rathumus and Semellius the secretarie and the rest, which were ioyned with them, had read the things, which king Artaxerxes had written, they mounted their tents with speede to Ierusalem with horses and men in array, 31 And began to let them which built, so that the building of the Temple in Ierusalem ceased vnto the second yeere of the reigne of Darius king of the Persians.

CHAP. III.

1 The feast of Darius. 18 The three wise Footmen.

NOwe when Darius reigned, hee made a great feast to all his subiectes and to all those of his owne house, and to all the Princes of Media and Persia,

2 And to all the gouernours and captaines, and lieutenantes that were with him, from India vnto

Ethiopia of an hundred and seuen and twentie prouinces.

3 And when they had eaten and drunke, and were satisfied, they departed, and King Darius went into his chamber, and slept, till he wakened againe.

4 ¶ In the meane time three yong men of the gard, keepers of ỹ kings body, said one to another,

5 Let euery one of vs speake a sentence, and he that shall ouercome, and whose sentence shall appeare wiser then the others, Darius the King shall giue him great gifts, and great things in token of victorie.

6 As to weare purple, & to drinke in gold, & to sleepe in gold, and a chariot with bridles of gold, an head tyre of fine linnen, & a chayne about his neck.

7 And hee shall sit next to Darius for his wisedome, and shalbe called Darius cousin.

8 Then euery man wrote his sentence and sealed it, and put it vnder the pillowe of king Darius,

9 And said, when the king rose, they would giue him the writing, and whose sentence the king, and the three Princes of Persia should iudge to bee wisest, to him shoulde the victorie bee giuen as it was appoynted.

10 One wrote, The wine is strongest.

11 The other wrote, The king is strongest.

12 The other wrote, Women are strongest, but trueth ouercometh all things.

13 ¶ And when the king rose, they tooke the writings and gaue them to him, and he read them,

14 And sent and called all the noble men of Persia and of Media, and the gouernours & the captaines, and lieutenants, and the counsils, 15 And sate him downe in the counsell, and the writing was read before them.

16 Then he sayde, Call the yong men, that they may declare their owne sentences. So they called them, and they came in.

17 Then he sayde vnto them, Declare vnto vs the writings. So the first began, which had spoken of the strength of wine, 18 And said on this maner, O yee men, howe strong is wine! it deceiueth all men that drinke it.

19 It maketh the minde of the king and of the fatherlesse both one, of the bonde man and of the free man, of the poore man, and of the rich man.

20 It turneth also euery thought into ioye and gladnesse, so that one remembreth no maner of sorowe, nor det.

21 It maketh euery heart rich, so that one remembreth not king nor gouernour, and causeth to speake all things by ||talents.

[|| Or pounds.]

22 When men haue drunke, they haue no mind to loue either friendes or brethren, and a little after they drawe out swords.

23 But when they are from the wine, they doe not remember what they haue done.

24 O ye men, is not wine strongest, which compelleth to doe such things? and he held his peace when he had thus spoken.

CHAP. IIII.

Of the strength of a King. 13 Of the strength of women. 34 Of the strength of trueth, which sentence is approoued, 47 And his petition granted.

THen the seconde which had spoken of the strength of the king, began to say,

2 O ye men, are not men strongest, which beare rule by lande and by sea, and ouer all things which are in them?

3 But the king is yet greater: for he ruleth all things, & is lord of them, so that they do all things which he commandeth them.

4 If he bid them make warre one against an other, they doe it: if hee send them out against the enemies, they goe and breake downe mountaines and walles and towers.

5 They kill & are killed, & do not passe the commandement of ỹ king: if they ouercome, they bring all to the king, as well the spoyles as al other things,

6 And those also which go not to warre & battell, but till the earth: for when they haue sowen it againe, they reape it, and bring it to the king, and compell one another to pay tribute to the king.

7 Yet he is but one man: if he bid, Kill, they kill: if he say, Spare, they spare.

8 If he bid, Smite, they smite: if hee bid them, Make desolate, they make desolate: if he bid, Build, they build.

9 If he bid, Cut off, they cut off: if he bid, Plant, they plant.

10 So all his people and all his armies obey one man: in the meane while hee sitteth downe, he eateth, and drinketh, and sleepeth.

11 For these keepe him rounde about: neither can any one go and do his owne businesse, neyther are they disobedient vnto him.

12 O yee men, how should not the king bee strongest, seeing he is thus obeyed! So he held his tongue.

13 ¶ Then the third which had spoken of women and of the trueth (this was Zorobabel) began to speake, 14 O ye men, neither the mightie king, nor many men, nor wine is strongest; who then ruleth them or hath dominion ouer them? are they not women?

15 Women haue borne the king & all the people which beare rule by sea and by land, 16 Euen of them were they borne, and they nourished them, which planted the vines, of which the wine is made.

17 They also make mens garments & make men honorable, neither can men be without women.

18 And if they haue gathered together golde and siluer, or any goodly thing, doe they not loue a faire and beautifull woman?

19 Doe they not leaue all those things and giue themselues wholy vnto her, and gape and gaze vpon her, and all men desire her more then golde, or siluer, or any precious thing?

20 A man leaueth his owne father which hath nourished him, and his owne country, and is ioyned with his wife.

21 And for ỹ woman he iopardeth his life, and neither remembreth father nor mother nor countrey.

22 Therfore by this ye may know that the women beare rule ouer you: do ye not labour and trauell, and giue and bring all to the women?

23 Yea, a man taketh his sword and goeth forth to kill and to steale, and to saile vpon the sea, and vpon riuers, 24 And hee seeth a Lion, and goeth in darkenesse, and when he hath stollen, rauished and spoyled, he bringeth it to his loue.

25 Wherefore a man loueth his owne wife more then father or mother.

26 Yea many haue runne mad for women, and haue bene seruants for them.

27 Many

27 Man calleth his parents, and leaueth father and mother, and cleaueth vnto his wife:
28 Now therefore doe you not beleeue that women are your strength, that you haue dominion ouer all things?
29 Yet I saw him and Apame the Kings concubine, the daughter of the famous Bartacus, sitting on the right hand of the King, 30 And shee tooke the crowne off the Kings head, and put it vpon her owne, and strooke the King with her left hand.
31 Yet in the meane season the King gaped and gazed on her: & if shee laughed at him, he laughed: and if shee were angry with him, hee did flatter her that he might be reconciled with her.
32 Howe then, O ye men, are not women mightie, seeing they do thus?
33 ¶ Then the King, & the Princes looked one vpon another, & hee began to speake of the truth.
34 O ye men, are not women strong? great is the earth, & the heauen is hie, and the sunne swift in his course: for he turneth round about heauen in one day, and runneth againe into his owne place.
35 Is not hee great that maketh these things? therefore the trueth is greater & stronger then all.
36 All the earth calleth for trueth, and the heauen blesseth it: and all things are shaken and tremble, neither is there any vniust thing with it.
37 The wine is wicked, the King is wicked, women are wicked, and all the children of men are wicked, and all their wicked workes are such, and there is no trueth in them, and they perish in their iniquitie.
38 But trueth doeth abide, & is strong for euer, and liueth and reigneth for euer and euer.
39 With her there is no receiuing of persons nor difference: but she doeth the things which are iust, and abstaineth from vniust and wicked things, and so doe all men: and her workes
40 Neyther is there any vniust thing in her iudgement, and shee is the strength and the King dome and the power and maiestie of all ages. Blessed be the God of trueth.
41 So hee ceassed to speake, and then all the people cryed and said, Trueth is great & strongest.
42 Then the King sayde vnto him, Aske what thou wilt besides that which is appointed, and we will giue it thee, because thou art found the wisest, and thou shalt haue libertie so of by me, and shalt be called my cousin.
43 ¶ Then hee said to the King, remember the vow that thou hast vowed to builde Ierusalem in the day that thou tookest the kingdome, 44 And to send againe all the vessels that were taken out of Ierusalem, which Cyrus set a part when he made a vowe to cut off Babylon & vowed to send them hither.
45 Thou also hast vowed to build the Temple, which the Idumeans burnt when Iudea was destroyed by the Caldeans.
46 And now, O Lord the King, this is that I desire and require of thee, and this is the magnificence which is of thine: I require therefore of thee that thou wouldest accomplish the vowe which thou hast vowed with thine owne mouth to God the King of heauen.
47 Then King Darius rising vp, kissed him, and wrote him letters to all the treasurers & lieutenants, & captaines, & gouernours, that they should conduct him forward, and all those that went with him, which went vp to build Ierusalem.
48 And he wrote letters to all the lieutenants in Cœlosyria & Phœnice, & to them in Libanus, that they should bring cedar wood from Libanus to Ierusalem, and build the citie with him.
49 And he wrote for all the Iewes that went vp out of his kingdome into Iudea, concerning their libertie, that no Prince, nor lieutenant, nor gouernour, nor treasurer, nor counsellers, should enter into the gates
50 And that all the region which they held should be free vnto them, and that the Idumeans should leaue the villages of the Iewes which they held,
51 And that euery yeere there should be giuen for the building of the Temple twentie talents vntill the time that it were built,
52 And to maintaine the burnt offerings vpon the altar euery day (as they had a commandement) offer fourtie talents euery yeere,
53 And that all they which went from Babylon to build the citie, should haue libertie, as well they & their posteritie, and all the Priestes that went away.
54 He wrote also touching the charges and the Priestes garments, wherein they should minister.
55 And he wrote that they should giue the Leuites their charges vntill the house were finished, and Ierusalem buylt.
56 Also he wrote that they should giue pensions and wages vnto them that kept the citie.
57 And he sent away all the vessels which Cyrus had commanded to be set apart out of Babylon, & whatsoeuer Cyrus had commanded to do, he also commanded to do it, and to send to Ierusalem.
58 And when the ‖ yong man was gone forth, he lift vp his face to heauen towards Ierusalem, and gaue thanks to the King of heauen, 59 Saying, Of thee is the victorie, and of thee is wisedome, & of thee is glorie, and I am thy seruant, 60 Blessed be thou which hast giuen mee wisedome: I acknowledge it, O Lorde of our fathers.
61 ¶ So he tooke the letters and went out and came to Babylon, and told all his brethren.
62 And they blessed the God of their fathers, because he had giuen them freedome and libertie,
63 To goe vp and to builde Ierusalem, and the Temple, where his Name is renoumed, and they reioyced with instruments of musicke and ioy, seuen

35 All the ministers of the Temple, and the sonnes of the seruants of Salomon, were three hundreth, seuentie and two.

36 These came vp from ‖ Thermeleth and Thelarsas: Caraathalat and Aalar leading them.

37 Neither could they shewe their families nor their stocke how they were of Israel, the sonnes of ‖Ladan the sonne of ‖ Ban, the sonnes of ‖ Necodan, sixe hundreth fiftie and two.

38 And of the Priests those which exercised the office of Priestes, and were not founde, the sonnes of ‖Obdia, the sonnes of ‖ Accos, the sonnes of Addus, which had taken for wife Augia, one of the daughters of Berzelli, &c.

39 And was called after his name: and when the description of the kinred of these men had bene sought in the register, and could not be found, they were set apart from the office of Priests

40 For ‖ Neemias and Attharias sayde to them, that they should not bee partakers of the holy things, till there arose an high Priest clothed with doctrine and trueth.

41 So all they of Israel from them of twelue yere old and the children, were fourtie thousand besides men seruantes and women seruants, two thousand, three hundreth and sixtie.

42 Their seruantes and handmaides were seuen thousand, three hundreth, fourty & seuen: the singing men and women, two hundreth, fourty & fiue.

44 And the ſeuerall of the gouernours after their families, with their wiues, children, and daughters, and all their ſeruants, were two hundreth, ſeuentie and ſeuen.

45 And to giue to the treaſure of the works, ‖a thouſand pound in gold, and fiue thouſand pound in ſiluer, and an hundreth prieſtly garments.

46 And the Prieſtes and the Leuites and the people dwelt in Ieruſalem and in the countrey, and the holy ſingers and the porters and all Iſrael in their ‖villages.

47 ¶ But * when the ſeuenth moneth was neere, and when the children of Iſrael were euery one at home, they were al gathered together with one accorde into the open place of the firſt gate, which is toward the Eaſt.

48 Then Ieſus the ſonne of Ioſedec and his brethren the Prieſtes, with Zorobabel the ſonne of Salathiel and his brethren, riſing vp, made ready the altar of the God of Iſrael, 49 To offer burnt offerings vpon it according as it is written in the booke of Moyſes the man of God.

50 Whither alſo there were gathered againſt them of all nations of the lande: but they defſed the altar in his owne place, although al the nations of the lande were their enemies and vexed them, and they offered ſacrifices according to the ſeaſon, and burnt offeringes to the Lorde, morning and euening.

51 They kept alſo the feaſt of Tabernacles, as it is * ordeined in the Lawe, and offered ſacrifices euery day, as was requiſite, 52 And afterward, the continuall oblations and offerings of the Sabbaths and of the new moneths and of all holy feaſts.

53 ¶ And al * they which had made any vow to God, began to offer ſacrifice vnto God in the firſt day of the ſeuenth moneth, although the Temple of God was not yet built.

54 They gaue alſo money to the maſons and to the workemen, and meat and drinke with gladnes, 55 And charets to the Sidonians and to thoſe of Tyrus to bring cedar wood out of Libanus, which ſhould be brought by flotes to the hauen of Ioppe according to the commandement giuen vnto them by Cyrus king of Perſia.

56 And in the ſecond yere and ſecond moneth came into the Temple of God in Ieruſalem, Zorobabel the ſonne of Salathiel, and Ieſus the ſonne of Ioſedec, and their brethren, and the Prieſtes and Leuites, and all they that came out of captiuitie into Ieruſalem, 57 And * layde the foundation of the houſe of God in the firſt day of the ſeconde moneth of the ſecond yeere after their returne into Iudea and Ieruſalem.

58 And they appointed the Leuites from twentie yere olde ouer the works of the Lord, and Ieſus and his ſonne, and his brethren, & his brother Cadmiel, & the ſonnes of Madiabon with the ſonnes of Ioda, the ſonne of Heliadun, with their ſonnes and brethren, euen all the Leuites with one accorde did followe after the worke, calling vpon the workes in the houſe of God: thus the workemen built the Temple of the Lord.

59 And the Prieſtes ſtoode arayed with their long garments with muſical inſtruments and ſtrength, and the Leuites, the ſonnes of Aſaph with cymbals, 60 Singing and bleſſing the Lord, according to the ordinance of Dauid king of Iſrael.

61 And they ſung with loud voyces ſongs to the praiſe of the Lorde, becauſe his mercie and glorie is for euer in all Iſrael.

62 Then all the people blewe trumpets, and cried with a ſoude voyce, praiſing the Lorde for the laying vp of the houſe of the Lord.

63 Alſo ſome of the Prieſtes and Leuites, and chiefe men, of the Ancientes which had ſeene the former houſe,

64 Came to the building of this with weeping and great crying, and many with trumpets, and ioy cryed with loud voyce, 65 So that the people could not heare the trumpets, becauſe of the weeping of the people: yet there was a great multitude that blewe trumpets, ſo that they were heard farre off.

66 ¶ Wherefore when the enemies of the tribes of Iuda and Beniamin heard it, they came to know what noyſe of trumpets it was,

67 And they knewe that they of the captiuitie built the Temple to the Lord God of Iſrael.

68 Wherfore they comming to Zorobabel, and Ieſus, & the chiefe of the families, ſaid vnto them, Let vs build alſo with you.

69 For we obey your Lord, as you do, and ſacrifice vnto him ſince the dayes of ‖Aſſaraeth king of the Aſſyrians, which brought vs hither.

70 Then Zorobabel, and Ieſus, and the chiefe of the families of Iſrael ſayd to them, It doeth not appertaine to vs, and to you to builde an houſe to the Lord our God.

71 For we alone will builde it to the Lord God of Iſrael, as it becommeth vs, and as * Cyrus the king of the Perſians bade vs.

72 Howbeit the people of the land made them ſluggiſh that were in Iudea, and letted them to build the worke, and by their ambuſhments and ſeditions and conſpiracies hindred the finiſhing of the building, 73 All the time of king Cyrus life: ſo that they were let from ‖ building two yere, vntill the reigne of Darius.

2 Then Zorobabel ſonne of Salathiel, and Ieſus the ſonne of Ioſedec ſtoode vp, and beganne to builde the houſe of the Lord, which is in Ieruſalem, the Prophetes of the Lorde being with them, and helping them.

3 ¶ In that time Sithnes the gouernour of Syria, and Phenice, & Sathrabouzanes with his companions came vnto them,

5 But the Auncients of the Iewes had grace of the Lord after that he had visited the captiuitie, and that they were not letted to builde, vntil it was signified vnto Darius of these matters, and an answere was receiued.

7 ¶ The copie of the Epistle, which he did write and send to Darius. SISINNES gouernour of Syria and of Phenice, & Sathrabouzanes, & their companions, presidents in Syria and Phenice, salute King Darius.

8 It may please the king our master plainely to vnderstand, that when we came to the country of Iudea, and entred into the citie of Ierusalem, wee found in the citie of Ierusalem the Auncients of the Iewes that were of the captiuitie, building an house to the Lord, great & newe, of hewen stones, and of great price, and the timber already layd vpon the walles.

10 And these works are done with great speed, yea, and the woorke hath good successe in their handes, so that it will be finished with all glory and diligence.

11 Then we asked their Auncients, saying, By whose commaundement build you this house, and lay the foundation of these workes?

12 We asked them these things to the intent to notifie them to thee, and to write to thee the men that gouerned it: therfore we demanded the names of the gouernours in writing.

13 But they answered, saying, Wee are the seruaunts of the Lord, which hath created the heauen and the earth.

14 And * this house was built vp many yeeres agoe by a king of Israel great and strong, and was finished. *1. King. 6.2.

15 But when our fathers, prouoking God to wrath, sinned against the Lord of Israel, which is in heauen, *he deliuered them into the hands of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon of the Chaldeans, *2. King. 24.1.

16 Who brake downe the house, and burnt it, and caried the people captiue to Babylon.

17 But in the first yeere of the reigne of Cyrus ouer the country of Babylon, king Cyrus wrote that this house should be built vp,

18 And the holy vessels of gold and of siluer, which Nabuchodonosor had carried out of the house at Ierusalem, and had dedicated them in his owne Temple, Cyrus the king tooke out of the Temple at Babylon, and they were giuen to Zorobabel, and to ‖ Sanabassarus ruler. ‖ Or, Shashbazer.

19 And a commandement was giuen vnto him, that he should carie away those vessels, and put them in the Temple at Ierusalem, and that this Temple of the Lorde should bee built in this place.

20 Then the same Sanabassarus, being come hither, laid the foundations of the house of the Lord at Ierusalem, and since that time till now, it is in building, and is not finished.

21 Nowe therefore if it please the king, let it be sought vp in the kings libraries concerning Cyrus.

22 And if it be found that the building of the house of the Lord at Ierusalem hath bene done by the consent of King Cyrus, and if it seeme good to the lord our king, let him make vs answere concerning these things.

23 Then king Darius commanded, to search in the kings Libraries, that were in Babylon, and there was found in Ecbatane, which is a towre in the region of Media, a place where such things were layd vp for memorie.

24 In the first yere of the reigne of Cyrus, king Cyrus commaunded the house of the Lorde at Ierusalem to be builded, where they did sacrifice with the continuall fire.

25 Of the which the height should be of three score cubites, the breadth of three score cubites with three rowes of hewen stones, and one rowe of newe wood of that country, and that the coste should be payde out of the house of king Cyrus.

26 And that the holy vessels of the house of the Lord, aswell those of gold as of siluer, which Nabuchodonosor had caried out of the house in Ierusalem, and brought into Babylon, should be restored to the house, which is in Ierusalem, and set in the place where they were afore.

27 Also hee commaunded that Sisinnes, gouernour of Syria and Phenice, & Sathrabouzanes, and their companions, and those which were constitute captaines in Syria and Phenice, should take heede to refraine from that place, and to suffer Zorobabel the seruant of the Lorde, and gouernour of Iudea, and the Elders of the Iewes to builde that house of the Lord in that place.

28 And I also haue commaunded to builde it cleane vp againe, and that they be diligent to helpe them of the captiuitie of the Iewes, till the house of the Lord be finished,

29 And that some part of the tribute of Coelosyria and Phenice should be diligently giuen to these men for sacrifice vnto the Lorde, and to Zorobabel the gouernour, for bulles, rammes, and lambes:

30 Also corne, and salt, and wine, and oyle continually euery yere without fayle, as the Priestes, which are in Ierusalem shall testifie to bee spent euery day, 31 That offerings may be made to the high God for the king, and his children, and that they may pray for their liues.

32 Furthermore he commaunded that whosoeuer should transgresse any thing afore spoken or written, or detogate any thing thereof, that a tree should be taken out of his possession, and he be hanged thereon, and that his goods shoulde bee the kings.

33 And therefore let the Lorde whose Name is there called vpon, destroy euery king and nation, which stretcheth out his hande to hinder or do euill to that House of the Lorde which is in Ierusalem.

34 * I Darius the king haue ordeyned that it shoulde bee diligently executed according to these things. *Ezra.6.12

CHAP. VII.

1 Sisinnes and his companions followe the kings commandement, and helpe the Iewes to build the Temple. 5 The time that it was built. 10 They keepe the passeouer.

THen Sisinnes the * gouernour of Coelosyria and Phenice, and Sathrabouzanes, & their companions, obeying King Darius commandements, *Ezra.6.13

2 Assisted diligently the holy woorkes working with the Auncients and gouernours of the Sanctuarie.

3 And the holy woorkes prospered by Aggeus and Zacharias the Prophets which prophecied.

4 So they finished all things by the commaundement delyuered the Lords God of Israel) and Artaxerxes consent of Cyrus and Darius, and Artaxerxes kings of the Persians.

5 Thus the holy House was finished in the three and twentieth day of the moneth Adar, in the sixt yeere of Darius King of the Persians.

6 ¶ And the children of Israel, and the Priests and the Leuites, and the rest which were of the cap-tiuitie, and had any charge, did according to the things written in the booke of Moyses.

7 And they offered for the dedication of the Temple of the Lorde, an hundreth bulles, two hun-dreth rammes, foure hundreth lambes,

8 And twelue goates for the sinne of all Israel, according to the number of the chiefe of the tribes of Israel.

9 And the Priests, and the Leuites stoode according to their kinreds clothed with long robes in the works of the Lord God of Israel, according to the booke of Moyses, & also the porters in euery gate.

10 And the children of Israel offered the Passeouer together with them of the captiuitie, in the fourteenth day of the first moneth, after that the Priestes and Leuites were sanctified.

11 But all the children of the captiuitie, were not sanctified together, but all the Leuites were sanctified together.

12 And they offered the Passeouer for all the children of the captiuitie, and for their brethren the Priests, and for themselues.

13 Then all the children of Israel which were of the captiuitie did eate, euen all they that had separated themselues from the abominations of the people of the land, and sought the Lord.

14 And they kept the feast of vnleauened bread
seuen dayes, reioycing before the Lord,

15 Because hee had turned the counsell of the king of the Assyrians towardes them, to strengthen their hands in the works of the Lord God of Israel.

AND after these things, when Artaxerxes King of the Persians reigned, Esdras the sonne of ‖Sa-rias, the sonne of Ezerias, the sonne of Helcias, the sonne of Salum,

3 This Esdras went out of Babylon, and was a Scribe well taught in the Lawe of Moyses, giuen by the Lorde God of Israel.

4 Also the King gaue him great honour, and he founde grace in his sight in all his requestes.

5 With him also there departed some of the children of Israel, and of the Priestes and Leuites, and of the holy singers, and of the porters, and of the ministers of the Temple vnto Ierusalem, in the seuenth yeere of the reigne of Artaxerxes, and in the fifth moneth: this was the seuenth yeere of the King (for they went out of Babylon in the first day of the first moneth) and came to Ierusalem according as the Lord gaue them speede in their iourney.

6 For Esdras had great knowledge, so that he omitted not nothing of that was in the law of the Lorde, and also he perfourmed and taught all Israel al the ordinances and iudgements.

7 So the commission written by King Artaxerxes was giuen Esdras the Priest and reader of the Lawe of the Lorde: the copie hereof followeth.

8 King Artaxerxes to Esdras the Priest, & reader of the Law of the Lorde, Salutation.

9 Forasmuch as I consider things with pitie, I haue commanded that they that will and desire of the nation of the Iewes, and of the Priests and Le-uites which are in our kingdome, should go with thee vnto Israel.

10 Therefore as many as bee willing, let them depart together, as it hath best seemed good to me and my seuen friends the counsellers,

11 That they may visite the things that are in Iudea and Ierusalem diligently, as it is contained in the Lawe of the Lord,

12 And carie the gifts to the Lorde of Israel in Ierusalem, which I and my friendes haue vowed: also all the golde and siluer, which shall be founde in the country of Babylon, appertaining to the Lord in Ierusalem,

13 With that which is giuen of the people to the Temple of the Lorde their God, that it might be brought to Ierusalem, as well siluer as golde, for bulles, and rammes, and lambes, and things thereto pertaining,

14 That they may offer sacrifices to the Lord vpon the altar of the Lord their God, which is in Ierusalem.

15 And what soeuer thou and thy brethern will doe with the golde or siluer, accomplish according to the will of thy God.

16 And the holy vessels of the Lorde which are giuen thee for the vse of the Temple of thy God, which is in Ierusalem, thou shalt set before thy God in Ierusalem.

17 And what other things so euer thou shalt remember for the vse of the Temple of thy God, thou shalt giue it out of the Kings treasure.

18 And I also King Artaxerxes haue commanded the treasurers of Syria and Phenice, that whatsoeuer Esdras the Priest and Reader of the Law of the highest God, shall send for, they should giue it him with al speede, euen to the summe of an hun-dreth talentes of siluer,

19 And likewise vnto an hundreth cores of corne, and an hundreth pieces of wine and other things in abundance.

20 Let all things be done to the hiest God according to the Lawe of God with diligence, that wrath come not vpon the kingdome of the King and of his sonnes.

21 Also to you it is commanded, that of none of the Priests or Leuites, or holy singers, or porters or ministers of the Temple, nor of the workemen of this Temple, no tribute nor tole be taken, nor that any haue power to trouble them in any thing.

22 Thou also, Esdras, according to the wisedom of God, ordeine iudges and iustices, that they may iudge in all Syria and Phenice all those which are well instructed in the Lawe of thy God, and teach those that are not instructed.

23 And let all those which shall not execute the Lawe of God and the King, be diligently punished, either with death, or other punishment, or else with penaltie of money, or banishment.

47 Then Darius the first that reigned, blessed the onely Lorde God of his fathers, which hath put this in the heart of the King to glorifie his house which is in Ierusalem, 48 And hath honoured me before the King and the counsellers, and all his friends, and gouernours.

*Ezra.8.1. 49 ¶ * Therefore I was incouraged by the helpe of the Lorde my God, and gathered men of Israel to goe vp with me.

50 These are the guides after their families and order of dignities, which came vp with mee out of Babylon in the reigne of Artaxerxes the King.

51 Of the sonnes of Phinees, Gersom, of the sonnes of Ithamar, Gamael, of the sonnes of Dauid, ‖Lettus.

52 Of the sonnes of Sechenias, of the sonnes of Phares, Zacharias, and with him were counted an hundreth and fiftie men.

53 Of the sonnes of ‖ Salomon, Abeliaenias the sonne of Zacharias, & with him two hundreth men.

54 Of the sonnes of Zathoe, Sechenias the sonne of ‖ Iezelus, and with him three hundreth men: of the sonnes of Adin, ‖Oberh sonne of Ionathas, and with him two hundreth and fiftie men.

55 Of the sonnes of Elam, ‖ Iesias sonne of Gotholias, and with him seuentie men.

56 Of the sonnes of Saphatias, Zarias sonne of ‖Machael, and with him seuentie men.

57 Of the sonnes of Ioab, ‖ Badias sonne of Iezelus, and with him two hundreth and twelue men.

58 Of the sonnes of ‖ Banid, Assalimoth sonne of Iosaphias, and with him an hundreth and three score men.

59 Of the sonnes of Babi, Zacharias sonne of Bebai, and with him twentie and eight men.

60 Of the sonnes of ‖ Asgath, Iohannes sonne of Acatan, and with him an hundreth and ten.

61 Of the sonnes of Adonicam the last: and these are the names of them, Eliphalet, ‖Ieouel and ‖Mamis, and with him seuentie men: of the sonnes of ‖ Bagouthi sonne of Iscacourus, and with him seuentie men.

*Ezra.8.15. 62 ¶ And I gathered them together to the flood called * Theras, and pitched our tentes there three dayes, and numbred them.

63 But when I had found there none of the Priests nor Leuites, 64 I sent to Eleazar, and behold, there came ‖Maasman, and Alnathan, and Samaian, and ‖Iarib, and Nathan, Ennatan, Zacharian, and Mosollamon the chiefe, and best learned.

65 And I bade them to go to Daddeus the captaine, which was in the place of the treasurie, 66 With charge to bid Daddeus and his brethren, and the treasurers that were there, to send to vs them, which should offer sacrifice in the house of our Lord.

67 And they brought vnto vs by the mightie hand of our Lord, learned men of the sons of Moli, the sonne of Leui, the sonne of Israel, to wit, ‖ Sisebebram & his sonnes & his brethren being eighteene.

68 And Asebias, and ‖ Ambon, and Oldan his brethren of the sonnes of ‖ Caniuneus with their sonnes, seuentie persons.

69 And of the ministers of the Temple, which Dauid gaue, and those which were rulers ouer the worke of the Leuites, to wit, ministers of the Temple, two hundreth and twentie, of whome all the names were registred.

70 ¶ And I * there I proclaimed a fast for the yong men before the Lorde to aske of him a good iourney both for vs, and for them that were with vs, for our children, and for our cattell.

*Ezra.8.21.

71 For I was ashamed to aske the King footemen, or horsemen, or conduct for safegarde against our enemies:

72 Because we had said to the King, that the power of our Lorde should bee with them that sought him, to direct them in all things.

73 Wherefore wee prayed our Lord againe according to these things, who we found fauourable.

74 Then I chose from among the chiefe of the tribes, & of the Priests, twelue me, to wit, ‖Esebrias and Assanias, and with them ten of their brethren.

75 And I weighed them the siluer and the gold, and the holy vessels of ‖ house of our Lorde, which the King and his counsellers, and his princes, and all Israel had giuen.

76 And I weighed them, sixe hundred and fiftie talents, of siluer, and siluer vessels of an hundreth talents, and an hundreth talents of golde, 77 And twentie golden basins, and twelue vessels of brasse, of fine brasse shining like golde.

78 And I said to them, You are also holy to the Lord, and the vessels are holy, & the gold, and the siluer is a vow to the Lord of our fathers.

79 Watch & keepe them, til that you giue them to the heads of the families of the Priestes and Leuites, and captaines of the families of Israel in Ierusalem in the chambers of the house of our God.

80 So the Priestes and Leuites tooke the siluer and the golde, and the vessels, and carried them to Ierusalem to the Temple of the Lord.

81 And we departed from the flood Theras in the twelfth day of the first moneth, and came to Ierusalem, according to the mightie power of our Lorde with vs: and the Lorde deliuered vs from the beginning of our iourney from all enemies, so we came to Ierusalem.

82 And three dayes being past there, in the fourth day the siluer that was weighed, and the golde was deliuered in the House of our Lorde to ‖Marmoth the Priest, the sonne of Iouri, 83 And with him to Eleazar the sonne of Phinees: and there were with them, Iosabad the sonne of Iesus, and ‖ Moeth sonne of Sabbanus Leuites all was deliuered them by number and weight.

84 And all the weight of them was written that same houre.

85 Afterwards those that were come out of the captiuitie, offered sacrifices to the Lord God of Israel, euen twelue bulles for all Israel, rammes foure score and sixteene.

86 Lambes therefore and twelue, kiddes goates for sinnes, all in sacrifice to the Lord.

87 And they presented the commandement of the King to the Kings stewards, and to the gouernours of Coelosyria & Phenice who honoured the people, and the Temple of God.

*Ezra.9.1. 88 ¶ * When these things were done, the gouernours came to mee, saying, The people Israel, the Princes and the Priests, & the Leuites haue not separated from them the strange people of the land, nor the pollutions of the Gentiles, as to wit, of the Cananites, & Hetites, and Pherezites, and Iebusites, and Moabites, and Egyptians, and Idumites.

ioined with the strange people of the land, and the gouernours and rulers haue been partakers of this wickednesse from the beginning of the thing.

70 And assoone as I had heard these things, I rent my clothes, and the holy garment, and I pulled the haire off mine head, and off my beard, and sate me downe sorowfull and very sad.

71 Then also they that were moued with the word of the Lord God of Israel, came to me whiles I wept for the iniquitie, but I sate very sad till the euening sacrifice.

72 Then I rose from the fast with my clothes torne, and the holy garment, and bowed my knees and stretched forth mine hands to the Lord, 73 And said, O * Lord, I am ashamed, and confounded before thy face.

74 For our sinnes are increased aboue our heads, and our ignorances are lifted vp to heauen.

75 Yea, euen from the time of our fathers wee are in great sinne vnto this day.

76 For our sinnes therefore, and our fathers we with our brethren, with our kings & Priests haue been giuen vp to the kings of y earth, to the sword and to captiuitie, and for a pray with all shame vnto this day.

77 And now how great hath thy mercie been, O Lord, that there shoulde be left vs a roote, and name in the place of thine holinesse!

78 And that thou shouldest reueale to vs a light in the house of the Lord our God, and giue vs meat in the time of our seruitude!

79 For when we were in bondage, we were not left of our God, but he gaue vs fauour before the kings of the Persians, that they shoulde giue vs meate, 80 And that they shoulde honour the Temple of our Lord, and raise vp Sion that is desolate and giue vs assurance in Iudea and Ierusalem.

81 And now, O Lord, what shall we say, hauing these things? for we haue transgressed thy commandements, which thou hast giuen by the handes of thy seruants the Prophets, saying,

82 *Because the land, which ye go to inherite, is a land polluted by the pollutions of the strangers of the land, which haue filled it with their filthines,

83 Therefore nowe yee shall not ioyne their daughters w your sonnes, neyther giue your daughters to their sonnes, 84 Neithet shall you desire to haue peace with them for euer, that yee may be made strong, and eate the good things of the lande, and leaue it for an inheritance to your children for euer.

85 Therefore all that is come to passe, was done for our wicked works, and for our great sinne yet, Lord, thou hast forborne our sinnes, 86 And hast giuen vs such a roote: but we againe haue turned back to transgresse thy Law, and to mixe vs with the vncleannesse of the people of the land.

87 Mightest thou not be angry with vs to destroy vs, so that thou shouldest neyther leaue vs roote nor seede nor name?

88 But, O Lord of Israel, thou art true: for there is a root left, euen vnto this day.

89 Beholde, wee are now before thee with our iniquities, neythes can we indure before thee for these things.

90 ¶ And * as Esdras prayed and confessed and wept, & lay vpon the ground before the Temple, a very great multitude was gathered vnto him out of Ierusalem of men & women, & yong children: for there was great lamentation among the multitude.

91 Then Iechonias the sonne of Iehel of the sonnes of Israel, crying out said, O Esdras, we haue sinned against the Lorde God: wee haue taken strange women of the nations of the land. [Or, Iainl.

92 And now all Israel is doubtfull: therefore let vs make an othe concerning this to the Lorde to put away all our wiues, which are strangers, with their children.

93 If it seeme good to thee, & to all them that obey the Law of the Lord, rise vp and put it in execution.

94 For to thee doeth it appertaine, and wee are with thee to make thee strong.

95 Then Esdras arose, and made all the chiefe of the families of the Priests & Leuites of all Israel to sweare, that they would doe thus: and they sware.

CHAP. IX.

1 After Esdras had read the Law for the strange wiues, to They promise to put them away.

THen * Esdras rose from the court of the Temple, and went to the chamber of Ioannan the sonne of Eliasib,

2 And being lodged there, he did eate no bread nor dranke water, but mourned for the great iniquities of the multitude.

3 And there was a proclamation in all Iudea & Ierusalem, to all them that were of the captiuitie, that they should be gathered to Ierusalem,

4 And that all they which should not meete there within two or three dayes, according to the ordinance of the Elders, which bare rule, should haue their cattell confiscate to the Temple, and he cast out from among them of the captiuitie.

5 Then all they which were of the tribe of Iuda & Beniamin, came together within three dayes into Ierusalem: this was the ninth moneth, and twentieth day of the moneth.

6 And all the multitude sate in the broad place of the Temple shaking, because of the extreme winter.

7 Then Esdras arose and said to them, Ye haue sinned: for yee haue married strange wiues, so that ye haue augmented the sinnes of Israel.

8 Now therefore confesse and glorifie the Lord God of our fathers, 9 And doe his will, and separate your selues from the people of the lande, and from the strange wiues.

10 Then all the multitude cryed out and sayde with a lowd voyce, We will do so as thou hast said.

11 But because the multitude is great, and the time is winter, so that we cannot stand without, and the worke is not of one day nor of two, seeing that many of vs haue sinned in this matter,

12 Let the chiefe men of the multitude, and all they which haue strange wiues of our families, tarie:

13 And let the Priests and Iudges come out of all places at the day appointed, til they haue appeased the wrath of the Lord against vs for this matter.

14 Then Ionathas Asaels sonne, and ‖ Ezecias sonne of Theocan were appointed concerning these things, and Mosollam and Sabbateus did helpe them. [Or, Iahezias. [Or, Theeua

15 And they which were of the captiuitie, did after all these things.

16 Esdras

16 Esdras the Priest also chose him certaine men, chiefe of their families, all by name: and they sate together in the first day of the tenth moneth to examine this matter.

17 And they made an ende of the things perteyning to them that had married strange wiues in the first day of the first moneth.

18 And there were found of the Priests, which had married strange wiues, 19 Of the sonnes of Iesus, the sonne of Iosedec, and of his brethren, ‖ Mathelas, and Eleazar, & Ioribus, and ‖ Ionadan. ‖ Or, Maaſias. ‖ Or, Iedaliah.

20 Who also gaue their handes to cast out their wiues, and offered a ram for their reconciliation in their purgation.

27 Of the sonnes of ‖ Ela, Matthanias, Zacharias, and ‖ Hierielas, and ‖ Hieremoth, and Aedias. ‖ Or, Ieremoth, and Helias.

30 Of the sonnes of ‖ Mani, Olamus, Mamuchus, Iedaias, Iasubus, Iasael, and Ieremoth. ‖ Or, Bani, Olam, Maluch, Iedaiz, Jaſub.

31 And of the sonnes of ‖ Addi, Naathus, Moosias, Laccunus, and Naidus, and Mathanias, and ‖ Sesebel, and Balnuus, and Manasseas. ‖ Or, Addin, Naaim, Laccun, Banaias.

32 And of the sonnes of Annas, Elionas, and Aseas, and Melchias, and Sabbeus, and Simon a Chosamite. ‖ Or, Bezelel, Balnus, Maſſe.

35 And of the sonnes of Ethna, Nazitias, Zabadias, Ethes, Inel, Banaias. ‖ Or, Bau, Jeremas, Moadi, Esuaus.

36 All these married strange wiues, & put them away with their children.

37 And the Priests and the Leuites dwelt in Ierusalem, and in the countrey, the first day of the seuenth moneth, and the children of Israel in their owne houses.

38 ¶ *Then all the multitude assembled together with one consent into the broade place before the gate of the Temple toward the East, *Nehem.8.

39 And spake to Esdras the Priest, and reader, that he should bring the Law of Moyses, which had bene giuen by the Lord God of Israel.

40 Then brought Esdras the chiefe Priest, the Lawe to all the multitude, both man and woman, and to all the Priestes, that they might heare the Law the first day of the seuenth moneth.

41 And hee read in the first broad place of the gate of the Temple, from morning to midday, before the men and the women, and all the multitude hearkened to the law.

42 So Esdras the Priest and reader of the Law, stoode vpon a pulpit of wood that was prepared.

43 And there stood by him ‖ Mathathias, Sammus, Ananias, Azarias, Ourias, Ezecias, Balasamus at his right hand, ‖ Or, Matthias, 44 And at his left hand ‖ Phaldaius, & Sail, Melchias, Aothasphus, Nabarias. ‖ Or, Pedeias, 45 Then Esdras tooke the booke of the Lawe before the multitude (for hee sate honourably before them all)

46 And they all stoode vpright when hee expounded the Lawe, and Esdras blessed the Lord the most high God, the most mightie God of hosts.

47 And the whole multitude cried, Amen.

48 Then Iesus and ‖ Anus, and Sarabias, and Adimus, and Iacobus, Sabataias, Autanias, Maianias, and Calitas, Azarias, and Ioazabdus, and Ananias, and Biatas the Leuites list vp their hands, & fell downe on the ground, & worshipped the Lord, ‖ Or, Bani.

49 And taught the Law of the Lord, and stood also earnestly vpon the reading.

50 Then said ‖ Aththarates to Esdras the chiefe Priest and reader, and to the Leuites, that taught the multitude in al things, This day is holy vnto the Lord, and all haue wept in hearing of the Law. ‖ Or, Nehemias.

51 Goe therefore and eate the fat meates, and drinke the sweete drinks, and send presents to them that haue not.

52 For this day is holy to the Lorde, and be not sorie: for the Lord God will glorifie you.

53 So the Leuites commanded all these things to the people, saying, This day is holy to the Lorde: be not sad.

54 Then they departed all to eate, and drinke, and to reioyce, and to giue presents to them that had not, and to make good cheare.

55 For they were yet filled with the wordes wherewith they were instructed, when they were assembled together.

II. ESDRAS.

CHAP. I.

1 The people is reproued for their vnfaithfulnesse. 30 God will haue another people, if these will not be reformed.

*1.Esd.7.1.

THE seconde booke of the Prophet *Esdras, the sonne of Saraias, the sonne of Azarias, the sonne of Helcias, the sonne of Sadanias, the sonne of Sadoc, the sonne Achitob,

3 The sonne of Aaron (of the tribe of Leui) which Esdras was prisoner in the lande of Medes, in the reigne of Artaxerxes King of Persia.

4 *And the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying, *Isa.43.

5 Goe

15 God, and shewe my people their sinnes, and their children their wickednesse, which they haue committed against mee, that they may tell their childrens children.

16 For the sinnes of their fathers are increased in them, because they haue forgotten me, and haue offred vnto strange gods.

17 Haue not I brought them out of the land of Egypt from the house of bondage? but they haue prouoked me vnto wrath, and despised my counsels.

18 Pull thou off then the haire of thine head, and cast all euill vpon them: for they haue not bene obedient vnto my Lawe, but they are a rebellious people.

19 How long shall I forbeare them, vnto whom I haue done so much good?

24 *I gaue you light in a pillar of fire, and great wonders haue I done among you: yet haue ye forgotten me, saith the Lord.

25 Thus saith the Almightie Lord, The quailes *Exod.16.13. were a token vnto you: I gaue you tentes for safegard, wherein ye murmured: Psal.104.40.

26 And ye triumphed not in my Name for ỹ destruction of your enemies, but ye yet murmure still.

27 Where are the benefites, that I haue done for you? when yee were hungry in the wildernesse, *Num.14.3. *did ye not crie vnto me?

32 Thus saith the Almightie Lord, *When ye were in the wildernesse at the bitter waters, being a thirst, and blaspheming my Name, *Exod.15.23.

37 Although ye haue not forsaken me, but your owne selues, saith the Lord.

38 Thus saith the Almightie Lord, Haue I not prayed you, as a father his sonnes, and as a mother his daughters, and as a nurce her young babes, 39 That yee would be my people, & I am your God, and that yee would bee my children, as I am your Father?

*Mat.23.37. 40 * I gathered you together as a henne gathereth her chickins vnder her wings: but now what shal I doe vnto you? I wil cast you out frō my sight.

42 I sent vnto you my seruants the Prophets, whom yee haue taken and slaine, and torne their bodies in pieces, whose blood I will reuenge, saith the Lord.

43 Thus saith the Almightie Lord, Your house shalbe desolate: I wil cast you out as the winde doth the stubble.

44 Your children shall not haue generation: for they haue despised my commaundements, and done the thing that I hate, before me.

45 Your houses wil I giue vnto a people to come, who shall beleeue me though they heare me not, and they, vnto whom I neuer shewed miracle, shall doe the things that I commaund them.

46 Though they see no Prophets, yet shall they hate their iniquities.

47 ¶ I will declare the grace that I will doe for the people to come, whose children reioyce in gladnesse, and though they haue not seene me with bodily eyes, yet in heart they beleeue the things that I say.

48 Now therefore brother, behold what great glory, and see the people that come from the East.

49 Vnto whome I will giue for leaders, Abraham, Isaac, Iacob, Oseas, Amos, Micheas, Ioel, Abdias, Ionas, 50 Naum, Habacuc, Sophonias, Aggeus, Zacharias, and Malachias (which is called also the *messenger of the Lord.) *Malac.3.1.

CHAP. II.

The Synagogue findeth fault with her owne children. 18 The Gentiles are called.

THus saith the Lorde, I brought this people out of bondage: I gaue them also my commaundements by my seruants the Prophets, whom they would not heare, but despised my counsels.

2 The mother that bare them, saith vnto them, Goe you away, O children: for I am a widowe and forsaken.

3 I brought you vp with gladnesse, but with sorowe and heauinesse haue I lost you: for ye haue sinned against the Lorde your God, and done the thing that displeaseth him.

4 But what shall I now doe vnto you? I am a widowe and forsaken: goe ye, O my children, and aske mercie of the Lord.

5 And thee, O father, I call for a witnesse for the mother of these children, which woulde not keepe my couenant,

6 That thou bring them to confusion, and their mother to a spoyle, that their kinred bee not continued.

7 Let their names bee scattered among the heathen: let them be put out of the earth, for they haue despised my couenant.

8 Woe vnto thee, Assur: for thou hidest the vnrighteous in thee: O wicked people, remember *what I did vnto Sodom and Gomorah. *Gen.19.24.

9 Whose

9 Whoſe lande is mixed with cloudes of pitch and heapes of aſhes: ſo will I doe vnto them, that heare me not, ſaith the Almightie Lord.

10 Thus ſaith the Lorde vnto Eſdras, Tell my people, that I will giue them the kingdome of Ieruſalem, which I would haue giuen vnto Iſrael.

11 And I will get me glory by them, and giue them the euerlaſting tabernacles, which I had prepared for thoſe.

12 They ſhall haue at will the tree of life, ſmelling of oyntment: they ſhall neither labour nor be wearie.

13 Goe yee, and yee ſhall receiue it: pray that the time, which is long, may bee ſhortened: the kingdome is already prepared for you: watch.

14 Take heauen and earth to witneſſe: for I haue aboliſhed the euill, and created the good: for I liue, ſaith the Lord.

15 Mother, embrace thy children, and bring them vp with gladneſſe: make their feete as faſt as a pillar: for I haue choſen thee, ſaith the Lord.

16 And thoſe that be dead, will I raiſe vp from their places, and bring them out of the graues: for I haue knowen my Name in Iſrael.

17 Feare not, thou mother of the children: for I haue choſen thee, ſaith the Lord.

18 I will ſend thee my ſeruants Eſay and Ieremie to helpe thee, by whoſe counſell I haue ſanctified and prepared for thee twelue trees laden with diuers fruites, 19 And as many fountaines, flowing with milke and honie, and ſeuen mightie mountaines, whereupon there growe roſes and lilies, whereby I wil fill thy children with ioy.

20 Execute iuſtice for the widowe: iudge the cauſe of the fatherleſſe: giue to the poore: defend the fatherleſſe: clothe the naked.

21 Heale the wounded, and ſicke: laugh not a lame man to ſcorne: defend the creeple, and let the blinde come into the light of my cleereneſſe.

22 Keepe the olde and the yong that are within thy walles.

*Tob.1.17, 18, 19. 23 *Whereſoeuer thou findeſt the dead, take them and bury them, and I will giue thee the firſt place in my reſurrection.

24 Abide ſtill, O my people, and reſt: for thy quieterneſſe ſhall come.

25 Nouriſh thy children, O thou good nurce: ſtabliſh their feete.

26 None of the ſeruants that I haue giuen thee, ſhall periſh: for I will ſeeke them from among thy number.

27 Be not weary: for when ỹ day of trouble and heauineſſe commeth, other ſhal weepe & be ſorowfull, but thou ſhalt be mery and haue abundance.

28 The heathen ſhall enuie thee, and ſhall doe nothing againſt thee, ſaith the Lord.

29 Mine hands ſhal couer thee, ſo that thy children ſhall not ſee hell.

30 Be ioyful, O thou mother, with thy children: for I will deliuer thee, ſaith the Lord.

31 Remember thy children that ſleepe: for I will bring them out of the ſides of the earth, and will ſhew mercie vnto them: For I am mercifull, ſaith the Lord almightie.

32 Embrace thy children, vntill I come and ſhew mercie vnto them: for my fountaines runne ouer, and my grace ſhall not faile.

33 I Eſdras receiued a charge of the Lord vpon the mount Horeb, that I ſhould goe vnto them of Iſrael, but when I came to them, they caſt me off, and deſpiſed the commandement of the Lord.

34 And therefore I ſay vnto you, O yee heathen, that heare and vnderſtand, Wayte for your ſhepheard, who ſhall giue you euerlaſting reſt: for hee is neere at hand, that ſhall come in the ende of the world.

35 Bee readie to the rewarde of the kingdome: for the euerlaſting light ſhall ſhine vpon you for euermore.

36 Flee the ſhadowe of this world: receiue the ioy of your glory: I teſtifie my Sauiour openly.

37 Receiue the gift that is giuen you, and bee glad, giuing thankes vnto him, that hath called you to the heauenly kingdome.

38 Ariſe, and ſtand vp, and beholde the number of thoſe that are ſealed for the feaſt of the Lord, 39 Which are departed from the ſhadow of the world, and haue receiued glorious garments of the Lord.

40 Take thy number, O Sion, and ſhut vp them that are clothed in white, which haue fulfilled the Law of the Lord.

41 The number of thy children whome thou longeſt for, is fulfilled: beſeech the power of the Lord, that thy people which haue bene called from the beginning, may be ſanctified.

42 *I Eſdras ſaw vpon mount Sion a great people whom I could not number, and they all prayſed the Lord with ſongs. *Reu.7.9.

43 And in the middes of them there was a yong man hier in ſtature then them all, and vpon euery one of their heads he ſet crownes, and was hier then the others, which I much marueiled at.

44 So I asked the Angel, and ſayde, Who are theſe, my Lord?

45 Who anſwered, and ſayd vnto me, Theſe be they, that haue put off the mortall clothing, and haue put on the immortall, and haue confeſſed the Name of God: now are they crowned, and receiue the palmes.

46 Then ſayde I vnto the Angel, What yong man is it, that ſetteth crownes on them, and giueth them the palmes in their handes?

47 And he anſwered and ſayde vnto me, It is the Sonne of God, whome they haue confeſſed in the worlde. Then beganne I greatly to commend them, that had ſtoode ſo ſtrongly for the Name of the Lord.

48 Then the Angel ſaid vnto me, Go thy way, and tell my people, what, and how great wonders of the Lord God thou haſt ſeene.

CHAP. III.

4 The wonderous workes, which God did for the people, are recited. 31 Eſdras marueileth that God ſuffereth the Babylonians to haue rule ouer his people, which yet are ſinners alſo.

IN the thirtieth yeere after the fall of the citie, as I was at Babylon, I lay troubled vpon my bed, and my thoughts came vp to my heart,

2 Becauſe I ſaw the deſolation of Sion, and the wealth of them that dwelt at Babylon.

3 So my ſpirite was ſore mooued, ſo that I began to ſpeake fearefull wordes to the moſt High, and ſayde,

4 O Lord, Lord, thou ſpakeſt at the beginning when thou alone plantedſt the earth, and gaueſt commandement vnto the people,

*Exod.19.1.
Deut.4.10.

18 And enclinedst the heauens and bowedst downe the earth, and diddest moue the grounde, and cause the depthes to shake, and diddest astonish the world.

19 And thy glorie went thorowe foure gates of fire, with earthquakes, winde and colde, that thou mightest giue the Law vnto the seede of Iacob, and that which the generation of Israel should diligently obserue.

20 Yet tookest thou not away from them the wicked heart, that the Law might bring forth fruit in them.

*Gen.3.6.

21 For * Adam first hauing a wicked heart, was ouercome and vanquished, and all they that are borne of him.

22 Thus remained weakenesse ioyned with the Lawe in the hearts of the people, with the wickednesse of the rootes, so that the good departed away, and the euill abode still.

23 So the times passed away, and the yeres were brought to an end, * till thou diddest raise thee vp a seruant called Dauid,

*1.Sam.16.13.

24 * Whom thou commandedst to build a citie vnto thy Name, to call vpon thee therein with incense and sacrifice.

*2.Sam.5.7.
& 7.5,13.

25 When this was done many yeeres, the inhabitants forsooke thee, 26 Following the wayes of Adam & all his generation: for they also had a wicked heart.

27 Therefore thou gauest thy citie ouer into the hands of thine enemies.

28 But doe they that dwell at Babylon any better, that they should haue the dominion of Sion?

29 For when I came thither, and saw their wicked deedes without number (for this is the thirtieth yere that I see many trespassing) I was discouraged.

30 For I sawe, how thou suffered'st them that sinne, and spared'st the wicked doers, where as thou hast destroyed thine owne people, and preserued thine enemies, and thou hast not shewed it.

31 I can not perceiue how this commeth to passe. Are the deedes of Babylon better then they of Sion?

32 Or is there any other people that knoweth thee besides Israel? or what generation hath so beleeued thy testimonies, as Iacob?

33 And yet their reward appeareth not, & their labour hath no fruite: for I haue gone here and there thorowout the heathen, and I see them flourish, and thinke not vpon thy commandements.

34 Weigh thou therefore our wickednesse now in the balance, and theirs also that dwell in the worlde, and no mention of thee shalbe found but in Israel.

35 Or when is it that they that dwell on the earth, haue not sinned in thy sight? or what people hath so kept thy commandements?

36 Thou shalt surely finde that Israel by name hath kept thy precepts, but not the heathen.

CHAP. IIII.

2 The Angel reproueth Esdras, because he seemed to enter into the profound iudgements of God.

AND the Angell that was sent vnto mee, whose name was Vriel, answered,

2 And saide, Thine heart hath taken too much vpon it in this world, and thou thinkest to comprehend the wayes of the Highest.

3 Then said I, Yea, my Lord. And he answered me, and sayd, I am sent to shew thee three wayes, and to set forth three similitudes before thee,

4 Whereof if thou canst declare me one, I will shew thee also the way, that thou desirest to see, and I will shewe thee from whence the wicked heart commeth.

5 And I said, Tell on, my Lord. Then saide he vnto me, Go thy way: weigh me the weight of the fire, or measure me the blast of the winde, or call me againe the day that is past.

6 Then answered I, and sayde, What man is borne, that can do that, which thou requirest mee, concerning these things?

7 And he saide vnto me, If I should aske thee how deepe dwellings are in the middes of the sea, or how great springs are in the beginning of the depth, or how great springs are in the stretching out of the heauen, or which are the borders of Paradise,

8 Peraduenture thou wouldest say vnto mee, I neuer went downe to the deepe, nor yet to the hell, neither did I euer clime vp to heauen.

9 But now haue I asked thee but of fire and winde, & of the day, whereby thou hast passed, and from the which things thou canst not be separated, and yet canst thou giue me none answere of them.

10 He saide moreouer vnto mee, Thine owne things, and such as are growen vp with thee, canst thou not knowe:

11 How should thy vessell then bee able to comprehend the wayes of the Highest, and howe outwardly in the corrupt world, to vnderstand the corruption, corruption, that is euident in any sight?

12 Then said I vnto him, It were better that we were not at all, then that we should liue in wickednesse, and to suffer, and not to know wherefore.

*Iudg.9.8. 2.chron.25.18.

13 And he answered me, and saide, *I came to a forest in the plaine where the trees held a counsell, 14 And saide, Come, let vs goe fight against the sea, that it may giue place to vs, and that wee may make vs more woods.

15 Likewise the floods of the sea tooke counsel and said, Come, let vs goe vp and fight against the trees of the wood, that we may get an other countrey for vs.

16 But the purpose of the wood was vaine: for the fire came and consumed it.

17 Likewise also the purpose of the floods of the sea: for the sand stood vp and stopped them.

18 If thou were iudge betweene these two, whome wouldest thou iustifie? or whome wouldest thou condemne?

19 I answered and said, Verely it is a foolish purpose, that they both haue deuised: for the grounde is appoynted for the wood, & the sea hath his place to beare his floods.

20 Then answered he me, and sayde, Thou hast giuen a right iudgement: but why iudgest thou not thy selfe also?

*Psa.33.8.9. Wisd.13.1. 2.cor.2.13,14.

21 For like as the ground is appoynted for the wood, & the sea for his floods, so *they y dwel vpon earth, can vnderstand nothing, but that which is vpon earth: and they that are in the heauens, the things that are aboue the height of the heauens.

22 Then answered I, and sayde, I beseech thee, O Lord, let vnderstanding be giuen me.

23 For I did not purpose to inquire of thine hie things, but of such as wee dayly meddle withall, namely wherefore Israel is made a reproche to the heathen, and for what cause the people, whom thou hast loued, is giuen ouer to wicked nations, and why the Law of our fathers is abolished, and the written ceremonies are come to none effect.

24 Why wee are tossed to and fro through the worlde as the grashoppers, and our life is a verie feare, and we are not thought woorthie to obteine mercie.

25 But what will he do to his Name, which is called vpon ouer vs? Of these things haue I asked the question.

26 Then answered he me, and sayd, The more thou searchest, the more thou shalt marueil: for the world hasteth fast to passe away.

27 And cannot comprehend the things, that are promised to the righteous in time to come: for this world is full of vnrighteousnesse and weakenesse.

28 But to declare thee the things whereof thou askest, the euill is sowen, but the destruction thereof is not yet come.

29 If the euill now that is sowen, be not turned vpside downe, and if the place where the euill is sowen, passe not away, then cannot the thing come, that is sowen with good.

30 For the corne of euil seede hath bene sowen in the heart of Adam from the beginning, and how much vngodlinesse hath he brought vp vnto this time? and how much shall he bring forth vntil the haruest come?

31 Ponder with thy selfe, how much fruit of wickednesse the corne of euill seed bringeth forth.

32 And when the stalkes shall ben cut downe, which are without number, how great an harueste must be prepared.

33 Then I answered, and saide, How, and when shall these things come to passe? wherefore are our yeeres few and euill?

34 And hee answered me, saying, Haste not to bee aboue the most High: for thou labourest in vaine to be aboue him, though thou indeuour neuer so much.

35 Did not the soules also of the righteous aske question of these things in their chambers, saying, How long shall I thus hope? and when commeth the fruite of my barne and our wages?

36 And vpon this Ieremiel the Archangel answered, and saide, When the number of the seedes is filled in you: for hee hath weighed the world in the balance.

37 The measure of the times is measured: the ages are counted by number, and they shall not be moued or shaken, til y measure thereof be fulfilled.

38 Then answered I, and said, O Lord, Lord, we are all euen full of sinne, 39 And for our sake peraduenture the haruest of the righteous is not fulfilled, because of the sinne of them that dwell vpon earth.

40 So he answered me, and saide, Goe, and aske a woman with childe, when shee hath fulfilled her nine moneths, if her wombe may keepe the birth any longer within her.

41 Then sayd I, No, Lord, she can not. And he saide vnto me, In the graue the places of soules are like the wombe.

42 For as shee that is w childe, hasteth to escape the necessitie of the trauell, so do these places haste to deliuer those things that are cõmitted vnto thẽ.

43 That which thou desirest to see, shalbe shewed thee from the beginning.

44 Then answered I, and said, If I haue founde grace in thy sight, and if it be possible, and if I bee meete therefore, 45 Shewe mee whether there be more to come then is past, or moe things past, then are to come.

46 What is past, I knowe, but what is to come, I knowe not.

47 And he said vnto me, Stand on the right side, and I will expound thee this by example.

48 So I stoode, and beholde, a hote burning ouen passed before mee: and when the flame was gone by, I looked, and beholde, the smoke hid the vpper hand.

49 After this there passed before mee a watrie cloude, and sent downe much raine with a stormie: and when the stormie raine was past, the droppes came after.

50 Then sayde he vnto mee, Consider with thy selfe, as the rayne is more then the droppes, and as fire exceedeth the smoke, so the portion that is past, hath the vpper hand. And the droppes, and the smoke were much.

51 Then I prayed, and said, May I liue, thinkest thou, vntill that time? or what shall come to passe in those dayes?

52 Hee answered mee, and saide, Of the tokens whereof thou askest me, I can tell thee a part: but I am not sent to shewe thee of thy life: for I doe not know it.

CHAP. VI.

1. In the latter times euerie kinde of vnrighteousnesse and all wickednesse shall reigne in the world. 25. Israel is carefull and God deliuereth them. 35. God doth all things in season.

Neuertheless

NEuertheleſſe concerning the tokens, beholde, the times ſhall come, that they which dwel vpon earth, ſhal be taken in a great number, and the way of the trueth ſhalbe hid, and the land ſhall be barren from faith,

2 And *iniquitie ſhall be increaſed more then thou haſt ſeene now, or haſt heard in time paſt. *Matth.24.12.

3 And it ſhall come to paſſe, that one ſhall ſet in foote, and thou ſhalt ſee the land deſolate, which now reigneth.

4 Yea, if God graunt thee to liue, thou ſhalt ſee after the third trumpet, that the ſunne ſhal ſuddenly ſhine againe in the night, and the moone three times a day.

5 Blood ſhal drop out of the wood, & the ſtone ſhall giue his voice, & the people ſhall be mooued.

6 And he ſhal rule, of whom they hope not that dwell vpon earth, & the foules ſhall change place.

7 And the ſea of Sodom ſhall caſt out fiſh, and make a noyſe in the night, which many ſhall not know, but they ſhall heare the voyce thereof.

8 There ſhall be a confuſion in many places, and the fire ſhall oft breake foorth, and the wilde beaſtes ſhall change their places, and menſtruous women ſhall beare monſters,

9 And ſalt waters ſhall be found in the ſweete, and all friends ſhall fight one againſt another: then ſhal wit hide it ſelfe, and vnderſtanding depart into his ſecret chamber.

10 It ſhalbe ſought of many, and yet not bee found: then ſhall vnrighteouſnes and voluptuouſneſſe haue the vpper hand vpon earth.

11 One land alſo ſhall aske another, and ſay, Is righteous iuſtice gone through thee? And it ſhall ſay, No.

12 At the ſame time ſhal men hope, but not obteine: they ſhall labour, but their enterpriſes ſhall not proſper.

13 To ſhew thee ſuch tokens I haue leaue, and if thou wilt pray againe and weepe as now, and faſt ſeuen dayes, thou ſhalt heare yet greater things then theſe.

14 ¶ Then I awaked, and a fearefulneſſe went thorow all my body, and my minde was feeble and fainted.

15 But the Angell that was come to talke with me, helde mee, comforted mee, and ſet me vp vpon my feete.

16 And in the ſecond night, Salathiel the captaine of the people came vnto me, ſaying, Where haſt thou bene? and why is thy countenance ſo heauie?

17 Knoweſt thou not that Iſrael is committed vnto thee in the land of their captiuitie?

18 Vp then and eate, and forſake vs not, as the ſhepheard that leaueth his flocke in the hands of the cruell wolues.

19 Then ſaid I vnto him, Goe thy wayes from me, and come not nere me: and when he heard it, he went from me.

20 And I faſted ſeuen dayes, mourning and weeping, as Vriel the Angel had commaunded me.

21 And after ſeuen dayes the thoughts of mine heart were very grieuous vnto me againe.

22 And I had a deſire to reaſon againe, and I beganne to talke with the moſt High againe, 23 And ſaid, O Lord, Lord, of euery foreſt of the earth, and of all the trees thereof thou haſt choſen thee one onely vineyarde.

24 And of all lands of the world thou haſt choſen thee one pit, and of all the flowres of the ground thou haſt choſen thee one lilie.

25 And of all the depthes of the ſea thou haſt filled thee one riuer, and of all builded cities thou haſt ſanctified Sion vnto thy ſelfe.

26 And of all the foules that are created, thou haſt named thee one doue, and of all the cattel that are made, thou haſt appointed thee one ſheepe.

27 And among all the multitude of people thou haſt gotten thee one people, and vnto this people whome thou louedſt, thou gaueſt a Lawe, that is proued of all.

28 And now, O Lord, why haſt thou giuen this one people ouer vnto many? and vpon one roote thou haſt ſet others, and haſt ſcattered thine onely people among many.

29 They treade them downe, which haue withſtood thy promiſes, & beleeue not thy teſtimonies.

30 And if thou diddeſt ſo much hate thy people, they ſhould haue beene puniſhed with thine owne handes.

31 ¶ Now when I had ſpoken theſe wordes, the Angel that came to mee the night afore, was ſent vnto mee, 32 And ſaid vnto me, Heare me, and I wil teach thee, and hearken that I may inſtruct thee further.

33 And I ſaid, Speake on, my Lord. Then ſaid he vnto me, Thou art ſore vexed and troubled for Iſraels ſake. Loueſt thou them better, then he doeth that made them?

34 And I ſaid, No, Lord: but of very ſorow haue I ſpoken: for my raines paine me euery houre, while I labour to comprehend the way of the moſt High, and to ſeeke out part of his iudgement.

35 And he ſaid vnto me, Thou canſt not. And I ſaide, Wherefore, Lord, wherefore was I borne? or why was not my mothers wombe then my graue? ſo had I not ſeene the trouble of Iacob, and the griefe of the ſtocke of Iſrael.

36 And he ſaide vnto me, Number vnto me the things that are not yet come, or gather mee the drops that are ſcattered, or make me the withered flowers greene againe.

37 Open me the places that are cloſed, & bring mee foorth the windes, that are ſhutte vp therein: ſhewe me the image of a voyce, and then wil I declare thee the thing, that thou askeſt and laboureſt to knowe.

38 And I ſaide, O Lorde, Lord, who can knowe theſe things, but he that hath not his dwelling with men?

39 But I that am ignorant, how can I ſpeake of theſe things, whereof thou askeſt me?

40 Then ſaid he vnto me, Like as thou canſt do none of theſe things, that I haue ſpoken of, ſo canſt thou not finde out my iudgement, nor the leaſt benefite, that I haue promiſed vnto my people.

41 Then I ſaid, Behold, O Lord, the laſt things are preſent vnto thee, and what ſhal they doe that haue bene before mee, or we that be now, or they that ſhall come after vs?

42 And hee ſaide vnto me, I will compare my iudgement vnto a ring: as there is no ſlackeneſſe of the laſt, ſo there is no ſwiftneſſe of the firſt.

43 Then I anſwered, and ſayde, Couldeſt thou not make at once thoſe that haue bene, thoſe that are now, & thoſe that ſhall come, that thou mighteſt ſhewe thy iudgement the ſooner?

44 Then

44 Then answered he me, The creature, sayd he, cannot preuent the Creator, nether can the world holde them at once, that shall be created therein.

45 And I said, As thou hast taught thy seruant, that thou which giuest strength to all, hast giuen life at once to all the worke created by thee, and hast susteined it, so might it now also conteine all men at once.

46 And he said vnto me, Aske the wombe of a woman, & say vnto her, Why must thou haue time before thou bringest foorth? require her to bring forth tenne at once.

47 And I said, Surely she cannot, but by distance of time.

48 Then saide hee vnto me, So haue I diuided the number of the earth by times when seede is sowen vpon it.

49 For as a yong childe begetteth not that that belongeth to the aged, so haue I ordeined the time which I haue created.

50 ¶ I asked again, & said, Seeing thou hast now shewed mee the way, I will proceede to speake before thee: for our mother, whom thou hast told me is yong, draweth she neere vnto age?

51 He answered me, and said, Aske a woman that trauaileth, and she will tell thee.

52 Say vnto her, Wherefore are not they (whom thou hast now brought foorth) like those that were before thee, but lesse of stature?

53 And she shal answere thee, Some were borne in the flower of youth, others were borne in the time of age, when the wombe failed.

54 Consider now thy selfe, how that ye are lesse of stature, then those that were before you, 55 And so are they that come after you, lesse then ye, as the creatures which now beginne to be olde, and haue passed ouer the strength of youth.

56 Then saide I, Lord, I beseech thee, if I haue found fauour in thy sight, shewe thy seruant by whome doest thou gouerne thy workemanship?

CHAP. VI.

God hath foreseene all things in his secret counsell, and is author thereof, and hath created them for his children. 25 The felicitie of the age to come.

AND he saide vnto mee, In the beginning when the round worlde was made, and before the borders of the world were set, & before the windes blewe one against another:

2 Before the noise of thundes sounded, before the bright lightning did shine foorth, before the foundations of Paradise were layde:

3 Before the faire flowers did appeare, before the moueable powers were stablished, before the innumerable armies of Angels were gathered:

4 Before the heights of the aire were lifted vp, before the measures of the heauens were named, before the chimneis in Sion were hote:

5 Before the present yeeres were sought out, and before the affections of them that now sinne, were turned away, and they that haue layde vp the treasure of faith, were sealed,

6 Then did I purpose these things, and they were made by me alone, and by none other: by me also they shalbe ended, and by none other.

7 Then answered I, and said, What shalbe the diuision of times? or when shall be the ende of the first, and the beginning of it that followeth?

8 And he saide vnto me, From Abraham vnto Isaac, when Iacob and Esau were borne of him, Iacobs hand held fast the heele of Esau.

9 For that is the end of this world, and Iacob is the beginning of it that followeth.

10 The hande of man is betwixt the heele and the hand. Other thing, Esdras, aske thou not.

11 ¶ I answered then, and said, O Lord, Lord, if I haue found fauour in thy sight, 12 I beseeche thee, make an ende to shew thy seruant thy tokens, whereof thou shewedst me part the last night.

13 So he answered me and said, Stand vp vpon thy feete, and heare a mightie sounding voyce.

14 There shall come as an earthquake, but the place where thou standest, shall not be moued.

15 And therefore when hee speaketh, be not afraide: for of the ende shall be the word, and of the foundation of the earth shall it be vnderstood.

16 Therefore while one speaketh of them, it trembleth and is moued: for it knoweth, that it must be changed at the ende.

17 And when I had heard it, I stoode vp vpon my feete, and hearkened, and beholde, there was a voyce that spake, and the sound of it was like the sound of many waters:

18 And it sayde, Beholde, the dayes come, that I will come and inquire of them that dwell vpon the earth,

19 And when I beginne to inquire of them, who by their vnrighteousnesse haue hurt others, and when the affliction of Sion shalbe fulfilled,

20 And the world, that shall vanish away, shall be sealed, then will I shew these signes: the bookes shalbe opened before the heauen, and they shall see all it together.

21 And the children of a yeere olde shall speake with their voyces: the women with child shal bring forth vntimely children of three or foure moneths olde, and they shall liue that are raised vp.

22 Then suddenly shall the sowen places appeare as the vnsowen, and the full store houses shal suddenly be found emptie.

23 And the trumpet shall sound, and all they that heare it, shall be suddenly afraide.

24 At that time shall friends fight with friends, as with enemies, and the earth shal feare with them: the springs of the welles shal stand stil, and in three houres they shall not runne.

25 Whosoeuer remaineth from all these things that I haue tolde thee, shalbe saued, and see my saluation, and the ende of your world.

26 And the men that are receiued, shall see it: they that haue not tasted death from their birth, and the heart of the inhabitants shall be changed, and turned to another meaning.

27 For euill shall be put out, and deceit shall be quenched, 28 But faith shall flourish: corruption shall be ouercome, and the trueth which hath bene so long without fruit, shall come foorth.

29 ¶ And when he talked with me, beholde, I looked a litle vpon him before whom I stood.

30 And these words said he vnto me, I am come to shew thee the time of the night to come.

31 If thou wilt pray againe, and fast seuen daies more, I will tell thee more things, and greater then these, which I haue heard in the day.

32 For thy voyce is heard before the Highest: surely the mighty hath seene thy righteous dealing: he hath seene also thy chastitie, which thou hast kept since thy youth:

33 There-

*Gen.25.26.

53 Therefore hauing sent me to shew thee all these things, and to say vnto thee, Be of good comfort, and feare not,

54 And haste not in the vaine consideration of the first times, nor make haste to the latter times.

35 And after this I wept againe and fasted seuen dayes in like maner, that I might fulfill the three weekes, which he had appointed me.

36 And in the eight night was mine heart vexed within me againe, and I began to speake before the most High.

37 For my spirit was greatly set on fire, and my soule was in distresse, 38 And I sayd, O Lord, thou spakest expresly in the first creation (euen the first day) and commandedst *that the heauen and the earth shoulde bee made, and the worke followed thy worde.

*Gen. 1. 1.

39 And then was there the spirit, and the darknes was on euery side with silence: there was no mans voyce as yet created of thee.

40 Then commaundedst thou a bright light to come foorth out of thy treasures, that it might giue light to thy worke.

41 Vpon the second day thou createdst the heauenly ayre, and commaundedst it, that going betweene, it should make a diuision between the waters, that the one part might remaine aboue, and the other beneath.

42 Vpon the third day thou commaundedst, that the waters should be gathered together in the seuenth part of the earth: sixe partes diddest thou drie, and kept them to the intent that of these there should be that should serue thee, beeing sowen of God and tilled.

43 Assoone as thy word went forth, the worke was incontinently made.

44 For immediatly great & innumerable fruit did spring vp, and many diuers pleasures for the taste, and flowers of vnchangeable colour, and odours of a most wonderfull smell, and these things were created the third day.

45 *Vpon the fourth day thou createdst the light of the sunne, and of the moone, and the order of the starres,

*Gen. 1. 14.

46 And gauest them a charge, to doe *seruice euen vnto man that was for to be made.

*Gen. 1. 4. and 15. Ecclus. 43.

47 And vpon the fift day thou saydest vnto the seuenth part *where the waters were gathered, that it shoulde bring forth beastes, as foules and fishes: and it was so.

*Gen. 1. 20.

48 For the dumbe waters, and without life brought forth liuing things at the commandement of God, that the nations might prayse thy wonderous workes.

49 Then didst thou prepare two liuing things: the one thou calledst ‖ Behemoth, and the other thou calledst Leuiathan, ‖ Or, Enoch.

50 And diddest separate the one from the other: for the seuenth part, where the water was gathered, could not holde them.

51 Vnto Behemoth thou gauest one part, which was dried vp the third day, that hee should dwel in the same part, wherein are a thousand hilles.

52 But vnto Leuiathan thou gauest the seuenth part, that is wet, and hast prepared him to deuoure what thou wilt and when thou wilt.

53 Vpon the sixt day thou gauest commaundement vnto the earth, that before thee it shoulde bring forth beastes, cattell and creeping things.

54 And beside this Adam, whom thou madest lord ouer all the workes, which thou hast created, of him come we all, and the people also whome thou hast chosen.

55 All this haue I spoken before thee, O Lord, because thou hast created the world for our sakes.

56 As for the other people, which also come of Adam, thou hast declared them that they are nothing before thee, but be like vnto spitle, and hast compared their riches vnto a drop that falleth from a vessell.

57 And nowe, O Lorde, behold, these heathen which haue bene reputed as nothing, haue begun to be lords ouer vs, and to deuoure vs.

58 And we thy people (whom thou hast called the first borne, the onely begotten, and thy feruent louer) are giuen into their hands.

59 If the world then bee created for our sakes, why haue we not the inheritance thereof in possession? or how long shall we suffer these things?

CHAP. VII.

3 Without wickednesse none can come to felicitie. 12 God aduertiseth vs time. 28 The comming and death of Christ. 32 The resurrection and last iudgement. 43 After the which all corruption shall cease. 48 All fell in Adam. 59 The true life. 62 The mercies and goodnes of God.

AND when I had made an ende of these wordes, there was sent vnto mee an Angel, which had bene sent downe to me the nights afore.

2 And he sayde vnto mee, Vp, Esdras, and heare the words that I am come to tell thee.

3 And I sayde, Speake on, my God. Then sayde he vnto mee, The sea is set in a wide place, that it might be deepe and great,

4 But presuppose that the entrance thereof were narrow, and like the riuers,

5 Who could go into the sea to looke vpon it, and to rule it, if he went not thorowe the narrowe, how could he come into the broade?

6 There is also another thing: a citie is builded & set vpon a broad field, and is full of all good things:

7 The entrance thereof is narrowe and in a dangerous place to fall, that there is fire at the right hand, and a deepe water at the left,

8 And there is but one path betwixt them, euen betweene the fire and the water, so that there could but one man goe here.

9 If this citie were giuen vnto a man for an inheritance, if he neuer went thorowe the perill before it, how could he receiue his inheritance?

10 And I sayd, It is so, Lord. Then sayd he, So is the portion of Israel.

11 Surely for their sakes haue I made the world: & when Adam transgressed my statutes, then came this thing to passe.

12 Then were the entrances of the world made narrowe, full of sorrowe and trauaile: they are but fewe, and euill, and full of perils, and very painefull.

13 For the entrances of the fore worlde were wide and sure, and brought immortall fruit.

14 If then they that are liuing, labour not to enter by these straite, and brittle things, they cannot attaine to those things that are hid.

15 Why then disquietest thou thy selfe, seeing thou art corruptible? and why art thou moued, seeing thou art mortall?

16 And why hast thou not considered in thy minde the things to come, rather then them that are present?

*Deut.8.1.

17 Then said I, O Lord Lord, * seeing thou hast ordeined in thy Lawe, that the righteous should inherite these things, and that the vngodly should perish, 18 Should the righteous suffer straitnesse in hoping for large things? yet they that haue lined vngodly and suffred straitnesse, shall not see the large things.

19 Then he sayde vnto mee, There is no iudge more iust then God, and there is none more wise then the most High.

20 For many perish in this life, because they despise the Lawe of God that is appoynted.

21 For God hath diligently admonished such as came, so oft as they came, what they should doe to haue life, and what they should obserue, to auoyde punishment.

22 Neuertheless, they were not obedient vnto him, but spake against him, & imagined vain things, 23 And deceiued themselues by their wicked deedes, and denyed the power of the most High, and regarded not his wayes.

24 But they despised his Law, & refused his promises: they haue vnfaithfully broken his ordinances, and haue not performed his workes.

25 And therefore, Esdras, vnto the emptie are emptie things, and to the full, full things.

26 Beholde, the time shall come, that these tokens which I haue tolde thee, shall come to passe, and the bride shall appeare, & she shall come forth, and be seene that now is vnder the earth.

27 And whosoeuer shall escape these euils, hee shall see my wonders.

28 For my sonne Iesus shall appeare with those that bee with him, and they that remaine, shall reioyce within foure hundreth yeeres.

29 After these same yeres, shall my sonne Christ die, and all men that haue life.

30 And the worlde shalbe turned into the olde silence for seuen dayes, as in the fore iudgements, so that no man shall remaine.

31 But after seuen dayes, the worlde that is yet asleepe, shall bee raysed vp: and that shall die that is corrupt.

32 Then the earth shall restore those that haue slept in her, and so shall the dust those that dwell therein in silence, and the secret places shall deliuer the soules that were committed vnto them.

33 And the most High shall appeare vpon the seate of iudgement, and miseries shall vanish away, and long suffering shall haue an ende.

34 Iustice onely shall continue: the trueth shall remaine, and faith shalbe strong.

35 The worke shall follow, and the reward shall be shewed: the good deedes shall be of force, and vnrighteousnesse shall beare no more rule.

*Gene.18.23. *Exod.32.3.

36 Then sayd I, * Abraham prayed first for the Sodomites, and * Moyses for the fathers that sinned in the wildernesse, 37 And they that came after him, for Israel in the time of Achaz, and Samuel,

*2.Sam 24.17. *2.Chro.6.14.

38 And * Dauid for the destruction, * and Salomon for them that came into the Sanctuarie,

*1.King.17.21. and 18.42.45.

39 *And Elias for those that receiued raine, and for the dead that he might liue,

*2.King.19.35.

40 * And Ezechias for the people in the time of Sennacherib, and diuers others for many.

41 Euen so now, seeing vice is increased, & wickednesse aboundeth, and the righteous haue prayed for the vngodly, wherefore shall not the same effect follow also now?

42 Then he answered me, and said, This present life is not the ende: oft times honour is receiued in it: therefore haue they prayed for the weake.

43 But the day of iudgement shall be the ende of this world, and the beginning of the immortalitie to come, wherein all corruption shall cease.

44 Intemperancie shall passe away: infidelitie shall be cut off: righteousnesse shall grow vp, and the veritie shall spring vp.

45 Then shall no man be able to saue him that is destroyed, nor oppresse him that hath gotten the victorie.

46 I answered then, and said, This is my first and last saying, that it had beene better not to haue giuen the earth vnto Adam, or when it was giuen him, to haue kept him that hee should not haue sinned.

47 For what profite is it for men in this present life to be in heauinesse, and after death to feare punishment?

48 O Adam, what hast thou done? * for in that that thou hast sinned, thou art not fallen alone, but the fall also redoundeth vnto vs that come of thee. *Rom.5.18.

49 For what profite is it vnto vs, if there bee promised an immortall life, when we do the works that bring death?

50 And that an euerlasting hope should be promised vs, seeing that we betyde our selues to deadly vanitie?

51 And that there shoulde bee appointed vs dwellings of health and safetie, if wee haue lived wickedly?

52 And that the glorie of the most High should be kept to defend them which haue led a patient life, if we haue walked in the wicked wayes?

53 And that an eternal Paradise should be shewed, whose fruite remaineth incorruptible, wherein is safetie and health, if we will not enter into it?

54 (For wee haue beene conuersant in vnpleasant places.)

55 And there the faces of them, which haue absteined, should shine more then starres, if our faces be blacker then darkenes?

56 For while we liued, we did not remember when wee did vnrighteously, that we should suffer after death.

57 Then answered hee me, and said, This is the maner of the battell, which man, that is borne in the earth, shall fight, 58 That if he be ouercome, hee should suffer as thou hast sayd: but if he get the victorie, he should receiue the thing that I sayd.

59 For this is the life, whereof Moyses spake vnto the people, while he liued, saying, * Chuse thee life that thou mayest liue. *Deut.30.19.

60 Neuertheles, they beleeued him not, neither the Prophets after him, nor mee also which haue sayd vnto them.

61 That heauinesse should not so be to their destruction, as ioy should come vnto them, to whom saluation is perswaded.

62 I answered then, and sayd, I know, Lord, that the most High is called mercifull, in ỹ he hath mercy vpõ thẽ, which are not yet come to that world.

63 And that he hath pitie on those that walke in his Lawe,

64 And

*Rom.2.4 64 And that * he is patient: for he long suffereth those that haue sinned as his creatures, 65 And that he is liberal: for he wil giue as much as needeth.

66 And that he is of great mercie: for he ouercommeth in mercie those that are present, and that are past, and them which are to come.

67 For if he were not aboundant in his mercies, the world coulde not continue, nor they that haue the possession thereof.

68 He pardoneth also: for if he gaue not of his goodnesse, that they that haue done euil, might be relieued from their wickednesse, the ten thousand part of men should not remaine aliue.

69 And if he, being iudge, forgaue not those that be healed with his worde, and tooke away the multitude of sinnes, 70 There should peraduenture be very fewe left in an innumerable multitude.

CHAP. VIII.

1 The number of the godly is small. 6 The works of God are excellent. 20 Esdras prayer for him and for his people. 39 The promise of saluation to the iust. 55 The destruction of the vniust.

AND hee answered mee, saying, The most High made this worlde for many, but the worlde to come for fewe.

2 I will tel thee a similitude, O Esdras. As when thou askest the earth, it shall say vnto thee, that it giueth much earthly matter to make pottes, but litle dust that golde commeth of, so is it with the worke of this world.

*Matth.20.16. 3 * There be many created, but few shalbe saued.

4 Then answered I, and sayd, Then swallow vp the wit, O my soule, and deuoure vnderstanding.

5 For thou hast promised to heare, & thou wilt prophecie: for thou hast no longer space, but the life giuen thee.

6 O Lord, if thou suffer not thy seruant, that we may intreate thee, that thou maiest giue seed vnto our heart, & prepare our vnderstanding, that there may come fruite of it, whereby euery one which is corrupt, may liue, who can set himselfe for man?

7 For thou art alone, and we all are the workemanship of thyne hands, as thou hast said.

8 For when the body is fashioned nowe in the wombe, and thou hast giuen it members, thy creature is preserued by fire and water, and the worke created by thee, doth suffer nine moneths the creature, which is fashioned in it.

9 But the thing that conteineth and that which is conteined, shal both be preserued, and when time is come, the wombe, being preserued, deliuereth the things that grewe in it.

10 For thou hast commanded the members, euen the breastes, to giue milke vnto the fruit appointed to the breasts, 11 That the thing, which is created, may be nourished for a time, till thou disposest it to thy mercie.

12 Thou bringest it vp w thy righteousnes, nourturest it in thy law, & reformest it w thy iudgment.

13 Thou slayest it as thy creature, and giuest it life as thy worke.

14 Seeing then that thou destroyest him, which with so great labours is fashioned, it is an easie thing to appoint by thy commandement, that the thing also which is made, might be preserued.

15 Now therefore, O Lord, I wil speake (as touching men in general thou shalt rather prouide) but concerning thy people, for whose sake I am sorie, 16 And for thine inheritance for whose sake I mourne: for Israel, for whom I am wofull, and for Iacob, for whose sake I am grieued.

17 For them wil I pray before thee, as well for my selfe, as for them: for I see our faultes that dwell in the lande.

18 ¶ But I haue heard the sudden comming of the iudge, which is to come.

19 Therefore heare my voyce, & vnderstand my words which I will speake before thee. The beginning of the words of Esdras, before he was taken vp

20 O Lord, that liuest for euer, which beholdest from aboue that which is aboue, and in the ayre,

21 Whose throne is inestimable, and his glory incomprehensible, before whome the hoste of the Angels stand with trembling,

22 Whose keeping is turned in winde and fire, whose word is true, & sayings stedfast: whose commandement is strong, and gouernment terrible, 23 Whose looke drieth vp the depths, & wrath maketh the mountaines to melt away as the thing beareth witnesse.

24 Heare the prayer of thy seruant, and receiue into thine eares the petition of thy creature.

25 For while I liue, I wil speak, and so long as I haue vnderstanding, I will answere.

26 Looke not vpon the sinnes of thy people, rather then thy faithfull seruants, 27 Haue not respect vnto the wicked deedes of men, rather then to them that haue thy testimonies in afflictions.

28 Thinke not vpon those that haue walked fainedly before thee, but remember them that reuerence thy will.

29 Let it not be thy wil to destroy them, which haue liued like beastes, but looke vpon them that haue clearely taught thy Law.

30 Take not displeasure with them, which appeare worse then beastes, but loue them that alway put their trust in thy righteousnesse and glory.

31 For wee and our fathers haue all the same sickenesse: but because of vs that are sinners, thou shalt be called mercifull.

32 If therefore thou wilt haue mercie vpon vs, thou shalt bee called mercifull towardes vs which haue no works of righteousnesse.

33 For the righteous, which haue layd vp many good workes, let them receiue the reward of their owne deeds.

34 But what is man, that thou shouldest take displeasure at him? or what is this mortall generation, that thou shouldest be so grieued towardes it?

35 * For verely there is no man among them *1. King.8.46. 2. Chron.6.36.
that be borne, but he hath done wickedly, nor any that doth confesse thee, which hath not done amis.

36 For in this, O Lord, thy righteousnesse & thy goodnesse shalbe praised, if thou be mercifull vnto them, which haue not the substance of good works.

37 ¶ Then answered he me, and sayde, Some things hast thou spoken aright, and according vnto thy words it shall be.

38 For I will not verely consider the works of them, before the death, before the iudgement, before destruction:

39 But * I will reioyce in the wayes of the righ- *Gen.4.4.
teous, and I will remember the pilgrimage, the saluation and the reward that they shall haue.

40 Like as I haue spoken now, so shall it come to passe.

prayer for the wicked after this life. 35 The number of the wicked is more then of the good. 49 The Lords ingratitude. 36 Therefore they perish. 38 The vision of a woman lamenting.

141 For as the husbandmã soweth much seed vpõ the ground, and planteth many trees, & yet alway the thing ẏ is sowen, commeth not vp in time, neyther yet doth al that is planted, take root: so neither shal they al that are brought into ẏ world, be saued.

42 I answered then and sayde, If I haue founde grace, let me speake.

43 Like as the husbandmans seede perisheth, if it come not vp, and receiue not raine in due season, or if it be destroyed with too much raine:

44 So perisheth man, which is created with thine handes, & thou art called his paterne, because he is created to thine image, for whose sake thou hast made all things, and likened him vnto the husbandmans seede.

45 Be not wroth with vs, O Lord, but spare thy people, and haue mercie vpon thine inheritance: for thou wilt be mercifull vnto thy creature.

46 Then answered he me, and saide, The things present are for the present, and the things to come for such as be to come.

47 For thou art farre off that thou shouldest loue my creature aboue mee: but I haue oft times drawen nere vnto thee and vnto it, but neuer to the vnrighteous.

48 In this also thou art marueilous before the Highest:

49 In that thou hast humbled thy selfe, as it becommeth thee, and hast not iudged thy selfe worthy to boast thy selfe greatly among the righteous.

50 For many miseries & calamities remaine for them that shall liue in the latter time, because they shall walke in great pride.

51 But learne thou for thy selfe, and seeke out the glory for such as be like thee.

52 For vnto you is paradice opened: the tree of life is planted: the time to come is prepared, plenteousnesse made readie: the citie is builded, and rest is prepared, perfect goodnes and absolute wisedome.

53 The roote of euill is sealed vp from you: the weakenesse and moth is destroyed from you, and into hell flieth corruption to be forgotten.

54 Sorowes are vanished away, and in the ende is shewed the treasure of immortalitie.

55 Therefore aske thou no more questions concerning the multitude of them that perish.

56 For when they had libertie, they despised the most High: they contemned his lawe and forsooke his wayes.

57 Moreouer, they haue troden downe his righteous,

58 * Saying in their heart, that there was no God, though they knew that they should die. *Psalme 14.1. and 53.1.

59 For as the thing ẏ I haue spoken of, is made readie for you: so is thurst and paine prepared for them: for God would not that man should perish:

60 But they, after that they were created, haue defiled the Name of him ẏ made them, & are vnthankefull vnto him, which prepared life for them.

61 Therefore my iudgement is now at hand.

62 These things haue I not not shewed vnto al men, but vnto thee, and to a fewe like thee: then I answered, and said, 63 Beholde now, O Lord: thou hast shewed me the many wonders, which thou hast determined to doe in the last time, but in what time, thou hast not shewed me.

CHAP. IX.

5 All things in this world haue a beginning and an end. 10 For-

HEe answered mee then, and saide, Measure the time with it selfe, and when thou seest that one part of the tokens come to passe, which I haue told thee before,

2 Then shalt thou vnderstande that it is the time wherein the most High will beginne to visite the worlde which he made.

3 Therefore when there shalbe seene an *earthquake in the world, and an vprore of the people, *Matth.24.7.

4 Then shalt thou vnderstande that the most High spake of those things from the dayes that were before thee, euen from the begining.

5 For all that is made in the worlde, hath a beginning and an ende, and the ende is manifest.

6 So the times also of the most High haue plain beginnings in wonders, & signes, and ende in effect, and miracles.

7 And euery one that shal escape safe, and shal be deliuered by his workes, and by the faith wherein ye haue beleeued,

8 Shalbe preserued from the said perils, and shal see my saluation in my land, & within my borders: for I haue kept me holy from the world.

9 Then shall they haue pitie of themselues, which now haue abused my wayes: and they that haue cast them out despitefully, shal dwel in paines.

10 For such as in their life haue receiued benefites, and haue not knowen me,

11 But haue abhorred my law, while they were yet in libertie, and when they had yet leisure of amendmẽt, & would not vnderstand but despised it,

12 They must be taught it after death by paine.

13 And therefore be thou no more carefull to knowe how the vngodly shall be punished, but inquire howe the righteous shall be saued, and whose the worlde is, for whom it is, and when.

14 Then answered I, and said.

15 I haue afore said that which I say now & wil speake it hereafter, that there be many moe of thẽ which perish, then of them that shall be * saued, *Cha.8.3. matth.20.16.

16 As the flood is greater then a drop.

17 And he answered me, saying, As the field is, so is also the seed: as the flowers be, so are the colours also: such as the workman is such is the worke: and as the husbandmã is, so is his husbandrie: for it was the time of the world.

18 Surely when I prepared ẏ world, which was not yet made for them to dwell in that now liue, no man spake against me.

19 For then euery one obeyed, but now the maners of them that are created in this world, that is made, are corrupted by a perpetuall seede and by a Lawe, whereout they cannot rid themselues.

20 So I considered the world, and behold, there was perill, because of the deuises, that were sprung vp into it.

21 Yet when I sawe it, I spared it greatly, and haue kept me one grape of the cluster, and a plant out of a great people.

22 Let therefore the multitude perish, which are borne in vaine: and let my grape be kept, and my plant, which I haue dressed with great labour.

23 ¶ Neuertheless, if thou wilt cease seuen daies moe (but thou shalt not fast in them,

24 But shalt goe into a faire field, where no house is builded, and shalt eate onely of the floures of the of the fielde, and eate no flesh, nor drinke wine, but the flowers onely, 25 And pray vnto the most High continually) then will I come, and talke with thee.

26 So I went my way, as he had commaunded me, into the field, which is called Ardath, & there I sate among the flowers, & did eate of the herbes of the fielde, and the meate of the same satisfied me.

27 And after seuen dayes, as I sate vpon the grasse, & mine heart was vexed within me, as afore,

28 I opened my mouth and began to talke before the most High, and to say,

29 O Lord, when thou wouldest shew thy selfe
*Exod.19.9.and 24.3.deut.4.12. vnto vs, *thou declaredst thy selfe vnto our fathers in ȳ wildernes, in a place where no man dwelleth, in a barren place, when they came out of Egypt, 30 And expressly spakest vnto them, saying, Heare me, O Israel, and marke my wordes, thou seede of Iacob.

31 For beholde, I sowe my Lawe in you, that it may bring forth fruite in you, and that ye may bee honoured by it for euer.

32 But our fathers, which receiued the Lawe, kept it not, neyther obserued thine ordinances, neither did the fruit of the Law appeare, neither could it, for it was thine.

*Exod.32.28. 33 *For they that receiued it, perished because they kept not the thing that was sowen in them.

34 And lo, it is a custome when the ground receiueth seede, or the sea a ship, or a vessell meate and drinke, if that perish wherein a thing is sowen, or wherein any thing is put,

35 Likewise the thing that is sowen, or is put therein, & the things that are receiued, must perish: so the things that are receiued, do not remaine with vs: but in vs it commeth not so to passe.

36 For wee that haue receiued the Law, perish in sinne, and our heart also which receiued it.

37 But the Law perisheth not, but remaineth in his force.

38 ¶ And when I spake these things in mine
*chap.10.44. heart, I looked about me, & vpon the right side *I sawe a woman, which mourned sore, and lamented with a loude voyce, and was grieued in heart, and rent her clothes, and had ashes vpon her head.

39 Then I left my thoughtes, wherein I was occupied, and turned me vnto her, 40 And said vnto her, Wherefore weepest thou? why art thou so sory in mind?

41 And she sayd vnto me, Sir, let me alone, that I may bewayle my selfe, and increase in sorow: for I am sore vexed in my minde, & brought very lowe.

42 Then I saide vnto her, What ayleth thee? tell me.

43 And shee sayde vnto me, I thy seruant haue bene barē, and haue had no childe, hauing a husband thirtie yeeres.

44 And euery houre, and euery day these thirtie yeeres I pray to the most High day and night.

45 And after thirtie yeeres God heard me thine handmayd, and looked vpon my miserie, considered my trouble, & gaue me a sonne, and I was glad of him: so was mine husband also, & all they of my countrey, & we gaue great honor vnto ȳ Almighty.

46 And I nourished him with great trauell:

47 So when hee growe vp, and came to take a wife, I made a feast.

CHAP. X.

Esdras & the woman, that appeareth vnto him, continue lamenting.

1 When my sonne went into his chamber, hee fell downe, and dyed: we quenched the lightes, and all my neighbours rose vp to comfort me: so I rested vntill the second day at night.

2 And when they had all left off to comfort me, that I should be quiet, then I rose vp by night, and fled, and am come into this field as thou seest,

3 And am not purposed to returne into ȳ citie, but to remaine here, & neyther to eate nor drinke, but continually to mourne and fast, vntill I die.

4 Then left I my purpose wherein I was, and spake to her angerly, and layd, 5 Thou foolish woman aboue all other, seest thou not our heauines, & what commeth vnto vs? For Sion our mother is all wofull and is sore afflicted, and mourneth extremely.

6 Seeing we be all now in heauines, and make our mone (for we be all sorowfull) art thou sory for one sonne?

7 Demaund the earth, and shee shall tell thee that it is shee which ought to mourne for the fall of so many that growe vpon her.

8 For from the beginning all men are borne of her, and other shall come, and beholde, they walke almost all into destruction, and the multitude of them shall be destroyed.

9 Who should then rather mourne, shee that hath loste so great a multitude, or thou which art sorie but for one?

10 But if thou wouldest say vnto me, My mourning is not like the mourning of the earth (for I haue lost the fruit of my wombe, which I brought forth with heauines, and bare with sorowes, 11 But the earth is according to the maner of the earth, and the present multitude returneth into her as it came)

12 Then say I vnto thee, As thou hast borne with trauell, so the earth also from the beginning giueth her fruit vnto man, euen to him that laboured her.

13 Nowe therefore withholde thy sorowe in thy selfe, and beare constantly that which commeth vnto thee.

14 For if thou alloweste Gods purpose, and receiuest his counsell in time, thou shalt be commended therein.

15 Go thy way then into ȳ citie to thine husbād.

16 ¶ Then she sayd vnto me, I will not, I wil not goe into the citie, but here will I die.

17 So I cōtinued to speake more vnto her, and said, 18 Do not so, but be counselled: for how many euils hath Sion? Be of good comfort because of the sorow of Ierusalem.

19 For thou seest that our Sanctuarie is layde waste, our altar is broken downe: our temple is destroyed:

20 Our psalterion fainteth, and the song ceaseth, and our mirth is vanished away, & the light of our candlesticke is quenched, & the Arke of our couenant is taken away, and our holy things are defiled, and the Name that is called vpon ouer vs, is almost dishonoured: and our children are put to shame, and our Priests are burnt, and our Leuites are caried into captiuitie, and our virgins are defiled, and our wiues rauished, and our righteous men spoyled, and our children destroyed, and our yong men are brought in bondage, and our strong men are become weake,

21 And, which is ȳ greatest of all, Sion the seale hath lost her worthine for she is deliuered into the hands of them that hate vs.

24 And therefore shake off thy great heauines, and put away the multitude of sorowes, that the Almightie may bee mercifull vnto thee, and that the most High may giue thee rest and ease from thy labour.

25 And when I was talking with her, her face and beautie shined suddenly, and her countenance was bright, so that I was afraid of her and mused what it might be.

26 And behold, immediatly she cast out a great voyce, very fearefull, so that the earth shooke at the noyse of the woman.

27 And I looked, and beholde, the woman appeared vnto me no more: but there was a citie builded, and a place was shewed from the ground and foundation. Then was I afrayd, and cryed with a loude voyce, and sayd, Chap. 4. 1. 28 Where is Vriel the Angel* which came to me at the first? for he hath caused me to come into many and deepe considerations, and mine ende is turned into corruption, and my prayer to rebuke.

29 And as I was speaking these words, behold, he came vnto me, and looked vpon me.

30 And loe, I lay as one dead, and mine vnderstanding was altered, and he tooke me by the right hand & comforted me, and set me vpon my feete, and sayd vnto me, 31 What ayleth thee? and why is thine vnderstanding vexed? and the vnderstanding of thine heart? and wherefore art thou sorie?

Chap. 5. 20. 32 And I sayde, Because thou hast forsaken me, & I haue done* according vnto thy words: I went into the field, and there haue I seene things, and see that I am not able to expresse.

33 Then sayd he vnto me, Stand vp manly, and I will giue thee exhortation.

34 Then sayde I, Speake vnto me, my Lord, and forsake me not, least I die through rashnes.

35 For I haue seene that I knew not, and heare that I doe not know.

36 Or is mine vnderstanding deceiued, or doeth my minde, being hautie, erre?

37 Now therefore I beseech thee that thou wilt shewe thy seruant of this wonder.

38 Then he answered me, and sayd, Heare mee, and I will informe thee, & tell thee wherefore thou art afrayd: for the most High hath reuelled many secret things vnto thee.

39 He hath seene thy good purpose, that thou mourneste continually for thy people, and makest great lamentation for Sion.

40 This therefore is the vnderstanding of the vision, which appeared vnto thee a litle while agoe.

41 Thou sawest a woman mourning, and thou beganneste to comfort her:

42 But now seest thou the likenes of the woman no more, but there appeared vnto thee a citie builded.

43 And where as shee tolde thee of the death of her sonne, this is the solution.

44 This woman, which thou sawest, she is Sion: and where as she tolde thee (euen shee which thou seest nowe as a citie builded)

45 And as touching that shee sayde vnto thee, that she was barren thirtie yeeres, this was concerning that there was euen thirtie yeres wherein there was no offering offered in her.

46 But after thirtie yeres, Salomon built the city, and offered offerings: then bare the barren a sonne, 47 And where as she tolde thee, that she nourished him with labour, that was the inhabiting of Ierusalem.

48 But where as she tolde thee that her sonne, as his chance was, dyed when she came into her chamber, that is the fall that is come to Ierusalem.

49 And when thou sawest her like one that mourned for her sonne, thou beganneste to comfort her: of these things which haue chanced these are to be opened vnto thee.

50 For now the most High seeth, that thou art sory in thy minde, and because thou suffereste with all thine heart for her, hee shewed thee the clearenes of her glory, and the faireneste of her beautie.

51 And therefore I bade thee remaine in the fielde where no house was built.

52 For I knew that the most High would shew these things vnto thee.

53 Therefore I commanded thee to goe into the field, where no foundation nor building is.

54 For the worke of mans building can not stand in that place where the citie of the most High should be shewed.

55 And therefore feare not, neither let thine heart be afrayde, but goe in, and see the beautie and greatnes of the building as much as thou art able to see with thine eyes.

56 And after this shalt thou heare, as much as thine eares may comprehend.

57 For thou art blessed aboue many, and art called with the most High among the fewe.

58 But to morowat night thou shalt remaine here,

59 And the most High shall shewe thee visions of high things, which the most High will doe vnto them that dwell vpon earth, in the last dayes. So I slept the same night and another as hee had commaunded me.

CHAP. XI.

1 The vision of an egle comming foorth of the sea, and of her feathers. 37 Of a lyon comming out of the forest.

THen sawe I a dreame, and beholde, there came vp from the sea an egle, which had twelue feathered wings, and three heads.

2 And I saw and beholde, shee spred her wings ouer all the earth, and all the windes of the ayre blewe on her, and gathered themselues.

3 And I beheld, and out of her feathers grewe out other contrary feathers, and they became litle feathers and small.

4 But her heads remained still, and the head in the middes was greater then the other heades, yet rested it with them.

5 Moreouer, I sawe that the egle flewe with his feathers and reigned vpon earth, and ouer them that dwell therein.

6 And I sawe that all things vnder heauen were subiect vnto her, and no man spake against her, no not one creature vpon earth.

7 I sawe also that the egle stoode vp vpon her clawes, and spake to her feathers, saying,

8 Watch not altogether: sleepe euery one in his owne place, and watch by course.

9 But let the heads be preserued for the last.

10 Neuertheles, I saw that the voyce went not out of her heads, but from the middes of her body.

11 Then I numbred her contrary feathers, and beholde, there were eight of them.

12 And

12 And I looked, and beholde vpon the right side there arose one feather, and reigned ouer all the earth.

13 And when it had reigned, the end of it came and the place thereof appeared no more. So the next stood vp, and reigned: it continued a long time.

14 And when it had reigned, the end of it came also, and as the first, so it appeared no more.

15 Then there came a voyce vnto it, and sayde,

16 Heare thou that hast kept the earth so long: this I say vnto thee, before thou beginnest to appeare no more,

17 There shall none after thee attaine vnto thy time, neither to the halfe thereof.

18 Then arose the third and reigned as the other afore, and it appeared no more also.

19 So came it to all ỹ others one after another, so that euery one reigned, & then appeared no more.

20 Then I looked, and beholde, in processe of time, the feathers ỹ followed, stood vp on the right side, that they might rule also, and some of them ruled, but within a while they appeare no more.

21 For some of them were set vp, but ruled not.

22 After this I looked, and beholde, the twelue feathers appeared no more, nor the two wings, 23 And there was no more vpon the egles body, but two heads that rested, and sixe wings.

24 Then sawe I also that two wings diuided themselues from the sixe, and remained vnder the heade, that was vpon the right side: for the foure continued in their place.

25 So I looked, and beholde, the vnderwings thought to set vp themselues, and to haue the rule.

26 Then was there one set vp, but shortly it appeared no more.

27 And the second were sooner gone then ỹ first.

28 Then I beheld, and loe, the two that remained, thought also in themselues to reigne.

29 And when they so thought, beholde, there awaked one of the heads ỹ were at rest, which was in the middest: for that was greater then the two.

30 And then I sawe, that the two heads were ioyned therewith, 31 And behod, the head was turned with them that were with it, and did eate vp the two vnderwings that would haue reigned.

32 But this head put the whole earth in feare & bare rule in it, ouer all those that dwelt vpon earth with much labour, and it had the gouernance of the world, more then all the wings that had bene.

33 After this I looked, and behold, the head that was in the middes suddenly appeared no more, as did the wings.

34 But the two heads remained, which also ruled likewise vpon earth, and ouer those ỹ dwelt therein.

35 And I beheld, and lo the head vpon the right side deuoured it that was vpon the left side.

36 ¶ Then I heard a voyce which said vnto me, Looke before thee, and consider the thing that thou seest.

37 So I sawe, and beholde as it were a lyon that roareth, running hastily out of the wood: and I saw that he sent out a mans voyce vnto the egle, and spake and sayde,

38 Heare thou, I will talke with thee, and the most High shall say vnto thee,

39 Art not thou that that of the foure beastes remained, whome I made to reigne in my world, that by them the ende of times might come,

40 And the fourth is come, and hath ouercome all the beastes that were past, and hath power ouer the world with great feare: and ouer the whole compasse of the earth w most wicked oppression, & ỹ dwelleth so long time in all the world with deceit?

41 For thou hast not iudged ỹ earth with truetha

42 Seeing thou hast troubled the meeke, thou hast hurt the peaceable, and thou hast loued lyers, and destroyed the dwellings of them that brought foorth fruite, and hast cast down the walles of such as did thee no harme.

43 Therefore is thy wrongfull dealing come vp vnto the most High, & thy pride vnto the Mightie, 44 The most High also hath looked vpon the proude times, and beholde, they are ended, and their abominations are fulfilled.

45 Therefore appeare no more, thou egle, nor thine horrible wings, nor thy wicked feathers, nor thy malicious heads, and thy wicked clawes, nor all thy vaine body, 46 That all the earth may be refreshed, & come againe as one deliuered from thy violence, and that she may hope for the iudgement and mercie of him that made her.

CHAP. XII.

The declaration of the former visions.

AND when the lyon spake these wordes to the egle, I saw,

2 And beholde, the head that had the vpper hand, appeared no more, neither did ỹ foure wings appeare any more, that came to it, and set vp themselues to reigne, whose kingdome was small and ful of vproares.

3 And I sawe, and beholde, they appeared no more, and the whole body of the egle was burnt, so that the earth was in great feare. Thē I awaked out of the trouble and trance of my minde, and from the great feare, and sayd vnto my spirit,

4 Lo, this hast thou done vnto me in that thou searchest out the wayes of the most High.

5 Loe, yet am I wearie in my minde, and very weake in my spirit, and litle strength is there in me, for the great feare that I receiued this night.

6 Therefore now I will beseech the most High that he will comfort me vnto the end.

7 And I sayd, O Lorde, Lorde, if I haue founde grace before thy sight, & if I am iustified with thee before many other, & if my praier in deed be come vp before thy face, 8 Comfort me, and shewe me thy seruant the interpretation and difference of this horrible sight, that thou mayest perfectly comfort my soule.

9 Seeing thou hast iudged me worthie to shew me the last times.

10 ¶ Then he said vnto me, This is the interpretation of this vision, 11 The egle, whome thou sawest come vp from the sea, is the *kingdome which was seene in the vision of thy brother Daniel. *Dan. 7.7.

12 But it was not expounded vnto him: therefore now I declare it vnto thee.

13 Behold, the dayes come, that there shall rise vp a kingdome vpon the earth, and it shall be feared about all kingdomes that were before it.

14 In it shall twelue Kings reigne one after another, 15 Whereof the second shal begin and reigne, and shall haue more time then the twelue.

16 And this doe the twelue wings signifie which thou sawest.

17 As for the voyce which thou hearkenest speake, and that thou saweſt not goe out from the heads, but from the middes of the bodie thereof, this is the interpretation, 18 That after the time of that kingdome there ſhall arise great ſtrife, and it ſhall bee in danger to fall, but it ſhall not then fall, but ſhall bee reſtored againe to his beginning.

19 Concerning the eight vnderwings, which thou saweſt hang vnto her wings, this is the interpretation, 20 In him ſhall arise eight Kings, whoſe time ſhall be but ſmall, and their yeeres ſwift, and two of them ſhall periſh.

21 But when the mid time commeth, there ſhalbe foure kept a time, whiles his time beginneth to come, that it may be ended, but two ſhalbe kept vnto the end.

22 And where as thou saweſt three heads reſting, this is the interpretation,

23 In his laſt dayes ſhall the moſt High raiſe vp three kingdomes, & ſhal call againe many things into them, & they ſhal haue ye dominion of the earth,

24 And of thoſe that dwell therein, with much griefe aboue all thoſe that were before them: therefore are they called the heads of the egle.

25 For they ſhall accompliſh his wickedneſſe, and ſhall finiſh his laſt ende.

26 And whereas thou saweſt that the great head appeared no more, it ſignifieth that one of them ſhall die vpon his bed, and yet with paine.

27 For the two that remained, the ſworde ſhall deuoure them.

28 For ye ſword of the one, ſhal deuoure ye other: but at the laſt he ſhall fall by the ſword himſelfe.

29 And whereas thou saweſt two vnderwings, that went off toward the head, which was on the right ſide, this is the interpretation,

30 Theſe are they whome the moſt High hath preſerued for their end, whoſe kingdome is litle, and full of trouble as thou saweſt,

31 And the lyon whom thou saweſt riſing vp out of the wood and roaring, and ſpeaking vnto the egle, and rebuking her for her vnrighteouſneſſe with all the wordes that thou haſt heard, 32 This is the winde which the moſt High hath kept for them, and for their wickedneſſe vnto the ende, and hee ſhall reprooue them, and caſt before them their ſpoyles.

33 For he ſhall ſet them aliue in the iudgement, and ſhall rebuke them and correct them.

34 For he will deliuer the reſidue of my people by affliction, which are preſerued vpon my borders, and he ſhall make them ioyfull, vntil the comming of the day of iudgement, whereof I haue ſpoken vnto thee from the beginning.

35 This is the dreame that thou saweſt, and theſe are the interpretations.

36 Thou onely haſt bene meete to knowe this ſecrete of the moſt High.

37 Therefore write all theſe things that thou haſt ſeene in a booke and hide them, 38 And teach them the wiſe of the people, whoſe hearts thou knoweſt may comprehend and keepe theſe ſecretes.

39 But waite thou here yet ſeuen dayes more, that it may bee ſhewed thee what ſoeuer it pleaſeth the moſt High to declare vnto thee: and with that hee tooke his way.

40 And when all the people perceiued, that the ſeuen dayes were paſt, and I not come againe into the citie, they gathered them all together, from the leaſt vnto the moſt, and came vnto mee, and ſpake vnto me, ſaying, 41 What haue we offended thee? or what euill haue we done againſt thee, that thou forſakeſt vs, and ſitteſt in this place?

42 For of all the people thou only art left vs as a grape of ye vine, & as a candle in a darke place, and as an hauen or ſhippe preſerued from the tempeſt.

43 Are not the euils which are come vnto vs, ſufficient?

44 If thou then forſake vs, howe much better had it bene for vs, that wee had bene burnt alſo as Sion was burnt?

45 For wee are no better then they that dyed there: and they wept with a loude voyce. Then anſwered I them, and ſaid, 46 Be of good comfort, O Iſrael, and be not heauie, thou houſe of Iaakob.

47 For ye moſt High hath you in remembrance, and the Almightie hath not forgotten you in temptation.

48 As for me I haue not forſaken you, neither am I departed frō you, but am come into this place to pray for ye deſolation of Sion, that I might ſeeke mercie for the lowe eſtate of your Sanctuarie.

49 And nowe goe your way home euery man, and after theſe dayes will I come vnto you.

50 So the people went their way into the citie, as I commanded them:

51 But I remained ſtill in the field ſeuen dayes, as he had commanded me, & did eate onely of the flowres of the field, and had my meat of the herbes in thoſe dayes.

CHAP. XIII.

The viſion of a winde comming foorth of the ſea, 3 which became a man 5 His propertie and power againſt his enemies. 21 The declaration of this viſion.

AND after the ſeuen dayes I dreamed a dreame by night.

2 And beholde, there aroſe a winde from the ſea, and it mooued all the waues thereof.

3 And I looked, and beholde, there was a mightie man with the thouſands of heauen: and when he turned his countenance to looke, all the things trembled that were ſeene vnder him.

4 And when the voyce went out of his mouth, all they burned that heard his voyce, as the earth faileth when it feeleth the fire.

5 After theſe things I ſawe, and beholde, there was gathered together a multitude of men out of number, from the foure windes of the heauen, to fight againſt the man that came out from the ſea.

6 And I looked, and beholde, he graued himſelfe a great mountaine, and flewe vp vpon it.

7 But I would haue ſeene the countery or place whereout the hill was graued, and I could not.

8 I ſaw after theſe things, and beholde, all they which came to fight againſt him, were ſore afraid, and yet they durſt fight.

9 Neuertheleſſe when he ſawe the fiercenesſe of the multitude that came, hee lifted not vp his hand, for he held no ſword nor any inſtrument of war,

10 But onely, as I ſaw, he ſent out of his mouth, as it had bene a blaſt of fire, and out of his lips the wind of the flame, & out of his tongue he caſt out ſparkes and ſtormes.

11 And

11 And they were all mixt together, euen this blast of fire, the winde of the flame, and the great storme, and fell with violence vpon the multitude, which was prepared to fight, and burnt them vp all, so that of the innumerable multitude there was nothing seene, but only dust, & smell of smoke. When I saw this, I was afrayd.

12 ¶ Afterwarde sawe I the same man come downe from the mountaine, and calling vnto him another peaceable multitude.

13 And there came many vnto him, some with ioyfull countenance, and some with sadde: some of them were bound, and some brought of them that were offered: and I was sicke through great feare, and awaked, and sayd, 14 Thou hast shewed thy seruant these wonders from the beginning, and hast counted mee worthy to receiue my prayer.

15 Shew mee now therefore the interpretation of this dreame.

16 For thus I consider in mine vnderstanding, woe vnto them that shall be left in those dayes, and much more woe vnto them that are not left behinde.

17 For they that were not left, were in beauines.

18 Now vnderstande I the things that are layed vp in the latter dayes, which shall come both vnto them, and to those that are left behinde.

19 Therefore are they come into great perils and many necessities, as these dreames declare.

20 Yet is it easier, that hee that is in danger, should fal into these, and foresee the things to come hereafter, then to passe away as a cloude out of the worlde.

21 ¶ Then answered he me, and sayd, The interpretation of the vision wil I shewe thee, and I will open to thee the thing that thou hast required.

22 Whereas thou hast spoken of them that are left behinde, this is the interpretation, 23 He that shall beare the danger in that time, hee shall keepe himselfe. They that be fallen into danger, are such as haue workes & faith toward the most Mightie.

24 Know therefore, that they which be left behinde, are more blessed then they that be dead.

25 These are the meanings of the vision. Where as thou sawest a man comming vp from the middes of the sea, 26 The same is he whome the most High hath kept a great season, who by his owne selfe shall deliuer his creature, and hee shall order them that are left behinde.

27 ¶ And where as thou sawest, that out of his mouth there came a blast with fire and storme,

28 And that he neither held sword nor weapon, but that by his fiercenesse hee destroyed the whole multitude, that came to fight against him, this is the interpretation,

29 Beholde, the dayes come that the most High will begin to deliuer them that are vpon the earth:

30 And he shall astonish the hearts of them that dwel vpon the earth:

31 And one shall prepare to fight against another, citie against citie, and place against place, * and nation against nation, and realme against realme. *Mat. 24. 7.

32 When this commeth to passe, then shall the tokens come, that I shewed thee before, and then shall my Sonne be reuelled, whom thou sawest goe vp as a man.

33 And when al the people heare his voice, euery man shall in their owne land leaue the battell that they haue one against another.

34 And an innumerable multitude shall be gathered as one, as they that be willing to come, and to fight against him.

35 But he shall stand vpon the toppe of mount Sion.

36 And Sion shall come, and shall be shewed to all, being prepared and builded, as thou sawest the hill grauen forth without any hands.

37 And this my Sonne shall rebuke the wicked inuentions of those nations, which for their wicked life are fallen into the tempest, 38 And into torments like to flame, whereby they shalbe tormented: and without any labour will he destroy them, euen by the Lawe, which is compared vnto the fire.

39 And whereas thou sawest that hee gathered another peaceable people vnto him, 40 Those are the ten tribes which were caried away captiues out of their owne land, *in the time of Oseas the King, whom Salmanasar the King of the Assyrians tooke captiue, and caried them beyond the riuer: so were they brought into an other lande. *2. King. 17. 3.

41 But they tooke this counsell to them selues, that they would leaue the multitude of the heathen, and goe forth into a further countrey, where neuer mankinde dwelt,

42 That they might there keepe their statutes, which they neuer kept in their owne lande.

43 And they entred in at the narrowe passages of the riuer Euphrates.

44 For the most High then shewed them signes, *and stayed the springs of the flood till they were passed ouer. *Exod. 14. 21. iosh. 3. 15, 16.

45 For thorowe the countrey there was a great iourney, euen of a yeere and an halfe, and the same region is called ‖ Arsareth. ‖ Or, Arzareth.

46 Then dwelt they there vntill the latter time: and when they come foorth againe, 47 The most High shall holde still the springs of the riuer againe that they may goe thorowe: therefore sawest thou the multitude peaceable.

48 But they that be left behinde of thy people, are those that be found within my borders.

49 Now when he destroyeth the multitude of the nations that are gathered together, he shall defend the people that remaine, 50 And then shall he shew great wonders vnto them.

51 Then saide I, O Lorde, Lord, shew me this, wherefore haue I seene the man comming vp from the middes of the sea?

52 And he sayd vnto me. As thou canst neither seeke out, nor knowe these things, that are in the deepe of the sea, so can no man vpon earth see my Sonne, or those that be with him, but in the time of that day.

53 This is the interpretation of the dreame which thou sawest, & whereby thou onely art lightened.

54 For thou hast forsaken thine owne Law, and applied thy diligence vnto mine, and sought it.

55 Thy life hast thou ordered in wisedome, and hast called vnderstanding thy mother.

56 Therefore haue I shewed thee the rewardes with the most High: and after three other dayes I will

I will speake other things vnto thee, and will declare vnto thee great and wonderous things.

57 Then went I forth vnto the field, glorifying and praysing the most High for the wonders which he did in time, 58 Which he gouerneth, & such things as come in their seasons: and there I sate three dayes.

CHAP. XIIII.

3 How God appeared to Moses in the bush. 10 All things decline to age. 15 The latter times worse then the former. 29 The ingratitude of Israel. 35 The resurrection and iudgement.

VPon the third day I sate vnder an Oke, and beholde, there came forth a voyce vnto mee out of the bush, and sayd, Esdras, Esdras.

2 And I sayd, Here am I, Lorde, and stoode vp vpon my feete.

*Exod.3.2,&. 3 Then sayde he vnto me, *In the bush I reuealed my selfe, and spake vnto Moses, when my people serued in Egypt:

4 And I sent him, and led my people out of Egypt, and brought him vpon the mount Sinai, and I helde him with me a long season,

5 And I tolde him many wonders, and shewed him the secrets of the times and the ende, and commanded him, saying,

6 These wordes shalt thou declare, and these shalt thou hide.

7 And nowe I say vnto thee, that thou lay vp in thine heart the signes that I haue shewed, and the dreames that thou hast seene, and the interpretations which thou hast heard.

8 For thou shalt be taken away from all, and thou shalt remaine henceforth with my counsel, & with such as be like thee, vntill the times be ended.

9 For the world hath lost his youth, and the times begin to waxe olde.

10 For the world is diuided into twelue partes, and ten partes of it are gone already, and halfe of the tenth part.

11 And there remaineth that which is after the halfe of the tenth part.

12 Therefore set thine house in order, & reforme thy people, and comfort such of them as be in trouble, and now renounce the corruption.

13 Let goe from thee mortall thoughtes: cast away from thee the burdens of man, & put off now the weake nature, 14 And set aside thy most grieuous thoughtes, and haste thee to depart from these times.

15 For greater euils then those which thou hast seene now, shall they commit.

16 For the weaker that the worlde is by reason of age, the more shall the euils bee increased vpon them that dwell therein.

17 For the trueth is fled farre away, and lies are at hand: for now hasteth the vision to come, that thou hast seene.

18 ¶ Then answered I, and sayd before thee,

19 Behold, O Lord, I wil goe as thou hast commanded me, and reforme the people, which are present: but they that shall be borne afterwarde, who shall admonish them?

20 Thus the world is set in darkenesse, and they that dwell therein, are without light.

21 For thy Lawe is burnt, therefore no man knoweth the things that are done of thee, or the workes that shalbe done.

22 But if I haue found grace before thee, sende the holy Ghost into mee, and I will write al that hath bene done in the world since the beginning, which was written in thy Law, that men may finde the path, and that they which will liue in the latter dayes, may liue.

23 And he answered me, saying, Goe, and gather the people, and say vnto them, that they seeke thee not for fourtie dayes,

24 But prepare thee many boxe tables, and take with thee these fiue, Sarea, Dabria, Selemia, Ecanus and Asiel, which are ready to write swiftly, 25 And come hither, and I will light a candle of vnderstanding in thine heart, which shall not be put out till the things bee performed which thou shalt begin to write.

26 And then shalt thou declare some things openly vnto the perfite men, and some things shalt thou shew secretly vnto the wise: to morowe this houre shalt thou begin to write.

27 Then went I foorth, as he commanded me, and gathered all the people together, and sayd,

28 Heare these wordes, O Israel,

29 *Our fathers at the beginning were strangers *Ge.47.4. in Egypt, from whence they were delinered, 30 And receiued y Law of life, *which they kept *Acts 7.53. not, which ye also haue transgressed after them.

31 Then was the lande, euen the land of Sion parted among you by lot: but your fathers and yee also haue done vnrighteously, & haue not kept the wayes which the most High commaunded you.

32 And for so much as he is a righteous Iudge, he tooke from you in time the thing that hee had giuen you.

33 And now are yee here, and your brethren among you.

34 Therefore if so be that you will subdue your owne vnderstanding, & reforme your heart, ye shal be kept aliue, & after death shall ye obteine mercie.

35 For after death shall the iudgement come, when we shal liue againe: and then shall the names of the righteous be manifest, and the workes of the vngodly shalbe declared.

36 Let no man therefore come now vnto me, nor seeke me these fourtie dayes.

37 So I tooke the fiue men, as he commaunded me, and we went into the field, and remained there, 38 The next day, beholde, a voyce called mee, saying, Esdras, * open thy mouth, and drinke that I giue thee to drinke. *Ezech.3.2.

39 Then opened I my mouth, and beholde, hee reached me a full cup, which was full as it were with water: but the colour of it was like fire.

40 And I tooke it, and dranke, and when I had drunke it, mine heart bad vnderstanding, and wisedome grewe in my brest: for my spirite was strengthened in memorie, 41 And my mouth was opened, & shut no more.

42 The most High gaue vnderstanding vnto the fiue men, that they wrote the high things of the night, which they vnderstood not.

43 But in the night they did eate bread, but I spake by day, and helde not my tongue by night, 44 In fourtie dayes they wrote two hundreth and foure bookes.

45 And when the fourtie daies were fulfilled, the most High spake, saying, The first that thou hast written, publish openly, that the worthy and vnworthy may reade it.

46 But keepe the seuentie last, that thou mayest giue them to the wise among thy people,

47 For in them is the veine of vnderstanding, and and the fountaine of wisedome, and the riuer of knowledge: and I did so.

CHAP. XV.

1 The prophecie of Esaias is certaine. 5 The sinfull that shall come on the worlde. 9 The Lorde will auenge the innocent blood. 12 Egypt shall lament. 16 Sedition, 20 And punishment vpon the Kings of the earth. 24 Cursed are they that sinne. 29 Troubles and warres vpon the whole earth. 53 God is the reuenger of his elect.

BEholde, speake thou in the eares of my people the wordes of prophecie, which I wil put in thy mouth, saith the Lord:

2 And cause them to be written in a letter: for they are faithfull and true.

3 Feare not the imaginations against thee: let not the vnfaithfulnes of the speakers trouble thee, that speake against thee.

4 For euery vnfaithfull shall die in his vnfaithfulnesse.

5 Beholde, saith the Lorde, I will bring plagues vpon all the worlde, the sworde, famine, death, and destruction:

6 Because that iniquitie hath fully polluted all the earth, and their wicked workes are fulfilled.

7 Therefore, saith the Lorde, I will holde my tongue no more for their wickednes, (they do vngodly) neither will I suffer them in the things that they doe wickedly.

*Rom. 6. 10. & 19. 2.

8 Behold, * the innocent and righteous blood cryeth vnto me, and the soules of the iust crie continually.

9 I will surely auenge them, saith the Lord, and receiue vnto me all the innocent blood from among them.

10 Beholde, my people is led as a flocke to the slaughter: I will not suffer them now to dwell in the land of Egypt, 11 But I will bring them out with a mightie hand, and a stretched out arme, and smite it with plagues, as afore, and wil destroy all the land therof.

12 Egypt shall mourne, and the foundations thereof shalbe smitten with the plague and punishment, that God shall bring vpon it.

13 The plowmen that till the grounde, shall mourne: for their seedes shall faile through the blasting and haile, and by an horrible starre.

14 Wo to the world, & to them that dwel therin.

15 For the sword, and their destruction draweth neere, and one people shall stand vp to fight against another with swordes in their hands.

16 For there shall be sedition among men, and one shall inuade another: they shall not regarde their King, and the princes shall measure their doings by their power.

17 A man that desire to go into a citie, and shal not be able.

18 Because of their pride the cities shalbe troubled, the houses shalbe afraide, men shall feare.

19 A man shall haue no pitie vpon his neighbour, but shall destroy their houses with the sword, and their goods shall be spoyled for lacke of bread, and because of great trouble.

20 Behold, saith God, I cal together al the Kings of the earth to reuerence me, which are from the East, and from the South, from the East, and from Libanus, to turne vpon them, and to repay the things that they haue done to them.

21 As they doe vnto my chosen, so will I doe also, and recompense them in their bosome: thus saith the Lord God, 22 My right hand shal not spare the sinners, neither shall the sworde cease from them, that shed innocent blood vpon earth.

23 The fire is gone out from his warth, and hath consumed the foundations of the earth, and the sinners like the strawe, that is kindled.

24 Woe to them that sinne, and keepe not my commandements, saith the Lord.

25 I will not spare them: depart, O children, from the power: defile not my Sanctuarie.

26 For the Lord knoweth al them that sinne against him, and therefore deliuereth he them vnto death and destruction.

27 For nowe are the plagues come vpon the world, and yee shall remaine in them: for God will not deliuer you, because ye haue sinned against him.

28 Beholde, an horrible vision commeth from the East, 29 Where generations of Dragons of Arabia shall come out with many charets, and the multitude of them shall be caried as the winde vpon the earth, that all they which heare them, may feare and tremble.

30 Euen the Carmanians raging in wrath, shall goe foorth as the bores of the forest, and shall come with great power, and stand against them in battel, and shall destroy a portion of the lande of the Assyrians.

31 But after this shal the dragons haue ỹ vpper hād, & remember their nature, & shal turne about, and conspire to consume them with a great power.

32 Then these shall be troubled, and keepe silence by their power, and shall flee.

33 From the land of the Assyrians shall the enemie besiege them, and consume some of them, & in their hoste shall be feare and dread, and strife among their kings.

34 Behold cloudes from the East, and from the North vnto the South, & they are very horrible to looke vpon, full of wrath and storme.

35 They shall smite one vpon another, and they shall smite downe a great multitude of starres vpon the earth, euen their own starre, and the blood shal be from the sworde vnto the belly.

36 And the dongue of man vnto ỹ Camels litter.

37 And there shall be great fearefulnes & trembling vpon earth, and they that see the wrath, shall be afraide, and a trembling shall come vpon them.

38 And then there shall come great stormes from the South, and from the North, and part from the West.

39 And from the East shal winds arise and shal open it with ỹ cloude, which he raised vp in wrath, and the starre, rayed to feare the East and West winde, shall be destroyed.

40 And the great and mightie cloudes shall be lift vp full of wrath, and the starre, that they may make all the earth afraid, and them that dwel therein, and that they may powre out ouer euery hie place, and lifted vp, an horrible constellation, 41 As fire and haile, and flying swordes, and many waters, that all fieldes may be full, and all riuers with the abundance of great waters.

42 And they shall breake downe the cities, and walles, and mountaines, and hilles, and the trees of the wood, and the grasse of the medowes, and their corne.

43 And they shall goe with a streight course vnto Babylon, and make it afraide.

44 They

44 They shall come to her, and besiege her, and shal powre forth the constellation, and al the wrath against her: then shall the dust and smoke goe vp vnto the heauen, and all they that be about her, shall bewayle her.

45 And they that remaine vnder her, shall doe seruice vnto them, that haue put her in feare.

46 ¶ And thou Asia, that art partaker of the hope of Babylon, and the glory of her person,

47 Woe vnto thee, O wretch, because thou hast made thy selfe like vnto her, and hast decked thy daughters in whoredome, that they might please and glory in thy louers, which haue alway desired to commit whoredome with thee.

48 Thou hast followed her that is hated in all her workes, and in her inuentions: therefore saith God,

49 I will send plagues vpon thee, widowhood, pouertie, and famine, and the sword, and pestilence, to waste thine houses with destruction and death.

50 And the glory of thy power shall bee dryed vp, as a flower when the heate riseth, that is sent vpon thee.

51 Thou shalt bee sicke as a poore wife that is plagued and beaten of women, so that the mightie and the louers shall not be able to receiue thee.

52 Would I thus hate thee, saith the Lord,

53 If thou hadst not alway slaine my chosen, exalting the stroke of thine handes, and laide ouer their death, when thou wast drunken,

54 Set forth the beautie of thy countenance:

55 The reward of thy whoredome shalbe in thy bosome: therefore shalt thou receiue a reward.

56 As thou hast done vnto my chosen, saith the Lorde, so will God doe vnto thee, and will deliuer thee vnto the plague.

57 And thy children shal die for hunger, and thou shalt fall by the sword, and thy cities shall be broken downe, and all thy men shall fall by the sword in the field.

58 And they that be in the mountaines shal die of hunger, and eate their owne flesh, & drinke their owne blood for want of bread and thirst of water.

59 And thou, as vnhappie, shalt come thorowe the sea, and receiue plagues againe.

60 In the passage they shal cast downe the slaine citie, and shall roote out one part of thy land, and consume the portion of thy glory, and shal returne to her that was destroyed.

61 When thou shalt be cast downe, thou shalt be to them as stubble, & they shalbe to thee as fire.

62 And they shall destroy thee, and thy cities, thy land, and thy mountaines: all thy woods, and all thy fruitefull trees shall they burne with fire.

63 Thy children shall they carie away captiue, and shall spoyle thy substance, and marre the beau-tie of thy face.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Against Babylon, Asia, and Egypt, and Syria. 18 38 Of the euils that shall come vpon the worlde, with admonition how to governe themselues in afflictions. 54 To acknowledge their sinnes, and to commit themselues to the Lord. 55 Whose might, the proud riche and iustice is to be reuerenced.

WOe to thee, Babylon and Asia: wo to thee,
Egypt and Syria.

2 Gird your selues with sacke and haire cloth, and mourne your children, and be sorie: for your destruction is at hand.

3 A sworde is sent vnto you, and who wil turne it backe? a fire is sent among you, and who will quench it?

4 Plagues are sent vnto you, and who can driue them away?

5 May any man driue away an hungry lyon in the wood? or quench the fire in stubble when it hath once begun to burne? may one turne againe the arrowe, that is shot of a strong archer?

6 The mightie Lorde sendeth the plagues, and who can driue them away? the fire is gone foorth in his wrath, and who can quench it?

7 Hee shall cast lightnings, and who shall not feare? he shall thunder, and who shal not be afraid?

8 The Lord shall threaten, and who shall not vtterly bee broken in pieces at his presence? the earth quaketh, and the foundation thereof: the sea ariseth vp with waues from the deepe, and the waues thereof are troubled, and the fishes thereof, before the Lord, and the glorie of his power.

9 For strong is his right hand, that bendeth the bowe: his arrowes that hee shooteth are sharpe, and shall not misse, when they begin to be shot into the endes of the worlde.

10 Beholde, the plagues are sent, and shall not turne againe, till they come vpon earth.

11 The fire is kindled, and shall not be put out, till it consume the foundations of the earth.

12 As an arrowe which is shot of a mightie archer, returneth not backeward, so the plagues that shall be sent vpon earth, shall not turne againe.

13 Woe is mee, woe is me: who will deliuer me in those dayes?

14 The beginning of sorowes and great mourning: the beginning of famine, and great death: the beginning of warres, and the powers shal feare: the beginning of euils, & all shall tremble. What shall I doe in these things, when the plagues come?

15 Beholde, famine and plague, and trouble, and anguish are sent as scourges for amendment.

16 But for all these things they will not turne from their wickednesse, nor be alway mindefull of the scourges.

17 Beholde, vitailes shalbe so good cheape vpon earth, that they shall thinke themselues to be in good case: but then shall the euils bud foorth vpon earth, euen the sword, the famine & great confusio.

18 For many of them that dwell vpon earth, shall perish with famine, and the other that escape
the famine, shall the sword destroy.

19 And the dead shalbe cast out as dongue, and there shall be no man to comfort them: for the earth shalbe wasted, & the cities shalbe cast downe.

20 There shalbe no man left to till the earth, and to sowe it: the trees shall giue fruite, but who shall gather them?

21 The grapes shalbe ripe, but who shall treade them? for all places shalbe desolate, so that one man shall desire to see another, or to heare his voyce.

22 For of one citie there shalbe tenne left, and two of the field, which shall hide themselues in the thicke woods, and in the cleftes of rockes.

23 As when there remaine three or foure oliues in the place where oliues growe, or among other trees,

24 Or as when a vineyard is gathered, there are left some grapes of them that diligently sought thorow the vineyard:

25 So in those dayes there shalbe three or foure left by them that search their houses with the sworde.

26 And the earth shalbe left waste, and the fields thereof

thereof ſhall waxe olde, and her wayes and all her pathes ſhall growe full of thornes, becauſe no man ſhall trauell therethrough.

27 The virgins ſhall mourne, hauing no bridegromes: the women ſhall make lamentation, hauing no husbandes: their daughters ſhall mourne, hauing no helpers.

28 In the waires ſhall their bridegromes be deſtroyed, & their husbands ſhal periſh with famine.

29 But, yee ſeruantes of the Lorde, heare theſe things, and marke them.

30 Beholde the word of the Lord, receiue it: beleeue not the god of whome the Lorde ſpeaketh: beholde, the plagues draw neere, and are not ſlacke.

31 As a trauelling woman which in the ninth moneth bringeth forth her ſonne, when the houre of birth is come, two or three houres afore ỹ paines come vpon her bodie, and when the childe commeth to the birth, they tarie not a whit:

32 So ſhall not the plagues be ſlacke to come vpon the earth, and the world ſhall mourne, and ſorrowes ſhall come vpon it on euery ſide.

33 O my people, heare my worde: make you ready to the battell, and in the troubles be euen as ſtrangers vpon earth.

34 Hee that ſelleth, let him be as he that fleeth his way: and he that bieth, as one that will loſe.

35 Who ſo occupieth merchandiſe, as hee that winneth not: and he that buildeth, as he that ſhall not dwell therein:

36 He that ſoweth, as one that ſhall not reape: he that cutteth the vine, as he that ſhall not gather the grapes:

37 They that martie, as they that ſhall get no children: and they that martie not, ſo as the widdowes.

38 Therefore, they that labour, labour in vaine.

39 For ſtrangers ſhall reape their fruites, and ſpoyle their goods, and ouerthrow their houſes, and take their children captiue: for in captiuitie and famine ſhall they get their children.

40 And they that occupie their merchandiſe with couetouſneſſe, the more they decke their cities, their houſes, their poſſeſſions, and their owne perſons, 41 So much more wil I bee angrie againſt them for their ſinnes, ſaith the Lord.

42 As a whore enuieth an honeſt and vertuous woman,

43 So ſhall righteouſneſſe hate iniquitie, when ſhe decketh her ſelfe, and ſhall accuſe her openly, when he ſhall come that ſhall bridle the autor of all ſinne vpon earth.

44 And therefore be ye not like thereunto, nor to the workes thereof: for or euer it be long, iniquitie ſhall be taken away out of the earth, and righteouſneſſe ſhall reigne among you.

45 Let not the ſinner ſay, that he hath not ſinned: for coales of fire ſhall burne vpon his heade, which ſaith, I haue not ſinned before the Lord God and his glorie.

[b] Luk. 16. 18.

46 Beholde, the Lord * knoweth all the works of men, their imaginations, their thoughts and their hearts.

[a] Gen. 1. 1.

47 *For aſſoone as hee ſayde, Let the earth bee made, it was made: let the heauen be made, and it was created.

48 By his word were the ſtarres eſtabliſhed, and he * knoweth the number of them.

[c] Pſal. 147. 4.

49 Hee ſearcheth the depth, and the treaſures thereof: he hath meaſured the ſea, and what it conteineth.

50 Hee hath ſhut the ſea in the mids of the waters, and with his worde hath hee hanged the earth vpon the waters.

51 Hee ſpreadeth out the heauens like a vawte: vpon the waters hath he founded it.

52 In the deſert hath he made ſprings of water, and pooles vpon the toppe of the mountaines, to powre out floodes from the high rockes to water the earth.

53 He made man, and put his heart in the mids of the body, and gaue him breath, life and vnderſtanding.

54 And the Spirite of the almightie God, which made all things, & hath ſearched all the hid things in the ſecrets of the earth, 55 He knoweth your inuentions, and what yee imagine in your heart when yee ſinne and woulde hide your ſinnes.

56 Therefore hath the Lorde ſearched & ſought out all your workes, and will put you all to ſhame.

57 And when your ſinnes are brought foorth before men, ye ſhalbe confounded, and your owne ſinnes ſhall ſtand as your accuſers in that day.

58 What will ye doe, or how will ye hide your ſinnes before God and his Angels?

59 Beholde, God him ſelfe is the iudge: feare him: ceaſe from your ſinnes, and forget your iniquities, and meddle no more from hence foorth with them: ſo ſhal God leade you forth, and deliuer you from all trouble.

60 For beholde, the heart of a great multitude is kindled againſt you, and they ſhal take away certaine of you, & ſhal ſlay you for meate to the idoles.

61 And they that conſent vnto them, ſhall be had in deriſion and in reproche, and troden vnder foote.

62 For in euery place and cities that are neere, there ſhall be great inſurrection againſt thoſe that feare the Lord.

63 They ſhall be like mad men: they ſhall ſpare none: they ſhall ſpoile, and waſte ſuch as yet feare the Lord.

64 For they then ſhall waſte and ſpoyle their goods, and caſt them out of their houſes.

65 Then ſhall the tryall of my choſen appeare, as the golde is tried by the fire.

66 Heare, O ye my beloued, ſaith the Lord: beholde, the dayes of trouble are at hand, but I will deliuer you from them: be not ye afraid: doubt not, for God is your captaine.

67 Who ſo keepeth my commaundements and precepts, ſaith the Lorde God, let not your ſinnes weigh you downe, and let not your iniquities lift themſelues vp.

68 Woe vnto them that are bound with their ſinnes, and couered with their iniquities, as a fielde is hedged in with buſhes, and the path thereof couered with thornes, whereby no man may trauell: it is ſhut vp, and is appointed to be deuoured with fire.

TOBIT.

TOBIT.

CHAP. I.

1 Tobits parentage. 3 His godlines. 6 His equitie. 8 His charitie and prosperitie. 23 He flieth, and his goods are confiscate, 25 And after restored.

Tobias being captiue amongst the Assyrians, did not leaue the way of trueth.

THe booke of the woordes of Tobit sonne of Tobiel, the sonne of Ananeel, the sonne of Aduel, the sonne of Gabael, of the seede of Asael, and of the tribe of Nephthalim,

2 Who in the time of ‖ Enemessar King of the Assyrians was * led away captiue out of Thisbe, which is at the right hande of that citie, which is called properly Nephthalim, in Galilee aboue Aser.

‖ Or, Salmanasser. * 2. King. 17. 3.

Tobias was mercifull,

3 I Tobit haue walked all my life long in the way of trueth and iustice, and I did many things liberally to the brethren, which were of my nation, and came with me to Niniue into the lande of the Assyrians.

4 And when I was in mine owne countrey in the land of Israel, being but yoong, all the tribe of Nephthalim my father fell from the house of Ierusalem, which was chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, that all the tribes should sacrifice there, where the Temple of the tabernacle of the most High was consecrated and built vp for all ages.

* 3. Kin. 12, 30.

5 *Nowe all the tribes which fell from God, yea, and my father Nephthalims house offered to the heifer called Baal.

He fled from idoles. * Exod 12. 29. Deut. 12. 6.

6 But I (as it was ordeyned to all Israel by an euerlasting decree) went alone often to Ierusalem, at the feastes * bringing the first fruites, and the tenth of beasts, with that which was first shorne, and offered them at the altar to the Priests the children of Aaron.

7 The first tenth part I gaue to the Priests the sonnes of Aaron, which ministred in Ierusalem: the other tenth part I solde, and came and bestowed it euery yeere at Ierusalem,

8 The third tenth part I gaue vnto them to whom it was meete, as Debora my fathers mother had commanded me: for my father left me as a pupill.

He marieth to wife Anna, which beareth him Tobiah. * Numb. 36. 7.

9 ¶ Furthermore when I was come to the age of a man, I married Anna of * mine owne kindred, and of her I begate Tobias.

* Gene. 43. 32.

10 ¶ But when I was led captiue to Niniue, all my brethren, and those which were of my kinred, did eate of the * bread of the Gentiles.

11 But I kept my selfe from eating,

He found grace in the sight of Salmanasar.

12 Because I remembred God with all mine heart.

13 Therefore the most High gaue me grace and fauour before Enemessar, so that I was his purueior.

‖ Or. some. ‖ Or, in Rages a citie of Media.

14 ¶ And I went into Media, & I deliuered ten talents of siluer to Gabael the ‖ brother of Gabrias ‖ in the land of Media.

‖ Or, Salmanasser. The charitie of Tobias.

15 But when Enemessar was dead, Sennacherib his sonne reigned in his stead: whose state because it was troubled, I could not goe into Media.

16 ¶ But in the time of ‖ Enemessar, I gaue many almes to my brethren, and gaue my bread to them which were hungry, 17 And my clothes to the naked: and if I sawe any of my kinred dead, or cast about the walles of Niniue, I buried him.

* 2. Kin 19. 35, 36 Isa. 37. 36, 37. Iosh. 18, 22. 2. Paralip. 7. 31. 2. Macha. 8. 19.

18 And if the King Sennacherib had slaine any, when he * was come and fled from Iudea, I buried them priuily (for in his wrath he killed many) but the bodies were not found when they were sought for of the King.

Tobit flieth from the face of Sennacherib.

19 Therefore when a certaine Niniuite had accused me to the King, because I did burie them, I hid my selfe: and because I knew that I was sought to be slaine, I withdrew my selfe for feare.

20 Then all my goods were spoyled, neither was there any thing left mee besides my wife Anna and my sonne Tobias.

* 2 King. 19. 37. 2. Chron. 32. 21.

21 Neuertheless * within fiue and fiftie dayes, two of his sonnes killed him, and they fled into the mountaines of Ararath, & Sarchedonus his sonne reigned in his stead, who appointed ouer his fathers accomptes and ouer all his domesticall affaires Achiacharus my brother Anaels sonne.

Tobit returneth.

22 And when Achiacharus had made a request for mee, I came againe to Niniue: now Achiacharus was cupbearer and keeper of the signet, and steward, and ouersaw the accompts: so Sarchedonus appoynted him next vnto him, and he was my brothers sonne.

CHAP. II.

2 Tobit calleth the faithfull to his table. 3 Hee leaueth the feast to burie the dead. 10 How he became blinde. 13 His wife laboureth for her liuing. 14 She reproacheth him bitterly.

NOwe when I was come home againe, and my wife Anna was restored vnto mee with my sonne Tobias, in the feast of Pentecost, which is the holy feast of the seuen weeks, there was a great dinner prepared me, in ‖ which I sate downe to eate.

‖ Or, wherein.

Tobit doeth bid to dinner those which feare God.

2 And when I saw abundance of meate, I saide to my sonne, Go, and bring what poore man soeuer thou shalt finde of our brethren which doeth remember God, and loe, I will tarie for thee.

3 But he came againe, and sayde, Father, one of our nation is strangled, and is cast out in the market place.

Tobit, leauing his guests, taketh vp the dead body into his house to burie it.

4 Then before I had tasted any meate, I start vp, and brought him into mine house vntill the going downe of the sunne.

* Amos 8. 10. 1. Macha. 3. 47.

5 Then I returned and washed, and ate my meate in heauinesse,

6 Remembring that prophecie of * Amos, which had sayd, Your solemne feasts shalbe turned into mourning, and your ioyes into wailing.

7 Therefore I wept, & after the going downe of the sunne I went & made a graue & buried him.

Tobit is reuiled of his neighbours. * Chap. 2. 18.

8 But my neighbours mocked mee, and sayde, Doeth he not feare, to die for this cause, who * fled away, and yet, loe, he burieth the dead againe?

9 The same night also when I returned from the buriall, and slept at the wall of mine house because I was polluted, & hauing my face vncouered, Hee is made blinde for an example of patiencie to his posteritie.

10 And I knew not that sparrowes were in the wall, and as mine eyes were open, the sparrowes cast downe warme dongue into mine eyes, and a whitenesse came in mine eyes, and I went to the Physicions, but they helped me not. Moreouer Achiacharus did nourish me, vntill I went into Helimais.

The wife of Tobit laboureth for her liuing.

11 And my wife Anna did take womens works to doe.

12 And when shee had sent them home to the owners, they payed the wages, and gaue a kid.

13 Which when it was at mine house, & began to to bleate, I said vnto her, From whence is this kids

CHAP. III.

3 The prayer of Tobit. 7 Sarra Raguels daughter, and the things that came vnto her. 12 Her prayer heard. 19 The Angel Raphael sent.

THen I, being sorowfull, did weepe, and in my sorow prayed, saying,

2 O Lord, thou art iust, and all thy workes, and all thy wayes are mercy & trueth, and thou iudgest truely and iustly for euer.

3 Remember me, and looke on me, neither punish me according to my sinnes or mine ignorances or my fathers, which haue sinned before thee.

4 For they haue not obeyed thy commaunde-
*Deut.28.15,37. ments: wherefore thou hast deliuered vs * for a spoyle, and vnto captiuitie, & to death, & for a pro-uerbe of a reproch to al them among whom we are dispersed, and now ‖ thou hast many and iust causes ‖ Or, thy iudgements are many and true. 5 To doe with me according to my sinnes, and my fathers, because we haue not kept thy commandements, neither haue walked in trueth before thee.

6 Now therefore deale with me as seemeth best vnto thee, and commaund my spirite to bee taken from me, that I may be dissolued, & become earth: for it is better for me to die then to liue, because I haue heard false reproches, and am very sorowfull: command therefore that I may bee dissolued out of this distresse, & go into the euerlasting place: turne not thy face away from me.

7 ¶ It came to passe the same day that in Ecbatane a citie of Media, Sarra the daughter of Ra-Sarra is checked of her fathers maydes. guel was also reproched by her fathers maydes,

8 Because shee had bene married to seuen husbands, whom Asmodeus the euil spirite had killed, before that they had lyen with her. Doest thou not know, said they, that thou hast strangled thine husbands? thou hast had now seuen husbands, neither wast thou named after any of them.

‖ Or, when shee beat them for their faults they said. 9 Wherefore doest thou ‖ beate vs for them? if they be dead, goe thy wayes hence to them, that we may neuer see of thee either sonne or daughter.

10 When shee heard these things, shee was very sorowful, so that she thought to haue strangled her selfe. And she said, I am the onely daughter of my father, and if I doe this, I shall slander him, and shal bring his age to the graue with sorowe.

Sarra prayeth & saith, that she may be deliuered from shame. 11 Then shee prayed toward the windowe, and saide, Blessed are thou, O Lord my God, and thine holy and glorious Name is blessed, and honourable for euer: let all thy workes praise thee for euer.

12 And now, O Lorde, I set mine eyes, and my face toward thee, 13 And say, Take me out of the earth, that I may heare no more any reproch.

The innocencie of Sarra. 14 Thou knowest, O Lord, that I am pure from all sinne with man,

Her chastitie. 15 And that I haue neuer polluted my name, nor the name of my father in the land of my captiuitie: I am the onely daughter of my father, neither hath he any mancheld to bee his heire, neither any

16 So the prayers of them both were heard be-

17 And Raphael was sent to heale them both, that is, to take away the whitenes of Tobits eyes, & to giue Sarra the daughter of Raguel for a wife to Tobias the sonne of Tobit, and to binde Asmodeus the euill spirit, because shee belonged to Tobias by right. The selfe same time came Tobit home, and enterd into his house, and Sarra the daughter of Raguel came downe from her chamber.

CHAP. IIII.

Precepts and exhortations of Tobit to his sonne.

IN that day Tobit remebred * the siluer, which he
*Chap.1.14. had deliuered to Gabael in Rages a citie of Media,

2 And sayde with himselfe, I haue wished for death: wherefore do I not call for my sonne Tobias that I may admonish him before I die?

Tobits exhortation to his sonne, when he thought hee should die. 3 And whē he had called him, he said, My sonne, after that I am dead, bury me, and despise not thy mother, but * honour her all the dayes of thy life, and do that which shal please her, & anger her not.

The mother is to be reuerenced. 4 Remember, my sonne, how many dangers she susteined when thou wast in her wombe,

5 And when she dyeth, burie her by me in the God must be in our hearts. 6 My sonne, set our Lord God alwayes before thine eyes, and let not thy will be set to sinne or to transgresse the commandements of God. Doe vprightly all thy life long, and followe not the wayes of vnrighteousnesse: for if thou deale truely, thy doings shall prosperously succeede to thee, and to all them which liue iustly.

Almes. 7 Giue * almes of thy substance: and when

*Chap.1.14.

20 *Furthermore I signifie this to thee, that I deliuered tenne talents to Gabael the sonne of Gabrias at Rages in Media.

Powertie with the feare of God.

21 And feare not, my sonne, forasmuch as wee are made poore: for thou hast many things, if thou feare God, and flee from all sinne, & doe that thing which is acceptable vnto him.

CHAP. V.

Tobias sent to Rages, 4 Hee meeteth with the Angell Raphael, which did conduct him.

TObias then answered, and said, Father, I wil doe all things which thou hast commanded me.

2 But how can I receiue the siluer, seeing I know him not?

Tobias, sent by his father to Rages, seeketh a companion, and meeteth with Raphael, whom he bringeth to his father.

3 Then he gaue him the hand writing, and said vnto him, Seeke thee a man, which may goe with thee, whiles I yet liue, and I will giue him wages, and goe and receiue the money.

4 Therefore when he was gone to seeke a man, he found Raphael the Angel.

5 But he knew not, and saide vnto him, May I goe with thee into the land of Media? and knowest thou those places well?

6 To whom the Angel said, I wil go with thee: for I haue remained with our brother Gabael.

7 Then Tobias said to him, Tarie for me, till I tell my father.

8 Then he said vnto him, Goe, and tarie not: so he went in and saide to his father, Beholde, I haue found one, which will goe with me. Then he saide, Call him vnto mee, that I may know of what tribe he is, and whether he be faithfull to goe with thee.

9 So he called him, and he came in, and they saluted one another.

10 Then Tobit saide vnto him, Brother, shewe me of what tribe and familie thou art.

11 To whom he said, Doest thou seeke a stocke or familie, or an hired man to goe with thy sonne? Then Tobit said vnto him, I would know, brother, thy kindred and thy name.

12 Then he said, I am of the kinred of Azarias and Ananias the great, and of thy brethren.

†Or, thou commest happily.

13 Then Tobit said, ‖ Thou art welcome, brother: be not now angry with me, because I haue enquired to know thy kinred, & thy familie: for thou art my brother of an honest and good stocke: for I know Ananias & Ionathas, sonnes of that great Samaias: for we went together to Ierusalem to worship, and offred the first borne, & the tenthes of the fruites, and they were not deceiued with the error of our brethrē: my brother, thou art of a great stocke.

14 But tell me, What wages shall I giue thee? wilt thou a groate a day and things necessarie, as to mine owne sonne?

15 Yea, moreouer if ye returne safe, I will adde some thing to the wages.

16 So they agreed. Then said he to Tobias, Prepare thy selfe for the iourney, and go you on Gods Name. And when his sonne had prepared all things for the iourney, his father saide, Goe thou with this man, and God which dwelleth in heauen, prosper your iourney, & the Angel of God keepe you companie. So they went foorth both and departed, and the dogge of the yong man with them.

Tobias goeth forth, the Angel keeping him company. His mother weepeth. *Chap.10.4.

17 But *Anna his mother wept, and said to Tobit, Why hast thou sent away our sonne? is he not the staffe of our hand to minister vnto vs?

18 Would to God wee had not layed money vpon money, but that it had bene cast away in respect of our sonne.

19 For that which God hath giuen vs to liue with, doeth suffice vs.

20 Then said Tobit, Be not careful, my sister: he shall returne in safetie, and thine eyes shall see him.

21 For the good Angel doeth keepe him company, and his iourney shall be prosperous, and hee shall returne safe.

22 Then she made an ende of weeping.

CHAP. VI.

Tobias deliuered from the fish, 7 Raphael sheweth him certaine medicines. 10 He conducteth him toward Sarra.

AND as they went on their iourney, they came at night to the flood Tygris, and there abode.

Tobias, inuited of a fish, is deliuered by the Angel.

2 And when the yong man went to wash him selfe, a fish leaped out of the riuer, and would haue deuoured him.

3 Then the Angel said vnto him, Take the fish. And the yong man tooke the fish, & drew it to land.

4 To whom the Angel said, Cut the fish, and take the heart, and the liuer, and the gall, and put them vp surely.

5 So the yong man did, as the Angel commanded him: and when they had rosted the fish, they ate it: then they both went on their way, till they came to Ecbatane.

6 ¶ Then the yong man sayde to the Angel, Brother Azarias, what auaileth the heart, and the liuer, and the gall of the fish?

7 And he said vnto him, Touching the heart, and the liuer, if a deuil or an euil spirit trouble any, we must make a perfume of this before the man or the woman, and he shalbe no more vexed.

8 As for the gall, anoint a man that hath whitenesse in his eyes, and he shalbe healed.

9 ¶ And when they were come neere to Rages,

10 The Angel saide to the yong man, Brother, to day we shal lodge w Raguel, who is thy cousin: he also hath one only daughter named Sarra: I wil speake for her that she may be giuē thee for a wife.

*Num.27.8. and 36.8.

11 For to thee doth *the right of her perteine, seeing thou alone art the remnant of her kindred,

12 And the mayd is faire and wise: now therefore heare me, & I wil speake to her father, that we may make the mariage when we are returned from Rages: for I know that Raguel can not marrie her to another according to the law of Moyses: els he should deserue death, because the right doth rather appertaine to thee then to any other man.

13 Then the yong man answered the Angel, I haue heard, brother Azarias, that this maid hath bin giuē to seuen men, who al died in the mariage chamber:

14 And

14 And I am the only begotten sonne of my father, & I am afraid least I go into her, & dye as the other before: for a wicked spirite loueth her, which hurteth no body but those which come in to her. wherfore I also feare least I die, & bring my fathers and my mothers life because of me to y grane with sorow: for they haue no other sonne to bury them.

15 Then the Angel sayde vnto him, Doest thou not remember the precepts which thy father gaue thee, that thou shouldest marry a wife of thine owne kinred? wherefore heare me, O my brother: for she shall be thy wife, neither be thou careful of the euil spirite: for this same night shall she bee giuen thee in marriage.

16 And when thou shalt goe into the marriage chamber, thou shalt take of the hote coles for perfumes, and make a perfume of the heart, and of the liuer of the fish.

17 Which if the spirit do smel, he will flee away, and neuer come againe any more: but when thou shalt come to her, rise vp both of you, and pray to God which is mercifull, who will haue pitie on you, and saue you: feare not, for she is appointed vnto thee from the beginning, and thou shalt keepe her, and she shall go with thee: Moreouer I suppose that shee shall beare thee children: nowe when Tobias had heard the things, hee loued her, and his heart was effectually ioyned to her.

CHAP. VII.

Tobias marrieth Sara Raguels daughter.

Raphael & Tobias come to Raguel.

AND when they were come to Ecbatane, they came to the house of Raguel: and Sara met them, and after they had saluted one an other, she brought them into the house.

2 Then sayde Raguel to Edna his wife, Howe like is this yong man to Tobit my cousin!

3 And Raguel asked, Whence are you, my brethren? To whome they sayde that they were of the tribe of Nephthalim, and of the captiues that dwelt at Nineue.

4 Then he sayd to to them, Doe ye know Tobit our kinsman? And they sayd, We know him. Then said he, Is he in good health?

5 And they sayde, He is both aliue, and in good health: and Tobias sayd, He is my father.

6 Then Raguel leaped, and kissed him, & wept,

7 And blessed him, and sayde vnto him, Thou art the sonne of an honest & good man: but when he had heard that Tobit was blinde, he was sorowfull and wept.

8 And likewise Edna his wife, and Sara his daughter wept. Moreouer they receiued them with a ready minde, and after that they had killed a ram of the flocke, they set much meat on the table. The sayd Tobias to Raphael, Brother Azarias, put forth those things whereof thou spakest in the way, that this businesse may be dispatched.

Tobias asketh Raguels daughter to wife.

9 So he communicated the matter with Raguel, and Raguel sayde to Tobias, Eate, and drinke, and make merry.

10 For it is meete that thou shouldest marrie my daughter: neuertheless, I will declare vnto thee the trueth.

11 I haue giuen my daughter in marriage to seuen men, who dyed that night which they came in vnto her: neuertheless, be thou of a good courage and merry. But Tobias sayde, I will eate nothing here, vntill yee bring her hither, and bee wrothe her to me,

12 Raguel sayd then, Marry her then according to the custome: for thou art her cousin, and shee is thine. God whit his mercifull, make his prosperous to you in all good things.

13 Then he called his daughter Sara, and she came to her father, and he tooke her by the hande, and gaue her for wife to Tobias, saying, Beholde, take her after the* law of Moyses, and leade her away to thy father and he blessed them.

Raguel giueth his daughter Sara to Tobias. *Num.36.8.

14 And called his wife Edna, and hee tooke a booke and wrote a contract, and sealed it.

15 Then they began to eate.

16 After, Raguel called his wife Edna, and sayde vnto her, Sister, prepare another chamber, and bring her in thither.

17 Which when she had done, as he had bidden her, she brought her thither: then Sara wept, and her mother wiped away her daughters teares, 18 And sayde vnto her, Be of good comfort, my daughter: the Lord of heauen and earth giue thee ioy for this thy sorowe: bee of good comfort my daughter!

CHAP. VIII.

Tobias driueth away the euil spirit. 4 Hee prayeth to God with his wife. 15 Raguel prepareth a grane for his sonne in law. 18 Raguel filleth the Lord.

AND when they had supped, they brought Tobias in vnto her.

Tobias followeth Raphaels counsell, as Chap. 6.7.

2 And as he went, he remebred y words of Raphael: and tooke coles for perfume, & put the heart and liuer of the fish thereupon, & made a perfume.

3 The which smell when the euill spirite had smelled, hee fledde into the vtmost partes of Egypt, Or, vpwards. whom the Angel bound.

4 And after that they were both shut in, Tobias rose out of the bed, and sayd, Sister, arise and let vs pray, that God would haue pitie on vs.

Tobias prayeth.

5 Then began Tobias to say, Blessed art thou, O God of our fathers, and blessed is thine holy and glorious Name for euer: let the heauens blesse thee, and all thy creatures.

6 Thou madest Adam, and gauest him* Eua his wife for an helpe and stay: of them came mankind: thou hast sayde, It is not good that a man should bee alone: let vs make vnto him an ayde like vnto himselfe. *Gen.2.18.20.

7 And nowe, O Lorde, I take not this my sister for fornication, but vprightly: therefore grant me mercie, that we may become aged together.

8 And she sayd with him, Amen.

Raguel thinking Tobias were dead, made a grane for him.

9 So they slept both that night, and Raguel arose, and went and made a graue,

10 Saying, Is not he dead also?

11 But when Raguel was come into his house,

12 He sayde to his wife Edna, Sende one of the maides, and let them see whether he be aliue: if not, that I may bury him, and none know it.

13 So the maide opened the doore, and went in, and found them both asleepe.

14 And came forth, & told them y he was aliue.

Raguel prayseth God for Tobias.

15 Then Raguel praysed God, and sayd, O God, thou art worthy to be praysed with al pure, and holy prayse: therefore let thy Saintes praise thee with all thy creatures, and let all thine Angels and thine elect prayse thee for euer.

16 Thou art to be praised, O Lord: for thou hast made me ioyfull, and that is not come to me which I suspected: but thou hast dealt with vs according to great mercie,

To 17 Thou

17 Thou art to be praised because thou hast had mercy of two that were the only begotten children of their fathers: graunt them mercy, O Lorde, and finish their life in health with joy and mercy.

18 Then Raguel bade his seruants to fil ỹ graue.

19 And hee kept the wedding feast foureteene dayes.

20 For Raguel had sayd vnto him by an othe, that hee should not depart before that the foureteene dayes of the marriage were expired, Raguel giueth halfe of his goods toward the marriage of his daughter to Tobias.

21 And then hee shoulde take the halfe of his goods and returne in safetie to his father, & shoulde beare the rest, when he and his wife were dead.

CHAP. IX.

Raphael leadeth Gabael to Tobias marriage.

THen Tobias called Raphael, and sayde vnto him,

2 Brother Azarias, take with thee a seruant and two camels, and goe to Rages of the Medes to Gabael, and bring mee the money, and bring him to the wedding.

3 For Raguel hath sworne that I shall not depart.

Tobits care for his sonne.

4 But my father counteth the dayes: and if I tarie long, he will be very sorie.

The Angel goeth on Tobias message.

5 So Raphael went out & came to Gabael, and gaue him the hande writing, who brought foorth bagges which were sealed vp, and gaue thē to him.

6 And in the morning they went forth, both together, and came to the wedding. And Tobias begate his wife with child.

CHAP. X.

1 Tobit and his wife thinke long for their sonne. 10 Raguel sendeth away Tobias and Sarra.

NOwe Tobit his father counted euery day, and when the dayes of the iourney were expired, and they came not,

The father and mother are in heauinesse for Tobias tarying.

2 Tobit saide, are they not mocked? or is not Gabael dead, and there is no man to giue him the money?

3 Therefore he was very sory.

4 Then his wife sayd to him, My sonne is dead, seeing he tarieth: and she began to * bewayle him, and sayd,

*Chap. 5. 17.

5 Nowe I care for nothing, my sonne, since I haue lost thee the light of mine eyes.

6 To whom Tobit sayd, Hold thy peace: be not carefull, for he is safe.

7 But she said, Hold thy peace, and deceiue me not: my sonne is dead: and she went out euery day by the way, which they went, neither did she eate meate on the day time, and did consume whole nightes in bewayling her sonne Tobias vntill the foureteene dayes of ỹ wedding were expired, which Raguel had sworne, that he should tary there. Then Tobias sayde to Raguel, Let me goe: for my father and my mother looke no more to see me.

8 But his father in lawe sayde vnto him, Tarie with mee, and I will sende to thy father, and they shall declare him thine affaires.

9 But Tobias sayde, No, but let me goe to my father.

Raguel giueth Tobias, and his wife leaue to depart.

10 Then Raguel arose, & gaue him Sarra his wife, & halfe his goods, as seruants, & cattell, and money, 11 And hee blessed them, and sent them away, saying, The God of heauen make you, my children, to prosper before I dye.

Sarra is instructed by her parents.

12 And he sayd to his daughter, Honour thy father, and thy mother in lawe which are nowe thy parents, that I may heare good report of thee: and hee kissed them. Edna also sayde to Tobias, The Lord of heauen restore thee, my deare brother, and graunt that I may see thy children of my daughter Sarra, that I may reioyce before the Lorde. Behold nowe, I commit to thee my daughter, as a pledge: doe not entreat her euill.

CHAP. XI.

1 The returne of Tobias to his father. 9 How he was restored. 19 His father hath his sight restored, and prayseth the Lord.

AFter these things Tobias went his way, praysing God that he had giuen him a prosperous iourney, and blessed Raguel and Edna his wife, and went on his way till he drewe neere to Nineue.

2 Then Raphael said to Tobias, Thou knowest, brother, how thou diddest leaue thy father.

The Angels counsell to Tobias.

3 Let vs haste before thy wife, and prepare the house,

4 And take in thine hand the gall of the fish. So they went their way, and the dog followed them.

5 Nowe Anna sate in the way looking for her sonne,

6 Whom when she sawe comming, she sayde to his father, Behold, thy sonne commeth, and the man that went with him.

7 Then sayd Raphael, I knowe, Tobias, that thy father shall receiue his sight.

8 Therefore anoynt his eyes with the gall, and being pricked therewith, he shall rub and make the whitenesse to fall away, and shall see thee.

9 ¶ Then Anna ranne foorth, and fell on the necke of her sonne, and sayde vnto him, Seeing I haue seene thee, my sonne, from henceforth I am content to die, and they wept both.

10 Tobit also went forth toward the doore, and stumbled, but his sonne ranne vnto him, 11 And tooke hold of his father, and sprinkled of the gall on his fathers eyes, saying, Bee of good hope, my father.

12 And when his eyes began to pricke, he rubbed them,

13 And the whitenes pilled away from the corners of his eyes, and when he sawe his sonne, he fell vpon his necke,

14 And he wept and sayde, Blessed art thou, O Lorde, and blessed be thy Name for euer, and blessed be all thine holy Angels.

15 For thou hast scourged me, and hast had pitie on me: for beholde, I see my sonne Tobias: and his sonne, being glad, went in, and tolde his father the great things that had come to passe in Media.

16 Then Tobit went out to meete his daughter in lawe, reioycing and praysing God to the gate of Nineue: and they which saw him go, marueiled, because he had receiued his sight.

17 But Tobit testified before them all, that God had had pitie on him. And when he came neere to Sarra his daughter in law, he blessed her, saying, thou art welcome, daughter: God be blessed, which hath brought thee vnto vs, and blessed be thy father: and there was great ioy among all his brethren which were at Nineue.

18 And Achiacharus and Nasbas his brothers sonne came.

19 And Tobias marriage was kept seuen dayes with great ioy.

CHAP. XII.

2 Tobias declareth to his father the pleasures that Raphael had done him. 5 The which he would recompence. 11, 15 Raphael declareth that he is an Angel sent of God.

Then

THen Tobit called his sonne Tobias, & said vnto him, Prouide, my sonne, wages for the man, which went with thee, & thou must giue him more.

2 And he sayde vnto him, O father, it shall not grieue me to giue him halfe of those things which I haue brought.

3 For he hath brought me againe to thee in safety, & hath made whole my wife, and hath brought me the money, and hath likewise healed thee.

4 Then the olde man sayde, It is due vnto him.

5 So he called the Angel, and sayde vnto him, Take halfe of all that ye haue brought, and goe away in safety.

6 But he tooke them both apart, and sayde vnto them, Prayse God, and confesse him, and giue him the glorie, and prayse him for the things which hee hath done vnto you before all them that liue. It is good to praise God, and to exalt his Name, and to shewe forth his euident workes with honour: therefore be not wearie to confesse him.

7 It is good to keepe close the secrets of a King, but it is honorable to reueile the works of God: do that which is good, and no euill shall touch you.

8 Prayer is good with fasting, and almes, and righteousnesse. A litle with righteousnesse is better then much with vnrighteousnesse: it is better to giue almes, then to lay vp golde.

9 For almes doth deliuer from death, and doth purge al sinne. Those which exercise almes & righteousnesse, shalbe filled with life.

10 But they that sinne, are enemies to their owne life.

11 Surely I will keepe close nothing from you: neuertheles, I said it was good to keepe close the secret of a king, but that it was honourable to reueile the works of God.

12 Now therefore when thou diddest pray, and Sara thy daughter in lawe, I did bring to memory your prayer before the Holy one: and when thou diddest burie the dead, I was with thee likewise.

He that will be acceptable to God, must be proued with tentation.

13 And when thou wast not grieued to rise vp, and leaue thy dinner to burie the dead, thy good deede was not hid from me: But I was with thee.

14 And nowe God hath sent mee to heale thee, and Sara thy daughter in lawe.

15 I am Raphael one of the seuen holy Angels, which present the prayers of the Saints, and which goe forth before his holy maiestie.

16 Then they were both troubled, and fel vpon their face: for they feared.

17 But he said vnto them, Feare not, for it shall goe well with you: prayse God therefore.

18 For I came not of mine own pleasure, but by y good wil of your God: wherfore praise him al ages

19 * Al these dayes I did appeare vnto you, but: I did neither eate nor drinke, but you saw it in vision. * Gen. 18.8. & 19.3. Iudg. 13.16.

20 Now therefore giue God thanks: for I go vp to him that sent me: but write all things which are done, in a booke.

21 And when they rose, they sawe him no more.

22 Then they confessed the great and wonderfull works of God, and how the Angel of the Lord had appeared to them.

CHAP. XIII.

A thanksgiuing of Tobit, who exhorteth all to prayse the Lord.

THen Tobit wrote a prayer of reioycing, and sayd, Blessed be God that liueth for euer, and blessed be his kingdome. * Deut 32.39. 1 Sam. 2.6. Wisd. 16.13.

2 * For hee doeth scourge, and hath pitie: hee leadeth to hell, and bringeth vp, neither is there any that can auoyde his hand.

3 Confesse him before the Gentiles, ye children of Israel: for hee hath scattered you among them.

4 There declare his greatnesse, and extoll him before al the liuing: for he is our Lord, & our God, and our father for euer.

5 Hee hath scourged vs for our iniquities, and wil haue mercy againe, and will gather vs out of al nations, among whom we are scattered.

6 If you turne to him with your whole heart, and with your whole minde, & deale vprightly before him, then will he turne vnto you, and will not hide his face from you, but ye shall see what he will doe with you: therefore confesse him with your whole mouth, & praise the Lord of righteousnes, & extol the euerlasting King. I will confesse him in the land of my captiuitie, and wil declare his power and greatnesse to a sinful nation. O ye sinners, turne and do iustice before him: who can tell if he will receiue you to mercy, and haue pitie on you?

7 I will extoll my God, & my soule shall prayse the King of heauen, & shal reioyce in his greatnesse.

8 Let all men speake, and let all prayse him for his righteousnesse.

9 O Ierusalem the holy citie, he will scourge thee for thy childrens workes, but he will haue pitie againe on the sonnes of righteous men.

10 Giue praise to the Lord duely, and praise the euerlasting King, that his tabernacle may be builded in thee againe with ioy: and let him make ioyful there in thee those that are captiues, and loue in thee for euer those that be miserable.

11 Many nations shall come from farre to the Name of the Lorde God, with gifts in their handes, euen giftes to the King of heauen: all generations shall prayse thee, and giue signes of ioy.

12 Cursed are al they, which haue thee: but blessed are they for euer which loue thee.

13 Reioyce, and be glad for the children of the iust: for they shalbe gathered, and shall blesse the Lord of the iust.

14 Blessed are they which loue thee: for they shall reioyce in thy peace. Blessed are they which haue been sorowfull for all thy scourges: for they shall reoice for thee, when they shalsee al thy glorie, and shall reioyce for euer.

15 Let my soule blesse God the great King.

16 For Ierusalem shalbe built vp with sapphires, and emerauds, & thy walles with precious stones, and thy towers, & thy bulwarkes with pure golde.

17 And the streetes of Ierusalem shall be paued with berall, and carbuncle, and stones of Ophir. Or, Sapphire. Or, prayse ye the Lord.

18 And her streetes shall say, ‖Halleluiah, and they shall prayse him, saying, Blessed be God which hath extolled it for euer. ‖That is, Jerusalem.

CHAP. XIIII.

1 Lessons of Tobit to his sonne. 4 He prophesieth the destruction of Nineue. 5 And the restoring of Ierusalem and the Temple. 13 The death of Tobit and his wife. 14 Tobias age and death.

SO Tobit made an ende of praysing God.

2 And he was eight & fiftie yeere old, when hee lost his sight, which was restored to him after eight yeere, and hee gaue almes, and he continued to feare the Lord God, and to prayse him.

3 And when hee was very aged, hee called his sonne, & fiue of his sonnes sonnes, and sayd to him, My sonne, take thy children (for behold, I am aged, and am ready to depart out of this life)

4 Go into Media, my sonne: for I surely beleeue those things which Ionas the Prophet spake of Nineue, that it shalbe destroyed, and for a time peace shall rather be in Media, and that our brethren shal be scattered in the earth from that good land, & Ierusalem shall be desolate, and the House of God in it shall be burned, and shalbe desolate for a time.

*Esra.3.8. and 6.14.

5 Yet againe God* wil haue pitie on them, and bring them againe into the lande were they shall builde a Temple, but not like to the first, vntill the times of that age be fulfilled, which being finished, they shall returne from euery place out of captiuitie, and builde vp Ierusalem gloriously, & the House of God shall bee built in it for euer with a glorious building, as the Prophets haue spoken thereof.

6 And all nations shal turne, and feare the Lord God truely, and shall bury their idoles.

7 So shall all nations praise the Lorde, and his people shall confesse God, and the Lord shall exalt his people, and all those which loue the Lorde in trueth and iustice, shal reioyce, and those also which shewe mercie to our brethren.

8 And nowe, my sonne, depart out of Nineue, becauſe that those things wh ch the Prophet Ionas spake, shall surely come to passe.

9 But keepe thou the Lawe, and the commandements, and shewe thy selfe merciful and iust, that it may goe well with thee.

10 And burie me honestly, and thy mother with me: but tarie no longer at Nineue. Remember, my son, how Aman handled Achiacharus that brought him vp, howe out of light hee brought him into darknes, & how he rewarded him againe: yet Achiacharus was saued, but the other had his reward: for he went downe into darknes. Manasses gaue almes, and escaped the snare of death, which they had set for him, but Aman fell into the snare and perished.

11 Wherefore nowe, my sonne, consider what almes doeth, and howe righteousnesse doth deliuer. When he had saide these things, ‖ hee gaue vp the ghost in the bed, being an hundreth and eight and fiftie yeere olde and he buried him honourably.

‖ Or, his soule failed him in the bed.

12 And when Anna was dead, hee buried her with his father: but Tobias went with his wife and children to Ecbatane to Raguel his father in lawe.

13 Where he became olde with honour, and he buryed his father & mother in law honourably, and he inherited their substance and Tobits his father.

14 And he died at Ecbatane in Media, being an hundreth and seuen and twentie yeere olde.

15 But before hee died, he heard of the destruction of Nineue, which was taken by Nabuchodonosor and Assuerus, and before his death he reioyced for Nineue.

IVDETH.

CHAP. I.

1 The building of Ecbatane. 5 Nabuchodonosor made warre against Arphaxad, and ouercame him. 12 Hee threatneth them that would not helpe him.

IN the twelfth yeere of the reigne of Nabuchodonosor, who reigned in Nineue the great citie (in the dayes of Arphaxad, which reigned ouer the Medes in Ecbatane,

2 And built in Ecbatane the walles round about, of hewen stone, three cubites broad, & sixe cubits long, & made the hight of the wal seuẽty cubits, & the bredth thereof fifty cubits,

3 And made the towers thereof in the gates of it of an hundreth cubits, & the bredth thereof in the foundation three score cubites,

4 And made the gates thereof, euen gates that were lifted vp on hie, seuentie cubites, & the bredth of thẽ fourty cubits, for ỹ going forth of his mighty armies, & for the setting in aray of his footemen)

5 Euen in those dayes, King Nabuchodonosor made warre with King Arphaxad in the great field, which is the field in the coastes of Ragau.

6 Then came vnto him all they that dwelt in the mountaines, & al that dwelt by Euphrates, and Tygris & Hydaspes, & the countrey of Arioch the king of the Elymeans, & very many nations assembled thẽselues to ỹ battel of the sonnes of Chelod.

7 And Nabuchodonosor King of the Assyrians sent vnto all that dwelt in Persia, and to all that dwelt in the West, and to those that dwelt in Cilicia, and Damascus, and Libanus, & Antilibanus, and to all that dwelt vpon the sea coast,

8 And to the people that are in Carmel, and Galaad, and the hier Galile, and the great fielde of Esdrelam,

9 And to all that were in Samaria, & the cities thereof & beyond Iorde vnto Ierusalem, & Betane, and Chelus, and Cades, and the riuer of Egypt, and Taphnes, and Ramesse, and all the land of Gesem, 10 Vnto one come to Tanis, and Memphis, and to all the inhabitants of Egypt, and to one come to the mountaines of Ethiopia.

11 But all the inhabitants of this countrey did not passe for the cõmandement of Nabuchodonosor King of the Assyrians, neither would they come with him to the battel: for they did not feare him: yea, he was before them as one man: therefore they sent away his ambassadours from them without effect, and with dishonour.

12 Therefore Nabuchodonosor was very angry with all this countrey, and sware by his throne and kingdome that hee would surely be aueng ed vpon all those coastes of Cilicia & Damascus & Syria, & that hee would slay with the sword all the inhabitants of the land of Moab, and the children of Ammon, and all Iudea, and all that were in Egypt, til one come to the borders of the two seas.

13 Then hee marched in battell aray with his power against King Arphaxad, in the seuenteenth yeere, & he preuailed in his battel: for he ouerthrew all the power of Arphaxad, and all his horsmen, and all his chariots.

14 And he waxed his cities, & came vnto Ecbatane, and tooke the towers, and spoyled the streetes thereof, and turned the beautie thereof into shame.

15 He tooke also Arphaxad in the mountaines of Ragau, and smote him through with his dartes, and destroyed him vtterly that day.

16 So he returned afterward to Nineue, both he and al his companie with a very great multitude of men of warre, and there hee rested the time, and banquered, both hee, and his armie an hundreth and twentie dayes.

CHAP. II.

1 Nabuchodonosor threatneth reuenge vpon them that would not be brought in subiection. 6 And to destroy those that disobeyed him. 15 The preparation of Holofernes armie. 23 The conquest of the countries

And

AND in the eighteene yeere, the two and twentieth day of the firſt moneth, there was talke in the houſe of Nabuchodonoſor king of the Aſſyrians, that hee ſhould auenge himſelfe on all the earth, as he had ſpoken.

2 So he called vnto him al the officers and al his nobles, and communicated with them his ſecrete counſell, and ſet before them with his owne mouth all the malice of the earth.

3 Then they decreed to deſtroy all fleſh, that had not obeyed the commandement of his mouth.

4 And when hee had ended his counſell, Nabuchodonoſor king of the Aſſyrians called Oloferne his chiefe captaine, and which was next vnto him, and ſayd vnto him,

5 Thus ſaith the great king, the lorde of the whole earth, Behold, thou ſhalt goe forth from my preſence, and take with thee men that truſt in their owne ſtrength, of footemen, an hundreth & twentie thouſande, and the number of horſes with their riders, twelue thouſand,

6 And thou ſhalt go againſt all the Weſt countrey, becauſe they diſobeyed my commandement.

7 And thou ſhalt declare vnto them, that they prepare for me the land and the water: for I wil goe forth in my wrath againſt them, and will couer the whole face of the earth with the feete of mine armie, and I will giue them as a ſpoyle vnto them,

8 So that their wounded ſhall fill their valleyes, and their riuers, and the flood ſhall ouerflowe, being filled with their dead.

9 And I wil bring their captiuitie to the vtmoſt parts of all the earth.

10 Thou therefore ſhalt depart hence, and take vp for me all their countrey: and if they yeeld vnto thee, thou ſhalt reſerue them for mee vntill the day that I rebuke them.

11 But concerning them that rebell, let not thine eye ſpare them, but put them to death, and ſpoyle them whereſoeuer thou goeſt.

12 For as I liue, & the power of my kingdome, whatſoeuer I haue ſpoken ỹ wil I do by mine hand.

13 And take thou heede that thou tranſgreſſe not any of the commaundements of thy lorde, but accompliſh them fully, as I haue commanded thee, and deferre not to doe them.

14 ¶ Then Olofernes went forth from the preſence of his Lord, & called all the gouernours, and captaines, and officers of the armie of Aſſur,

15 And he muſtred the choſen men for the battel, as his lord had commanded him, vnto an hundreth and twentie thouſand, and twelue thouſande archers on horſebacke,

16 And hee ſet them in aray according to the maner of ſetting a great armie in aray.

17 And hee tooke camels & aſſes for their burdens a very great number, and ſheepe, and oxen, and goates without number for their proviſion, 18 And vitaile for euery man of the armie, and very much gold and ſiluer out of the kings houſe.

19 Then he went forth and his power, to goe before in the viage of king Nabuchodonoſor, & to couer all the face of the earth Weſtward, with their charets, and horſemen, and choſen footemen.

20 A great multitude alſo of ſundry ſorts came with them like graſhoppers, and like the grauell of the earth: for the multitude was without number.

21 And they went forth of Nineue three dayes iourney toward the countrey of Bectileth, and pitched from Bectileth neere the mountaine which is at the left hand of the vpper Cilicia.

22 Then hee tooke all his armie, his footemen and horſemen, and charets, and went from thence into the mountaines, 23 And he deſtroied Phud and Lud, and ſpoyled all the children of Raſſes, and the children of Iſmael, which were toward the wilderneſſe at the South of the Chelians.

24 Then hee went ouer Euphrates, and went through Meſopotamia, and deſtroyed all the hie cities that were vpon the riuer of Arbonai, vntill one come to the ſea.

25 And he tooke the borders of Cilicia, and deſtroyed all that reſiſted him, and came to the borders of Iapheth, which were toward the South and ouer againſt Arabia.

26 He compaſſed alſo al the children of Madian, & burnt vp their tabernacles, & ſpoiled their lodges.

27 Then he went downe into the countrey of Damaſcus, in the time of wheate harueſt, and burnt vp all their fieldes, and deſtroyed their flockes and the heards: he robbed their cities, and ſpoyled their countrey, and ſmote all their yong men with the edge of the ſword.

28 Therefore feare and trembling fell vpon all the inhabitants of the ſea coaſt, which were in Sidon and Tyrus, and them that dwelt in Sur and Ocina, and all that dwelt in Iemnaan: and they that dwelt in Azotus, and Aſcalon feared him greatly.

CHAP. III.

The people ſubiect to Olofernes. 8 He deſtroyed their gods that Nabuchodonoſor might onely be worſhipped.

SO they ſent ambaſſadours to him with meſſages of peace, ſaying,

2 Behold, we are the ſeruants of Nabuchodonoſor the great king: we lie downe before thee: vſe vs as ſhalbe good in thy ſight.

3 Beholde, our houſes and all our places, and all our fieldes of wheate, & our flocks, and our heards, and all our lodges and tabernacles lie before thy face: vſe them as it pleaſeth thee.

4 Beholde, euen our cities and the inhabitantes thereof are thy ſeruants: come, and take them, as ſeemeth good to thee.

5 ¶ So the men came to Olofernes, and declared vnto them after this maner.

6 Then came he downe toward ỹ ſea coaſt, both he and his armie, and ſet gariſons in the hie cities, and tooke out of them choſen men for the warre.

7 So they and all the countrey rounde about receiued them, with crownes, with daunces, and with timbrels.

8 Yet he brake downe all their borders, and cut downe their woods: for it was inioyned him to deſtroy al the gods of the land, that all nations ſhould worſhip Nabuchodonoſor only, & that all tongues and tribes ſhould call vpon him as God.

9 Alſo he came againſt Eſdraelon, neere vnto Iudea, ouer againſt the great ſtraite of Iudea, 10 And hee pitched betweene Geba, and a citie of the Scythians, & there he taried a moneth, that he might aſſemble all the baggage of his armie.

CHAP. IIII.

The Iſraelites were afraid and defended their countrey. 6 Iacim the Prieſt writeth to Bethulia, that they ſhould fortifie themſelues. 9 They cryed to the Lord, and humbled themſelues before him.

NOwe the children of Iſrael that dwelt in Iudea, heard al that Olofernes ỹ chiefe captaine of Nabuchodonosor King of the Assyrians had done to the nations, and howe he had spoyled all their temples, and brought them to nought.

2 Therefore they feared greatly his presence, and were troubled for Ierusalem, and for the Temple of the Lord their God.

3 For they were newly returned from the captiuitie, and of late all the people was assembled in Iudea, and the vessels and the altar of the house had bene sanctified because of the pollution.

4 Therefore they sent into all the coastes of Samaria, and the villages, and to Bethoro, and Belmen, and Iericho, and to Choba, and Esora, and to the valley of Salem,

5 And tooke all the toppes of the hie mountaines, & walled the villages that were in them, and put in vitailes for the prouision of warre: for their fieldes were of late reaped.

6 Also Ioacim the hie Prieſt which was in those dayes in Ierusalem, wrote to them that dwelt in Bethulia and Betomestham, which is ouer against Esdraelon toward ỹ open coũtrey neere to Dothaim,

7 Exhorting them to keepe the passages of the mountaines: for by them there was an entry into Iudea, & it was easie to let them that would come vp, because ỹ passage was strait for two men at ỹ most.

8 And the children of Israel did as Ioacim the hie Prieſt had commanded them with the Ancients of al the people of Israel, which dwelt at Ierusalem.

9 Then cryed euery man of Israel to God with great feruencie, & their soules with great affection.

10 Both they, and their wiues, and their children, and their cattell, and euery stranger, and hireling, and their bought seruants put sackecloth vpon their loynes.

11 Thus euery man and woman, and the children, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem fell before the Temple, and sprinkled ashes vpon their heads, and spred out their sackecloth before the face of the Lord: also they put sackecloth about the altar, 12 And cryed to the God of Israel, all with one consent most earnestly, that hee would not giue their children for a pray, & their wiues for a spoile, and the cities of their inheritance to destruction, and the Sanctuarie to pollution and reproch, and vnto derision to the heathen.

13 So God heard their prayers, and looked vpon their affliction: for the people fasted many daies in all Iudea and Ierusalem before the Sanctuary of the Lord Almightie.

14 And Ioacim the high Prieſt, and all the Prieſtes that stoode before the Lord, and ministred vnto ỹ Lord, had their loynes girt with sackcloth, and offred the continuall burnt offring, with prayers and the free gifts of the people,

15 And had ashes on their mytres, & cried vnto the Lord with all their power for grace, and that he would looke vpon all the house of Israel.

CHAP. V

Achior the Ammonite doeth declare to Olofernes of the maner of the Israelites.

THen was it declared to Olofernes the chiefe captaine of the army of Assur, that the children of Israel had prepared for warre, and had shut the passages of the mountaines, and had walled all the toppes of the hie hilles, and had layd impediments in the champion countrey.

2 Wherewith he was very angry, and called all the princes of Moab, and the captaines of Ammon, and all the gouernours of the sea coast.

3 And he sayd vnto thẽ, Shew me, O ye sonnes of Chanaan, who is this people that dwelleth in the mountaines? and what are the cities that they inhabite? and what is the multitude of their armie? and wherein is their strength and their power? and what king or captaine is raised among them ouer their armie?

4 And why haue they determined not to come to meete me, more then al the inhabitants of ỹ West?

5 ¶ Then * said Achior the captaine of all the sonnes of Ammon, Let my lord heare ỹ word of the mouth of his seruant, & I wil declare vnto thee the trueth concerning this people, that dwell in these mountaines, neere where thou remaineſt: and there shal no lie come out of the mouth of thy seruant. *Chap.11.7,9.

6 This people come of the stocke of the Chaldeans.

7 And * they dwelt before in Mesopotamia, because they would not followe the gods of their fathers, which were in the land of Chaldea. *Gene.11.31.

8 But they went out of the way of their auncesters and worshipped the God of heauen, the God whome they knewe: so they cast them out from the face of their gods, and they fled into Mesopotamia, and soiourned there many dayes.

9 Then * their God commauuded them to depart from the place where they soiourned, and to go into the land of Chanaan, where they dwelt, and were increased with golde and siluer, and with very much cattell. *Gene.12.5.

10 But when a famine couered all the lande of Chanaan, they went downe into Egypt, and dwelt there till they returned, and became there a great multitude, so ỹ one could not number their linage.

11 * Therefore the king of Egypt rose vp against them, and vsed deceite against them, and brought them lowe with laboring in bricke, and made them slaues. *Exod.1.8.

12 Then they cried vnto their God, & he smote all the land of Egypt with incurable plagues: so the *Egyptians cast them out of their sight. *Exod.12.31, 39.

13 And * God dried the red sea in their presence, *Exod.14.21.

14 And * brought them into mount Sina and Cades barne, and cast foorth all that dwelt in the wildernesse. *Exod.19.1.

15 So they dwelt in the lande of the Amorites, and they destroyed by their strength all them of Esebon, and passing ouer Iordan, they inherited all the mountaines.

16 And they * cast forth before them the Chanaanites, and the Pherezites, and the Iebusites, and them of Sichem, and all the Gergesites, and they dwelt in that countrey many dayes. *Ioſh.12.8.

17 And whiles they sinned not before their God, they prospered, because the God that hated iniquitie was with them,

18 But * when they departed from the way which he appoynted them, they were destroyed in many battels after a wonderfull sort, * and were led captiues into a land that was not theirs: and the Temple of their God was cast to the grounde, and their cities were taken by the enemies. *Iud.2.11.and 3.8. *2.King.25.1,11

19 But * nowe they are turned to their God, and are come vp from the scattering wherein they were scattered, and haue possessed Ierusalem, where their Temple is, and dwell in the mountaines which were desolate. *Ezra.1.1,3.

20 Nowe therefore, my lorde and gouernour, if there there be any fault in this people, ſo that they haue ſinned againſt their God, let vs conſider that this ſhall be their ruine, and let vs goe vp, and we ſhall ouercome them.

21 But if there be none iniquitie in this people, let my lorde paſſe by, leaſt their Lord defend them, and their God bee for them, and we become a reproch before all the world.

22 ¶ And when Achior had finiſhed theſe ſayings, all the people, ſtanding round about the tent, murmured: and the chiefe men of Olofernes, and all that dwelt by the ſea ſide and in Moab, ſpake that he ſhould kill him.

23 For, ſay they, we feare not to meete the children of Iſrael: for loe, it is a people that haue no ſtrength nor power againſt a mightie armie.

24 Let vs therefore goe vp, O lorde Olofernes, and they ſhalbe meate for thy whole armie.

CHAP. VI.

Olofernes blaſphemeth God whom Achior confeſſed. 14 Achior is deliuered into the handes of them of Bethulia. 18 The Bethulians cry vnto the Lord.

AND when the tumult of the men that were about the councill, was ceaſed, Olofernes, the chiefe captaine of the armie of Aſſur, ſaid vnto Achior before all the people of the ſtrangers, and before all the children of Moab, and of them that were hyred of Ephraim,

2 Becauſe thou haſt prophecied among vs to day, and haſt ſaid that the people of Ieruſalem is able to fight, * becauſe their God will defende them: and who is God but Nabuchodonoſor?

*Chap.5.5,21.

3 He will ſend his power, and will deſtroy them from the face of the earth, and their God ſhall not deliuer them: but wee his ſeruantes will deſtroy them as one man: for they are not able to ſuſteine the power of our horſes.

4 For wee will treade them vnder feete with them, and their mountaines ſhall bee drunken with their blood, and their fields ſhalbe filled with their dead bodies, and their footeſteps ſhall not be able to ſtand before vs: but they ſhall vtterly periſh.

5 The King Nabuchodonoſor, lord of all the earth, hath ſayde, euen he hath ſayde, None of my wordes ſhall be in vaine.

6 And thou Achior an hireling of Ammon, becauſe thou haſt ſpoken theſe words in the day of thine iniquitie, thou ſhalt ſee my face no more from this day vntil I take vengeance of that people that is come out of Egypt.

7 And then ſhall the yron of mine armie, and the multitude of them that ſerue me, paſſe through thy ſides, & thou ſhalt fall among their ſlaine, when I ſhal put them to flight.

8 And my ſeruants ſhall carrie thee into the mountaines, and they ſhall leaue thee at one of the hie cities: but thou ſhalt not periſh, till thou bee deſtroyed with them.

9 And if thou perſwade thy ſelfe in thy minde, that they ſhall not bee taken, let not thy countenance fall: I haue ſpoken it, and none of my words ſhalbe in vaine.

10 Then commaunded Olofernes them concerning Achior, ỹ they ſhould bring him to Bethulia, & deliuer him into ỹ hands of ỹ children of Iſrael.

11 So his ſeruants tooke him, and brought him out of the campe into the plaine: and they went out from the middeſt of the plaine into the mountains, and came vnto the fountaines that were vnder Bethulia.

12 And when the men of the citie ſaw them frō the top of the mountaine, they tooke their armour, and went foorth of the citie vnto the toppe of the mountain, euen al the throwers with ſlings, & kept thē from cōming vp, by caſting ſtones againſt thē.

13 But they went priuily vnder the hill, and bound Achior, and left him lying at the foote of the hil, and returned to their lord.

14 Then the Iſraelites came downe from their citie, and ſtoode about him, and looſed him and brought him into Bethulia, and preſented him to the gouernours of their citie, 15 Which were in thoſe dayes Ozias the ſonne of Micha, of ỹ tribe of Simeon, & Chabris the ſonne of Gothoniel, and Charmis the ſonne of Melchiel.

16 And they called together al the Auncients of the citie, and al their youth ranne together, and their women to the aſſemblie: and they ſet Achior in the middeſt of al their people. Then Ozias asked him of that which was done.

17 And hee anſwered and declared vnto them the wordes of the counſell of Olofernes, and all the wordes that hee had ſpoken in the mids of the princes of Aſſur, and whatſoeuer Olofernes had ſpoken proudly againſt the houſe of Iſrael.

18 Then the people fell downe and worſhipped God, and cryed vnto God, ſaying, 19 O Lord God of heauen, behold their pride, and haue mercie on the baſeneſſe of our people, and beholde this day the face of thoſe that are ſanctified vnto thee.

20 Then they comforted Achior, and prayſed him greatly.

21 And Ozias tooke him out of ỹ aſſembly into his houſe, and made a feaſt to the elders, and they called on the God of Iſrael all that night for helpe.

CHAP. VII.

1 Olofernes doeth beſiege Bethulia. 8 The counſell of the Idumeans and others againſt the Iſraelites. 23 The Bethulians murmure againſt their gouernours for lacke of water.

THE next day, Olofernes commanded all his armie and al his people, which were come to take his part, that they ſhould remooue their campes againſt Bethulia, and that they ſhoulde take al the ſtreites of the hill, and to make warre againſt the children of Iſrael.

2 Then their ſtrong men remoued their campes in that day, and the armie of the men of warre was an hundreth thouſand and ſeuentie footemen, and twelue thouſand horſmen, beſide the baggage and other men that were afoote among them, a very great multitude.

3 And they camped in the plaine neere vnto Bethulia, by the fountaine, and they ſpred abroade towade Dothaim vnto Belbaim, and in length from Bethulia vnto Ciamon, which is ouer againſt Eſdraelom.

4 Nowe the children of Iſrael, when they ſawe the multitude, were greatly troubled, and ſaid euery one to his neighbour, Nowe will they ſhut vp all the whole earth: for neither the hie mountaines nor the valleyes, nor ỹ hils are able to abide their burdē.

5 Then euery one tooke his weapons of warre, and burning fires in their towers, they remained and watched all that night.

6 But in the ſeconde day, Olofernes brought forth all his horſemen in the ſight of the children of Iſrael, which were in Bethulia,

7 And viewed the paſſages vp to their citie, and came to the fountaines of their watters, and tooke them and ſet gariſons of men of warre ouer them, and remooued toward his people.

8 Then came vnto him al the chiefe of the children of Eſau, & all the gouernours of the people of Moab, and al the captaines of the ſea coaſt, and ſaid, 9 Let our captaine nowe heare a worde, leaſt an inconuenience come in thine armie.

10 For this people of the children of Iſrael doe not truſt in their ſpeares, but in the height of the mountaines, wherein they dwell, becauſe it is not eaſie to come vp to the tops of their mountaines.

11 Nowe therefore my lorde, fight not againſt them in battell aray, and there ſhall not ſo much as one man of thy people periſh.

12 Remaine in thy campe, & keepe al the men of thine armie, and let the men keepe ſtill the water of the countrey, that commeth foorth at the foote of the mountaine.

13 For al the inhabitants of Bethulia haue their water thereof: ſo ſhall thirſt kill them, and they ſhall giue vp their citie: and we and our people will goe vp to the toppes of the mountaines that are neere, and will campe vpon them, and watch that none go out of the citie.

14 So they and their wiues, and their children ſhalbe conſumed with famine, and before the ſword come againſt them, they ſhall bee ouerthrowen in the ſtreetes where they dwell.

15 Thus ſhalt thou render them an euil reward, becauſe they rebelled and obeyed not thy perſon peaceably.

16 And theſe words pleaſed Olofernes & al his ſouldiers, & he appointed to do as they had ſpoken.

17 So the campe of the children of Ammon departed, & with them fiue thouſand of the Aſſyrians, and they pitched in the valley, & tooke ỹ waters, & the fountaines of the waters of ỹ children of Iſrael.

18 Then the children of Eſau went vp with the children of Ammon, and camped in the mountaines ouer againſt Dothaim, and they ſent ſome of them ſelues toward the South, and towarde the Eaſt, ouer againſt Rebel, which is is neere vnto Chuſi, that is vpon the riuer Mochmur: and the reſt of the armie of the Aſſyrians camped in the fielde, and couered the whole lande: for their tents and their baggage were pitched in a wonderfull great place.

19 Then the children of Iſrael cryed vnto the Lorde their God, becauſe their heart fayled: for all their enemies had compaſſed them about, & there was no way to eſcape out from among them.

20 Thu all the companie of Aſſur remained about them, both their footemen, chariots & horſemen foure & thirtie daies: ſo that euen al the places of their waters fayled al ỹ inhabitants of Bethulia.

21 And the ciſternes were emptie, and they had not water ynough to drinke for one day: for they gaue them to drinke by meaſure.

22 Therefore their children ſwooned, and their wiues and yong men failed for thirſt, & fell downe in the ſtreets of the citie, and by the paſſages of the gates, and there was no ſtrength in them.

23 Then al the people aſſembled to Ozias, and to the chiefe of the citie, both yong men and women, and children, and cryed with a loude voyce, and ſaid before al the Elders, Exod 5.21. 24 The Lorde iudge betweene vs and you: for you haue done vs great iniurie, in that yee haue not required peace of the children of Aſſur.

25 For now we haue no helper: but God hath ſold vs into their hands, that we ſhould be throwen down before them with thirſt & great deſtruction.

26 Now therefore call them together, and deliuer the whole citie for a ſpoyle to the people of Olofernes, and to all his armie.

27 For it is better for vs to bee made a ſpoyle vnto them, then to die for thirſt: for we will bee his ſeruants that we may liue, and not ſee the death of our infants before our eyes, nor our wiues, nor our children to die.

28 Wee take to witneſſe againſt you the heauen and the earth, and our God and Lorde of our fathers, which puniſheth vs, according to our ſinnes and the ſinnes of our fathers, that he lay not theſe things to our charge.

29 Then there was a great cry of all with one conſent in the middeſt of the aſſemblie, and they cryed vnto the Lord God with a loude voyce.

30 Then ſaid Ozias to thē, Brethren, be of good courage: let vs waite yet fiue dayes, in the which ſpace the Lorde our God may turne his mercie toward vs: for he will not forſake vs in the ende.

31 And if theſe dayes paſſe, and there come not helpe vnto vs, I wil doe according to your worde.

32 So he ſeparated the people, euery one vnto their charge, and they went vnto the walles and towers of their citie, and ſent their wiues and their children into their houſes, and they were very lowe brought in the citie.

CHAP. VIII.

The parentage, life, and conuerſation of Iudeth. 11 She rebuketh the faintneſſe of the gouernours. 12 She ſheweth that they ſhould not tempt God, but waite vpon him for ſuccour. 33 Her enterpriſe againſt the enemies.

NOwe at that time, Iudeth heard thereof, which was the daughter of Merari the ſonne of Ox, the ſonne of Ioſeph, the ſonne of Oziel, the ſonne of Elcia, the ſonne Ananias, the ſonne of Gedeon, the ſonne of Raphaim, the ſonne Acito, the ſonne of Eliu, the ſonne of Eliab, the ſonne of Nathanael, the ſonne of Samael, the ſonne of Salaſadai, the ſonne of Iſrael.

2 And Manaſſes was her husband, of her ſtocke and kindred, who dyed in the barley harueſt.

3 For as he was diligent ouer them that bound ſheaues in the fielde, the heate came vpon his head, and he fell vpon his bed, and died in the citie of Bethulia, and they buried him with his fathers in the fielde betweene Dothaim and Balamo.

4 So Iudeth was in her houſe a widowe three yeeres and foure moneths.

5 And ſhe made her a tent vpon her houſe, and put on ſackecloth on her loynes, and ware her widowes apparell.

6 And ſhee faſted all the dayes of her widowhood, ſaue the day before the Sabbath & the Sabbaths, and the day before the new moones, and in the feaſtes & ſolemne dayes of the houſe of Iſrael.

7 She was alſo of a goodly countenance and very beautifull to beholde: and her husbande Manaſſes had left her golde and ſiluer, and men ſeruants, and maide ſeruants, and cattell, and poſſeſſions, where ſhe remained.

8 And there was none that coulde bring an euill report of her: for ſhe feared God greatly.

9 Nowe when ſhe heard the euil wordes of the people againſt the gouernour, becauſe they fainted for for lacke of waters (for Iudeth had heard all the wordes that Ozias had ſpoken vnto them, and that hee had *ſworne vnto them to deliuer the citie vnto the Aſſyrians within fiue dayes)

*Chap. 7. 26, 31.

10 Then ſhee ſent her maide, that had the gouernement of all things that ſhe had, to call Ozias and Chabris and Charmis the Ancients of the citie.

11 And they came vnto her, and ſhe ſayde vnto them, Heare mee, O yee gouernours of the inhabitants of Bethulia: for your words that yehaue ſpoken before the people this day, are not right, touching this othe which yee made and prouounced betweene God and you, and haue promiſed to deliuer the citie to the enemies, vnleſſe within theſe dayes the Lord turne to helpe you.

12 And now who are you that haue tempted God this day, & ſet your ſelues in the place of God among the children of men?

13 So nowe you ſeeke the Lord almightie, but you ſhall neuer know any thing.

14 For you cannot finde out the depth of the heart of man, neyther can ye perceiue the things that he thinketh: then howe can you ſearch out God, that hath made all theſe things, and know his minde, or comprehende his purpoſe? Nay my brethren, prouoke not the Lord our God to anger.

15 For if he will not helpe vs within theſe fiue dayes, he hath power to defend vs whē he wil, euen euery day, or to deſtroy vs before our enemies.

16 Doe not you therefore binde the counſels of the Lord our God: For God is not as man that he may be threatned, neither as the ſonne of man to be brought to iudgement.

17 Therefore let vs waite for ſaluation of him and cal vpon him to helpe vs, and he wil heare our voyce if it pleaſe him.

18 For there appeareth none in our age, neither is there any nowe in theſe dayes, neyther tribe, nor familie, nor people, nor citie among vs, which worſhip ỹ gods made w̄ hands, as hath bene aforetime.

*Iudg. 2. 11. and 4. 1. and 6. 1.

19 For *this cauſe our fathers were giuen to the ſworde, and for a ſpoyle, and had a great fall before our enemies.

20 But we know none other God: therefore we truſt ỹ he will not deſpiſe vs, nor any of our linage.

21 Neither when we ſhalbe taken, ſhal Iudea be ſo famous: for our Sanctuarie ſhalbe ſpoyled, & hee wil require the prophanation therof at our mouth, 22 And the feare of our brethren, & the captiuitie of the countrey, & the deſolation of our inheritance wil he turne vpō our heads amōg ỹ Gentiles, whereſoeuer we ſhalbe in bondage, & we ſhalbe an offence and a reproch to all them that poſſeſſe vs.

23 For our ſeruitude ſhal not be directed by fauour, but ỹ Lord our God ſhal turne it to diſhonor.

24 Now therefore, O brethren, let vs ſhewe an example to our brethren, becauſe their heartes depend vpon vs, and the Sanctuarie, and the Houſe, and the altar reſt vpon vs.

25 Moreouer, let vs giue thanks to ỹ Lord our God, which trieth vs euen as he did our fathers.

*Gene. 22. 1. *Gene. 28. 7.

26 Remember what things he did to *Abrahā, and how he tryed Iſaac, & al that he did to *Iacob in Meſopotamia of Syria when he kept the ſheepe of Laban his mothers brother.

27 For he hath not tried vs as hee did them to the examination of their hearts, neither doeth hee take vengeance on vs, but the Lorde puniſheth for inſtruction them that come neere to him.

28 ¶ Then ſaid Ozias to her, All that thou haſt ſpoken, haſt thou ſpoken with a good heart, and there is none that is able to reſiſt thy wordes.

29 For it is not to day that thy wiſedome is knowen, but from the beginning of thy life all the people haue knowen thy wiſedome: for the deuice of thine heart is good.

30 But the people were very thirſtie, & compelled vs to doe vnto them, as we haue ſpoken, & haue brought vs to an oth which we may not tranſgreſſe.

31 Therefore now pray for vs, becauſe thou art an holy woman, that the Lord may ſend vs raine to fill our ciſternes, and that we may faint no more.

32 Then ſaid Iudeth vnto them, Heare me, and I will doe a thing, which ſhall be declared in all generations, to the children of our nation.

33 You ſhal ſtand this night in the gate, & I wil goe forth with mine handmaid: & within the dayes that ye haue promiſed to deliuer the citie to our enemies, the Lord will viſite Iſrael by mine hand.

34 But inquire not you of mine acte: for I will not declare it vnto you, till the things be finiſhed that I doe.

35 Then ſaide Ozias and the princes vnto her, Goe in peace, and the Lord God be before thee, to take vengeance on our enemies.

36 So they returned from the tent, and went to their wardes.

CHAP. IX.

1 Iudeth humbleth her ſelfe before the Lord and maketh her prayers for the deliuerance of her people. 7 Againſt the pride of the Aſſyrians. 11 God is the helpe of the humble.

THen Iudeth fell vpon her face, and put aſhes vpon her head, & put off the ſackcloth wherewith ſhe was clothed. And about the time that the incenſe of that euening was offered in Ieruſalem in the houſe of the Lorde, Iudeth cryed with a loude voyce, and ſayde,

2 O Lord God of my father *Simeon, to whom thou gaueſt a ſword to take vengeance of the ſtrangers which opened the wombe of the maide, and defiled her, & diſcouered the thigh with ſhame, and polluted the wombe to reproche (for thou haddeſt commanded that it ſhould not ſo be,

*Gen. 34. 2, 25.

3 Yet they did things for the which thou gaueſt their princes to the ſlaughter, for they were deceiued and waſhed their beds with blood) and haſt ſtriken the ſeruants with the gouerners, and the gouerners vpon their thrones,

4 And haſt giuen their wiues for a praye & their daughters to be captiues, and all their ſpoyles for a bootie to the childrē that thou louedſt: which were mooued with thy zeale, and abhorred the pollution of their blood, and called vpon thee for ayde, O God, O my God, heare me alſo a widowe.

5 For thou haſt wrought the things afore, and theſe, and the things that ſhall be after, and thou conſidereſt the things that are preſent, and the things that are to come.

6 For the things which thou doeſt purpoſe, are preſent, and ſay, Beholde, wee are heere: for all thy wayes are ready, and thy iudgements are foreknowen.

7 Behold, the Aſſyrians are multiplied by their power: they haue exalted them ſelues with horſes and horſemen: they glory in the ſtrength of their footemen: they truſt in ſhield, ſpeare and bow, and ſling, and do not know that thou art the Lord that brakeſt the battels: the Lord is thy Name.

8 Breake thou their ſtrength by thy power, and breake breake their force by thy wrath: for they haue purposed to defile thy Sanctuarie, and to pollute the Tabernacle where thy glorious Name resteth, and to cast downe w̃ weapons the hornes of the Altar.

9 Behold their pride, and sende thy wrath vpon their heads: giue into mine hand which am a widow, the strength that I haue conceiued.

*Iudg.4.21. and 5.26.

10 *Smite by the deceit of my lippes the seruant with the prince, and the prince with the seruant: abate their height by the hand of a woman.

*Iudg.7.2. 2.chron.14.11. and 16.8. and 20.6.

11 *For thy power standeth not in the multitude, nor thy might in strong men: but thou, O Lorde, art the helpe of the humble and litle ones, the defender of the weake, and the protectour of them that are forsaken, and the Sauiour of them that are without hope.

12 Surely, surely thou art the God of my father, and the God of the inheritance of Israel, the Lorde of heauen & earth, the creator of the waters, the King of all creatures: heare thou my prayer, 13 And graunt me words & craft, and a wound, and a stroke against them that enterprise cruell things against thy couenant, and against thine holy House, and against the top of Sion, and against the house of the possession of thy children.

14 Shew euidently among all thy people, and al the tribes, that they may know that thou art ỹ God of all power and strength, and that there is none other that defendeth the people of Israel, but thou.

CHAP. X.

1 Iudeth decketh her selfe and goeth forth of the citie. 11 She is taken of the watch of the Assyrians and brought to Olofernes.

NOw after she had ceased to cry vnto ỹ God of Israel, & had made an ende of al these words,

2 She rose where she had fallen downe, and called her mayde, and went downe into the house, in the which shee abode in the Sabbath dayes and in the feast dayes,

3 And putting away the sackcloth wherewith she was clad, and putting off the garments of her widowhode, she washed her body with water, and anoynted it with much oyntment, and dressed the haire of her head, and put attire vpon it, and put on her garments of gladnesse, wherewith she was clad during the life of Manasses her husband.

4 And she put slippers on her feete, and put on bracelets, and sleeues, and rings, and earerings, and all her ornaments, and she decked her selfe brauely to allure the eyes of all men that should see her.

5 Then she gaue her maide a bottel of wine, & a pot of oyle, and filled a scrip with floure, and with dry figges, and with fine bread: so she lapped vp all these things together and laide them vpon her.

6 Thus they went forth to the gate of the city of Bethulia, and found standing there Ozias, and the Ancients of the citie, Chabris and Charmis.

7 And when they sawe her that her face was changed, and that her garment was changed, they marueiled greatly at her wonderfull beautie, and sayd vnto her,

8 The God, the God of our fathers giue thee fauour, and accomplish thine enterprises to the glory of the children of Israel, and to the exaltation of Ierusalem. Then they worshipped God.

9 And she said vnto them, Command the gates of the citie to be opened vnto me, that I may goe forth to accomplish the things which you haue spoken to me. So they commaunded the yong men to open vnto her, as she had spoken.

10 And when they had done so, Iudeth went out, she and her maide with her, and the men of the citie looked after her, vntill shee was gone downe the mountaine, and till shee had passed the valley, and could see her no more.

11 Thus they went streight forth in the valley, and the first watch of the Assyrians met her, 12 And tooke her, and asked her, Of what people art thou? and whence commest thou? and whither goest thou? And she sayde, I am a woman of the Hebrewes, and am fledde from them: for they shall be giuen you to be consumed.

13 And I come before Olofernes the chiefe captaine of your armie, to declare him true things, and I will shewe before him the way whereby hee shall goe and win all the mountaines, without losing the body or life of any of his men.

14 Now when the men heard her wordes, and behelde her countenance, they wondred greatly at her beautie, and sayd vnto her,

15 Thou hast saued thy life, in that thou hast hasted to come downe to the presence of our lord: nowe therefore come to his tent, and some of vs shall conduct thee vntill they haue deliuered thee into his hands.

16 And when thou standest before him, be not afraide in thine heart, but shew vnto him according as thou hast to say, and he will intreate thee well.

17 Then they chose out of them an hundreth men, and prepared a charet for her and her maide, and brought her to the tent of Olofernes.

18 Then there was a running to & fro, throughout the campe: for her comming was bruted among the tentes: and they came and stoode round about her: for shee stood without the tent of Olophernes vntill they had declared vnto him concerning her.

19 And they marueiled at her beautie, and wondred at the children of Israel because of her, and euery one sayde vnto his neighbour, Who woulde despise this people, that haue among them such women? surely it is not good that one man of them be left: for if they should remaine, they might deceiue the whole earth.

20 Then Olofernes garde went out, and all his seruants, and they brought her into the tent.

21 Now Olofernes rested vpon his bed, vnder a canopie, which was wouen with purple and golde and emeraudes, and precious stones.

22 So they shewed him of her, & he came forth vnto the entrie of his tent, and they caried lampes of siluer before him.

23 And when Iudeth was come before him and his seruants, they all marueiled at the beautie of her countenance, and she fel downe vpon her face, and did reuerence vnto him, & his seruants tooke her vp.

CHAP. XI.

1 Olofernes comforteth Iudeth, 3 And asketh the cause of her comming. 5 She deceiueth him by her faire wordes.

THen sayd Olofernes vnto her, Woman, be of good comfort: feare not in thine heart: for I neuer hurt any that would serue Nabuchodonosor the King of all the earth.

2 Now therefore if thy people that dwelleth in the mountaines, had not despised me, I would not haue lifted vp my speare against them: but they haue procured these things to themselues.

3 But now tell me wherefore thou art fled from them, and art come vnto vs: for thou art come for safegarde: be of good comfort, thou shalt liue from from this night and hereafter.

4 For none ſhall hurt thee, but intreate thee well, as they doe the ſeruants of King Nabuchodonoſor my lorde.

5 Then Iudeth ſaide vnto him, Receiue the wordes of thy ſeruant, and ſuffer thine handmaide to ſpeake in thy preſence, and I will declare no lye to my lord this night.

6 And if thou wilt followe the words of thine handmaid, God will bring ỹ thing perfectly to paſſe by thee, and my lorde ſhall not faile of his purpoſe.

7 As Nabuchodonoſor King of all the earth liueth, and as his power is of force, who hath ſent thee to reforme all perſons, not onely men ſhall be made ſubiect to him by thee, but alſo the beaſtes of the fieldes, and the cattel, and the foules of the heauen ſhall liue by thy power vnder Nabuchodonoſor and all his houſe.

8 For we haue heard of thy wiſedome and of thy prudent ſpirite, and it is declared through the whole earth, that thou onely art excellent in all the kingdome, and of a wonderfull knowledge, and in feates of warre marueilous.

9 Now * as concerning the matter which Achior did ſpeake in thy councill, we haue heard his wordes: for the men of Bethulia did take him, and he declared vnto them all that he had ſpoken vnto thee.

*Chap. 5.

10 Therefore, O lord and gouernour, reiect not his word, but ſet it in thine heart, for it is true: for there is no puniſhment againſt our people, neither can the ſworde preuaile againſt them, except they ſinne againſt their God.

11 Now therefore, leſt my lorde ſhould bee fruſtrate, and voyde of his purpoſe, and that death may fall vpon them, and that they may be taken in their ſinne whiles they prouoke their God to anger, which is ſo oft times as they doe that which is not beſeeming,

12 (For becauſe their vitailes fayle, and all their water is waſted, they haue determined to take their cattell, and haue purpoſed to conſume all things that God had forbidden them to eate by his Lawes:

13 Yea, they haue purpoſed to conſume the firſt fruites of the wheat, and the tithes of the wine, & of the oyle which they had reſerued and ſanctified for the Prieſts that ſerue in Ieruſalem before the face of our God: the which things it is not lawfull for any of the people to touch with their hands.

14 Moreouer, they haue ſent to Ieruſalem, becauſe they alſo that dwel there, haue done the like, ſuch as ſhould bring them licence from the Senate)

15 Nowe when they ſhall bring them worde, they will doe it, and they ſhall bee giuen thee to be deſtroyed the ſame day.

16 Wherefore I thine handmaide, knowing all this, am fled from their preſence, and God hath ſent me to worke a thing with thee, whereof all the earth ſhall wonder, and whoſoeuer ſhall heare it.

17 For thy ſeruant feareth God, and worſhippeth the God of heauen day and night, and nowe let me remaine with thee, my lord, and let thy ſeruant goe out in the night into the valley, and I will pray vnto God, that he may reueile vnto me when they ſhall commit their ſinnes, 18 And I will come and ſhew it vnto thee: then thou ſhalt goe forth with all thine armie, and there ſhall be none of them that ſhall reſiſt thee.

19 And I will leade thee through the middes of Iudea, vntill thou come before Ieruſalem, and I will ſet thy throne in the middes thereof, and thou ſhalt driue them as ſheepe that haue no ſhepheard, and a dogge ſhal not barke with his mouth againſt thee: for theſe things haue bene ſpoken vnto mee, and declared vnto me according to my foreknowledge, and I am ſent to ſhew thee.

20 ¶ Then her wordes pleaſed Olofernes, and all his ſeruants, and they marueiled at her wiſdome, and ſayde, 21 There is not ſuch a woman in all the world, both for beautie of face, and wiſedome of wordes.

22 Likewiſe Olofernes ſaid vnto her, God ‖hath done this, to ſende thee before the people, that ſtrength might be in our handes, and deſtruction vpon them that deſpiſe my lord.

‖Or, hath done well.

23 And nowe thou art both beautifull in thy countenance, and wittie in thy wordes: ſurely if thou doe as thou haſt ſpoken, thy God ſhall be my God, and thou ſhalt dwell in the houſe of Nabuchodonoſor, and ſhalt bee renoumed throughout the whole earth.

CHAP. XII.

1 Iudeth would not pollute her ſelfe with the meat of the Gentiles. 5 Shee maketh her requeſt that ſhe might goe out by night to pray, 11 Olofernes cauſeth her to come in the banket.

THen he commanded to bring her in where his treaſures were layde, and bade that they ſhould prepare for her of his owne meates, and that ſhee ſhould drinke of his owne wine.

2 But Iudeth ſayde, * I may not eate of them, leſt there ſhould be an offence, but I can ſuffice my ſelfe with the things that I haue brought.

*Geue. 43. 32. daniel 1. 8. tob. 1. 11.

3 Then Olofernes ſayde vnto her, If the things that thou haſt, ſhould faile, how ſhould wee giue thee the like? for there is none ỹ vs of thy nation.

4 Then ſaide Iudeth vnto him, As thy ſoule liueth, my lorde, thine handmaide ſhall not ſpend thoſe things that I haue, before the Lorde worke by mine hand the things that he hath determined.

5 Then the ſeruants of Olophernes brought her into the tent, and ſhee ſlept vntill midnight, and roſe at the morning watch,

6 And ſent to Olofernes, ſaying, Let my lorde commaund that thine handmaide may goe foorth vnto prayer.

7 Then Olofernes commanded his garde that they ſhould not ſtay her: thus ſhee abode in the campe three dayes, and went out in the night into the valley of Bethulia, and waſhed her ſelfe in a fountaine, euen in the water by the campe.

8 And when ſhe came out, ſhee prayed vnto the Lorde God of Iſrael, that hee would direct her way to the exaltation of the children of her people.

9 So ſhe returned, and remained pure in the tent, vntill ſhe ate her meate at euening.

10 ¶ And in the fourth day, Olofernes made a feaſt to his owne ſeruants only, and called none of them to the banket, that had the affaires in hand.

11 Then ſaide hee to Bagoas the eunuch who had charge ouer all that he had, Goe and perſwade this Hebrewe woman, which is with thee, that ſhee come vnto vs, and eate and drinke with vs.

12 For it were a ſhame for vs, if we ſhould let ſuch a woman alone, and not talke with her, and if we doe not allure her, ſhe will mocke vs.

13 Then went Bagoas from the preſence of Olofernes, and came to her, and ſaide, Let not this faire faire maide make difficultie to goe in to my lorde, and to bee honoured in his presence, and to drinke wine with vs ioyfully, and to be entreated as one of the daughters of the children of Assur, which remaine in the house of Nabuchodonosor.

14 Then said Iudeth vnto him, Who am I now, that I should gainesay my lord? Surely whatsoeuer pleaseth him, I will doe speedily, and it shall be my ioy vnto the day of my death.

15 So she arose and trimmed her with garments, and with al the ornaments of women, and her maid went, and spred foorth her skinnes on the ground ouer against Olofernes, which shee had receiued of Bagoas for her daily vse, that she might sit and eate vpon them.

16 Nowe when Iudeth came and sate downe, Olofernes heart was rauished with her, and his spirite was moued, and hee desired greatly her companie: for hee had wayted for the time to deceiue her from the day that he had seene her.

17 Then said Olofernes vnto her, Drinke now, and be mery with vs.

18 So Iudeth saide, I drinke now, my lord, because my state is exalted this day more then euer it was since I was borne.

19 Then shee tooke, and ate and dranke before him the things, that her maide had prepared.

20 And Olofernes reioyced because of her, and dranke much more wine then he had drunken at any time in one day since he was borne.

CHAP. XIII.

4 Iudith prayeth for strength. 8 She smiteth off Olofernes necke. 10 She returneth to Bethulia and reioyceth her people.

NOw when the euening was come, his seruants made haste to depart, and Bagoas shut his tent without, and dimissed those that were present, from the presence of his lorde, and they went to their beddes: for they were all wearie, because the feast had bene long.

2 And Iudeth was left alone in the tent, and Olofernes was stretched along vpon his bed: for he was filled with * wine. *Eccl.31.20,25.

3 ¶ Now Iudeth had commanded her maide to stand without her chamber, and to waite for her comming forth as she did dayly: for she sayd, shee would goe foorth to her prayers, and shee spake to Bagoas according to the same purpose.

4 So all went foorth of her presence, and none was left in the chamber, neither little nor great: then Iudeth standing by his bed, sayd in her heart, O Lord God of al power, behold at this present the works of mine hands for ỹ exaltation of Ierusalem.

5 For nowe is the time to helpe thine inheritance, and to execute mine enterprises, to the destruction of the enemies which are risen against vs.

6 Then she came to the post of the bed which was at Olofernes head, and tooke downe his fauchin from thence,

7 And approched to the bed, and tooke holde of the haire of his head, and said, Strengthen me, O Lord God of Israel this day.

8 And she smote twise vpon his necke, with all her might, and she tooke away his head from him,

9 And rolled his body downe from the bedde, and pulled downe the canopie from the pillars, and anon after shee went foroth, and gaue Olofernes head to her maide,

10 And shee put it in her scrippe of meate: so they twaine went together according to their custome vnto prayer, and passing through the tents, went about by that valley, and went vp the mountaine of Bethulia, and came to the gates thereof.

11 ¶ Then said Iudeth afarre off to the watchmen at the gates, Open now the gate: God, euen our God is with vs to shewe his power yet in Ierusalem, and his force against his enemies, as he hath euen done this day.

12 Now when the men of her citie heard her voyce, they made haste to goe downe to the gate of their citie, and they called the Elders of the citie.

13 And they ranne all together both small and great: for it was aboue their expectation, that shee should come. So they opened the gate, and receiued her, and made a fire for a light, and stood round about them twaine.

14 Then she sayd to them with a loude voyce, Prayse God, prayse God: for he hath not taken away his mercie from the house of Israel, but hath destroyed our enemies by mine hands this night.

15 So she tooke the head out of the scrippe and shewed it, and saide vnto them, Behold the head of Olofernes, the chiefe captaine of the armie of Assur, and beholde the canopie, wherein he did lye in his drunkennesse, and the Lorde hath smitten him by the hand of a woman.

16 As the Lorde liueth, who hath kept mee in my way that I went, my countenance hath deceiued him to his destruction, and he hath not committed sinne with me by any pollution or villenie.

17 Then all the people were wonderfully astonished, and bowed themselues, and worshipped God, and said with one accord, Blessed be thou, O our God, which hast this day brought to nought the enemies of thy people.

18 Then said Ozias vnto her, O daughter, blessed art thou of the most hie God aboue all the women of the earth, and blessed bee the Lord God, which hath created the heauens and the earth, which hath directed thee to the cutting off of the head of the chiefe of our enemies.

19 Surely this thine hope shall neuer depart out of the hearts of men: for they shall remember the power of God for euer.

20 And God turne these things to thee for a perpetuall prayse, and visite thee with good things, because thou hast not spared thy life, because of the affliction of our nation, but thou hast holpen our ruine, walking a straight way before our God. And all the people sayd, So be it, so be it.

CHAP. XIIII.

1 Iudeth causeth to hang vp the head of Olofernes. 10 Achior ioyneth himselfe to the people of God. 11 The Israelites goe out against the Assyrians.

THen said Iudeth vnto them, Heare me also, my brethren, and * take this head, and hang it vp on the hiest place of your walles. *2.Mat.15.38.

2 And so soone as the morning shall appeare and the sunne shall come foorth vpon the earth, take you euery one his weapons, and goe foorth euery valiant man out of the citie, and set you a captaine ouer them, as though you would goe downe into the fielde, towarde the watch of the Assyrians, but goe not downe.

3 Then they shall take their armour, and shall goe into their campe, and rayse vp the captaines of the armie of Assur, and they shall runne to the tent of Olofernes, but shall not finde him: then feare shall fall vpon them, and they shall flee before fore your face.

4 So you & all that inhabite the coastes of Israel, shal pursue them, & ouerthrow them as they go.

5 But before you doe these things, call mee Achior the Ammonite, that he may see, and knowe him that despised the house of Israel, and that sent him to vs as to death.

6 Then they called Achior out of the house of Ozias, and when hee was come and sawe the head of Olofernes in a certaine mans hand in the assemblie of the people, hee fell downe on his face, and his spirit failed.

7 But when they had taken him vp, hee fell at Iudeths feete, and reuerenced her, and said, Blessed art thou in all the tabernacle of Iuda, and in all nations, which hearing thy name, shalbe astonished.

8 Nowe therefore tell mee all the things that thou hast done in these dayes. Then Iudeth declared vnto him in the middes of the people all that shee had done from the day that shee went foorth, vntill that houre shee spake vnto them.

9 And when shee had left off speaking, the people reioyced with a great voyce, and made a noyse of gladnesse through their cittie.

10 And Achior, seeing all things that God had done for Israel, beleeued in God vnfaynedly, and circumcised the foreskin of his flesh, and was ioyned vnto the house of Israel vnto this day.

11 ¶ Assoone as the morning arose, they hanged the head of Olofernes out at the wall, and euery man tooke his weapons, and they went foorth by bands vnto the straites of the mountaine.

12 But when the Assyrians saw them, they sent to their captaines, which went to the gouernours and chiefe captaines and to all their rulers.

13 So they came to Olofernes tent and sayd to him that had the charge of all his things, Waken our lord: for the slaues haue bene bolde to come downe against vs to battell, that they may bee destroyed for euer.

14 Then went in Bagoas, and knocked at the doore of the tent: for he thought that he had slept with Iudeth.

15 But because none answered, hee opened it, and went into the chamber, and founde him cast vpon the floore, and his head was taken from him.

16 Therefore he cryed with a loude voyce, with weeping and mourning, and a mighty cry, and rent his garments.

17 After he went into the tent of Iudeth where she vsed to remaine, and found her not: then hee leaped out to the people and cryed, 18 These slaues haue committed wickednes: one woman of the Hebrewes hath brought shame vpon the house of King Nabuchodonosor: for beholde, Olofernes lieth vpon the ground without an head.

19 When the captaines of the Assyrians armie heard these words, they rent their coates, and their heart was wonderfully troubled, & there was a cry and a very great noyse throughout the campe.

CHAP. XV.

1 The Assyrians are afraide and flie. 3 The Israelites pursue them. 8 Joachim the hie Priest commeth to Bethulia to see Iudeth and so praysth God for her.

AND when they that were in the tentes, heard, how they were astonished at euery thing that was done,

2 And feare and trembling fell vpon them, so that there was no man that durst abide in the sight of his neighbours but altogether amazed, they fled by euery way of the plaine and of the mountaines.

3 They also that had camped in the mountaines round about Bethulia, were put to flight: then the children of Israel, euery one that was a warriour among them, rushed out vpon them.

4 Then sent Ozias to Bethomasthem, and to Bebai, and Chobai, and Chola, and to all the coasts of Israel, such as shoulde declare vnto them the things that were done, and that all shoulde rush forth vpon their enemies to destroy them.

5 Nowe when the children of Israel heard it, they all fell vpon them together vnto Choba: likewise also they that came from Ierusalem and from all the mountaines: for men had telde them what things were done in the campe of their enemies, & they that were in Galaad and in Galile chased them with a great slaughter vntill they came to Damascus and to the coastes thereof.

6 And the residue that dwelt at Bethulia, fell vpon the campe of Assur and spoyled them, and were greatly enriched.

7 And the children of Israel that returned from the slaughter, had the reste and the villages and the cities that were in the mountaines & in the plaine, had a great boote: for the abundance was very great.

8 Then Ioacim the hie Priest, and the Ancients of the children of Israel that dwelt in Ierusalem, came to consume the benefits that God had shewed to Israel, and to see Iudeth, and to salute her.

9 And when they came vnto her, they blessed her with one accorde, and sayd vnto her, Thou art the exaltation of Ierusalem: thou art the great glorie of Israel: thou art the great reioycing of our nation.

10 Thou hast done all these things by thine hande: thou hast done much good to Israel, and God is pleased therewith: blessed bee thou of the almightie Lorde for euermore: and all the people sayd, So be it.

11 And the people spoyled the campe the space of thirtie dayes, and they gaue vnto Iudeth Olofernes tent, and all his siluer and bedes, and basins, and all his stuffe, and she tooke it and layd it on her mules, and made ready her charets, and laied them thereon.

12 Then all the women of Israel came together to see her, & blessed her, & made a daunce among them for her, and she tooke branches in her hand, and gaue also to the women that were with her.

13 They also crowned her with oliues, and her that was with her, and shee went before the people in the daunce, leading all the women: and all the men of Israel followed in their armour, & crowned, and with songs in their mouthes.

CHAP. XVI.

Iudeth praiseth God with a song. 19 She offereth to the Lorde Olofernes stuffe. 22 Her continuance, life and death. 25 All Israel honoureth her.

THen Iudeth began this confession in all Israel, and all the people sang this song with a loude voyce.

2 And Iudeth sayd, Beginne vnto my GOD with tymbrels: sing to my Lorde with cymbales: tune vnto him a psalme: exalt his prayse, and call vpon his Name.

3 For God breaketh the battels, and setteth his campe in the middes of the people: and deliuered me out of the hand of the persecuters.

4 Assur

4 Assur came from the mountaines forth of the North; hee came with thousandes in his armie,
*Chap.2.11,15. * whose multitude hath shut vp the riuers, and their horsemen haue couered the valleys.

5 He sayd that he would burne vp my borders and kill my yong men with the sworde, and dash the sucking children against the ground, and make mine infants as a pray, and my virgins a spoyle.

6 But the almighty Lord hath brought them to nought by the hand of a woman.

7 For the mighty did not fal by the yong men, neither did the sonnes of Titan smite him, nor the hie giants inuade him, but Iudeth the daughter of Merari did discomfire him by the beautie of her countenance.

8 For shee put off the garment of her widowhoode, for the exaltation of those that were oppressed in Israel, and anointed her face with oyntment, and bound vp her haire in a coife, and tooke a linnen garment to deceiue him.

9 Her slippers rauished his eyes: her beautie tooke his minde prisoner, and the fauchin passed through his necke.

10 The Persians were astonished at her boldenes, & the Medes were troubled with her hardines.

11 But mine afflicted reioyced, and my feeble ones shouted: then they feared, they lifted vp their voyce and turned backe.

12 The children of maydes perced them, and wounded them as they fledde away like children: they perished by the battel of the Lord.

13 I will sing vnto the Lord a long and prayse, O Lord, thou art great and glorious, marueilous and inuincible in power.

*Gen.1.24. *Psal.33.9. 14 Let all thy creatures serue thee: * for thou hast spoken and they were made: thou hast sent thy Spirit, and he made them vp: and there is none that can resist thy voyce.

15 For the mountaines leape vp from their foundations with the waters: the rockes melt at thy presence like waxe: yet thou art mercifull to them that feare thee.

16 For al sacrifice is too litle for a sweete sauour, and al the fat is too litle for thy burnt offering: but he that feareth the Lord, is great at all times.

17 Woe to the nations that rise vp against my kinred: the Lord almightie will take vengeance of them in the day of iudgement, in sending fire & wormes vpon their flesh, and they shall feele them and weepe for euer.

18 ¶ After, when they went vnto Ierusalem, they worshipped the Lorde, and assoone as the people were purified, they offered their burnt offerings, and their free offerings, and their giftes.

19 Iudeth also offred all the stuffe of Olofernes, which the people had giuen her, and gaue the canopie which she had taken off his bed, for an oblation to the Lord.

20 So the people reioyced in Ierusalem by the Sanctuarie, for the space of three moneths, and Iudeth remained with them.

21 After this time, euery one returned to his own inheritance, and Iudeth went to Bethulia, and remained in her owne possession, and was for her time honourable in all the countrey.

22 And many desired her, but none had her companie all the dayes of her life after that Manasses her husband was dead, and was gathered to ‖ his people. ‖Or, her people

23 But shee increased more and more in honour, and waxed olde in her husbands house, being an hundreth and fiue yeere olde, and made her mayde free: so shee dyed in Bethulia, and they buried her in the graue of her husband Manasses.

24 And * the house of Israel lamented her seuen dayes, and before she dyed, shee did distribute her goodes to all them that were neerest of kinred to Manasses her husband, and to them that were the neerest of her kinred. *Gen.50.10.

25 And there was none that made the children of Israel any more afraide in the dayes of Iudeth, nor a long time after her death.

ESTHER.

Certaine portions of the storie of Esther, which are found in some Greeke and Latine translations.

Which follow the tenth Chapter.

IN the fourth yeere of the reigne of Ptolemeus and Cleopatra, Dositheus, who said he was a Priest and Leuite, and Ptolemeus his sonne, and brought the former letters of ‖ Phurai, which they said Lysimachus the sonne of Ptolemeus, which was at Ierusalem, interpreted. ‖Or, Iaira

2 In the second yere of the reigne of great Artaxerxes in the first day of the moneth Nisan, Mardocheus the sonne of Iarus, the sonne of Semei, the sonne

THen Mardocheus sayde, God hath done these things.

5 For I remember a dreame, which I sawe concerning these matters, and there was nothing thereof omitted.

6 A litle fountaine which became a flood, and was a light, and as the sunne, and as much water, this flood was Esther whom the King married, and made Queene.

7 And the two dragons are I and Aman.

8 And the people are they that are assembled to destroy the name of the Iewes.

9 And my people is Israel, which cried to God, and are saued: for the Lorde hath saued his people, and the Lord hath deliuered vs from all these euils, and God hath wrought signes, and great wonders, which haue not bene done among the Gentiles.

10 Therefore hath he made two lottes, one for the people of God, & another for all the Gentiles.

11 And these two lottes came before God for all nations, at the houre and time appointed, and in the day of iudgement.

12 So God remembred his owne people, and iustified his inheritance.

13 Therefore those dayes shall be vnto them in the moneth Adar the fourteenth, and fifteenth day of the same moneth, with an assemblie and ioy, and with gladnesse before God, according to the generations for euer among his people.

CHAP. XI.

sonne of Cis of the tribe of Beniamin had a dreame.

3 A Iewe dwelling in the citie of Susis, a noble man, that bare office in the Kings court.

4 He was also one of the captiuitie which Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon brought from Ierusalem with Iechonias.

5 And this was his dreame, Beholde a noyse of a tempest with thunders, and earthquakes, and vproare in the land.

6 Beholde two great dragons came foorth ready to fight one against another.

7 Their crie was great, whereby all the heathen were ready to fight against the righteous people.

8 And the same day was full of darkenesse and obscuritie, and trouble, and anguish: yea, aduersitie, and great affliction was vpon the earth.

9 For then the righteous fearing their afflictions were amased, & being ready to die, cried vnto God.

10 And while they were crying, the litle wel grew into a great riuer, & flowed ouer with great waters.

11 The light and the sunne rose vp, and the lowly were exalted, and deuoured the glorious.

12 Nowe when Mardocheus had seene this dreame, hee awoke and rose vp, and thought in his heart vntill the night, what God would doe, and so he desired to knowe all the matter.

CHAP. XII.

AT the same time dwelt Mardocheus in the kings court with Bagathas & Thara, the kings eunuches and keepers of the palace.

2 * But when he heard their purpose, and their imaginations, hee perceiued that they went about to lay their handes vpon the King Artaxerxes, and so he certified the King thereof. *Esther 2.21. and 6.2.

3 Then caused the King to examine the two eunuches with torments, and when they had confessed it, they were put to death.

4 This the King caused to be put in the Chronicles. Mardocheus also wrote the same thing.

5 So the King commanded that Mardocheus should remaine in the court, and for the aduertisement, he gaue him a reward.

6 But Aman the sonne of Amadathus the Agagite, which was in great honour and reputation with the King, went about to hurt Mardocheus and his people, because of the two eunuches of the King that were put to death.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The copie of the letters of Artaxerxes against the Iewes. 8 The prayer of Mardocheus.

THe copie of the letters was this, The great king Artaxerxes writeth these things to ỹ princes & gouernours that are vnder him from India vnto Ethiopia in an hũdreth & seuen & twenty prouinces. Ioseph. antiq. lib. 11. chap. 8.

2 When I was made lord ouer many people, and had subdued the whole earth vnto my dominion, I would not exalt my selfe by ỹ reason of my power, but purposed w̃ equitie alway and gentlenesse to gouerne my subiects, & wholy to set them in a peaceable life, and thereby to bring my kingdome vnto tranquility, ỹ men might safely go thorow on euery side, & to renew peace againe, which all men desire.

3 Now when I asked my counsellers, how these things might be brought to passe, one that was conuersant with vs, of excellent wisdome, and constant in good wil, and shewed himselfe to be of sure fidelitie, which had the second place in the kingdome, euen Aman,

4 Declared vnto vs, that in al nations there was scattered abroad a rebellious people, that had lawes contrary to all people, and haue alway despised the commandements of Kings, and so that this generall empire, that we haue begunne, cannot be gouerned without offence.

5 Seeing now we perceiue, that this people alone are altogether contrary vnto euery man, vsing strange and other maner of lawes, and hauing an euill opinion of our doings, and goe about to stablish wicked matters, that our kingdome should not come to good estate,

6 Therefore haue we commanded, that all they that are appoynted in writing vnto you by Aman (which is ordeined ouer ỹ affaires, & is as our second father) shal all with their wiues and children be destroied and rooted out w̃ the sword of their enemies without all mercy, & that none be spared the fourteenth day of the twelfth moneth Adar of this yere,

7 That they which of olde, and now also haue euer bene rebellious, may in one day with violence be thrust downe into the hell, to the intent that after this time our affaires may be without troubles, and well gouerned in all poyntes.

8 Then Matdocheus thought vpõ all the works and of the Lord, and made his prayer vnto him, 9 Saying, O Lord, Lord, the King almighty (for all things are in thy power) & if thou hast appointed to saue Israel, there is no man ỹ can withstand thee.

10 For thou hast made heauen and earth, and all the wonderous things vnder the heauen.

11 Thou art Lorde of all things, and there is no man that can resist thee, which art the Lord.

12 Thou knowest all things, and thou knowest, Lord, that it was neither of malice, nor presumption, nor for any desire of glory, that I did this, and not bowe downe to proude Aman.

13 For I woulde haue bene content with good will for the saluation of Israel, to haue kist the sole of his feete.

14 But I did it, because I would not preferre the honour of a man aboue the glory of God, & would not worship any but onely thee, my Lord, and this haue I not done of pride.

15 And therefore, O Lord God and King, haue mercie vpon thy people: for they imagine how they may bring vs to naught, yea, they would destroy the inheritance, that hath bin thine from ỹ beginning.

16 Despise not the portion, which thou hast deliuered out of Egypt for thine owne selfe.

17 Heare my prayer, and be mercifull vnto thy portion: turne our sorow into ioy, that we may liue, O Lord, and praise thy Name: shut not the mouthes of them that praise thee.

18 All Israel in like maner cried most earnestly vnto ỹ Lord, because ỹ death was before their eyes.

CHAP. XIIII.

The prayer of Esther for the deliuerance of her, and her people.

QVeene Esther also, being in danger of death, resorted vnto the Lord.

2 And laid away her glorious apparel, and put on the garments of sighing, and mourning. In the stead of precious ointment, she scattered ashes, and dongue vpon her head: and she humbled her body greatly with fasting, and al the places of her ioy filled she with the haire that she pluckt off.

3 And she prayed vnto the Lord God of Israel, saying, O my Lord, thou onely art our King: helpe me desolate woman, which haue no helper but thee,

4 For my danger is at hand.

5 From

3 From my youth vp I haue heard in the kinred of my father, that thou, O Lord, tookest Israel from among all people, and our fathers from their predecessours for a perpetuall inheritance, and thou hast performed that which thou diddest promise them.

6 Now Lord, we haue sinned before thee: therefore hast thou giuen vs into ỹ hands of our enemies.

7 Because we worshipped their gods: O Lorde, thou art righteous.

8 Nuertheleſſe, it ſatisfieth them not, that wee are in bitter captiuitie, but they haue ſtroken hands with their idoles,

9 That they wil aboliſh the thing that thou with thy mouth haſt ordeined, and deſtroy thine inheritãce, to ſhut vp the mouth of them ỹ praiſe thee, and to quench ỹ glory of thy Temple, & of thine altar,

10 And to open the mouthes of the heathen, that they may praiſe the power of the idoles, and to magnifie a fleſhly king for euer,

11 O Lord, giue not thy ſcepter vnto the that be nothing, leſt they laugh vs to ſcorne in our miſerie; but turne their deuiſe vpõ themſelues, & make him an example, that hath begunne the ſame againſt vs.

12 Thinke vpon vs, O Lord, and ſhew thy ſelfe vnto vs in the time of our diſtreſſe, and ſtrengthen me, O King of gods, and Lord of all power.

13 Giue me an eloquent ſpeach in my mouth before the Lion: turne his heart to hate our enemie, to deſtroy him, and all ſuch as conſent vnto him.

14 But deliuer vs w thine hand, and helpe me that am ſolitarie, which haue no defence but only thee.

15 Thou knoweſt al things, O Lord: thou knoweſt, that I hate the glorie of the vnrighteous, and that I abhorre the bed of the vncircumciſed, and of all the heathen.

16 Thou knoweſt my neceſſitie: for I hate this token of my preeminence, which I beare vpon mine head, what time as I muſt ſhew my ſelfe, and that I abhorre it as a menſtruous cloth, and that I weare it not when I am alone by my ſelfe,

17 And that I thine handmaid haue not eaten at Amans table, and that I haue had no pleaſure in the Kings feaſt, nor drunke ỹ wine of ỹ drinke offrings, 18 And that I thine handmayde haue no ioye ſince the day that I was brought hither, vntill this day, but in thee, O Lord God of Abraham.

19 O thou mightie God aboue all, heare ỹ voice of them ỹ haue none other hope, & deliuer vs out of the hand of ỹ wicked, & deliuer me out of my feare.

CHAP. XV.

1 Mardochem moueth Esther to goe in to the King and make intercession for her people, 9 And she performeth his request.

MArdochem alſo bade Eſther to go in vnto the King, & pray for her people, & for her country.

2 Remember, ſaith hee, the dayes of thy lowe eſtate, how thou waſt nouriſhed vnder mine hand: for Aman which is next vnto the King hath giuen ſentence of death againſt vs.

3 Call thou therefore vpon the Lord, & ſpeake for vs vnto the King, and deliuer vs from death.

4 And vpon the third day when ſhe had ended her prayer, ſhe laide away the mourning garments, and put on her glorious apparell,

5 And deckt her ſelfe goodly, after that ſhe had called vpon God, which is the beholder and ſauiour of all things, and tooke two handmaydes with her.

6 Vpon the one ſhe leaned her ſelfe, as one that was tender.

7 And the other followed her, and bare the traine of her veſture.

8 The ſhine of her beautie made her face roſe coloured: and her face was cheerefull and amiable, but her heart was ſorowfull for great feare.

9 Then ſhe went in thorow all the doores, and ſtoode before the King, and the King ſate vpon his royall throne, and was clothed in his goodly aray, all glittering with golde and precious ſtones, and he was very terrible.

10 Then he lift vp his face, that ſhone with maieſtie, and looked fiercely vpon her: therefore the Queene fell downe, & was pale & faint and leaned her ſelfe vpon the head of the maid that went wher.

11 Nuertheleſſe, God turned the Kings minde that he was gentle, who being careful, leaped out of his throne, and tooke her in his armes, till ſhe came to her ſelfe againe: and comforted her with louing wordes, and ſayd,

12 Eſther, what is the matter? I am thy brother, be of good cheare, 13 Thou ſhalt not die: for our commandement toucheth the commons, and not thee, Come neere.

14 And ſo hee helde vp his golden ſcepter, and layde it vpon her necke, 15 And kiſſed her, and ſaid, Talke with me.

16 Then ſayd ſhe, I ſaw thee, O lord, as an Angel of God, and mine heart was troubled for feare of thy maieſtie.

17 For wonderful art thou, O lord, and thy face is full of grace.

18 And as ſhe was thus ſpeaking vnto him, ſhee fell downe againe for faintneſſe.

19 Then the king was troubled, and all his ſeruants comforted her.

CHAP. XVI.

The copie of the letters of Artaxerxes, whereby he reuoketh those which he firſt ſent forth.

THe great king Artaxerxes, which reigneth from India vnto Ethiopia, ouer an hundreth & ſeuen and twentie prouinces, ſendeth vnto the princes and rulers that haue ỹ charge of our affaires, ſalutation. Ioſeph. Antiq. 11. chap. 6.

2 There be many that through the goodneſſe of Princes and honour giuen vnto them, become very proude,

3 And indeuour not onely to hurt our ſubiects, but not content to liue in wealth, doe alſo imagine deſtruction againſt thoſe that doe them good,

4 And take not onely all thankefulneſſe away from men, but in pride & preſumption, as they that be vnmindefull of benefites, they thinke to eſcape the vengeance of God, that ſeeth all things, and is contrary to euill.

5 And oft times many which bee ſet in office, and vnto whom their friends cauſes are committed, by vaine inticements doe wrappe them in calamities, that can not bee remedied: for they make them partakers of innocent blood,

6 And deceitfully abuſe the ſimplicitie, and gentleneſſe of Princes with lying tales,

7 This may be proued not onely by olde hiſtories, but alſo by thoſe things that are before our eyes, and are wickedly committed of ſuch peſtilences, as are not worthy to beare rule.

8 Therefore we muſt take heede hereafter, that we may make the kingdome peaceable for all men, what chance ſoeuer ſhall come,

9 And diſcerne the things that are before our eyes, to withſtand them with gentleneſſe.

10 For Aman, a Macedonian, the ſonne of Amadathus, dathus, being in deede a stranger from the Persians blood, & far from our goodnes, was receiued of vs, 11 And hath proued the friendshippe that wee beare toward all nations, so that he was called our father, and was honoured of euery man, as the next person vnto the King.

12 But he could not vse himselfe soberly in this great dignitie, but went about to depriue vs of the kingdome, and of our life.

13 With manifolde deceite also hath he desired to destroy Mardocheus our preseruer, which hath done vs good in all things, and innocent Esther the partaker of our kingdome, with all her nation.

14 For his minde was (when he had taken them out of the way) to lay waite for vs, and by this meanes to translate the kingdome of the Persians vnto them of Macedonia.

15 But we finde that ¶ Iewes (which were accused of this most wicked man, that they might be destroyed) are no euill doers, but vse most iust lawes,

16 And that they be the children of the most High and Almightie & euerliuing God, by whome the kingdome hath bene preserued vnto vs, and our progenitours in very good order.

17 Wherefore yee shall doe well, if ye doe not put in execution those letters, that Aman the sonne of Amadathus did write vnto you

18 For hee that inuented them, hanged hat Susis before the gates with all his familie, and God (which hath all things in his power) hath speedely rewarded him after his deseruing.

19 Therefore yee shall publish the copy of this letter in al places, that the Iewes may freely liue after their owne Lawes.

20 And ye shall ayde them, that vpon the thirteenth day of the twelfth moneth Adar they may be auenged of them, which in the time of their trouble would haue oppressed them.

21 For almightie God hath turned to ioy ¶ day wherein the chosen people should haue perished.

22 Moreouer, among other solemne dayes yee shall keepe this day with all gladnes, 23 That both now and in time to come this day may bee a remembrance of deliuerance for vs and all such as loue the prosperitie of the Persians, but a remembrance of destruction to those that be sedit ous vnto vs.

24 Therefore all cities and countreys that doe not this, shall horribly be destroyed with sworde and fire, and shall not onely not bee inhabited of men, but be abhorred also of the wilde beasts and foule for euer.

THE WISEDOME OF SALOMON.

CHAP. I.

1 Howe we ought to search and inquire after God. 2 Who be those that finde him. 5 The holy Ghost 8. 11 We ought to flee from backbiting and murmuring. 12 Whereof death commeth. 15 Righteousnes and vnrighteousnes

*1.King.3.3. Psa.56 1.

LOVE *righteousnesse, ye that bee Iudges of the earth: thinke reuerently of the Lord, and seeke him in simplicitie of heart.

*Deut 4.29. 2.chro.15.4 2 *For he will be found of them that tempt him not, and appeareth vnto such as be not vnfaithfull vnto him.

3 For wicked thoughts separate from God: and his power when it is tried, reproueth the vnwise.

4 Because wisdome cannot enter into a wicked heart, nor dwel in ¶ body that is subiect vnto sinne.

*Iere.4.22. 5 For the holy *Spirit of discipline fleeth from deceite, & withdraweth himself from the thoughts that are without vnderstanding, and is rebuked when wickednes commeth.

*Galat.5.22. 6 For the Spirit of wisdome *is louing, and will not absolue him, that blaspheneth with his lips: for God is a witnes of his reines, and a true beholder of his heart, and an hearer of the tongue.

7 For the Spirite of the Lorde filleth all the worlde: and the same that mainteyneth all things, hath knowledge of the voyce.

8 Therefore hee that speaketh vnrighteous things, cannot be hid: neither shall the iudgement of reproche let him escape.

9 For inquisition shalbe made for the thoughts of the vngodly, and the sounde of his wordes shall come vnto God for the correction of his iniquities.

10 For the eare of ielousie heareth all things, and the noyse of the grudgings shall not be hid.

11 Therefore beware of murmuring, which profiteth nothing, and refraine your tongue from slander: for there is no worde so secret, that shall go for nought, and the mouth that speaketh lyes, slayeth the soule.

12 Seeke not death in the errour of your life: * destroy not your selues thorowe the workes of your owne hands,

*Deut 4.29.

13 *For God hath not made death, neither hath he pleasure in the destruction of the liuing.

*Ezek.18.23. and 33.11.

14 For hee created all things, that they might haue their being: and the generations of the world are preserued, and there is no poyson of destruction in them, & the kingdome of hell is not vpon earth.

15 For righteousnes is immortall, but vnrighteousnes bringeth death.

16 And the vngodly call [a] it vnto them both with hands and words: and while they thinke to haue a friende of it, they come to naught: for they are confederate with it: therefore are they worthy to be partakers thereof.

[a] Or, death

CHAP. II.

1 The imaginations and desires of the wicked, and their counsell against the faithfull.

FOr the vngodly say, as they falsly imagine with themselues, * Our life is short & tedious: and in the death of a man there is no recouery, neither was any knowen ¶ hath returned from the graue.

*Iob.7.1. and 14.1. mat.22.23. 1.cor.15.32.

2 For we are borne at al aduenture, and we shal be hereafter as though we had neuer bene: for the breath is a smoke in our nostrels, & the words as a sparke raised out of our heart,

3 Which being extinguished, the body is turned into ashes, & the Spirit vanisheth as the soft ayre,

4 Our life shall passe away as the trace of a cloude, and come to naught as the miste that is driuen away with the beames of ¶ sunne, & cast down with the heate thereof. Our name also shal be forgotten in time, and no man shal haue our works in remembrance.

5 *For our time is as a shadow that passeth away, and after our ende there is no returning: for it is fast sealed, so that no man commeth again.

*1.Chro.29.15. Iob.8.9.

6 *Come therefore, and let vs enioy the pleasures, that are present, and let vs cheerefully vse the creatures as in youth.

7 Let vs fill our selues with costly wine, & ointments, and let not the floure of life passe by vs.

8 Let vs crowne our selues with rose buds afore they be withered.

9 Let vs all be partakers of our wantonnes: let vs leaue some token of our pleasure in euery place: for that is our portion, and this is our lot.

10 Let vs oppresse the poore that is righteous: let vs not spare the widdow, nor reuerence the white haires of the aged, that haue liued many yeeres.

11 Let our strength be the lawe of vnrighteousnes: for the thing that is feeble, is reproued as vnprofitable.

12 Therefore let vs defraude the righteous: for he is not for our profite, and hee is contrary to our doings: hee checketh vs for offending against the Law, and blameth vs as transgressers of discipline.

13 He maketh his boast to haue the knowledge of God: & he calleth himselfe the sonne of the Lord.

14 He is made to *reprooue our thoughts.

16 It grieueth vs also to looke * vpon him: for his life is not like other mens: his wayes are of another fashion.

16 Hee counteth vs as bastards, and hee withdraweth himselfe from our wayes as from filthines: hee commendeth greatly the latter end of the iust, and boasteth that God is his father.

17 Let vs see then if his wordes bee true: let vs prooue what end he shall haue.

18 For if the righteous man be the * sonne of God, hee will helpe him, and deliuer him from the hands of his enemies.

19 Let vs *examine him with rebukes and torments that we may know his meekenes, & proone his patience.

20 Let vs condemne him vnto a shameful death: for he shalbe preserued as he himselfe saith.

21 Such things do they imagine, and go astray: for their owne wickednes hath blinded them.

22 And they doe not vnderstand the mysteries of God, neither hope for the reward of righteousnes, nor can discerne the honour of the soules that are faultles.

23 For God created man without corruption, and made him after the *image of his own likenes.

24 *Neuertheless, thorowe enuie of the deuill came death into the world: and they that holde of his side, proone it.

1 The conuersation and assurance of the righteous. 7 The reward of the faithfull. 11 Who are miserable.

BVt the * soules of the righteous are in the hand of God, and no torment shall touch them.

*Deut.33.3.

2 * In the sight of the vnwise they appeared to die, and their end was thought grieuous,

*Chap.5.4.

3 And their departing from vs, destruction, but they are in peace.

4 And though they suffer paine before men, yet is * their hope full of immortalitie.

*Rom.8.24. 2.cor.5.1. 2.pet.1.13.

5 They are punished, but in fewe things, yet in many things shall they be well rewarded: *for God proueth them, & findeth them meete for himselfe.

*2.esd.16.4. deut.8.2.

6 Hee tryeth them as the golde in the fornace, and receiueth them as a perfect fruite offering.

7 *And in the time of their vision they shal shine, and runne thorow as the sparks among the stubble.

*Mat.13.43.

8 *They shall iudge the nations, and haue dominion ouer the people, and their Lord shall reigne for euer.

*Mat.19.28. 1.cor.6.2.

9 They that trust in him shall vnderstand the truth, and the faithfull shall remaine with him in loue: for grace and mercy is among his Saints, and he regardeth his elect.

10 But * the vngodly shalbe punished according to their imaginations: for they haue despised the righteous, and forsaken the Lord.

*Mat.25.41.

11 Who so despiseth wisedome and discipline, is miserable, and their hope is vaine, and their labours are foolish, and their workes vnprofitable.

12 Their wiues are vndiscrete, and their children wicked: their offering is cursed.

13 Therefore the barren is blessed which is vndefiled, and knoweth not the sinfull bed: *she shall haue fruite in the visitation of the soules,

*Isai.56.3.

14 And the eunuch, which with his hands hath not wrought iniquitie, nor imagined wicked things against God: for vnto him shalbe giuen the speciall gift of faith, and an acceptable portion in the Temple of the Lord.

15 For glorious is the fruite of good labours, and the roote of wisedome shall neuer fade away.

16 But the children of adulterers shall not bee partakers of the holy things, and the seede of the wicked bed shalbe roored out.

17 And though they liue long, yet shall they bee nothing regarded, and their last age shalbe without honour.

18 If they die hastely, they haue no hope, neyther comfort in the day of tryall.

19 For horrible is the ende of the wicked generation.

CHAP. IIII.

Of vertue and the commoditie thereof. 10 The death of the righteous, and the condemnation of the vnfaithfull.

BEtter is barrennes with vertue: for the memoriall thereof is immortall: for it is knowen with God and with men.

2 When it is present, men take example thereat, and if it goe away, yet they desire it: it is alway crowned and triumpheth, and winneth the battell and the vndefiled rewards.

3 But the multitude of the vngodly which abound in children, is vnprofitable: & the bastard plants shal take no deepe roote, nor lay any fast foundation.

4 For though they bud foorth in the branches for a time, * yet they shalbe shaken with the wind: for they stand not fast, and through the vehemencie of the winde they shalbe rooted out.

*Mat.7.19.

5 For the vnperfite branches shalbe broken, and their fruite shalbe vnprofitable and sowre to eate, and meete for nothing.

6 For all the children that are borne of the wicked bed, shalbe witnes of the wickednes against their parents when they be asked.

7 But though the righteous be preuented with death, yet shall he be in rest.

8 For the honourable age is not that which is of long time, neither that which is measured by the number of yeeres.

9 But wisdome is the gray haire, and an vndefiled life is the olde age.

10 *He pleased God, and was beloued of him, so that whereas he liued among sinners, he translated him.

*Gene.5.24. hebr.11.5.

11 He was taken away, least wickednes should alter alter his vnderstanding, or deceit beguile his minde.

12 For wickednes by bewitching obscureth the things that are good, and the vnstedfastnesse of concupiscence peruerteth the simple minde.

13 Though he was soone dead, yet fulfilled he much time.

14 For his soule pleased God: therfore hasted he to take him away from wickednesse.

15 Yet the people see and vnderstand it not, and consider no such things in their hearts, how that grace and mercy is vpon his Saintes, and his prouidence ouer the elect.

16 Thus the righteous that is dead, condemneth ỹ vngodly which are liuing: & the youth ỹ is soone brought to an end, the long life of the vnrighteous.

17 For they see the ende of the wise, but they vnderstand not what God hath deuised for him, and wherefore the Lord hath preserued him in safetie.

18 They see him and despise him, but the Lord will laugh them to scorne, 19 So that they shall fall hereafter without honour, and shall haue a shame among the dead for euermore: for without any voice shal he burst them and cast them downe, & shake them from the foundations, so that they shalbe vtterly wasted, and they shalbe in sorow, and their memoriall shall perish.

20 So they being afraide, shall remember their sinnes, and their owne wickednes shall come before them to conuince them.

CHAP. V.

1 The constantnesse of the righteous before their persecuters. 14 The hope of the vnfaithfull is vaine. 15 The blessednesse of the Saints and Godly.

THen shall the righteouos stand in great boldenes before the face of such as haue tormented him, and taken away his labours.

2 When they see him, they shall be vexed with horrible feare, and shall bee amased for his wonderful deliuerance,

3 And shal change their minds, & sigh for grief of mind, & say within thẽselues, this is he whom we sometime had in derision & in a parable of reproch.

4 * Wee fooles though his life madnesse, and his ende without honour.

5 Howe is he counted among the children of God, and his portion is among the Saints!

6 Therefore wee haue erred from the way of trueth, & the light of righteousnes hath not shined vnto vs, & the sun of vnderstãding rose not vpõ vs.

7 Wee haue wearied our selues in the way of wickednesse and destruction, and wee haue gone through dangerous waies: but we haue not knowen the way of the Lord.

8 What hath pride profited vs? or what profite hath the pompe of riches brought vs?

9 All those things are * passed away like a shadow, and as a poste that passeth by:

10 As a ship that passeth ouer the waues of the water, which when it is gone by, the trace thereof cannot be found, neither the path of it in ỹ floodes:

11 Or as a * birde that flieth thorow in the ayre, and no man can see any token of her passage, but only heare the noyse of her wings, beating the light winde, parting the ayre through the vehemencie of her going, and flieth on shaking her wings, whereas afterward no token of her way can be found:

12 Or as when an arrow is shot at a mark, it parteth ỹ aire, which immediatly cõmeth together again, so ỹ a man cannot know where it wẽt thorow,

13 Euen so we, assoone as we were borne, we began to drawe to our ende, & haue shewed no token of vertue, but are consumed in our own wickednes.

14 For * the hope of the vngodly is like the dust that is blowen away with the wind, & like a thinne fome that is scattered abroad with ỹ storme, & as the smoke which is dispersed with the winde, & as the remembrance of him passeth, ỹ tarieth but for a day

15 But ỹ righteous shal liue for euer: their reward also is w the Lord, & the most high hath care of thẽ

16 Therefore shall they receiue a glorious kingdome, and a beautifull crowne of the Lordes hand: for with his right hande shall hee couer them, and with his arme shall he defend them.

17 He shal take his ielousie for armour, and shal arme the creatures to bee reuenged of the enemies.

18 He shall put on righteousnes for a brestplate, and take true iudgement in stead of an helmet.

19 He wil take holines for an inuincible shielde.

20 He wil sharpen his fierce wrath for a sword, and the world shal fight with him against ỹ vnwise.

21 Then shal the thunderbolts go streight out of the lightnings, and shal flie to the marke as out of the bent bowe of the cloudes, and out of his anger that throweth stones, shall thicke haile bee cast, and the water of the sea shalbe wroth against them, and the floods shall mightily ouerflowe.

22 And a mightie winde shall stande vp against them, & like a storme shal scatter thẽ abroad. Thus iniquitie shal bring all the earth to a wildernes, and wickednes shal ouerthrow ỹ thrones of the mighty

CHAP. VI.

The calling of Kings, Princes and Iudges, which are also exhorted to search wisedome.

HEare therefore, O yee Kings, and vnderstand: learn, ye that be iudges of the endes of ỹ earth.

2 Giue eare, yee that rule the multitudes, and glory in the multitude of people.

3 For the rule* is giuen you of the Lorde, and power by the most High, which wil try your works, and search out your imaginations.

4 Because that yee being officers of his kingdome haue not iudged aright, nor kept the Lawe, nor walked after the will of God,

5 Horribly & suddenly wil he appeare vnto you: for an hard iudgement shall they haue ỹ beare rule.

6 For he that is most low is worthy merey, but the mightie shalbe mightily tormented.

7 For he that is Lord ouer al, wil spare no* person, neither shall he feare any greatnes: for he hath made the small and great, and careth for all alike,

8 But for the mightie abideth the sorer triall,

9 Vnto you therefore, O tyrants, doe I speake, that ye may learne wisdome, and not goe amisse.

10 For they ỹ keepe holines holily, shalbe holy, and they that are learned there, shal finde a defence

11 Wherefore set your delite vpon my wordes and desire them, and ye shalbe instructed.

12 Wisedome shineth and neuer fadeth away, and is easily seene of them that loue her, and found of such as seeke her, 13 She preuenteth them that desire her, that she may first shew her selfe vnto them.

14 Who so awaketh vnto her betimes, shal haue no great trauaile: for he shall finde her sitting at his doores.

15 To thinke vpõ her thẽ is perfect vnderstãding: & who so watcheth for her, shalbe soone wout care.

16 For she goeth about, seeking such as are meete for her, and sheweth herselfe cheerefully vnto them in the wayes, and meeteth them in euery thought.

17 For the most true desire of discipline is her beginning: and the care of discipline is loue:

18 And loue is the keeping of her lawes: and the keeping of the lawes is the assurance of immortality:

19 And immortalitie maketh vs neere vnto God.

20 Therefore the desire of wisedome leadeth to the kingdome.

21 If your delite be then in thrones, and scepters, O Kings of the people, honour wisedome, that ye may reigne for euer.

22 Nowe I will tell you what wisedome is, and whence it commeth, and wil not hide the misteries from you, but wil seeke her out from the beginning of her natiuitie, and bring the knowledge of her into light, and will not keepe backe the trueth.

23 Neither wil I haue to do with consuming enuie: for such a man shal not be partaker of wisedom.

24 But ỹ multitude of the wise is the preseruation of the world, & a wise King is the stay of the people.

25 Be therefore instructed by my words, and ye shall haue profite.

CHAP. VII.

Wisedome ought to be preferred aboue all things.

I My selfe am also mortall & a man like al other, & am come of him that was first made of the earth.

2 And in my mothers wombe was I fashioned
*Iob.10.10,11. to be flesh in tenne moneths: I was *brought together into blood of the seede of man, and by the pleasure that commeth with sleepe.

3 And when I was borne, I receiued the common ayre, and fell vpon the earth, which is of like nature, crying & weeping at the first as al other do.

4 I was nourished in swadling cloths, & w̄ cares.

5 For there is no King that had any other beginning of birth.

Iob.1.21. 2.Sam.6.7. 6 All men then haue one entrance vnto life, and a like going out.

7 Wherefore I prayed, and vnderstanding was giuen me: I called, and the spirit of wisedome came vnto me.

8 I preferred her to scepters and thrones, and
*Iob.28.15. counted riches nothing in compriſon of her.

9 *Neither did I compare precious stones vnto her: for al gold is but a litle grauel in respect of her, and siluer shalbe counted but clay before her.

10 I loued her aboue health and beautie, and purposed to take her for my light: for her light cannot be quenched.

1 King 3.13. matth.6.33. 11 All good things therefore came to me together w̄ her, & innumerable riches thorow her hãds.

12 So I was glad in all: for wisedome was the author therof, and I knewe not that she was the mother of these things.

13 And I learned vnfainedly, and communicated without enuie, and I doe not hide her riches.

14 For she is an infinite treasure vnto men, which who so vse, become partakers of the loue of God, and are accepted for the giftes of knowledge.

15 God hath granted mee to speake according to my minde, and to iudge worthily of the thinges, that are giuē me: for he is the leader vnto wisdome, and the directer of the wise.

16 For in his hand are both we and our wordes, and al wisedome, and the knowledge of the works.

17 For he hath giuen me the true knowledge of the things that are, so that I know how the world was made, and the powers of the elements,

18 The beginning & the end, and the midi of the times: how ỹ times alter, & the chãge of the seasons,

19 The course of ỹ yere, the situatiō of the stars,

20 The nature of liuing things, and the furiousnes of beastes, the power of the winds, and the imaginations of men, the diuersities of plantes, and the vertues of rootes.

21 And al things both secret and knowen doe I knowe: for wisedome the worker of all things, hath taught me it.

22 For in her is ỹ Spirit of vnderstanding, which is holy, ỹ only begotten, manifold, subtil, moueable, cleare, vndefiled, euident, not hurtfull, louing the good, sharpe, which cannot be letted, doing good,

23 Courteous, stable, sure, without care, hauing all power, circumspect in all things, and passing through all intellectuall, pure and subtil spirites.

24 For wisdom is nimbler then all nimble things: she goeth thorowe and attaineth to all thinges, because of her pureneſſe.

25 For she is the breth of the power of God, & a pure influence ỹ floweth from the glory of the Almighty: therfore cā no defiled thing come vnto her 26 For * she is the brightneſſe of the euerlasting *Hebr.1.3 ligh, the vndfiled mirrour of the maiestie of God, and the image of his goodneſſe.

27 And being one, she can do all things, and remaining in her selfe, renueth all, and according to the ages shee entreth iuto the holy soules, and maketh them the friendes of God and Prophets.

28 For God loueth none, if he dwel not w̄ wisdom

29 For she is more beautiful then the sunne, and is aboue all the order of the starres, and the light is not to be compared vnto her.

30 For night commeth vpon it, but wickedneſſe cannot ouercome wisedome.

CHAP. VIII.

The effectes of wisedome.

SHe also reacheth frō one ende to another mightily, and comely doth she order al thiags.

2 I haue loued her, & sought her frō my youth: I desired to mary her, such loue had I vnto her beauty

3 In ỹ she is conuersant w̄ God, it commendeth her nobilitie: yea, the Lord of all things loueth her.

4 For she is the scholemistres of the knowledge of God, and the chooser out of his workes.

5 If riches be a possessiōto be desired in this life, what is richer then wisdom, that worketh al things?

6 For if prudencie worketh, what is it among all things, that worketh better then she?

7 If a man loue righteousneſſe, her labours are vertuous: for she teacheth sobernes and prudencie, righteousneſſe & strength, which are the most profitable things that men can haue in this life.

8 If a man desire great experience, she can tell the things that are past, & discerne things to come: she knoweth the subtilties of wordes, and the solutions of darke sentences: she foreseeth the signes and wonders, or euer they come to passe, and the successe of seasons and times.

9 Therefore I purposed to take her vnto my companie, knowing that shee would counsell mee good things and comfort me in cares and griefes.

10 For her sake shal I haue glory among ỹ multitude, & honour among ỹ elders, though I be yong.

11 I shalbe found of sharpe iudgement, so that I shalbe merueilous in the sight of great men.

12 When I hold my tongue, they shal abide my leysure: when I spake, they shall heare diligently,

and

and if I take much, they shall lay their hands vpon their mouth.

13 Moreouer by her I shal obtaine immortalitie, & leaue an euerlasting memoriall among them that come after me.

14 I shall gouerne the people, and the nations shalbe subdued vnto me.

15 Horrible tyrants shall be afraide when they heare me: among the multitude I shalbe counted good, and mightie in battell.

16 When I come home, I shall rest with her: for her company hath no bitternes, and her felowship hath no tediousnes, but mirth and ioy.

17 Now when I considered these things by my selfe, and pondred them in mine heart, how that to be ioyned vnto wisedome is immortalitie, 18 And great pleasure is in her friendship, and that in the workes of her hands are infinite riches, and that in the exercise of talking with her is prudencie, and glorie by communing with her, I went about seeking how I might take her vnto me.

19 For I was a witty child, & was of a good spirit.

20 Yea, rather being good, I came to an vndefiled body.

21 Neuertheles, when I perceiued that I could not enioy her except God gaue her (and that was a point of wisdome also, to know whose gift it was) I went vnto the Lord, and besought him, and with my whole heart I sayd,

CHAP. IX.

A prayer of Salomon to obtaine wisdome.

O God of Fathers, and Lorde of mercie, which hast made all things with thy worde,

2 And ordayned man through thy wisedome, that he should haue *dominion ouer the creatures which thou hast made,

3 And gouerne the world according to equitie and righteousnes, and execute iudgement with an vpright heart:

4 *Giue me that wisdome, which sitteth by thy throne, & put me not out from among thy children.

5 For I thy *seruant, and sonne of thine handmayd, am a feeble person, & of a short time, and yet lesse in ỹ vnderstanding of iudgement & the lawes.

6 And though a man bee neuer so perfect among the children of men, yet if thy wisedome bee not with him, he shalbe nothing regarded.

7 *Thou hast chosen me to be a King of thy people, and the iudge of thy sonnes and daughters.

8 Thou hast commanded me to build a temple vpon thine holy Mount, & an alter in ỹ citie where thou dwellest, a likenes of thine holy Tabernacle, which thou hast prepared from the beginning.

9 And thy *wisdome with thee, which knoweth thy workes, which also was when thou madest the world, and which knew what was acceptable in thy sight, and right in thy commandements.

10 Send her out of thine holy heauens, & send her from the throne of thy maiestie, that shee may be with me, and labour, that I may know what is acceptable in thy sight.

11 For she knoweth & vnderstandeth al things, and shee shall leade mee soberly in my workes and preserue me by her glory.

12 So shall my workes be acceptable, and then shall I gouerne thy people righteously, & be meete for my fathers throne.

13 For what man is he that can know ỹ counsel of God? or who can thinke what thy will of God is?

14 For the thoughts of mortall men are fearefull, and our forecastes are vncertaine, 15 Because a corruptible body is heauie vnto the soule, and the earthly mansion keepeth downe the minde that is full of cares.

16 And hardly can wee discerne the things that are vpon earth, and with great labour finde we out the things which are before vs: who can then seeke out the things that are in heauen?

17 Who can knowe thy counsell, except thou giue him wisedome, and send thine holy Spirit from aboue?

18 For so the wayes of them which are vpon earth are reformed, and men are taught the things that are pleasant vnto thee, and are preserued through wisedome.

CHAP. X.

The deliuerance of the righteous, and destruction of the enemies commeth through wisedome.

He preserued the first father of the world, that was formed, and kept him when he was created alone, and brought him out of his offence,

2 And* gaue him power to rule all things.

3 *But ỹ vnrighteous in his wrath departed frō her, & perished by killing his brother in his furie.

4 For whose cause the *earth was ouerflowen, but wisedome preserued it againe, gouerning the iust man by a litle wood.

5 Moreouer, *when the nations were ioyned in their malicious confederacies, she knew the righteous, & preserued him faultles vnto God, and ‖ kept him sure, because she loued him tenderly as a sonne.

6 She preserued the righteous, * when the vngodly perished, when he fled from the fire that fell downe vpon the fiue cities.

7 Of whose wickednes the waste land that smoketh, yet giueth testimonie, & the trees that beare fruite that neuer commeth to ripenes, and for a remembrance of the vnfaithfull soule, there standeth a pillar of salte.

8 For all such as regarded not wisdome, had not only this hurt, that they knew not the things which were good, but also left behinde them vnto men a memoriall of their foolishnes, so that in the things wherein they sinned, they can not lie hid.

9 But wisdome deliuered them that serued her.

10 *When the righteous fled because of his brothers wrath, she led him the right way, shewed him the kingdome of God, gaue him knowledge of holy things, made him rich in his labours, and made his paines profitable.

11 Against the couetousnes of such as defrauded him, she stood by him and made him rich.

12 She saued him from the enemies, & defended him from them, that lay in waite, and she gaue him the price in a mightie battell, that he might knowe that the feare of God is stronger then all things.

13 *When the righteous was sold, she forsooke him not, but deliuered him from sinne: shee went downe with him into the dungeon,

14 And failed him not in the bands, till she had brought him the scepter of the realme, and power against those that oppressed him, and them that had accused him, she declared to be liars, and gaue him perpetuall glory.

15 *She deliuered the righteous people & faultles seede from the nations that oppressed them.

16 She entred into the soule of the seruant of the Lord, and stood * by him in wonders & signes against the terrible Kings.

17 She gaue the Saints the rewarde of their labours, and led them foorth a marueilous way: on the day time she was a shadowe vnto them, and a light of starres in the night.

*Exod.14.21,22 Psal.78.13. 18 *She brought them thorow the red sea, and caried them through the great water, 19 But she drowned their enemies, & brought them out of the bottome of the deepe.

20 So the righteous tooke the spoyles of the vngodly, *and praysed thine holy Name, O Lord, and magnified thy victorious hand with one accord,

1 The miracles done for Israel. 13 The vengeance of sinners. 28 The great power and mercy of God.

SHe prospered their workes in the hands of thine holy Prophet.

*Exod.16.1. 3 *They went through the wildernes that was not inhabited, and pitched their tentes in places where there lay no way.

*Exod.17.10,11 3 *They stood against their enemies, and were auenged of their aduersaries.

*Numb.20.11. 4 *When they were thirstie, they called vpon thee, & water was giuen them out of the hie rocke, and their thirst was quenched out of ỹ hard stone.

5 For by the things whereby their enemies were punished, by the same were the Israelites helped in their neede.

6 For in the stead of a fountaine of running water, the enemies were troubled at the corrupt blood, which was to rebuke the commaundement of the killing of the children, but thou gauest vnto thine owne abundance of water vnlooked for,

7 Declaring by the thirst that was at that time *how thou haddest punished thine aduersaries.

*Exod.7.20.

8 For when they were tried and chastised with mercy, they knewe howe the vngodly were iudged and punished in wrath.

9 For these hast thou exhorted as a father, and proued them: but thou hast condemned ỹ other as a righteous King, when thou didst examine them.

10 Whether they were absent or present, their punishment was alike: for their griefe was double with mourning, & the remembrance of things past.

11 For when they perceiued ỹ through their torments good came vnto them, they felt the Lord.

12 And seeing the things that came to passe, at the last they wondered at him, whom afore they had cast out, denyed and derided: for they had an other thirst then the iust.

13 Because of the foolish deuices of their wickednes wherewith they were deceiued, & worshipped *serpents, that had not the vse of reason, and vile beasts, thou sendedst a multitude of vnreasonable beasts vpon them for a vengeance, that they might know, that wherewith a man sinneth, by the same also shall he be punished.

*Exod.8.24. rom.1.23.

14 For vnto thine almightie hand, that made the world of *naught, it was not vnpossible to send among them a multitude of *beares or fierce lyons;

*Gen.1.1. heb.11.3. *Leuit.26.22. ier.5.16,17. chap.16.1.

15 Or furious beasts newly created, & vnknowen, which shoulde breath out blastes of fire & cast out smoke as a tempest, or shoote horrible sparkes like lightnings out of their eyes.

16 Which might not onely destroy them with hurting, but also kil them with their horrible sight.

17 Yea, without these might they haue bene cast downe with one winde, being persecuted by thy vengeance, and scattered abroad through the power of thy Spirit: but thou hast ordered al things in measure, number and weight.

18 For thou hast euer had great strength and might, & who can withstād ỹ power of thine arme?

19 For as the small thing ỹ the balance weigheth, so is the world before thee, and as a drop of the morning dewe, that falleth downe vpon the earth.

20 But thou hast mercie vpon all: for thou hast power of al things, & makest as though thou sawest not the sinnes of men, because they should amend.

21 For thou louest all the things that are, & hatest none of them whom thou hast made: for thou wouldest haue created nothing ỹ thou hadst hated.

22 And how might any thing endure, if it were not thy wil? or how could any thing be preserued, except it were called of thee?

23 But thou sparest all: for they are thine, O Lord, which art the louer of soules.

CHAP. XII.

2 The mercie of God toward sinners. 14 The workes of God are vnreprouable. 19 God giueth leasure to repent.

FOr thine incorruptible spirit is in all things.

2 Therefore thou chastenest them measurably that go wrong, and warnest them by putting them in remembrance of the things, wherein they haue offended, that leauing wickednes, they may beleeue in thee, O Lord.

*Deut.9.3.& 11 31. and 18.9,12. 3 *As for those olde inhabitantes of the holy land, thou diddest hate them.

4 For they committed abominable workes, as sorceries and wicked sacrifices,

5 And slaying of their owne children without mercy, & eating of ỹ bowels of mans flesh in banketing, where ỹ raging Priests shed abominable blood.

6 And the fathers were the chiefe murtherers of the soules, destitute of all helpe, whome thou wouldest destroy by the hands of our fathers,

7 That ỹ land which thou louest aboue al other, might be a meete dwelling for ỹ children of God.

*Exod.33.2. deut.2.22. 8 *Neuertheles, thou sparedst them also as men, and sendedst the forerunners of thine hoste, euen horners to destroy them by litle and litle, 9 Not that thou wast vnable to subdue the vngodly vnto ỹ righteous in battell, or ẅ cruel beasts, or with one rough word to destroy them together.

10 But in punishing them by litle and litle, thou gauest them space to repent, knowing well, that it was an vnrighteous nation & wicked of nature, and that their thought could neuer be altered.

11 For it was a cursed seed from the beginning: yet hast thou not spared them when they sinned, because thou fearedst any man.

*Rom.9.20. 12 For who dare say, * What hast thou done? or who dare stand against thy iudgement? or who dare accuse thee for the nations that perish, whome thou hast made? or who dare stand against thee to reuenge the wicked men?

*1.Pet.5.7. 13 For there is none other God but thou, *that carest for all things, that thou mayest declare how that thy iudgement is not vnright.

14 There dare neither King nor tyrant in thy sight require accounts of them whome thou hast punished.

*Iob.10.3. 15 For so much then as thou art righteous thy selfe, thou ordereſt al things righteously, *thinking it not agreeable to thy power to condemne him, that hath not deserued to be punished.

16 For

16 For thy power is the beginning of righteouſneſſe, and becauſe thou art Lord of all things, it cauſeth thee to ſpare all things.

17 When men thinke thee not to be of a perfite power, thou declareſt thy power, and reproueſt the boldneſſe of the wiſe.

18 But thou ruling the power, iudgeſt with equitie, and gouerneſt vs with great fauour: for thou mayeſt ſhew thy power when thou wilt.

19 By ſuch workes nowe haſt thou taught thy people, that a man ſhould be iuſt and louing, and haſt made thy children to be of a good hope: for thou giueſt repentance to ſinners.

20 For if thou haſt puniſhed the enemies of thy childrē that had deſerued death wᵗʰ ſo great conſideration, & requeſting vnto them, giuing them time & place that they might change from their wickednes, 21 With howe great circumſpection wilt thou puniſh thine own children, vnto whoſe fathers thou haſt ſworne and made couenants of good promiſes?

22 So when thou doeſt chaſten vs, thou puniſheſt our enemies a thouſande times more, to the intent that when we iudge, we ſhoulde diligently conſider thy goodneſſe, & when we are iudged, we ſhould hope for mercy.

23 Wherefore thou haſt tormented the wicked ẏ haue liued a diſſolute life by their own imaginatiōs.

24 *For they went aſtray very farre in the waies of errour, and eſteemed the beaſts, which their enemies deſpiſed, for gods, being abuſed after the maner of children, that haue none vnderſtanding. *Chap.11.13. and 12.23.

25 Therfore haſt thou ſent this puniſhment that they ſhould be in deriſion as childrē without reaſon.

26 But they that will not be reformed by thoſe ſcornefull rebukes, ſhall feele the worthy puniſhment of God.

27 For in thoſe things when they ſuffered, they diſdained: but in theſe whom they counted godly, when they ſawe themſelues puniſhed by them, they all acknowledge the true God whome afore they had denied to know: therefore came extreme damnation vpon them.

CHAP. XIII.

☆ 1 All things be vaine, except the knowledge of God. 10 Idolaters and idoles are mocked.

SVrely al men are vaine by nature, and are ignorant of God, *and could not knowe him that is, by the good things that are ſeene, neither conſider by the works, the worke maſter. *Rom.1.19.

2 *But they thought the fire, or the winde or the ſwift aire, or the courſe of the ſtarres, or the raging water, or the lightes of heauen to bee gouernours of the world, and gods. *Deut.4.19. and 17.3.

3 Though they had ſuch pleaſure in their beautie that they thought them gods, yet ſhoulde they haue knowen, how much more excellent he is that made them: for the firſt authour of beautie hath created theſe things.

4 Or if they marueiled at the power, and operation of thē, yet ſhould they haue perceiued thereby, howe much he ẏ made theſe things, is mightier.

5 For by the greatneſſe of their beautie, and of the creatures, the Creator being compared wᵗʰ thē, may be conſidered.

6 But yet ẏ blame is leſſe in theſe, ẏ ſeeke God and would finde him, & yet peraduenture doe erre. *Rom.1.21.

7 For *they goe about by his works to ſeeke him, and are perſwāded by the ſight, becauſe the things are beautifull that are ſeene.

8 Howbeit they are not to be excuſed.

9 For if they can know ſo much, that they can diſcerne the worlde, why doe they not rather finde out the Lord thereof?

10 But miſerable are they, and among the dead is their hope, that cal thē gods, which are ẏ workes of mens handes, golde, & ſiluer, & the thing that is inuented by arte, & the ſimilitude of beaſts, or any vaine ſtone ẏ hath bene made by ẏ had of antiquity

11 *Or as when a carpenter curteth downe a tree meete for the worke, and pareth off al ẏ barke thereof cunningly, & by arte maketh a veſſel profitable for the vſe of life. *Iſa.44.13. Ierem.10.3.

12 And the things ẏ are cut off from his worke, he beſtoweth to dreſſe his meate to fill himſelfe,

13 And that which is left of theſe things, which is profitabe for nothing (for it is a crooked piece of wood and full of knobbes) he carueth it diligently at his leaſure, and according as hee is expert in cunning, he giueth it a proportion, and faſhioneth it after the ſimilitude of a man, 14 Or maketh it like ſome vile beaſt, and ſtraketh it ouer with red, and paintethit, and couereth euery ſpotte that is in it.

15 And when he hath made a conuenient tabernacle for it, hee ſetteth it in a wall, and maketh it faſt with yron, 16 Prouiding ſo for it, leaſt it fall: for he knoweth ẏ it cannot helpe it ſelfe, becauſe it is an image, which hath neede of helpe.

17 Then he prayeth for his goods, and for his mariage, & for children: he is not aſhamed to ſpeake vnto it, that hath no life, 18 Hee calleth on him that is weake for health: he prayeth vnto him that is dead for life: he requireth him of helpe that hath no experience at all.

19 And for his iourney, him that is not able to goe, and for gaine, and worke, and ſucceſſe of his affaires he requireth furtherance of him, that hath no maner of power.

CHAP. XIIII.

AGaine, another man purpoſing to ſaile, and intending to paſſe thorow the raging waues, calleth vpon a ſtocke more rotten then the ſhip that carieth him.

2 For as for ẏ it, couetouſneſſe of money hath found dit out, & the craftesman made it by cunning. (Or, the ſhippe.)

3 But thy prouidence, O Father, gouerneth it: *for thou haſt made a way, euen in the ſea, and a ſure path among the waues, *Exod.14.22.

4 Declaring thereby, that thou haſt power to helpe in all things, yea, though a man went to the ſea without meanes.

5 Neuertheleſſe thou wouldeſt not, that the works of thy wiſedome ſhould be vaine, & therfore doe men cōmit their liues to a ſmal piece of wood, & paſſe ouer the ſtormie ſea in a ſhip, and are ſaued.

both like hated of God: so truely the worke and hee that made it shalbe punished together.

10 Therefore shall there be a visitation for the idoles of the nations: for ye creatures of God they are become abomination, * and stumbling blocks vnto the soules of men, and a snare for the feete of the vnwise.

*Jerr. 10.8. habak.2.18.

11 For the inuenting of Idoles was the beginning of whoredome, and the finding of them is the corruption of life.

12 For they were not from the beginning, neither shall they continue for euer.

13 The vaine glory of men brought them into ȳ world: therfore shal they come shortly to an end.

14 When a father mourned grieuously for his sonne that was taken away suddenly, hee made an image for him that was once dead, whome nowe he worshippeth as a god, and ordeined to his seruants ceremonies and sacrifices.

15 Thus by proces of time this wicked custome preuailed, and was kept as a lawe, and idoles were worshipped by the commandement of tyrants.

16 As for those that were so farre off that men might not worship them presently, they did counterfeit the visage that was farre off, and made a gorgeous image of a King, whom they would honour, that they might by all meanes flatter him that was absent, as though he had bene present.

17 Againe the ambition of the craftsmen thrust forward the ignorant to increase the superstition.

18 For hee peraduenture willing to please a noble man, laboured with all his cunning to make the image of the best fashion.

19 And so thorow the beautie of the worke the multitude was allured, and so tooke him now for a God, which a litle afore was but honoured as a man

20 And this was the deceiuing of mans life, whe men, being in seruitude, through calamitie and tyrannie ascribed vnto stones and stockes the name, which ought not to be communicate vnto any.

21 Moreouer, this was not ynough for them ȳ they erred in the knowledge of God: but where as they liued in great warres of ignorance, those so great plagues called they peace.

*Deut. 18.10. ierem.7.9. and 19.4.

22 For either * they slewe their owne children in sacrifice or vsed secret ceremonies, or raging dissolutenes by strange rites.

23 And so kept neither life nor mariage cleane: but either one slewe another by treason, or els vexed him by adulterie.

24 So were al mixt together, blood and slaughter, theft and deceite, corruption, vnfaithfulnes, tumultes, periurie, 25 Disquieting of good men, vnthankfulneste, defiling of soules, changing of birth, disorder in mariage, adulterie and vncleanneste.

26 For the worshipping of idoles that ought not to be named, is the beginning and the cause & the ende of all euil:

27 For either they be mad when they be merie, or propheste lies, or liue vngodly, or els lightly forsweare themselues.

28 For in so much as their trust is in the idoles, which haue no life, though they sweare falsely, yet they thinke to haue no hurt.

29 Therefore for two causes shal they iustly be punished, because they haue an euill opinion of God, addicting themselues vnto idoles, and because they swear vniustly to deceine, and despise holines.

30 For it is not ȳ power of them by whom they sweare, but ȳ vengeance of them that sinne, which punisheth alwayes the offence of the vngodly.

CHAP. XV.

The voyce of the faithfull, praysing the mercie of God, by whose grace they serue not idoles.

BVt thou, O our God, art gracious and true, long suffering, and gouernest all things by mercy.

2 Though we sinne, yet are we thine: for wee knowe thy power: but we sinne not, knowing that we are counted thine.

3 For to knowe thee, is perfite righteousnes, and to know thy power is the roote of immortalitie.

4 For neither hath the wicked inuention of men deceiued vs, nor the vnprofitable labour of the painters, nor an image spotted with diuers colours,

5 Whose sight stirreth vp the desire of the ignorant: so that he coueteth the forme that hath no life, of a dead image.

6 They ȳ loue such wicked things are worthy to haue such things to trust to, & they that make them, & they that desire them, & they that worship them.

7 The * potter also tempereth soft earth, and facioneth euery vessell with labour to our vse: but of the same clay he maketh both the vessels, that serue to cleane vses, and the contrarie likewise: but whereto euery vessel serueth, the potter is the iudge.

*Rom.9.21.

8 So by his wicked labour hee maketh a vaine God of the same clay: euen hee, which a litle afore was made of earth himself, and within a litle while after goeth thither againe whence hee was taken, *when he shal make account for the lone of his life

*Luke 12.20.

9 Notwithstanding hee careth not for the labour he taketh, nor that his life is short but he striueth with the goldsmithes, and siluersmithes, and counterfeiteth the coppersmithes, and taketh it for an honour to make deceiueable things.

10 His heart is ashes, & his hope is more vile then earth, & his life is lesse worthy of honour then clay.

11 For he knoweth not his owne maker, ȳ gaue him his soule, that had power and breathed in him the breath of life.

12 But they count our life to bee but a passime, and our conuersation as a market, where there is gaine: for they say we ought to be getting on euery side, though it by euill meanes.

13 Now he that of earth maketh fraile vessels & images, knoweth himselfe to offend aboue al other.

14 Al the enemies of thy people, that hold them in subiection, are most vnwise, and more miserable then the very fooles.

15 For they iudge all the idoles of the nations to be gods, which neither haue eie sight to see, nor noses to smell, nor eares to heare, nor fingers of hands to grope, and their feete are slowe to goe.

16 For man made them, and he that hath but a borowed spirite, fashioned them: but no man can make a God like vnto himselfe.

17 For seeing he is but mortall himselfe, it is but mortall that he maketh with vnrighteous hands: he himselfe is better then they whom he worshippeth: for he liueth, but they neuer liued.

18 Yea, they worshipped beastes also, which are their most enemies, and which are the worst, if they be compared vnto others, because they haue none vnderstanding.

19 Niether haue they any beautie to be desired in respect of other beastes: for they are destitute of Gods praise, and of his blessing.

CHAP. XVI.

The punishmēts of idolaters, 10. The benefites done vnto the faithfull.

Therefore

THerefore by such things they are worthily punished & *tormented by ỹ multitude of beasts.

2 In stead of ỹ which punishment thou hast bene fauourable to thy people, & to satisfie their appetite, hast prepared a meat of a strange taste, euē *quailes,

3 To the intent that they that desired meat, by the things which were shewed & sent among them, might turne away their necessarie desire, and that they, which had suffered penurie for a space, should also feele a new taste.

4 For it was requisite, that they which vsed tyrannie, shoulde fall into extreme pouerrie, & that to these only it should be shewed, howe their enemies were tormented.

5 *For when the cruell fiercenes of the beasts came vpon them, & they were hurt with the stings of cruell serpents,

6 Thy wrath endured not perpetually, but they were troubled for a litle season, that they might be reformed, hauing a ‖ *signe of saluation, to remember the commandement of thy Lawe.

7 For he ỹ turned toward it, was not healed by the thing that he saw, but by thee, O Sauiour of all.

8 So in this thou shewedst our enemies, that it is thou, which deliuerest from all euill.

9 *For the biting of grashoppers and flies killed them, and there was no remedie found for their life: for they were worthy to be punished by such.

10 But the teeth of the venemous dragōs could not ouercome thy children, for thy mercy came to helpe them, and healed them.

11 For they were pricked, because they should remember thy wordes, and were speedily healed, least they should fal into so deepe forgetfulnes, that they could not be called backe by thy benefite.

12 For neither herbe nor plaster healed them, but thy worde, O Lord, which healeth all things.

13 For thou hast the power of life and death, *and leadest downe vnto the gates of hell, & bringest vp againe.

14 A man in deede by his wickednesse may slay another: but when the spirite is gone foorth, it turneth not againe, neither can he cal againe the soule that is taken away.

15 But it is not possible to escape thine hand.

16 *For the vngodly that woulde not knowe thee, were punished by the strength of thine arme, with strange raine and with haile, and were pursued with tempest that they could not auoide, and were consumed with fire.

17 For it was a wonderous thing that fire might doe more then water, which quencheth all things: but the world is the auenger of the righteous.

18 For sometime was the fire so tame, that the beasts which were sent against the vngodly, burnt not: and that, because they should see & know, that they were persecuted with the punishment of God.

19 And sometime burnt the fire in the middes of the water aboue the power of fire, that it might destroy the generation of the vniust land.

20 *In the steade whereof, thou hast fed thine owne people with Angels foode, and sent them bread ready from heauen without their labour, which had aboundance of all pleasures in it and was meete for all tastes.

21 For thy sustenance declared thy sweetenesse vnto thy children, which serued to the appetite of him that tooke it, and was meete to that that euery man would.

22 Moreouer the *snowe and yce abode the fire and melted not, that they might know, that the fire burning in the haile, and sparkeling in the raine, destroyed the fruite of the enemies.

23 Againe it forgate his owne strength, that the righteous might be nourished.

24 For the creature that serueth thee which art the maker, is fierce in punishing the vnrighteous, but it is easie to doe good vnto such as put their trust in thee.

25 Therefore was it changed at the same time vnto all facions to serue thy grace, which nourisheth all things, according to the desire of them that had neede thereof, 26 That thy children whome thou louest, O Lord, might knowe, * that it is not the increase of fruites that feedeth men, but that it is thy worde, which preserueth them that trust in thee.

27 For that which could not be destroyed with the fire, being onely warmed a little with the sunne beames, melted, 28 That it might be knowen that wee ought to preuent the sunne rising to giue thankes vnto thee, and to salute thee before the day spring.

29 For the hope of ỹ vnthankful shal melt as the winter yce, and flowe away as vnprofitable waters.

CHAP. XVII.

The iudgements of God against the wicked,

FOr thy iudgements are great, and cannot be expressed: therefore men doe erre, that wil not be reformed.

2 For when the vnrighteous thought to haue thine holy people in subiection, they were bound with the bands of darkenesse, and long night, and being shut vp vnder the roofe, did lie there to escape the euerlasting prouidence.

3 And while they thought to bee hid in their darke sinnes, they were scattered abroade in the darke couering of forgetfulnesse, fearing horribly and troubled with visions.

4 For the denne that hid them, kept them not from feare: but the soundes that were about them, troubled them, and terrible visions and sorowfull sightes did appeare.

5 No power of the fire might giue light, neither might the cleare flames of the starres lighten the horrible night.

6 For there appeared vnto them only a sudden fire, very dreadfull: so that, being afraide of this vision, ‖ which they could not see, they thought the things, which they sawe, to be worse.

7 * And the illusions of the magicall artes were brought downe, & it was a most shamefull reproch for the boasting of their knowledge.

8 For they that promised to driue away feare and trouble from the sicke person, were sicke, for feare, and worthy to be laughed at.

9 And though no fearefull thing did feare them, yet were they afraid at the heastes which passed by them, and at the hissing of the serpents: so that they died for feare, and said they saw not the ayre, which by no meanes can be auoyded.

10 For it is a fearefull thing, when malice is condemned by her owne testimonie: and a conscience that is touched, doeth euer forecast cruell things.

11 For feare is nothing els, but a betraying of the succors, which reason offereth.

12 And the lesse that the hope is within, the more doeth he esteeme the ignorance of the thing, that

13 But they that did endure the night that was intolerable, and that came out of the dungeon of hell, which is insupportable, slept the same sleepe, 14 And sometimes were troubled with monstrous visions, and sometimes they swooned, as though their owne soule should betray them: for a sudden feare not looked for came vpon them.

15 And thus, whosoeuer fell downe, he was kept and shut in prison, but without chaines.

16 For whether he was an husbandman, or a shepheard, or one that was set to worke alone, if he were taken, hee must suffer this necessitie, that hee could not auoide:

17 (For with one chaine of darkenes were they al bound) whether it were an hissing wind, or a sweete song of the birds among the thicke branches of the trees, or the vehemencie of hastie running water, 19 For al the world shined with cleare light, and no man was hindred in his labour.

*Exod.13.21. & 14.24. psal.76.14 & 105.39.

3 *Therefore thou gauest them a burning pillar of fire to leade them in the vnknowen way, and madest the sunne that it hurted not them in their honourable iourney.

4 But they were worthy to be depriued of the light, and to be kept in darkenesse, which had kept thy children shut vp, by whom the vncorrupt light of the Lawe should be giuen to the world.

*Exod.1.16.

5 *Whereas they thought to slay the babes of the Saints, by one childe that was cast out, and preserued to reproue them, thou hast taken away the multitude of their children, and destroyed them all together in the mightie water.

6 Of that night were our fathers certified afore, that they knowing vnto what othes they had giuen credite might be of good cheere.

*Ex.14.24,25.

7 Thus thy * people receiued the health of the righteous, but the enemies were destroyed.

8 For as thou hast punished the enemies, so hast thou glorified vs whome thou hast called.

9 For the righteous children of the good men offered secretly, and made a Lawe of righteousnes by one consent, that the Saintes shoulde receiue good and euill in like maner, and that the fathers should first sing prayses.

10 But a disagreeing crie was heard of the enemies, and there was a lamentable noise for the children that were bewayled.

11 For the * master and the seruant were punished with like punishment, and the common people suffered alike with the King. *Exod.11.5, and 12.29.

12 So they altogether had innumerable that died with one kinde of death: neither were ‖ liuing sufficient to burie them: for in the twinckling of an eye the noblest offspring of them was destroyed.

13 So they that could beleeue nothing, because of the enchantmēts, confessed this people to be the children of God, in the destruction of ‖ first borne:

14 For while all things were in quiet silence, and the night was in the middest of her swift course,

15 Thine Almightie worde leapt downe from heauen out of thy royall throne, as a fierce man of warre in the middes of the land that was destroyed,

16 And brought thine vnfained commmaundement as a sharpe sworde, and stoode vp and filled all things with death, and being come downe to the earth, it reached vnto the heauens.

17 Then the sight of the fearefull dreames vexed them suddenly, and fearefulnes came vpon them vnawares.

18 Then lay there one here, another there halfe dead, and shewed the cause of his death.

19 For the visiōs that vexed them, shewed them these things afore: so that they were not ignorant, wherefore they perished.

20 Now tentation of death touched ‖ righteous also, and * among the multitude in the wildernesse there was a plague, but the wrath indured not long. *Num.16.46.

21 For the blamelesse man made haste, and defended them, and tooke the weapons of his ministration, euen prayer, and the reconciliation by the perfume, and set himselfe against the wrath, and so brought the miserie to an ende, declaring that hee was thy seruant.

22 For he ouercame not the multitude with bodily power, nor with force of weapons, but with the word he subdued him that punished, alleadging the othes and couenant made vnto the fathers.

23 For when the dead were fallen downe by heapes one vpon another, he stoode in the middes, and cut off the wrath, and parted it from comming to the liuing.

24 * For in the long garment was all the ornament, and in the foure rowes of the stones was the glory of the fathers grauen with thy maiestie in the diademe of his head. *Ex.28.4,17.

25 Vnto these the destroyer gaue place, and was afraide of them: for it was sufficient, that they had tasted the wrath.

CHAP. XIX.

1 The death of the Egyptians, and the greatnes of the Hebrewes. 11 The meate that was giuen at the desire of the people. 17 All the elements serue to the will of God.

AS for the vngodly, the wrath came vpon them without merey vnto the ende: for hee knewe what should come vnto them.

2 That they (when they had consented to let them goe, and had sent them out with diligence) would repent, and pursue them.

3 For while yet sorowe was before them, and they lamented by the graues of the dead, they deuised another foolishnesse, so that they persecuted them in their fleeing, whom they had cast out afore with prayer.

4 For the destinie, whereof they were worthie, brought them to this ende, and caused them to forget forget the things that had come to passe, that they might accomplish the punishment, which remained by torments.

5 Both that thy people might trie a marueilous passage, and that these might finde a strange death.

6 For euery creature in his kinde was facioned of newe, and serued in their owne offices inioyned them, that thy childrē might be kept without hurt.

7 For the cloude ouershadowed their tentes, and the drie earth appeared, where afore was water: so that in the red sea there was a way without impediment, and the great deepe became a greene field,

8 Through the which all the people went that were defended with thine hand, seeing thy wonderous marueiles.

9 For they ‖neyed like horses, and leaped like lambes, praysing thee, O Lord, which haddest deliuered them.

10 For they were yet mindefull of those things which were done in the land where they dwelt, how the ground brought forth flyes, in stead of cattell, and how the riuer scrauled with the multitude of frogges in steade of fishes.

11 *But at the last they sawe a new generation of birdes, when they were intised with lust, and desired delicate meates.

12 *For the quailes came forth of the sea vnto them for comfort, but punishments came vpon the ‖sinners not without signes that were giuen by great thundrings: for they suffered worthily according to their wickednesse, because they shewed a cruell hatred toward strangers.

13 For the one sort woulde not receiue them when they were present, because they knewe them not: the other sort brought the strangers into bondage that had done them good.

14 Beside all these things some would not suffer, that any regard should be had of them: for they handled the strangers despitefully.

15 Others that had receiued them with great banketting, and admitted them to be partakers of the same lawes, did afflict them with great labours.

16 Therefore they were stricken with blindnes, as the olde time certaine were at the doores of the *righteous, so that euery one being compassed with darknesse, sought the entrance of his doore.

17 Thus the elements agreed among themselues in this change, as when one tune is changed vpon an instrument of musicke, and the melodie still remaineth, which may easily be perceiued by the sight of the things that are come to passe.

18 For the things of the earth were changed into things of the water, and the thing that did swimme went vpon the ground.

19 The fire had power in the water contrary vnto his owne vertue, and the water forgate his owne kinde to quench.

20 Againe, the flames did not hurt ‖ flesh of the corruptible beasts that walked therein, neither melted they ‖ which seemed to be yce, and was of a nature that would melt, & yet was an immortal meat.

21 For in all things, O Lorde, thou hast magnified and glorified thy people, and hast not despised to assist them in euery time and place.

THE WISEDOME OF IESVS THE SONNE OF SIRACH, CALLED ECCLESIASTICVS.

This Argument was found in a certaine Greeke copie.

THis Iesus was the sonne of Sirach, and Sirachs father was also called Iesus, and hee liued in the latter times, after the people had bene ladde away captiue, and brought home againe, and almost after all the Prophets. Nowe his grandfather, as hee himselfe witnesseth, was a man of great diligence, and wisdome among the Hebrewes, who did not onely gather the graue sentences of wise men, that had bene before him, but he himselfe also spake many full of great knowledge and wisdome. So this first Iesus dyed, and left that which he had gathered. And Sirach afterward left it to Iesus his sonne, who tooke it and put it in order in a booke, and called it WISEDOME, intituling it both by his owne name, his fathers name, and his grandfathers: thinking by this title of Wisedome to allure the reader to reade this booke with more great desire, and to consider it more diligently. Therefore this booke conteineth wise sayings, and darke sentences, and similitudes with certaine diuine histories which are notable and ancient. Then of men that were approoued of God, and certaine prayers, and songs of the author himselfe: moreouer, what benefites the Lord had bestowed vpon his people, and what plagues he had heaped vpon their enemies. This Iesus did imitate Salomon, and was nothing lesse famous in wisedome and doctrine, whereby he therefore called, is than of great knowledge, as he was in deede.

The Prologue of the wisdome of Iesus the sonne of Sirach.

WHere as many, and great things haue bene giuen vs by the Law and the Prophets, and by others that haue followed them, (for the which things Israel ought to be commended by the reason of doctrine and wisdome, whereby the readers ought not only to become learned themselues, but also may be able by the diligent studie thereof to be profitable vnto strangers both by speaking and writing) after that my grandfather Iesus had giuen himselfe to the reading of the Lawe and the Prophets, and other bookes of our fathers, and had gotten therein sufficient iudgement, he purposed also to write something perteyning to learning and wisedome, to the intent that they which were desirous to learne, and would giue themselues to these things, might profite much more in liuing according to the Lawe. Wherefore I exhort you to receiue it louingly, and to reade it with diligence, and to take it in good woorth, though we seeme to some in some things not able to attaine to the interpretation of such wordes as are hard to be expressed: for the things that are spoken in the Hebrew tongue, haue another force in them selues then when they are translated into another tongue, and not only these things, but other things also, as the Law it selfe, and the Prophets, and other bookes haue no small difference when they are spoken in their owne language. Therefore in the eight and thirtieth yeere, when I came into Egypt, vnder king Euergetes, and continued there, I found a copie ful of great learning, & I thought it necessarie, to bestow my diligence, and and trauaile to interprete this booke. So forsi certaine time with great watching and studie I gaue my selfe to the finishing of this booke, that it might be published, that they which remaine in banishment, and are desirous to learne, might apply themselues vnto good maners, and liue according to the Lawe.

CHAP. I.

1 Wisedome commeth of God. 11 A prayse of the feare of God.
29 The meanes to come by wisedome.

ALl wisdome *commeth of the Lord, [and hath bene euer with him] and is with him for euer.

2 Who can number the sand of the sea, and the droppes of the raine, and the dayes of the worlde? [who can measure] the height of heauen, the breadth of the earth, and the depth?

3 Who can finde the wisdome [of God which hath bene before all things?]

4 Wisdome hath bene created before all things, and the vnderstanding of prudence frō euerlasting.

5 [The word of God most high is the fountaine of wisedome, and the euerlasting commandements are the entrance vnto her.]

6 *Vnto whom hath the roote of wisdome bene declared? or who hath knowen her wise counsels?

7 [Vnto whom hath the doctrine of wisedome bene discouered and shewed? and who hath vnderstoode the manifolde entrance vnto her?]

8 There is one wise, [euen the most high Creator of all things, the Almighty, the King of power] and very terrible, which sitteth vpon his throne.

9 He is the Lord, that hath created her [thorow the holy Ghost:] he hath seene her, numbred her, [and measured her.]

10 He hath powred her out vpon all his works, and vpon all flesh, according to his gift, and giueth her abundantly vnto them that loue him.

11 The feare of the Lord is glory, and gladnesse, and reioycing, and a ioyfull crowne.

12 The feare of the Lord maketh a merry heart, and giueth gladnesse and ioy, and long life.

13 Who so feareth the Lord, it shal goe wel with him at the last, and he shall finde fauour in the day of his death.

14 [The loue of God is honourable wisedome, and vnto whom it appeareth in a vision, they loue it for the vision, and for the knowledge of the great workes thereof.]

15 *The feare of the Lord is the beginning of wisedome, and was made with the faithfull in the wombe: [she goeth with the chosen women, and is knowen with the righteous and faithfull.]

16 The feare of the Lord is an holy knowledge.

17 Holinesse shal preserue, and iustifie the heart, and giueth mirth and gladnesse.

18 Who so feareth the Lord shall prosper, and in the day of his ende he shalbe blessed.]

19 Shee hath built her euerlasting foundations with men, and is giuen to be with their seede.

20 To feare God is the fulnesse of wisdome, and filleth men with her fruites.

21 She filleth their whole house with [all] things desireable, and the garners with the things that she bringeth forth, and both twaine are gifts of God.

22 The feare of the Lord is the crowne of wisedome, and giueth peace and perfect health: he hath seene her, and numbred her.

23 ‖ She raineth downe knowledge, and vnderstanding of wisedome, and hath brought vnto honour, them that possessed her.

24 The feare of the Lorde is the roote of wisedome, and her branches are long life.

25 [In the treasures of wisedome is vnderstanding, and holy knowledge, but wisedome is abhorred of sinners.]

26 The feare of the Lord driueth out sinne: and when she is present, she driueth away anger.

27 ¶ For wicked anger cannot be iustified: for his rashnesse in his anger shal be his destruction.

28 A patient man wil suffer for a time, and then shall he haue the reward of ioy.

29 He will hide his wordes for a time, and many mens lippes shall speake of his wisedome.

30 In the treasures of wisedome are the secrets of knowledge, but ỹ sinner aborreth ỹ worship of God.

31 If thou desire wisedome, keepe the commandements, and the Lord shal giue her vnto thee, [and will fil her treasures.]

32 For the feare of the Lord is wisdome and discipline: he hath pleasure in faith, and meekenesse.

33 Be not disobedient to the feare of the Lord, and come not vnto him with a double heart.

34 ¶ Be not an hypocrite that men should speake of thee, but take heede what thou speakest.

35 Exalt not thy selfe, lest thou fall and bring thy soule to dishonour, and so God discouer thy secrets, and cast thee downe in the middes of the congregation, because thou wouldest not receiue the true feare of God, and thine heart is full of deceite.

CHAP. II.

1 He exhorteth the seruants of God to righteousnesse, loue, vnderstanding, and patience. 11 To trust in the Lord. 13 A curse vpon them that are faint hearted and impatient.

MY sonne, if thou wilt come into the seruice of God, [stand fast in righteousnesse and feare, and] prepare thy soule to tentation.

2 Settle thine heart, and bee patient: [bowe downe thine eare, and receiue the words of vnderstanding,] and shrinke not away, when thou art assayled, [but wayte vpon God patiently.]

3 Ioyne thy selfe vnto him, and depart not away, that thou mayest be encreased at thy last ende.

4 Whatsoeuer cōmeth vnto thee, receiue it patiently, & be patient in the change of thine affliction.

5 *For as gold [and siluer are] tryed in the fire, so are mē acceptable in ỹ furnace of aduersity.

6 Beleeue in God, and he will helpe thee: order thy way aright, and trust in him: [hold fast his feare, and growe olde therein.]

7 Ye that feare the Lorde, waite for his mercie: shrinke not away from him that ye fall not.

8 Ye that feare the Lord, beleeue him, and your reward shall not fayle.

9 O ye that feare the Lord, trust in good things, and in the euerlasting ioy and mercie.

10 [Ye that feare the Lord, loue him, and your hearts shalbe lightened.]

11 Consider the olde generations of men, see children, [and marke them well.] *was there euer any confounded, that put his trust in the Lord? or who hath continued in his feare, & was forsaken? or whom did he euer despise, that called vpon him?

12 For God is gracious and merciful, and forgiueth sinnes, & saueth in the time of trouble, [and is a defender for all them that seeke him in the truth.]

13 Woe vnto them, that haue all feare [and to the wicked lips] and to the faint hands, and 17 They that feare the Lorde, wil seeke out the things that are pleasant vnto him: & they that loue him, shalbe fulfilled with his Lawe.

CHAP. III.

2 To our father and mother ought we to giue double honour. 10 Of the blessing and curse of the father and mother. No man ought ouer curiously to search out the secrets of God.

[THe children of wisdome are the Church of the righteous, and their offspring is obedience and loue.]

2 Heare your fathers iudgement, O children, and doe thereafter, that ye may be safe.

3 For the Lord will haue the father honoured of the children, and hath confirmed the authoritie of the mother ouer the children.

4 Who so honoureth his father, his sinnes shal be forgiuen him, [and he shall abstaine from them, and shall haue his dayly desires.]

5 And hee that honoureth his mother, is like one that gathereth treasure.

6 Who so honoureth his father, shall haue ioy of his owne children, & when he maketh his prayer, he shalbe heard.

7 He that honoureth his father, shall haue a long life, and hee that is obedient vnto the Lorde, shall comfort his mother.

8 He that feareth the Lord, honoureth his parents, & doeth seruice vnto his parēts, as vnto lords.

9 *Honour thy father and mother, in deede and in worde [and in all patience,] that thou mayest haue ‖ Gods blessing, [and that his blessing may abide with thee in the ende.] *Exod.20.12. deut.5.16. matth.15.4. ephes.6.2,3. ‖ or, the blessing of ours.

10 For the blessing of the father establisheth the houses of the children, and the mothers curse rooteth out the foundations.

11 Reioyce not at the dishonour of thy father: for it is not honour vnto thee, but shame.

12 Seeing that mans glorie commeth by his fathers honour, and the reproche of the mother is dishonour to the children, 13 My sonne, helpe thy father in his age, and grieue him not as long as he liueth.

14 And if his vnderstanding faile, haue patience with him, and despise him not when thou art in thy full strength.

15 For the good intreatie of thy father shal not be forgotten, but it shall be a fortresse for thee against sinnes, [and for thy mothers offence, thou shalt be recompensed with good, and it shall bee found for thee in righteousnesse.]

16 And in the day of trouble thou shalt be remembred: thy sinnes also shal melt away as the yce in the faire weather.

17 He ỹ forsaketh his father, shal come to shame, and he that angreth his mother, is cursed of God.

18 ¶ My sonne, performe thy doings ẅ meekenes, so shalt thou be beloued of them that are approued.

19 The *greater thou art, the more humble thy selfe [in all things,] and thou shalt finde fauour before the Lord. *Phil.2.3.

20 Many are excellent and of renowme: but the secrets are reuciled vnto the meeke.

21 For the power of the Lord is great, and he is honoured of the lowly.

22 * Seeke not out the things that are too hard for thee, neither search the things rashly which are too mightie for thee. *Psal.131.1. prou.25.27. rom.12.3.

23 [But] what [God] hath commaunded thee, thinke vpon that with reuerence, [and be not curious in many of his workes:] for it is not needeful for thee to see with thine eyes the things that are secret.

24 Be not curious in superfluous things: for many things are shewed vnto thee aboue the capacitie of men.

25 The medling with such hath beguiled many, and an euil opinion hath deceiued their iudgement.

26 Thou canst not see without eyes: professe not the knowledge therefore that thou hast not.

27 A stubburne heart shall fare euill at the last: and he that loueth danger, shall perish therein.

28 An heart that goeth two waies, shal not prosper: and he that is frowarde of heart, shall stumble therein.

29 An obstinate heart shalbe laden ẅ sorowes: and the wicked man shall heape sinne vpon sinne.

30 The perswasion of the proude is without remedie, and his steppes shall be plucked vp: for the plant of sinne hath taken roote in him, [and he shal not be esteemed.]

31 The heart of him that hath vnderstanding, shal perceiue secret things, and an attentiue eare is the desire of a wise man.

1 It is the propertie of a sinner to be euil tongued. 6 Of friendship. 33 Desire to be taught.

BE not of a friend [thy neighbours] enemie: for such shal haue an euil name, shame and reproch, and hee shall be in infamie as the wicked that hath a double tongue.

2 Be not proude in the deuice of thine owne minde, lest thy soule rent thee as a bull,

3 And eate vp thy leaues, & destroy thy fruite, and so thou be left as a dry tree [in the wildernes.]

4 For a wicked soule destroyeth him ẏ hath it, and maketh him to be laughed to scorne of his enemies, [& bringeth him to ẏ portion of ẏ vngodly.]

5 A sweete talke multiplieth the friends [and pacifieth them that be at variance,] and a sweete tongue increaseth much good talke.

6 Holde friendship with many, neuertheless haue but one counseller of a thousand.

7 If thou getteſt a friend, proue him first, and be not hastie to credite him.

8 For some man is a friend for his owne occasion, and will not abide in the day of thy trouble.

9 And there is some friend that turneth to enimitie, and taketh part against thee, & in contention he

he will declare thy ſhame.

10 Againe ſome * friend is but a companion at the table, and in the day of thine affliction he continueth not. *Chap.37.4.5.

11 But in thy proſperitie he will be as thou thy ſelfe, and will vſe libertie ouer thy ſeruants.

12 If thou be brought lowe, he will be againſt thee, and will hide himſelfe from thy face.

13 Depart from thine enemies, and beware of thy friendes.

14 A faithfull friend is a ſtrong defence, and hee that findeth ſuch one, findeth a treaſure.

15 A faithfull friend ought not to bee changed for any thing, and the weight [of gold and ſiluer] is not to be compared to the goodneſſe [of his faith.]

16 A faithful friend is the medicine of life [and immortalitie,] and they that feare the Lorde, ſhall finde him.

17 Who ſo feareth the Lorde, ſhall direct his friendſhip aright, and as his owne ſelfe, ſo ſhall his friend be.

18 ¶ My ſonne, receiue doctrine from thy youth vp: ſo ſhalt thou finde wiſdome [which ſhal indure] till thine olde age.

19 Goe to her as one that ploweth, and ſoweth, and wayte for her good fruites: for thou ſhalt haue but litle labour in her worke: but thou ſhalt eate of her fruites right ſoone.

20 How exceeding ſharpe is ſhe to ỹ vnlearned? he that is ẅout iudgement, will not remaine ẅ her.

21 Vnto ſuch one ſhee is as a fine touchſtone, and he caſteth her from him without delay.

22 For they haue the name of wiſedome, but there be but few that haue the knowledge of her.

23 [For with them that knowe her, ſhe abideth vnto the appearing of God.]

24 Giue eare, my ſonne: receiue my doctrine, and refuſe not my counſell, 25 And put thy feete into her linkes, and thy necke into her chaine.

26 Bow downe thy ſhoulder vnto her, and beare her, and be not wearie of her bands.

27 Come vnto her with thy whole heart, and keepe her wayes with all thy power.

28 Seeke after her, and ſearch her, and ſhe ſhall bee ſhewed thee: and when thou haſt gotten her, forſake her not.

29 For at the laſt thou ſhalt finde reſt in her, and that ſhalbe turned to thy ioy.

30 Then ſhall her fetters be a ſtrong defence for thee, [and a ſure foundation] and her chaines a glorious rayment.

31 For there is a golden ornament in her, and her bandes are the laces of purple colour.

32 Thou ſhalt put her on as a robe of honour, and ſhalt put her vpon thee, as a crowne of ioy.

33 My ſonne, if thou wilt, thou ſhalt be taught, and if thou wilt apply thy mind, thou ſhalt be witty.

34 If thou loue to heare, thou ſhalt receiue [doctrine,] and if thou delight in hearing, thou ſhalt be wiſe.

35 Stand with the multitude of the Elders, which are wiſe, and ioyne with him that is wiſe.

36 * Deſire to heare all godly talke, and let not the graue ſentences of knowledge eſcape thee. *Chap.8.9.

37 And if thou ſeeſt a man of vnderſtanding, get thee ſoone vnto him, and let thy foote weare the ſteppes of his doores.

38 Let thy minde be vpon the ordinances of the Lorde, and be [conſtantly * occupied in his commandements: ſo ſhall hee eſtabliſh thine heart, and giue thee wiſdome at thine owne deſire. [Or, earneſtly. *Pſal.1.2.3.

CHAP. VII.

2 We muſt forſake euill, and yet not iuſtifie our ſelues. 23 The behauiour of the wife toward her wife, her friend, her children, his ſeruants, his father and mother.

DOe no euill: ſo ſhall no harme come vnto thee.

2 Depart from the thing that is wicked, and ſinne ſhall turne away from thee.

3 My ſonne, ſowe not vpon the furrowes of vnrighteouſneſſe, leſt that thou reape them ſeuen fold.

4 Aske not of the Lord preeminence, neyther of the King the ſeate of honour.

5 * Iuſtifie not thy ſelfe before the Lord: [for he knoweth thine heart,] and boaſt not thy wiſedome in the preſence of the king. *Iob 9.2.3.pſal. 143.2.eccle.7.18. luke 18.11.

6 Seeke not to be made a Iudge, leſt thou bee not able to take away iniquitie, and leſt thou, fearing the perſon of the mightie, ſhouldeſt commit an offence againſt thine vprightneſſe.

7 Offend not againſt the multitude of a citie, and caſt not thy ſelfe among the people.

8 * Binde not two ſinnes together: for in one ſinne ſhalt thou not be vnpuniſhed. *Chap.5.5.

9 Say not, God will looke vpon the multitude of mine oblations, & when I offer to the moſt high God, he will accept it.

10 Be not faint hearted, when thou makeſt thy prayer, neither ſlacke in giuing of almes.

11 Laugh no man to ſcorne in the heauineſſe of his ſoule: for [God which ſeeth all things] is hee *that can bring downe, and ſet vp againe. *1.Sam.2.7.

12 Sowe not a lye againſt thy brother, neyther doe the ſame againſt thy friend.

13 Vſe not to make any maner of lye: for the cuſtome thereof is not good.

14 Make not many words when thou art among the Elders, neither * repeate a thing in thy prayer. *Mat.6.7.

15 Hate not laborious * worke, neither the huſbandrie, which the moſt high hath created. *Rom.12.13.

16 Number not thy ſelfe in the multitude of the wicked, but remẽber that vengeance wil not ſlacke.

17 Humble thy mind greatly: for the vengeance of the wicked is fire and wormes.

18 Giue not ouer thy friend for any good, not thy true brother for the golde of Ophir.

19 Depart not from a wife and good woman, [that is fallen vnto thee for thy portion in the feare of the Lord:] for her grace is aboue golde.

20 ¶ *Whereas thy ſeruant worketh truely, intreate him not euil, nor the hireling that beſtoweth himſelfe wholly for thee. *Leuit.19.13. chap.33.29. and 34.23.

21 Let thy ſoule loue a good ſeruant, and defraude him not of libertie, [neither leaue him a poore man.]

22 *If thou haue cattel, looke well to them, and if they be for thy profite, keepe them with thee. *Deut.25.4.

23 *If thou haue ſonnes, inſtruct them, and bend their necke from their youth. *Chap.30.12.

24 If thou haue daughters, keepe their body, and ſhew not thy face cheerefull toward them.

25 Marry thy daughter, and ſo ſhalt thou performe a weightie matter: but giue her to a man of vnderſtanding.

26 If thou haue a wife after thy minde, forſake her not, but commit not thy ſelfe to the hatefull.

27 * Honour thy father from thy whole heart, and forget not the ſorowes of thy mother. *Chap.3.8. Iob.4.3.

28 Remember that thou waſt borne of them, and how canst thou recompence them the things that they haue done for thee?

29 ¶ Feare the Lord with all thy soule, and honour his ministers.

30 Loue him that made thee, with all thy
*Deut.12.18,19 strength, * and forsake not his seruants.

31 Feare the Lord with all thy soule, and honour
*Leuit.2.3. num.18.15. the Priestes, * and giue them their portion, as it is commanded thee, the first fruites, [& purifications] and sacrifices for sinne, & the offrings of the shoulders, and the sacrifices of sanctification, and the first fruites of the holy things.

32 Stretch thine hand vnto the poore, that thy

*Tob.2.4,7. and 4.17. 33 Liberalitie pleaseth all men liuing, and *from the dead restraine it not.

*Rom.12.15. 34 *Let not them that weepe, be without [comfort:] but mourne with such as mourne.

*Matth.25.36. 35 *Be not slow to visit the sicke: for that shall make thee to be beloued.

36 Whatsoeuer thou takest in hand, remember the ende, and thou shalt neuer doe amisse.

CHAP. VIII.

We must take heede with whom we haue to doe.

STriue not with a mightie man, lest thou fall into his hands.

*Matth.5.25. 2 * Make not variance with a rich man, lest he 3 Striue not with a man that is full of wordes, and lay no stickes vpon his fire.

4 Play not with a man that is vntaught, lest thy kinred be dishonoured.

*Galat.6.1. 5 * Despise not a man that turneth himselfe away from sinne, nor cast him not in the teeth withall, but remember that we are all worthy blame.

*Leuit.19.32. 6 * Dishonour not a man in his olde age: for they were as we which are not olde.

7 Be not glad of the death of thine enemie, but remember that we must die all, [& so enter into ioy.]

*Chap.6.35. 8 * Despise not the exhortation of the [Elders] that bee wise, but acquaint thy selfe with their wise sentences: for of them thou shalt learne wisedome, [and the doctrine of vnderstanding,] and how to serue great men [without complaint.]

9 Goe not from the doctrine of the Elders: for they haue learned it of their fathers, and of them thou shalt learne vnderstanding, and to make answere in the time of neede.

10 Kindle not the coles of sinners, [when thou rebukest them,] lest thou be burnt in the fierie flames [of their sinnes.]

11 Rise not vp against him that doeth wrong, that he lay not waite as a spie for thy mouth.

*Chap.29.4. 12 * Lend not vnto him that is mightier then thy selfe: for if thou lendest him, count it but lost.

13 Be not suretie aboue thy power: for if thou be suretie, thinke to pay it.

14 Go not to law with the Iudge: for they will giue sentence according to his owne honour.

*Gen.4.8. 15 * Trauaile not by the way with him that is rash, lest he doe thee iniurie: for he followeth his owne wilfulnesse, & so shalt thou perish through his folie.

*Prou.22.24. 16 * Striue not with him that is angry, and goe not with him into the wildernesse: for blood is as nothing in his sight, and where there is no helpe, he will ouerthrowe thee.

17 Take no counsell at a foole: for hee can not keepe a thing close.

18 Doe no secrete thing before a stranger: for thou canst not tell what he goeth about.

19 Open not thine heart vnto euery man, lest he be vnthankful to thee, [& put thee to reprofe]

CHAP. IX.

Of wiues. 12 An olde friend is to be preferred before a new. 18 Righteous men should be bidden to thy table.

BE not iealous ouer thy wife of thy bosome, neyther teach her by thy meanes an euill lesson.

2 Giue not thy life vnto a woman, lest she ouercome thy strength, [and so thou be confounded.]

3 Meete not an harlot, lest thou fall into her snares.

4 Vse not the company of a woman that is a singer, [and a dancer, neither heare her,] lest thou be taken by her craftinesse.

7 Goe not about gazing in the streetes of the citie, neither wander thou in the secret places thereof.

8 * Turne away thine eye from a beautiful wo-

11 Sit not at all with another mans wife [neyther lye with her vpon the bed,] nor banket with her, lest thine heart incline vnto her, and so through thy desire fall into destruction.

12 ¶ Forsake not an olde friend: for the new shall not be like him: a newe friend is as new wine: when it is olde, thou shalt drinke it with pleasure.

13 * Desire not the honour [and riches] of a sin-

14 Delite not in ỹ thing that the vngodly haue pleasure in, but remember that they shall not bee found iust vnto their graue.

15 Keepe thee from the man that hath power to slay: so shalt thou not doubt the feare of death: and if thou come vnto him, make no fault, lest he take away thy life: remember that thou goest in the middes of snares, and that thou walkest vpon the towres of the citie.

20 A man full of words is dangerous in his citie, and he that is rash in his talking shalbe hated.

CHAP. X.

1 Of Kings and Iudges. 7 Pride and contousnesse are to be abhorred. 28 Labour is praysed.

A Wise Iudge will instruct his people with discretion: the gouernance of a prudent man is well ordred.

2 As the iudge of the people is him ſelfe, ſo are his officers, and what maner of man the ruler of the citie is, ſuch are they that dwell therein.

3 *An vnwiſe king deſtroyeth his people, but where they that be in authoritie, are men of vnderſtanding, there the citie proſpereth. *1. King.12.1. 13,14.

4 The gouernement of the earth is in the hand of the Lorde, [and all iniquitie of the nations is to be abhorred,] and when time is, he wil ſet vp a profitable ruler ouer it.

5 In the hand of God is the proſperitie of man, and vpon the ſcribes will he lay his honour.

6 *Be not angrie for any wrong, with thy neighbour, and doe nothing by iniurious practiſes. *Leuit.19.17.

7 Pride is hatefull before God and man, and by both doth one commit iniquitie.

8 *Becauſe of vnrighteous dealing & wrongs and riches gotten by deceit, the kingdome is tranſlated from one people to another. *Ier.27.6.dan. 4.14

9 There is nothing worſe then a couetous man: [why art thou proude, O earth and aſhes? there is not a more wicked thing, then to loue money:] for ſuch one would euen ſel his ſoule, & for his life euery one is compelled to pull out his owne bowels.

10 [All tyrannie is of ſmall endurance, and the diſeaſe that is hard to heale, is grieuous to the phyſician.]

11 The phyſician cutteth off the ſore diſeaſe, and he that is to day a king, to morow is dead.

12 Why is earth and aſhes proude, ſeeing that when a man dieth, he is the heire of ſerpents, beaſts and wormes?

13 The beginning of mans pride, is to fall away from God, and to turne away his heart from his maker.

14 For pride is the original of ſinne, and he that hath it, ſhall powre out abomination, till at laſt he be ouerthrowen: therefore the Lord bringeth the perſuaſions [of the wicked] to diſhonour, and deſtroyeth them in the end.

15 The Lord hath * caſt downe the thrones of the [proude] princes, and ſet vp the meeke in their ſtead. *Luk.1.52. and 14.11. and 18.14. Iam.2.5,6.

16 The Lorde plucketh vp the rootes of the [proude] nations, and planteth the lowly with glorie among them.

17 The Lorde ouerthroweth the landes of the heathen, and deſtroyeth them vnto the foundations of the earth: hee cauſeth them to wither away, and deſtroyeth them, and maketh their memoriall to ceaſe out of the earth.

18 [God deſtroyeth the memorial of the proud, and leaueth the remembrance of the humble.]

19 Pride was not created in men, neither wrath in the generation of women.

20 There is a ſeede of man which is an honourable ſeede: the honourable ſeed are they that feare the Lord: there is a ſeede of man, which is without honour: and the ſeede without honour, are they that tranſgreſſe the commandements of the Lorde: it is a ſeede that remaineth which feareth the Lord, and a faire plant, that loue him: but they are a ſeede without honour, that deſpiſe the Law, & a deceueiable ſeede that breake the commandements.

21 He that is the chiefe among brethren, is honourable: ſo are they that feare the Lorde in his ſight.

22 The feare of the Lord cauſeth that the kingdome faileth not, but the kingdome is loſt by crueltie and pride.

23 The feare of the Lord is the glory aſwell of the rich and the noble, as of the poore.

24 It is not meete to deſpiſe the poore man that hath vnderſtanding, neyther is it conuenient to magnifie the rich that is a wicked man.

25 The great man and the iudge and the man of authority, are honourable, yet is there none of them greater, then he that feareth the Lord.

26 *Vnto the ſeruant that is wiſe, ſhal they that are free doe ſeruice: *he that hath knowledge, wil not grudge when hee is reformed. [and the ignorant ſhall not come to honour.] *Prou.17.2. *2.Sam.12.13.

27 Seeke not excuſes when thou ſhouldeſt doe thy worke, neither bee aſhamed thereof through pride in the time of aduerſitie.

28 *Better is he that laboureth and hath plenteouſneſſe of all things, then hee that is gorgeous, and wanteth bread. *Prou.12.9,11.

29 My ſonne, get thy ſelfe prayſe by meekenes, and eſteeme thy ſelfe as thou deſerueſt.

30 Who will count him iuſt that ſinneth againſt himſelfe? or honour him, that diſhonoureth his owne ſoule?

31 The poore is honoured for his knowledge [and his feare,] but the rich is had in reputation becauſe of his goods.

32 Hee that is honourable in pouertie, howe much more ſhall he be when he is rich? and he that is vnhoneſt being rich, howe much more will he be ſo when he is in pouertie?

CHAP. XI.

1 The prayſe of humilitie. 2 After the outward appearance ought we not to iudge. 7 Of raſh iudgement. 14 All things come of God. 29 All men are not to bee brought into thine houſe.

WIſedome * lifteth vp the head of him that is lowe, and maketh him to ſit among great men. *Gen.41.40. dan.6.3.

2 Commend not a man for his beautie, neither deſpiſe a man in his vtter appearance.

3 The Bee is but ſmall among the fowles, yet doth her fruit paſſe in ſweeteneſſe.

4 Bee not proude of clothing and rayment, * and exalt not thy ſelfe in the day of honour: for the workes of the Lorde are wonderfull, [and glorious,] ſecrete, [and vnknowen] are his workes among men. *Act.12.21,23

5 Many tyrants haue ſit downe vpon the earth, * and the vnlikely hath worne the crowne. *1.Sam.15.28. eſter.6.10.

6 Many mighty men haue beene brought to diſhonour, and the honourable haue beene deliuered into other mens hands.

7 ¶ *Blame [no man] before thou haſt inquired the matter: vnderſtand firſt, and then reforme [righteouſly.] *Deut.13.14. & 17.4,6. ioſh.7.22.

8 * Giue no ſentence, before thou haſt heard the cauſe, neither interrupt men in the middes of their tales. *Prou.18.13.

9 Striue not for a matter that thou haſt not to do with, and ſit not in the iudgement of ſinnners.

10 My ſonne, meddle not with many matters: *for if thou gaine much, thou ſhalt not be blameleſſe, and if thou followe after it, yet ſhalt thou not attaine it, neither ſhalt thou eſcape, though thou flee from it. *Matth.19.25. 1.Tim.6.9.

11 * There is ſome man that laboureth and taketh paine, and the more hee haſteth, the more hee wanteth. *Prou.10.3.

15 Wiſedome and knowledge, and vnderſtanding of the Lawe are of the Lorde: loue and good works come of him.

16 Errour and darkeneſſe are appointed for ſinners, and they that exalt themſelues in euill, waxe olde in euill.

17 The gift of the Lord remaineth for the godly, and his good will giueth proſperitie for euer.

18 ¶Some man is rich by his care and nigardſhip, and this is the portion of his wages,

*Luke 12.19. 19 In that he ſaith, * I haue gotten reſt, and nowe will I eate continually of my goods, yet hee conſidereth not, that the time draweth neere, that he muſt leaue all theſe things vnto other men, and die himſelfe.

20 Stand thou in thy ſtate, and exerciſe thy ſelfe therein, and remaine in thy worke vnto thine age.

21 Maruell not at the works of ſinners, but truſt in the Lorde, and abide in thy labour: for it is an eaſie thing in the ſight of the Lorde, ſuddenly to make a poore man rich.

22 The bleſſing of ỹ Lord is in the wages of the godly, & he maketh his proſperity ſoone to flouriſh.

23 ¶Say not, What profite and pleaſure ſhall I haue? and what good things ſhall I haue hereafter?

24 Againe ſay not, I haue enough, and poſſeſſe many things, and what euill can come to mee hereafter?

*Chap.18.24. 25 *In thy good ſtate remember aduerſitie, and in aduerſitie forget not proſperite.

26 For it is an eaſie thing vnto the Lord in the day of death to reward a man according to his wayes.

27 The aduerſitie of an houre maketh one to forget pleaſure: and in a mans ende, his workes are diſcouered.

28 Iudge none bleſſed before his death: for a man ſhalbe knowen by his children.

29 Bring not euery man into thine houſe: for the deceitfull haue many traines, [and are like ſtomacks that belch ſtinkingly.]

30 As a partrich is taken vnder a basket, [and the hind is taken in the ſnare,] ſo is the heart of the proud man, which like a ſpie watcheth for thy fall.

31 For he lieth in waite and turneth good vnto euill, and in things worthy praiſe hee will finde ſome fault.

32 Of one litle ſparke is made a great fire, [and of one deceitfull man is blood increaſed:] for a ſinfull man layeth wait for blood.

33 Beware of a wicked man: for he imagineth wicked things to bring thee into a perpetual ſhame.

34 Lodge a ſtranger, and hee will deſtroy thee with vnquietneſſe, and driue thee from thine owne.

CHAP. XII.

Vnto whome we ought to do good. 10 Enemies ought not to be truſted.

WHen thou wilt doe good, knowe to whome thou doeſt it, ſo ſhalt thou be thanked for thy benefites.

2 *Do good vnto the righteous, and thou ſhalt *Gal.6.10. finde [great] reward, though not of him, yet of the 1.tim.5.8. moſt High.

3 He can not haue good that continueth in euil, and giueth no almes: [for the moſt High hateth the ſinners, and hath mercy vpon them that repent.]

4 Giue vnto ſuch as feare God, and receiue not a ſinner.

5 Do well vnto him that is lowly, but giue not to the vngodly: holde backe thy bread, and giue it not vnto him, leaſt he ouercome thee thereby: elſe thou ſhalt receiue twiſe as much euill for all the good that thou doeſt vnto him.

6 For the moſt High hateth the wicked, & will repay vengeance vnto the vngodly, and keepeth them againſt the day of horrible vengeance.

7 Giue vnto the good, & receiue not ỹ ſinner.

8 A friend can not bee knowen in proſperitie, neither can an enemie be vnknowen in aduerſitie.

9 When a man is in wealth, it grieueth his enemies, but in heauineſſe and trouble a mans very friend will depart from him.

10 Truſt neuer thine enemie: for like as an yron ruſteth, ſo doeth his wickednesſe.

11 And though hee make much crouching and kneeling, yet aduiſe thy ſelfe, and beware of him, and thou ſhalt be to him, as he that wipeth a glaſſe, and thou ſhalt knowe that all his ruſt hath not bene well wiped away.

12 Set him not by thee, leaſt hee deſtroy thee, and ſtand in thy place.

13 Neither ſet him at thy right hand, leaſt hee ſeeke thy roome, and thou at the laſt remember my words, and be pricked with my ſayings.

14 *Bind not two ſinnes together: for there ſhal *Chap 28.and 21.1. not one be vnpuniſhed.

15 Who will haue pitie on the charmer, that is ſtinged of the ſerpent? or of all ſuch as come neere the beaſts? ſo is it with him that keepeth companie with a wicked man, and wrappeth himſelfe in his ſinnes.

16 For a ſeaſon wil he bide with thee: but if thou ſtumble, he tarieth not.

17 *An enemie is ſweete in his lips: he can make *Ier.41.6. many good words, and ſpeake many good things: yea, he can weepe with his eyes, but in his heart hee imagineth how to throw thee into the pit: and if he may finde opportunitie, he will not be ſatisfied with blood.

18 If aduerſitie come vpon thee, thou ſhalt find him there firſt, and though hee pretende to helpe thee, yet ſhall he vndermine thee: he will ſhake his head, and clap his hands, & wil make many words, and diſguiſe his countenance.

2 Burthen not thy ſelfe aboue thy power, whileſt thou liueſt, and companie not with one that is mightier, and richer then thy ſelfe: for how agree the kettle and the earthen pot together? for if the one be ſmitten againſt the other, it ſhal be broken.

3 The rich dealeth vnrighteouſly, and threateneth withall: but the poore being oppreſſed muſt intreate: if the riche haue done wrong, hee muſt must yet be intreated: but if the poore haue done it, he ſhal ſtreight wayes be threatned.

4 If thou be for his profite, he vſeth thee: but if thou haue nothing, he wil forſake thee.

5 If thou haue any thing, he will liue w̄ thee yea, he wil make thee a bare man, & wil not care for it.

6 If he haue neede of thee, hee will defraude thee, & wil laugh at thee, and put thee in hope, and giue thee al good words, & ſay, what wanteſt thou?

7 Thus will he ſhame thee in his meate, vntill he haue ſupt thee cleane vp twiſe or thriſe, and at the laſt hee will laugh thee to ſcorne: afterwarde, when he ſeeth thee, hee will forſake thee, and ſhake his head at thee.

8 [Submit thy ſelfe vnto God, and waite vpon his hand.]

9 Beware that thou bee not deceiued in thine owne conceit & brought downe by thy ſimplenes: [be not two humble in thy wiſedome.]

10 ¶ If thou bee called of a mightie man, abſent thy ſelfe: ſo ſhall he call thee the more oft.

11 Preaſe not thou vnto him, that thou be not ſhut out, but go not thou far off, leſt he forget thee.

12 Withdraw not by ſelfe from his ſpeach, but beleeue not his many wordes: for with much communication will he tempt thee, and laughingly will he grope thee.

13 He is vnmerciful & keepeth not promes: he wil not ſpare to do thee hurt, & to put thee in priſō

14 Beware, and take good heede: for thou walkeſt in perill of thine ouerthowing: when thou heareſt this, awake in thy ſleepe.

15 Loue the Lord all thy life, & call vpon him for thy ſaluation.

16 ¶ Euery beaſt loueth his like, and euery man loueth his neighbour.

17 Al fleſh will reſort to their like, & euery man will keepe company with ſuch as he is himſelfe.

18 How can the wolfe agree with the lambe? no more can the vngodly with the righteous.

19 What fellowſhip hath ‖ hyena with a dog? and what peace is betweene the rich & the poore?

20 As the wilde Aſſe is the Lyons pray in ỹ wildernes, ſo are poore men the meate of the rich.

21 As the proude hate humilitie, ſo do the riche abhorre the poore.

22 If a riche man fall, his friendes ſet him vp againe: but whea the poore falleth, his friends driue him away.

23 If a rich man offende, he hath many helpers: he ſpeaketh proude wordes, & yet men iuſtifie him: but if a poore man faile, they rebuke him, & though he ſpeake wiſely, yet can it haue no place.

24 When the riche man ſpeaketh, euery man holdeth his tongue: and looke what he ſayeth, they prayſe it vnto the cloudes: but if the poore man ſpeake, they ſay, What fellow is this? and if he do amiſſe, they will deſtroy him.

25 Riches are good vnto him that hath no ſinne [in his conſcience,] & pouertie is euil in the mouth of the vngodly.

26 The heart of a man changeth his countenance, whether it be good or euill.

27 A chearefull countenance is a token of a good heart: for it is an hard thing to knowe the ſecrets of the thought.

4 Hee that gathereth together from his owne ſoule, heapeth together for others, that will make good cheare with his goods.

5 He that is wicked vnto himſelfe, to whome will he be good? for ſuch one can haue no pleaſure of his goods.

CHAP. XV.

1 The goodneſſe that followeth him which feareth God. 8 God reiecteth and caſteth off the ſinner. 11 God is not the author of euill.

HE that feareth the Lord, will doe good: and he that hath the knowledge of the Law, wil keepe it sure.

2 As an [honourable] mother shall shee meete him, and she, as his wife maryed of a virgine, wil receiue him.

3 With the bread [of life] and vnderstanding shal shee feede him, and giue him the * water of [wholesome] wisedome to drinke. *John 4.10

4 He shal assure himselfe in her, and shal not be moued, and shal holde himselfe fast by her, and shal not be confounded.

5 She shall exalt him aboue his neighbous, and in the middes of the congregation shall shee open his mouth: [with the spirit of wisedome, and vnderstanding shall shee fill him, & clothe him with the garment of glory.]

6 Shee shall cause him to inheirite ioy, and the crowne of gladnes, and an euerlasting name.

7 But foolish men will not take holde vpon her: [but such as haue vnderstanding, will meete her:] the sinners shall not see her.

8 For she is farre from pride [and deceite,] and men that lye, can not remember her: [but men of trueth shall haunt her, and shall prosper euen vnto the beholding of God.]

9 Praise is not seemely in the mouth of the sinner: for that is not sent of the Lord.

10 But if praise come of wisedom, [& be plenteous in a faithfull mouth] then ỹ Lord wil prosper it.

11 Say not thou, It is through the Lord that I turne backe: for thou oughtest not to do the things that he hateth.

12 Say not thou, He hath caused me to erre: for he hath no neede of the sinnefull man.

13 The Lord hateth al abomination [of error:] and they that feare God, loue it not.

*Gen.1.27. 14 * He made man from the beginning, & left him in the hande of his counsell, [and gaue him his commandements and precepts.]

15 If thou wilt, thou shalt obserue the commaddements, and testifie thy god will.

16 He hath set water & fire before thee: stretch out thine hand vnto which thou wilt.

*Iere.21.8. 17 * Before man is life and death, [good and euil,] what him liketh shall be giuen him.

18 For the wisdom of the Lord is great, & he is mighty in power, and beholdeth all things [continually.]

*Psal.34.15,16. heb.4.13. 19 * And the eies [of the Lord] are vpon them that feare him, & he knoweth al the works of man.

20 He hath commanded no man to doe vngodly, neither hath he giuen any man licence to sinne: [for he desireth not a multitude of infidels, and vnprofitable children.]

CHAP. XVI.

1 Of vnhappie and wicked children. 17 no man can hide himselfe from God. 24 An exhortation to the receiuing of instruction.

DEsire not the multitude of vnprofitable children, neither delight in vngodly children: though they be many, reioyce not in them, except the feare of the Lord be with them.

2 Trust not thou to their life, neither rest vpon their multitude.

3 For one that is iust, is better then a thousand such, and better it is to die without children, them to leaue behinde him vngodly children.

4 For by one that hath vnderstanding, shall the citie bee inhabited: but the stocke of the wicked shalbe wasted incontinently.

5 Many such things haue I seene with mine eyes, & mine eare hath heard greater things then these.

6 * In the congregation of the vngodly shall a fire be kindled, and among vnfaithful people shall the wrath be set on fire. *Chap.21.9,10.

7 * He spared not the olde gyants, which were rebellious, trusting to their owne strength, *Gen.6.4.

8 * Neither spared he where as Lot dwelt, those whome he abhorred for their pride. *Gen.19.21,25.

9 He had no pitie vpon the people that were destroyed, and puffed vp in their sinnes.

10 * And so he preserued ỹ sixe hundreth thousand footemen, that were gathered in the hardnesse of their heart, in afflicting them and pitying them, in smiting them and healing them, with mercy, & with chastisement. *Numb.14.15, 16,20.& 26.51.

11 Therefore if there be one stifnecked among ỹ people, it is marueile he if escape vnpunished: for mercy & warth are with him: he is mightie to forgiue and to powre out displeasure.

12 * As his mercy is great, so is his punishment also: he iudgeth a man according to his works. *Chap.5.6.

13 The vngodly shal not escape with his spoile, & the patience of the godly shal not be delayed.

14 He wil giue place to all good deedes, & euery one shall finde according to his workes, [and after the vnderstanding of his pilgrimage.]

15 The Lord hardned Pharao, that he shoulde not know him, & that his works should be knowen vpon the earth vnder the heauen.

16 His mercy is knowen to all creatures: he hath separate his light from the darkenes ẅ an adamant.

17 Say not thou, I will hide my selfe from the Lorde: for who will thinke vpon me from aboue? I shall not be knowen in so great an heape of people: for what is my soule among such an infinite number of creatures?

18 Beholde, the heauen, & the * heauen of heauens, which are for God, the depth, & the earth and all that therein is, shalbe moued when he shall visit. *2.Pet.3.10. 1.king.8.27. 2.chron.6.18.

19 All the worlde which is created and made by his will, the mountaines also, & the foundations of the earth shall shake for feare, when the Lorde looketh vpon them.

20 These things doth no heart vnderstand worthily, [but he vnderstandeth euery heart.]

21 And who vnderstandeth his wayes? and the storme that no man can see? for the most part of his workes are hid.

22 Who can declare the workes of his righteousnes? or who can abide them? for his ordinance is farre off, and the tryingout of all things fayleth

23 He that is humble of heart, wil cõsider these things: but an vnwise and erronious man casteth his minde vpon foolish things.

24 My sonne, hearken vnto me, & learne knowledge, and marke my words with thine heart.

25 I will declare thee waightie doctrine, and I will instruct thee exactly in knowledge.

26 The Lorde hath set his workes in good order from the beginning, and part of them hath he sundred from the other when he first made them.

27 He hath garnished his workes for euer, and their beginnings so long as they shall endure, they are not hungry nor wearyed in their labours, nor cease form their offices.

28 None of them hindreth another, neither was any of them disobedient vnto his words.

29 After

29 After this the Lorde looked vpon the earth and filled it with his good things.

30 With al maner of liuing beasts hath he couered the face thereof, & they returne into it againe.

2 He gaue him the number of dayes & certaine times, and gaue him power of the things that are vpon earth.

3 He clothed them with strength, as they had need, and made them according to his image.

6 And hee filled them with knowledge of vnderstanding, and shewed them good and euill.

7 He set his eye vpon their hearts, declaring vnto them his noble works,

8 And gaue them occasion to reioyce perpetually in his miracles, that they should prudently declare his works, and that the elect should praise his holy Name together.

9 Besides this, hee gaue them knowledge, and gaue them the Law of life for an heritage, that they might now know that they were mortal.

10 He made an euerlasting couenant with them, and shewed them his iudgements.

11 Their eyes saw the maiestie of his glory, and their eares heard his glorious voyce.

15 Hee appoynted a ruler vpon euery people, when he diuided the nations of the whole earth.

*Deut.4.20. and 10 15.

17 All their workes are as the sunne before him, and his eyes are continually vpon their wayes.

18 None of their vnrighteousnesse is hid from him, but all their sinnes are before the Lord.

24 Turne againe vnto the most High: for he wil bring thee from darkenesse to wholesome light: forsake thine vnrighteousnesse, and hate greatly all abomination.

25 [Know the righteousnes and iudgements of God: stand in the portion that is set forth for thee, and in the prayer of the most High God, and go in the parts of the holy worlde with such as be liuing and confesse God.]

26 *Who can prayse the most High in the hell, as doe all they that liue and confesse him?

*Psal.6 5 isa. 38.18,19.

27 [Abide not thou in the errour of the vngodlie, but prayse the Lord before death.]

28 Thankefulnesse perisheth from the dead, as though he were not: but the liuing, and he that is founde of heart, prayseth the Lord, [and reioyceth in his mercy.]

29 How great is the louing kindnes of the Lord our God, and his compassion vnto such as turne vnto him in holinesse!

30 For all things cannot be in men, because the sonne of man is not immortal, [and they take pleasure in the vanitie of wickednesse.]

31 What is more cleare then the sunne? yet shall it faile.

32 So flesh and blood that thinketh euill, [shal be reproued.]

3 To whome hath he giuen power to expresse his workes? who will seeke out the grounde of his noble acts?

4 Who shal declare the power of his greatnes? or who will take vpon him to tell out his mercy?

5 As for the wonderous workes of the Lorde, there may nothing bee taken from them, neither can any thing be put vnto them, neither may the ground of them be found out.

6 But when a man hath done his best, hee must beginne againe, and when he thinketh to come to an end, he must goe againe to his labour.

7 ¶ What is man? whereto serueth he? what good or euill can he doe?

10 Therefore is [God] patient with them, and powreth out his mercy vpon them.

11 He sawe and perceiued, that [the arrogancie of their heart, and their ruine was euill: therefore heaped he vp his mercie vpon them, and shewed them the way of righteousnesse.]

12 The mercie that a man hath, reacheth to his neighbour: but the mercie of the Lord is vpon all flesh: he chasteneth, and nurtureth, and teacheth, and bringeth backe, as a shepheard his flocke.

13 He hath mercie of the that receiue discipline, and that diligently seeke after his iudgements.

14 ¶ My sonne, when thou doest good, reproue not: and whatsoeuer thou giuest, vse no discomfortable words.

15 Shall not the dewe asswage the heate? so is a word better then a gift.

16 Loe, is not a worde better then a good gift? but a gratious man giueth them both.

17 A foole will reproch churlishly, and a gift of the enuious putteth out the eyes.

27 ¶ Euery wise man knoweth wisedome, and knowledge, and prayseth him that findeth her.

28 They that haue vnderstanding, deale wisely in words: [they vnderstand the trueth and righteousnesse.] and powre out with modestie graue sentences for mans life.

*Rom. 6. 6, and 13. 14. 30 ¶ * Followe not thy lustes, but turne thee from thine owne appetites.

32 Take not thy pleasure in great vnluptuousnes, and intangle not thy selfe with such company.

33 Become not a begger by making bankets of that that thou hast borrowed, and so leaue nothing in thy purse: else thou shouldest slanderously lie in wait for thine owne life.

*Iosh. 22. 11, 12. 4 *He that is hasty to giue credite, is light minded, & he ỹ erreth, sinneth against his own soule.

6 He that refraineth his tongue, may liue with a troublesome man, and hee that hateth babbling, shall haue lesse euill.

7 Reheatse not to another, that which is tolde vnto thee: so thou shalt not be hindred.

*Iam. 3. 2. 16 A man falleth with his tongue, but not with his will: * and who is he, that hath not offended in his tongue?

17 Reproue thy neighbour before thou threaten him, and being without anger, giue place vnto the Law of the most High.

18 The feare of the Lord is the first degree to be receiued of him, and wisedome obteineth his loue.

19 The knowledge of the commandements of the Lord is the doctrine of life, and they that obey him, shall receiue the fruite of immortalitie.

20 The feare of the Lord is all wisedome, & the performing of the Law is perfect wisdome, and the knowledge of his almightie power.

21 If a seruant say vnto his master, I will not do as it pleaseth thee, though afterward hee doe it, hee shall displease him that nourisheth him.

22 The knowledge of wickednesse is not wisedome, neither is there prudencie whereas the counsell of sinners is: but it is euen execrable malice: and the foole is voyd of wisedome.

23 He that hath small vnderstanding, and feareth God, is better then one that hath much wisedome, and transgresseth the Law of the most high.

24 There is a certaine subtiltie that is fine, but it is vnrighteous: and there is that wresteth the open and manifest Law: yet there is that is wise and iudgeth righteously.

25 There is some that being about wicked purposes, doe bowe downe themselues, and are sadde, whose inwarde parts burne altogether with deceit: he looketh down with his face, & faineth himselfe deafe: yet before thou perceiue, hee will be vpon thee to hurt thee.

8 He that vseth many wordes, shall be abhorred, and he that taketh authoritie to himselfe, shall be hated.

9 Some man hath oft times prosperitie in wicked thinges, and sometime a thing that is founde, bringeth losse.

10 There is some gift that is not profitable for thee, & there is some gift, whose reward is double.

11 Some man humbleth him selfe for glories sake, and some by humblenesse lifteth vp the head.

12 Some man byeth much for a litle price: for the which he payeth seuen times more.

13 *A wise man with his wordes maketh him selfe to be loued, but the merrie tales of fooles shall be powred out. *Chap.6.5

14 The gift receiued of a foole, shall doe thee no good, neither yet of the enuious for his importunitie: for he looketh to receiue many thinges for one: he giueth litle, and hee vpbraideth much: he openeth his mouth like a towne cryer: to day hee lendeth, to morowe asketh he againe, and such one is to be hated of God and man.

15 The foole sayeth, I haue no friend: I haue no thanke for all my good deedes: and they that eate my bread, speake euil of me.

16 How oft, and of how many shal he be laughed to scorne? for hee comprehendeth not by right iudgement that which he hath: and it is all one as though he had it not.

17 The fall on a pauement is very sudden: so shall the fall of the wicked come hastely.

18 A man without grace is as a foolish tale which is oft tolde by the mouth of the ignorant.

19 A wise sentence looseth grace when it commeth out of a fooles mouth: for hee speaketh not in due season.

20 Some man sinneth not because of pouertie, and yet is not greiued when he is aloue.

21 Some man there is that destroyeth his owne soule, because he is ashamed, and for the regarde of persons, looseth it.

22 Some man promiseth vnto his freinde for shame, and getteth an enemie of him for naught.

23 * A lie is a wicked shame in a man: yet is it oft in the mouth of the vnwise. *Chap.25.2.

24 A theefe is better, then a man ẏ is accustomed to lie: but they both shal haue destructiō to heritage

25 The conditions of liers are vnhonest, and their shame is euer with them.

26 A wise man shall bring him selfe to honour with his wordes, and he that hath vnderstanding, shall please great men.

27 * He that tilleth his lande, shall increase his heape: [he that worketh righteousnesse, shal be exalted,] and he that pleaseth great men, shall haue pardon of his iniquitie. *Prou.12.11. and 28.19.

28 *Rewardes and giftes blinde the eyes of the wise, and make them dumme, that they can not reproue faultes. *Exod 23 8. deut.16.19.

29 Wisedome that is hid, and treasure that is hoarded vp, what profite is in them both?

30 Better is hee that keepeth his ignorance secret, then a man that hideth his wisedome.

31 The necessarie patience of him, that followeth the Lorde, is better then he that gouerneth his life whithout the Lord.

CHAP. XXI.

1 Not to continue in sinne. 5 The prayer of the afflicted. 6 To hate to be reproued. 17 The mouth of the wise man. 26 The thought of the foole.

MY sonne, hast thou sinned? doe so no more, but pray for the fore sinnes [that they may be forgiuen thee.] *Chap.5.9. psal.41.4. luke.15.21.

2 Flee from sinne, as from a serpent: for if thou cōmest too neere it, it will bite thee: the teeth therof are as the teeth of a lyon, to slay the soules of men.

3 All iniquitie is as a two edged sworde, the woundes whereof cannot be healed.

4 Strife and iniuries waste riches: so the house of the proude shalbe desolate.

5 * The prayer of the poore going out of the mouth, commeth vnto the eares of the Lord, and iustice is done him incontinetly. *Exod.3.9. and 22.23.

6 Who so hateth to by reformed, is in the way of sinners: but hee that feareth the Lorde, conuerteth in heart.

7 An eloquent talker is knowen a farre off: but he that is wise, perceiueth when he falleth.

8 Who so buildeth his house with other mens money, is like one that gathereth stones to make his graue.

9 * The congregation of the wicked is like towe wrapped together: their ende is a flame of fire to destroy them. *Chap.21.8.

10 The way of sinners is made plaine with stones, but at the ende thereof is hell, [darknesse and paynes.]

11 He that keepeth the Law of the Lord, ‖ruleth his owne affections thereby: and the encrease of wisedome is the ende of the feare of God. ‖ Or, keepeth the vnderstanding thereof.

12 Hee that is not wise, will not suffer him selfe to be taught: but there is some witte that encreaseth bitternesse.

13 The knowledge of the wise shall abounde like water that runneth ouer, and his counsell is like a pure fountaine of life.

14 * The inner partes of a foole are like a bro- *Chap.33.5.

ken vessell: he can kepe no knowledge whiles hee liueth.

15 When a man of vnderstanding heareth a wise worde, hee will commend it, and increase it: but if an ignorant man heare it, he will disalowe it, and cast it behinde his backe.

16 The talking of a foole is like a burde̅ in ỹ way, but there is comelinesse in the talke of a wise man.

17 They inquire at the mouth of the wise man in the congregation, & they shall ponder his words in their heart.

18 As is an house that is destroyed, so is wisdom vnto a foole, and the knowledge of the vnwise is as words without order.

19 Doctrine vnto fooles is as fetters on the feete, and like manacles vpon the right hande.

*Chap.19.27,28. 20 * A foole lifteth vp his voyce with laughter, but a wise man doth scarce smile secretly.

21 Learning is vnto a wise man a iewell of golde, and like a bracelet vpon his right arme.

22 A foolish mans foote is soone in [his neighbours] house: but a man of experience is ashamed to looke in.

23 A foole will peepe in at the doore into the house: but he that is well nurtured, will stand woot.

24 It is the poynt of a foolish man to kearken at the doore: for hee that is wise, will be grieued with such dishonour.

25 The lips of talkers will be telling such things as pertaine not vnto them, but the wordes of such as haue vnderstanding, are weighed in the balance.

26 The heart of fooles is in their mouth: but the mouth of the wise is in their heart.

27 When the vngodly curseth Satan, he cutseth his owne soule.

*Chap.28.13. 28 * A backebiter defileth his owne soule, and is hated whersoeuer he is: [but he that keepeth his tongue, and is discreete, shall come to honour.]

CHAP. XXII.

1 Of the sluggard. 11 Not to speake much to a foole. 16 A good conscience feareth not.

A Slouthfull man is like a filthie stone, which euery man mocketh at for his shame.

2 A slouthfull man is to bee compared to the dongue of oxen, and euery one that taketh it vp, will shake it out of his hand.

3 An euill nurtured sonne is the dishonour of the father: & the daughter is least to bee esteemed.

4 A wise daughter is an heritage vnto her husbande: but shee that liueth dishonestly, is her fathers heauinesse.

5 She that is bolde, dishonoureth both her father and her husband, [and is not inferiour to the vngodly.] but they both shal despise her.

6 A tale out of time is as musicke in mourning: but wisedome knoweth the seasons of correction and doctrine.

7 Who so teacheth a foole, is as one that gleweth a potsheard together, and as he ỹ waketh one that sleepeth, from a sound sleepe.

8 If children liue honestly, & haue wherewith, they shall put away the shame of their parents.

9 But if children be proude, with hautines and foolishnes, they defile the nobilitie of their kindred.

10 Who so telleth a foole of wisedome, is as a man, which speaketh to one that is asleepe: when he hath tolde his tale, he sayth, What is the matter?

*Chap.38.16. 11 * Weepe for the dead, for hee hath lost the light: so weepe for the foole, for he wanteth vnderstanding: make small weeping for the dead, for he is at rest: but the life of the foole is worse then the death.

12 Seuen dayes doe men mourne for him that is dead: but the lamentation for the foole, and vngodly [shoulde endure] all the dayes of their life.

13 Talke not much with a foole, and goe not to him that hath no vnderstanding: * beware of him, least it turne thee to paine, and least thou bee defiled when hee shaketh him selfe. Depart from him, and thou shalt finde rest, and shalt not receiue sorowe by his foolishnes. *Chap.12.12.

14 What is heauier then leade? and what other name shoulde a foole haue?

15 * Sand and salte, and a lumpe of yron is easier to beare, then an vnwise, [foolish and vngodly man.] *Prou.27.3.

16 As a frame of wood ioyned together in a building can not be loosed with shaking, so the heart that is stablished by aduised counsel, shal feare at no time.

17 The heart that is confirmed by discreete wisdome, is as a faire plaistring on a plaine wall.

18 As reedes that are set vp on hie, can not abide the winde, so the fearefull heart with foolish imagination can endure no feare.

19 He that hurteth the eye, bringeth foorth teares, and he that hurteth the heart, bringeth forth the affection.

20 Who so casteth a stone at the birdes, frayeth them away: and hee that vpbraydeth his friende, breaketh friendship.

21 Though thou dreweſt a sword at thy friend, yet despaire not: for there may bea returning to fauour.

22 If thou haue opned thy mouth against thy friende, feare not: for there may be a reconciliation, so that vpbrayding or pride or disclosing of secrets or a traiterous wounde doe not let: for by these things euery friend will depart.

23 Bee faithful vnto thy friende in his pouertie, that thou mayest reioyce in his prosperitie. Abide stedfast vnto him in the time of his trouble, that thou mayest be heire with him in his heritage: for pouertie is not alwayes to bee contemned, nor the rich that is foolish, to be had in admiration.

14 As the vapour and smoke of the chimney goeth before the fire, so euill wordes [rebukes and threatnings] goe before bloodsheading.

25 I will not bee ashamed to defende a friende: neither will I hide my selfe from him, though hee should doe me harme: whosoeuer heare him, shall beware of him.

26 Who shall set* a watch before my mouth, & a seale of wisedome vpon my lips, that I fal not suddenly by them, & that my tongue destroy mee not? *Psal.141.3.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 A praier of the authour. 13 Of othes, blasphemie, and vnwise communication. 16 Of three kindes of sinnes. 23 Many sinne proceed of adulterie. 27 Of the feare of God

O Lorde, Father and gouernour of all my whole life, leaue me not to their counsel, and let me not fall by ‖ them. ‖ or, my lippes.

2 Who will correct my thought, and put the doctrine of wisedome in mine heart, that they may not spare me in mine ignorance, neither let ‖ their faultes passe? ‖ That is, of the tongue and lips.

3 Least mine ignorances increase, & my sinnes abound abounde to my deſtruction, and leaſt I fall before mine aduerſary, and mine enemies reioyce ouer me, whoſe hope is farre from thy mercy.

4 O Lord, Father and God of my life, [leaue me not in their imagination,] neyther giue mee a proude looke, but turne away from thy ſeruants a ſtout mind.

5 Take from me vaine hope, & concupiſcence, and reteyne him in obedience, that deſireth continually to ſerue thee.

6 Let not the greedines of the bellie, nor luſt of the fleſh hold me, and giue not mee thy ſeruant ouer into an impudent mind.

7 ¶ Heare, O ye children, the inſtruction of a mouth that ſhall ſpeake trueth: who ſo keepeth it, ſhall not periſh through his lips, [nor bee hurt by wicked workes.]

8 The ſinner ſhall be taken by his owne lips: for the euill ſpeaker and the proude doe offende by them.

*Exod.20.7. chap.27.15. mat.5.33.34. 9 *Accuſtome not thy mouth to ſwearing: [for in it there are many falles,] neyther take vp for a cuſtome the naming of the Holy one: [for thou ſhalt not be vnpuniſhed for ſuch things.]

10 For as a ſeruant which is oft puniſhed, cannot be without ſome skarre, ſo he that ſweareth, & nameth God continually, ſhall not be faultleſſe.

11 A man that vſeth much ſwearing, ſhalbe filled with wickednes, & the plague ſhal neuer go from his houſe: when he ſhal offend, his fault ſhalbe vpon him, and if he knowledge not his ſinne, hee maketh a double offence, & if he ſweare in vaine, he ſhal not be innocent, but his houſe ſhall be full of plagues.

12 There is a word which is clothed with death: God graunt that it be not found in the heritage of Iacob. but they that feare God, eſchew all ſuch, and are not wrapped in ſinne.

Or, inordinate ſwearing. 13 Vſe not thy mouth to ‖ ignorant raſhnes: for therein is the occaſion of ſinne.

14 ¶ Remember thy father & thy mother when thou art ſet among great men, leaſt thou bee forgotten in their ſight, and ſo through thy cuſtome become a foole, and wiſh that thou haddeſt not bene borne, and curſe the day of thy natiuitie.

*1.Sam.16.7. 15 *The man that is accuſtomed to opprobrious wordes, will neuer bee reformed all the dayes of his life.

16 There are two ſortes [of men] that abound in ſinne, and the third bringeth wrath [and deſtruction:] a mind hot as fire, that cannot be quenched till it bee conſumed: an adulterous man that giueth his body no reſt, till he haue kindled a fire.

17 (All bread is ſweete to a whoremonger: hee will not leaue off till he periſh)

*Iſa.29.15. 18 A man that breaketh wedlocke, and thinketh thus in his heart, *Who ſeeth me? I am compaſſed about with darkeneſſe: the walles couer me: no body ſeeth me: whome neede I to feare? the moſt High will not remember my ſinnes.

19 Such a man onely feareth the eyes of men, and knoweth not that the eyes of the Lorde are ten thouſand times brighter then the ſunne, beholding all the wayes of men, [and the ground of the deepe,] and conſidereth the moſt ſecret parts.

20 He knew all things or euer they were made, and after they be brought to paſſe alſo, he looketh vpon them all.

*Leuit.20.10. deut.22.22. 21 * The ſame man ſhall bee puniſhed in the ſtreetes of the citie [and ſhal be chaſed like a young horſefoale,] and when hee thinketh not vpon it, he ſhall be taken: [thus ſhall he be put to ſhame of euery man, becauſe he would not vnderſtand the feare of the Lord.]

22 And thus ſhal it go alſo with euery wife, that leaueth her husband, and getteth inheritance by another.

*Exod.20.14. 23 * For firſt ſhee hath diſobeyed the Lawe of the moſt High, and ſecondly, ſhe hath treſpaſſed againſt her owne husband, and thirdly, ſhee hath played the whore in adultery, and gotten her children by another man.

24 She ſhalbe brought out into the congregation, and examination ſhalbe made of her children.

25 Her children ſhall not take roote, and her branches ſhall bring forth no fruite.

26 A ſhamefull report ſhall ſhee leaue, and her reproch ſhall not be put out.

27 And they that remaine, ſhall knowe that there is nothing better then the feare of the Lorde, & that there is nothing ſweeter then to take heede vnto the commandements of the Lord.

28 It is great glorie to followe the Lord, and to be receiued of him is long life.

CHAP. XXIIII.

1 A praiſe of wiſedome proceeding foorth of the mouth of God. 6 Of her workes and place where ſhe reſteth. 22 She is giuen to the children of God.

WIſedome ſhall praiſe her ſelfe, [and be honoured in God,] and reioyce in the middes of her people.

2 In the congregation of the moſt High ſhall ſhe open her mouth, and triumph before his power.

3 [In the middes of her people ſhall ſhe be exalted, and wondred at in the holy aſſemblie.

4 In the multitude of the choſen ſhe ſhall be commended, and among ſuch as be bleſſed, ſhe ſhal be praiſed, and ſhall ſay,]

5 I am come out of the mouth of the moſt High, [firſt borne before all creatures.

6 I cauſed the light that fayleth not, to ariſe in the heauen,] and couered the earth as a cloude.

7 My dwelling is aboue in the height, and my throne is in the pillar of the cloude.

8 I alone haue gone round about the compaſſe of heauen, & haue walked in ỹ bottome of the depth.

9 I poſſeſſed the waues of the ſea, and all the earth, and all people, and nations, [and with my power haue I troden downe the hearts of all, both high and lowe.]

10 In all theſe things I ſought reſt, and a dwelling in ſome inheritance.

11 So the creator of all things gaue me a commandement, and he that made me, appointed me a tabernacle, and ſaide, Let thy dwelling be in Iacob, and take thine inheritance in Iſrael, and roote thy ſelfe among my choſen.

*Prou.8.23. *Exod.37.9. 12 *He created me from the beginning and before the world, and I ſhal neuer faile: * In the holy habitation haue I ſerued before him, and ſo was I eſtabliſhed in Sion.

*Pſal.132.8. 13 *In the welbeloued citie gaue he me reſt, and in Ieruſalem was my power.

14 I tooke roote in an honourable people, euen in the portion of the Lords inheritance.

15 I am ſet vp on hie like a cedar in Libanus, and as a cypres tree vpon the mountaines of Hermon.

Or, in Cades. 16 I am exalted like a palme tree ‖ about the bankes, and as a roſe plant in Iericho, as a fayre olive oliue tree in a pleaſant fielde, and am exalted as a plane tree by the water.

17 I ſmelled as the cinnamom, and as a bag of ſpices: I gaue a ſweete odour as the beſt myrrhe, as galbanum, and onix, and ſweet ſtorax, and perfume of incenſe in an houſe.

18 As the terebinth, haue I ſtretched out my branches, and my branches are the branches of honor and grace.

*Iohn.15.4. 19 *As the vine haue I brought foorth [fruite] of ſweete ſauour, and my flowres are the fruite of honour and riches.

20 I am the mother of beautifull loue, and of feare, and of knowledge, and of holy hope: I giue eternall things to all my children to whome God hath commanded.

21 [In me is all grace of life and trueth: in mee is all hope of life and vertue.]

22 Come vnto me al ye that be deſirous of me, and fill your ſelues with my fruites.

*Pſal.19.10,11. 23 *For the remembrance of mee is ſweeter then honie, and mine inheritance [ſweeter] then the hony combe: [the remembrance of me endureth for euermore.]

24 They that eate me, ſhal haue no more hunger, and they that drinke me, ſhal thirſt the more.

25 Who ſo hearkeneth vnto me, ſhal not come to confuſion, and they that worke by me, ſhall not offende: [they that make me to be knowen, ſhall haue euerlaſting life.]

26 All theſe things are the booke [of life,] and the couenant of the moſt high God, [& the knowledge of the trueth,] *and the Law that Moyſes [in the precepts of righteouſneſſe] commanded for an heritage vnto the houſe of Iacob, [and the promiſes pertaining vnto Iſrael.]

*Exod.20.b and 24.3. deut.4.1. and 29.9.

27 Be not wearie to behaue your ſelues valiantly with the Lorde, that he may alſo confirme you: cleaue vnto him: for the Lord almightie is but one God, and beſides him there is none other Sauiour.

28 [Out of Dauid his ſeruant hee ordeyned to raiſe vp a moſt mightie King that ſhould ſit in the throne of honour for euermore.]

*Gene.2.11. 29 He filleth al things with his wiſdome, as *Phyſon, and as Tygris in the time of the newe fruites.

30 He maketh the vnderſtanding to abounde

*Iaſh.3.15. like Euphrates, and as *Iorden, in the time of the harueſt.

31 He maketh the doctrine of knowledge to appeare as the light, and ouerfloweth as Geon in the time of the vintage.

32 The firſt man hath not knowen her perfectly: no more ſhall the laſt ſeeke her out.

33 For her conſiderations are more aboundant then the ſea, and her counſell is profounder then the great deepe.

34 I wiſedome [haue caſt out floodes:] I am as an arme of the riuer: I runne into Paradiſe as a water conduite.

35 I ſayd, I will water my faire garden, and will water my pleaſant grounde: and loe, my ditch became a flood, and my flood became a ſea.

36 For I make doctrine to ſhine as the light of the morning, and I lighten it for euer.

37 [I will pearce thorow all the lower parts of the earth: I will looke vpon all ſuch as be aſleepe, and lighten all them that truſt in the Lord.]

38 I will yet powre out doctrine, as propheſie, and leaue it vnto all ages for euer.

39 * Beholde that I haue not laboured for my ſelfe onely, but for all them that ſeeke wiſedome. *Chap.33.18.

CHAP. XXXV.

Of three things which pleaſe God, and of three which hee hateth. 7 Of nine things that be not to bee ſuſpect. 14 Of the malice of a woman.

THree thinges reioyce mee, and by them am I beautified before God and men: * the vnitie of brethren, the loue of neighbours, a man and wife that agree together. *Gen.13.2.3. 20m.12.10.

2 ¶ Three ſortes of men my ſoule hateth, and I vtterly abhorre the life of them: a poore man that is proude: a rich man that is a lyar, and an old adulterer that doteth.

3 ¶ If thou haſt gathered nothing in thy youth, what canſt thou finde in thine age?

4 ¶ Oh, how pleaſant a thing is it when gray headed men miniſter iudgement, and when the elders can giue good counſell!

5 Oh, how comely is wiſedome vnto the aged men, and vnderſtanding and prudencie to men of honour!

6 The crowne of old men is to haue much experience, and the feare of God is their glory.

7 ¶ There be nine things, which I haue iudged in mine heart to be happy, and the tenth wil I pronounce with my tongue: a man that while hee liueth, hath ioy of his children, and ſeeth the fall of his enemies.

8 ¶ Wel is him that dwelleth with a wife of vnderſtanding, * and that hath not fallen with his tongue, and that hath not ſerued ſuch as are vnworthie of him. *Chap.14.1.and 19.16.Iam.3.2.

9 Well is him that findeth prudencie, & he that ſpeaketh in the eares of them that will heare.

10 ¶ Oh, how great is he that findeth wiſedome? yet is there none aboue him, that feareth the Lord.

11 The feare of the Lorde paſſeth all things in cleareneſſe.

12 [Bleſſed is the man vnto whom it is granted to haue the feare of God.] vnto whom ſhall he be likened that hath attained it?

13 The feare of the Lord is the beginning of his loue, & faith is ỹ beginning to be ioyned vnto him.

14 [¶ The greateſt heauineſſe is the heauineſſe of the heart, and the greateſt malice is the malice of a woman.]

15 Giue me any plague, ſaue only the plague of the heart, & any malice, ſaue ỹ malice of a woman:

16 Or any aſſault, ſaue the aſſault of them ỹ hate, or any vengeance, ſaue the vengeance of ỹ enemie.

17 There is not a more wicked head then the head of a ſerpent, and there is no wrath aboue the wrath of an ‖ enemie. ‖Or, woman's 18 *I had rather dwell with a lyon and dragon, then to keepe houſe with a wicked wife. *Pro.21.19.

19 The wickedneſſe of a woman changeth her face, & maketh her countenance blacke as ſa ſacke. ‖Or, a bear 20 Her husband is ſitting among his neighbors: becauſe of her he ſigheth ſore or he beware.

21 All wickedneſſe is but litle to the wickedneſſe of a woman: let the portion of the ſinner fall vpon her.

22 As the climing vp of a ſandie way is to the feete of the aged, ſo is a wife full of wordes to a quiet man.

23 * Stumble not at the beautie of a woman, and deſire her not for thy pleaſure. *Chap.42.12. 2.ſam.11.2.and 13.2.

24 If a woman nouriſh her husband, ſhe is angry and and impudent and full of reproche.

25 A wicked wife maketh a sorie heart, an heauie countenance, and a wounded minde, weake handes and feeble knees, and cannot comfort her husband in beauinesse.

26 Of the * woman came the beginning of sinne, and through her we all die. *Gene.3.6. Iosu.2.14.

27 Giue the water no passage, [no not a litle,] neither giue a wicked woman libertie to goe out.

28 If she walke not in thine obedience, [she shall confound thee in the sight of thine enemies.] Cut her off then from thy flesh: ‖Giue her, and forsake her. ‖To wit, the bill of diuorcement.

CHAP. XXVI.

1 The prayse of a good woman. 3 Of the feare of three things, and of the fourth. 6 Of the ielous and drunken woman. 29 Of two things that cause sorowe, and of the third which moueth wrath.

BLessed is the man that hath a vertuous wife: for the number of his yeeres shalbe double.

2 An honest woman reioyceth her husbande, and she shall fill the yeeres of his life with peace.

3 A vertuous woman is a good portion, which shalbe giuen for a gift vnto such as feare the Lord.

4 Whether a man bee rich or poore, hee hath a good heart towarde the Lorde, and they shall at all times haue a cheerefull countenance.

5 ¶ There be three things that mine heart feareth, and my face is afraide of the fourth: treason in a citie: the assemblie of the people, and false accusation: all these are heauier then death.

6 ¶ But the sorowe and griefe of the heart is a woman that is ielous ouer another: and she that communeth with all, is a scourge of the tongue.

7 An euil wife is as a yoke of oxen that drawe diuers wayes: he that hath her, is as though he held a scorpion.

8 A drunken woman and such as cannot bee tamed, is a great plague: for she cannot couer her owne shame.

9 The whoredome of a woman may be knowen in the pride of her eyes, and eye liddes.

10 ¶ * If thy daughter be not shamefast, holde her straitly, lest shee abuse her selfe through ouermuch libertie. *Ecclus.42.11.

11 Take heede of her that hath an vnshamefast eye: and marueile not if she trespasse against thee.

12 As one that goeth by the way, and is thirsty, so shal shee open her mouth, and drinke of euery next water: by euery hedge shal she sit downe, and open her quiuer against euery arrowe.

13 The grace of a wife reioyceth her husbande, and feedeth his bones with her vnderstanding.

14 A peaceable woman and of a good heart is a gift of the Lorde, and there is nothing so much worth as a woman well instructed.

15 A shamefast and faithfull woman is a double grace, and there is no weight to be compared vnto her continent minde.

16 As the sunne when it ariseth in the high places of the Lorde, so is the beautie of a good wife the ornament of her house.

17 As the cleere light is vpon the holy candlesticke, so is the beautie of the face in a ripe age.

18 As the golden pillars are vpon the sockets of siluer: so are faire feete with a constant minde.

19 [Perpetuall are the foundations that be laid vpon a strong rocke: so are the commaundements of God in the heart of an holy woman.]

20 My sonne, keepe the strength of thine age stable, and giue not thy strength to strangers.

21 When thou hast gotten a fruitfull possession through all the fieldes, sowe it with thine owne seede, trusting in thy nobilitie.

22 So thy stocke that shall liue after thee, shall grow, trusting in ỹ great liberalitie of their nobility.

23 An harlot is compared to a towe: but the wife that is marryed, is counted as a towre against death to her husband.

24 A wicked woman is giuen as a rewarde to a wicked man: but a godly woman is giuen to him that feareth the Lord.

25 A shameleſse woman contemneth shame: but a shamefast woman will reuerence her husband.

26 A shameleſse woman is compared to a dog: but she that is shamefast, reuerenceth the Lord.

27 A woman that honoureth her husband, shall be iudged wise of all: but shee that despiseth him, shalbe blased for her pride.

28 A loude crying woman and a babbler let her be sought out to drive away the enemies: the mind of euery man that liueth with such, shalbe conuersant among the troubles of warre.

29 There be two things that grieue mine heart, and the third maketh mee angrie: a man of warre that suffreth pouertie: and men of vnderstanding that are not set by: and when one departeth from righteousnesse vnto sinne: the Lorde appoynteth such to the sworde.

30 [There be two things, which me thinke to be hard and perillous.] A marchant can not lightly keepe him from wrong, and a vitailer is not without sinne.

CHAP. XXVII.

1 Of the poore that would be rich. 5 The probation of the man that feareth God. 13 The vnconstantnesse of a foole. 16 The secrets of friends are not to be vttered. 26 The wicked imagineth euill which turneth vpon him selfe.

BEcause of pouertie haue many sinned: and * hee that seeketh to be rich, turneth his eyes aside. *Prouer.23.4. 1.Tim.6.9.

2 As a nayle in the wall sticketh fast betweene the ioynts of the stones, so doeth sinne sticke betweene the selling and the buying.

3 If he holde him not diligently in the feare of the Lord, his house shall soone be ouerthrowen.

4 As when one sifteth, the filthinesse remayneth in the sieue, so the filth of man remayneth in his thought.

5 The fornace proueth the potters vessell: * so doeth [tentation] trie mens thoughts. *Prouer.27.21.

6 * The fruite declareth if the tree haue bene trimmed: so the worde [declareth] what man hath in his heart. *Matth.7.17.

7 Prayse no man except thou haue heard his talke: for this is the tryall of men.

8 ¶ If thou followest righteousnesse, thou shalt get her, and put her on as a fayre garment, [and shalt dwell with her, and she shall defende thee for euer: and in the day of knowledge thou shalt finde stedfastnesse.

9 The birdes resort vnto their like: so doth the trueth turne vnto them, that are practised in her.

10 As the lyon waiteth for the beast, so doeth sinne vpon them that doe euill.

11 The talking of him that feareth God, is all wisdome: as for a foole, he changeth as the moone.

12 If thou bee among the vndiscreete, obserue the time, but haunt still the assembly of them that are wise.

13 The talking of fooles is grieuous, and their sport ſport is in the pleaſure of ſinne.

*Chap.23.9,10. 14 * The talke of him that ſweareth much, maketh the haire to ſtand vp: and to ſtriue with ſuch, ſtoppeth the eares.

15 The ſtrife of the proude is blood ſhedding, and their ſcouldings are grieuous to heare.

*Chap.19.10, and 21.23. 16 * Who ſo diſcouereth ſecrets, loſeth his credite, and findeth no friend after his will.

17 Loue thy friend, and be faithfull vnto him: but if thou bewrayeſt his ſecrets, thou ſhalt not get him againe.

18 For as a man deſtroyeth his enemie, ſo doeſt thou deſtroy the friendſhip of thy neighbour.

19 As one that letteth a bird goe out of his hand, ſo if thou giue ouer thy friend, thou canſt not get him againe.

20 Follow after him no more, for he is too farre off: he is as a roe eſcaped out of the ſnare: [for his ſoule is wounded.]

21 As for woundes, they may bee bound vp againe, and an euill worde may be reconciled: but who ſo bewrayeth the ſecrets of a friend, hath loſt all his credit.

*Prou.10.10. 22 * He that winketh with the eyes, imagineth euill: and he that knoweth him, will let him alone.

23 When thou art preſent, he wil ſpeake ſweetely, and prayſe thy wordes: but at the laſt hee will turne his tale, and ſlaunder thy ſaying.

24 Many things haue I hated, but nothing ſo euill as ſuch one: for the Lord alſo hateth him.

25 Who ſo caſteth a ſtone on hie, caſteth it vpon his owne head: and hee that ſmiteth with guile, maketh a great wound.

Pſ.7.15 pro. 26 27.eccle.10.8. 26 Who ſo diggeth a pit, ſhall fall therein, [and hee that layeth a ſtone in his neighbours way, ſhall ſtumble thereon,] and hee that layeth a ſnare for another, ſhalbe taken in it himſelfe.

27 Hee that worketh euill, ſhall be wrapped in euils, and ſhal not knowe from whence they come vnto him.

28 Mockerie and reproche follow the proude, and vengeance lurketh for them as a lyon.

29 They that reioyce at the fall of the righteous, ſhalbe taken in the ſnare, and anguiſh ſhal conſume them before they die.

30 Deſpite and anger are abominable things, and the ſinfull man is ſubiect to them both.

CHAP. XXVIII.

1 We ought not to deſire vengeance, but to forgiue the offence. 13 Of the vices of the tongue, and of the dangers thereof.

*Deut.32.35. rom.12.19. HE * that ſeeketh vengeance, ſhall finde vengeance of the Lorde, and he will ſurely keepe his ſinnes.

[Man ought not to ſeeke vengeance. 2 ‖ Forgiue thy neighbour the hurt that he hath done to thee, ſo ſhall thy ſinnes bee forgiuen thee alſo, when thou prayeſt.

*Matth.6.14. 3 Should a man beare hatred againſt man, and * deſire forgiueneſſe of the Lord?

4 Hee will ſhew no mercie to a man, which is like him ſelfe: and will hee aske forgiueneſſe of his owne ſinnes?

5 If he that is but fleſh, nouriſh hatred [& aske pardon of God,] who will intreate for his ſinnes?

6 Remember the end, & let enimitie paſſe: imagine not death and deſtruction to another through anger, but perſeuere in the commandements.

7 Remember the commaundements: ſo ſhalt thou not be rigorous againſt thy neighbour: [conſider diligently] the couenant of the moſt High, and forgiue his ignorance.

*Chap.8.9. 8 * Beware of ſtrife, and thou ſhalt make thy ſinnes fewer: for an angry man kindleth ſtrife.

9 And the ſinfull man diſquieteth friends, and bringeth in falſe accuſations among them that bee at peace.

*Prou.26.21. 10 * As the matter of the fire is, ſo it burneth, & mans anger is according to his power: and according to his riches his anger increaſeth, & the more vehement the anger is, the more is he inflamed.

11 An haſtie brawling kindleth a fire, and an haſtie fighting ſheadeth blood. [a tongue that beareth falſe witneſſe, bringeth death.]

12 If thou blowe the ſparke, it ſhall burne: if thou ſpit vpon it, it ſhall be quenched, and both theſe come out of the mouth.

[The tongue. *Chap.21.28. 13 ‖ * Abhorre ỹ ſlanderer and double tongued: for ſuch haue deſtroyed many that were at peace.

14 The double tongue hath diſquieted many, and driuen them from nation to nation: ſtrong cities hath it broken downe, and ouerthrowen the houſes of great men: [the ſtrength of the people hath it brought downe, and bene the decay of mightie nations.]

15 The double tongue hath caſt out many vertuous women, and robbed them of their labours.

16 Who ſo hearkeneth vnto it, ſhall neuer finde reſt, and neuer dwell quietly.

17 The ſtroke of the rod maketh markes in the fleſh, but ỹ ſtroke of the tongue breaketh ỹ bones.

18 There be many that haue periſhed by the edge of the ſworde, but not ſo many as haue fallen by the tongue.

19 Wel is him that is kept from an euil tongue, and commeth not in the anger thereof, which hath not drawen in that yoke, neither hath bene bound in the bandes thereof.

20 For the yoke thereof is a yoke of yron, and the bandes of it are bandes of braſſe.

21 The death thereof is an euill death: hell were better then ſuch one.

22 It ſhal not haue rule ouer them ỹ feare God, neither ſhall they be burnt with the flame thereof.

23 Such as forſake the Lord, ſhall fall therein: and it ſhall burne them, and no man ſhalbe able to quench it: it ſhall fall vpon them as a lyon, and deuoure them as a leopard.

24 Hedge thy poſſeſſion with thornes, & make doores and barres for thy mouth.

25 Binde vp thy ſiluer and golde, and weigh thy wordes in a balance, and make a doore and a barre, [and a ſure bridle] for thy mouth.

26 Beware that thou ſlide not by it, and ſo fall before him that lyeth in wayte, [and thy fall be incurable, euen vnto death.]

CHAP. XXIX.

1 Doe lend money, and doe almes. 15 Of a faithfull man anſwering for his friend. 24 The poore mans life.

[Of well doing. HE that wil ſhew mercie, ‖ lendeth to his neighbour: and he that hath power ouer himſelfe, keepeth the commandements.

*Deut.15.7,8. matth.5.42. luke 6.34. 2 * Lend to thy neighbour in time of his neede, and pay thou thy neighbour againe in due ſeaſon.

3 Keepe thy worde, and deale faithfully with him, and thou ſhalt alway finde the thing that is neceſſarie for thee.

4 Many when a thing was lent them, reckened it to be found, and grieued them that had helped them.

5 Till they receiue, they kisse his handes, and for their neighbours good they hũble their voyce: but when they should pay againe, they prolong the terme, and giue a careleſse answere, and make excuses by reason of the time.

6 And though he be able, yet giueth he scarce the halfe againe, & reckeneth the other as a thing found: els he deceiueth him of his money, and maketh him an enemie without cause: he payeth him with cursing and rebuke, and giueth him euil words for his good deed.

7 There be many which refuse to lend because of this inconuenience, fearing to bee defrauded without cause.

8 Yet haue thou patience with him that humbleth himselfe, and deferre not mercie from him.

9 Helpe the poore for the commandements sake, and turne him not away, because of his pouertie.

10 Lose thy money for thy brothers and neighbours sake, and let it not rust vnder a stone to thy destruction.

*Deut.4.24. mat.6.20. luke 11.41. and 12.33. act.10.4. 1.tim.6.18,19. ‖Or, giue thine almes secretly. *Iob 4.8,9,10,11

11 *Bestowe thy treasure after the commandement of the most High, & it shall bring thee more profite then gold.

12 ‖ Lay vp thine *almes in thy secret chambers, and it shall keepe thee from all affliction.

13 [A mans almes is as a purse with him, & shal keepe a mans fauour as the apple of the eye, and afterward shall it arise, and pay enery man his reward vpon his head.]

14 It shall fight for thee against thine enemies, better then the shield of a strong man, or speare of the mightie.

‖Of suretiship.

15 An honest man is ‖surety for his neighbour: but he that is impudent, forsaketh him.

16 Forget not the friendship of thy surety: for he hath layd his life for thee.

17 The wicked despiseth the good deed of his suretie.

18 The wicked will not become suretie: and he that is of an vnthankfull minde, forsaketh him that deliuered him.

19 [Some man promiseth for his neighbour: and when he hath lost his honestie, hee will forsake him.]

20 Suretiship hath destroyed many a rich man, and remooued them as the waues of the sea: mightie men hath it driuen away from their houses, and caused them to wander among strange nations.

21 A wicked man transgressing the commandements of the Lord shall fall into suretiship: and he that medleth much with other mens businesse, is intangled in controuersies.

22 ¶Helpe thy neighbour according to thy power, and beware that thou thy selfe fall not.

*Chap.39.26.

23 *The chiefe thing of life is water, & bread, and clothing, and lodging to couer thy shame.

‖Sober liuing.

24 ‖ The poore mans life in his owne lodge is better then delicate fare in another mans.

25 Be it litle or much, holde thee contented, that the house speake not euill of thee.

26 For it is a miserable life to goe from house to house: for where thou art a stranger, thou darest not open thy mouth.

27 Thou shalt lodge & feede vnthankful men, & after shalt haue bitter words for the same, saying, 28 Come thou stranger, and prepare the table and feede me of that thou hast readie.

29 Giue place, thou stranger, to an honourable man: my brother commeth to be lodged, and I haue neede of my house.

30 These things are heauie to a man that hath vnderstanding, the vpbraiding of the house, and the reproch of the lender.

1 Of the correction of children. 14 Of the commoditie of health. 17 Death is better then a sorowfull life. 22 Of the ioye and sorow of the heart.

*Pro.13.24. and 23.13.

HE that loueth his sonne, *causeth him oft to feele the rodde, that hee may haue ioye of him in the ende.

2 He that chastiseth his sonne, shal haue ioy in him, & shal reioyce of him among his acquaintãce.

*Deut.6.7.

3 He that *teacheth his sonne, grieueth the enemie, and before his friends he shall reioyce of him.

4 Though his father die, yet is he as though he were not dead: for hee hath left one behinde him that is like him.

5 In his life he sawe him, and had ioy in him, and was not sorie in his death, [neither was hee ashamed before his enemies.]

6 Hee left behinde him an auenger against his enemies, and one that should shew fauour vnto his friendes.

7 Hee that flattereth his sonne, bindeth vp his woundes, and his heart is grieued at euery crie.

8 An vntamed horse will be stubburne, and a wanton childe will be wilfull.

9 If thou bring vp thy sonne delicately, he shall make thee afraide: and if thou play with him, hee shall bring thee to heauinesse.

10 Laugh not with him, lest thou be sorie with him, and lest thou gnash thy teeth in the ende.

*Chap.7.23.

11 *Giue him no libertie in his youth, & winke not at his follie.

12 Bowe downe his necke while he is yong, and beate him on the sides, while he is a childe, lest hee waxe stubburne, and be disobedient vnto thee, and so bring sorow to thine heart.

13 Chastise thy childe, and be diligent therein, lest his shame grieue thee.

[The prayse of health.

14 ¶‖Better is the poore, being whole & strong, then a rich man that is afflicted in his body.

15 Health and strength is aboue all golde, and a whole body aboue infinite treasure.

16 There is no riches aboue a sound body, and no ioy aboue the ioy of the heart.

17 Death is better then a bitter life, [and long rest,] then continuall sickenesse.

18 The good things that are powred on a mouth shut vp, are as messes of meate set vpon a graue.

19 What good doth the offring vnto an idole? for hee can neither eate nor smell: so is he that is persecuted of the Lord, [and beareth the rewarde of iniquitie.]

*Chap.20.3.

20 He seeth with his eyes, & groneth like *a gelded man, that lyeth with a virgin and sigheth.

*Pro.12.25 and 15.13. & 17.22.

21 * Giue not ouer thy minde vnto heauinesse, and vexe not thy selfe in thine owne counsell.

22 The ioy of the heart is the life of man, and a mans gladnesse is the prolonging of his dayes.

23 Loue thine owne soule, and comfort thine heart: driue sorow farre from thee: for sorowe hath slaine many, and there is no profite therein.

24 Enuie and wrath shorten the life, and carefulnesse bringeth age before the time.

25 A noble and good heart will haue consideration of his meate and diet.

4 The poore laboureth in liuing poorely, and when he leaueth off, he is ſtill poore.

5 He that loueth golde, ſhall not bee iuſtified, & he that followeth corruption, ſhall haue ynough thereof.

*Chap.8.2. 6 *Many are deſtroyed by the reaſon of golde, and haue found their deſtruction before them.

28 Wine was made [from the beginning] to make men glad, [and not for drunkenneſſe.] Wine meaſurably drunken and in time, bringeth gladneſſe and cheerefulneſſe of the minde.

29 But wine drunken with exceſſe, maketh bitterneſſe of minde with braulings and ſcouldings.

30 Drunkenneſſe encreaſeth the courage of a foole, till he offend: it diminiſheth his ſtrength and maketh wounds.

12 Stand vp betimes, and bee not the laſt: but get thee home without delay, 13 And there take thy paſtime, & do what thou wilt, ſo that thou do none euil, or vſe proud words.

14 But aboue al things, giue thanks vnto him that hath made thee, & repleniſhed thee with his goods.

15 ¶ Who ſo feareth the Lorde, will receiue his doctrine, and they that riſe early, ſhall find fauour.

16 He that ſeeketh the Law, ſhalbe filled therewith: but the hypocrite will be offended thereat.

17 They that feare the Lorde, ſhall finde that which is righteous, & ſhall kindle iuſtice as a light.

18 An vngodly man will not be reformed, but findeth out excuſes according to his will.

19 A man of vnderſtanding deſpiſeth not counſell: but a lewd and proud man is not touched with feare, euen when he hath done raſhly.

7 Why doth one day excell another, ſeeing that the light of ỹ dayes of the yeere come of the ſunne?

8 The knowledge of the Lord hath parted them aſunder, and hee hath by them diſpoſed the times and ſolemne feaſtes.

9 Some of them hath he choſen and ſanctified, and ſome of them hath he put among the dayes to number.

10 And all men are of the *ground, and Adam was created out of the earth: but the Lord hath diuided them by great knowledge, and made their wayes diuers. *Gen.1.27. and 2.7.

11 Some of them hath he bleſſed and exalted, and ſome of them hath he ſanctified, & appropriate to himſelfe: but ſome of them hath he curſed, and brought them low, and put them out of their eſtate.

17 Heare me, O ye great men of the people, and hearkē with your eares, ye rulers of ỹ Congregatiō.

18 Giue not thy ſonne and wife, thy brother and friend, power ouer thee while thou liueſt, and giue not away thy ſubſtance to another, leſt it repent thee, and thou intreate for the ſame againe.

19 As long as thou liueſt, and haſt breath, giue not thy ſelfe ouer to any perſon.

20 For better it is that thy children ſhould pray vnto thee, then that thou ſhouldeſt looke vp to the hands of thy children.

21 In all thy workes bee excellent, that thine honour be neuer ſtained.

22 At the time when thou ſhalt ende thy dayes, and finiſh thy life, diſtribute thine inheritance.

23 ¶ The fodder, the whippe, and the burden belong vnto the aſſe: and meate, correction & worke vnto thy ſeruant.

24 If thou ſet thy ſeruant to labour, thou ſhalt finde reſt: but if thou let him goe idle, he ſhal ſeeke libertie.

25 The yoke and the whippe bowe downe the hard necke: ſo tame thine euill ſeruant with the whippes and correction.

26 Send him to labour, that he goe not idle: for idleneſſe bringeth much euill.

27 Set him to worke, for that belōgeth vnto him: if he be not obedient, ‖put on more heauie fetters. ‖How ſlaues were ordered in old time.

2 Who ſo regardeth dreames, is like him that wil take holde of a ſhadow, and follow after the winde.

3 Euen ſo is it with the appearings of dreames, as the likeneſſe of a face is before another face.

4 Who can be cleanſed by the vncleane? or what trueth can be ſpoken of a liar?

5 Southſayings, witchcraft, and dreaming is but vanitie, and a minde that is occupied with fantaſies, is as a woman that trauaileth.

6 Where as ſuch viſions come not of the moſt High to trie thee, ſet not thine heart vpon them.

7 For dreames haue deceiued many, and they haue fayled that put their truſt therein.

8 The Lawe ſhall be fulfilled without lies, and wiſedome is ſufficient to a faithfull mouth: [what knowledge hath he that is not tryed?]

9 A man that is inſtructed, vnderſtandeth much, and hee that hath good experience, can talke of wiſedome.

10 Hee that hath no experience, knoweth litle, and he that erreth, is full of craft.

11 Whē I wandred to & fro, I ſaw many things, & mine vnderſtāding is greater then I can expreſſe.

12 I was oft times in danger of death, yet I was deliuered by theſe things.

13 ¶ The ſpirit of thoſe that feare the Lord, ſhal liue: for their hope is in him that can helpe them.

14 Who ſo ‖feareth the Lord, feareth no man, neither is afraide: for he is his hope. ‖ The feare of the Lord.

15 Bleſſed is the ſoule of him that feareth the Lorde: in whom putteth hee his truſt? who is his ſtrength?

16 * For the eyes of the Lord haue reſpect vnto them, that loue him: he is their * mightie protection, and ſtrong ground, a defence from the heat, and a ſhadow for the noone day, a ſuccour from ſtumbling, and an helpe from falling. *Pſal.33.18. *Pſal.91.1,2.

‖The offrings of the wicked and their prayer. 20 The moſt High doeth not allow the ‖ offerings of the wicked, *neither is he pacified for ſinne by the multitude of ſacrifice.

*Prou.15.8. 21 Who ſo bringeth an offring of the goods of the poore, doeth as one that ſacrificeth the ſonne before the fathers eyes.

22 The bread of the needefull is the life of the poore: he ỹ defraudeth him thereof, is a murtherer.

23 He that taketh away his neighbours liuing, *Deut.24.14,15. chap 7.20. ſlayeth him, * and he that defraudeth the labourer of his hire, is a bloodſheader.

24 ¶When one buildeth, and another breaketh downe, what profite haue they then but labour?

25 When one prayeth, and another curſeth, whoſe voyce will the Lord heare?

*Num.19.11,12. 26 *He ỹ waſheth himſelfe becauſe of a dead body, & toucheth it again, what auaileth his waſhing?

*2.Pet.2 20, 21,22. 27 *So is it with a man that faſteth for his ſinnes, and committeth them againe: who will heare his prayer? or what doeth his faſting helpe him?

CHAP. XXXV.

1 Of true ſacrifices. 14 The prayer of the fatherleſſe, and of the widowe, and him that humbleth himſelfe.

*1.Sam.15.22. iere.7.3,5,6,7. WHo ſo keepeth the Lawe, * bringeth offerings ynowe: he that holdeth faſt the commandements, ‖ offereth an offring of ſaluation.

‖True ſacrifices. 2 He that is thankefull to them that haue well deſerued, offereth fine flowre: * and he that giueth almes, ſacrificeth praiſe.

*Philip.4.18. 3 To depart from euill is a thankefull thing to the Lorde, and to forſake vnrighteouſneſſe, is a reconciling vnto him.

*Exod 23 15. and 34.20. deut.16.16. 4 *Thou ſhalt not appeare emptie before the Lorde.

5 For all theſe things are done becauſe of the commaundement.

*Gen.4.4,5. 6 * The offering of the righteous maketh the altar fat, and the ſmell thereof is ſweete before the moſt High.

7 The ſacrifice of the righteous is acceptable, and ỹ remembrance therof ſhal neuer be forgotten.

8 Giue the Lorde his honour with a good and liberal eye, and diminiſh not the firſt fruits of thine handes.

*2.Cor.9.7. 9 *In all thy gifts ſhew a ioyfull countenance, and dedicate thy tithes with gladneſſe.

*Tob.4.8. 10 Giue vnto the moſt High according as hee hath enriched thee, * and looke what thine hand is able, giue with a cheerefull eye.

11 For the Lorde recompenſeth, and will giue thee ſeuen times as much.

*Leuit 22.21,22. deut.15.21. 12 * Diminiſh nothing of thine offering: for he will not receiue it, and abſteine from wrongfull ſacrifices: for the Lord is the iudge, and regardeth no *mans perſon.

14 He deſpiſeth not the deſire of the fatherleſſe, nor the widowe, when ſhe powreth out her prayer.

15 Doth not the teares run downe the widowes cheekes? & her cry is againſt him that cauſeth them: [for frō her cheekes do they go vp vnto heauen, & the Lord which heareth them, doeth accept them.]

16 He that ſerueth ỹ Lord, ſhalbe accepted with fauour, and his prayer ſhall reach vnto the cloudes.

17 The prayer of him that humbleth himſelfe, goeth thorowe the cloudes, and ceaſeth not till it come neere, and will not depart till the moſt High haue reſpect thereunto to iudge righteouſly, and to execute iudgement.

18 And the Lord wil not be ſlacke, nor the Almighty will tarie long from them, till he hath ſmitten in ſunder the loynes of the vnmercifull, and auenged himſelfe of the heathen, till hee haue taken away the multitude of the cruell, and broken the ſcepter of the vnrighteous, till hee giue euery man after his workes, and rewarde them after their deuiſes, till he haue iudged the cauſe of his people, and comforted them with his mercie.

19 Oh, how faire a thing is mercie in the time of anguiſh and trouble! It is like a cloude of raine, that commeth in the time of a drought.

CHAP. XXXVI.

1 A prayer to God in the perſon of all faithfull men, againſt thoſe that perſecute his Church. 22 The praiſe of a good woman.

HAue mercy vpon vs, O Lord God of al things, & behold vs, and [ſhew vs ỹ light of thy mercies.]

‖Againſt the wicked. 2 And ſend thy feare ‖ among the nations, which ſeeke not after thee, [that they may knowe that there is no God but thou, and that they may ſhew thy wonderous workes.]

*Ierem.10.25 3 Lift vp thine * hande vpon the ſtrange nations, that they may ſee thy power.

4 As thou art ſanctified in vs before them, ſo be thou magnified among them before vs,

5 That they may knowe thee, as we know thee: for there is none other God but only thou, O Lord.

6 Renew the ſignes, and change the wonders: ſhew the glory of thine hand, and thy right arme, that they may ſhew forth thy wonderous actes.

7 Raiſe vp thine indignation, & powre out wrath: take away the aduerſarie, and ſmite the enemie.

8 Make the time ſhort: remember thine othe, that thy wonderous workes may be prayſed.

9 Let the wrath of the fire conſume them that eſcape, and let them periſh that oppreſſe the people.

10 Smite in ſunder the heads of the princes that be our enemies, & ſay, There is none other but we.

‖A prayer for the godly. 11 ‖Gather al the tribes of Iacob together, [that they may knowe that there is none other God but only thou, and that they may ſhew thy wonderous works,] & inherit thou them as frō the beginning.

*Exod.4.22. 12 O Lord, haue mercy vpon the people, that is called by thy Name, and vpon Iſrael, *whom thou haſt likened to a firſt borne ſonne.

13 Oh, be mercifull vnto Ieruſalem the citie of thy Sanctuarie, the citie of thy reſt.

14 Fill Sion, that it may magnifie thine oracles, and fill thy people with thy glory.

15 Giue witneſſe vnto thoſe that thou haſt poſſeſſed from the beginning, and raiſe vp the prophecies that haue bene ſhewed in thy Name.

16 Rewarde them that waite for thee, that thy Prophets may be found faithfull.

*Numb.6.24 17 O Lord, heare the prayer of thy ſeruants according to the * bleſſing of Aaron ouer thy people, [and guide thou vs in the way of righteouſneſſe,] that all they which dwel vpon the earth, may know that thou art the Lord the eternall God.

18 ¶ The belly deuoureth all meates, yet is one meate better then another.

19 As the throte taſteth veniſon, ſo doeth a wiſe minde diſcerne falſe wordes.

20 A fro-

20 A froward heart bringeth griefe, but a man of experience will resist it.

21 A woman is apt to receiue euery man: yet is one daughter better then another.

22 The beautie of a woman cheereth the face, and a man loueth nothing better.

23 If there be in her tongue gentlenes, meekenesse, and wholesome talke, then is not her husband like other men.

[The prayse of a good woman.

24 He that hath ‖ gotten a [vertuous] woman, hath begun to get a possession: she is an helpe like vnto himselfe, and a pillar to rest vpon.

25 Where no hedge is, there the possession is spoyled: and hee that hath no wife, wandereth to and fro, mourning.

26 Who will trust a thiefe that is alway ready and wandereth from towne to towne? and likewise him, that hath no rest, and lodgeth, wheresoeuer the night taketh him?

CHAP. XXXVII.

1 How a man shoulde knowe friends and counsellers. 12 To keepe his company that feareth God.

[Of friendship.

EVery friend sayth, ‖ I am a friend vnto him also: but there is some friend, which is onely a friend in name.

2 Remaineth there not heauines vnto death, whē a companion and friend is turned to an enemie?

3 O wicked presumption, from whence art thou sprung vp to couer the earth with deceite?

*Chap.6.10.

5 *There is some companion which in prosperitie reioyceth with his friend: but in the time of trouble he is against him.

5 There is some companion that helpeth his friend for the bellies sake, and taketh vp the buckler against the enemie.

6 Forget not thy friend in thy mind, and thinke vpon him in thy riches.

[Of whome we should take counsell.

7 Seeke no ‖ counsell at him of whome thou art suspected, and disclose not thy counsel vnto such as hate thee.

*Chap.8.19. and 9.16.

8 *Euery counseller prayseth his owne counsel: but there is some that counselleth for himselfe.

[Or, what needs he hath.

9 Beware of the counseller, and be aduised afore ‖ whereto thou wilt vse him: for he wil counsell for himselfe, least he cast the lot vpon thee,

10 And say vnto thee, Thy way is good, and afterward he stand against thee, and looke what shall become of thee.

11 [Aske no counsel for religion of him, that is without religion, nor of iustice, of him that hath no iustice,] nor of a woman touching her of whom she is ielous, nor of a coward in matters of warre, nor of a marchant concerning exchāge, nor of a buyer for the sale, nor of an enuious man touching thankfulnesse, nor of the vnmerciful touching kindnes, [nor of an vnhoneſt man of honestie,] nor of ‡ slouthful for any labour, nor of an hireling for ‡ finishing of a worke, nor of an idle seruant for much businesse: hearken not vnto these in any matter of counsell.

12 But be continuall with a godly man whome thou knowest to keepe the commandements of the Lord, whose minde is according to thy mind, and is sorie for thee when thou stumblest.

13 Take counsell of thine owne heart: for there is no man more faithfull vnto thee, then it.

14 For a mans mind is sometime more accustomed to shew more then seuen watchmen that sit aboue in an hie towre.

15 And aboue all this pray to the most High, that he will direct thy way in trueth.

16 Let reason goe before euery enterprise, and counsell before euery action.

17 ¶ The [changing] of the countenance is a signe of the changing of the heart: foure things appeare, good & euill, life and death, but the tongue hath euermore the gouernement ouer them.

18 ¶ Some man is wittie, and hath instructed many, and yet is vnprofitable vnto himselfe.

19 Some man will be wise in wordes, and is hated, yea, he is destitute of all ‖ foode.

[Or, wisdome.

20 Because grace is not giuen him of the Lord: for he is destitute of all wisedome.

21 Another is wise for himselfe, and the fruites of vnderstanding are faithfull in his mouth.

22 A wise man instructeth his people, and the fruites of his wisedome faile not.

23 A wise man shall be plenteously blessed, and all they that see him, shall thinke him blessed.

24 The life of man standeth in the number of dayes: but the dayes of Israel are innumerable.

25 A wise man shall obteine credite among his people, and his name shall be perpetuall.

26 My sonne, proue thy soule in thy life, and see what is euill for it, and permit it not to doe it.

27 For all things are not profitable for all men, neither hath euery soule pleasure in euery thing.

[Of temperancie.

28 Be not ‖ greedie in all delites, and be not too hastie vpon all meates.

*Chap.31.19, 20.

29 *For excesse of meates bringeth sickenesse, and glottonie commeth into cholericke diseases.

[Or, taketh heede.

30 By surfet haue many perished: but hee that ‖ dieteth himselfe prolongeth his life.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

1 A Physition is commendable. 16 To burne the dead. 24 The wisedome of him that is learned.

[Of Physitians and physicke.

HOnour the ‖ Physician with that honour that is due vnto him, because of necessitie: for the Lord hath created him.

2 For of the most High commeth healing, and he shall receiue gifts of the King.

3 The knowledge of the Physicion lifteth vp his head, and in the sight of great men he shalbe in admiration.

4 The Lorde hath created medicines of the earth, and he that is wise, will not abhorre them.

*Exod.15.25.

5 *Was not the water made sweete with wood, that men might know the vertue therof?

6 So he hath giuen men knowledge, that hee might be glorified in his wonderous workes.

7 With such doeth he heale men, and taketh away their paines.

8 Of such doth the Apothecarie make a confection, and yet he cannot finish his owne workes: for of the Lord commeth prosperitie and wealth ouer all the earth.

*Isa.38.2,5.

9 My sonne, faile not in thy sicknes, but * pray vnto the Lord, and he will make thee whole.

10 Leaue off from sinne, and order thine hands aright, and cleanse thine heart from all wickednes.

11 Offer sweete incense, and fine flowre for a remembrance: make the offering fat, for thou art not the first ‖ giuer.

[God bestoweth first his benefits, & we must render a portion therof to such? vses as he appointeth.

12 Then giue place to the physicion: for the Lord hath created him: let him not goe from thee, for thou hast needs of him.

13 The houre may come, that their enterprises may haue good successe.

14 For they also shall pray vnto the Lord, that he

he would prosper that, which is giuen for ease, and their physicke for the prolonging of life.

15 He that sinneth before his maker, let him fall into the hands of the phisicion.

*Chap.22.11. ‖Of mourning. ¶Or, the custome.

16 My sonne, *powre forth teares ouer ȳ dead, ‖and begin to mourne, as if thou haddest suffered great harme thy selfe, & then couer his body according to his ‖appoyntment, & neglect not his burial.

17 Make a grieuous lamentation, and be earnest in mourning, and vse lamentation, as he is worthy, and that, a day or two, least thou be euil spoken of, and then comfort thy selfe for thine heauines.

*Prou.15.13. and 17.22.

18 *For of heauinesse commeth death, and the heauines of the heart breaketh the strength.

19 Of the affection of the heart commeth sorow, and the life of him that is afflicted, is according to his heart.

20 Take no heauinesse to heart: driue it away and remember the last ende.

21 Forget it not: for there is no turning againe: thou shalt doe him no good, but hurt thy selfe.

22 Remember his iudgement: thine also shall be likewise, vnto me yesterday, and vnto thee to day.

*2.Sam.12.20.

23 *Seeing the dead is at rest, let his remembrance rest, and comfort thy selfe againe for him, when his spirit is departed from him.

24 ¶ The wisdome of a learned man commeth by vsing well his vacant time: and he that ceaseth from his owne matters and labour, may come by wisedome.

25 How can hee get wisdome that holdeth the plough, and he that hath pleasure in the goad, and in driuing oxen, and is occupied in their labours, and talketh but of the breed of bullocks?

26 He giueth his minde to make furrowes, and is diligent to giue the kine fodder.

27 So is it of euery carpenter, and workemaster that laboureth night and day: and they that cut, and graue seales, and make sundry diuersities, and giue themselues to counterfaite imagerie, and watch to performe the worke.

28 The smith in like maner abideth by his anuill, and doeth his diligence to labour the yron: the vapour of the fire dryeth his flesh, and hee must fight with the heate of the fornace: the noyse of the hammer is euer in his eares, and his eyes looke still vpon the thing that he maketh: he setteth his mind to make vp his workes: therefore he watcheth to polish it perfectly.

29 So doeth the potter sit by his worke: he turneth the wheele about with his feete: he is carefull alway at his worke, & maketh his work by number.

30 He fashioneth the clay with his arme, and with his feete he tempereth the hardnes thereof: his heart imagineth how to couer it with leade, and his diligence is to cleanse the ouen.

31 All these hope in their hands, and euery one bestoweth his wisedome in his worke.

32 Without these cannot the cities be maintained, nor inhabited, nor occupied.

33 And yet they are not asked their iudgement in the counsell of the people, neither are they hie in the congregation, neyther sit they vpon the iudgement seates, nor vnderstand ȳ order of iustice: they cannot declare matters according to the forme of the Lawe, and they are not meete for hard matters.

34 But they maintaine the state of the world, and their desire is concerning their worke and occupation.

CHAP. XXXIX.

1 A wise man. 16 The workes of God. 24 Vnto the good good things profite, but vnto the euill, euen good things are euill.

HE onely that applieth his minde to the Lawe of the most high, and is occupied in the meditation thereof, seeketh out the ‖ wisedome of all the ancient, and exerciseth himselfe in the prophecies. ‖Of true wisdome.

2 He keepeth the sayings of famous men, and entreth in also to the secrets of darke sentences.

3 He seeketh out the mysterie of graue sentences, and exerciseth himselfe in darke parables.

4 He shall serue among great men and appeare before the prince: hee shall trauaile through strange countreys: for hee hath tried the good and the euill among men.

5 He will giue his heart to resort early vnto the Lord that made him, and to pray before the most High, and will open his mouth in prayer, and pray for his sinnes.

6 When the great Lorde will, he shall bee filled with the Spirit of vnderstanding, that hee may powre out wise sentences, and giue thankes vnto the Lord in his prayer.

7 ‖He shall direct his counsell, and knowledge: so shall he meditate in his secrets. ‖Or, the Lord.

8 He shall shew forth his science and learning, and reioyce in the Law and couenant of the Lord.

9 Many shall commend his vnderstanding, and his memorie shall neuer be put out, nor depart away: but his name shall continue from generation to generation.

10 *The congregation shal declare his wisdome, and shewe it. *Chap.44.15.

11 Though he be dead, hee shall leaue a greater fame then a thousand: and if he liue still, he shal get the same.

12 Yet will I speake of moe things: for I am full as the moone.

13 Hearken vnto me, ye holy children, & bring forth fruit, as the rose that is planted by the brooks of the fielde,

14 And giue ye a sweete smell as ‖ incense, and bring forth flowers as the lillie: giue a smell & sing a song of prayse: blesse the Lord in all his workes. ‖Or, Libanus.

15 Giue honour vnto his Name, and shew forth his prayse with the songs of your lips, and with harpes, and ye shall say after this maner, 16 *All the workes of the Lorde are exceeding good, and all his commandements are done in due season. *Gen.1.31. mar.7.37.

17 And none may say, What is this? wherefore is that? for at time conuenient they shal all be sought out: at his commaundement the water stood as an heape, and at the worde of his mouth the waters gathered themselues.

18 His whole fauour appeared by his commandement, and none can diminish that which he will saue.

19 The workes of all flesh are before him, and nothing can be hid from his eyes.

20 He seeth from euerlasting to euerlasting, and there is nothing wonderfull vnto him.

21 A man needs not to say, What is this? wherefore is that? for hee hath made all things for their owne vse.

22 His blessing shall runne ouer as the streame, and moysten the earth like a flood.

23 As he hath turned the waters into saltnes, so shall the heathen feele his wrath.

24 As

24 As his wayes are plaine and right vnto the iust, so are they stumbling blockes to the wicked.

25 ¶ For the good, are good things created from the beginning, and euill things for the sinners.

26 *The principall things for the whole vse of mans life is water, fire, and Iron, and salt, and meale, wheat and hony, and milke, the blood of the grape, and oyle, and clothing.

27 All these thinges are for good to the godly: but to the sinners they are turned vnto euil.

28 There be spirits that are created for vengeance, which in their rigour lay on sure strokes in the time of destruction they shewe forth their power, and accomplish the wrath of him that made them.

29 * Fire and haile, & famine, and death: al these are created for vengeance.

30 The teeth of wilde beastes, and the scorpions, and the serpents, and the sword execute vengeance for the destruction of the wicked.

31 They shalbe glad to do his commandements: and when neede is, they shall bee readie vpon earth: and when their houre is come, they shall not ouerpasse the commandement.

32 Therefore haue I taken a good courage vnto me from the beginning, and haue thought on these things, and haue put them in writing.

33 *All the workes of the Lord are good, and he giueth euery one in due season, & when neede is:

34 So that a man neede not to say, This is worse then that: for in due season they are al worthy praise.

35 And therefore praise the Lord with whole heart and mouth, and blesse the Name of the Lord.

CHAP. XL.

1 Many miseries in mans life. 14 Of the blessing of the righteous and prerogatiue of the feare of God.

GReat ‖ trauaile is created for al men, and an heauie yoke vpon ỹ sonnes of Adam from the day that they goe out of their mothers wombe, till the day that they returne to ỹ mother of al things.

‖ The miseries of mans life.

2 Namely their thoughts, and feare of the heart, and their imagination of the things they waite for, and the day of death,

3 From him that sitteth vpon ỹ glorious throne, vnto him that is beneath in the earth and ashes:

4 From him that is clothed in blewe silke, and weareth a crown, euen vnto him that is clothed in simple linnen.

5 Wrath and enuie, trouble and vnquietnesse, and feare of death, and rigour, and strife, and in the time of rest the sleepe in the night vpon his bed, chaungeth his knowledge.

6 A little or nothing is his rest, and afterward in sleeping he is as in a watchtower in the day: hee is troubled with the visions of his heart, as one that runneth out of a battell.

7 And when all is safe, hee awaketh, and marueileth that the feare was nothing.

8 Such things come vnto all flesh, both man and beast, but seuen folde to the vngodly:

9 Moreouer, * death and blood, and strife, and sword, oppressiõ, famine, destruction, & punishmẽt.

10 These things are all created for the wicked, and for their sakes came the *flood also.

11 *All things that are of the earth, shal turne to earth againe: and they that are of the *waters, shall returne into the sea.

12 ¶ Al bribes and vnrighteousnesse shal be put away: but ‖ faithfulnesse shall endure for euer.

‖ Faithfulnesse.

13 The substance of the vngodly shall be dried vp like a riuer, and they shall make a sound like a great thunder in the raine.

14 When he openeth his hand, he reioyceth: but all the transgressours shal come to nought.

15 The children of the vngodly shall not obtaine many branches: for the vncleane roots are as vpon the high rockes.

16 Their tender stalke by what water so euer it bee or water banke, it shall be pulled vp before al other herbes.

17 ¶ Friendlinesse is a most plentiful garden of pleasure, and mercy endureth for euer.

18 *To labour and to bee content with that a man hath, is a sweete life: but he that findeth a treasure, is aboue them both.

19 Children, and the building of the citie maketh a perpetuall name: but an honest woman is counted aboue them both.

20 Wine and musicke reioice the heart: but the loue of wisedome is aboue them both.

21 The pipe and the psalterion make a sweete noise: but a pleasant tongue is aboue them both.

22 Thine eie desireth fauour and beautie: but a greene seede time, rather then them both.

23 A friende, and companion come together at opportunitie: but aboue them both is a wife with her husband.

24 Friends & helpe are good in the time of trouble, but almes shal deliuer more then them both.

25 Golde and siluer fasten the feete, but counsell is esteemed aboue them both.

26 Riches and strength lift vp the minde: but the feare of the Lord is aboue them both: there is no want in the feare of ỹ Lord, & it needeth no helpe.

27 The feare of the Lord is a pleasant garden of blessing, and there is nothing so beautiful as it is.

28 ¶ My sonne, leade not a beggers life: for better it were to die then to beg.

29 The life of him that dependeth on another mans table, is not to be counted for a life: for he entermeteth himselfe after other mens meate: but a wise man and well nourtured, will beware thereof.

30 Begging is sweete in the mouth of the vnshamefast, and in his belly there burneth a fire.

CHAP. XLI.

1 Of the remembrance of death. 3 Death is not to be feared. 8 A curse vpon them that forsake the Law of God. 12 Good name and fame. 14 An exhortation to giue heede vnto wisedome. 17 Of what things a man ought to be ashamed.

O ‖ Death, how bitter is the remembrance of thee to a man that liueth at rest in his possessions, vnto the man that hath nothing to vexe him, and that hath prosperitie in all things: yea, vnto him that yet is able to receiue meate!

‖ Of death.

2 O death, how acceptable is thy iudgment vnto the needful, & vnto him whose strength faileth, and that is now in the last age, & is vexed with all things, & to him ỹ dispaireth, & hath lost patience!

3 Feare not the iudgement of death: remember thẽ that haue bene before thee, and ỹ come after: this is the ordinance of the Lord ouer al flesh.

4 And why wouldest thou be against the pleasure of the most High? whether it bee tenne or an hundreth or a thousand yeeres, there is no defence for life against the graue.

5 ¶ The children of the vngodly are abominable children, and so are they that keepe companie with the vngodly.

6 The inheritance of vngodly children shal perish, & their posteritie shal haue a perpetual shame.

7 The children complaine of an vngodly father, because they are reproched for his sake.

8 Woe be vnto you, O ye vngodly, which haue forsaken the Law of the most high God: for though you increase yet shall you perish.

9 If ye be borne, ye shall bee borne to cursing: if ye die, the curse shall be your portion.

*Chap. 40. 11. 10 *All that is of the earth shal turne to earth againe: so the vngodly go from the curse to destruction.

11 Though men mourne for their body, yet the wicked name of the vngodly shall be put out.

12 Haue regard to thy name: for that shal continue with thee aboue a thousand treasures of gold.

‖A good name. 13 A good life hath the dayes nombred: but ‖a good name endureth euer.

*Chap. 20. 29. 14 My children, keepe wisedome in peace: * for wisedom that is hid, and a treasure that is not seene, what profite is in them both?

15 A man that hideth his foolishnesse, is better then a man that hideth his wisedome.

16 Therefore beare reuerence vnto my wordes:

‖Of shamefastnesse. for it is not good in all things to be ‖ ashamed: neither are all things allowed as faithfull in all men.

17 Be ashamed of whoredom before father and mother: be ashamed of lyes before the prince and men of authoritie:

18 Of sinne before the Iudge and ruler: of offence before the congreation and people: of vnrighteousnesse before a companion and friend, 19 And of theft before the place where thou dwellest, and before the trueth of God and his couenant, and to leane with thine elbowes vpon ‖the bread, or to be reproued for giuing or taking.

‖Or, table. 20 And of silence vnto them that salute thee, and to looke vpon an harlot,

21 And to turne away thy face from thy kinsman: or to take away a portion or a gift, or to bee euil minded towards another mans wife,

22 Or to solicite any mans maid, or to stand by her bed, or to reproch thy friendes with words, 23 Or to vpbraide when thou giuest any thing, or to report a matter that thou hast heard, or to reueile secrete wordes.

24 Thus mayest thou wel be shamefast, & shalt finde fauour with all men.

CHAP. XLII.

1 The Law of God must be taught. 9 A daughter. 14 A woman. 18 God knoweth all things: yea, euen the secrets of thine heart.

‖In what things we ought not to be ashamed. OF these things be not thou ‖ ashamed, neither haue regard to offend for any person:

2 Of the Law of the most High and his couenant, and of iudgement to iustifie the godly:

3 Of the cause of thy companion, and of strangers: or of distributing the heritage among friendes:

4 To bee diligent to keepe true balance, and weight, whether thou haue much or litle:

5 To sell marchandise at an indifferent price, and to correct thy children diligently, and to beate an euill seruant to the blood:

6 To set a good locke where an euil wife is, and to locke where many handes are:

7 If thou giue any thing by nomber, & weight, to put al in writing, both that that is giuen out, and that that is receiued againe:

8 To teach the vnlearned, & the vnwise, & the aged, that contend against the yong: thus shalt thou be well instructed, and approued of all men living.

‖Or, is a secret watch to the father. 9 ¶ The daughter ‖ maketh the father to watch secretly, and the carefulnes that he hath for her, taketh away his sleepe in the youth, least shee should passe the flower of her age: and when shee hath an husband, least shee should be hated:

10 In her virginitie, least she should bee defiled, or gotten with childe in her fathers house, & when she is with her husband, least she misbehaue herself: & when she is married, least she cõtinue vnfruitfull.

*Ecclus. 26. 10 11 *If thy daughter be vnshamefast, keepe her streightly, least she cause thine enemies to laugh thee to scorne, and make thee a common talke in the citie, and defame thee among the people, and bring thee to publique shame.

*Chap. 25. 23. 12 *Behold not euery bodies beautie, and companie not among women.

13 For as the moth commeth out of garments:

*Gen. 3. 6 *so doeth wickednes of the woman.

14 The wickednesse of a man is better then the good intreatie of a woman, to wit, of a woman that is in shame, and reproche.

15 ¶ I will remember the workes of the Lorde, & declare the thing that I haue seene: by the worde of the Lord are his workes.

16 The sunne ỹ shineth, looketh vpon al things, & all the worke therof is ful of ỹ glory of the Lord.

17 Hath not the Lord appointed that his Saints should declare al his wonderous workes, which the almightie Lord hath stablished to cõfirme al things by in his maiestie?

18 He seeketh out the depth, & the heart, and he knoweth their practises: for the Lord knoweth all science, and he beholdeth the signes of the world.

19 He declareth the things ỹ are past and for to come, & discloseth ỹ pathes of things ỹ are secret.

*Iob. 41. 4. Isai 29. 15. 20 *No thought may escape him, neither may any word be hid from him.

21 Hee hath garnished the excellent workes of his wisedome, and he is from euerlasting to euerlasting, & for euer: vnto him may nothing be added, neither can he be minished: he hath no neede of any counseller.

22 Oh, how delectable are all his workes, and to be considered euen vnto the sparkes of fire!

23 They liue all, and endure for euer: and whensoeuer neede is, they are all obedient.

24 They are al double, one against another: he hath made nothing that hath any fault.

‖Or, stablisheth 25 The one ‖ commendeth the goodnesse of the other, and who can bee satisfied with beholding Gods glorie?

CHAP. XLIII.

The summe of the creation of the workes of God.

The wonderfull workes of God. THis hie ornament ‖ the cleare firmament, the beautie of the heauen so glorious to beholde,

2 The sunne also a meruelous instrument when it appeareth, declareth, at his going out, the worke of the most High.

3 At noone it burneth the countrey, and who may abide for the heate thereof?

4 The sunne burneth the mountaines three times more then hee that keepeth a fornace with continuall heate: it casteth out the firic vapours, and with the shining beames blindeth the eies.

5 Great is the Lorde that made it, and by his commandement he caused it to runne hastilie.

*Genes. 1. 14. 6 *The moone also hath bee made to appeare according to her season, that it should be a declaration of the time, and a signe for the world.

*Exod. 12. 2. 7 * The feastes are appointed by the moone: the light thereof diminisheth vnto the ende.

8 The

8 The moneth is called after the name thereof, and groweth wonderously in her changing.

9 It is a campe pitched on high, shining in the firmament of heauen: the beautie of heauen are the glorious starres, and the ornament that shineth in the high places of the Lord.

10 By the commandement of the Holy one they continue in their order, & faile not in their watch.

*Gen.9.13,14. 11 ¶ *Looke vpon the raine bowe, and praise him that made it: very beautifull is it in the brightnes thereof.

*Isa.40.12. 12 *It compasseth the heauen about with a glorious circle, and the handes of the most High haue bended it.

13 ¶ Through his commandement he maketh the snow to haste, and sendeth swiftly the lightning of his iudgement.

14 Therefore he openeth his treasures, and the cloudes flie forth as the foules.

15 In his power hath he strengthened ye clouds, and broken the hailestones.

16 The mountaines leape at the sight of him: the South wind bloweth according to his will.

17 The sound of his thunder beateth the earth: so doeth the storme of the North: the whirlewinde also, as birds that flie, scattereth the snowe, and the falling downe thereof is as the grashoppers that light downe.

18 The eye marueileth at the beautie of the whitenesse thereof, and the heart is astonished at the raine of it.

19 He also powreth out the frost vpon ye earth like salte, and when it is frosen, it sticketh on the tops of pales.

20 When the colde North winde bloweth, an yce is frosen of the water, it abideth vpon all the gatherings together of water, and clotheth the waters as with a brestplate.

21 It deuoureth the mountaines, & burneth the wildernes, & destroieth that that is greene, like fire.

22 The remedie of all these is when a cloude commeth hastily, and when a dewe commeth vpon the heate, it refresheth it.

23 [By his word he stilleth ye wind: by his counsell he appeaseth ye deepe, & planteth ylands therein.

24 They that saile ouer the sea, tell of the perils thereof, and when we heare it with our eares, wee marueile thereat.

25 For there be strange, and wonderous works, diuers maner of beasts, and the creation of whales.

26 Through him are all things directed to a good end, and are stablished by his worde.

27 And when we haue spoken much, we cannot atteine vnto them: but this is the summe of all, that he is all.

28 What power haue we to praise him? for hee is aboue all his works.

*Psal.96.4. 29 The Lord is terrible, and very * great, and marueilous is his power.

30 Praise the Lord, and magnifie him as much as ye can, yet doeth he farre exceede: exalte him with all your power, and be not wearie, yet can ye not attaine vnto it.

*Psal.104.3 Ioh.1.18. 31 *Who hath seene him, that he might tel vs? and who can magnifie him as he is?

32 For there are hid yet greater things then these be, & we haue seene but a fewe of his workes.

33 For the Lord hath made all things, & giuen wisdome to such as feare God.

CHAP. XLIII.

The praise of certaine holy men, Enoch, Noe, Abraham, Isaac and Iacob.

LEt vs now commend the famous men, and our fathers of whom we are begotten.

2 The Lord hath gotten great glory by them, and that through his great power from the beginning.

3 They haue borne rule in their kingdomes, and were renoumed for their power, and were wise in counsell, and declared propheties.

4 *They gouerned the people by counsell and by the knowledge of learning meete for the people, in whose doctrine were wise sentences. *Exod.18.19.

5 They inuented the melodie of musicke, and expounded the verses that were written.

6 They were rich and mightie in power, and liued quietly at home.

7 All these were honourable men in their generations, and were well reported of in their times.

8 There are of them that haue left a name behinde them, so that their praise shalbe spoken of.

9 There are some also which haue no memoriall, * and are perished, as though they had neuer bene, and are become, as though they had neuer bene borne, and their children after them. *Gen.7.22.

10 But the former were mercifull men, whose righteousnesse hath not bene forgotten.

11 For whose posteritie a good inheritance is reserued, and their seede is conteined in the couenant.

12 Their stocke is conteined in the couenant, and their posteritie after them.

13 Their seede shall remaine for euer, and their praise shall neuer be taken away.

14 Their bodies are buried in peace, but their name liueth for euermore.

15 *The people speake of their wisedome, and the congregation talke of their praise. *Chap.39.10.

16 ‖*Enoch pleased the Lorde God: therefore was he translated for an example of repentance to the generations. ‖Enoch. *Gene.5.24. hebr.11.5.

17 ‖*Noe was found perfite, and in the time of wrath he had a rewarde: therefore was he left as a remnant vnto the earth, when the flood came. ‖Noe. *Gene 6.9 and 7.1. heb.11.7.

18 An euerlasting couenant was made with him, that all flesh should * perish no more by the flood. *Gene.9.11.

19 ‖Abraham was a* great father of many people: in glory was there none like vnto him. ‖Abraham. *Gene.12.3. and 15.5. and 17.4.

20 He kept the Lawe of the most High, and was in couenant with him, & he set the couenant *in his flesh, and in tentation he was found faithfull. *Gene.21.4.

21 Therefore he assured him by an * othe, that he would blesse the nations in his seede, and that he would multiplie him as the dust of the earth, and exalt his seede as the starres, and cause them to inherite from sea to sea, and from the Riuer vnto the end of the world. *Gene.22.16, 17,18. galat 3.8.

22 *With ‖Isaac did hee confirme likewise for Abraham his fathers sake, the blessing of all men, and the couenant, *Gene.26.3,5. ‖Isaac.

23 And caused it to rest vpon the head of ‖Iacob, and ‖ made himselfe knowen by *his blessings, and gaue him an heritage and diuided his portions, *and parted them among the twelue tribes, ‖Iacob. Or, knew him. *Gene.27. & and 28.1. *Gene.28.14.

24 And hee brought out of him a ‖ mercifull man, which found fauour in the sight of all flesh. ‖Ioseph.

The praise of Moyses, Aaron, and Phinees.

AND ‖ Moyses, the * beloued of God and men, brought before, whose remembrance is blessed, ‖Moyses. *Exod.11.3. *Acts 7.22.

2 He made him like to the glorious Saints, and magnified him by the feare of his enemies.

3 By his words he caused the wonders to cease, and he made him * glorious in the sight of Kings, and gaue him commandements for his people, and shewed him his glory.

*Exod.6.7.8 9. chapter 4.

*Numb.12.3.

4 *He sanctified him with faithfulnesse, and meekenes, and chose him out of all men.

*Exod.29.7.

5 He caused him to heare his voyce, & brought him into the darke cloude, * and there he gaue him the commandements before his face, euen the Law of life and knowledge, that hee might teach Iacob the couenant, and Israel his iudgements.

‖Aaron. *Exod.4.28.

6 He exalted ‖ Aaron an holy man like vnto him, euen his *brother of the tribe of Leui.

7 An euerlasting couenant made he with him, and gaue him the Priesthoode among ỹ people, and made him blessed through his comely ornament, and clothed him with the garment of honour.

8 He put perfect ioy vpon him, and girded him with ornaments of strength, as with breeches, and a tunicle, and an ephod.

*Exod 28.35.

9 He compassed him about with belles of gold, and with many belles round about, * that when he went in, the sound might bee heard, & might make a noyse in the Sanctuarie, for a remembrance to the children of Israel his people,

10 And with an holy garment, with golde also, and blue silke, and purple, & diuers kinds of works, and with a breastlappe of iudgement, and with the ‖Vrim and Thummim. ‖signes of trueth,

11 And with worke of skarlet cunningly wrought, & with precious stones grauen like seales, & set in gold by goldsmithes worke for a memorial, with a writing grauen after ỹ number of the tribes of Israel,

12 And with a crowne of golde vpon the mitre, bearing the forme and marke of holines, an ornament of honour, a noble worke garnished, & pleasant to looke vpon.

13 Before him were there no such faire ornaments: there might no strãger put them on, but only his children, & his childrens children perpetually.

14 Their sacrifices were wholy consumed euery day twise continually.

*Leui.8.12.

15 *Moyses filled his hands, and anointed him with holy oyle: this was appointed vnto him by an euerlasting couenant, & to his seede, so long as the heauens shoulde remaine, that hee should minister before him, and also to execute the office of the Priesthood, and blesse his people in his Name.

16 Before all men liuing the Lorde chose him that he shou'd present offerings before him, and a sweete sauour for a remembrance to make reconciliation for his people.

*Deut.17.10. and 21.5.

17 *He gaue him also his commandements and authoritie according to the Lawes appointed, that hee shoulde teach Iacob the testimonies, and giue light vnto Israel by his Lawe.

*Numb.16.1,2.

18 *Strangers stood vp against him, and enuied him in the wildernes, euen the men that tooke Dathans and Abirams part, and the company of Core in furie and rage.

19 This the Lorde sawe, and it displeased him, and in his wrathfull indignation were they consumed: he did wonders vpon them, and consumed them with the fierie flame.

*Numb.17.8.

20 *But he made Aaron more honourable, and gaue him an heritage, and parted the first fruites of the first borne vnto him: vnto him specially he appointed bread in abundance.

21 For the Priests did eate of ỹ sacrifices of the Lord, which he gaue vnto him and to his seede.

*Deut.18.1. and 18.2.

22 *Els had he none heritage in the land of his people, neither had he any portion among the people: for the Lord is the portion of his inheritance.

‖Phinees. *Numb.25.12. 13.1.mac.2.54.

23 The third in glory is ‖ * Phinees the sonne of Eleazar, because he had zeale in the feare of the Lorde, and stood vp with good courage of heart, when the people were turned backe, and made reconciliation for Israel.

24 Therefore was there a couenant of peace made with him, that he should be the chiefe of the Sanctuarie and of his people, and that hee and his posteritie shoulde haue the dignitie of the Priesthood for euer,

25 And according to the couenant made with Dauid, that the inheritance of the kingdome should remaine to his sonne of the tribe of Iuda: so the heritage of Aaron should be to the only sonne of his sonne, and to his seede. God giue vs wisdome in our heart to iudge his people in righteousnesse, that the good things that they haue, be not abolished, and that their glory may endure for their posteritie.

The prayse of Iosue, Caleb, and Samuel.

‖Iosue. *Numb.27.18. deut.34.9 Ios. 1.2. and 12.7.

IEsus ‖ * the sonne of Naue was valiant in the warres, and was the successour of Moyses in prophecies, who according vnto his name, was a great sauiour of the elect of God, to take vengeance of the enemies that rose vp against them, and to set Israel in their inheritance.

*Ios.8.1,2.

2 *What glory gate hee, when he lift vp his hand, and drewe out his sword against the cities?

3 Who was there before him, like to him? for he fought the battels of the Lord.

*Ios.13.10, 12, 13,14.

4 *Stoode not the sunne still by his meanes, and one day was as long as two?

*Ios.10.11.

5 Hee called vnto the most High gouernour when the enemies preassed vpon him on euery side, and the mightie Lorde heard him with the haile stones and with mightie power.

‖Or, that the Lord fauoured his battell.

6 He rushed in vpon the nations in battel, and in the ‖ going downe of Bethoron hee destroyed the aduersaries, that they might know his weapons, and that he fought ‖ in the sight of the Lorde: for hee ‖ followed the Almightie.

‖Or, pursued the mightie men.

*Num.14.6. 1.mac.2.55.56.

7 *In the time of Moyses also hee did a good worke: he and ‖ Caleb the sunne of Iephunne stood against the enemie, and withholde the people from sinne, and appeased the wicked murmuring.

‖Caleb. *Num.26.65. deut.1.35.36.

8 *And of sixe hundred thousande people of foote, they two were preserued to bring them into the heritage, euen into the land that floweth with milke and hony.

*Ios.14.11.

9 *The Lord gaue strength also vnto Caleb, which remained with him vnto his old age, so that he went vp into the hie places of the land, and his seede obteined it for an heritage,

10 That all the children of Israel might see, that it is good to followe the Lord.

‖Iudges.

11 Concerning the ‖ iudges, euery one by name, whose heart went not a whoring, nor departed from the Lord, their memorie be blessed.

*Chap.49.10.

12 Let * their bones flourish out of their place, & their names by succession remaine to them that are most famous of their children.

‖Samuel. *1.Sam.10.1. and 16.13.

13 ¶ ‖ Samuel the Prophet of the Lorde, beloued of his Lord, *ordeined Kings, and anointed the princes ouer his people.

14 By the Lawe of the Lord he iudged the congregation, and the Lord had respect vnto Iacob.

15 This Prophet was approued for his faithfulnesse, and hee was knowen faithful in his wordes and visions.

16 *He called vpon the Lord Almightie, when his enemies preassed vpon him on euery side, when he offered the sucking lambe.

17 And the Lorde thundred from heauen, and made his voyce to be heard with a great noyse.

18 So he discomfited the princes of the Tyrians, and all the rulers of the Philistims.

19 *And before his long sleepe he made protestation in the sight of the Lorde, and his anointed, that he tooke no substance of any man, no not so much as a shooe, and no man could accuse him.

20 *After his sleepe also he told of the kings death, and from the earth lift he vp his voyce, & prophesied that the wickednesse of the people should perish.

CHAP. XLVII.

The praise of Nathan, Dauid and Salomon.

AFter him rose vp ‖*Nathan to prophesie in the time of Dauid.

2 For as the fatte is taken away from the peace offring, so was ‖Dauid chosen of the children of Israel.

3 *He played with the lions, as with kids, and with beares, as with lambes.

4 * Slewe he not a gyant when he was yet but yong, and tooke away the rebuke from the people, whe he lift vp his hande with the stone in the sling, to beate downe the pride of Goliah?

5 For he called vpon the most high Lord, which gaue him strength in his right hand, to slaye that mightie warriour, & that he might set vp the horne of his people againe.

6 * So ‖he gaue him the praise of ten thousand, and honoured him with ‖ great prayses, and gaue him a crowne of glorie.

7 *For he destroyed the enemies on euery side and rooted out the Philistims his aduersaries, and brake their horne in sunder vnto this day.

8 In all his works he praysed the Holy one, and the most High with honorable words, and with his whole heart he sung songs, & loued him y made him.

9 * Hee set singers also before the altar, and according to their tune hee made sweete songs, that they might prayse God daily with their songs.

10 He ordeined to keepe the feastdayes comely, and appoynted the times perfitly, that they might prayse the holy Name of God, and make the Temple to sound in the morning.

11 *The Lord tooke away his sinnes, and exalted his horne for euer: he gaue him the couenant of the kingdome, and the throne of glory in Israel.

12 After him rose vp a wise sonne, who by him dwelt in a large possession.

13 ‖* Salomon reigned in a peaceable time, and was glorious: for God made all quiet round about, that he might build an house in his Name, and prepare the Sanctuarie for euer.

14 *How wise wast thou in thy youth, and wast filled with vnderstanding as with a flood!

15 Thy mind couered the whole earth, & hath filled it with graue and darke sentences.

16 Thy Name went abroad in the yles, and for thy peace thou wast beloued.

17 *The countries marueiled at thee for thy songs, & prouerbes, & similitudes, & interpretations.

18 By the Name of the Lord God, which is called the God of Israel, thou hast* gathered golde as tinne, and hast had as much siluer as lead.

19 * Thou diddest bowe thy loynes to women, and wast ouercome by thy body.

20 Thou dideſt staine thine honour, and hast defiled thy posteritie, and hast brought wrath vpon thy children, and hast felt sorowe for thy folie.

21 *So the kingdome was deuided, & Ephraim begain to be a rebellious kingdome.

22 Neuertheles the Lord left not off his mercie, neither was he destroyed for his workes, neither did he abolish y posteritie of his elect, nor tooke away the seede of him that loued him, but he left a remnant vnto Iacob, and a roote of him vnto Dauid.

23 Thus rested Salomon with his fathers, and of his seede he left behinde him ‖ Roboam, euen ‖ the foolishnesse of the people, and one that had no vnderstanding, *who turned away the people through his counsell, ‖ and Ieroboam the sonne of Nabat, *which caused Israel to sinne, and shewed Ephraim the way of sinne.

24 So that their sinnes were so much increased, that they were driuen out of the Land.

25 For they sought out all wickednesse, til the vengeance came vpon them.

CHAP. XLVIII.

The praise of Elias, Eliseus, Ezechias, and Isaias.

THen stood vp ‖*Elias the Prophet as a fire, and his word burnt like a lamp.

2 He brought a famine vpon them, and by his zeale he diminished them: [for they might not away with the commandements of the Lord.]

3 By the word of the Lord he shut the heauen, *and three times brought hee the fire from heauen.

4 O Elias, how honorable art thou by thy wōderous deeds! who may make his boast to be like thee?

5 *Which hast raised vp the dead from death, & by the word of the most High out of the graue:

6 Which hast brought Kings vnto destruction, and the honourable from their seate:

7 Which heardest the rebuke of the Lord in Sina, *and in Horeb the iudgment of the vengeance:

8 *Which diddest anoint Kings that they might ‖recompence, and Prophets to bee thy successours:

9 *Which wast taken vp in a whirle winde of fire, and in a charet of fierie horses:

10 Which wast appoynted *to reproue in due season, and to pacifie the wrath of the Lords iudgement before it kindled, and to turne the hearts of the fathers vnto the children, & to set vp the tribes of Iacob.

11 Blessed were they that sawe thee, and slept in loue: for we shall liue.

12 *When Elias was couered with the storme, ‖Eliseus was filled with his spirit: while he liued, he was not mooued for any prince, neither couldc any bring him into subiection.

13 Nothing could ouercome him, * & after his death his body prophesied.

14 He did wonders in his life, and in death were his works marueilous.

15 For al this the people repented not, neither departed they from their sinnes: *till they were caried away prisoners out of their land, and were scattered through all the earth, so that there remained but a very fewe people with the prince vnto y house of Dauid.

CHAP. L.

Of Simon the sonne of Onias. 22 An exhortation to prayse the Lord. 27 The authour of this booke.

‖Simon. *2.Mac.3.4. ‖Or, people.

SImon *the sonne of Onias the hie Prieste, which in his life set vp the house againe, & in his daies established the‖ Temple,

2 Vnder him was the foundation of the double height laied, and the hie walles that compasseth the Temple.

3 In his dayes the places to receiue water, that were decayed, were restored, and the brasse was about in measure as the sea.

4 He tooke care for his people, that they should not fall, and fortified the citie against siege.

5 How honorable was his conuersation among the people, and when he came out of the house couered with the vaile!

6 He was as the morning starre in the middes of a cloude, and as the moone when it is full,

7 And as the sunne shining vpon the Temple of the most High, & as the rainebowe that is bright in the faire cloudes,

8 And as the flowre of the roses in the spring of the yeere, and as lilies by the springs of waters, and as the branches of the frankincense tree in the time of sommer,

9 As a fire and incense in the censer, and as a vessell of massie golde, set with all maner of precious stones,

10 And as a faire oliue tree that is fruitfull, and as a cypresse tree, which groweth vp to the cloudes.

11 When he put on the garment of honour and was clothed with al beautie, he went vp to the holy altar, & made the garment of holines honourable.

12 When he tooke the portions out of yͤ Priests handes, he himselfe stood by the herth of the altar, compassed with his brethrē round about, as yͤ branches doe the cedar tree in Libanus, and they compassed him as the branches of the palme trees.

13 So were al the stones of Aaron in their glorie, and the oblations of the Lord in their hands before all the generation of Israel.

14 And that he might accomplish his ministerie vpon the altar, and garnish the offering of the most High and Almightie, 15 Hee stretched out his hande to the drinke offering, and powred of the blood of the grape, and hee powred at the foote of the altar a perfume of good fauour vnto the most high King of all.

16 Then shouted the sonnes of Aaron, and blowed with brasen trumpets, & made a great noise to be heard, for a remēbrance before yͤ most High.

17 Then all the people together hasted, and fel downe to the earth vpon their faces to worshippe their Lord God almightie, and most High.

18 The singers also sang wͤ their voyces, so that the sound was great, and the melodie sweete.

19 And the people prayed vnto the Lord most high high with prayer before him that is merciful, til the honour of the Lord were performed, and they had accomplished his seruice.

20 Then went he downe, and stretched out his hands ouer the whole congregation of the children of Israel, that they should giue prayse with their lippes vnto the Lord, and reioyce in his name.

21 He began againe to worship, that he might receiue the blessing of the most High.

22 Now therefore giue praise all ye vnto God that worketh great things euery where, which hath increased our daies from the wombe, and dealt with vs according to his mercie,

23 That he would giue vs ioyfulnesse of heart, and peace in our dayes in Israel, as in old time, 24 That he would confirme his mercie with vs, and deliuer vs at his time.

25 ¶ There be two maner of people, that mine heart abhorreth, and the third is no people:

26 They that sit vpon the mountaine of Samaria, the Philistims, and the foolish people that dwel in ‖ Sicinus.

Or, Sichem.

27 ¶ Iesus the sonne of Syrach, the sonne of Eleazarus of Ierusalem, hath written the doctrine of vnderstanding and knowledge in this booke, & hath powred out the wisdome of his heart.

28 Blessed is he that exerciseth himselfe therein: and he that layeth vp these in his heart, shalbe wise.

29 For if he doe these things, he shalbe strong in al things: for he setteth his steppes in the light of the Lord, which giueth wisedome to the godly.

the Lord be praysed for euermore: So be it, so be it.

CHAP. LI.

A prayer of Iesus the sonne of Syrach.

I Wil cōfesse thee, O Lord & King, & praise thee, O God, my sauiour: I wil giue thanks vnto thy name.

2 For thou art my defender & helper, and hast preserued my body from destruction, and from the snare of the slanderous tongue, and from the lippes that are occupied with lies: thou hast holpen me against mine aduersaries,

3 And hast deliuered me according to the multitude of thy mercy, and for thy Names sake, from the roaring of them that were ready to deuoure me, and out of the hands of such as sought after my life, and from the manifold afflictions, which I had,

4 And from the fire that choked mee round about, & from ẏt mids of the fire that I burned not,

5 And from the bottome of the bellie of hell, from an vncleane tongue, from lying words, from false accusation to the King, and from the slander of an vnrighteous tongue.

6 [My soule shall prayse the Lord vnto death:] for my soule drewe neere vnto death: my life was neere to the hell beneath.

7 They compassed me on euery side, and there was no man to helpe mee: I looked for the succour of men, but there was none.

8 Then thought I vpon thy mercie, O Lorde, and vpon thine actes of olde, howe thou deliuerest such as waite for thee, and sauest them out of the hands of the ‖ enemies.

‖ Or, nations.

9 Then lifted I vp my prayer from the earth, and prayed for deliuerance from death.

10 I called vpon the Lorde the Father of my Lord, that he would not leaue me in the day of my trouble, and in the time of ẏ proude without helpe.

11 I will prayse thy Name continually, and will sing praise w̄ thanksgiuing: & my prayer was heard.

12 Thou sauedst mee from destruction, and deliueredst me from the euill time: therefore will I giue thankes, and prayse thee, and blesse the Name of the Lord.

13 When I was yet young, or euer I went abroade, I desired wisedome openly in my prayer.

14 I praied for her before the Temple, & sought after her vnto farre countries, & she was as a grape that waxeth ripe out of the flower.

15 Mine heart reioyced in her: my foote walked in the right way, & from my youth vp sought I after her.

16 I bowed somewhat downe mine eare, and receiued her, and gate me much wisedome:

17 And I profited by her: therefore wil I ascribe the glorie vnto him, that giueth me wisedome.

18 For I am aduised to doe thereafter: I wil be ielous of that that is good: so shall I not bee confounded.

19 My soule hath wrestled with her, and I haue examined my works: I lifted vp mine hands on hie, and considered the ignorances thereof.

20 I directed my soule vnto her, and I found her in pureneſſe: I haue had my heart ioyned with her from ẏ beginning: therefore shal I not be forsaken.

21 My bowels are troubled in seeking her: therefore haue I gotten a good possession.

22 The Lord hath giuen me a tongue for my reward, wherewith I will prayse him.

23 Draw neere vnto me, ye vnlearned, and dwel in the house of learning.

24 Wherefore are ye slowe? and what say you of these things, seeing your soules are very thirstie?

25 I opened my mouth, and sayd, * Bye her for you without money.

26 Bow downe your necke vnder the yoke, and your soule shall receiue instruction: shee is readie that ye may finde her.

27 Beholde with your eyes, * how that I haue had but little labour, and haue gotten vnto mee much rest.

 Ecclus. 6. 18.*

28 Get learning with a great summe of money: for by her ye shall possesse much golde.

29 Let your soule reioyce in the mercie of the Lord, and be not ashamed of his prayse.

30 Doe your duetie betimes, and hee will giue you a reward at his time.

BARVCH.

CHAP. I.

1 Baruch wrote a booke during the captiuitie of Babylon, which he read before Ieconiah and all the people. 10 The Iewes sent the booke with money vnto Ierusalem to their other brethren, to the intent that they should pray for them.

AND these are the wordes of the booke, which Baruch the sonne of Nerias, the sonne of Maasias, the sonne of Sedecias, the sonne of ‖ Asadias, the sonne of Helcias wrote in at Babylon,

‖ Or, Sedecias.

2 In the fift yeere, and in the seuenth day of the moneth, what time as the Chaldeans tooke Ierusalem, and burnt it with fire.

3 And Baruch did reade the woordes of this booke, that Iechonias the sonne of Ioacim king of Iuda might heare, and all the people that were come to heare the booke,

4 And

4 And in the audience of the gouernour, & of the Kings ſonnes, and before the Elders, and before the whole people, frō the loweſt vnto the hieſt, before all them ỹ dwelt at Babylon by the riuer ‖Sud.

‖Or, Sodi.

5 Which when they heardē, wept, faſted, and made prayers before the Lord.

6 They made a collection alſo of money, according to euery mans power,

7 And ſent it to Ieruſalem vnto Ioacim ỹ ſonne of Helcias the ſonne of Salom prieſt, and vnto the other prieſts, and to al the people which were with him at Ieruſalem,

8 When he had receiued ỹ veſſels of the Temple of the Lord, ỹ were taken away out of ỹ Temple, to bring them againe into ỹ land of Iuda, ỹ tenth day of the moneth ‖Siuan, to wit, ſiluer veſſels, which Sedecias the ſonne of Ioſias King of Iuda had made,

‖Or, Siban.

9 After that Nabuchodonoſor King of Babylon had led away Ieconias from Ieruſalem, & his princes, and his nobles, priſoners, and the people, and caried them to Babylon,

10 And they ſayde, Beholde, we haue ſent you money, wherewith ye ſhall buy burnt offerings for ſinne, and incenſe, and prepare a ‖meat offring, and offer vpon the altar of the Lord our God,

‖Or, Manna, for Minhah, which was the euening and morning ſacrifice.

11 And pray for the life of Nabuchodonoſor King of Babylon, and for the life of Baltaſar his ſonne, that their dayes may be vpon earth, as the dayes of heauen, 12 And that God would giue vs ſtrength and lighten our eyes, that we may liue vnder the ſhadow of Nabuchodonoſor King of Babylon, & vnder the ſhadow of Baltaſar his ſonne, that we may long do them ſeruice, & finde fauour in their ſight.

13 Pray for vs alſo vnto the Lord our God (for we haue ſinned againſt the Lord our God, and vnto this day the furie of the Lorde and his wrath is not turned from vs.)

14 And reade this booke (which we haue ſent to you to be rehearſed in the Temple of the Lord) vpon the feaſt dayes, and at time conuenient.

*Chap.2.6.

15 Thus ſhall ye ſay, * To the Lord our God belongeth righteouſnes, but vnto vs the confuſion of our faces, as it is come to paſſe this day vnto them of Iuda, and to the inhabitants of Ieruſalem,

16 And to our Kings, and to our Princes, and to our Prieſts, and to our Prophets, and to our fathers,

*Dan.9.5.

17 Becauſe we haue * ſinned before the Lorde our God,

18 And haue not obeyed him, neither hearkened vnto the voyce of the Lorde our God, to walke in the commandements that he gaue vs openly.

19 From the day that the Lord brought our fathers out of the land of Egypt, euen vnto this day, we haue bene diſobedient vnto the Lord our God, and we haue bene negligent to heare his voyce.

*Deut.28.15.

20 * Wherefore theſe plagues are come vpon vs, and the curſe which the Lord appointed by Moyſes his ſeruant at the time that hee brought our fathers out of the land of Egypt, to giue vs a land that floweth with milke and hony, as appeareth this day.

21 Neuertheleſſe, we haue not hearkened vnto the voyce of the Lord our God, according to al the words of the Prophets, whom he ſent vnto vs.

22 But euery one of vs followed ỹ wicked imagination of his owne heart, to ſerue ſtrange gods, and to doe euill in the ſight of the Lord our God.

CHAP. II.

a The Iewes confeſſe that they ſuffer iuſtly for their ſinnes. 7 The Iewes deſire to haue their confeſſion of the Chriſtians. 11 The Iewes deſire to haue the wrath of God turned from them. 32 He promiſeth that hee will call againe the people from captiuitie, and giue them a newe and euerlaſting Teſtament.

THerefore the Lorde our God hath perfourmed his word, which he pronounced againſt vs, and againſt our iudges that gouerned Iſrael, and againſt our Kings, and againſt our princes, and againſt the men of Iſrael and Iuda,

2 To bring vpon vs great plagues, ſuch as neuer came to paſſe vnder the whole heauen, as they that were done in Ieruſalem, according to things that were * written in the Lawe of Moyſes,

*Deut.28.53

3 That ſome among vs ſhould eat ỹ fleſh of his owne ſonne, & ſome the fleſh of his owne daughter.

4 Moreouer, he hath deliuered thē to be in ſubiect on to all ỹ kingdomes, that are round about vs, to be as a reproch & deſolation among all the people round about where ỹ Lord hath ſcattered them.

5 Thus they are brought beneath and not aboue, becauſe we haue ſinned againſt the Lord our God, and haue not heard his voyce.

*Chap.1.15.

6 * To the Lord our God apperteineth righteouſnes, but vnto vs and to our fathers open ſhame, as appeareth this day.

7 For all theſe plagues are come vpon vs, which the Lord hath pronounced againſt vs.

8 Yet haue wee not prayed before the Lorde, that wee might turne euery one from the imaginations of his owne wicked heart.

9 So the Lord hath watched ouer the plagues, and the Lorde hath brought them vpon vs: for the Lord is righteous in all his workes, which he hath commanded vs.

10 Yet we haue not hearkened vnto his voyce, to walke in the commandements of the Lorde that he hath giuen vnto vs.

*Dan.9.15.

11 * And now, O Lord God of Iſrael, that haſt brought thy people out of the land of Egypt with a mighty hand, and an hie arme, & with ſignes, and with wonders, and with great power, and haſt gotten thy ſelfe a Name, as appeareth this day, 12 O Lord our God, we haue ſinned: we haue done wickedly: we haue offended in all thine ordinances.

13 Let thy wrath turne from vs: for we are but a fewe left among the heathen, where thou haſt ſcattered vs.

14 Heare our prayers, O Lord, and our petitions, and deliuer vs for thine owne ſake, and giue vs fauor in the ſight of them, which haue led vs away, 15 That all the earth may knowe that thou art the Lord our God, and that thy Name is called vpon Iſrael and vpon their poſteritie.

16 Therefore looke downe from thine holy Temple, and thinke vpon vs: eneline thine eare, O Lord, and heare vs.

*Deut.28.15. *Iſa.63.15. *Pſal.6.5,6. and 115.17,18. *Iſa.38.18,19.

17 *Open thine eyes, and beholde: for the dead that are in the graues, and whoſe ſoules are out of their bodies, * giue vnto the Lord neither ‖ prayſe, nor righteouſneſſe.

‖Or, glory, nor prayſe of righteouſneſſe.

18 But the ſoule that is vexed for the greatneſſe of ſinne, and hee that goeth crookedly, and weake, and the eyes that faile, and the hungry ſoule will giue thee prayſe and righteouſneſſe, O Lord.

19 For we doe not require mercie in thy ſight, O Lord our God, for the righteouſneſſe of our fathers, or of our Kings,

20 But becauſe thou haſt ſent out thy wrath and indignation indignation vpon vs, as thou haſt ſpoken by ‖ thy ſeruants the Prophets, ſaying,

‖ Or, by the hand of thy ſeruants.

21 * Thus ſaith the Lorde, Bowe downe your ſhoulders, and ſerue the King of Babylon: ſo ſhal ye remaine in the land, that I gaue vnto your fathers.

* Ier.27.7.

22 But if ye wil not heare the voyce of the Lord, to ſerue the King of Babylon, 23 I will cauſe to ceaſe in the cities of Iuda, and in Ieruſalem, I wil cauſe to ceaſe the voice of mirth, and the voyce of ioy, and the voyce of the bridegrome, and the voyce of the bride, and the lande ſhall be deſolate of inhabitants.

24 But we would not hearken vnto thy voyce, to ſerue the King of Babylon: therefore haſt thou performed the words that thou ſpakeſt by thy ſeruants the Prophets: namely, that the bones of our Kings, and the bones of our fathers ſhould be caried out of their places.

25 And lo, they are caſt out to the heate of the day, and to the colde of the night, and are dead in great miſerie with famine, and with the ſworde, and in baniſhment.

26 And the Temple wherein thy Name was called vpon, thou haſt brought to the ſtate, as appeareth this day, for the wickedneſſe of the houſe of Iſrael, and the houſe of Iuda.

27 O Lord our God, thou haſt intreated vs according to equitie, & according to all thy great mercie,

28 As thou ſpakeſt by thy ſeruant Moyſes, in the day when thou diddeſt command him to write thy Lawe before the children of Iſrael, ſaying, 29 *If ye wil not obey my voyce, then ſhal this great ſwarme and multitude bee turned into a very fewe among the nations where I wil ſcatter them.

* Leuit.26.14. deut.28.15.

30 For I know that they wil not heare me: for it is a ſtiffenecked people: but in the land of their captiuitie they ſhall remember themſelues, 31 And knowe that I am the Lorde their God: then wil I giue them an heart to vnderſtand, & eares.

32 And they ſhal heare, & praiſe me in the land of their captiuitie, and thinke vpon my Name.

33 Then ſhall they turne them from their hard backes, and from their euill workes: for they ſhall remember the way of their fathers, which ſinned before the Lord.

34 And I will bring them againe into the land, which I promiſed with an othe vnto their fathers, Abraham, Iſaac and Iacob, and they ſhalbe Lordes of it: and I will increaſe them, and they ſhall not be diminiſhed.

35 And I will make an euerlaſting couenant with them, that I will be their God, and they ſhall be my people: and I will no more driue my people of Iſrael out of the land that I haue giuen them.

CHAP. III.

1 The people confeſſeth in their prayer beginne for their deliuerance. 9 Hee praiſeth wiſdome vnto the people, ſhewing, that for great aduerſities came vnto them for the deſpiſing thereof. 36 Onely God was the finder of wiſdome. 37 Of the incarnation of Chriſt.

O Lorde Almightie, O God of Iſrael, the ſoule that is in trouble, and the ſpirite that is vexed, crieth vnto thee.

2 Heare, O Lord, and haue mercie: for thou art merciſull, and haue pitie vpon vs, becauſe we haue ſinned before thee.

3 For thou endureſt for euer, & we vtterly periſh.

4 O Lorde Almightie, the God of Iſrael, heare now the prayer of the dead Iſraelites, and of their children, which haue ſinned before thee, and not hearkened vnto the voice of thee their God, wherefore theſe plagues hang vpon vs.

5 Remember not the wickednes of our fathers, but thinke vpō thy power, & thy Name at this time.

6 For thou art the Lord our God, and thee, O Lord, will we praiſe.

7 And for this cauſe haſt thou put thy feare in our hearts, that we ſhould call vpon thy Name, and praiſe thee in our captiuitie: for we haue conſidered in our mindes all the wickednes of our fathers, that ſinned before thee.

8 Beholde, we are yet this day in our captiuitie, where thou haſt ſcattered vs, to be a reproch and a curſe, and ſubiect to payments, according to all the iniquities of our fathers, which are departed from the Lord their God.

9 O Iſrael, heare ‖ commādements of life: hearken vnto them, that thou mayeſt learne wiſedome.

‖ Or, the commandements of life.

10 What is the cauſe, O Iſrael, that thou art in thine enemies land, and art waxen olde in a ſtrange countrey?

11 And art defiled with the dead? and art counted with them, that goe downe to the graues?

12 Thou haſt forſaken ‖ fountaine of wiſdome.

‖ Or, the fountaine of wiſdome.

13 For if thou hadſt walked in the way of God, thou ſhouldeſt haue remained ſafe for euer.

14 Learne where is wiſdome, where is ſtrength, where is vnderſtanding, that thou mayeſt know alſo from whence commeth long continuance, and life, and where the light of the eyes, and peace is.

15 Who hath found out her place? or who hath come into her treaſures?

16 Where are the princes of the heathen, and ſuch as ruled the beaſtes vpon the earth?

17 They that had their paſtime with the foules of the heauen, that hoarded vp ſiluer & gold, wherin men truſt, & made none ende of their gathering?

18 For they that coyned ſiluer, & were ſo careful of their worke, and whoſe inuention had none end, 19 Are come to nought, & gone downe to hell, and other men are come vp in their ſteades.

20 When they were young, they ſaw the light, and dwelt vpon the earth: but they vnderſtood not the way of knowledge, 21 Neither perceiued the paths thereof, neither haue their children receiued it: but they were farre off from that way.

22 It hath not bene heard of in the land of Chanaan, neither hath it bene ſeene in Theman, 23 Nor the Agarines that ſought after wiſdome vpon the earth, nor the marchants of Merran, & of Theman, nor ‖ expounders of fables, nor ‖ ſearchers out of wiſdome haue knowen the way of wiſdome, neither doe they thinke vpon the paths thereof.

‖ Or, the expounders of fables, nor ‖ ſearchers out of wiſdome haue knowen the way of wiſdome, neither doe they thinke vpon the paths thereof.

24 O Iſrael, how great is the Houſe of God, and how large is the place of his poſſeſſion!

25 It is great, and hath none ende: it is hie, and vnmeaſurable.

26 There were the gyants, famous from the beginning, that were of ſo great ſtature, and ſo expert in warre.

27 Thoſe did not the Lord chuſe, neither gaue he the way of knowledge vnto them.

28 But they were deſtroyed, becauſe they had no wiſdom, & periſhed through their owne fooliſhnes.

29 Who hath gone vp into heauen, to take her, and brought her downe from the cloudes?

30 Who hath gone ouer the ſea to finde her, and hath brought her, rather then fine golde?

31 No

31 No man knoweth her wayes, neither considereth her paths.

32 But he that knoweth all things, knoweth her, and he hath found her out with his vnderstanding: this same is he which hath prepared ỹ earth for euermore, and hath filled it with foure footed beastes.

33 When he sendeth out the light, it goeth: and when he calleth it againe, it obeyeth him with feare.

34 And the starres shine in their watch, and reioyce. When he calleth them, they say, Here we be: and so with cheerefulnes they shew light vnto him that made them.

35 This is our God, and there shall none other be compared vnto him.

36 Hee hath found out all the way of knowledge, and hath giuen it vnto Iaakob his seruant, and to Israel his beloued.

37 Afterward hee was seene vpon earth, and dwelt among men.

CHAP. IIII.

1 The reward of them that keepe the Lawe, and the punishment of them that despise it. 13 A comforting of the people being in captiuitie. 19 A complaint of Ierusalem, and vnder the figure thereof the Church. 25 A consolation and comforting of the same.

THis is the booke of the commaundements of God, and the Lawe that endureth for euer: all they that keepe it, shall come to life: but such as forsake it, shall die.

2 Turne thee, O Iacob, and take holde of it: walke by this brightnesse before the light thereof.

3 Giue not thine honour to another, nor the things ỹ are profitable vnto thee, to a strange natiō.

4 O Israel, wee are blessed: for the things that are acceptable vnto God, are declared vnto vs.

5 Be of good comfort, O my people, which art the memoriall of Israel.

6 Ye are solde to the nations, not for your destruction: but because ye prouoked God to wrath, ye were deliuered vnto the enemies.

7 For yee haue displeased him that made you, offering vnto deuils and not to God.

8 Yee haue forgotten him that created you, euen the euerlasting God, and ye haue grieued Ierusalem, that nourished you.

9 When she saw the wrath comming vpon you from God, she said, Hearken, ye that dwel about Sion: for God hath brought me into great heauines.

10 I see the captiuitie of my sonnes and daughters, which the Euerlasting will bring vpon them.

11 With ioy did I nourish them, but I must leaue them with weeping and mourning.

12 Let no man reioyce ouer me a widow, & forsaken of many, which for ỹ sinnes of my children am desolate, because they departed from ỹ Law of God.

13 They would not know his righteousnes, nor walke in the way of his commaundements: neither did they enter into the paths of discipline, through his righteousnesse.

14 Come, ye that dwell about Sion, and call to remembrance the captiuity of my sonnes & daughters, which the euerlasting hath brought vpō them.

15 For hee hath brought vpon them a nation from farre, an impudent nation, and of a strange language, 16 Which neither reuerence the aged, nor pitie the yong: these haue caried away the deare beloued of the widowes, leauing me alone, and destitute of my daughters.

17 But what can I helpe you?

18 Surely hee that hath brought these plagues vpon you, can deliuer you from the handes of your enemies.

19 Go your way, O children, goe your way: for I am left desolate.

20 I haue put off the clothing of peace, and put vpon me the sackecloth of prayer, and so long as I liue, I will call vpon the Euerlasting.

21 Bee of good comfort, O children: crye vnto God, and he will deliuer you from the power, and hand of the enemies.

22 For I haue hope of your saluation through the Euerlasting, and ioy is come vpon me from the Holy one, because of the mercy, which shall quickly come vnto you from our euerlasting Sauiour.

23 For I sent you away with weeping & mourning: but with ioy and perpetual gladnesse wil God bring you againe vnto me.

24 Like as now the neighbours of Sion saw your captiuitie, so shall they also see shortly your saluation from God, which shall come vnto you with great glory, and brightnesse from the Euerlasting.

25 My children, suffer patiently the wrath that is come vpon you from God: for thine enemie hath persecuted thee, but shortly thou shalt see his destruction, and shalt treade vpon his necke.

26 My darlings haue gone by rough wayes, and were led away as a flock ỹ is scattered by ỹ enemies.

27 Be of good comfort, my children, and crye vnto God: for he that led you away, hath you in remembrance.

28 And as it came into your minde to goe astray from your God, so endeuour your selues ten times more, to turne againe and to seeke him.

29 For he that hath brought these plagues vpon you, wil bring you euerlasting ioy againe, with your saluation.

30 Take a good heart, O Ierusalem: for he which gaue thee that name, will comfort thee.

31 They are miserable that afflict thee, and such as reioyce at thy fall.

32 The cities are miserable whom thy children serue: miserable is she that hath taken thy sonnes.

33 For as she reioyced at thy decay, & was glad of thy fal, so shal she be sory for her own desolation.

34 For I wil take away the reioycing of her great multitude, & her ioy shalbe turned into mourning.

35 For a fire shall come vpon her from the Euerlasting, long to endure, and she shall be inhabited of deuils for a great season.

36 O Ierusalem, looke toward the East, and behold the ioy that cōmeth vnto thee from thy God.

37 Lo, thy sonnes (whom thou hast let go) come gathered together from the East vnto the West, reioycing in the word of the Holy one vnto the honour of God.

CHAP. V.

1 Ierusalem is moued vnto gladnesse for the returne of her people, and vnder the figure thereof the Church.

PVt off thy mourning clothes, O Ierusalem, and thine affliction, and decke thee with the worship and honour, that commeth vnto thee from God, for euermore.

2 Put on the garment of righteousnesse, that commeth from God, and set a crowne vpon thine head of the glory of the Euerlasting.

3 For God will declare thy brightnes to euery countrey vnder the heauen.

4 And God will name thee by this name for euer, euer, The peace of righteousnesse, and the glory of the worship of God.

5 Arise, O Ierusalem, and stand vp on hie, and looke about thee towad the East, and beholde thy children gathered from the East vnto the West by the word of the holy one, reioycing in the remembrance of God.

6 For they departed from thee on foote, and were led away of their enemies: but God will bring them againe vnto thee, exalted in glory, as children of the kingdome.

7 For God hath determined to bring downe euery high mountaine, & the long enduring rocks, and to fill the valleys, to make the ground plaine, that Israel may walke safely vnto ỹ honor of God.

8 The woods and all sweete smelling trees shall ouershadow Israel at the commandement of God.

9 For God shal bring Israel with ioy in ỹ light of his maiestie, with the mercie and righteousnes that commeth of him.

CHAP. VI.

A COPIE OF THE EPISTLE THAT Ieremias sent vnto them that were led away captiues into Babylon by the King of the Babylonians, to certifie them of the thing that was commanded him of God.

BEcause of ỹ sinnes, ỹ ye haue committed against God, yee shall be led away captiues vnto Babylon, by Nabuchodonosor, King of the Babylonians.

2 So when ye be come into Babylon, yee shall remaine there many yeres, and a long season, euen seuen generations, and after that will I bring you againe peaceably from thence.

*Isai.44.8,9,10. and 46.5,7. Psal 115.4. Dise.13.10

3 *Now shall yee see in Babylon gods of siluer, and of gold, and of wood, borne vpon mens shoulders, to cause the people to feare.

4 Beware therefore that yee in no wise be like the strangers neither be ye afraid of them, when ye see the multitude before them and behinde them worshipping them,

5 But say ye in your hearts, O Lorde, we must worship thee.

6 For mine Angell shall be with you, and shal care for your soules.

7 As for their tongue, it is polished by the carpenter, and they themselues are gilted, & laide ouer with siluer: yet are they but lies, and cannot speake.

8 And as they take golde for a maide that loueth to be deckt,

9 So make they crownes for the heads of their gods: sometimes also the Priests themselues conuey away the golde, and siluer from their gods, and bestow it vpon themselues.

10 Yea, they giue of the same vnto the harlots, that are in their houses: againe, they decke these gods of siluer, and gods of gold, and of wood with garmens like men,

11 Yet can not they be preserued from rust and wormes,

12 Though they haue couered them w clothing of purple, and wipe their faces because of the dust of the Temple, whereof there is much vpon them.

13 One holdeth a sceptre, as though he were a certaine iudge of the countrey: yet can he not slay such as offend him.

14 Another hath a dagger or an axe in his right hand: yet is he not able to defende him selfe from battell, nor from theeues: so then it is euident, that they be no gods.

15 Therefore feare them not: for as a vessel that a man vseth, is nothing worth when it is broken,

16 Such are their gods: when they be set vp in their temples, their eyes be full of dust by reason of the feete of those that come in:

17 And as the ‖gates are shut in round about vpon him ỹ hath offended ỹ king: or as one that should be led to be put to death: so the priests keepe their temples with doores, and with lockes, and with barres, lest their gods should be spoyled by robbers.

‖Or, yours.

18 They light vp candles before them: yea, more then for them selues, whereof they can not see one.

19 They confesse, ỹ euen their hearts are gnawen vpon: but when the things, that creepe out of the earth, eate them and their clothes, they feele it not.

20 Their faces are blacke through the smoke that is in the temple.

21 The owles, swallowes and birds flie vpon their bodies, and vpon their heads, yea, and the cats also.

22 By this ye may bee sure, that they are not gods: therefore feare them not.

23 Notwithstanding the golde, that is about them to make them beautifull, except one wipe off the rust, they cannot shine: neither when they were molten, did they feele it.

24 The things wherein is no breath, are bought for a most high price.

25 * They are borne vpon mens shoulders, because they haue no feete, whereby they declare vnto men, that they be nothing woorth: yea, and they that worship them, are ashamed. *Isai.46.7.

26 For if they fall to the ground at any time, they can not rise vp againe of themselues, neither if one set them vp right, can they moue of themselues, neither if they be bowed downe, can they make them selues streight: but they set gifts before them, as vnto dead men.

27 As for the things that are offered vnto them, their Priests sell them, and abuse them likewise also the women lay vp of the same: but vnto the poore and sicke they giue nothing.

28 The menstruous women, and they that are in childbed, touch their sacrifices: by these things ye may know that they are no gods: feare them not.

29 From whence commeth it then, that they are called gods? because the women bring gifts to the gods of siluer, and golde, and wood.

30 And the priestes sit in their temples, hauing their clothes rent, whose heads and beards are shauen, and being bare headed.

31 They roare, and cry before their gods, as men doe at the feast of one that is dead.

32 The priests also take away of their garments, and clothe their wiues and children.

33 Whether it be euil that one doth vnto them or good, they are not able to recompence it: they can neither set vp a King nor put him downe.

34 In like maner they can neither giue riches, nor money: though a man make a vowe vnto them and keepe it not, they will not require it.

35 They can saue no man from death, neither deliuer the weake from the mightie.

36 They cannot restore a blind man to his sight, nor helpe any man at his neede.

37 They can shewe no mercy to the widowe, nor doe good to the fatherlesse.

38 Their gods of wood, golde, and siluer, are as stones, that be hewen out of the mountaine; and they they that worship them shalbe confounded.

39 How shoulde a man then thinke or say that they are gods?

40 Moreouer the Chaldeans themselues dishonour them: for when they see a dumme man, that can not speake, they present him to Bel, 41 And desire that hee woulde make him to speake, as though he had any feeling: yet they that vnderstande these things, cannot leaue them: for they also haue no sense.

42 Furthermore the wome, girded with coards, sitte in the streetes, and burne ‖ strawe. ‖ Or, branne.

43 And if one of them be drawen away, and lie with any such as come by, shee casteth her neighbour in the teeth, because shee was not so worthily reputed, nor her corde broken.

44 Whatsoeuer is done among them, is lies: howe may it then be thought or sayd, that they are gods?

45 Carpenters and goldsmiths make them, neyther be they any other thing, but euen what the workeman wil make them.

46 Yea, they that make them, are of no long cõtinuance: how should then the things that are made of them, be gods?

47 Therfore they leaue lies, and shame for their posteritie.

48 For when there cõmeth any warre or plague vpon them, the priests imagine within themselues where they may hide themselues with them.

49 How then can men not perceiue, that they be no gods, which can neither defende themselues, from warre nor from plagues?

50 For* seeing they be but of wood, & of siluer, and of golde, men shal know hereafter that they are but lies: and it shall be manifest to all nations and Kings, that they be no gods, but the works of mens hands, and that there is no worke of God in them. *Psal.115.4. Esay.44.10.

51 Whereby it may bee knowen, that they are no gods.

52 They can set vp no King in the lande, nor giue raine vnto men.

53 They can giue no sentence of a matter, neither preserue from iniurie: they haue no power, but are as crowes betweene the heauen and the earth.

54 When there falleth a fire vpon the house of those gods of wood, and of siluer, and of golde, the priests will escape and saue themselues, but they burne as the balkes therein.

55 They cannot withstand any King or enemies: how can it then be thought or said ỹ they be gods?

56 Moreouer these gods of wood, of golde, and of siluer can neither defende thẽselues from theeues nor robbers.

57 For they that are strongest, take away their golde and siluer, and apparell, wherewith they bee clothed: and when they haue it, they get them away: yet can they not helpe themselues.

58 Therefore it is better to be a King, and so to shewe his power, or els a profitable vessell in an house, whereby hee that oweth it, might haue profite, then such false gods: or to bee a doore in an house, to keepe such things safe as be therein, then such false gods: or a pillar of wood in a palace, then such false gods.

59 For the sunne, and the moone, & the starres that shine, when they are sent downe for necessarie vses, obey.

60 Likewise also ỹ lightning, when it shineth, it is euident: & the wind bloweth in euery countrey.

61 And when God commandeth the cloudes to go about ỹ whole world, they do as they are bidden.

62 When the fire is sent downe from aboue to destroy hilles and woods, it doeth that which is commaunded: but these are not like any of these things, neither in forme, nor power.

63 Wherefore men should not thinke, nor say that they be gods, seeing they can neither giue sentence in iudgement, nor doe men good.

64 For so much now as yee are sure, that they be no gods, feare them not.

65 For they can neither curse, nor blesse Kings:

66 Neither can they shewe signes in the heauen among the heathen, neither shine as the moone.

67 The beasts are better then they: for they can get them vnder a couert, & doe themselues good.

68 So yee may be certified that by no maner of meanes, they are no gods: therfore feare them not,

69 For as a skarrecrowe in a garden of cucumbers keepeth nothing, so are their gods of wood, and of siluer, and of golde:

70 And likewise their gods of wood, and golde and siluer are like to a white thorne in an orcharde, that euery bird sitteth vpon, and as a dead bodie that is cast in the darke.

71 By the purple also and brightnesse, which fadeth vpon them, ye may vnderstand, that they bee no gods: yea, they themselues shall be consumed at the last, and they shall be a shame to the countrey.

72 Better therefore is the iust man, that hath none idoles: for he shalbe farre from reproofe.

The song of the three holy children, which followeth in the thirde chapter of Daniel after this place, They fell downe bound into the middes of the hote fiery fornace.

CHAP. I.

25 The prayer of Azarias. 46 The cruelties of the King. 48 The flame deuoureth the Chaldeans. 49 The Angell of the Lorde was in the fornace. 51 The three children prayse the Lord, and prouoke all creatures to the same.

24 AND they walked in the middes of the flame, praysing God, & magnified the Lord.

25 Then Azarias stood vp, & prayed on this maner, & opening his mouth in the mids of ỹ fire, said, 26 Blessed be thou, O Lord God of our fathers: thy Name is worthy to bee praysed and honoured for euermore.

27 For thou art righteous in all the things, that thou hast done vnto vs, and all thy works are true, and thy wayes are right, and all thy iudgements certaine.

28 In all the things that thou hast brought vpon vs, and vpon Ierusalem, the holy citie of our fathers, thou hast executed true iudgements: for by right and equitie hast thou brought all these things vpon vs, because of our sinnes.

29 For we haue sinned and done wickedly, departing from thee: in all things haue we trespassed, 30 And not obeyed thy commaundements, nor kept them, neither done as thou haddest commanded vs, that we might prosper.

31 Wherefore in all that thou hast brought vpon

vpon vs, and in euery thing that thou hast done to vs, thou hast done them in true iudgement.

32 As in deliuering vs into the handes of our wicked enemies, and most hatefull traitours, and to an vnrighteous King, and the most wicked in all the world.

33 And now wee may not open our mouthes: we are become a shame and reproofe vnto thy seruants, and to them that worship thee.

34 Yet for thy names sake, we beseech thee, giue vs not vp for euer, neither breake thy couenant,

35 Neither take away thy mercie from vs, for thy beloued Abrahams sake, and for thy seruant Isaacs sake, and for thine holy Israels sake, 36 To whom thou hast spoken and promised, that thou wouldest multiply their seed as the starres of heauen, & as the sand, that is vpon the sea shore.

37 For we, O Lord, are become lesse then any nation, and be kept vnder this day in all the world, because of our sinnes:

38 So that now we haue neither prince, nor prophet, nor gouernour, nor burnt offering, nor sacrifice, nor oblation, nor incense, nor place to offer the first fruits before thee, that we might finde mercie.

39 Neuertheless in a contrite heart, and an humble spirit, let vs be receiued, 40 As in the burnt offring of rams & bullocks, and as in ten thousand of fat lambes, so let our offering bee in thy sight this day, that it may please thee: for there is no confusion vnto them that put their trust in thee.

41 And now we follow thee with all our heart, and feare thee, and seeke thy face.

42 Put vs not to shame, but deale with vs after thy louing kindenesse, and according to the multitude of thy mercies.

43 Deliuer vs also by thy miracles, and giue thy Name the glory, O Lord, 44 That all they which doe thy seruants euill, may be confounded: euen let them be confounded by thy great force and power, and let their strength be broken,

45 That they may know, that thou only art the Lord God, and glorious ouer the whole world.

46 ¶ Now the kings seruants that had cast them in, ceased not to make the ouen hote with naphtha, and with pitch, and with towe, and with fagots, 47 So that the flame went out of the fornace fourtie and nine cubites.

48 And it brake forth, and burnt those Chaldeans, that it found by the fornace.

49 But the Angel of the Lord went downe into the fornace with them that were with Azarias, and smote the flame of the fire out of the fornace, 50 And made in the middes of the fornace like a moyst hissing winde, so that the fire touched them not at all, neither grieued nor troubled them.

51 Then these three (as out of one mouth) praised, and glorified, & blessed God in the fornace, saying, 52 Blessed be thou, O Lord God of our fathers, and praysed, and exalted aboue all things for euer, and blessed bee thy glorious and holy Name, and praised aboue all things, and magnified for euer.

53 Blessed be thou in the Temple of thine holy glory, & praised aboue al things, & exalted for euer.

54 Blessed be thou that beholdest the depthes, and sittest vpon the Cherubims, and praysed aboue all things, and exalted for euer.

55 Blessed be thou in the glorious Throne of thy kingdome, and praysed aboue all things, and exalted for euer.

56 Blessed be thou in the firmament of heauen, and praised aboue all things, and glorified for euer.

57 All ye works of the Lord, blesse ye the Lord: praise him, and exalt him aboue all things for euer.

58 O * heauens, blesse ye the Lord: praise him, and exalt him aboue all things for euer. *Psal.148.4.

59 O Angels of the Lord, blesse ye the Lord: praise him, and exalt him aboue all things for euer.

60 All ye waters that be aboue the heauen, blesse ye the Lord: prayse him, and exalt him aboue all things for euer.

61 All ye powers of the Lord, blesse ye the Lord: praise him, and exalt him aboue all things for euer.

62 O sunne & moone, blesse ye the Lord: praise him, and exalt him aboue all things for euer.

63 O starres of heauen, blesse ye the Lord: praise him, and exalt him aboue all things for euer.

64 Euery showre and dewe, blesse ye the Lorde: praise him, and exalt him aboue all things for euer.

65 All ye windes, blesse ye the Lord: praise him, and exalt him aboue all things for euer.

66 O fire and heate, blesse ye the Lorde: praise him, and exalt him aboue all things for euer.

67 O ‖ winter and summer, blesse ye the Lord: praise him, and exalt him aboue all things for euer. ‖Or, colde.

68 O dewes and ‖ stormes of snowe, blesse yee the Lord: praise him, and exalt him aboue all things for euer. ‖Or, frostes.

69 O frost and colde, blesse ye the Lord: praise him, and exalt him aboue all things for euer.

70 O yce and snowe, blesse ye the Lorde: praise him, and exalt him aboue all things for euer.

71 O nights and dayes, blesse ye the Lord: praise him, and exalt him aboue all things for euer.

72 O light and darkenesse, blesse ye the Lord: praise him, and exalt him aboue all things for euer.

73 O lightnings and cloudes, blesse ye the Lord: praise him, and exalt him aboue all things for euer.

74 Let the earth blesse the Lorde: let it prayse him, and exalt him aboue all things for euer.

75 O mountaines, and hilles, blesse ye the Lord: prayse him, and exalt him aboue all things for euer.

76 All things that grow on the earth, blesse ye the Lord: praise him, and exalt him aboue al things for euer.

77 O fountaines, blesse ye the Lord: prayse him, and exalt him aboue all things for euer.

78 O sea and floods, blesse ye the Lord: prayse him, and exalt him aboue all things for euer.

79 O whales, and all that moouе in the waters, blesse ye the Lord: prayse him, and exalt him aboue all things for euer.

80 All yee foules of heauen, blesse ye the Lord: praise him, and exalt him aboue all things for euer.

81 All ye beastes and cattell, blesse ye the Lord: praise him, and exalt him aboue all things for euer.

82 O children of men, blesse ye the Lord: praise him, and exalt him aboue all things for euer.

83 Let Israel blesse the Lord, praise him, and exalt him aboue all things for euer.

84 O Priestes of the Lord, blesse yee the Lord: praise him, and exalt him aboue all things for euer.

85 O seruants of the Lorde, blesse yee the Lord: praise him, and exalt him aboue all things for euer.

86 O spirits and soules of the righteous, blesse ye the Lorde: prayse him, and exalt him aboue all things for euer.

87 O Saintes

87 O Saintes and humble of heart, bleſſe ye the Lord: prayſe him, and exalt him aboue all things for euer.

88 O Ananias, Azarias, and Miſael, bleſſe ye the Lord: praiſe him, and exalt him aboue all things for euer: for he hath deliuered vs from the hel, & ſaued vs from the hand of death, and deliuered vs out of the midſt of the fornace, and burning flame: euen out of the midſt of the fire hath he deliuered vs.

89 Confeſſe vnto the Lorde, that he is gracious: for his mercie endureth for euer.

90 All ye that worſhip the Lord, bleſſe the God of gods: praiſe him, and acknowledge him: for his mercie endureth world without ende.

THE HISTORIE OF || SVSANNA, which ſome ioyne to the ende of Daniel, and make it the thirteenth Chapter.

|| Or, Soſanna.

1 The two gouernours are taken with the loue of Suſanna. 19 They take her alone in the garden. 20 They ſolicite her to wickednesſe. 23 She chuſeth rather to obey God, though it be to the danger of her life. 34 She is accuſed. 45 Daniel doth deliuer her. 62 The gouernours are put to death.

THere dwelt a man in Babylon called Ioacim,

2 And hee tooke a wife, whoſe name was Suſanna, the daughter of Helcias, a very faire woman, and one that feared God.

3 Her father and her mother alſo were godly people, and taught their daughter according to the Law of Moyſes.

4 Now Ioacim was a great rich man, and had a faire garden ioyning vnto his houſe, and to him reſorted the Iewes, becauſe he was more honourable then all others.

5 The ſame yeere were appoynted two of the ancients of the people to bee Iudges, ſuch as the Lord ſpeaketh of, that the iniquitie came from Babylon, and from the ancient Iudges, which ſeemed to rule the people.

6 Theſe haunted Ioacims houſe, and all ſuch as had any thing to doe in the Lawe, came thither vnto them.

7 Now when ỹ people departed away at noone, Suſanna went into her husbands garden to walke.

8 And the two Elders ſawe her that ſhee went in dayly and walked, ſo that their luſt was inflamed toward her.

9 Therefore they turned away their minde, and caſt downe their eyes, that they ſhould not ſee heauen, nor remember iuſt iudgements.

10 And albeit they both were wounded with her loue, yet durſt not one ſhew another his griefe.

11 For they were aſhamed to declare their luſt, that they deſired to haue to doe with her.

12 Yet they watched diligently from day to day to ſee her.

13 And the one ſaide to the other, Let vs goe now home, for it is dinner time.

14 So they went their way, and departed, one from another: yet they returned againe, and came into the ſame place, and after that they had asked one another the cauſe, they acknowledged their luſt: then appoynted they a time both together when they might finde her alone.

15 Now when they had ſpyed out a conuenient time, that ſhe went in, as her maner was, with two maydes onely, and thought to waſh her ſelfe in the garden (for it was an hote ſeaſon)

16 And there was no body there, ſaue the two Elders that had hid themſelues, & watched for her:

17 She ſaid to her maides, Bring me oyle & ſope, and ſhut the garden doores, that I may waſh me.

18 And they did as ſhe bade them, and ſhut the garden doores, and went out themſelues at a backe doore, to fet the thing ỹ ſhe had cõmaunded them: but they ſaw not the Elders, becauſe they were hid.

19 Now when the maydes were gone forth, the two Elders roſe vp and ranne vnto her, ſaying, 20 Beholde, the garden doores are ſhut, that no man can ſee vs, and wee burne in loue with thee: therefore conſent vnto vs, and lye with vs.

21 If thou wilt not, we will beare witnes againſt thee, that a yong man was with thee: and therefore thou diddeſt ſend away thy maydes from thee.

22 Then Suſanna ſighed, & ſaid, I am in trouble on euery ſide: for if I doe this thing, it is death vnto me: and if I doe it not, I cannot eſcape your hands.

23 It is better for me to fall into your hands, and not doe it, then to ſinne in the ſight of the Lord.

24 With that Suſanna cried with a loude voyce, and the two Elders cried out againſt her.

25 Then ran the one, & opened the garden doore.

26 ¶ So when the ſeruants of the houſe heard the cry in the garden, they ruſhed in at the backe doore, to ſee what was done vnto her.

27 But when the Elders had declared their matter, the ſeruants were greatly aſhamed: for there was neuer ſuch a report made of Suſanna.

28 On the morow after, came the people to Ioacim her husband, and the two Elders came alſo, full of miſchieuous imagination againſt Suſanna, to put her to death, 29 And ſaid before the people, Send for Suſanna the daughter of Helcias Ioacims wife. And immediatly they ſent.

30 So ſhe came with her father and mother, her children and all her kinred.

31 Now Suſanna was very tender, and fayre of face.

32 And theſe wicked men commanded to vncouer her face (for ſhe was couered) that they might ſo be ſatisfied with her beautie.

33 Therefore they that were about her, and all they that knewe her, wept.

34 Then the two Elders ſtood vp in the middes of the people, and layd their hands vpon her head, 35 Which wept and looked vp toward heauen: for her heart truſted in the Lord.

36 And the Elders ſaid, As we walked in the garden alone, ſhe came in with two maydes, whom ſhe ſent away from her, and ſhut the garden doores.

37 Then a yong man which there was hid, came vnto her, and lay with her.

38 Then we which ſtood in a corner of the garden, ſeeing this wickednesſe, ranne vnto them, and we ſaw them as they were together,

39 But wee could not holde him: for hee was ſtronger stronger then we, and opened ‖ doore, & leaped out.

40 Nowe when we had taken this woman, we asked her what yong man this was, but she would not tell vs of these things: are we witnesses.

41 Then the assemblie beleeued them, as those that were the Elders and iudges of the people: so they condemned her to death.

42 Then Susanna cried out with a loude voyce, and said, O euerlasting God, ‖ knowest the secretes, and knowest all things afore they come to passe, 43 Thou knowest, that they haue borne false witnesse against me, and beholde, I must die where as I neuer did such things as these men haue maliciously inuented against me.

44 And the Lord heard her voyce.

45 ¶ Therefore when she was led to be put to death, the Lorde raised vp the holy spirit of a yong childe, whose name was Daniel.

46 Who cried with a loude voyce, I am cleane from the blood of this woman.

47 Then all the people turned them towarde him, and sayde, What meane these wordes, that thou hast spoken?

48 Then Daniel stoode in the middes of them, and sayd, Are ye such fooles, O Israelites, that without examination, or knowledge of the trueth, yee haue condemned a daughter of Israel?

49 Returne againe to iudgement: for they haue borne false witnesse against her.

50 Wherefore the people turned againe in all haste, and the Elders said vnto him, Come, sit down among vs, and shewe it vs, seeing God hath giuen thee the office of an Elder.

51 Then said Daniel vnto thē, Put these two aside, one farre from another, & I will examine them.

52 So when they were put asunder, one from another, he called one of them and sayd vnto him, O thou that art olde in a wicked life, nowe thy sinnes which thou hast committed aforetime, are come to light.

53 For thou hast pronounced false iudgements, and hast condemned the innocent, and hast let the guiltie goe free, albeit the Lorde saith, * The innocent and righteous shalt thou not slay. * Exod.23.7.

54 Now then if thou hast seene her, tell me, vnder what tree sawest thou them companying together? Who answered, Vnder a lentisk tree.

55 Then sayde Daniel, Verily thou hast lyed against thine owne ‖ head: for loe, the Angel of God hath receiued sentence of God, to cut thee in two. ‖ Or, life.

56 So put he him aside, & commanded to bring the other, and said vnto him, O thou seede of Chanaan, and not of Iuda, beautie hath deceiued thee, and lust hath subuerted thine heart.

57 Thus haue ye dealt with the daughters of Israel, & they for feare companied with you: but ye daughter of Iuda would not abide your wickednesse.

58 Nowe therefore tell mee, vnder what tree diddest thou take the companying together? Who answered, Vnder a ‖ prime tree. ‖ Or, mirtle tree.

59 Then said Daniel vnto him, Verily thou hast also lied against thine head: for the Angel of God waiteth with the sword to cut thee in two, and so to destroy you both.

60 ¶ With that all the whole assembly cryed with a loude voyce, and praysed God, which saueth them that trust in him.

61 And they arose against the two Elders, (for Daniel had conuicted them of false witnesse by their owne mouth)

62 * And according to the Law of Moyses they dealt with them, as they deale wickedly against their neighbour, and put them to death. Thus the innocent blood was saued the same day. * Deut.19.18. Prou.19.5.

63 Therefore Helcias, and his wife praysed God for their daughter Susanna, with Ioacim her husband, and all the kinred, that there was no dishonestie found in her.

64 From that day forth was Daniel had in great reputation in the sight of the people.

65 And king Astyages was laid with his fathers, and Cyrus of Persia reigned in his steade.

THE HISTORIE OF BEL

and of the Dragon, which is the foureteenth Chapter of Daniel after the Latin.

NOwe when King Astyages was layd with his fathers, Cyrus the Persian receiued his kingdome.

2 And Daniel did eat at the kings table, and was honoured aboue all his friends.

3 Nowe the Babylonians had an idole, called Bel, and there were spent vpon him euery day, twelue ‖ great measures of fine floure, and fourtie sheepe, and sixe great ‖ pots of wine. ‖ Called Attaba, whereof euery one conteined somewhat more then nine gallons, which make in all an hundreth and eight gallons at the least. ‖ Called Metreta, and euerie one of these measures contained about ten gallons, which in all make three hundreth.

4 And the king worshipped it, and went dayly to honour it: But Daniel worshipped his own God. And the King said vnto him, Why doest not thou worship Bel?

5 Who answered, and sayde, Because I may not worshippe idoles made with handes, but the liuing God, which hath created the heauen and the earth, and hath power vpon all flesh.

6 Then sayde the king vnto him, Thinkest thou not that Bel is a liuing God? seest thou not howe much he eateth and drinketh euery day?

7 Then Daniel smiled and sayde, O king, be not deceiued: for this is but clay within, and brasse without, and did neuer eate any thing.

8 So the king was wroth, and called for his Priestes, and sayde vnto them, If ye tell mee not, who this is that eateth vp these expenses, yee shall die:

9 But if ye can certifie me that Bel eateth them, then Daniel shall die: for he hath spoken blasphemy against Bel. And Daniel sayde vnto the king, Let it be according to thy word.

10 (Nowe the Priestes of Bel were threescore and ten, beside their wiues and children.) and the king went with Daniel into the temple of Bel.

11 So Bels Priests sayde, Behold, we will go out, and let thou the meate there, O King, and let the wine be mixed: then shut the doore fast, and seale it with thine owne signet:

12 And, to morowe when thou comest in, if thou findest not that Bel hath eaten vp all, we will suffer death, or else Daniel that hath lied vpon vs.

13 Nowe they thought them little sure inough: for vnder the table they had made a priuy entrance, and there went they in ens, and tooke away the things.

14 So when they were gone forth, the king ſet meates before Bel. Now Daniel had commaunded his ſeruants to bring aſhes, and theſe they ſtrowed throughout all the Temple, in the preſence of the king alone: then went they out, and ſhut the doore, and ſealed it with the kings ſignet, and ſo departed.

15 Nowe in the night came ỹ Prieſts, with their wiues and children, (as they were wont to doe) and did eate and drinke vp all.

16 In the morning betimes, the king aroſe and Daniel with him.

17 And the king ſaid, Daniel, are ỹ ſeales whole? Who anſwered, Yea, O king, they be whole.

18 And aſſoone as hee had opened the doore, the king looked vpon the table, and cryed with a loude voyce, Great art thou, O Bel, and with thee is no deceite.

19 Then laughed Daniel, and helde the king that he ſhoulde not goe in, and ſayd, Beholde now the pauement, and marke well whoſe footeſteppes are theſe.

20 And the king ſaid, I ſee the footeſteps of men, women, and children: therefore ỹ king was angrie, 21 And tooke the Prieſts, with their wiues, and children, and they ſhewed him the priuie doores, where they came in, and conſumed ſuch things as were vpon the table.

22 Therefore the king ſlewe them, and deliuered Bel into Daniels power, who deſtroied him and his temple.

23 ¶Moreouer in that ſame place there was a great Dragon, which the Babylonians worſhipped.

24 And the king ſaid vnto Daniel, Saieſt thou, that this is of braſſe alſo? loe, he liueth and eateth and drinketh, ſo that thou canſt not ſay, that he is no liuing god: therefore worſhip him.

25 Then ſaide Daniel vnto the king, I will worſhip the Lord my God: for he is the liuing God.

26 But giue me leaue, O king, and I will ſlay this dragon without ſword or ſtaffe. And the king ſaide, I giue thee leaue.

27 Then Daniel tooke pitch, and fat, and haire, and did ſeethe thē together, and made lumps thereof: this hee put in the Dragons mouth, and ſo the Dragon burſt in ſunder. And Daniel ſaide, Beholde, whom ye worſhip.

28 When the Babylonians heard it, they were wonderfull wroth, and gathered them together againſt the king, ſaying, The king is become a Iew: for he hath deſtroyed Bel, and hath ſlaine the Dragon, and put the Prieſts to death.

29 So they came to the king, & ſaid, Deliuer vs Daniel, or elſe we will deſtroy thee & thine houſe.

30 Nowe when the king ſaw, that they preaſſed ſore vpon him, & that neceſſitie conſtreined him, he deliuered Daniel vnto them:

31 Who caſt him into the Lyons denne, where he was ſixe dayes.

32 In the denne there were ſeuen Lyons, and they had giuen them euery day two bodies and two ſheepe, which then were not giuen them, to the intent that they might deuoure Daniel.

33 ¶Now there was in Iurie a Prophet called Abbacuc, which had made pottage, and broken bread into a bowle, and was going into the fielde for to bring it to the reapers.

34 But the Angel of the Lord ſaide vnto Abbacuc, Goe, cary the meate that thou haſt, into Babylon vnto Daniel, which is in the Lyons denne.

35 And Abbacuc ſaid, Lord, I neuer ſaw Babylon, neither doe I know where the denne is.

36 Then the Angel tooke him by the crowne of the head, and bare him by the haire of the head, and through a mightie winde ſet him in Babylon vpon the denne.

37 And Abbacuc cried, ſaying, O Daniel, Daniel, take the dinner that God hath ſent thee.

38 Then ſaid Daniel, O God, thou haſt thought vpon me, and thou neuer faileſt them that ſeeke thee and loue thee.

39 So Daniel aroſe, and did eate, and the Angel of the Lorde ſet Abbacuc in his owne place againe immediatly.

40 Vpon the ſeuenth day, the king went to bewaile Daniel: and when hee came to the denne, he looked in, and beholde, Daniel ſate in the middes of the Lyons.

41 Then cried the king with a loude voyce, ſaying, Great art thou, O Lorde God of Daniel, and there is none other beſides thee.

42 And he drew him out of the denne, and caſt them that were the cauſe of his deſtruction into the denne, and they were deuoured in a moment before his face.

THE FIRST BOOKE of the Maccabees.

CHAP. I.

1 The death of Alexander the king of Macedonie, 11 Antiochus taketh the kingdome. 12 Many of the children of Iſrael make couenant with the Gentiles. 21 Antiochus ſubdueth Egypt and Ieruſalem vnto his dominion. 30 Antiochus ſetteth vp idoles.

AFTER that Alexander the Macedonian, the ſonne of Philippe, went forth of the land of Chettiim, and ſlewe Darius King of the Perſians & Medes, and reigned for him, as hee had before in Grecia,

2 He tooke great warres in hand, and wanne ſtrong holdes, and ſlewe the kings of the earth.

3 So went he thorow the endes of the worlde, and tooke ſpoiles of many nations, in ſomuch that the world ſtood in awe of him: therefore his heart was puffed vp and was hawtie.

4 Now when he had gathered a mightie ſtrong hoſte,

5 And had reigned ouer regions, nations and kingdomes, they became tributaries vnto him.

6 After theſe things he fel ſicke, and knew that he ſhould die.

7 Then he called for the chiefe of his ſeruants, which had bene brought vp with him of children, and parted his kingdome among them, while hee was yet aliue.

8 So Alexander had reigned twelue yeres when he died.

9 And his ſeruãts reigned euery one in his roume.

10 And they all cauſed them ſelues to be crowned ned after his death, and so did their children after them many yeeres, and much wickednesse increased in the worlde.

11 For out of these came the wicked roote, euen Antiochus ‖ Epiphanes, the sonne of King Antiochus, which had bene an hostage at Rome, and he reigned in the hundreth and seuen & thirtieth yere of the kingdome of the Greekes.

‖ Or, Noble.

12 In those dayes went there out of Israel wicked men, which entised many, saying, Let vs go, & make a couenant with the heathen, that are round about vs: for since we departed from them, we haue had much sorow.

Ioseph. Antiq. 12. Chap. 6.

13 So this deuice pleased them well.

14 And certaine of the people were readie, and went to the King, which gaue them licence to doe after the ordinances of the heathen.

15 Then set they vp a place of exercise at Ierusalem, according to the facions of the heathen, 16 And made themselues ‖ vncircumcised, & forsooke the holy Couenant, & ioyned themselues to the heathen, and were solde to do mischiefe.

‖ By drawing y shame ouer the part that was circumcised, as Cels. 7 chap. 25. Epiphanius de ponderib. and mensuris.

17 So when Antiochus kingdom was set in order, hee went about to reigne ouer Egypt, that he might haue the dominion of two Realmes.

18 Therefore he entred into Egypt with a mightie company, with chariots, and Elephants, and with horsemen, and with a great nauie, 19 And moued warre against Ptolemeus King of Egypt: but Ptolemeus was afraid of him, & fled, and many were wounded to death.

20 Thus Antiochus wanne many strong cities in the land of Egypt, and toke away the spoyles of the land of Egypt.

21 And after y Antiochus had smitten Egypt, he turned againe in the hundreth, fourtie & three yere,

22 And went vp towarde Israel and Ierusalem with a mightie people, 23 And entred proudely into the Sanctuarie, & tooke away the golden altar, and the candlesticke for the light, & all the instruments thereof, and the table of the shewbread, and the powring vessels, & the bowles, and the golden basins & the vaile, and the crownes, and the golden apparel, which was before the Temple, and brake all in pieces.

24 He tooke also the siluer and golde, and the precious iewels, & he tooke the secret treasures that he founde, and when hee had taken away all, he departed into his owne land, 25 After hee had murthered many men, & spoken very proudly.

26 Therefore there was a great lamentation in euery place of Israel.

27 For the Princes and the Elders mourned, the yong women, and the yong men were made feeble, and the beautie of the women was changed.

28 Euery bridegrome tooke him to mourning, and shee that sate in the marriage chamber, was in heauinesse.

29 The Land also was moued for the inhabitants thereof: for all the house of Iacob was couered with confusion.

30 After two yeres the King sent his chiefe taxmaster vnto the cities of Iuda, which came to Ierusalem with a great multitude.

31 Who spake peaceable wordes vnto them in deceite, and they gaue credit vnto him.

32 Then he fell suddenly vpon the citie, and smote it with a great plague, and destroyed much people of Israel.

33 And when he had spoyled the citie, he set fire on it, casting downe the houses thereof, and walles thereof on euery side.

34 The women and their children tooke they captiue, and led away the cattell.

35 Then fortified they the citie of Dauid with a great and thicke wall, and with mightie towers, and made it a strong hold for them.

36 Moreouer they set wicked people there, and vngodly persons, & fortified themselues therein.

37 And they stored it with weapons & vitailes, & gathered y spoyle of Ierusalē, & laied it vp there.

38 Thus became they a sore snare and were in ambushment for the Sanctuarie, and were wicked enemies euer more vnto Israel.

39 For they shed innocent blood on euery side of the Sanctuarie, and defiled the Sanctuarie.

40 Insomuch that y citizens of Ierusalem fled away because of them, and it became an habitation of strangers, being desolate of them whome she had borne: for her owne children did leaue her.

41 Her Sanctuarie was left waste as a wildernes: her holy dayes were turned into mourning, her Sabbaths into reproche, and her honour brought to nought.

42 As her glory had bene great, so was her dishonour, & her excellencie was turned into sorowe.

43 Also the King wrote vnto all his kingdome, that all the people should be as one, and that euery man should leaue his lawes. Ioseph. Antiq. Chap. 6. and 7.

44 And all the heathen agreed to the commandement of the King.

45 Yea, many of the Israelites consented to his religion, offering vnto idoles, & defiling y Sabbath.

46 So the King sent letters by the messengers vnto Ierusalem, and to the cities of Iuda, that they should follow the strange lawes of the countrey, 47 And that they should forbid the burnt offerings, & sacrifices, & the ‖ offrings in the Sanctuary,

‖ Or, drinke offring.

48 And that they shoulde defile the Sabbaths and the feastes,

49 And pollute the Sanctuarie & the holy men,

50 And to set vp altars, and groues, and chappels of idoles, and offer vp swines flesh, and vncleane beastes,

51 And that they shoulde leaue their children vncircumcised, & defile their soules with vncleannes, and pollute themselues, that they might forget the Lawe, and change all the ordinances, 52 And that whosoeuer woulde not doe according to the commandements of the King, should suffer death.

53 In like maner wrote he throughout all his kingdomes, and set ouerseers ouer all the people, for to compel them to do these things,

54 And he commanded the cities of Iuda to do sacrifice, citie by citie, 55 Then went many of the people vnto them by heapes, euery one that forsooke the Law, and so they committed euil in the land.

56 And they drone the Israelites into secret places, euen whereseouer they could flee for succour.

57 The fifteenth day of Casleu, in y hundreth and fiue and fourtieth yeere, they set vp the abomination of desolation vpon the altar, and they builded altars throughout the cities of Iuda on euery side.

58 And before the doores of the houses, and in the streetes they burnt incense,

59 And the bookes of the Lawe, which they found, they burnt in the fire, and cut in pieces.

60 Whosoeuer had a booke of the Testament found by him, or whosoeuer consented vnto the Lawe, the kings commaundement was, that they should put him to death by their authoritie.

61 And they executed these things euery moneth vpon the people of Israel that were founde in the cities.

62 And in the fiue & twentieth day of the moneth, they did sacrifice vpon the altar, which was in the stead of the altar of sacrifices.

63 And according to the commandement, they put certeine women to death, which had caused their children to be circumcised.

64 And they hanged vp the children at their neckes, and they spoiled their houses, and slew the circumcisers of them.

65 Yet were there many in Israel, which were of courage, and determined in themselues, that they would not eate vncleane things, 66 But chose rather to suffer death, thē to be defiled with those meates: so because they would not breake the holy couenant, they were put to death.

67 And this ‖ tyrannie was very sore vpon the people of Israel.

‖ Or, rage.

CHAP. II.

1 The mourning of Mattathias & his sonnes for the destruction of the holy citie. 19 They refuse to doe sacrifice vnto idoles. 24 The zeale of Mattathias for the Lawe of God. 33 They are slaine and will not fight againe because of the Sabbath day. 49 Mattathias giueth commandement to his sonnes to flicke by the worde of God, after the example of the fathers.

IN those dayes stoode vp Mattathias the Priest, the sonne of Ioannes, the sonne of Simeon, of the sonnes of Ioarib, of Ierusalem, and dwelt in Modin.

Ioseph. Antiq. 12. chap. 7.

2 And he had fiue sonnes, Ioanan called Gaddis,

3 Simon called Thassi,

4 Iudas which was called Maccabeus,

5 Eleazar called ‖ Abaron, and Ionathan, whose name was Apphus.

‖ Or, Auran.

6 Nowe hee sawe the blasphemies, which were committed in Iuda and Ierusalem:

7 And hee saide, Woe is me: wherefore was I borne, to see this destruction of my people, and the destruction of the holy citie, & thus to sit still? it is deliuered into the hands of the enemies.

8 And the Sanctuarie is in the handes of strangers: her Temple is as a man that hath no renoume.

9 Her glorious vessels are caried away into captiuitie: her infants are slaine in the streetes, and her yong men are fallen by the sworde of the enemies.

10 What people is it, that hath not some possession in her kingdome, or hath not gotten of her spoyles?

11 All her glory is taken away: of a free woman, she is become an handmaide.

12 Behold, our Sanctuarie and our beautie, and honour is desolate, & the Gentiles haue defiled it.

13 What helpeth it vs then to liue any longer?

14 And Mattathias rent his clothes, he, and his sonnes, & put sackcloth vpon them, and mourned very sore.

15 ¶ Then came men from the King to the citie of Modin to compell them to forsake God, and to sacrifice.

16 So many of the Israelites consented vnto them: but Mattathias and his sonnes assembled together.

17 Then spake the Commissioners of the King, and sayde vnto Mattathias, thou art the chiefe and an honourable man, and great in this citie, & hast many children and brethren.

18 Come thou therefore first, & fulfil the Kings commandement, as all the heathen haue done, and also the men of Iuda, and such as remaine at Ierusalem: so shalt thou and thy familie be in the Kings fauour, & thou and thy children shalbe enriched with siluer and gold, and with many rewardes.

19 Then Mattathias answered and sayde with a loude voyce, Though all nations that are vnder the Kings dominion, obey him, & fall away euery man from the religion of their fathers, and consent to his commandements, 20 Yet will I and my sonnes, and my brethren, walke in the couenant of our fathers.

21 God be mercifull vnto vs, that we forsake not the Lawe and the ordinances.

22 We will not hearken vnto the Kings wordes to transgresse our religion, neither on the right side, nor on the left.

23 And when hee had left off speaking these wordes, there came one of the Iewes, in the sight of all to sacrifice vpon the altar which was at Modin, according to the Kings commandement.

24 Nowe when Mattathias sawe it, he was so inflamed with zeale, that his reynes shooke, and his wrath was kindled according to the ordinance of the Lawe: therefore he ranne vnto him, and killed him by the altar:

25 And at the same time he slewe the Kings commissioner, that compelled him to doe sacrifice, and destroyed the altar.

26 Thus bare he a zeale to the Law of God, *doing, as Phinees did vnto Zambri the sonne of Salom.

*Num. 25.7.

27 ¶ Then cryed Mattathias with a loude voyce in the citie, saying, Whosoeuer is zealous of the Lawe, and will stand by the couenant, let him come foorth after me.

28 So he, & his sonnes fled into the mountaines, and left all that they had in the citie.

29 Then many that ‖ sought after iustice and iudgement,

‖ Or, that lived iustly and vprightly.

30 Went downe into the wildernesse to dwell there, both they, and their children, & their wiues, and their cattell: for the afflictions increased sore vpon them.

31 ¶ Nowe when it was tolde vnto the Kings seruants, and to the garisons, which were in Ierusalem in the citie of Dauid, that men had broken the Kings commandement, and were gone downe into the secret places in the wilderne,

32 Then many pursued after them, and hauing ouertaken them, they camped against them, & set the battell in aray against them on the Sabbath day, 33 And sayd vnto them, Let this now be sufficient: come forth and do according to the commandement of the King, and ye shall liue.

34 But they answered, We will not goe foorth, neither will we doe the Kings commandement, to defile the Sabbath day.

35 Then they gaue them the battell.

36 But the other answered them nothing, neither cast any one stone at them, nor stopped the priuie places.

37 But sayde, We will die all in our innocencie: the heauen and earth shal testifie for vs, that ye destroy vs wrongfully.

38 Thus

38 Thus they gaue them the battel vpon the Sabbath, and slew both men and cattell, their wiues & their children to the number of a thousand people.

39 ¶ When Mattathias and his friendes vnderstood this, they mourned for them greatly,

40 And said one to another, If we all doe as our brethren haue done, and fight not against the heathen for our liues, and for our Lawes, then shall they incontinently destroy vs out of the earth.

41 Therefore they concluded at the same time, saying, Whosoeuer shall come to make battel with vs vpon the Sabbath day, we wil fight against him, that we die not all, as our brethren that were murthered in the secret places.

42 Then came vnto them the assembly of the Asideans, which were of the strongest men of Israel, all such as were well minded toward the Law.

43 And all they that were fled for persecution, ioyned themselues vnto them, and were an helpe vnto them.

44 So they gathered a power, & smote the wicked men in their wrath, & the vngodly in their anger: but the rest fled vnto the heathen, and escaped.

45 Then Mattathias and his friends went about, and destroyed the altars,

46 And circumcised the children by force that were vncircumcised, as many as they found within the coastes of Israel, 47 And they pursued after the proud men: and this act prospered in their hands.

48 So they recouered the Law out of the hand of the Gentiles, and out of the hand of Kings, and gaue not place to the wicked.

49 Now when the time drewe neere that Mattathias should die, hee said vnto his sonnes, Now is pride and persecution increased, and the time of destruction, and wrath of indigaation.

50 Now therefore, my sonnes, be ye zealous of the Lawe, and giue your liues for the couenant of our fathers.

51 Call to remembrance what actes our fathers did in their time: so shall yee receiue great honour and an euerlasting name.

52 *Was not Abraham found faithful in tentation, & it was imputed vnto him for righteousnes? *Gen.22.9.10. rom.4.3.

53 *Ioseph in the time of his trouble kept the commandement, and was made the lord of Egypt. *Gen.41.40.

54 *Phinees our father, because he was zealous and feruent, obtayned the couenant of the euerlasting Priesthood. *Num.25.13. eccles.45.23,24.

55 *Iesus for fulfilling the word, was made the gouernour of Israel: *Iosh.1.2.

56 *Caleb, because he bare witnesse before the Congregation, receiued the heritage of the land. *Num 14.6,7. iosh.14.13.

57 *Dauid, because of his mercy obteyned the throne of the kingdome for euermore. *2.Sam.2.4.

58 *Elias, because he was zealous and feruent in the Law, was taken vp euen vnto heauen. *1.King.2.11.

59 *Ananias, Azarias and Misael by their faith were deliuered out of the flame. *Dan.3.16,17, 18,26.

61 *Daniel because of his innocencie, was deliuered from the mouth of the Lyons. *Dan.6.12.

61 And thus ye may consider throughout all ages, that whosoeuer put their trust in him, shall not want strength.

62 *Feare not ye then the words of a sinful man: for his glory is but dung and wormes. *Mat.10.26,28. Isai.40.6,7,8. and 51.7,8.

63 To day is he set vp, and to morowe he shall *not be found: for he is turned into his dust, and his purpose perisheth. *Iam.1.10. 1.pet.1.24. eccles.14.18.

64 Wherefore, my sonnes, take good heart and shew your selues men for the Lawe: for by it shall you obteine glory.

65 And beholde, I knowe that your brother Simon is a man of counsel: giue eare vnto him alway: he shalbe a father vnto you.

66 And Iudas Maccabeus hath bene mightie & strong, euen from his youth vp: let him bee your captaine, and fight you the battell for the people.

67 Thus shall ye bring vnto you all those that obserue the Lawe, and shall auenge the iniuries of your people.

68 Recompence fully the heathen, & giue your selues to the commandement of the Law.

69 So hee blessed them, and was layed with his fathers.

70 And died in the hundreth, fourtie and sixe yere, and his sonnes buried him in his fathers sepulchre at Modin, and all Israel made great lamentation for him.

CHAP. III.

1 Iudas is made ruler ouer the Iewes. 21 He killeth Apollonius and Seron the Prince of Syria. 44 The confidence of Iudas toward God. 55 Iudas determineth to fight against Lysias, whom Antiochus had made captaine ouer his host.

THen Iudas his sonne, called Maccabeus, rose vp in his place.

2 And all his brethren helped him, and all they that held with his father, and fought with courage the battell of Israel.

3 So he gate his people great honour: hee put on a breastplate as a giant, and armed himselfe, and set the battel in aray, and defended the campe with the sword.

4 In his acts he was like a Lion, and as a Lions whelpe roaring after the pray.

5 For he pursued the wicked, and sought them out, and burnt vp those that vexed his people.

6 So that the wicked fled for feare of him, and all the workers of iniquitie were put to trouble: and saluation prospered in his hand.

7 And he grieued diuers Kings, but Iacob reioyced by his acts, and his memorial is blessed for euer.

8 He went also thorow the cities of Iuda, and destroied the wicked out of them, and turned away the wrath from Israel.

9 So was he renowmed vnto the endes of the earth, and hee assembled together those that were ready to perish.

10 ¶ But Apollonius gathered the Gentiles, & a great host out of Samaria, to fight against Israel.

11 Which when Iudas perceiued, he went forth to meete him, and smote him, and slewe him, so that many fell downe slaine, and the rest fled.

12 So Iudas tooke their spoyles, and tooke also Apollonius sworde, and fought with it all his life long.

13 ¶ Now when Seron a prince of of the army of Syria, heard that Iudas had gathered vnto him the Congregation, and Church of the faithful, and went forth for the warre, 14 He said, I will get me a name, and wil be glorious in the earth: for I will goe fight with Iudas, and them that are with him, which haue despised the kings commandement.

15 So he made him ready to go vp, & there went with him a mighty hoste of the vngodly to helpe him, and to be auenged of the children of Israel.

16 And when he came neere to the going vp to Bethhoron, Iudas went forth to meete him with a ſmall company.

17 But when they ſawe the armie comming againſt them, they ſayd to Iudas, How are we able, being ſo few, to fight againſt ſo great a multitude, and ſo ſtrong, ſeeing we be ſo weary, and haue faſted all this day?

18 Then ſaid Iudas, It is an eaſie thing for many to be ſhut vp in the hands of fewe, and there is no difference before the God of heauen, to deliuer by a great multitude, or by a ſmall company.

19 For the victorie of the battell ſtandeth not in the multitude of the hoſt, but the ſtrength commeth from heauen.

20 They come againſt vs with a cruell & proud multitude to deſtroy vs, and our wiues, & our children, and to robbe vs.

21 But wee doe fight for our liues, and for our Lawes, 22 And God himſelfe will deſtroy them before our face: therefore be not ye afraid of them.

23 And when he had left off ſpeaking, he leapt ſuddenly vpon them: ſo was Seron and his hoſt deſtroyed before him.

24 And they purſued them frō the going downe of Bethhoron vnto the plaine: where there were ſlaine eight hundreth men of them, and the reſidue fled into the land of the Philiſtims.

25 Then the feare and terrour of Iudas and his brethren fell vpon the nations round about, 26 So that his fame came vnto the king: for all the Gentiles could tell of the warres of Iudas.

27 ¶ But when King Antiochus heard theſe tidings, he was angry in his minde: wherefore he ſent foorth, and gathered all the power of his realme, a very ſtrong armie, 28 And opened his treaſurie, and gaue his hoſt a yeeres wages in hande, commanding them to be ready for a yeere for all occaſions.

29 Neuertheleſſe, when he ſaw that the money of his treaſures failed, and that the tributes in the countrey were ſmall, becauſe of the diſſenſion, and plagues that he had brought vpon the land, in taking away the lawes which had bene of olde time,

30 He feared leaſt he ſhould not haue nowe at the ſeconde time, as at the firſt, for the charges and gifts that he had giuen with a liberall hande afore: for in liberalitie he farre paſſed the other kings that were before him,

31 Wherefore he was beauie in his minde, and thought to goe into Perſia, for to take tributes of the countreyes, and to gather much money.

32 So he left Lyſias a noble man & of the kings blood to ouerſee the kings buſineſſe, from the riuer of Euphrates vnto the borders of Egypt, 33 And to bring vp his ſonne Antiochus, till he came againe.

34 Moreouer, he gaue him halfe of his hoſt and elephants, & gaue him the charge of all things that he would haue done,

35 And concerning thoſe which dwelt in Iuda and Ieruſalem, that he ſhould ſend an armie againſt them, to deſtroy and roote out the power of Iſrael, and the remnant of Ieruſalem, and to put out their memoriall from that place, 36 And to ſet ſtrangers for to inhabite all their quarters, and part their land amnng them.

37 And the king tooke the halfe of the hoſte that remained, and departed from Antiochia his royall citie, in the yeere an hundreth fourtie and ſeuen, and paſſed the riuer Euphrates, and went thorow the hie countreys.

38 Then Lyſias choſe Ptolomeus the ſonne of Dorimmus, and Nicanor, and Gorgias, mighty men, and the kings friends, 39 And ſent with them fourtie thouſand footemen, and ſeuen thouſand horſemen, to goe into the lande of Iuda, and to deſtroy it, as the king commaunded.

40 So they went forth w all their power, & came and pitched by ‖ Emmaus in the plaine countrey. ‖ Emaus.

41 Nowe when the marchants of the countrey heard the rumour of them, they tooke very much ſiluer and golde, and ſeruantes, and came into the campe to buy the children of Iſrael for ſlaues, and the ſtrength of Syria and of ſtrange nations ioyned with them.

42 ¶ Nowe when Iudas and his brethren ſawe that trouble increaſed, and that the hoſte drewe neere vnto their borders, conſidering the kings words, whereby he had commanded to deſtroy the people, and vtterly aboliſh them, 43 They ſayd one to another, Let vs redreſſe the decay of our people, and let vs fight for our people, and for our Sanctuarie.

44 Then the Congregation were ſoone readie gathered to fight, and to pray, and to deſire mercie and compaſſion.

45 As for Ieruſalem, it was not inhabited, but was as a wilderneſſe. There went none that was borne in it, in or out at it, and the Sanctuarie was troden downe, and the ſtrangers kept the fortreſſe, and it was the habitation of the heathen: and the mirth of Iacob was taken away: the pipe and the harpe ceaſed.

46 So they gathered themſelues together, and came to Maſpha before Ieruſalem: for in Maſpha was the place where they praied aforetime in Iſrael.

47 And they faſted that day, & put ſackecloth vpon them, and caſt aſhes vpon their heads, & rent their clothes,

48 And opened the booke of the law, wherein ỹ heathen ſought to paint the likenes of their idoles, 49 And brought the Prieſtes garments, and the firſt frutes, and the tithes, and ſet there the Nazarites, which accompliſhed their dayes.

50 And they cried with a loude voice towarde heauen, ſaying, What ſhall wee doe with theſe, and whither ſhall we cary them away?

51 For thy Sanctuarie is troden downe and defiled, and thy Prieſts are in heauineſſe, and brought downe.

52 And beholde, the heathen are come againſt vs, to deſtroy vs: thou knoweſt what thinges they imagine againſt vs.

53 How can we ſtand before them, except thou helpe vs?

54 Then they blew the trumpets, and cried with a loude voice.

55 And after this, Iudas ordained captains ouer the people, euen captaines ouer thouſands, and captaines ouer hundreths, and captaines ouer fifties, and captaines ouer tenne.

56 And they commaunded them that builded houſes, or married wiues, or planted vineyardes, or were fearefull, that they ſhould returne euery one * Deut. 20. 5. iudg. 7. 3.

57 So

57 So the hoste remoued, and pitched vpon the Son thside of Emmaus.

58 And Iudas sayde, Arme your selues, and bee valiant men, and beeready against the morning to fight with these nations, which are gathered together against vs, to destroy vs and our Sanctuarie.

59 For it is better for vs to die in battell, then to see the calamities of our people & of our Sanctuary

60 Neuertheless as the will of God is in heauen, so be it.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Iudas goeth against Gorgias which lyeth in waite. 14 He putteth Gorgias and his hoste to flight. 28 Lysias inuadeth Iudea. 29 But Iudas driueth him out. 43 Iudas purifieth the Temple and reedifieth the altar.

Ioseph. lib. 12. chap. 13.

THen tooke Gorgias fiue thousande foote men, and a thousande of the best horsemen, and departed out of the campe by night,

2 To inuade the campe of the Iewes, and to slay them suddenly: and the men of the fortresse were his guides.

3 Nowe when Iudas heard it, he remoued, and they that were valiant men, to smite the Kings armie which was at Emmaus,

4 Whiles yet the armie was dispersed from the campe.

5 In the meane season came Gorgias by night into Iudas campe: and when hee founde no man there, he sought them in the mountaines: for sayde he, They flee from vs.

6 But assoone as it was day, Iudas shewed himselfe in the fielde with three thousande men, which had neither harnesse nor swordes to their mindes.

7 And they sawe that the armies of the heathen were strong and well armed, and their horsemen about them, & that these were expert men of warre,

8 Then sayde Iudas to the men that were with him, Feare ye not the multitude, neither be afraid of their assault.

9 Remember, howe our fathers were deliuered * in the redde Sea, when Pharao pursued them with an armie. Exod. 14, 9, 24.

10 Therefore now let vs crie vnto heauen, and the Lorde will haue mercie vpon vs, and remember the couenant of our fathers, and will destroy this hoste before our face this day:

11 So shall all the heathen knowe, that there is one, which deliuered and saueth Israel.

12 Then the strangers lift vp their eyes, & sawe them comming against them, 13 And they went out of their tentes into ỹ battel, & they that were vs Iudas, blewe the trumpets.

14 So they ioyned together, and the heathen were discomfited and fled by the playne.

15 But the hindmost of them fel by the sword, & they pursued them vnto ‖ Gazeron, & into ỹ plaines of Idumea, & of Azotus, & of Iamna, so that there were slaine of them aboue three thousand men. ‖ Or, Asseremoth.

16 So Iudas turned againe with his hoste from pursuing them,

17 And saide vnto the people, Be not greedy of the spoyles: for there is a battell before vs.

18 And Gorgias and the armie is here by vs in the mountaine: but stand ye nowe fast against your enemies, and ouercome them: then may ye safely take the spoyles.

19 As Iudas was speaking these words, there appeared one part which looked from ỹ mountaines,

20 But when Gorgias sawe that his were fled, & that Iudas souldiers burne the tents: (for the smoke that was seene, declared what was done)

21 When they sawe these things, they were sore afraid, & when they saw also that Iudas & his hoste were in the field ready to set themselues in aray, 22 They fled euery one into ỹ land of strangers.

23 So Iudas turned againe to spoyle the tentes, where he gate much golde and siluer, and precious stones, and purple of the sea, and great riches.

24 Thus they went home, & sung plaises, and prayed toward the heauen: for hee is gracious, and his mercy endureth for euer.

25 And so Israel had great victorie in that day.

26 ¶ Now all the strangers that escaped, came, and tolde Lysias all the things that were done.

27 Who when hee heard these things, was sore afrade, & discouraged, because such things came not vpon Israel as he woulde, neither such things as the King had commanded him, came to passe.

28 Therefore the next yere following, gathered Lysias three score thousande chosen foote men, and fiue thousand horsemen to fight against Ierusalem.

29 So they came into ‖ Idumea, & pitched their tents at ‖ Beth-sura, where Iudas came against them with ten thousand men. ‖ Or, Iudea. ‖ Or, Bethboron,

30 And when he saw ỹ mightie armie, he prayed, and saide, Blessed bee thou, O Sauiour of Israel, *which diddest destroy the assault of the mightie man by the hand of thy seruant Dauid, * & gauest the hoste of the strangers into the hande of Ionathan, the sonne of Saul, and of his armour bearer. 1. Sam. 17. 50. 1. Sam. 14. 13, 14.

31 Shut vp this armie in the hand of thy people of Israel, & let them be confounded with their power, and with their horsemen.

32 Make them afraide, and consume their boldnesse and strength, that they may be astonished at their destruction.

33 Cast them downe by the sworde of them that loue thee, then shall all they that knowe thy Name, praise thee with songs.

34 So they ioyned together, and there were slaine of Lysias hoste, fiue thousand men, and they fel before them.

35 Then Lysias, seeing his armie put to flight, and the manlinesse of Iudas souldiers, and that they were readie, either to liue or die valiantly, he went into Antiochia, and gathered strangers, and when he had furnished his armie, he thought againe (being prepared) to come against Iudea.

36 Then sayd Iudas and his brethren, Beholde, our enemies are discomfited: let vs nowe goe vp to clense, and to repaire the Sanctuarie.

37 So all the hoste gathered them together, and went vp into the mountaine of Sion,

38 Nowe when they sawe the Sanctuarie layde wast, and the altar defiled, and the doores burnt vp, and the shrubbes growing in the courtes, as in a forrest, or as on one of the mountaines, and that the Priests chambers were broken downe,

39 They rent their clothes, and made great lamentation, and cast ashes vpon their heades, 40 And fell downe to the ground on their faces, and blewe an alarame with the trumpets, and cryed toward heauen.

41 Then Iudas commanded certaine of the men to fight against those which were in the castle, till he had clensed the Sanctuarie.

42 So hee chose Priests that were vndefiled, such as delighted in the Law.

43 And they cleansed the Sanctuarie, and bare out the defiled stones into an vncleane place, 44 And consulted what to doe with the altar of burnt offring, which was polluted.

45 So they thought it was best to destroy it, least it shoulde be a reproche vnto them, because the heathen had defiled it: therefore they destroyed the altar, 46 And layde vp the stones vpon the mountaine of the Temple in a conuenient place, til there should come a Prophet, to shewe what should bee done with them.

47 So they tooke whole stones according to the Lawe, and builded a newe altar according to the former,

48 And made vp the Sanctuarie, and the things that were within the Temple, and the courts, and all things.

49 They made also new holy vessels, & brought into the Temple the candlesticke, and the altar of burnt offrings, and of incense, and the table.

50 And they burnt incense vpon the altar, and lighted the lampes which were vpon the candlesticke, that they might burne in the Temple.

51 They set also the shewbread vpon the table, and hanged vp the vailes, & finished all the workes that they had begunne to make.

52 And vpon the fiue and twentieth day of the ninth moneth, which is called the moneth of Chasleu, in the hundreth and eight and fourtieth yeere they rose vp betimes in the morning, 53 And offred sacrifice according to the Law, vpon the new altar of burnt offrings, y they had made.

54 According to the time, and according to the day, that the heathen had defiled it, in the same day was it made newe with songs, and harpes, and lutes, and cymbales.

55 And al the people fell vpon their faces, worshipping and praysing toward the heauen him that had giuen them good successe.

56 So they kept y dedication of y altar eight dayes, offring burnt offrings with gladnesse, and offred sacrifices of deliuerance and prayse, 57 And deckt the forefront of the Temple with crownes of golde and shieldes, and dedicated the gates & chambers, and hanged doores vpon them.

58 Thus there was very great gladnesse among the people, and the reproche of the heathen was put away.

59 So Iudas and his brethren with the whole congregation of Israel, ordeined that the dayes of dedication of the altar shoulde be kept in their season from yeere to yeere, by the space of eight daies, from the fiue and twentieth day of the moneth Chassen, with mirth and gladnesse.

60 And at the same time builded they vp mount Sion with hie walles, & strong towers round about, lest the Gentiles should come, and tread it downe, as they had done afore.

61 Therefore they set a garrison there to keepe it, and fortified Beth sura to keepe it, that the people might haue a defence against Idumea.

CHAP. V.

3 Iudas vanquished the heathen that goe about to destroy Israel, and is holpen of his brethren Simon and Ionathan. 50 He ouerthroweth the citie of Ephron, because they denied him passage thorowe.

Ioseph. lib. 13. Cap. 12.

NOwe when the nations round about heurde, that the altar was builded, and the Sanctuarie renued, as afore, they were sore grieued.

2 Therefore they thought to destroy the generation of Iacob that was among them, and began to slay and destroy the people.

3 Then Iudas fought against the children of Esau in Idumea at ‖ Arrabathene, because they besieged the Israelites, & he smote them with a great plague, and drowe them to straites, and tooke their spoiles. ‖ Or, Arabathanie.

4 He thought also vpon the malice of the children of Bean, which had bene a snare and an hindrance vnto the people, when they laye in waite for them in the hie way.

5 Wherefore he shut them vp in towers, & besieged them, and destroyed them vtterly, & burnt their towers with fire, with all that were in them.

6 Afterwarde, went hee against the children of Ammon, where he founde a mightie power, and a great multitude with Timotheus their captaine.

7 So he had many battels with them, but they were destroyed before him, and so he discomfited them,

8 And tooke Gazer with the townes thereof, and so turned againe into Iudea.

9 ¶ Then the heathen that were in Galaad, gathered them together against the Israelites that were in their quarters, to slay them: but they fled tothe castle of Datheman,

10 And sent letters to Iudas, and to his brethren, saying, The heathen that are about vs, are gathered against vs, to destroy vs:

11 And they make them readie for to come, and to take the fortresse, where vnto we are fledde, and Timotheus is captaine of their hoste.

12 Come nowe therefore, and deliuer vs out of their handes: for many of vs are slaine:

13 And all our brethren that were at Tubin, are slaine, and they haue taken away their wiues, and their children and their goods, and destroyed there almost a thousand men.

14 While these letters were yet a reading, beholde, there came other messengers from Galile with their clothes rent, which tolde y same tidings, 15 And said, that they of Ptolemais, & of Tyrus, and of Sidon, and of all Galile of the Gentiles were gathered against them to destroy them.

15 When Iudas, and the people heard these wordes, a great congregation came together, to consult what they might do for their brethren that were in trouble, and whome they beseged.

17 Then said Iudas to Simon his brother, Chuse thee out men, and goe and deliuer thy bretheren in Galile, and I and my brother Ionathan, wil goe into the countrey of Galaad.

18 ¶ So hee left Iosephus the sonne of Zacharias, and Azarias to be captaines of the people, and to keepe the remmant of the hoste in Iudea, 19 And commanded them, saying, Take the ouersight of this people, and make no warre against the heathen, vntil we come againe.

20 And vnto Simon were giuen three thousand men to goe into Galile, and to Iudas eight thousand men for the countrey of Galaad:

21 Then went Simon into Galile, and gaue diuers battels to the heathen, and the heathen were discomfited by him.

22 And he pursued them vnto the gates of Ptolemais: & there were slaine of the heathen almost three thousand men: so he tooke their spoyles.

23 Thus

23 Thus they reſcued them that were in Galile and in Arbattis with their wiues, & their children, and all that they had, and brought them into Iudea with great ioy.

24 ¶ Iudas Maccabeus alſo, and his brother Ionathan went ouer Iorden, and trauailed three dayes iourney in the wildernes,

25 Where they mette wᵗ the Nabathites, who receiued them louingly, & told thē euery thing ꝑ was done vnto their brethren in ꝑ countrey of Galaad,

26 And how that many of them were beſieged in Boſorra and Boſor, in Alemis, ‖ Chaſbon, Maged and Carnaim (all theſe cities are ſtrong, and great)

‖ Or, Chaſphor

27 And that they were kept in other cities of Galaad, and to morow they are appointed to bring their hoſte vnto thoſe fortes, and to take them, and to deſtroy them all in one day.

28 So Iudas and his hoſte turned in all haſte by the way of the wilderneſſe towarde Boſorra, and wanne the citie, and ſlew al the males with the edge of the ſworde, and tooke all their ſpoyle, and ſet fire vpon the citie.

29 And in the night he remooued from thence, and went toward the fortreſſe.

30 And betimes in the morning when they looked vp, beholde, there was an innumerable people bearing ladders, and inſtruments of warre, to take the forte, and had aſſaulted them.

31 When Iudas ſawe that the battel was begun, and that the cry of the city went vp to heauen with trumpets, and a great ſound, 32 Then he ſaide vnto the armie, Fight this day for your brethren.

33 So hee went foorth behind them with three companies, and they blewe the trumpets, and cryed with prayer.

34 Then the hoſt of Timotheus knew, that it was Maccabeus, and they fled from him, and he ſmote them with a great ſlaughter, ſo that there was killed of them the ſame day, almoſt eight thouſand men.

35 ¶ Then departed Iudas vnto Maſpha, and laid ſiege vnto it, and wanne it, and ſlewe all the males thereof, and ſpoyled it, and ſet fire vpon it.

36 From thence went he and tooke Chasbon, Maged, and Boſor, and the other cities in Galaad.

37 After theſe things gathered Timotheus another hoſte, and he camped before Raphon beyond the flood.

38 Nowe Iudas had ſent to eſpie the hoſte, and they brought him word againe, ſaying, All the heathen that be rounde about vs, are gathered vnto him, and the hoſte is very great,

39 And hee hath hired the Arabians to helpe them, and they haue pitched their tents beyond the flood, and are ready to come and fight againſt thee. So Iudas went to meete them.

40 Then Timotheus ſaide vnto the captaines of his hoſte, When Iudas and his hoſt come neere the flood, if he paſſe ouer firſt vnto vs, we ſhal not be able to withſtand him: for he wil be too ſtrōg for vs.

41 But if hee be afraide, and campe beyond the flood, we wil goe ouer vnto him, and ſhall preuaile againſt him.

42 Now when Iudas came neere to the flood, he cauſed the gouernours of the people to remaine by the flood, and cōmanded them, ſaying, Suffer none to pitch a tent, but let euery man come to ꝑ battel.

43 So he went firſt ouer toward them, & al the people after him: and al the heathen were diſcōfited before him, and caſt away their weapons, and fled into the Temple that was at Carnaim.

44 Which citie Iudas wanne, and burnt the Temple with all that were in it: ſo was Carnaim ſubdued, and might not withſtand Iudas.

45 ¶ Then Iudas gathered all the Iſraelites that were in the countrey of Galaad, from the leaſt vnto the moſt, with their wiues and their children, and their baggage, a very great hoſte, to come into the land of Iuda.

46 So they came vnto Ephron, which was a great citie by the way, and ſtrongly defenſed: they could not paſſe, neither at the right hand nor at the left, but muſt goe thorow it.

47 But they that were in the citie, ſhut themſelues in, and ſtopped vp the gates with ſtones: and Iudas ſent vnto them with peaceable words, ſaying, 48 Let vs paſſe thorow your lande, that we may goe into our owne countrey, and none ſhall hurt you: we will but onely goe thorowe on foote: but they would not open vnto him.

49 Wherefore Iudas commanded a proclamation to be made throughout the hoſt, that euery man ſhould aſſault it according to his ſtanding.

50 So the valiant men ſet vpon it, and aſſaulted the citie all that day, and all that night, and the citie was giuen ouer into his hands:

51 Who ſlew all the males with the edge of the ſword, & deſtroyed it, and tooke the ſpoile thereof, and went thorow the citie ouer them ꝑ were ſlaine.

52 Then went they ouer Iorden into the great plaine before Bethſan.

53 And Iudas gathered together thoſe that were behind, & gaue the people good exhortation al the way thorow, til they were come into ꝑ land of Iuda.

54 Thus they went vp with ioy, and gladneſſe vnto mount Sion, where they offred burnt offrings, becauſe there were none of them ſlaine, but came home againe in ſafetie.

55 ¶ Now whileſt Iudas and Ionathan were in the land of Galaad, and Simon their brother in Galile before Ptolemais, 56 Ioſeph the ſonne of Zacharias, and Azarias the captaines, hearing of the valiant actes, and battels which they had atchieued, ſaid, 57 Let vs get vs a name alſo, and go fight againſt the heathen that are round about vs.

58 So they gaue their hoſte a commaundement and went toward Iamnia.

59 But Gorgias and his men came out of the citie to fight againſt them.

60 And Ioſeph and Azarias were put to flight, and purſued vnto the borders of Iudea: and there were ſlaine that day of the people of Iſrael about two thouſand men: ſo that there was a great ouerthrow among the people of Iſrael, 61 Becauſe they were not obedient vnto Iudas, and his brethren, but thought to doe ſome valiant thing.

62 Alſo they came not of ꝑ ſtocke of theſe men, by whoſe hands deliuerance was giuen to Iſrael.

63 But the man Iudas, & his brethrē were greatly commended in the ſight of all Iſrael, and of all the heathen, whereſoeuer their name was heard of.

64 And the people came vnto them, bidding them welcome.

65 Afterwarde went Iudas foorth with his brethren, & fought againſt the children of Eſau in the land toward the South, where hee wanne Hebrōn, Ioſeph. Anti. 12 chap. 11. and 12.

and

and the townes thereof, and he destroyed the castel thereof, and burnt the towres therof round about.

66 Then remoued he to go into the land of the [Or, Philistims.]strangers, and went thorow Samaria.

67 At the same time were the Priestes of the cities slaine in the battell, which would shewe their valiantnes, and went forth to battel without counsell: and when Iudas came to Azotus in the strangers lande, he brake downe their altars, and burnt with fire the images of their gods, and tooke away the spoyles of their cities, and came againe into the land of Iuda.

CHAP. VI.

1 Antiochus willing to take the cities of Elimais, is driuen away of the citizens. 8 He falleth into sickenesse, and dyeth. 17 His sonne Antiochus is made king. 34 The maner to prouoke elephants to fight. 43 Eleazarus valiant acte. 48 The siege of Sion.

Ioseph. Antiq. 12. chap. 13. NOwe when King Antiochus trauailed thorowe the high countreys, he heard that Elimais in the countrey of Persia was a city greatly renowmed for riches, siluer and gold.

2 And that there was in it a very riche temple, where as were couerings of golde, coate armours, and harnesse, which Alexander King of Macedonia the sonne of Philip (that reigned first in Grecia) had left there.

3 Wherefore he went about to take the citie, and to spoyle it, but he was not able: for the citizens were warned of the matter.

4 And rose vp against him in battell, and he fled and departed thence with great heauinesse, & came againe into Babylon.

5 Moreouer, there came one which brought him tidings in the countrey of Persia, that the armies that went against the land of Iuda, were driuen away,

6 And that Lysias, which went forth first with a great power, was driuen away of the Iewes, and that they were made strong by the armour, and power, and diuers spoyles which they had gotten of the armies whom they had destroyed,

7 And that they had pulled downe the abomination, which hee had set vp vpon the altar at Ierusalem, and fensed the Sanctuary with high walles, as it was afore, and Beth-sura his citie.

8 So when the king had heard these wordes, he was astonished, and sore mooued: therefore he layd him downe vpon his bed, and fell sicke for very sorow, because it was not come to passe, as hee had thought.

9 And there continued he many dayes: for his griefe was euer more and more, so that he saw hee must needes die.

10 Therefore he sent for all his friends, and sayd vnto them, The sleepe is gone from mine eyes, and mine heart faileth for very care.

11 And I thinke with my selfe, into what aduersitie am I come? and into what floods of misery am I fallen nowe, whereas aforetime I was in prosperitie, and greatly set by, by reason of my powers?

12 And nowe doe I remember the euils that I haue done at Ierusalem: for I tooke al the vessels of golde and of siluer that were in it, and sent to destroy the inhabitants of Iuda without cause.

13 I knowe that these troubles are come vpon me for the same cause, and beholde, I must die with great sorow in a strange land.

14 Then called he for Philip, one of his friends, whom he made ruler of all his realme, 15 And gaue him the crowne, and his robe, and the ring, ‡ he should instruct his sonne Antiochus, and bring him vp, till he might reigne his selfe.

16 So king Antiochus died there in the hundreth and fourtie and ninth yeere.

17 ¶ When Lysias knewe, that the King was dead, he ordeined Antiochus his sonne (whome he had brought vp) to reigne in his fathers steade, and called him Eupator. Ioseph. Antiq. 12. chap. 14.

18 Now they that were in the castell at Ierusalem, kept in the Israelites round about the Sanctuarie, and sought alwayes their hurt, and the strengthening of the heathen.

19 Therefore Iudas thought to destroy them, and called all the people together to besiege them.

20 So they came together, and besieged them in the hundreth and fiftie yeere, & made instruments to shoote and other engins of warre.

21 But certaine of them that were besieged, gat foorth, (vnto whome some vngodly men of Israel ioyned themselues)

22 And they went vnto the king, saying, Howe long wilt thou cease from executing iudgement, and auenge our brethren?

23 We haue bene readie to serue thy father, and to goe forward in these things, that hee appointed, and to obey his commandements.

24 Therefore they of our nation fell from vs for this cause, & whersoeuer they found any of vs, they slew them, and spoyled our inheritance.

25 And they haue not only laid hand vpon vs, but vpon all about their borders.

26 And behold, this day are they besieging the castle at Ierusalem to take it, and haue fortified the Sanctuarie, and Beth-sura.

27 And if thou doest not preuent them quickly, they wil doe greater things then these, and thou shalt not be able to ouercome them.

28 When the King heard this, hee was very angrie, and called all his friendes, the captaines of his armie, and his horsemen, 29 And bandes that were hired, came vnto him from the Kings, that were confederate, and from the yles of the sea.

30 So the number of his armie was an hundreth thousand footemen, & twentie thousand horsemen, and two and thirtie elephants exercised in battell.

31 These came through Idumea and drew neere to Beth-sura, and besieged it a long season & made engins of warre: but they came out, and burnt them with fire, and fought valiantly.

32 Then departed Iudas from the castel, and remoued the hoste toward Beth-zacarias ouer against the kings campe.

33 So the king arose very early, and brought the armie and his power toward the way of Beth-zacarias, where the armie set themselues in aray to the battell, and blew the trumpets.

34 And to prouoke the elephants for to fight, they shewed them ‡ blood of grapes & mulberies,

35 And they set the beastes according to the ranges: so ‡ by euery elephant there stood a thousande men armed with coates of maile and helmets of brasse vpon their heads, and vnto euery beast were ordeined fiue hundreth horsemen of the best,

36 Which were readie at all times whersoeuer the beast was: and whithersoeuer the beast went, they went also, and departed not from him.

37 And vpon them were strong towers of wood that couered euery beast, which were fastened thereon with instruments, and vpon euery one was two and and thittie men that fought in them, and the Indian that ruled him.

38 They ſet alſo the remnant of the horſemen vpon both the ſides in two wings of the hoſte, to ſtirre them vp, and to keepe them in the valleyes.

39 And when the ſunne ſhone vpon the golden ſhieldes, the mountaines gliſtered therewith, and gaue light as lampes of fire.

40 Thus part of the Kings armie was ſpred vpon the high mountaines, and part beneath: ſo they marched forward watily, and in order.

41 And all they that heard the noyſe of their multitude, and the marching of the companie, and the rattling of the harneſſe, were aſtoniſhed: for the armie was very great and mightie.

42 Then Iudas and his hoſte entred into the battell, and they ſlewe ſixe hundreth men of the Kings armie.

43 ¶ Now when Eleazar, the ſonne of ‖ Abaron, ‖Or, Saura.
ſaw one of the elephants armed with royal harneſſe, and was more excellent then all the other beaſtes, he thought that the King ſhould be vpon him.

44 Wherefore he ieoparded him ſelfe to deliuer his people, and to get him a perpetuall name, 45 And ran boldly vnto him through the mids of the hoſte, ſlaying on the right hande and on the left, ſo that they departed away on both ſides.

46 So went hee to the elephants feete, and gate him vnder him, and ſlewe him: then fell the elephant downe vpon him, and there he dyed.

47 But the other, ſeeing the power of the king, & the fiercenеſſe of his armie, departed from them.

48 ¶ And the Kings armie went vp to meete them towarde Ieruſalem, and the King pitched his tents in Iudea toward mount Sion.

49 Moreouer, the King tooke truce with them that were in Beth-ſura: but when they came out of the citie, becauſe they had no vitailes there, and were ſhut vp therein, and the land had reſted,

50 The King tooke Beth-ſura, and ſet there a gariſon to keepe it, 51 And beſieged the Sanctuarie many dayes, and made inſtruments to ſhoote, and other engins of warre, and inſtruments to caſt fire and ſtones, and pieces to caſt dartes and ſlings.

52 ‖ They alſo made engines againſt their en- ‖Or, the Iewes.
gines, and fought a long ſeaſon.

53 But in the garners there were no vitailes: for it was the ſeuenth yeere, and then they that were in Iudea, and were deliuered from the Gentiles, had eaten vp the reſidue of the ſtore, 54 So that in the Sanctuarie were few men left: for the famine came ſo vpon them, that they were ſcattered euery man to his owne place.

55 ¶ Nowe when Lyſias heard that Philippe (whome Antiochus the King, whiles hee liued, had ordeyned to bring vp Antiochus his ſonne, that he might be King)

56 Was come againe out of Perſia and Media, and the Kings hoſte with him, and thought to take vnto him the rule of things, 57 He and his haſted, and were ſtirred forwarde by them in the caſtle to goe and tell the King, and the captaines of the hoſte, and to others, ſaying, We decreaſe daily, & our vitailes are but ſmall: and the place that we lay ſiege vnto, is ſtrong, and the affaires of the realme depend vpon vs.

58 Now therefore let vs ‖ agree with theſe men, ‖Or, giue hands.
and take truce with them, and with al their nation,

59 And graunt them to liue after their Lawe, as they did afore: for they be grieued, and doe all theſe things, becauſe we haue broken their Lawes.

60 So the King and the princes were content, and ſent vnto them to make peace, and they receiued it.

61 When the King and the princes had made an othe vnto them, they came vpon this out of the fortreſſe.

62 And the King went vp to mount Sion: but when he ſawe that the place was well defenſed, hee brake his othe that he had made, and commaunded to breake downe the wall round about.

63 Then departed he in all haſte, and returned vnto Antiochia, where he found Philip hauing dominion of the citie: ſo he fought againſt him, and tooke the citie by force.

CHAP. VII.

1 Demetrius reigned, after hee had killed Antiochus and Lyſias, 5 Hee troubleth the children of Iſrael through the counſell of certaine wicked perſons. 37 The prayer of the Prieſts againſt Nicanor. 41 Iudas killeth Nicanor, after hee had made his prayer.

IN the hundreth, and one and fiftieth yeere, departed Demetrius the ſonne of Seleucus from Rome, and came vp with a few men vnto a citie of the ſea coaſt, and reigned there. Ioſeph. Antiq. 12. chap. 5.

2 And when hee came into the poſſeſſion of his fathers kingdome, his ſouldiers tooke Antiochus and Lyſias, and brought them vnto him.

3 But when it was tolde him, he ſaid, Shew me not their faces.

4 So they put them to death. Now when Demetrius was ſet vpon the throne of his kingdome, 5 There came vnto him all the wicked and vngodly men of Iſrael, whoſe captaine was Alcimus, that would haue bene the hie Prieſt.

6 Theſe men accuſed the people vnto the King, ſaying, Iudas and his brethren haue ſlaine all thy friendes, and driuen vs out of our owne land,

7 Wherefore ſend now ſome man, whom thou truſteſt, that he may goe and ſee all the deſtruction, which he hath done vnto vs, and to the Kings land, and let him puniſh them with all their partakers.

8 Then the King choſe Bacchides a friende of his, which was a great man in the realme, and ruled beyond the flood, and was faithfull vnto the King, and ſent him, 9 And that wicked Alcimus, whom hee made hie Prieſt, and commaunded him to be auenged of the children of Iſrael.

10 So they departed, and came with a great hoſte into the lande of Iuda, and ſent meſſengers to Iudas and his brethren, deceitfully with peaceable wordes.

11 But they beleeued not their ſaying: for they ſawe that they were come with a great hoſte.

12 Then a company of the gouernours aſſembled vnto Alcimus and Bacchides to intreat of reaſonable poyntes.

13 And the ‖ Aſideans were the firſt that requi- ‖Or, Haſidæans.
red peace among the children of Iſrael.

14 For ſaid they, He that is a Prieſt of the ſeede of Aaron, is come with this armie: therefore he will not hurt vs.

15 Then hee ſpake vnto them peaceably, and ſwore vnto them, and ſaide, Wee will doe you no harme, neither your friendes:

16 And they beleeued him: but he tooke of the threeſcore men, and ſlewe them in one day according to the wordes that were written,

*Pſal.79.2. 17 * They haue caſt the bodyes of thy Saintes, and their blood round about Ieruſalem, and there was no man that would burie them.

18 So there came a feare and trembling among all the people: for they ſaid, There is neither trueth nor righteouſneſſe in them: for they haue broken the appoyntment and othe that they made.

19 Then Bacchides remoued from Ieruſalem, and pitched his tent at ‖ Beth zecha, where he ſent foorth and tooke many of the men that had forſaken him, and certaine of the people whom he ſlewe and caſt into the great pit.

‖Or, Bethſeth, or, Bezeth.

20 Then committed he the countrey vnto Alcimus, and left men of warre with him to helpe him: ſo Bacchides went vnto the King.

21 Thus Alcimus ſtroue for the Prieſthoode.

22 And all ſuch as troubled the people, reſorted vnto him: in ſo much, that they obteined the lande of Iuda, and did much hurt in Iſrael.

23 Now when Iudas ſaw all the miſchiefe, that Alcimus and his company had done among the Iſraelites more then the heathen, 24 He went foorth round about all the borders of Iudea, and puniſhed thoſe that were fallen away, ſo that they came no more abroad in the countrey.

25 But when Alcimus ſawe that Iudas and his people had gotten the vpper hand, and knewe that he was not able to abide them, hee went againe to the King, and accuſed them of wicked things.

Ioſeph. Antiq. 12. chap. 16.

26 Then the King ſent Nicanor one of his chiefe princes, which hated Iſrael deadly, and commanded him, that he ſhould deſtroy the people.

27 ¶ So Nicanor came to Ieruſalem with a great hoſte, and ſent vnto Iudas, and his brethren deceitfully with friendly wordes, ſaying, 28 Let there be no warre betweene mee, and you: I wil come with fewe men, to ſee how ye doe, friendly.

29 So he came vnto Iudas, and they ſaluted one another peaceably: but the enemies were prepared to take away Iudas.

30 Neuertheleſſe, it was tolde Iudas, that hee came vnto him vnder deceite: therefore he feared him, and would ſee his face no more.

31 When Nicanor perceiued that his counſell was bewrayed, he went out to fight againſt Iudas, beſide ‖ Carphaſalama.

‖Or, Caphar-ſarama.

32 Where there were ſlaine of Nicanors hoſte about fiue thouſand men: ſo they fledde vnto the citie of Dauid.

33 After this came Nicanor vp vnto mount Sion, and ſome of the Prieſts with the Elders of the people went foorth of the Sanctuarie to ſalute him peaceably, and to ſhewe him the burnt offring that was offred for the King.

34 But he laughed at them, and mocked them, and counted them prophane, and ſpake proudly, 35 And ſwore in his wrath, ſaying, If Iudas and his hoſte bee not deliuered now into mine handes, if euer I come againe in ſafetie, I will burne vp this houſe. With that, went he out in a great anger.

36 Then the Prieſtes came in, and ſtoode before the altar in the Temple, weeping, and ſaying, 37 For ſo much as thou, O Lorde, haſt choſen this * houſe, that thy Name might bee called vpon therein, and that it ſhould bee an houſe of prayer, and petition for thy people,

*Iſa.56.5,7.

38 Bee auenged of this man and his hoſte, and let them be ſlaiue by the ſworde: remember their blaſphemies, and ſuffer them not to continue.

39 ¶ When Nicanor was gone from Ieruſalem, he pitched his tent at Beth-horon, and there an hoſte met him out of Syria.

40 And Iudas pitched in ‖ Adaſa with three thouſand men, where Iudas prayed, ſaying, ‖Or, Adaſa.

41 O Lorde, * becauſe the meſſengers of King Sennacherib blaſphemed thee, thine Angell went foorth, and ſlewe an hundreth, foureſcore and fiue thouſand of them.

*2.King.19.35. Iobit 1 18. Eccleſus 48.22. Iſa 37.36 2.mac.8.19.

42 So deſtroy thou this hoſte before vs to day, that all other may knowe that he hath ſpoken wickedly againſt thy Sanctuarie, and puniſh him according to his malice.

43 So the armies ioyned together in battell, the thirteenth day of the moneth Adar: but Nicanors hoſte was diſcomfited, and hee him ſelfe was firſt ſlaine in the battell.

44 Nowe when his armie ſawe that Nicanor was ſlaine, they caſt away their weapons, and fled.

45 But they purſued after them a dayes iourney from Adaſa vnto Gaſera, blowing an alarme with the trumpets after them.

46 So they came forth of all the townes of Iudea round about, and ruſhed vpon them, & threw them from one to another, ſo that they all fell by the ſworde, and there was not one of them left.

47 Then they tooke the ſpoyles, and the pray, and ſmote off Nicanors head, and his right hande, which he helde vp ſo proudly, and brought it with them, and hanged them vp afore Ieruſalem.

48 So the people reioyced greatly, and kept that day as a day of great gladneſſe.

49 And they ordeined to keepe yeerely that day on the thirteenth day of the moneth Adar.

50 Thus the lande of Iuda was in reſt a litle while.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Iudas conſidering the power and policie of the Romanes, maketh peace with them. 22 The conditions of mutuall friendſhip ſent to the Iewes.

IVdas heard alſo the fame of the Romanes, that they were mightie, and valiant, and agreeable to all things that were required of them, and made peace with all that came vnto them, Ioſeph. Antiq. 12. cap. 18.

2 And that they were men of great power, and they tolde him of their battels, and their worthie actes, which they did among the ‖ Galatians whome they had conquered, and made to pay tribute,

‖Or, French men.

3 And what they had done in the countrey of Spaine: how that they had wonne there the mines of ſiluer and golde,

4 And that by their counſell, and gentle behauiour they were rulers in euery place, though the place was farre from them, and that they had diſcomfited, & giuen great ouerthrowes to the Kings that came againſt them, from the vttermoſt part of the earth, and that others gaue them tribute euery yeere,

5 Howe they had alſo diſcomfited by battell Philippe and Perſes Kings of the ‖ Macedonians, and others, that aroſe againſt them, and how they ouercame them,

‖Or, Citims.

6 And how great Antiochus King of Aſia that came againſt them in battell, hauing an hundreth and twentie elephants, with horſemen, and charets, and a very great armie, was diſcomfited by them.

7 And

17 And how they tooke him aliue, & ordeined him, with such as should reigne after him, to pay a great tribute, & to giue hostages, and a seperate portion,

8 Euen the countrey of India, and Media, and Lydia, and of his best countreys, which they tooke of him and gaue them to king Eumenes.

9 Againe when it was told them that the Grecians were comming to destroy them,

10 They sent against them a captaine, which gaue them battell, and slewe many of them, and tooke many prisoners with their wiues, and children, and spoyled them and conquered their land, & destroyed their strong holdes, and subdued them to be their bondmen, vnto this day.

11 Moreouer how they destroyed, & brought into subiection other kingdomes and yles, whosoeuer had withstood them:

12 But that they kept amitie with their owne friendes, and those that stayed vpon them: finally, that they conquered kingdomes, both farre and neere, insomuch that whosoeuer heard of their renowme, was afraide of them.

13 For whom they would helpe to their kingdomes, those reigned, & who they would, they put downe: thus were they in most high authoritie.

14 Yet for all this that none of them ware a crowne, neither was clothed in purple, to bee magnified thereby,

15 But that they had ordeyned them selues a counsell, wherein three hundreth and twentie men consulted dayly, and prouided for the common affaires, to gouerne them well,

16 And that they committed their gouernment to one man euery yere, who did rule ouer all their countrey, to whome euery man was obedient: and there was neither hatred nor enuie among them.

17 ¶ Then Iudas chose Eupolemus the sonne of Iohn, the sonne of Accus, and Iason the sonne of Eleazar, and sent them vnto Rome to make friendship, and mutuall felowship with them,

18 That they might take from them the yoke (for they sawe that the kingdome of the Grecians would keepe Israel in bondage)

19 So they went vnto Rome, which was a very great iourney, and came into the ‖ Senate, where they spake and said,

‖ Or, counsell.

20 Iudas Maccabeus with his brethren, and the people of the Iewes hath sent vs vnto you, to make a bond of friendship, and peace with you, and yee to regifter vs as your partakers and friends.

21 And the matter pleased them.

22 And this is the copie of the epistle that they wrote in tables of brasse & sent to Ierusalem, that they might haue by them a memorial of the peace, and mutuall fellowship.

23 Good successe be to the Romanes, and to the people of the Iewes, by sea, & by land for euer, and the sword, and enemie be from them.

24 If there come first any warre vpon the Romanes, or any of their friends throughout all their dominion,

25 The people of the Iewes shall helpe them, as the time shalbe appointed, with all their heart, 26 Also ‖ they shall giue nothing to them that come to fight for them, nor send them wheate nor weapons, nor money, nor shippes, as it pleaseth the Romanes, but ‖ they shall keepe their couenants without taking any thing of them.

‖ Or, the Romanes.

‖ Or, the Iewes.

27 Likewise also if warre come first against the nation of the Iewes, the Romanes shall helpe them with a good will, according as the time shalbe appointed them.

28 Neither shal wheate be giuē vnto them, that take their part, nor weapons, nor money, nor ships, as it pleaseth the Romanes, who will keepe these couenants without deceit.

29 According to these articles the Romanes made the bond with the people of the Iewes.

30 If after these points the one partie, or the other wil adde or diminish, they may doe it, at their pleasures, and whatsoeuer they shall adde, or take away, shalbe ratified.

31 And as touching the euill that Demetrius hath done vnto § Iewes, we haue written vnto him, saying, Wherefore layest thou thine heauy yoke vpon our friends, and confederates the Iewes §

32 If therfore they complaine any more against thee, we will doe them iustice, and fight with thee by sea and by land.

CHAP. IX.

1 After the death of Nicanor, Demetrius sendeth his armie against Iudas. 18 Iudas is slaine. 31 Ionathan is put in the stead of his brother. 47 The battell betweene Ionathan, and Bacchides. 55 Alcimus is smitten with the palsie, and dyeth. 68 Hee commeth vpon Ionathan by the counsell of certaine wicked persons, and is ouercome. 70 The truce of Ionathan with Bacchides.

IN the meane season when Demetrius had heard how Nicanor, and his hoste had giuen the battell, he sent Bacchides, and Alcimus againe into Iudea, and his ‖ chiefe strength with them.

Ioseph. Antiq. 12. chap. 18.

‖ Or, the right horne.

2 So they went forth by the way that is toward Galgala, and pitched their tentes before Mesaloth which is in Arbelis, & wan it, & slewe much people.

3 And in the first moneth of the hundreth, fiftie and two yeere, they layed their siege against Ierusalem.

4 But they rayfed their campe, and came to Berea, with twenty thousand foote men and two thousand horsemen.

5 Now Iudas had pitched his tent at ‖ Eleasa, and three thousand chosen men with him.

‖ Or, Laisa.

6 And when they saw, that the multitude of the armie was great, they were sore afraid, & many conueied themselues out of the hoste, so that there abode no mo of them, but eight hundreth men.

7 When Iudas saw that his host fayled him, and that he must needes fight, he was sore troubled in mind that he had no time to gather them together, and was discouraged.

8 Neuertheless, he said vnto them that remayned, Let vs rise, & go vp against our enemie, if peraduenture we may be able to fight with them.

9 But they would haue stayed him, saying, We are not able: but let vs rather saue our liues: turne backe now, seeing our brethren are departed: for shall we fight against them, that are so fewe §

10 Then Iudas said, God forbid, that we should doe this thing, to flee from them: if our time bee come, let vs die manfully for our brethren, and let vs not staine our honour.

11 The the host remooued out of the tents, and stood against them, who had diuided their horsmen into two troupes, and they that threwe with slings, and the archers marched in the foreward, and they that fought in the foreward, were all valiant men.

12 And Bacchides was in the right wing. So the armie drew neere on both sides, and blewe the trumpets.

13 They

13 They of Iudas side blewe the trumpets also, and the earth shooke at the noyse of the armies, & the battel continued from morning to night.

14 And when Iudas sawe that Bacchides & the strength of his armie was on the right side, hee tooke with him al the hardie men, 15 And brake the right wing, & followed vpon them vnto mount Azotus.

16 Nowe when they which were of the left wing, sawe that the right wing was discomfited, they followed Iudas behinde, and them that were with him hard at the heeles.

17 Then was there a sore battel: for many were slaine of both the parties.

18 Iudas also himselfe was killed, and the remnant fled.

19 So Ionathan and Simon tooke Iudas their brother, and buried him in his fathers sepulchre in the citie of Modin.

20 And al the Israelites wept for him, & mourned greatly for him, & lamẽted many daies, saying, 21 How is the valiant man fallen which deliuered Israel!

22 Concerning ỹ other things of Iudas, both the battels & the valiant acts ỹ he did, & of his worthines, they are not written: for they were very many.

Ioseph. Antiq. 13. chap. 1. & 3.

23 ¶ Now after the death of Iudas, wicked men came vp in all the coastes of Israel, and there arose all such as gaue themselues to iniquitie.

24 In those dayes was there a very great famine in the lande, and all the countrey gaue ouer themselues with them.

25 And Bacchides did chuse wicked men, and made them lords in the land.

26 These sought out, and made search for Iudas friends, & brought thẽ vnto Bacchides, which auenged himselfe vpon them, and mocked them.

27 And there came so great trouble in Israel, as was not since the time that no Prophet was seene among them.

28 Then came all Iudas friends together, and saide vnto Ionathan,

29 Seeing thy brother Iudas is dead, and there is none like him to goe forth against our enemies, euen against Bacchides, and ‖ against them of our nation that are enemies vnto vs,

‖ Or, against the enemies of our nation.

30 Therefore, this day we chuse thee, that thou mayest be our Prince & captaine in his place, to order our battell.

31 So Ionathan tooke the gouernance vpon him at the same time, and ruled in stead of his brother Iudas.

32 But when Bacchides knewe it, he sought for to slay him.

33 Then Ionathan and Simon his brother, perceiuing that, fled into the wildernes of Thecua with all their company, and pitched their tents, by the water poole of Asphar.

34 Which when Bacchides vnderstoode, hee came ouer Iorden with all his hoste vpon the Sabbath day.

35 (Nowe had Ionathan sent his brother Iohn, a captaine of the people, to pray his friendes the Nabathites, that they would keepe their baggage which was much.

‖ Or, Iambri.

36 But the children of ‖ Ambri came out of Medaba, and tooke Iohn, and al that he had, and when they had taken it, went their way.

37 After this came word vnto Ionathan, and to Simon his brother, that the children of Ambri made a great marriage, and brought the bride from ‖ Medaba with great pompe: for she was daughter to one of the noblest Princes of Canaan.

‖ Or, Nadabath.

38 Therefore they remembred Iohn their brother, and went vp, and hid themselues vnder the couert of the mountaine.

39 So they lift vp their eyes, & looked, and beholde, there was a great noyse, and much preparation: then the bridegrome came foorth, and his friends and his brethren met them with tymbrels, and instruments of musike, and many weapons.

40 Then Ionathans men that lay in ambush, rose vp against them, and slewe many of them, and the remnant fled into the mountaines, so that they tooke all their spoyles.

41 Thus the marriage was turned to mourning, and the noyse of their melodie into lamentation.

42 And so when they had auenged the blood of their brother, they turned againe vnto Iorden.

43 When Bacchides heard this, hee came vnto the border of Iorden with a great power vpon the Sabbath day.)

44 Then Ionathan said vnto his companie, Let vs rise now, and fight against our enemies: for it is not to day as in time past.

45 Beholde, the battel is before vs, and behinde vs, and the water of Iorden on this side and that side, and the marise, and forest, so that there is no place for vs to turne aside.

46 Wherefore crie now vnto heauen, that yee may be deliuered from the power of your enemies: so they ioyned battell.

47 Thẽ Ionathan stretched out his hand to smite Bacchides: but he turned aside from him & reculed.

48 Then Ionathan, & they that were with him, leapt into Iorden, and swimmed ouer vnto the further banke: but the other would not passe through Iorden after them.

49 So in that day were slaine of Bacchides side about a thousand men.

50 Then hee turned againe to Ierusalem, and built vp the strong cities in Iuda, as the castell of Iericho, and Emmaus, and Bethhoron, and Bethel, and Thamnatha, ‖ Pharathoni, & ‖ Tepho, with high walles, with gates, and with barres, ‖ Or, Pharathon. ‖ Or, Thopo.

51 And set garisons in them, that they might vse their malice vpon Israel.

52 He fortified also the citie Beth-sura, and Gazara, and the castell, and set a garison in them with prouision of vitailes.

53 Hee tooke also the chiefest mens sonnes in the countrey for hostages, and put them in the castell at Ierusalem to be kept.

54 ¶ Afterward in the hundreth, fiftie & three yeere, in the second moneth, Alcimus commanded, that the walles of the inner court of the Sanctuary should be destroyed, & he pulled downe the monuments of the Prophets, and began to destroy them.

55 But at the same time Alcimus was plagued, and his enterprises were hindered, and his mouth was stopped: for he was smitten with a palsie, and could no more speake, nor giue order concerning his house.

56 Thus dyed Alcimus with great torment at the same time.

57 And when Bacchides saw that Alcimus was dead, he turned againe to the King, and so the lande of Iuda was in rest two yeeres.

58 Then

58 Then all the vngodly men helde a counsell, saying, Behold, Ionathan and his companie dwell at ease, and without care: wherefore let vs bring Bacchides hither, and he wil take them all in one night.

59 So they went and consulted with him.

60 Who arose and came with a great hoste, and sent letters priuily to his adherents, which were in Iudea, to take Ionathan and those that were with him: but they could not, for their counsell was knowen vnto them.

61 And ‖ they tooke fiftie men of the countrey, which were the chiefe workers of this wickednesse, and slewe them. ‖ or, Ionathan.

62 ¶ Then Ionathan & Simon with their companie departed vnto ‖ Beth-basin which is in the wildernesse, and repayred the decay thereof, and made it strong. ‖ or, Beth-besan.

63 When Bacchides knew this, he gathered all his hoste, & sent word to them that were of Iudea.

64 Then came he and layd siege to Beth-basin, and fought against it a long season, and made instruments of warre.

65 But Ionathan had left his brother Simon in the citie, and went foorth into the countrey, and came with a certaine number, 66 And slewe ‖ Odomeras and his brethren and the children of Phasiron in their tentes: so he began to slay, and increased in power. ‖ or, Odoes.

67 Simon also and his company went out of the citie, and burnt vp the instruments of warre, 68 And fought against Bacchides, and discomfited him, and vexed him sore, so that his counsell and iourney was in vaine.

69 Wherefore he was very wroth at the wicked men, that gaue him counsel to come into the countrey, and slewe many of them, and purposed to returne into his owne countrey.

70 Whereof when Ionathan had knowledge, he sent Ambassadours vnto him, to intreate of peace with him, & that the prisoners should be deliuered.

71 Which thing he accepted, and did according to his desire, and made an othe, that he would neuer doe him harme all the dayes of his life.

72 So he restored vnto him the prisoners that he had taken aforetime out of the land of Iuda, and so returned and went into his owne land, neither did he come any more into their borders.

73 Thus the sworde ceased from Israel, and Ionathan dwelt at Machmas, and began there to gouerne the people, and destroyed the vngodly men out of Israel.

CHAP. X

¶ Demetrius desireth to haue peace with Ionathan. 18 Alexander also desireth peace with the Iewes. 48 Alexander maketh warre against Demetrius. 50 Demetrius is slaine. 51 The friendship of Ptolemeus and Alexander.

IN the hundreth and three score yeere came Alexander the sonne of Antiochus Epiphanes, and tooke Ptolemais, and they receiued him, and there he reigned. Ioseph. Antiq. 13. Chap. 2.

2 Now when Demetrius the King heard it, he gathered an exceeding great hoste, and went foorth against him to fight.

3 Also Demetrius sent letters vnto Ionathan, w louing wordes, as though he would preferre him.

4 For hee saide, We will first make peace with him, before he ioyne with Alexander against vs.

5 Els he will remember all the euill that wee haue done against him, and against his brethren and his nation.

6 And so he gaue Ionathan leaue to gather an hoste, and to prepare weapons, and to be confederate with him, and commaunded the hostages that were in the castell, to be deliuered vnto him.

7 ¶ Then came Ionathan to Ierusalem, and read the letters in the audience of all the people, and of them that were in the castell.

8 Therefore they were sore afraide, because they heard that the King had giuen him licence to gather an armie.

9 So they that were of the castel, deliuered the hostages vnto Ionathan, who restored them to their parents.

10 Ionathan also dwelt at Ierusalem, and began to builde, and repaire the citie.

11 And he commanded the workemen to build the walles, and the mount Sion round about with hewen stone, to fortifie it: and so they did.

12 Then the strangers that were in the castels which Bacchides had made, fled, 13 So that euery man left his place, and went into his owne countrey.

14 Onely at Beth-sura remained certaine which had forsaken the Lawe and the commaundements: for it was their refuge.

15 ¶ Now when King Alexander had heard of the promises that Demetrius had made vnto Ionathan: and when it was tolde him of the battels and noble actes, which he and his brethren had done, and of the paines that they had endured, 16 He said, Might we find such a man? now therefore we will make him our friend and confederate.

17 Vpon this he wrote a letter, and sent it vnto him, with these wordes, saying, 18 KING ALEXANDER to his brother Ionathan sendeth salutation.

19 We haue heard of thee, that thou art a very valiant man, and worthy to be our friend.

20 Wherefore this day we ordaine thee to bee the hie Priest of thy nation, and to be called the Kings friend: (and he sent him a purple robe, and a ‖ crowne of golde,) that thou mayest ‖ consider what is for our profite, and keepe friendship toward vs. ‖ or, minde. ‖ Or, take our part.

21 So in the seuenth moneth of the hundreth and three score yeere, vpon the feast day of the tabernacles, Ionathan put on the holy garment, and gathered an hoste, and prepared many weapons.

22 ¶ Which when Demetrius heard, hee was marueilous sorie, and said, Ioseph. Antiq. 13. Chap. 3.

23 What haue wee done, that Alexander hath preuented vs in getting the friendship of the Iewes for his strength?

24 Yet will I write and exhort them, and promise them dignities and rewardes, that they may helpe me.

25 Whereupon he wrote vnto them these words, KING DEMETRIVS vnto the nation of the Iewes sendeth greeting.

26 We haue heard that ye haue kept your couenant toward vs, & continued in our friendship, and haue not ioyned w our enemies, wherof we are glad.

27 Now therefore remaine still, and keepe fidelitie toward vs, and we will recompence you for the good things that ye haue done for vs, 28 And will release you of many charges, and giue you rewardes.

29 And now I discharge for your sake all the Iewes from tributes, and free you from the customes of salt, and the crowne taxes, and from the thirde part

part of the ſeede.

30 And from the halfe of the fruite of the trees which is mine owne duetie, I ſo releaſe them that from this day foorth, none ſhall take any thing of the land of Iuda, or of the three gouernmẽts which are added thereunto, as of Samaria and of Galile, from this day forth for euermore.

31 Ieruſalem alſo w̃ all things belonging thereto, ſhalbe holy and free from the tenths & tributes.

32 Alſo I releaſe the power of the caſtel which is at Ieruſalem, and giue it vnto the hie Prieſt, that he may ſet in it ſuch men, as he ſhall chuſe to keepe it.

33 Moreouer I freely deliuer euery one of the Iewes that were taken away priſoners out of ỹ land of Iuda throughout all my realme, and euery one of them ſhalbe free from tributes, yea, euẽ their cattel,

34 And all the feaſts, and Sabbaths, and newe Moones, and the dayes appointed, & the three daies before the feaſt, and the three dayes after the feaſt, ſhall be dayes of freedome and libertie for all the Iewes in my realme, 35 So that in them no man ſhall haue power to doe any thing, or to vexe any of them in any maner of cauſe.

36 Alſo thirtie thouſand of the Iewes ſhall bee written vp in the Kings hoſte, and haue their wages payed them as appertaineth to all them that are of the Kings armie: and of them ſhalbe ordeined certaine to keepe the Kings ſtrong holdes.

37 And ſome of them ſhalbe ſet ouer the Kings moſt ſecret affaires, and their gouernours and their Princes ſhalbe of themſelues, and they ſhall liue after their owne lawes, as the King hath commanded in the land of Iuda.

38 And the three gouernments that are added vnto Iudea from the countrey of Samaria, ſhall be ioyned vnto Iudea, and they ſhall be as vnder one, and obey none other power, but the hie Prieſt.

39 And I giue Ptolemais and the borders thereof vnto the Sanctuarie at Ieruſalem, for the neceſſarie expenſes of the holy things.

40 Moreouer, I will giue euery yeere fifteene thouſand ſicles of ſiluer of the Kings reuenues out of the places apperteining vnto me.

41 And all the ouerplus which they haue not payed for the things due, as they did in the former yeeres, from hencefoorth they ſhall giue it toward the workes of the Temple.

42 And beſides this, the fiue thouſand ſicles of ſiluer which they receiued yeerely of the account appoynted for the interteinment of the Sanctuarie theſe yeeres paſſed, euen theſe things ſhal be releaſed becauſe they appertaine to the Prieſts that miniſter.

43 Item, whoſoeuer they be that flee vnto the Temple at Ieruſalem, or within the liberties thereof, and are indetted to the King for any maner of thing, they ſhalbe pardoned, and all that they haue in my realme.

44 For the building alſo and repayring of the workes of the Sanctuarie, expenſes ſhall be giuen of the Kings reuenues.

45 And for the making of the walles of Ieruſalem, and fortifying it round about, that the holdes in Iudea may be built vp, ſhall alſo the coſtes be giuen out of the Kings reuenues.

46 ¶ But when Ionathan and the people heard theſe words, they gaue no credit vnto them, neither receiued them: for they remembred the great wickednes that he had done in Iſrael, and how ſore he had vexed them.

47 Wherefore they agreed vnto Alexander: for he was the firſt that had intreated of true peace with them, and ſo were confederate with him alway.

48 Then gathered King Alexander a great hoſt, and camped ouer againſt Demetrius.

49 So the two Kings ioyned battell, but Demetrius hoſte fled, and Alexander purſued him, and preuailed againſt them.

50 So that ſore battell continued till the ſunne went downe, & Demetrius was ſlaine the ſame day.

51 ¶ Then Alexander ſent Ambaſſadours vnto Ptolemeus the king of Egypt w̃ theſe words, ſaying, Ioſeph. Antiq. 13 chap.

52 For ſo much as I am come againe to my realme, and am ſet in the throne of my fathers, and haue gotten the dominion, and haue deſtroied Demetrius, and enioy my countrey,

53 Seeing that I haue euen giuen him the battell, and he and his armie is diſcomfited by me, and I ſit in the throne of his kingdome, 54 Let vs now make friendſhip together, and giue me now thy daughter to wife: ſo ſhall I be thy ſonne in law, and giue thee rewardes, and vnto her things according to thy dignitie.

55 Then Ptolemeus the King gaue anſwere, ſaying, Happie be the day, wherein thou art come againe vnto the land of thy fathers, and ſitteſt in the throne of their kingdome.

56 Now therefore wil I fulfill thy writing: but meete mee at Ptolemais that we may ſee one another, and that I may make thee my ſonne in lawe, according to thy deſire.

57 So Ptolemeus went out of Egypt with his daughter Cleopatra, and came vnto Ptolemais in the hundreth threeſcore and two yeere, 58 Where king Alexander met him, and he gaue vnto him his daughter Cleopatra, & maried them at Ptolemais w̃ great glory, as the maner of Kings is.

59 ¶ Then wrote King Alexander vnto Ionathan, that he ſhould come and meete him.

60 So he went honourably vnto Ptolemais, and there hee met the two Kings, and gaue them great preſents of ſiluer and golde, and to their friends, and found fauour in their ſight.

61 And there aſſembled certaine peſtilent fellowes of Iſrael, and wicked men to accuſe him: but the King would not heare them.

62 And the King commanded that they ſhould take off the garments of Ionathan, and clothe him in purple: and ſo they did: and the King appointed him to ſit by him, 63 And ſaid vnto his Princes, Goe with him into the mids of the citie, and make a proclamation, that no man complaine againſt him of any matter, and that no man trouble him for any maner of cauſe.

64 So when his accuſers ſaw his honour according as it was proclaimed, and that he was clothed in purple, they fled all away.

65 And the King preferred him to honour, and wrote him among his chiefe friends, and made him a Duke, and partaker of his dominion.

66 Thus Ionathan returned to Ieruſalem with peace and gladneſſe.

67 ¶ In the hundreth, threeſcore and fiue yeere came Demetrius the ſonne of Demetrius, from Creta into his fathers land.

68 Whereof when King Alexander heard, hee was very ſorie, and returned vnto Antiochia.

69 Then Demetrius appoynted Apollonius the

gouernour of Coelosyria, who gathered a great hoste, and camped in Iamnia, and sent vnto Ionathan the hie Priest, saying, 70 Darest thou, being but alone, lift vp thy selfe against vs? and I am laughed at, & reproched, because of thee: nowe therefore why doest thou vaunt thy selfe against vs in the mountaines?

71 Nowe then if thou trust in thine owne strength, come downe to vs into the plaine fielde, and there let vs trie the matter together: for I haue the strength of cities.

72 Aske and learne who I am, and they shal take my part: and they shall tell thee that your foote is not able to stande before our face: for thy fathers haue bene twise chased in their owne land.

73 And now how wilt thou be able to abide so great an hoste of horsemen and footemen in the plaine, where is neither stone, nor rocke, nor place to flee vnto?

74 When Ionathan heard the wordes of Apollonius, he was moued in his minde: wherefore hee chose ten thousand men, & went out of Ierusalem, and Simon his brother met him for to helpe him.

75 And he pitched his tentes at Ioppe: but they shut him out of the citie: for Apollonius garison was in Ioppe.

76 Then they fought against it, and they that were in the citie, for very feare let him in: so Ionathan wanne Ioppe.

77 Apollonius hearing of this, tooke three thousand horsemen with a great hoste of foote men, and went toward Azotus, as though he would goe forward, and came immediatly into the plaine fielde, because he had so many horsemen, and put his trust in them.

78 So Ionathan followed vpon him to Azotus, and the armie skirmished with his arriere band.

79 For Apollonius had left a thousand horsmen behinde them in ambush.

80 And Ionathan knewe that there was an ambushment behind him: and though they had compassed in his hoste, and shot dartes at the people from the morning to the euening, 81 Yet the people stood still, as Ionathan had commanded them, till their horses were wearie.

82 Then Brought Simon foorth his hoste, and set them against the band: but the horses were weary, and he discomfited them, and they fled: so the horsemen were scattered in the fielde, 83 And they fled to Azotus, and came into the temple of Dagon their idole, that they might there saue themselues.

84 But Ionathan set fire vpon Azotus and all the cities round about it, and tooke their spoyles, and burnt with fire the temple of Dagon with all them that were fled into it.

85 Thus were slaine and burnt about eight thousand men.

86 So Ionathan remooued ỹ hoste from thence, and camped by Ascalon, where the men of the citie came forth, and met him with great honour.

87 After this went Ionathan and his hoste againe to Ierusalem, with great spoyles.

11 And when King Alexander heard these things, he began to doe Ionathan more honour, 89 And sent him a coller of golde, as the vse is to be giuen vnto such as are of the Kings blood: he gaue him also Accaron, with the borders thereof in possession.

CHAP. XI.

1 The dissention betweene Ptolemeus and Alexander his sonne in lawe. 17 The death of Alexander. 19 Demetrius reigneth after the death of Ptolemeus. 22 Sion is besieged of Ionathan. 42 Demetrius seeing that no man resisted him, setteth his armie against. 55 Tryphon moueth Antiochus against Demetrius.

AND the king of Egypt gathered a great hoste, like the sand that lieth vpon the sea shore, and many shippes, and went about through deceite to obtaine the kingdome of Alexander, and to ioyne it vnto his owne Realme. Ioseph. Anti. 13. cap. 7.

2 Vpon this he went into Syria with friendly wordes, and was let into the cities, and men came foorth to meete him: for king Alexander had commanded them to meete him, because he was his father in lawe.

3 Now when he entred into the citie of Ptolemais, he left bands and garisons in euery citie.

4 And when hee came neere to Azotus, they shewed him the temple of Dagon that was burnt, and Azotus, and the suburbs thereof that were destroyed, and the bodies cast abroad, and them that hee had burnt in the battell: for they had made heapes of them by the way where he should passe.

5 And they tolde the king what Ionathan had done, to the intent they might get him euill will: but the king held his peace.

6 And Ionathan met the king with great honour at Ioppe, where they saluted one another, and lay there.

7 So when Ionathan had gone with the king vnto the water that was called Eleutherus, hee turned againe to Ierusalem.

8 So King Ptolemeus gate the dominion of the cities by the sea vnto Seleucia vpon ỹ sea coast, imagining wicked counsels against Alexander, 9 ¶ And sent Ambassadours vnto King Demetrius, saying, Come, let vs make a league betweene vs, and I will giue thee my daughter, which Alexander hath, and thou shalt reigne in thy fathers kingdome.

10 For I repent that I gaue Alexander my daughter: for he goeth about to slay me.

11 Thus he slandered Alexander, as one that should desire his Realme.

12 And hee tooke his daughter from him, and gaue her vnto Demetrius, and forsooke Alexander, so that their hatred was openly knowen.

13 Then Ptolemeus came to Antiochia, where he set two crownes vpon his own head, of Asia and of Egypt.

14 In the meane season was King Alexander in Cilicia: for they that dwelt in those places, had rebelled against him:

15 But when Alexander heard it, hee came to warre against him, and Ptolemeus brought foorth his hoste, and met him with a mightie power, and put him to flight.

16 Then fled Alexander into Arabia, there to be defended: so Ptolemeus was exalted.

17 And Zabdiel the Arabian smote off Alexanders head, and sent it vnto Ptolemeus.

18 But the third day after, king Ptolemeus died: and they that were in the holdes, were slaine one of another.

19 And Demetrius reigned in the hundreth, threescore and seuenth yeere.

20 ¶ At the same time gathered Ionathan them that were in Iudea, to lay siege vnto ỹ castel, which was at Ierusalem, and they made many instruments of warre against it.

21 Then went there certaine vngodly persons (which hated their owne people) vnto king Demetrius, & told him that Ionathan besieged the castel.

22 So when he heard it, he was angry, and immediatly came vnto Ptolemais, and wrote vnto Ionathan, that hee should lay no more siege vnto it, but that he should meete him and speake with him at Ptolemais in all haste.

23 Neuertheless when Ionathan heard this, hee commanded to besiege it: he chose also certaine of the Elders of Israel, and the Priestes, and put himselfe in danger, 24 And tooke with him siluer and gold, and apparell, and diuers presents, and went to Ptolemais vnto the king, and found fauour in his sight.

25 And though certaine vngodly men of his owne nation had made complaints vpon him,

26 Yet the King intreated him as his predecessors had done, and promoted him in the sight of all his friends, 27 And confirmed him in the hie priesthoode with all the honourable things, that hee had afore, and made him his chiefe friend.

28 Ionathan also desired the King, that he would make Iudea free with the three gouernements, and the countrey of Samaria, and Ionathan promised him three hundreth talents.

29 Whereunto the King consented, and gaue Ionathan writing of the same, containing these wordes, 30 KING DEMETRIVS vnto his brother Ionathan, and to the nation of the Iewes sendeth greeting.

31 We send you here a copy of the letter which we did write vnto our cousin Lasthenes concerning you, that ye should see it.

32 King Demetrius vnto Lasthenes his father, sendeth greeting.

33 For the faithfulnes that our friends the nation of the Iewes keepe vnto vs, and for their good will towards vs, we are determined to do thē good.

34 Wherefore we assigne to them the coasts of Iudea with the three gouernments, Apherema, and Lydda, and Ramathe (which are added vnto Iudea from the countrey of Samaria) and all that appertaineth to al them that sacrifice in Ierusalem: both concerning the paiments which the King tooke yeerely aforetime, both for the fruites of the earth, end for the fruites of the trees.

35 As for the other things appertaining vnto vs of the tenths and tributes, which were due vnto vs, and the customes of salt, and crowne taxes, which were payed vnto vs, we discharge them of all from hencefoorth.

36 And nothing hereof shall be reuoked from this time forth and for euer.

37 Therefore see that yee make a copy of these things, and deliuer it vnto Ionathan, that it may be set vp vpon the holy mount in an open place.

38 After this when Demetrius the King sawe that his land was in rest, and that no resistance was made against him, he sent away all his hoste, euery man to his owne place, except certaine bandes of strangers, whome he brought from the yles of the heathen: wherefore all his fathers hoste hated him.

39 Now was there one Tryphon, that had bene of Alexanders part afore, which when he sawe that all the hoste murmured against Demetrius, he went to ‖ Simalcue the Arabian, that brought vp Antiochus the sonne of Alexander, ‖ Or, Emalcue

40 And lay sore vpon him, to deliuer him this yong Antiochus, that he might reigne in his fathers steade: hee tolde him also what great euill Demetrius had done, and howe his men of warre hated him, and he remained there a long season.

41 Also Ionathan sent vnto King Demetrius to driue them out which were in the castell at Ierusalem, and those that were in the fortresses: for they fought against Israel.

42 So Demetrius sent vnto Ionathan, saying, I will not onely doe these thinges for thee, and thy nation, but if oportunitie serue, I will honor thee, and thy nation.

43 Nowe therefore thou shalt doe mee a pleasure, if thou wilt sende me men to helpe me: for all mine armie is gone from me.

44 So Ionathan sent him three thousand strong men vnto Antiochia, and they came vnto the King: wherefore the King was very glad at their comming.

45 ¶ But they that were of the citie, euen an hundreth and twentie thousande men, gathered them together in the mids of the citie, and woulde haue slaine the King.

46 But the king fled into the palace, and the citizens kept the streets of the city, & began to fight.

47 Then the king called to the Iewes for help, which came to him all together, and went abroade through the citie, 48 And slewe the same day an hundreth thousand, and set fire vpon the citie, and tooke many spoiles in that day, and deliuered the king.

49 So when the citizens saw that the Iewes had gotten the vpper hande of the citie, and that they themselues were disappointed of their purpose, they made their supplication vnto the king, saying,

50 ‖ Grant vs peace, and let the Iewes cease from vexing vs and the citie. ‖ Or, giue vs the right hand.

51 So they cast away their weapons, and made peace, and the Iewes were greatly honoured before the king, and before all that were in his Realme, & they came againe to Ierusalem with great pray.

52 Then King Demetrius sate in the throne of his kingdome, and had peace in his land.

53 Neuertheless hee dissembled in all that euer he spake, and withdrewe himselfe from Ionathan, neither did he rewarde him according to the benefites which hee had done for him, but troubled him very sore.

54 ¶ After this rerurned Tryphon with the yong childe Antiochus, which reigned, and was crowned.

55 Then there gathered vnto him all the men of warre, whome Demetrius had scattered, and they fought against him, who fled and turned his backe.

56 So Tryphon tooke the ‖ beastes, and wanne Antiochia. ‖ Or, Elephants.

57 And yong Antiochus wrote vnto Ionathan, saying, I appoint thee to be the chiefe Priest, and make thee ruler ouer the foure gouernements, that thou mayest be a friend of the kings.

58 Vpon this he sent him golden vessels to bee serued in, and gaue him leaue to drinke in gold, and to weare purple, and to haue a collar of golde.

59 Hee made his brother Simon also captaine from the coasts of Tyrus vnto the borders of Egypt.

60 Then Ionathan went foorth, and passed thorowe thorow the cities beyond the flood, and all the men of warre of Syria gathered vnto him for to helpe him: so he came vnto Alkalon, and they of the citie receiued him honourably.

61 And from thence went hee vnto Gaza: but they of Gaza shut him out: wherefore he laid siege vnto it, and burned the suburbes thereof with fire, and spoyled them.

62 Then they of Gaza made supplication vnto Ionathan, and he made peace with them, & tooke of the sonnes of the chiefe men for hostages, and sent them to Ierusalem, and went thorow the countrey vnto Damascus.

63 And when Ionathan heard that Demetrius princes were come into Cades, which is in Galile, with a great hoste, purposing to driue him out of the countrey, 64 Hee came against them, and left Simon his brother in the countrey.

65 And Simon besieged Beth-sura, and fought against it a long season, and shut it vp.

66 So they desired to haue peace of him, which he granted them, and afterward put them out from thence, and tooke the citie, and set a garison in it.

67 Then Ionathan with his hoste came to the water of Genesar, and betimes in the morning came to the plaine of Azor.

68 And behold the hostes of the ‖ strangers met him in the plaine, and had laide ambushments for him in the mountaines. ‖ Or, heathen.

69 So that when they came against them, the ambushments rose out of their places & skirmished.

70 So that all that were of Ionathans side, fled: and there was not one of them left, except Mattathias the sonne of ‖ Absalomus, and Iudas the sonne of Calphi the captaines of the hoste. ‖ Or, Absalom.

71 Then Ionathan rent his clothes, & cast earth vpon his head, and prayed, 72 And turned againe to them to fight, and put them to flight, so that they fled away.

73 Now when his owne men that were fled, saw this, they turned againe vnto him, and helped him to followe after all vnto their tentes at Cades, and there they camped.

74 So there were slaine of the strangers the same day about three thousand men, and Ionathan turned againe to Ierusalem.

CHAP. XII.

1 Ionathan sendeth ambassadours to Rome, 2 And to the people of Sparta, to renue their couenant of friendship. 24 Ionathan putteth to flight the princes of Demetrius, 40 Typhon taketh Ionathan by deceite.

IOnathan now seeing that the time was meete for him, chose certaine men, & sent the vnto Rome, to establish and renue the friendship with them: Ioseph. Antiq. 13. chap. 8.

2 He sent letters also vnto ‖ the Spartians and to other places, for the same purpose. ‖ Or, Lacedemonians.

3 So they went vnto Rome, and entred into the Senate, and saide, Ionathan the high Preist and the nation of the Iewes sent vs vnto you, for to renue ſhip with you, and the bond of loue, as in times past.

4 So the Romanes gaue them free passports, that men should lead them home into the land of Iuda peaceably.

5 ¶ And this is the copie of the letters that Ionathan wrote vnto the Spartians, 6 Ionathan the high Preist with the Elders of the nation, and the Priestes, and the rest of the people of the Iewes, send greeting vnto the Spartians their brethren.

7 Heretofore were letters sent vnto Onias the hie Priest, from ‖ Arius, which then reigned among you, that ye would be our brethren, as ỹ copie hereunder written specifieth. Ioseph. Antiq. 12. chap. 5. ‖ Or, Darius.

8 And Onias intreated the ambassadour honourably, & receiued the letters: wherein there was mention made of the bond of loue and friendship.

9 But as for vs, we nede no such writings: for we haue the holy bookes in our hands for comfort.

10 Neuertheless wee thought it good to sende vnto you, for the renuing of the brotherhood and friendship, least we should be strange vnto you: for it is long since the time that ye sent vnto vs.

11 Wherefore we remember you at all seasons continually, & in the feasts & other dayes appointed, when we offer sacrifices & prayers, as it is mecte and conuenient to thinke vpon our brethren.

12 And wee reioyce at your prosperous estate.

13 And though wee haue bene enuironed with great troubles and warres, so that the kings round about vs haue fought against vs, 14 Yet would we not be grieuous vnto you, nor to other of our confederates and friendes in these warres.

15 For we haue had helpe from heauen, ỹ hath succoured vs, and wee are deliuered from our enemies, and our enemies are subdued.

16 Yet haue we chosen Numenius the sonne of Antiochus, and Antipater the sonne of Iason, & sent them vnto the Romanes, for to renue the former friendship with them, and league.

17 We commanded them also to goe vnto you, and to salute you, and to deliuer you our letters, concerning the renuing of our brotherhood.

18 And now ye shal doe vs a pleasure to giue vs an answere of these things.

19 ¶ And this was the copie of the letters, which Arius the King of Sparta sent vnto Onias.

20 THE KING of the Spartians vnto Onias the high Priest sendeth greeting.

21 It is found in writting, that the Spartians and Iewes are brethren, and come out of the generation of Abraham.

22 And now for so much as this is come to our knowledge, ye shall doe well, to write vnto vs of your prosperitie.

23 As for vs we haue written vnto you, ỹ your cattell and goods are ours, and ours are yours: these things haue we comanded to be shewed vnto you.

24 ¶ Now when Ionathan heard, that Demetrius princes were come to fight against him, with a greater hoste then afore, 25 He went from Ierusalem, and met them in the land of Hamath: for he gaue them not space to come into his owne countrie.

26 And hee sent spies vnto their tentes, which came againe, and tolde him, that they were appointed to come vpon him in the night.

27 Wherefore when the sunne was gone downe, Ionathan commanded his men to watch, and to be in armes ready to fight all the night, & sent watchmen round about the hoste.

28 But when the aduersaries heard that Ionathan was ready with his men to the battel, they feared, and trembled in their heartes, and kindled fires in their tents, and fled away.

29 Neuertheless Ionathan and his companie knew it not till the morning: for they saw the fiers burning.

30 Then Ionathan followed vpon them, but he could not ouertake them: for they were gone ouer the flood Eleutherus.

31 So Ionathan turned to the Arabians, which were called Zabedei, and slewe them, and tooke their spoile.

32 He proceeded further also, and came vnto Damascus, and went thorow all the countrey.

33 But Simon his brother went forth, and came to Ascalon, and to the next holdes, departing vnto Ioppe, and wanne it.

34 For he heard that he would deliuer the holde to them that rooke Demetrius part: wherefore hee set a garrison there to keepe it.

35 ¶ After this came Ionathan home, and called the Elders of the people together, and deuised w̃ them for to builde vp the strong holds in Iudea, 36 And to make ỹ walles of Ierusalem hyer, & to make a great mount betwixt the castell & the city, for to separate it from the citie, ỹ it might be alone, & that men shoulde neither bie nor sel in it.

37 So they came together to build vp the city: for part of the wall vpon the brooke of the Eastside was fallen downe, and they repaired it, and called it Caphenatha.

38 Simon also set vp Adida in Sephela, and made it strong with gates and barres.

39 ¶ In the meane time Tryphon purposed to reigne in Asia, & to be crowned when he had slaine the King Antiochus. Joseph. Antiq. 13. chap. 9.

40 But he was afraid that Ionathan woulde not suffer him, but fight against him: wherefore he went about to take Ionathan, and to kill him: so he departed, and came vnto Bethsan.

41 Then went Ionathan foorth against him to the battell with fourtie thousand chosen men, and came vnto Bethsan.

42 But when Tryphon saw that Ionathan came with so great an hoste, hee durst not lay hande vpon him,

43 But receiued him honourably, & commended him vnto all his friends, and gaue him rewards, and commanded his men of warre to bee as obedient vnto him as to himselfe,

44 And said vnto Ionathan, Why hast thou caused this people to take such trauaile, seeing there is no warre betweene vs?

45 Therefore send them now home againe, and chuse certaine men to waite vpon thee, and come thou with me to Ptolemais: for I will giue it thee, with the other strong holds, and the other garisons, and all them that haue the charge of the common affairs: so will I returne, and depart: for this is the cause of my comming.

46 Ionathan beleeued him, and did as he saide, and sent away his hoste, which went into the land of Iuda, 47 And reteined but three thousand with him, whereof he sent two thousand into Galile, and one thousand went with himselfe.

48 Nowe assoone as Ionathan entred into Ptolemais, they of Ptolemais shut the gates, and tooke him, and slew all them with the sword, that came in with him.

49 Then sent Tryphon an hoste of footemen, and horsemen into Galile, and into the great plaine, to destroy all Ionathans companie.

50 But when they knew that Ionathan was taken, and slaine, and those that were with him, they incouraged one another, and came foorth against them ready to the battell.

51 But when they which followed vpon them, sawe that it was a matter of life, they turned backe againe.

52 By this meanes al they came into the land of Iuda peaceably, and bewailed Ionathan, and them that were with him, and feared greatly, and all Israel made great lamentation.

53 For all the heathen that were rounde about them, sought to destroy them.

54 For they said, Now haue they no captaine, nor any man to helpe them: therefore let vs now fight against them, and roote out their memorie from among men.

CHAP. XIII.

1 After Ionathan was taken, Simon is chosen captaine. 17 Tryphon taken his children, and money for the redemption of Ionathan, killeth him and his children. 31 Tryphon killeth Antiochus, and possesseth the Realme. 36 Demetrius taketh truce with Simon. 43 Simon winneth Gaza. 50 Hee possesseth the tower of Sion. 53 He maketh his sonne Iohn captaine.

NOwe when Simon heard that Tryphon gathered a great hoste to come into the land of Iuda, and to destroy it, Joseph. Antiq. 13. chap. 9.

2 And sawe that the people was in great trembling and feare, he came vp to Ierusalem, and gathered the people together,

3 And gaue them exhortation, saying, Ye know what great things I, and my brethren, and my fathers house haue done for the Lawe & the Sanctuarie, and the battels, & troubles that we haue seene.

4 By reason whereof all my brethren are slaine for Israels sake, and I am left alone.

5 Nowe therefore God forbid, that I shoulde spare mine owne life in any time of trouble: for I am not better then my brethren.

6 But I wil auenge my nation, & the Sanctuarie, & our wiues, and our children: for all the heathen are gathered together to destroy vs of very malice.

7 In hearing these words the hearts of the people were kindled,

8 So that they cried with a loude voyce, saying, Thou shalt bee our captaine in steade of Iudas and Ionathan thy brethren.

9 Fight thou our battels, and whatsoeuer thou commandest vs, we will doe it.

10 ¶ So he gathered all the men of warre, making haste to finish the walles of Ierusalem, and fortified it round about, 11 Then sent he Ionathan the sonne of Absalomus with a great host vnto Ioppe, which droue the out that were therein, and remained there himselfe.

12 Tryphon also remoued from Ptolemais with a great armie, to come into the land of Iuda, & Ionathan was with him as prisoner.

13 And Simon pitched his tents at ‖ Addidis vpon the open plaine? ‖ Or, Addid.

14 But when Tryphon knew that Simon stoode vp in steade of his brother Ionathan, & that he would fight against him, hee sent messengers vnto him, saying,

15 Whereas we haue kept Ionathan thy brother, it is for money that hee is owing in the Kings account concerning the busines that he had in hand.

16 Wherefore send now an hundreth talents of siluer, and his two sonnes for hostages, that when he is let go forth, hee will not turne from vs, and wee we will ſend him againe.

17 Neuertheles Simon knew that he diſſembled in his wordes, yet commaunded he the money and children to be deliuered vnto him, leaſt hee ſhould be in greater hatred of the people of Iſrael, 18 Who might haue ſayd, Becauſe he ſent him not the money and the children, therefore is Ionathan dead.

19 So he ſent the children & an hundreth talents: but he diſſembled, and would not let Ionathan go.

20 ¶ Afterward came Tryphon into the land to deſtroy it, and went rounde about by the way, that leadeth vnto Adora: but whereſoeuer they went, thither went Simon and his hoſte.

21 Now they that were in the caſtell, ſent meſſengers vnto Tryphon, that hee ſhould make haſte to come by the wildernes, & to ſend them vitailes.

22 So Tryphon made ready all his horſemen: but the ſame night fell a very great ſnowe, ſo that he came not, becauſe of the ſnow: but hee remoued and went into the countrey of Galaad.

23 And when hee came neere to Baſcama, hee ſlewe Ionathan, and he was buried there.

24 So Tryphon returned, and went into his owne land.

25 ¶ Then ſent Simon to take the bones of Ionathan his brother, and they buried him in Modin his fathers citie.

26 And all Iſrael bewayled him with great lamentation, and mourned for him very long.

27 And Simon made vpon the ſepulchre of his father and his brethren, a building hie to looke vnto, of hewen ſtone behind and before,

28 And ſet vp ſeuen pillars vpon it, one againſt another, for his father, his mother, and foure brethren, 29 And ſet great pillars round about them, and ſet armes vpon the pillars for a perperual memorie, and carued ſhips beſide the armes, that they might be ſeene of men ſayling in the ſea.

30 This ſepulchre which hee made at Modin, ſtandeth yet vnto this day.

Ioſeph. Anti. 13. cap. 10.

31 ¶ Nowe as Tryphon went foorth with the yong King Antiochus, he ſlew him traiterouſly, 32 And reigned in his ſteade, and crowned him ſelf King of Aſia, and brought a great plague vpon the land.

33 Simon alſo built vp the caſtels of Iudea, and compaſſed them about with hie towers, and great walles, euen with towers, and gates, and barres, and layde vp vitailes in the ſtrong holdes, 34 Moreouer Simon choſe certaine men & ſent them to king Demetrius, that hee would diſcharge the land: for all Tryphons doings were robberies.

35 Whereupon Demetrius the king anſwered him, and wrote vnto him after this maner, 36 DEMETRIVS the King vnto Simon the hie Prieſt, and the friend of Kings, & to the Elders and to the nation of the Iwes ſendeth greeting.

‖ Or, collar, or, bawbicke: in Greeke Bainen, wſhaben.

37 The golden crowne, and ‖ precious ſtone that ye ſent vnto vs, haue we receiued, and are ready to make a ſtedfaſt peace with you, and to write vnto the officers, to releaſe you of the things wherein we made you free.

38 So the things that wee haue graunted you, ſhall be ſtable: the ſtrong holdes which yee haue builded, ſhalbe your owne.

39 Alſo we forgiue the ouerſights, and faultes committed vnto this day, and the crowne taxe that ye ought vs: and wheres was any other tribute in Ieruſalem, it ſhalbe now no tribute.

40 And they that are meete among you to bee written with our men, let them be written vp, that there may be peace betweene vs.

41 Thus the yoke of the heathen was taken from Iſrael in the hundred and ſeuentie yeere.

42 And the people of Iſrael began to write in their letters, and publique inſtruments, IN THE FIRST yeere of Simon, the hie and chiefe Prieſt, gouernour and prince of the Iewes.

43 In thoſe dayes Simon camped againſt Gaza, and beſieged it round about, where he ſet vp an engine of warre, and approched neere the citie, and beat a tower, and tooke it.

44 So they that were in the engine, leapt into the citie, and there was great trouble in the citie,

45 In ſo much that the people of the citie rent their clothes, and climed vp vpon the walles with their wiues, & children, & cried with a loude voice, beſeeching Simon to grant them peace, ſaying, 46 Deale not with vs according to our wickednes, but according to thy mercie.

47 Then Simon pitied them, and would fight no more againſt them, but put them out of the citie, and cleanſed the houſes, wherein the idoles were, and ſo entred thereunto with Pſalmes and thankeſgiuing.

48 So when he had caſt all the filthines out, hee ſet ſuch men in it as kept the Law, and fortified it, and builded there a dwelling place for himſelfe.

49 Nowe when they in the caſtell at Ieruſalem were kept, that they could not come foorth nor go into the countrey, neither buy nor ſell, they were very hungry, and many of them were famiſhed to death,

50 In ſo much that they beſought Simon to make peace with them: which he granted them, & put them out from thence, and cleanſed the caſtell from filthines.

51 And vpon the three and twentie day of the ſecond moneth, in the hundreth ſeuentie and one yeere, they entred into it with thankeſgiuing, and branches of palme trees, and with harpes, and with cymbales, and with violes, & with pſalms, & ſongs, becauſe the great enemie of Iſrael was ouercome.

52 And he ordained that the ſame day ſhoulde be kept ſeuery yeere with gladnes.

53 And hee fortified the mount of the Temple that was beſide the caſtell where he dwelt himſelfe with his company.

54 Simon alſo ſeeing that Iohn his ſonne was now a man, he made him captaine of all the hoſtes, and cauſed him to dwell in ¶ Gazaris. ‖ Or, Gaza.

CHAP. XIIII.

1 Demetrius is ouercome of Arſaces. Simon being captaine, there is great quietneſſe in Iſrael. 15 The couenant of friendſhip with the Romanes, and with the people of Sparta is renued.

IN the hundred ſeuentie and two yeere gathered king Demetrius his hoſte, and departed vnto Media, to get him helpe for to fight againſt Tryphon.

2 But when Arſaces the King of Perſia and Media heard, that Demetrius was entred within his borders, hee ſent one of his princes to take him aliue.

3 So he went, and ouercame the armie of Demetrius, and tooke him, and brought him to Arſaces, which kept him in warde.

4 Thus all the land of Iuda was in reſt, ſo long as Simon liued: for he ſought the wealth of his nation: therefore were they glad to haue him for their ruler, and to doe him worthip alway.

5 Simon alſo wanne the citie of Ioppe to his great honour to be an hauen towne, and made it an entrance vnto the yles of the ſea.

6 He enlarged alſo the borders of his people, there and conquered the countreys.

7 Hee gathered vp many of their people that were priſoners, & he had the dominion of Gazaris, and Beth-ſura, & the caſtell, which he clenſed from filthines, and there was no man that reſiſted him,

8 So that euery man tilled his ground in peace, & the land gaue her fruits, & the trees gaue their fruit.

9 The Elders ſate in the open places, and conſulted all together for the common wealth, and the yong men were honourably clothed and armed.

10 Hee prouided vitailes for the cities, and all kinde of munition, ſo that his glorious fame was renoumed vnto the end of the world.

11 He made peace throughout the land, and Iſrael had perfite mirth and ioy.

12 For euery man ſate vnder his vine, and the fig trees, and there was no man to fray them.

13 There was none in the land to fight againſt them: for then the kings were ouercome.

14 He helped all thoſe that were in aduerſitie among his people: hee was diligent to ſee the Law kept, and he tooke away the vngodly, and wicked.

15 He beautified the Sanctuarie, and encreaſed the veſſels of the Temple.

16 When the Romanes heard, and the Spartians had knowledge, that Ionathan was dead, they were verie ſorie.

17 But when they heard that Simon his brother was made hie Prieſt in his ſteade, and howe he had wonne the land againe with the cities in it, 18 They wrote vnto him in tables of braſſe, to renue the friendſhip, and bond of loue, which they had made with Iudas and Ionathan his brethren.

19 Which writings were reade before the congregation at Ieruſalem, and this is the copie of the letters that the Spartians ſent, 20 THE SENATORS and citie of Sparta vnto Simon the great Prieſt, and to the Elders, and to the Prieſts, and to the reſidue of the people of the Iewes their brethren ſend greeting.

21 When your ambaſſadours that were ſent vnto our people, certified vs of your glory & honour, we were glad of their comming, 22 And haue regiſtred their ambaſſage in the publique records in this manner, NVMENIVS the ſonne of Antiochus, and Antipater the ſonne of Iaſon the Iewes Ambaſſadours, came vnto vs, to renue amitie with vs.

23 And it pleaſed ȳ people, that the men ſhould be honorably intreated, and ȳ the copy of their ambaſſage ſhould be regiſtred in the publique records, that it might be for a memoriall vnto the people of Sparta: and a copie of the ſame was ſent to Simon the chiefe Prieſt.

24 After this Simon ſent Numenius to Rome, with a great ſhielde of golde of a thouſand pounde weight, to confirme the friendſhip with them.

25 Which when the people vnderſtood, they ſayd, What thankes ſhal we recompence againe vnto Simon and his children?

26 For he and his brethren, and the houſe of his father haue ſtabliſhed Iſrael, and ouercome their enemies, and haue confirmed the libertie thereof: therfore they wrote this in tables of braſſe, and ſet it vpon pillars in mount Sion.

27 The copie of the writing is this, In the eight and twentie day of the moneth ‖ Elul in the hundreth ſeuentie and two yeere, in the third yeere of Simon the hie Prieſt. ‖ Or, Auguſt.

28 In ‖ Saramel in the great congregation of the Prieſts, and of the people, and of the gouernors of the nation, and of the Elders of the countrey, wee would ſignifie vnto you, that many battels haue bene fought in our countrey. ‖ Or, Ieruſalem.

29 Wherein Simon ȳ ſonne of Mattathias (come of the children of Iarib) and his brethren put themſelues in danger, and reſiſted the enemies of their nation, that their Sanctuarie, and Lawe might be mainteined, and did their nation great honour.

30 For Ionathan gathered his nation together, & became their hie Prieſt, and is laid with his people.

31 After that would their enemies haue inuaded their countrey, and deſtroied their lande, and lay their hands on their Sanctuarie, 32 Then Simon reſiſted them, and fought for his nation, and ſpent much of his owne ſubſtance, and armed the valiant men of his nation, and gaue them wages.

33 He fortified alſo the cities of Iudea, & Beth-ſura that lyeth vpon the borders of Iudea, (where the ordinance of their enemies lay ſometime) and ſet there a gariſon of the Iewes.

34 And he fortified Ioppe, which lieth vpō the ſea, & Gazara that bordereth vpon Azotus, (where the enemies dwelt afore) & there he placed Iewes, and furniſhed them with things neceſſary for the reparation thereof.

35 Now when the people ſaw the faithfulnes of Simon, and to what glory he thought to bring his nation vnto, they made him their gouernour, and the chief Prieſt, becauſe he had done al theſe things, and for the vprightnes, and fidelitie that he had kept to his nation, and that ſought by al meanes to exalt his people.

36 For in his time they proſpered well by him, ſo that the heathen were taken out of their countrey, and they alſo which were in the citie of Dauid at Ieruſalem, where they had made them a caſtell, out of the which they went, and defiled all things that were about the Sanctuarie, and did great hurt vnto religion.

37 And he ſet Iewes in it, and fortified it, for the aſſurance of the lande, and citie, and rayſed vp the walles of Ieruſalem.

38 And king Demetrius confirmed him in his hie Prieſthood for theſe cauſes, 39 And made him one of his friends, and gaue him great honour.

40 For it was reported that the Romanes called the Iewes their friends, and confederates, and that they honourably receiued Simons Ambaſſadours,

41 And that the Iewes, and Prieſts conſented, that Simon ſhoulde be their Prince, and hie Prieſt perpetually, till God raiſed vp the true Propher,

42 And that hee ſhould be their captaine, and haue the charge of the Sanctuarie, and ſo ſet men ouer the workes, and ouer the countrey, and ouer the weapons, and ouer the fortreſſes, & that ſhould make prouiſion for the holy things,

43 And that he ſhould be obeyed of euery man, and that all the writings in the countrey ſhoulde

be

be made in his name, and that he ſhould be clothed in purple, and were golde,

44 And that it ſhoulde not bee lawfull for any of the people or Prieſtes to breake any of theſe things, or to withſtande his wordes, or to call any congregation in the countrey without him, or bee clothed in purple, or were a colar of gold:

45 And if any did contrary to theſe things, or brake any of them, he ſhould be punithed.

46 So it pleaſed all ye people to agree that it ſhould be done to Simon according vnto theſe wordes.

47 Simon alſo accepted it, and was content to be the high prieſt, and the captaine, and the Prince of the Iewes, and of the Prieſtes, and to bee the cheife of all.

48 And they commanded to ſet vp this writing in tables of braſſe, and to faſten it to the wall that compaſſed the Sanctuarie in an open place, 49 And that a copie of the ſame ſhould be laide vp in the treaſurie, that Simon and his ſonnes might haue it.

CHAP XV.

1 Antiochus maketh a couenant of friendſhip with Simon. 11 Tryphon is purſued. 15 The Romans write letters vnto Kings and nations in the defence of the Iewes. 27 Antiochus refuſing the helpe that Simon ſent him, breaketh his couenant.

MOreouer King Antiochus the ſonne of Demetrius ſent letters from the yles of the ſea vnto Simon the Prieſt, and prince of the Iewes, and to all the nation,

2 Conteining theſe words, ANTIOCHVS the King vnto Simon the great Preiſt, and to the nation of the Iewes ſendeth greeting.

3 For ſo much as certaine peſtelent men haue vſurped the kingdome of our fathers, I am purpoſed to chalenge the Realme againe, and to reſtore it to the oulde eſtate: wherefore I haue gathered a great hoſte, and prepared ſhippes of warre,

4 That I may goe thorowe the countrey, and be auenged of them, which haue deſtroyed our countery, and walted many cities in the Realme.

5 Nowe therefore I doe confirme vnto thee all the liberties, whereof al the kings my progenitours haue diſcharged thee, and all the payments, wherof they haue releaſed thee.

6 And I giue thee leaue to coyne money of thine owne ſtampe within thy countrey,

7 And that Ieruſalem, and the Sanctuarie bee free, and that all the weapons, that thou haſt prepared, and the fortreſſes, which thou haſt builded, and keepeſt in thine hands ſhal be thine.

8 And all that is due vnto the king, and all that ſhall be due vnto the king, I forgiue it thee, from this time foorth for euermore.

9 And when wee haue obteined our kingdome, wee will giue thee, and thy nation and the Temple great honour, ſo that your honour ſhall be knowen throughout the world.

Joſeph. Antiq. 13. chap. 11.

10 ¶ In the hundreth ſeuentie and foure yeere, went Antiochus into his fathers lande, and all the bands came together vnto him, ſo that fewe were left with Tryphon.

11 So the king Antiochus purſued him, but hee fled, and came to Dora, which lyeth by the ſea ſide.

12 For he ſawe that troubles were toward him, and that the armie had forſaken him.

13 Then camped Antiochus againſt Dora with an hundreth and twentie thouſande fighting men, and eight thouſand horſemen, 14 So he compaſſed the citie about, & the ſhips came by the ſea. Thus they preſſed the citie by land and by ſea, in ſo much that they ſuffered no man to goe in nor out.

15 In the meane ſeaſon came Numenius, & his companie from Rome, hauing letters written vnto the Kings and countries, wherein were conteyned theſe wordes, 16 LVCIVS the Conſull of Rome vnto King Ptolemeus ſendeth greeting.

17 The Ambaſſadours of the Iewes are come vnto vs as our friendes and confederates from Simon the high Prieſt, and from the people of the Iewes to renewe friendſhip, and the bond of loue, 18 Who haue brought a ſhield of gold weying a thouſand pound.

19 Wherefore we thought it good to write vnto the kings and countries, that they ſhoulde not goe about to hurt them, nor to fight againſt them, nor their cities, nor their countrey, neither to mainteyne their enemies againſt them.

20 And we werec ontent to receiue of them the ſhield.

21 If therefore there bee any peſtilent felowes fled from their countrey vnto you, deliuer them vnto Simon the hie Prieſt, that hee may puniſh them according to their owne Lawe.

22 The ſame things were written to Demetrius the King, & to Attalus, & to Arathes, & to Arſaces, 23 And to all ye countries, as ‖Sampſames, and to them of Sparta, and to ‖Delus, & to ‖Mindus, and to Sicion, and to Caria, and to Samos, and to Pamphylia, and to Lycia, and to Halicarnaſſus, and to Rhodus, and to Phaſelis, and Cos, and to Siden, and to Cortyna, and to Gnidon, and to Cyprus, and to Cyrene.

‖Or, Sampſaceis. ‖Or, Delo. ‖Or, Mydo. or, Mydus.

24 And they ſent a copie of them to Simon the hie Prieſt.

25 ¶ So Antiochus the King camped againſt Dora the ſeconde time euer ready to take it, & made diuers engins of warre, and kept Tryphon in, that he could neither goe in nor out.

26 Then Simon ſent him two thouſande choſen men to helpe him with ſiluer and golde, and much furniture.

27 Neuertheleſſe, hee woulde not receiue them, but brake al the couenant which he had made with him afore, and with drewe himſelfe from him,

28 And ſent vnto him Athenobius one of his friends to commune with him, ſaying, Ye withhold Ioppe, and Gazara with the caſtell that is at Ieruſalem, the citie of my Realme, 29 Whoſe borders yee haue deſtroyed & done great hurt in the land, and haue the gouernment of many places of my kingdome.

30 Wherefore nowe deliuer the cities, which ye haue taken, with the tributes of the places, that ye haue rule ouer without the borders of Iudea, 31 Or elſe giue mee for them fiue hundreth talents of ſiluer, and for the harme that ye haue done, and for the tributes of ye places other fiue hundreth talents: If not, wee will come, and fight againſt you.

32 So Athenobins the kings friend came to Ieruſalem, and when hee ſawe the honour of Simon, and the cupborde of golde and ſiluer plate, and ſo great prepartion, he was aſtoniſhed, and tolde him the kings meſſage.

33 Then anſwered Simon, & ſaid vnto him, We haue neither taken other mens lands, not with holden that which apperteineth to others: but our fathers heritage which our enemies had vnrighteously in possession a certaine time.

34 But when we had occasiõ, we recouered the inheritance of our fathers.

To complaine of concerning.

35 And whereas thou requirest Ioppe and Gazara, they did great harme to our people, and thorowe our countrey, yet will wee giue and hundreth talents for them, But Athenobius answered him not one worde, 36 But turned againe angry vnto the King, and tolde him all these wordes, and the dignitie of Simon, with all that he had seene: and the King was very angrie.

37 ¶In the meane time fled Tryphon by ship vnto Orthosias.

38 Then the king made Cendebeus captaine of the sea coast, and gaue him bands of footemen and horsemen, 39 And commaunded him to remoue the hoste toward Iudea, & to build vp Cedron, and to fortifie the gates, and to warre against the people: but the king pursued Tryphon.

40 So Cendebeus came vnto Iamnia, and began to vexe the people, & to inuade Iudea, and to take the people prisoners, and to slay them.

41 And he built vp Cedron, where he set horsemen and garisons, that they might make outrodes by the wayes of Iudea, as the king had commanded him.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Cendebeus the captaine of Antiochus hoste is put to flight by the sonnes of Simon. 11 Ptolomeus the sonne of Abub is killeth Simon and his two sonnes at a banket. 23 Iohn killeth them that lye in wayte for his life.

Ioseph. Anti. 13. chap. 11

THen came Iohn vp from Gazara, and tolde Simon his father, what Cendebeus had done.

2 So Simon called two of his eldest sonnes, Iudas and Iohn, and saide vnto them, I, and my brethren, and my fathers house, haue euer from our youth vnto this day fought against the enemies of Israel, & the matters haue had good successe vnder our hands, and we haue deliuered Israel oftentimes.

3 But I am nowe olde, and yee by Gods mercy are of a sufficient age: bee ye therefore in steade of me and my brother, and goe foorth and fight for our nation, and the helpe of heauen be with you.

4 So hee chose twentie thousand fighting men of the countrey with the horsemen, which went foorth against Cendebeus, and rested at Modin.

5 In the morning they arose, and went into the plaine fielde: and beholde, a mightie great hoste came against them both of footemen, and horsemen: but there was a riuer betwxt them.

6 And Iohn ranged his armie ouer against him, and when he sawe that the people was afraid to goe ouer the riuer, hee went ouer first himselfe, and the men seeing him, passed through after him.

7 Then hee diuided his men, and set the horsemen in the middes of the footemen,

8 For their enemies horsemen were very many: but when they blewe the trumpets, Cendebeus fled with his hoste, whereof many were slaine, and the remnant gate them to the fortresse.

9 Then was Iudas Iohns brother wounded: but Iohn followed after them. till he came to Cedron, which Cendebeus had built.

10 Also they fled vnto the towres, that were in the fieldes of Azotus, and those did Ihon burne with fire: thus were there slaine two thousande men of them: so he returned peacebly into the land of Iuda.

11 ¶Now in the field of Iericho was Ptolemeus the sonne of Abubus made captaine, and hee had aboundance of siluer and gold.

12 (For he had married the daughter of the hie Priest.)

13 Therefore he waxed proud in his mind, and thought to rule the land, and thought to slay Simon and his sonnes by deceite, 14 Nowe as Simon went about thorowe the cities of the countrie, and studied carefully for them, he came downe to Iericho with Mattathias, and Iudas his sonnes in the hundreth seuenty and seuen yeere, in the eleuenth moneth, which is the moneth Sabat.

15 Then the sonne of Abubus receiued them by treason into a litle holde, called Dochus which hee had built, where he made them a great banquet, & had men hid there.

16 So when Simon and his sonnes had made good cheere, Ptolemeus stood vp with his men, and tooke their weapons, and entred into Simon in the banket house, and slewe him with his two sonnes, and certaine of his seruants.

17 Whereby he committed a great vilenie, and recompensed euill for good.

18 Then wrote Ptolemeus these things and sent to the King, that hee might sende him an hoste to helpe him, and so woulde deliuer him the countrey with the cities.

19 He sent other men also vnto Gazara, to take Iohn, and sent letters vnto the captaines to come to him, and he would giue them siluer, and golde and rewardes.

20 And to Ierusalem he sent other to take it, and the mountaine of the Temple.

21 But one ranne before, and tolde Iohn in Gazara, that his father, and his brethren were slaine, and that Ptolomeus had sent to slay him.

22 When he heard this, he was sore astonished, & laid hands on them that were come to slay him, and slew them: for he knewe that they went about to kill him.

23 Concerning other things of Iohn, both of his warres, and of his noble actes (wherein he behaued himselfe manfully) of the bulding of walles which he made, and other of his deedes, 24 Behold they are written in the Chronicles of his Priesthood, from the time that he was made high Priest after his father.

THE SECOND BOOKE OF THE MACCABEES

CHAP. I.

1 An Epiſtle of the Iewes that dwelt at Ieruſalem, ſent vnto them that dwelt in Egypt, wherein they exhort them to giue thanks for the death of Antiochus. 19 Of the fire that was hid in the pit. 24 The prayer of Neemias.

THe brethren the Iewes, which be at Ieruſalem, and they that are in the countrey of Iudea, vnto the brethren ỹ Iewes, that are throughout Egypt, ſend ſalutation, and proſperitie.

2 God be gratious vnto you and remember his couenant made with Abraham, and Iſaac, and Iacob his faithfull ſeruants,

3 And giue you al an heart to worſhip him, and to doe his will with a whole heart and with a willing minde,

4 And open your hearts in his Lawe, and commandements, and ſend you peace,

5 And heare your prayers, and be reconciled with you, and neuer forſake you in time of trouble.

6 Thus now wee pray here for you.

7 When Demetrius reigned, in the hundreth, threeſcore & ninth yere, we Iewes wrote vnto you in the trouble, and violence that came vnto vs in thoſe yeeres, after that Iaſon, and his companie departed out of the holy land and kingdome,

8 And burnt the porch, & ſhed innocent blood. Then we prayed vnto the Lord, and were heard: we offered ſacrifices and fineflowre, and lighted the lampes, and ſet foorth the bread.

9 Nowe therefore keepe ye the dayes of ỹ feaſt of the Tabernacles in the moneth Caſleu.

10 ¶ In the hundreth foureſcore & eight yeere, the people that was at Ieruſalem, and in Iudea, and the counſell and Iudas, vnto Ariſtobulus King Ptolemeus maſter, which is of the ſtocke of the anointed Prieſtes, and to the Iewes that are in Egypt, ſendeth greeting and health, 11 In ſo much as God hath deliuered vs from great perils, we thanke him highly, as though wee had ouercome the king.

12 For he brought them into Perſia by heapes, that fought againſt the holy citie.

13 For albeit the captaine, and the armie, that was with him, ſeemed inuincible, yet they were ſlaine in the Temple of Nanea, by the deceit of Naneas Prieſts.

14 For Antiochus, as though hee woulde dwel with her, came thither, he, and his friends with him, to receiue money vnder the title of a dowrie.

15 But when the Prieſts of Nanea had laide it foorth, and hee was entred with a ſmall companie within the Temple, they ſhut the Temple, when Antiochus was come in,

16 And by opening a priuie doore of the vaute, they caſt ſtones, as it were thunder, vpon the captaine and his, and hauing bruiſed them in pieces, they cut off their heads and threwe them to thoſe that were without.

17 God be bleſſed in al things, which hath deliuered vp the wicked.

18 Whereas we are now purpoſed to keepe the purification of the Temlpe vpon the fiue and twentie day of the moneth Caſleu, we thought it neceſſarie to certifie you thereof, that yee alſo might keepe the feaſt of the Tabernacles, and of the fire which was giuen vs when Neemias offered ſacrifice, after that he had built the Temple, and the altar.

19 For when as our fathers were led away vnto Perſia, the Prieſts, which fought the honor of God, tooke the * fire of the altar priuily, and hid it in an hollowe pit, which was drie in the bottome, and therein they kept it, ſo that the place was vnknowen vnto euery man. *Leuit. 6. 13. and 10. 2. and 16. 12.

20 Now after many yeeres when it pleaſed God that Neemias ſhould be ſent from the king of Perſia, he ſent of the poſteritie of thoſe Prieſtes, which had hid it to fetch the fire, and as they told vs, they found no fire, but thicke water, 21 Then commaunded he them to draw it vp, and to bring it: and when the things apperteining to the ſacrifices were brought, Neemias commaunded the Prieſtes to ſprinkle the wood, & the things laide thereupon with water.

22 Whē this was done, & the time came that he ſunne ſhone, which afore was hid in ỹ cloude, there was a great fire kindled, ſo ỹ euery man marueiled.

23 Now the Prieſtes, and all prayed, while the ſacrifice was conſuming: Ionathan began, and the other anſwered thereunto.

24 And the prayer of Neemias was after this maner, O Lorde, Lord God maker of all things, which art feareful, and ſtrong, and righteous, and mercifull, and the onely and gratious king,

25 Onely liberall, onely iuſt and almightie and euerlaſting, thou that deliuereſt Iſrael from al trouble, & haſt choſen the fathers, and ſanctified them, 26 Receiue the ſacrifice for thy whole people of Iſrael, & preſerue thine owne portion, & ſanctifie it.

27 Gather thoſe together, ỹ are ſcattered from vs: deliuer them that ſerue among the heathen: looke vpon them which are deſpiſed, and abhorred, that the heathen may know that thou art our God.

28 Puniſh them that oppreſſe vs, and with pride doe vs wrong.

29 Plant thy people againe in thine holy place * as Moyſes hath ſpoken. *Deut. 30. 3.

30 And the Prieſts ſang Pſalmes thereunto.

31 Now when the ſacrifice was conſumed, Neemias commanded the great ſtones to be ſprinkled with the reſidue of the water.

32 Which when it was done, there was kindled a flame, which was conſumed by the light, that ſhined from the altar.

33 ¶ So when this matter was knowen, it was tolde the king of Perſia, that in the place where the Prieſts, which were led away, had hid fire, there appeared water, wherewith Neemias and his companie had purified the ſacrifices.

34 The King tried out the thing, and cloſed the place about, and made it holy.

35 And to them that the King fauoured, he gaue and beſtowed many giftes.

36 And Neemias called the ſame place Ephthar, which is to ſay, purification: but many men call it ‖Nephthar. ‖Or, Mephthi

CHAP. II.

4 How Ieremie hid the tabernacle, the Arke and the altar in the hill. 23 Of the fiue bookes of Iaſon conteined in one.

It

IT is found also in the writings of Ieremias ỹ Prophet, that he cõmanded them, which were caried away, to take fire, as was declared, & as the Prophet commanded them that were led into captiuitie,

* Baruch.6. 2 * Giuing them a lawe that they shoulde not forget the commaundements of the Lord, and that they should not erre in their mindes, when they saw images of golde and siluer, with their ornaments.

3 These and such other things commanded he them, and exhorted them that they should not let the Lawe goe out of their hearts.

4 It is written also, howe the Prophet, by an oracle that he had, charged them to take the tabernacle and the arke, and followe him: and when hee came vp into the mountaine where Moyses went vp, * and sawe the heritage of God,

* Deut.34.1. 5 Ieremias went foorth and founde an hollow caue, wherein he laide the Tabernacle, & the Arke, and the altar of incense, and so stopped the doore.

6 And there came certaine of those ỹ followed him, to marke the place: but they could not find it.

7 Which whẽ Ieremias perceiued, he reproued them, saying, As for that place, it shalbe vnknowen, vntill the time that God gather his people together againe, and that mercie be shewed.

8 Then shall the Lord shew them these things, and the maiestie of the Lorde shall appeare and the cloude also, as it was shewed vnder Moyses, and as

* 1.Kin.8.14.23. 30.2.chro.6.21. * when Salomon desired, that the place might bee honourably sanctified.

9 For it is manifest that he, being a wise man,

* 1.King 8.62.65 2.chro.7.5. offered the * sacrifice of dedication, and consecration of the Temple.

* Leuit.9.24. and 10.16. 10 *And as when Moyses prayed vnto the Lord, the fire came downe from heauen, and consumed the sacrifice: so, when Salomon prayed,

* 2.Chro.7.1. * the fire came downe from heauen, and consumed the burnt offering.

11 And Moyses sayd, Because the sinne offering was not eaten, therefore is it consumed.

12 So Salomon kept those eight dayes.

13 These things also are declared in ỹ writings,

‖ Some reade Ieremie. and regists of ‖ Neemias, and howe he made a librarie, and howe he gathered the acts of the Kings, and of the Prophets, and the acts of Dauid, and the epistles of the Kings concerning the holy gifts.

14 Euen so Iudas also gathered all things that came to passe by the warres that were among vs, which things we haue.

15 Wherefore if ye haue neede thereof, sende some to fetch them vnto you.

16 Whereas we then are about to celebrate the purification, we haue written vnto you, and ye shall doe well, if ye keepe the same dayes.

17 We hope also that the God, which deliuered all his people, and gaue an heritage to them all and the kingdome, and the Priesthoode, and the Sanctuarie,

* Deut.30.5. 18 *As he promised in the lawe, wil shortly haue mercy vpon vs, and gather vs together from vnder the heauen into his holy place: for he hath saued vs from great perils, and hath clensed the place.

19 As concerning Iudas Maccabeus, and his brethren, the purification of the great Temple, and the dedication of the altar,

20 And the warres against Antiochus Epiphanes, and Eupator his sonne,

21 And the manifest signes that came from heauen vnto those, which manfully stood for the Iewes religion: (for though they were but fewe, yet they ranne through whole countreyes, and putted the barbarous armies, 22 And repayred the Temple that was renowmed throughout all the worlde, and deliuered the citie, and established the Lawes, that were like to be abolished, because the Lord was mercifull vnto them with all lenitie)

23 Wee will assaye to abbridge in one volume those things, that Iason the Cyrenian hath declared in fiue bookes.

24 For considering the wonderfull number, and the difficultie that they haue that would be occupied in the rehearsall of stories, because of the diuersitie of the matters,

25 We haue endeuoured, that they that would reade, might haue pleasure, and that they which are studious, might easily keepe them in memorie, and whosoeuer reade them, might haue profite.

26 Therefore to vs that haue taken in hand this great labour, it was no easie thing to make this abbridgement, but required both sweate, & watching.

27 Like as hee that maketh a feast, and seeketh other mens commoditie, hath no small labour: so we also for many mens sakes are very well content to vndertake this great labour.

28 Leauing to the authour the exact diligence of euery particular, we will labour to goe forwarde according to ỹ prescript order of an abbridgement.

29 For as he that will builde a new house, must prouide for the whole building, but he that setteth out the plat or goeth about to paint it, seeketh but onely what is comely for the decking thereof:

30 Euen so I thinke for vs, that it appertaineth to the first writer of a story to enter deepely into it, and to make mention of all things, and to be curious in euery part.

31 But it is permitted to him that will shorten it, to vse fewe wordes, and to auoyde those things that are curious therein.

32 Here then will wee begin the storie, adding thus much to our former wordes, that it is but a foolish thing to abound in words before the storie, and to be short in the storie.

CHAP. III.

2 Of the honour done vnto the Temple by the kings of the Gentiles. 6 Simon witteth what treasure is in the Temple. 7 Heliodorus is sent to take them away. 26 He is striken of God, and healed at the prayer of Onias.

WHat time as the holy citie was inhabited with all peace, and when the Lawes were very well kept, because of the godlinesse of Onias the hie Priest, and hatred of wickednesse,

2 It came to passe that euen the Kings did honour the place, and garnished the Temple with great giftes.

3 In so much that Seleucus king of Asia of his owne rents, bare all the costs belonging to the seruice of the sacrifices.

4 But one Simon of the tribe of Beniamin being appointed ruler of the Temple, contended with the hie Priest concerning ‖ the iniquitie committed in the citie.

‖ Or, the state and prouision.

5 And when hee could not ouercome Onias, hee gate him to Apollonius the sonne of Thraseas, which then was gouernour of Coelosyria and Phenice,

6 And tolde him that the treasurie in Ierusalem was full of innumerable money, which did not belong to the prouision of the sacrifices, and that it it were possible that these things might come into the Kings hands.

7 Nowe when Apollonius came to the King, and had shewed him of the money, as it was tolde him, the King chose out Heliodorus his treasurer, and sent him with a commandement, to bring him the foresaid money.

8 Immediatly Heliodorus tooke his iourney as though he would visite the cities of Coelosyria and Phenice, but in effect to fulfill the Kings purpose.

9 So when he came to Ierusalem, and was courteously receiued of the hie Priest into the citie, hee declared what was determined concerning the money, and shewed the cause of his comming, and asked if these things were so in deede.

10 Then the hie Priest told him that there were such things laid vp by the widowes and fatherlesse, 11 And that a certaine of it belonged vnto Hircanus the sonne of Tobias a noble man, and not as that wicked Simon had reported, and that in all, there were but foure hundreth talents of siluer, and two hundreth of golde.

12 And that it were altogether vnpossible to do this wrong to them ỹ had cõmitted it of trust to the holinesse of the place & Temple, which is honoured thorow the whole world for holinesse & integritie.

13 But Heliodorus because of the Kings commandement giuen him, said that in any wise it must be brought into the Kings treasurie.

14 So he appoynted a day, and went in to take order for these things: then there was no small griefe throughout the whole citie.

15 For the Priests fell downe before the altar in the Priests garments, and called vnto heauen vpon him which had made a Law concerning things giuen to be kept, that they should be safely preserued for such as had committed them to be kept.

16 Then they that looked the hie Priest in the face, were wounded in their heart: for his countenance, and the changing of his colour declared the sorowe of his minde.

17 The man was so wrapped in feare and trembling of the body, that it was manifest to them that looked vpon him, what sorowe he had in his heart.

18 Others also came out of their houses by heapes vnto the common prayer, because the place was like to come vnto contempt.

19 And the women, girt with sackecloth vnder their breasts, filled the streetes, and the virgins that were kept in, ranne some to the gates, and some to the walles, and others looked out at the windowes.

20 And all held vp their hands toward heauen, and made prayer.

21 It was a lamentable thing to see the multitude that fell downe of all sortes, and the expectation of the high Priest being in such anguish.

22 Therefore they called vpon the Almightie Lord, that he would keepe safe and sure the things, which were laid vp for those ỹ had deliuered them.

23 Neuertheless, the thing that Heliodorus was determined to doe, that did he performe.

24 And as hee and his souldiers were now there present by the treasurie, he that is the Lorde of the spirits, & of all power, shewed a great vision, so that all they which presumed to come with him, were astonished at the power of God, and fell into feare, and trembling.

25 For there appeared vnto them an horse with a terrible man sitting vpon him, most richly barbed, and he ranne fiercely, and smote at Heliodorus with his fore feete, and it seemed that he that sate vpon the horse, had harnesse of golde.

26 Moreouer, there appeared two yong men, notable in strength, excellent in beauty, and comely in apparel, which stood by him on either side, & scourged him continually, & gaue him many sore stripes.

27 And Heliodorus fell suddenly vnto ỹ ground, and was couered with great darkenes: but they that were with him, tooke him vp, & put him in a litter.

28 Thus he that came with so great company, & many souldiers into ỹ said treasurie, was borne out: for he could not helpe himselfe with his weapons.

29 So they did knowe the power of God manifestly, but he was dumme by the power of God, and lay destitute of all hope and health.

30 And they praised the Lord that had honoured his owne place: for the Temple which a litle afore was ful of feare and trouble, when the almightie Lord appeared, was filled with ioy and gladnesse.

31 Then straightwayes certaine of Heliodorus friends prayed Onias, that he would call vpon the most High to graunt him his life, which lay ready to giue vp the ghost.

32 So the hie Priest, considering that the King might suspect that the Iewes had done Heliodorus some euill, he offered a sacrifice for the health of the man.

33 Now when the hie Priest had made his prayer, the same yong men in the same clothing appeared, and stood beside Heliodorus, saying, Giue Onias the hie Priest great thanks: for, for his sake hath the Lord graunted thee thy life:

34 And seeing that thou hast bene scourged from heauen, declare vnto all men the mightie power of God: and when they had spoken these wordes, they appeared no more.

35 So Heliodorus offered vnto the Lorde sacrifice, and made great vowes vnto him, which had graunted him his life, and thanked Onias, and went againe with his hoste to the King.

36 Then testified he vnto euery man of the great workes of God that he had seene with his eyes.

37 And when the King asked Heliodorus, who were meete to bee sent yet once againe to Ierusalem, he said, 38 If thou hast any enemie or traitour, send him thither, and thou shalt receiue him well scourged, if he escape with his life: for in that place, no doubt, there is a speciall power of God.

39 For he that dwelleth in heauen, hath his eye on that place, and defendeth it, and he beateth and destroyeth them that come to hurt it.

40 This came to passe concerning Heliodorus, and the keeping of the treasurie.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Simon reporteth euill of Onias. 7 Iason obteineth the office of the hie Priest by corrupting the King. 27 And was by Menelaus deceiued by like bribing. 34 Onias is slaine traiterously by Andronicus.

THis Simon now, of whom we spake afore, being a bewrayer of the money and of his owne naturall countrey, reported euil of Onias, as though he had moued Heliodorus vnto this, and had bene the inuenter of the euill.

2 Thus was he bolde to call him a traitour that was so beneficiall to the citie, and a defender of his nation, and so zealous of the Lawes.

3 But when his malice increased so farre, that through one that belonged to Simon, murthers were were committed,

4 Onias considering the danger of this contention, and that Apollonius, as hee that was the gouernour of Coelosyria and Phenice, did rage, and increased Simons malice,

5 He went to the King not as an accuser of the citizens, but as one that intended the common wealth both priuately and publikely.

6 For hee sawe it was not possible except the King tooke order to quiet the matters, and that Simon would not leaue off his follie.

7 But after the death of Seleucus, when Antiochus called Epiphanes, tooke the kingdome, Iason the brother of Onias laboured by vnlawful meanes to be hie Priest.

8 For hee came vnto the King, and promised him three hundreth and threescore talents of siluer, and of an other rent, fourescore talents.

9 Besides this, he promised him an hundreth and fiftie, if he might haue licence to set vp a place for exercise, and a place for the youth, and that they would ‖ name them of Ierusalem Antiochians.

‖ Or, that hee would write the Antiochians that were at Ierusalem among them.

10 The which thing when the King had graunted, and he had gotten the superioritie, he beganne immediatly to drawe his kinsemen to the customes of the Gentiles, 11 And abolished the friendly priuiledges of the Kings, that the Iewes had set vp by Iohn, the father of Eupolemus, which was sent ambassadour vnto Rome, to become friends and confederates: he put downe their Lawes and policies, and brought vp new statutes, and contrary to the Law.

12 For he presumed to build a place of exercise vnder the castell, and brought the chiefe yong men vnder his subiection, & made them were ‖ hattes.

‖ Or, buskins in token of wanssonnesse as the Gentiles did.

13 So there beganne a great desire to followe the maners of the Gentiles, and they tooke vp the fashions of strange nations by the exceeding wickednesse of Iason, not the hie Priest, but the vngodly person, 14 So that the Priestes were now no more diligent about the seruice of the altar, but despised the Temple, and regarded not the sacrifices, but made haste to be partakers of the wicked expences at the play ‖ after the casting of the stone.

‖ This game was to trie strength by casting a stone that had an hole in the middes, or a piece of metall.

15 For they did not set by the honour of their fathers, but liked the glory of the Gentiles best of all.

16 By reason whereof great calamitie came vpon them: for they had them to be their enemies and pun shers, whose customs they followed so earnestly, and desired to be like them in all things.

17 For it is not a light thing to transgresse against the Lawes of God, but the time following shall declare these things.

‖ Or, Olympian sportes, which were games kept euery fift yeere.

18 ¶ Now when the ‖ games that were vsed euery fiue yeere, were played at Tyrus, the King being present, 19 This wicked Iason sent from Ierusalem men to looke vpon them, as though they gad bene Antiochians, which brought three hundreth drachmes of siluer for a sacrifice to Hercules: albeit they that caried them, desired they might not be bestowed on the sacrifice (because it was not comely) but to be bestowed for other expenses.

20 So he that sent them, sent them for the sacrifice of Hercules: but because of those that brought them, they were giuen to the making of galleies.

21 ¶ Now Apollonius the sonne of Menastheus was sent into Egypt because of the coronation of King Ptolemeus Philometor: but when Antiochus perceiued that hee was euill affectioned toward his affaires, he sought his owne assurance, and departed from thence to Ioppe, and so came to Ierusalem.

22 Where hee was honourably receiued of Iason, and of the city, and was brought in with torchlight, and with great showtings, and so hee went with his hoste vnto Phenice.

23 Three yeere afterward Iason sent Menelaus, the foresaid Simons brother, to beare ‡ money vnto the King, and to bring to passe certaine necessarie affaires, whereof he had giuen him a memoriall.

24 But he, being commended to the King, magnified him for the appearance of his power, and turned the Priesthood vnto himselfe: for he gaue three hundreth talents of siluer more then Iason.

25 So he gate the Kings ‖ letters patents, albeit he had nothing in himselfe worthy of the hie Priesthood, but bare the stomacke of a cruell tyrant, and the wrath of a wilde beast.

‖ Or, commandement.

26 Then Iason, which had deceiued his owne brother, being deceiued by another, was compelled to flee into the countrey of the Ammonites.

27 So Menelaus gate the dominion: but as for the money that he had promised vnto the King, he tooke none order for it, albeit Sostratus the ruler of the castell required it.

28 For vnto him apperteyned the gathering of the customes: wherefore they were both called before the King.

29 Now Menelaus left his brother Lysimachus in his steade in the Priesthoode, and Sostratus left Crates which was gouernour of the Cyprians.

30 ¶ Whiles these things were in doing, the Tharsians and they of Mallot made insurrection, because they were giuen to the Kings concubine called Antiochis.

31 Then came the King in all haste, to appease the businesse, leauing Andronicus a man of authoritie to be his lieutenant.

32 Now Menelaus supposing that he had gotten a conuenient time, stole certaine vessels of gold out of the Temple, and gaue certaine of them to Andronicus: and some he solde at Tyrus and in the cities thereby.

33 Which when Onias knew of a suretie, he reproued him, and withdrew himselfe into a Sanctuarie at Daphne by Antiochia.

34 Wherefore Menelaus taking Andronicus apart, prayed him to slay Onias: so when he came to Onias, he counselled him craftily, giuing him his righe hand with an othe: (howbeit he suspect him, & perswaded him to come out of ‡ Sanctuary) so he slew him incōtinently wout any regard of righteousnes.

35 For the which cause not only the Iewes, but many other nations also were grieued, and tooke it heauily for the vnrighteous death of this man.

36 ¶ And when the king was come againe from the places about Cilicia, the Iewes that were in the citie, and certaine of the Greekes that abhorred the fact also, complained because Onias was slaine without cause.

37 Therefore Antiochus was sorie in his minde, and hee had compassion, and wept because of the modestie and great discretion of him that was dead.

38 Wherefore being kindled with anger, hee tooke away Andronicus garment of purple, & rent his clothes, & commanded him to be led throughout the citie, and in the same place wherein he had committed committed the wickednesse against Onias, he was slaine as a murtherer. Thus the Lorde rewarded him his punishment, as he had deserued.

39 ¶ Nowe when Lysimachus had done many wicked deedes in the citie through the counsell of Menelaus, and the bruit was spred abroad, the multitude gathered them together against Lysimachus: for he had caried out now much vessell of gold.

40 And when the people arose, and were full of anger, Lysimachus armed about three thousande, and began to vse vnlawful power, a certaine tyrant being their captaine, who was no lesse decayed in wit then in age.

41 But when they vnderstoode the purpose of Lysimachus, some gate stones, some great clubs, and some cast handfuls of dust, wnich lay by, vpon Lysimachns men, and those that inuaded them.

42 Whereby many of them were wounded, some were slaine, and al the other chased away: but the wicked Churchrobber himselfe they killed besides the treasurie.

43 For these causes an accusation was laide against Menelaus.

44 And whē the King came to Tyrus, three men sent from the Senate pleaded the cause before him.

45 But Menelaus, being now conuinced, promised to Ptolemeus the sonne of Dorimenes much money, if he would perswade the King.

46 So Ptolemeus went to the king into a court, where as he was to coole himselfe, and turned the kings mind.

47 In so much ẏ he discharged Menelaus from the accusations (notwithstanding he was ẏ cause of al mischiefe) & cōdēned those poore men to death, which if they had told their cause, yea, before the Scythians, they should haue bene heard as innocēt.

48 Thus were they sore punished vniustly, which followed vpon the matter for the citie, and for the people, and for the holy vessels.

49 Wherefore they of Tyrus hated ẏ wickednes, and ministred all things liberally for their buriall.

50 And so through the couetousnesse of them that were in power, Menelaus remained in authoritie, increasing in malice, and declared himselfe a great traitour to the citizens.

CHAP. V.

1 Of the signes and tokens seene in Ierusalem. 6 Of the ende and wickednesse of Iason. 11 The pursuite of Antiochus against the Iewes. 15 The spoyling of the Temple. 27 Maccabeus fleeth into the wildernesse.

ABout the same time Antiochus vndertooke his second voyage into Egypt.

2 And then were there seene throughout all the citie of Ierusalem, fourty dayes long, horsemen running in the aire, with robes of golde, and as bands of speare men,

3 And as troupes of horsemen set in aray, encountering and coursing one against an other with shaking of shields and multitude of darts, & drawing of swordes, and shooting of arrowes, and the glittering of the golden armour seene, and harnesse of all sorts.

4 Therefore euery man prayed, that those tokens might turne to good.

5 Nowe when there was gone forth a false rumour, as though Antiochus had bene dead, Iason tooke at the least a thousand men, & came suddenly vpon the citie, and they that were vpon the wals, being put backe, and the citie at length taken,

6 Menelaus fled into the castell, but Iason slew his owne citizens without mercie, not considering that to haue the aduantage against his kinsemen is greatest disaduantage, but thought ẏ he had gotten the victorie of his enemies, & not of his own natiō.

7 Yet hee gate not the superioritie, but at the last receiued shame for the reward of his treason, and went againe like a vagabonde into the countrey of the Ammonites.

8 Finally he had this ende of his wicked conuersation, that hee was ‖ accused before Areta the king of the Arabians, and fled from citie to citie, being pursued of euery man, and hated as a forsaker of the Lawes, and was in abomination, as an enemie of his countrey and citizens, and was driuen into Egypt. ‖ or, shut vp.

9 Thus hee that had chased many out of their owne countrey, perished as a banished man, after that he was gone to the Lacedemonians, thinking there to haue gotten succour by reason of kinred.

10 And he that had cast many out vnburied, was throwen out himselfe, no man mourning for him, nor putting him in his graue: neyther was he partaker of his fathers sepulchre.

11 ¶ Now when these things that were done, were declared to the King, hee thought that Iudea would haue fallen from him: wherefore hee came with a furious minde out of Egypt, and tooke the citie by violence.

12 He commanded his men of warre also, that they should kil and not spare such as they met, and to slay such as went into their houses.

13 Thus was there a slaughter of yong men, and olde men, and a destruction of men and women and children, and virgins, and infants were murthered:

14 So that within three dayes were slaine foure score thousand, & fourtie thousand taken prisoners, and there were as many solde as were slaine.

15 Yet was he not content with this, but durst goe into the most holy Temple of all the worlde, hauing Menelaus that traitour to the Lawes, and to his countrey, to be his guide, 16 And with his wicked hands tooke the holy vessels, which other kings had giuen for the garnishing glory and honour of that place, and handled them with his wicked hands.

17 So hautie in his minde was Antiochus, that hee considered not, that God was not a litle wroth for the sinnes of them that dwelt in the citie, for the which such contempt came vpon that place.

18 For if they had not bene wrapped in many sinnes, hee, assoone as he had come, had suddenly bene punished, and put backe from his presumption, as Heliodorus was, whom Seleucus the king sent to viewe the treasurie.

19 But God hath not chosen the nation for the places sake, but the place for the nations sake.

20 And therefore is the place become partaker of the peoples trouble, but afterward shal it be partaker of the benefites of the Lorde, and as it is now forsaken in the wrath of the Almightie, so when the great Lord shalbe reconciled, it shalbe set vp in great worship againe.

21 ¶ So when Antiochus had taken eighteene hundred talents out of the Temple, he gate him to Antiochia in all haste, thinking in his pride to make men saile vpon the drie land, and to walke vpon the sea: such an hie minde had he.

22 But he left deputies to vexe the people at Ie-

rusalem Philip a Phrigian by birth, in maners more cruell then he that set him there.

23 And at Garizin Andronicus, and with them Menelaus, which was more grieuous to the citizens then the other, and was despiteful against the Iewes his citizens.

24 He sent also Apollonius a cruell prince, with an armie of two and twentie thousand, whome hee commaunded to slay those that were toward mans age, and to sell the women, and the yonger sorr.

25 So when he came to Ierusalem, hee fained peace, and kept him still vnto the holy day of Sabbath: and then finding the Iewes keeping the feast, he commanded his men to take their weapons.

26 And so he slew al them that were gone forth to the shewe, and running through the citie with his men armed, he murthered a great number.

27 But Iudas Maccabeus, being as it were the tenth, fled into the wilderneſſe, and liued there in the mountaines w̄ his company among the beastes, and dwelling there, and eating grasse, least they should be partakers of the filthinesse.

CHAP. VI.

1 The Iewes are compelled to leaue the Law of God. 4 The Temple is defiled. 18 The women cruelly punished. 28 The grieuous paine of Eleazarus.

NOt long after this, sent the king an olde man of ‖ Athens, for to compell the Iewes, to transgresse the Lawes of the fathers, and not to bee gouerned by the Lawe of God,

‖Or, Antiochia.

2 And to defile the Temple that was at Ierusalem, and to call it the Temple of Iupiter Olympius, and that of Garizin, according as they did ỹ dwelt at that place, Iupiter, that keepeth hospitalitie.

3 This wicked gouernment was sore and grieuous vnto the people.

4 For the Temple was full of dissolution, and gluttonie of the Gentiles, which dallied with harlots, and had to doe with women within the circuit of the holy places, and brought in such things as were not lawfull.

5 The altar also was full of such things, as were abominable and forbidden by the Lawe.

6 Neither was it lawful to keepe the Sabbaths, nor to obserue their ancient feasts, nor plainely to confesse himselfe to be a Iewe.

7 In the day of the Kings birth they were grieuously compelled perforce euery moneth to banket, and when the feast of Bacchus was kept, they were constrained to goe in the procession of Bacchus with garlands of yuie.

8 Moreouer through the counsell of Ptolemeus, there went out a commandement vnto the next cities of the heathen against the Iewes, that the like custome, and ‖ banketting should be kept,

‖Or, eating of the flesh that was sacrificed.

9 And who so would not conforme themselues to the maners of ỹ Gentiles, should be put to death: then might a man haue seene the present miserie.

10 For there were two women brought foorth, that had circumcised their sonnes, whom whē they had led rounde about the citie (the babes hanging at their breastes) they cast them downe headlong ouer the walles.

11 Some that were runne together into dennes to keepe the Sabbath day secretly, were discouered vnto Philip, and were burnt together, because that for the reuerence of the honourable day they were afraide to helpe themselues.

12 ¶ Now I beseech those which read this booke, that they bee not discouraged for these calamities, but that they iudge these afflictions, not to bee for destruction, but for a chastening of our nation.

13 For it is a token of his great goodnes not to suffer sinners long to continue, but straightwayes to punish them.

14 For the Lord doeth not long waite for vs, as for other nations, whom hee punisheth when they are come to the fulnesse of their sinnes.

15 But thus he dealeth with vs, that our sinnes should not bee heaped vp to the full, so that afterward he should punish vs.

16 And therefore hee neuer withdraweth his mercie from vs: and though he punish with aduersitie, yet doeth he neuer forsake his people.

17 But let this bee spoken now for a warning vnto vs: and now will we come to the declaring of the matter in fewe wordes.

18 ¶ Eleazar then one of ỹ principall scribes, an aged man, & of a wel fauoured coūtenance, was cōstrained to open his mouth, and to eate swines flesh.

19 But he desiring rather to die gloriously then to liue with hatred, offred himselfe willingly to the torment, and spit it out:

20 As they ought to goe to death which suffer punishment for such things, as it is not lawfull to taste of for the desire to liue.

21 But they that had the charge of this wicked banket, for that olde friendship of the man, tooke him aside priuily, and prayed him, that hee would take such flesh, as was lawfull for him to vse, and as hee would prepare for himselfe, and dissemble as though hee had eaten of the things appoynted by the king, euen the flesh of the sacrifice,

22 That in so doing he might be deliuered from death, and that for the olde friendship that was among them, he would receiue this fauour.

23 But he began to consider discreetely, and as became his age, and the excellencie of his ancient yeres, and the honour of his gray haires, whereunto hee was come, and his most honest conuersation from his childehoode, but chiefly the holy Lawe made and giuen by God: therefore hee answered consequently, and willed them straightwayes to send him to the graue.

24 For it becommeth not our age, sayde he, to dissemble, whereby many young persons might thinke, that Eleazar being fourescore yere olde and ten were now gone to ‖ another religion,

‖Or, to another maner of life.

25 And so through mine hypocrisie (for a litle time of a transitorie life) they might be deceiued by me, and I should procure malediction, and reproch to mine olde age.

26 For though I were now deliuered from the torments of men, yet could I not escape the hande of the Almightie, neither aliue nor dead.

27 Wherefore I will now change this life manfully, & wil shew my self such as mine age requireth, 28 And so wil leaue a notable example for such as be yong, to die willingly & courageously for the honourable and holy Lawes. And when he had said these wordes, immediatly he went to torment.

29 Nowe they that led him, changed the loue which they bare him before, into hatred, because of the wordes that he had spoken: for they thought it had bene a rage.

30 And as hee was ready to giue the ghost because of the strokes, he sighed and sayd, The Lorde that hath the holy knowledge, knoweth manifestly, that whereas I might haue bene deliuered from death, death, I am ſcourged and ſuffer theſe ſore paynes of my body: but in my minde I ſuffer them gladly for his religion.

31 Euen now after this maner ended he his life, leauing his death for an example of a noble courage, and a memorial of vertue, not only vnto yong men, but vnto all his nation.

CHAP. VII.

The puniſhment of the ſeuen brethren and of their mother.

IT came to paſſe alſo, that ſeuen brethren, with their mother, were taken to be compelled by the King againſt the Law, to taſte ſwines fleſh, & were tormented with ſcourges and whippes.

2 But one of them, which ſpake firſt, ſaid thus, What ſeekeſt thou? and what wouldeſt thou know of vs? we are readie to die, rather then to tranſgreſſe the Lawes of our fathers.

3 Then was the King angry, and commaunded to heate pannes and caldrons, which were incontinently made hote.

4 And he commanded the tongue of him that ſpake firſt, to be cut out, and to flay him, and to cut off the vtmoſt partes of his body in the ſight of his other brethren and his mother.

5 Now when hee was thus mangled in all his members, he commanded him to bee brought aliue to the fire, and to frye him in the panne: and while the ſmoke for a long time ſmoked out of the panne, the other brethren with their mother, exhorted one another to die couragiouſly, ſaying in this maner,

6 The Lord God doeth regard vs, and in deede taketh pleaſure in vs, as Moyſes * declared in the ſong wherein he teſtified openly, ſaying, That God will take pleaſure in his ſeruants. * Deut.32.36.

7 ¶ So when the firſt was dead after this maner, they brought the ſecond to make him a mocking ſtocke: and when they had pulled the skinne with the haire ouer his head, they asked him, if hee would eate, or he were puniſhed in all the members of the body.

8 But hee anſwered in his owne language, and ſayd, No. Wherefore he was tormented forthwith like the firſt.

9 And when he was at the laſt breath, he ſayd, Thou murtherer takeſt this preſent life from vs, but the king of the world will raiſe vs vp, which die for his Lawes, in the reſurrection of euerlaſting life.

10 ¶ After him was the thirde had in deriſion, and when they demanded his tongue, he put it out incontinently, & ſtretched forth his hands boldely, 11 And ſpake manfully, Theſe haue I had from the heauen, but now for the Law of God I deſpiſe them, and truſt that I ſhall receiue them of him againe.

12 Inſomuch that the king and they which were with him, marueiled at the yong mans courage, as at one that nothing regarded the paynes.

13 ¶ Now when hee was dead alſo, they vexed and tormented the fourth in like maner.

14 And when he was now ready to dye, he ſaid thus, It is better that we ſhould change this which we might hope for of men, and waite for our hope from God, that we may be rayſed vp againe by him: as for thee, thou ſhalt haue no reſurrection to life.

15 ¶ Afterward they brought the fifth alſo and tormented him,

16 Who looked vpon the King, and ſaid, Thou haſt power among men, and though thou bee a mortal man, thou doeſt what thou wilt: but thinke not, that God hath forſaken our nation.

17 But abide a while, and thou ſhalt ſee his great power, how he will torment thee and thy ſeede.

18 After him alſo they brought the ſixt, who being at the point of death, ſayd, Deceiue not thy ſelfe fooliſhly: for we ſuffer theſe things, which are worthy to be wondred at for our owne ſakes, becauſe we haue offended our God.

19 But thinke not thou, which vndertakeſt to fight againſt God, that thou ſhalt be vnpuniſhed.

20 But the mother was marueilous aboue all other, and worthy of honourable memory: for when ſhe ſawe her ſeuen ſonnes ſlaine within the ſpace of one day, ſhe ſuffered it with a good will, becauſe of the hope that ſhe had in the Lord.

21 Yea, ſhe exhorted euery one of them in her owne language, and being full of courage and wiſdome, ſtirred vp her womanly affections with a manly ſtomacke, and ſaid vnto them,

22 I cannot tell how ye came into my wombe: for I neither gaue you breath nor life: it is not I that ſet in order the members of your body,

23 But doubtleſſe the Creator of the worlde, which formed the birth of man, and found out the beginning of all things, will alſo of his owne mercy giue you breath and life againe, as ye now regarde not your owne ſelues, for his Lawes ſake.

24 Now Antiochus thinking himſelfe deſpiſed, and conſidering the iniurious words, while the yongeſt was yet aliue, he did exhort him not only with wordes, but ſwore alſo vnto him by an othe that he would make him rich and wealthy, if he would forſake the Lawes of his fathers, and that hee would take him as a friend, and giue him offices.

25 But when the yong man would in no caſe hearken vnto him, the King called his mother, and exhorted that ſhe would counſell the yong man to ſaue his life.

26 And when hee had exhorted her with many wordes, ſhe promiſed him that ſhe would counſell her ſonne.

27 So ſhee turned her vnto him, laughing the cruell tyrant to ſcorne, and ſpake in her owne language, O my ſonne, haue pitie vpon me, that bare thee nine moneths in my wombe, and gaue thee ſucke three yeeres, and nouriſhed thee, and tooke care for thee vnto this age, and brought thee vp.

28 I beſeech thee, my ſonne, looke vpon the heauen and the earth, and all that is therein, and conſider that God made them of things that were not, and ſo was mankinde made likewiſe.

29 Feare not this hangman, but ſhewe thy ſelfe worthy ſuch brethren by ſuffring death, that I may receiue thee in mercie with thy brethren.

30 While ſhe was yet ſpeaking theſe words, the yong man ſaid, Whom wait ye for? I will not obey the Kings commaundement: but I will obey the commandement of the Lawe that was giuen vnto our fathers by Moyſes.

31 And thou that imagineſt all miſchiefe againſt the Hebrewes, ſhalt not eſcape the hand of God.

32 For wee ſuffer theſe things, becauſe of our ſinnes,

33 But though the liuing Lord be angrie with vs a litle while for our chaſtening and correction, yet will he be reconciled with his owne ſeruants.

34 But thou, O man without religion and moſt wicked of all men, lift not thy ſelfe vp in vaine, which art puffed vp with vncertaine hope, & liftest thine hands against the seruants of God.

35 For thou hast not yet escaped the iudgement of Almightie God, which seeth all things.

36 My brethren that haue suffred a little paine, are now vnder the diuine couenant of euerlasting life: but thou through the iudgement of God, shalt suffer iust punishments for thy pride.

37 Therefore I, as my brethren haue done, offer my body & life for the Lawes of our fathers, beseeching God, that he will soone be mercifull vnto our nation, and that thou by torment and punishment mayest confesse, that he is the onely God, 38 And that in mee and my brethren the wrath of the Almightie, which is righteously fallen vpon all our nation, may cease.

39 Then the king being kindled with anger, raged more cruelly against him then the others, and tooke it grieuously, that he was mocked.

40 So he also died holily, and put his whole trust in the Lord.

41 Last of all after the sonnes, was the mother put to death.

42 Let this now be ynough spoken concerning the bankers, and extreme cruelties.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Judas gathereth together his hoste. 9 Nicanor is sent against Iudas. 16 Iudas exhorteth his soulders to constancie. 20 Nicanor is ouercome. 27 The Iewes giue thankes, after they haue put their enemies to flight, diuiding part of the spoyles vnto the fatherlesse and vnto the widowes. 30 Timotheus and Bacchides are discomfited. 35 Nicanor fleeth vnto Antiochus.

THen Iudas Maccabeus, and they that were with him, went priuily into the townes, and called their kinsfolkes and friends together, & tooke vnto them all such as continued in the Iewes religion, and assembled sixe thousand men.

2 So they called vpon the Lord, that he would haue an eye vnto his peyple, which was vexed of euery man, and haue pitie vpon the Temple that was defiled by wicked men,

3 And that hee would haue compassion vpon the citie that was destroyed, and almost brought to the ground, and that hee would heare the voyce of the blood that cryed vnto him,

4 And that hee would remember the wicked slaughter of the innocent children, & the blasphemies committed against his name, & that he would shew his hatred against the wicked.

5 Nowe when Maccabeus had gathered this multitude, he could not be withstood by ỹ heathen: for the wrath of the Lord was turned vnto mercie.

6 Therefore he came at vnwares, and burnt vp the townes and cities: yet he tooke the most commodious places, and slew many of the enemies.

7 But specially he vsed the nights to make such assaults, in so much that the bruite of his manlinesse was spread euery where.

8 ¶ So when Philippe sawe that this man increased by litle and litle, and that things prospered with him for the most part, hee wrote vnto Ptolemeus the gouernour of Coelosytia and Phenice, to helpe him in the kings businesse.

9 Then sent hee speedily Nicanor the sonne of Patroclus, a speciall friend of his, and gaue him of all nations of the heathen no lesse then twentie thousand men, to roote out the whole generation of the Iewes, and ioyned with him Gorgias a captaine, which in matters of warre had great experience.

10 Nicanor ordeined also a tribute for the king, of two thousand talents, which the Romanes should haue to be taken of ỹ Iewes ỹ were taken prisoners.

11 Therefore immediately hee sent to the cities on the sea coast, prouoking them to buye Iewes to be their seruants, promising to sell foure score and ten for one talent: but he considered not the vengeance of almighty God, that should come vpō him.

12 When Iudas then knewe of Nicanors coming, hee tolde them that were with him, of the comming of the armie.

13 Nowe were there some of them fearefull, which trusted not vnto the righteousnesse of God, but fled away, and abode not in that place.

14 But the other solde all that they had left, and besought the Lord together, to deliuer them from that wicked Nicanor, which had solde them, or euer he came neere them.

15 And though hee would not doe it for their sakes, yet for the couenant made with their fathers, and because they called vpon his holy and glorious Name.

16 And so Maccabeus called his men together, about sixe thousand, exhorting them not to be afraide of their enemies, neither to feare the great multitude of the Gentiles, which came against them vnrighteously, but to fight manly,

17 Setting before their eyes the iniurie that they had vniustly done to the holy place, & the crueltie done to the citie by derision, and the destruction of the orders established by their fathers.

18 For they, said he, trust in their weapons and boldenesse: but our confidence is in the Almightie God, which at a becke can both destroy them that come against vs, and all the world.

19 Moreouer he admonished them of the helpe that God shewed vnto their fathers, as when there perished an hundreth and fourescore and fiue thousand vnder * Sennacherib,

*2. King. 19. 35. isa. 37. 36. iob. 1. 18. ecclus. 48. 21. 1. macc. 7. 41.

20 And of the battel that they had in Babylon against the Galatians, how they came in all to ỹ battel eight thousand, with foure thousand Macedonians: & when the Macedonians were astonished, the eight thousand slew an hundreth and twenty thousand through the helpe that was giuen them from heauen, whereby they had receiued many benefites.

21 Thus when hee had made them bolde with these wordes, and ready to die for the Lawes & the countrey, he diuided his armie into foure partes, 22 And made his owne brethren captaines ouer the armie, to wit, Simon, and Ioseph and Ionathan, giuing ech one fifteene hundreth men.

23 And when ‖ Eleazarus had read the holy booke, & giuen them a token of the helpe of God, Iudas which led the forward, ioyned with Nicanor,

‖ Or, Esdras

24 And because the Almighty helped them, they slewe aboue nine thousand men, and wounded and maymed the most part of Nicanors hoste, and so put all to flight,

25 And tooke the money from those that came to buy them, and pursued them farre: but lacking time they returned.

26 For it was the day before the Sabbath, and therefore they would no longer pursue them.

27 So they tooke their weapons, and spoyled the enemies, and kept the Sabbath, giuing thankes and praysing the Lord wonderfully, which had deliuered them that day, and powred vpon them the beginning of his mercie.

*Nom. 31. 27. 1. sam. 30. 24.

28 And after the Sabbath, * they distributed the spoyles

spoiles to the sicke, and to the fatherlesse, and to the widowes, and diuided the residue among them selues and their children.

29 When this was done, and they all had made a generall prayer, they besought the mercifull Lorde to be reconciled at the length with his seruants.

30 Afterwarde with one consent they fell vpon Timotheus and Bacchides, and slewe aboue twenty thousand, and wanne hie and strong holdes, and diuided great spoyles, & gaue an equall portion vnto the sicke, and to the fatherles, and to the widowes, and to aged persons also.

31 Moreouer they gathered their weapons together, and laid them vp diligently in conuenient places, and brought the remnant of the spoyles to Ierusalem.

32 They slew also Philarches a most wicked person, which was with Timotheus, and had vexed the Iewes many wayes.

33 And when they kept the feast of Victorie in their countrey, they burnt Calistenes ȳ had set fire vpon ȳ holy gates, which was fled into a litle house: so he receiued a reward meete for his wickednesse.

34 And that most wicked Nicanor, which had brought a thousand merchants to buy the Iewes, 35 He was through ȳ helpe of the Lord brought downe of them whom he thought as nothing, in so much that he put off his glorious rayment, and fled ouerthwart the countrey like a fugitiue seruant, & came alone to Antiochia, with great dishonour through the destruction of his hoste.

36 Thus he that promised to pay tribute to the Romanes, by meanes of the prisoners of Ierusalem, brought newes, that the Iewes had a defender, and for this cause none coulde hurt the Iewes, because they followed the Lawes appointed by him.

Or, God their defender.

CHAP. IX.

1 Antiochus willing to spoyle Persepolis, is put to flight. 9 He perseuereth the Iewes he is stricken of the Lord. 13 The fained repentance of Antiochus. 28 He dieth miserably.

AT the same time, came Antiochus againe with dishonour out of the countrey of Persia.

2 For when he came to Persepolis, and went about to robbe the Temple, and to subdue the citie, the people ranne in a rage to defende themselues with their weapons, and put them to flight, and Antiochus was put to flight by the inhabitants, & returned with shame.

3 Now when he came to Ecbatane, he vnderstood the things that had come to Nicanor, and Timotheus.

4 And thē being chased in his fume, he thought to impute to the Iewes their fault, which had put him to flight, and therefore commanded his charet man to driue continually, and to dispatch the iourney: for Gods iudgement compelled him: for he had saide thus in his pride, I will make Ierusalem a common burying place of the Iewes, when I come thither.

5 And the Lorde almightie and God of Israel smote him with an incurable and inuisible plague: for assoone as he had spoken these wordes, a payne of the bowels, that was remediles, came vpon him, and sore torments of the inner parts,

6 And that most iustly: for he had tormented other mens bowels with diuers and strange torments.

7 Howbeit he would in no wise cease from his arrogancie, but swelled the more with pride, breathing out fire in his rage against the Iewes, & commanded to haste the iourney: but it came to passe that he fell downe from the charet that ranne wildly, so that all the members of his body were bruised with the great fall.

8 And thus hee that a litle afore thought hee might commaund the floods of the sea (so proude was he beyond the condition of man) and to weigh the hie mountaines in the balance, was now cast on the ground, and caried in a horsliter, declaring vnto all the manifest power of God,

9 * So that the wormes came out of the bodie of this wicked man in abundance: & whiles hee was aliue, his flesh fell off for paine and torment, and all his armie was grieued at his ‖ smell.

* Acts. 12. 23.

‖ Or, ouerwent.

10 Thus no man coulde beare, because of his stinke, him that a litle afore thought hee might reach to the starres of heauen.

11 Then hee began to leaue off his great pride, and selfewill, when hee was plagued and came to the knowledge of himselfe by the scourge of God, and by his paine which increased euery moment.

12 And when he himself might not abide his own stinke, he saide these words, It is meet to be subiect vnto God, and that a man which is mortall, should not thinke himself equal vnto God through pride.

13 This wicked person prayed also vnto ȳ Lord, who would now haue no mercy on him, 14 And saide thus that he woulde set at libertie the holy citie vnto the which he made haste to destroy it, and to make it a burying place.

15 And as touching the Iewes (whome hee had iudged not worthie to be buried, but woulde haue cast them out with their children to bee deuoured of the foules and wild beasts) he would make them all like the citizens of Athens.

16 And whereas he had spoyled the holy Temple afore, he would garnish it with great gifts, and increase the holy vessels, & of his owne rents beare the charges belonging to the sacrifices.

17 Yea, and that he woulde also become a Iewe himselfe, and goe thorow all the world that was inhabited, and preach the power of God.

18 But for all this his paines woulde not cease: for the iust iudgement of God was come vpon him: therefore despairing of his health he wrote vnto the Iewes this letter vnderwritten, conteyning the forme of a supplication.

19 ¶ THE KING and Prince Antiochus vnto the Iewes his louing citizens wisheth much ioy and health and prosperitie.

20 If ye and your children fare well, and if all things goe after your minde, I giue great thankes vnto God hauing hope in the heauen.

21 Though I lie sicke, yet I am mindful of your honour, and good will for the loue I beare you: therefore when I returned from the countrey of Persia, and fell into a sore disease, I thought it necessarie to care for the common safetie of all,

22 Not distrusting mine health, but hauing great hope to escape this sickenesse.

23 Therefore considering that when my father led an hoste against the high countreies, he appointed who should succeed him:

24 That if any controuersie happened contrary to his expectation, or if ȳ any tidings were brought that were grieuous, they in the land might know vnto who the affaires were committed, that they should not be troubled.

25 Again,

25 Againe, when I ponder how that the gouernours that are borderers, and neighbours vnto my kingdome, waite for all occasions and looke but for opportunity, I haue ordeined that my sonne Antiochus shall be king, whome I oft commended and committed to many of you, when I went into the hie prouinces, & haue written vnto him as followeth hereafter.

26 Therefore I pray you, and require you to remember the benefites that I haue done vnto you generally, and particularly, and that euery man will be faithfull vnto me and my sonne.

27 For I trust that he wil be gentle, and louing vnto you according vnto my minde.

28 ¶ Thus the murtherer and blasphemer suffered most grieuously, and as he had intreated other men, so he died a miserable death in a strange countrey among the mountaines.

29 And Philip that was brought vp with him, caried away his body, who fearing the sonne of Antiochus, went into Egypt to Ptolemeus Philometor.

CHAP. X.

1 Iudas Maccabeus taketh the citie and the temple. 16 The ails of Eupator. 18 The Iewes fight against the Idumeans. 23 Timotheus inuadeth Iudea, with whom Iudas ioyneth battell. 29 Fiue men appeare in the aire to the helpe of the Iewes. 37 Timotheus is slaine.

MAccabeus now and his company, through the helpe of the Lord, wanne the Temple and the citie againe,

2 And destroyed the altars, and chappels that the heathen had builded in the open places,

3 And clensed the Temple, and made another altar, and burned stones, and tooke fire of them, and offered sacrifices, and incense two yeeres, and sixe moneths after, and set forth the lamps, and the the shewbread.

4 When that was done, they fell downe flat vpon the grounde, and besought the Lorde, that they might come no more into such troubles, but if they sinned any more against him, that hee him selfe would chasten them with mercie, and that they might not be deliuered to the blasphemous and barbarous nations.

5 Nowe vpon the same day, that the strangers polluted the Temple, on the very same day it was clensed againe, euen the fiue and twenty day of the same moneth, which is ‖ Chasleu.

‖ Or, November.

6 They kept eight dayes with gladnes as in the feast of the Tabernacles, remembring, that not long afore they held the feast of the Tabernacles when they liued in the mountaines and dennes like beastes.

7 And for the same cause they bare greene boughes, and faire branches and palmes, and sang Psalmes vnto him that had giuen them good successe in clensing his place.

8 They ordeyned also by a common statute and decree, that euery yeere those dayes should be kept of the whole nation of the Iewes.

9 And this was the ende of Antiochus called Epiphanes.

10 ¶ Now will we declare the actes of Antiochus Eupator, which was the sonne of this wicked man, gathering briefly the calamities of the warres, that followed.

11 For when hee had taken the kingdome, he made one Lysias, which had bene captaine of the hoste in Phenice, and Coelosyria, ruler ouer the affaires of the realme.

12 For Ptolemeus that was called Macron purposed to doe iustice vnto the Iewes for the wrong, that had bene done vnto them, and went about to behaue himselfe peaceably with them.

13 For the which cause he was accused of his friendes before Eupator, and was called oft times traitour, because he had left Cyprus that Philometor had committed vnto him, and came to Antiochus Epiphanes: therefore seeing that hee was no more in estimation, he was discouraged, and poysoned himselfe, and died.

14 ¶ But when Gorgias was gouernour of the same places, hee intertayned strangers, and made warre oft times against the Iewes.

15 Moreouer the Idumeans that held the strong holdes, which were meete for their purpose, troubled the Iewes, and by receiuing them that were driuen from Ierusalem, tooke in hand to continue warre.

16 Then they that were with Maccabeus made prayers, and besought God that he woulde be their helper, and so they fell vpon the strong holdes of the Idumeans, 17 And assaulted them sore, that they wan the places, and slewe all that fought against them on the wall, and killed all that they met with, & slewe no lesse then twentie thousand.

18 And because certaine (which were no lesse then nine thousand) were fled into two strong castles, hauing all maner of things conuenient to susteine the siege, 19 Maccabeus left Simon, and Ioseph, and Zacheus also, and those that were with them, which were ynow to besiege them, and departed to those places which were more necessarie.

20 Now they that were with Simon, being led with couetousnesse, were intreated for money (through certaine of those that were in the castel) and tooke seuentie thousande drachmes, and let some of them escape.

21 But when it was told Maccabeus what was done, hee called the gouernours of the people together, and accused those men, that they had solde their brethren for mony, & let their enemies go.

22 So he slew them when they were conuict of treason, and immediatly wan the two castels:

23 And hauing good successe, as in al the warres that he tooke in hand, he slewe in the two castels moe then twentie thousand.

24 Nowe Timotheus whom the Iewes had ouercome afore, gathered an armie of strangers of all sorts, and brought a great troupe of horsemen out of Asia to winne Iewrie by strength.

25 But when he drew neere, Maccabeus and they that were with him, turned to pray vnto God, and sprinkled earth vpon their heads, and girded their reines with sackcloth, 26 And fell downe at the foote of the altar, and besought the Lorde to be mercifull vnto them, and to be an enemie to their enemies, and to bee an aduersarie to their aduersaries, * as the Lawe declareth.

* Exod. 23. 22. deut. 20. 4.

27 So after the prayer, they tooke their weapons, and went further from the citie, and when they came neere to the enemies, they tooke heede to themselues.

28 And when the morning appeared, they both ioyned together: the one part had the Lorde for their refuge, and pledge of prosperitie, and noble victorie, victorie, and the other tooke courage as a guide of the warre.

29 But when the battell waxed strong, there appeared vnto the enemies from heauen fiue comely men vpon horses with bridles of golde, and two of them led the Iewes,

30 And tooke Maccabeus betwixt them, and couered him on euery side with their weapons, and kept him safe, but shot darts, and lightnings against the enemies, so that they were confounded with blindenesse, and beaten downe and full of trouble.

31 There were slaine of foote men twentie thousand and fiue hundreth, and sixe hundreth horsemen.

32 As for Timotheus himselfe, he fled vnto Gazara, which was called a very strong holde, wherein Chereas was captaine.

33 But Maccabeus & his companie layde siege against the fortresses with courage for foure dayes.

34 And they that were within, trusting to the height of the place, blasphemed exceedingly, and spake horrible words.

35 Neuertheless vpon the ‖ fifth daye in the morning, twentie yong men of Maccabeus companie, whose heartes were inflamed, because of the blasphemies, came vnto the wall, and with bolde stomakes smote downe those that they met. ‖ Or, the fiue and twentie day.

36 Others also that climed vp vpon the engins of warre against them that were within, set fire vpo the towers, and burnt vp those blasphemers quicke with the fires that they had made, and others brake vp the gates, and receiued the rest of the armie, and tooke the citie.

37 And hauing founde Timotheus, that was crept into a caue, they killed him, and Chereas his brother with Appollophanes.

38 When this was done, they praysed the Lord with psalmes, and thanksgiuing, which had done so great things for Israel, and giuen the the victorie.

CHAP. XI.

Lysias goeth about to ouercome the Iewes. 8 Iudas is sent from heauen vnto the Iewes. 16 The letter of Lysias vnto the Iewes. 20 The letter of King Antiochus vnto Lysias. 27 A letter of the same vnto the Iewes. 34 A letter of the Romanes to the Iewes.

VEry shortly after this, Lysias the kings steward, and a kinsman of his, which had the gouernance of the affaires, tooke sore displeasure for the things that were done.

2 And when he had gathered about fourescore thousand, with all the horsemen, he came against the Iewes, thinking so make the citie an habitation of the Gentiles.

3 And the temple would he haue to get money by, like the other temples of the heathen: for hee would sell the Priestes office euery yeere.

4 And thus being puffed vp in his minde, because of the great number of footemen, and thousands of horsemen, & in his fourscore Elephants;

5 He came into Iudea, & drewe neere to Bethsura, which was a castle of defence, fiue furlongs from Ierusalem, and laydefore siege vnto it.

6 But when Maccabeus, and his companie knew that he besieged the holdes, they, and all the people made prayers with weeping, and teares before the Lord, that he would send a good Angel to deliuer Israel.

7 And Maccabeus him selfe first of all tooke weapons, exhorting the other that they would ieopatde themselues together with him to helpe their brethren: so they went forth together with a courragious minde.

8 And as they were there besides Ierusalem, there appeared before them vpon horsebacke a man in white cloathing, shaking his harnesse of golde.

9 Then they praysed the mercifull God all together, and tooke heart, in so much that they were ready, not onely to fight with men, but with the most cruell beastes, and to breake downe walles of yron.

10 Thus they marched forwarde in aray, hauing an helper from heauen: for the Lord was mercifull vnto them.

11 And running vpon their enemies like lyons, they slew eleuen thousande footemen, and sixteene hundreth horsemen, and put all the other to flight.

12 Many of them also being wounded, escaped naked, and Lysias himselfe fled away shamefully, & so escaped.

13 Who as he was a man of vnderstanding, considering what losse he had had, and knowing, that the Hebrewes could not be ouercome because the almightie God helped them, sent vnto them,

14 And promised, that he would consent to all things which were reasonable, & perswade the king to be their friend.

15 Maccabeus agreed to Lysias requests hauing respect in all thinges to the common wealth, and whatsoeuer Maccabeus wrote vnto Lysias concerning the Iewes, the King granted it.

16 For there were letters written vnto ỹ Iewes from Lysias containing these wordes, LYSIAS vnto the people of the Iewes sendeth greeting.

17 Iohn and Abesalom, which were sent from you, deliuered me the things that you demande by writing, and required mee to fulfill the things that they had declared. Or, Absalom.

18 Therefore what things soeuer were meete to bee reported to the King, himselfe, I haue declared them, and he granted that that was possible.

19 Therefore if ye behaue your selues as friends towarde his affaires, hereafter also I will endeuour my selfe to doe you good.

20 As concerning these things, I haue giuen cõmandement to these men, & to those whom I sent vnto you, to commune w̃ you of ỹ same particularly.

21 Fare ye well, the hundreth and eight & fourtie yeere, the foure and twentith day of ỹ moneth Dioscorinthius.

22 ¶ Nowe the Kings letter conteined these wordes, KING ANTIOCVS vnto his brother Lysias sendeth greeting.

23 Since our father is translated vnto the gods, our will is, that they which are in our Realme, liue quietly, that euery man may apply his owne affaires.

24 We vnderstand also that the Iewes woulde not consent to our father, for to bee brought vnto the customes of the Gentiles, but would keepe their owne maner of liuing: for the which cause they require of vs, that we would suffer them to liue after their owne Lawes.

25 Wherefore our minde is that this nation shall bee in rest, and haue determined to restore them their Temple, that they may bee gouerned according to the customes of their fathers.

26 Thou shalt doo well therefore to send vnto them and grant them peace, ỹ when they are certified of our minde, they may be of good comfort, and cheerefully go about their owne affaires.

27 And this was the Kings letter vnto the nation, KING ANTIOCHVS vnto the Elders of the Iewes, and to the reſt of the Iewes, ſendeth greeting.

28 If ye fare well, we haue our deſire: we are alſo in good health.

29 Menelaus declared vnto vs ſ your deſire was to returne home, & to applie your owne buſineſſe.

30 Wherefore, thoſe that will depart, we giue them free libertie, vnto the thritie day of the moneth of ‖ Panthicus, ‖ Or, April.

31 That the Iewes may vſe their owne maner of liuing and lawes, like as afore, and none of them by any maner of wayes to haue harme for things done by ignorance.

32 I haue ſent alſo Menelaus to comfort you.

33 Fare yee well: the hundreth and eyght and fourtie yeere, the fifteenth day of the moneth of Panthicus.

34 ¶ The Romanes alſo ſent a letter conteining theſe wordes, QVINTVS MEMMIVS and Titus ‖ Manilius ambaſſadours of the Romanes, vnto the people of the Iewes ſend greeting.

‖ Or, Manlius.

35 The things that Lyſias the Kings kinſeman hath granted you, we grant the ſame alſo.

36 But concerning that which hee ſhall report vnto the King, ſend hither ſome with ſpeede, when ye haue conſidered the matter diligently, that wee may conſult thereupon as ſhall be beſt for you: for we muſt go vnto Antiochia.

37 And therefore make haſte and ſende ſome men, that we may know your minde.

38 Fare well: this hundreth and eyght & fourtie yere, ſ fifteenth day of the moneth of Panthicus.

CHAP. XII.

1 Timotheus troubleth the Iewes. 3 The wicked deede of them of Ioppe againſt the Iewes. 6 Iudas is auenged of them. 9 He ſetteth fire in the hauen of Iamnia. 20 The purſuite of the Iewes againſt Timotheus. 24 Timotheus is taken & let go vnhurt. 32 Iudas purſueth Gorgias.

WHen theſe couenants were made, Lyſias went vnto the King, and the Iewes tilled their grounde.

2 But the gouernours of the places, as Timotheus and Appollonius the ſonne of Genneus, and Ieronimus, and alſo Demophon, and beſides them Nicanor the gouernour of Cyprus, woulde not let them liue in reſt and peace.

3 ¶ They of Ioppe alſo did ſuch a vile acte: they prayed the Iewes that dwelt among them, to goe with their wiues and children into the ſhippes, which they had prepared as though they had ought them none euill will.

4 And ſo by the common aduiſe of the citie, they obeyed them, and ſuſpect nothing: but when they were gone forth into the deepe, they drowned no leſſe then two hundreth of them.

5 Now when Iudas knew of this crueltie ſhewed againſt his nation, hee commanded thoſe men that were with him, to make them ready.

6 And hauing called vpon God the righteous Iudge, hee went foorth againſt the murtherers of his brethren, and ſet fire in the hauen by night, and burnt the ſhippes, and thoſe that fled thence, he ſlewe.

7 And when the citie was ſhut vp, he departed as though he would come againe, and roote out all them out of the citie of Ioppe.

8 ¶ But when hee perceiued that the Iamnites were minded to doe in like maner vnto the Iewes, which dwelt among them, 9 He came vpon the Iamnites by night, and ſet fire in the hauen with the nauie, ſo that the light of the fire was ſeene at Ieruſalem, vpon two hundreth and fourtie furlongs.

10 Now when they were gone from thence nine furlongs, in the iourney toward Timotheus, about fiue thouſand men of foote and fiue hundreth horſemen of the Arabians ſet vpon him.

11 So the battell was ſharpe, but it proſpered with Iudas through the helpe of God: the ‖ Nomades of Aarabia being ouercome, beſought Iudas to make peace with them, and promiſed to giue him certaine cattell, and to helpe him in other things.

‖ So called because they were shepheards.

12 And Iudas thinking that that they ſhould in deede be profitable concerning many things, granted them peace: whereupon they ſhoke hands, and ſo they departed to their tents.

13 ¶ Iudas alſo aſſaulted a citie called Caſpis, which was ſtrong by reaſon of a bridge, and fenced round about with walles, and had diuers kindes of people dwelling therein.

14 So they that were within it, put ſuch truſt in the ſtrength of the walles, and in ſtore of vitailes, that they were the ſlacker in their doings, reuiling them that were with Iudas, and reprocuing them: yea, they blaſphemed and ſpake ſuch wordes as were not lawfull.

15 But Maccabeus ſouldiers, calling vpon the great Prince of the worlde (which without any ‖ inſtruments, or engins of warre, did* caſt downe the walles of Iericho, in the time of Ieſus) gaue a fierce aſſault againſt the walles,

‖ Or, battel rammes.

* Ioſh. 6.20.

16 And tooke the citie by the will of God, and made an exceeding great ſlaughter, in ſo much that a lake of two furlongs broade, which lay thereby, ſeemed to flowe with blood.

17 ¶ Then departed they from thence, ſeuen hundreth and fiftie furlongs, and came to Characa vnto the Iewes that are called Tubieni.

18 But they found not Timotheus there: for he was departed from thence, and had done nothing, and had left agarriſon in a very ſtrong hold.

19 But Doſitheus, and Soſipater, which were captaines with Maccabeus, went foorth, and ſlew thoſe that Timotheus had left in the fortreſſe, more then ten thouſand men.

20 And Maccabeus prepared, and ranged his armie by bandes, and went couragiouſly againſt Timotheus, which had with him an hundreth and twentie thouſand men of foote, and two thouſand and fiue hundreth horſmen.

21 When Timotheus had knowledge of Iudas comming, he ſent the women and children, and the other baggage afore vnto a fortreſſe called Carnion (for it was hard to beſiege, & vneaſie to come vnto becauſe of the ſtraites on all ſides.)

22 But when Iudas firſt band came in ſight, the enemies were ſmitten with feare, and a trembling was among them through the preſence of him that ſeeth all things, in ſo much that they fleeing one here, another there, were oft times hurt by their owne people, and wounded with the poynte of their owne ſwordes.

23 But Iudas was very earnest in purſuing, and ſlewe slewe those wicked men: yea, he slew thirtie thousand men of them.

24 Timotheus also himselfe fell into the hands of Dositheus, and Sosipater, whome hee besought with much craft to let him go with his life, because he had many of the Iewes parents and the brethren of some of them, which, if they put him to death, should be despised.

25 So when hee had assured them with manie wordes, and promised that he would restore them without hurt, they let him goe for the health of their brethren.

26 ¶ Then went Maccabeus toward Carnion, and Atargation, and slewe fiue and twentie thousand persons.

27 And after that he had chased away and slaine them, Iudas remooued the hoste toward Ephron a strong citie, wherein was Lysias and a great multitude of all nations, and the strong yong men kept the walles defending them mightily: there was also great preparation of engins of warre, and dartes.

28 But when they had called vpon the Lorde, which with his power breaketh the strength of the enemies, they wanne the citie, and slewe fiue and twentie thousand of them that were within.

29 ¶ From thence went they to Scythopolis, which lieth sixe hundreth furlongs from Ierusalem.

30 But when the Iewes which dwelt there, testified, that the Scythopolitans delt louingly with them, & intreated them kindly in the time of their aduersitie, 31 They gaue them thankes, desiring them to be friendly still vnto them, and so they came to Ierusalem, as the feast of the weeks approched.

32 ¶ And after the feast called Pentecost they went forth against Gorgias ‖ gouernour of Idumea.

33 Who came out with three thousand men of foote and foure hundreth horsemen.

34 And when they ioyned together, a fewe of the Iewes were slaine, 35 And Dositheus one of the Baccenors, which was on horseback and a mighty man, tooke Gorgias, and laide holde of his garment, and drewe him by force, because he woulde haue taken the wicked man aliue: but an horseman of Thracia fell vpon him, & smote off his shoulder, so that Gorgias fled into Marisa.

‖ Or, with Gorgias.

36 And when they that were ‖ with Esrin, had foughten long, and were wearie, Iudas called vpon the Lord, that he would shew himselfe to be their helper, and captaine of the field,

37 And then hee began in his owne language, and sung psalmes with a loude voyce, in so much that straightwayes hee made them that were about Gorgias, to take their flight.

38 ¶ So Iudas gathered his hoste, and came into the citie of Odolla. And when the seuenth day came, they clensed themselues (as the custome was) and kept the Sabbath in the same place.

39 And vpon the day following, as necessitie required, Iudas and his company came to take vp the bodies of them that were slaine, and to burie them with their kinsmen in their fathers graues.

40 Nowe vnder the coates of euery one, that was slaine, they found iewels that had bene consecrate to the idoles of the *Iamnites, which thing is forbidden the Iewes by the Lawe. Then euery man sawe, that this was the cause wherefore they were slaine.

*Deut. 7. 25. Iob. 7. 1, 11, 12.

41 And so euery man gaue thankes vnto the Lorde, the righteous Iudge, which had opened the things that were hid.

42 And they gaue themselues to prayer, and besought him, that they should not vtterly be destroyed for the fault committed. Besides that, noble Iudas exhorted the people to keepe themselues from sinne, for so much as they saw before their eyes the things which came to passe by the sinne of those that were slaine, 43 And hauing made a gathering through the company, sent to Ierusalem about two thousande drachmes of siluer, to offer a sinne offering, doing very well, and honestly that he thought of the resurrection.

44 For if hee had not hoped, that they which were slaine, should rise againe, it had bene superfluous, and vaine, to ‖ pray for the dead.

45 And therefore hee perceiued, that there was great fauour layd vp for those that dyed godly. (It was an holy, and a good thought.) So hee made a reconciliation for the dead, that they might be deliuered from sinne.

‖ From this verse to the ende of this chapter, the Greeke text is corupt, so that no good sense, much lesse certain doctrine can be gathered thereby: Also it is euident that this place was not written by the holy Ghost, both because it dissenteth from the rest of the holy Scriptures, and also the autor of this booke acknowledging his owne infirmitie, desireth pardon, if he haue not attained to that he should. And it seemeth, that this Iason the Cyrenean, out of whom hee tooke this abbridgement, is Iosiph Ben-Gorion, who hath written in Ebreue fiue bookes of these matters, and intreating this place, maketh no mention of this prayer for the dead, lib. 3 chap. 19. for it is contrary to the custome of the Iewes, euē to this day, to pray for the dead. And though Iudas had so done, yet this particular example is not sufficient to establish a doctrine, no more then Zipporahs was to proue that women might minister the Sacraments, Exod. 4. 25. & the example of Razis that one might kill himselfe, whom this author so much commendeth, Chap. 14. 41.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The comming of Eupator into Iudea. 9 The death of Menelaus. 10 Maccabeus going to fight against Eupator, maketh his souldiers vnto prayer. 15 How fiftie thousand were in the tents of Antiochus. 21 Rhodocus the betrayer of the Iewes is taken.

IN the hundreth, fourtie and nine yere it was tolde Iudas, that Antiochus Eupator was comming with a great power into Iudea,

2 And Lysias the stewarde and ruler of his affaires with him, hauing both in their armie an hundreth and ten thousand men of foote of the Grecians, and fiue thousande horsemen, and two and twentie elephants, & three hundreth charets set with hookes.

3 Menelaus also ioyned himselfe with them, and with great deceite encouraged Antiochus, not for the sauegarde of the countrey, but because hee thought to haue bene made the gouernour.

4 But the King of Kings mooued Antiochus minde against this wicked man, and Lysias informed the King that this man was the cause of all mischiefe, so that the King commaunded to bring him to Berea to put him vnto death, as the maner was in that place.

5 Now there was in that place a towre of fiftie cubites high, full of ashes, and it had an instrument that turned rounde, and on euery side it rowled downe into the ashes.

6 And there whosoeuer was condemned of sacrilledge, or of any other grieuous crime, was cast of all men to the death.

7 And so it came to passe that this wicked man should die such a death, and it was a most iust thing that Menelaus should want burial,

8 For because he had committed many sinnes by the altar, whose fire and ashes were holy: he himselfe also died in the ashes.

9 ¶ Now the King raged in his minde, and came came to shewe himselfe more cruel vnto the Iewes then his father.

10 Which things when Iudas perceiued, he commanded the people to call vpon the Lord night & day, that if euer he had holpen them, he would now helpe them, when they should be put frō their law, from their countrey and from the holy Temple:

11 And that hee would not suffer the people, which a little afore began to recouer, to be subdued vnto the blasphemous nations.

12 So when they had done this al together, and besought the Lord for mercy with weeping, & fasting, and falling downe three dayes together, Iudas exhorted them to make themselues readie.

13 And he being a part with the Elders, tooke counsell to goe foorth, afore the King brought his hoste into Iudea, and should take the citie, & commit the matter to the helpe of the Lord.

14 So committing the charge to the Lord of the worlde, he exhorted his souldiers to fight manfully, euen vnto death for the Lawes, the Temple, the citie, their countrey, and the common wealth, and camped by Modin.

15 And so giuing his souldiers for a watchword, The victorie of God, hee picked out the manliest yong men, & went by night into the kings campe, and slew of the hoste fourteene thousande men, and the greatest elephant with all that sate vpon him.

16 Thus when they had brought a great feare, and trouble in the campe, and all things went prosperously with them, they departed.

17 This was done in the breake of the day, because the protection of the Lord did helpe them.

18 ¶ Nowe when the king had tasted the manlinesse of the Iewes, hee went about to take the holdes by policie, 19 And marched toward Beth-sura, which was a strong holde of the Iewes: but he was chased away, hurt and lost of his men.

20 For Iudas had sent vnto them that were in it, such things as were necessarie.

21 But Rhodocus which was in the Iewes hoste, disclosed the secrets to the enemies: therefore he was sought out, & when they had gotten him, they put him in prison.

22 After this did ỹ king commune with them that were in Beth-sura, & ‖ tooke truce w̄ them, departed, and ioyned battel with Iudas, who ouercame him.

‖ Or, came and tooke the right hand.

23 But when hee vnderstoode, that Philippe (whome hee had left to be ouerseer of his businesse at Antiochia) did rebell against him, hee was astonished, so that he yeelded himselfe to the Iewes, and made them an othe to doe all thinges that were right, and was appeased toward them, & offered sacrifice and adorned the Temple, and shewed great gentlenesse to the place, 24 And embraced Maccabeus, and made him captaine and gouernour from Ptolemais vnto the Gerreneans.

25 Neuertheles, when he came to Ptolemais, ỹ people of the city were not content with this agreement: and because they were grieued, they woulde that he should breake the couenants.

26 Then went Lysias vp into the iudgement seate, and excused the facte as well as he could, and perswaded them, and pacified them, and made them well affectioned, and came againe vnto Antiochia. This is the matter concerning the Kings iourney, and his returne.

CHAP. XIIII.

1 Demetrius moued by Alcimus, sendeth Nicanor to kill the Iewes. 18 Nicanor maketh a couenāt with the Iewes, 29 Which he yet breaketh through the motion of the King. 37 Nicanor commaundeth Razis to be taken, who slayeth himselfe.

AFter three yeeres was Iudas enformed that Demetrius the sonne of Seleucus was come vp with a great power and nauie by the hauen of Tripolis,

2 When he had wonne the countrey, and slaine Antiochus and his Lieutenant Lysias,

3 Now Alcimus, which had bene the high Priest, and wilfully defiled him selfe in the time that all things were confounded, seeing that by no meanes he could saue himselfe, nor haue any more entrance to the holy Altar,

4 He came to King Demetrius in the hundreth fiftie and one yeere, presenting vnto him a crowne of golde, and a palme, and of the boughes, which were vsed solemnly in the Temple, and that day he held his tongue.

5 But when hee had gotten opportunitie, and occasion for his rage, Demetrius called him to counsell, and asked him what deuises or counsels the Iewes leaned vnto.

6 To the which he answered, The Iewes that be called Asideans, whose captaine is Iudas Maccabeus, maintaine warres, and make insurrections, and will not let the Realme be in peace.

7 Therefore I, being depriued of my fathers honour (I meane the high Priesthood) am nowe come hither,

8 Partly, because I was wel affectioned vnto the Kings affaires, and secondly, because I sought the profite of mine owne citizens: for all our people, through their rashnesse, are not a litle troubled.

9 Wherefore, O King, seeing thou knowest all these things, make prouision for the countrey, and our nation which is abused, according to thine own humanitie, that is readie to helpe all men.

10 For as long as Iudas liueth, it is not possible that the matter should be well.

11 When hee had spoken these wordes, other friends also hauing euil will at Iudas, set Demetrius on fire.

12 Who immediatly called for Nicanor, the ruler of the Elephants, and made him captaine ouer Iudea, 13 And sent him forth, commanding him to slay Iudas, and to scatter them that were with him, and to make Alcimus high Priest of the great Temple.

14 Then the heathen which fled out of Iudea frō Iudas, came to Nicanor by flockes, thinking the harme & calamities of ỹ Iewes to be their welfare.

15 Now when the Iewes heard of Nicanors comming, and the gathering together of the heathen, they sprinkled themselues with earth, and prayed vnto him which had appointed himselfe a people for euer, and did alwayes defende his owne portion with euident tokens.

16 So at the commaundement of the captaine, they remooued straightwayes from thence, and came to the towne of Dessau.

17 Where Simon Iudas brother had ioyned battell with Nicanor, and was somewhat astonished through the sudden silence of the enemies.

18 Neuertheless Nicanor hearing the manlines of them that were with Iudas, and the bolde stomackes that they had for their countrey, durst not proue

prouе the matter with bloodshedding.

‖Or, Theodotus. ‖Or, Matthias.

19 Wherefore, he sent Posidonius, ‖ Theodosius, and ‖ Matthias before, to make peace.

20 So when they had taken long aduisement thereupon, & the captaine shewed it vnto the multitude, they were agreed in one minde, and consented to the couenants.

21 And they appointed a day when they should particularly come together: so when the day was come, they set for euery man his stoole.

22 Neuertheless Iudas commaunded certaine men of armes to waite in conuenient places, lest there should suddenly arise any euil through the enemies: and so they communed together of the things whereupon they had agreed.

23 Nicanor, while hee abode at Ierusalem, did none hurt, but sent away the people that were gathered together.

‖Or, had Iudas before his eyes.

24 He ‖loued Iudas, & fauoured him in his heart.

25 He prayed him also to take a wife, & to beget children: so he married, and they liued together.

26 But Alcimus perceiuing the loue that was betweene them, and vnderstanding the couenants that were made, came to Demetrius, and tolde him that Nicanor had taken strange matters in hande, and ordeined Iudas a traytour to the Realme, to be his successour.

27 Then the King was displeased, and by the reportes of this wicked man, hee wrote to Nicanor, saying, that he was very angry for the couenants, commaunding him that he should send Maccabeus in all haste prisoner vnto Antiochia.

28 When these things came to Nicanor, he was astonished and sore grieued, that hee should breake the things wherein they had agreed, seeing that that man had committed no wickednesse.

29 But because it was not commodious to him to withstand the King, he sought craftily to accomplish it.

30 Notwithstanding when Maccabeus perceiued that Nicanor began to be rough vnto him, and that he intreated him more rudely the he was wont, he perceiued that such rigour came not of good, and therefore he gathered a fewe of his men, and withdrewe himselfe from Nicanor.

31 But the other perceiuing that he was preuented by Maccabeus worthy policie, came into the great and holy Temple, and commaunded the Priests, which were offring their vsuall sacrifices, to deliuer him the man.

32 And when they sware that they could not tell where the man was, whom he sought, 33 He stretched out his right hand toward the Temple, & made an othe in this maner, If ye wil not deliuer me Iudas as a prisoner, I wil make this Temple of God a plaine field, & wil breake downe the altar, and will erect a notable Temple vnto Bacchus.

34 After these wordes hee departed: then the Priestes lift vp their handes toward heauen, and besought him that was euer the defender of their nation, saying in this maner, 35 Thou, O Lord of all things, which hast neede of nothing, wouldest that the Temple of thine habitacion should be among vs.

36 Therefore now, O most holy Lorde, keepe this house euer vndefiled, which lately was cleansed, and stoppe all the mouthes of the vnrighteous.

37 Now was there accused vnto Nicanor, Razis one of the Elders of Ierusalem, a louer of the citie, and a man of very good report, which for his loue was called a father of the Iewes.

38 For this man aforetimes when the Iewes were minded to keepe themselues vndefiled and pure, being accused to bee of the religion of the Iewes, did offer to spend his body and life, with all constancie for the religion of the Iewes.

39 So Nicanor willing to declare the hatred that he bare to the Iewes, sent about fiue hundreth men of warre to take him.

40 For hee thought by taking him to doe the Iewes much hurt.

41 But when this companie would haue taken his castle, and would haue broken the gates by violence, and commaunded to bring fire to burne the gates, so that hee was readie to bee taken on euery side, he ‖ fell on his sworde,

‖As this priuate example ought not to be followed of the godly, because it is contrary to the worde of God although the autor seeme here to approue it: so that place as touching prayer, Chap. 12. 44. though Iudas had appointed it, yet were it not sufficient to prouе a doctrine, because it is onely a particular example.

42 Willing rather to dye manfully, then to giue him selfe into the handes of wicked men, and to suffer reproch vnworthy for his noble stocke.

43 Notwithstanding what time as hee missed of his stroke for haste, and the multitude rushed in violently betweene the doores, he ranne boldely to the wall, and cast him selfe downe manfully among the multitude.

44 Which conueyed them selues lightly away, and gaue place, so that he fell vpon his bellie.

45 Neuertheless while there was yet breath in him, being kindled in his minde, hee rose vp, and though his blood gushed out like a fountaine, and he was very sore wounded, yet he ranne thorow the middest of the people,

46 And gate him to the toppe of an high rocke: so when his blood was vtterly gone, hee tooke out his owne bowels with both his handes, and threwe them vpon the people, calling vpon the Lorde of life and spirit, that hee would restore them againe vnto him, and thus he dyed.

CHAP. XV.

1 Nicanor goeth about to come vpon Iudas on the Sabbath day. 5 The blasphemie of Nicanor. 14 Maccabeus expounding vnto the Iewes the vision, incourageth them. 21 The prayer of Macabeus. 30 Maccabeus commaundeth Nicanors head and handes to bee cut off, and his tongue to bee giuen vnto the fowles. 39 The autor excuseth himselfe.

NOw when Nicanor knewe that Iudas and his companie were in the countrey of Samaria, he thought with all assurance to come vpon them, vpon the Sabbath day.

2 Neuertheless, the Iewes that were compelled to goe with him, saide, O kill not so cruelly and barbarously, but honour and sanctifie the day, that is appointed by him that seeth all things.

3 But this most wicked person demaunded, Is there a Lorde in heauen, that commaunded the Sabbath day to be kept?

4 And when they said, There is a liuing Lorde, which ruleth in the heauen, who commaunded the seuenth day to be kept,

5 Then he saide, And I am mightie vpon earth to commaund them for to arme themselues, and to performe the Kings businesse. Notwithstanding, he could not accomplish his wicked enterprise.

6 For Nicanor lifted vp with great pride, purposed to set vp a memorial of the victorie obteined of all them that were with Iudas.

7 But Maccabeus had euer sure confidence and a perfite hope that the Lord would helpe,

8 And exhorted his people not to be afraide at the comming of the heathen, but alway to remember her the helpe of God had beene shewed vnto them from heauen, and to trust now also, that they should haue the victorie by the Almightie.

9 Thus hee incouraged them by the Lawe and Prophets, putting them in remembrance of the battels that they had wonne afore, and so made them more willing.

10 And stirred vp their hearts, and shewed them also the deceitfulnes of the heathen, and how they had broken their othes.

11 Thus he armed euery one of them, not with the assurance of shields & speares, but with wholesome wordes and exhortations, and shewed them a dreame worthy to be beleeued, and reioyced them greatly.

12 And this was his vision, He thought that he sawe Onias (which had bene the high Priest, a vertuous and a good man, reuerent in behauiour, and of sober conuersation, well spoken, and one that had bene exercited in all pointes of godlines from a childe) holding vp his hands towardes heauen, and praying for the whole people of the Iewes.

13 ¶ After this there appeared vnto him another man which was aged, honourable, and of a wonderfull dignitie, and excellencie aboue him.

14 And Onias spake, and said, This is a louer of the brethren, who prayeth much for the people, and for the holy citie, to wit, Ieremias the Prophet of God.

15 Hee thought also that Ieremias helde out his right hand, and gaue vnto Iudas a sworde of golde: and as he gaue it, he spake thus, 16 Take this holy sworde a gifte from God, wherewith thou shalt wound the aduersaries.

17 And so being comforted by the wordes of Iudas, which were very sweete & able to stirre them vp to valiantnesse and to incourage the heartes of the yong men, they determined to pitch no campe, but couragiously to set vpon them, and manfully to assaile them, and to try the matter hand to hand, because the citie and the Sanctuarie and the Temple were in danger.

18 As for their wiues, and children, & brethren and kinsfolkes, they set lesse by their danger: but their greatest and principall feare was for the holy Temple.

19 Againe they that were in the citie, were carefull for the armie that was abroad.

20 Nowe whiles they all wayted for the tryall of the matter, and the enemies nowe mette with them, and the hoste was set in aray, and the beastes were separated into conuenient places, and the horsemen were placed in the wings:

Or, elephants.

21 Maccabeus considering the comming of the multitude, and the diuers preparations of weapons, and the fiercenesse of the beastes, helde vp his handes toward heauen, calling vpon the Lord that doeth wonders, and that looked vpon them, knowing that the victory commeth not by the weapons, but that hee giueth the victorie to them that are worthy, as seemeth good vnto him.

22 Therefore in his prayer he said after this maner, O Lorde, *thou that diddest send thine Angell in the time of Ezechias King of Iudea, who in the host of Sennacherib slewe an hundreth, foure score and fiue thousand,

*4. King. 19. 35. Esa. 37. 36. Ecclus. 48. 21.

23 Sende now also thy good Angell before vs, O Lorde of heauens, for a feare and dread vnto them, 24 And let them be discomfited by the strength of thine arme, which come against thine holy people to blaspheme. Thus with these wordes he made an ende.

25 Then Nicanor and they that were with him, drew neere with trumpets and showtings for ioy.

26 But Iudas and his company praying & calling vpon God, encountered with the enemies, 27 So that with their handes they fought, but with their hearts they prayed vnto God, and slewe no lesse then fiue and thirtie thousande men: for through the presence of God they were wonderously comforted.

28 Now when they left off, and were turning againe with ioy, they vnderstoode that Nicanor himselfe was slaine for all his armour.

29 Then they made a great shout & a cry, praysing the Almightie in their owne language.

30 Therefore Iudas, which was euer the chiefe defender of his citizens both in body and minde, and which bare euer good affection towards them of his nation, commaunded to smite off Nicanors head, with his hand and shoulder, and to bring it to Ierusalem.

31 And when he came there, he called all them of his nation, and set the Priestes by the altar, and sent for them of the castel, 32 And shewed them wicked Nicanors head, and the hand of that blasphemour which hee had holden vp against the holy Temple of the Almightie with proude bragges.

33 Hee caused the tongue also of wicked Nicanor to be cut in litle pieces, and to be cast vnto the foules, & that the rewardes of his madnesse should be hanged vp before the Temple.

34 So euery man praysed toward the heauen the glorious Lord, saying, Blessed be he, that hath kept his place vndefiled.

35 He hanged also Nicanors head vpon the hie castell, for an euident and plaine token vnto all of the helpe of God.

36 And so they established all together by a common decree, that they would in no case suffer this day without keeping it holy:

37 And that the feast should be the thirteenth day of the twelfth moneth, which is called Adar in the Syrians language, the day before Mardocheus day.

38 Thus farre as concerning Nicanors matters, and from that time the Hebrewes had the citie in possession. And here will I also make an ende.

39 If I haue done wel, and as the storie required, it is the thing that I desired: but if I haue spoken slenderly and barely, it is that I could.

40 For as it is hurtfull to drinke wine alone, and then againe water: and as wine tempered with water is pleasant and delighteth the taste: so the setting out of the matter delighteth the eares of them that reade the storie. And here shall be the ende.

The Printer To the diligent Reader.

EARE Christian Reader, to the intent thou mightest the better enioy the benefite of these notes or expositions vpon the newe Testament: I thought it not amisse to declare vnto thee the vse of the same. And first, for as much as the quotations or citing of places of the Scriptures in the margent which direct to other places, conteining like phrase or sense, haue bene so placed, that none without great labour could finde out the textes alleaged, I haue made these sixe seuerall figures or markes, ✣ ✣ ⁘ ⁂ * and haue set them as well in the margent as in the text, so that thou mayest easely finde that which thou desirest. For example, in the first worde of the first Chapter of Matthew is placed this first marke ✣, looke out the like marke in the margent, & there thou shalt find, Luke 3. 23. which place agreeth to this of Matthew, and so likewise thou shalt finde in the residue. But if many quotations belong to one place, worde or sentence, the first is onely marked, and those that follow vnmarked appertaine to the same. And if it fall out that there be more then sixe directions in one columne, then is the first repeated againe, and the residue folowing in order as at the beginning: as it appeareth in the first columne of Matthewe, where both in the text and margent also, they are all two times set downe, and the foure first repeated againe.

The Notes which are directed by figures of Arithmetick, as 1. 2. 3. 4. &c. throughout the Euangelistes and Actes, declare the effect or summe of the doctrine conteined betweene one of the said figures, & the next that followeth: as for example, from the figure 1. in the first line and first worde of Matthewe vnto the figure, 2. in the 18. verse of the same Chapter, the doctrine there gathered is set downe in the margent in this sort, 1 Iesus came of Abraham of the tribe of Iuda, and of the stocke of Dauid as God promised.

And in the Epistles in like sort they declare the methode and arte which the Apostles vse, & how euery argument or reason dependeth one vpon another: these figures are begunne againe at the beginning of euery Chapter. Lastly, the Notes which goe by order of the letters of the Alphabet placed in the text, with the like answering vnto them in the margent, serue to expound & lighten the darke wordes and phrases immediatly following them. As in the first line and second worde, the letter, a, being referred vnto a, directly against him in the margent, sheweth that this worde, Booke, signifieth A rehearsall as the Hebrewes vse to speake: as Gene. 5. 1. The booke of the generations. These letters beginne at the beginning of euery Chapter, continuing vnto, z. and so beginning againe with a, if there be so many Notes that they doe exceede in number the letters of one Alphabet. This haue I faithfully done for thy commoditie, reape thou the fruite, and giue the prayse to GOD.

Farewell.

CHAP. II.

The wise men, who are the first fruites of the Gentiles, worship Christ. 14 Ioseph fleeth into Egypt with Iesus and his mother. 16 Herod slayeth the children.

✲ Luke 2.6.

1 Christ a poore childe, laid downe in a crib, and nothing set by of his owne people, receiueth not withstanding a noble witnes of his diuinitie from heauen, and of his kingly estate, of strangers: which his owne also vnwittingly allowe of, although they doe not acknowledge him.

WHen ✲ 1 IESVS then was borne at Bethleem in a Iudea, in the dayes of Herod the King, beholde, there came b Wisemen from the East to Hierusalem,

2 Saying, Where is that King of the Iewes that is borne? for we haue seene his starre in the East, and are come to worship him.

3 When King Herod heard this, he was c troubled, and all Hierusalem with him.

4 And gathering together all the d chiefe Priestes and e Scribes of the people, hee asked of them, where Christ should be borne.

5 And they sayde vnto him, At Beth-leem in Iudea: for so it is written by the Prophet,

6 ✣ And thou Beth-leem in the land of Iuda, art not the f least among the Princes of Iuda: For out of thee shall come the gouernour that g shall feede my people Israel.

7 Then Herod priuily called the Wisemen, and diligently inquired of them the time of the starre that appeared,

8 And sent them to Beth-leem, saying, Goe, and search diligently for the babe: and when ye haue found him, bring mee worde againe, that I may come also, and worship him.

9 ¶ So when they had heard the King, they departed: and loe, the starre which they had seene in the East, went before them, till it came and stoode ouer the place where the babe was.

10 And when they sawe the starre, they reioyced with an exceeding great ioy, 11 And went into the house, and founde the babe with Mary his mother, and h fel downe, and worshipped him, and opened their i treasures, and presented vnto him giftes, euen golde, and frankincense, and myrrhe.

a For there was another in the tribe of Zabulon.

g That shall rule and gouerne: for Kings are oft called feeders and shepheards of the people.

h A signe of humble and lowly reuerence.

i Thefics and costly presents, which they brought him.

12 And after they were k warned of God in a dreame, that they ſhould not go againe to Herod, they returned into their countrey another way.

13 ¶ 2 After their departure, beholde, the Angel of the Lord appeareth to Ioſeph in a dreame, ſaying, Ariſe, & take the babe and his mother, and flee into Egypt, & be there til I bring thee worde: for Herod wil ſeeke the babe, to deſtroy him.

14 So he aroſe and tooke the babe & his mother by night, and departed into Egypt, 15 And was there vnto the death of Herod, that that might be fulfilled, which is ſpoken of the Lord by the ✣Prophet, ſaying, Out of Egypt haue I called my ſonne.

16 ¶ Then Herod, ſeeing that he was mocked of the Wiſemen, was exceeding wroth, and ſent foorth, and ſlew all the male children that were in Beth-leem, and in all the coaſts thereof, from two yeere olde & vnder, according to the time which he had diligently ſearched out of the Wiſemen.

17 Then was that fulfilled which is ſpoken l by the Prophet Ieremias, ſaying, 18 ✣ In Rhama was m a voyce heard, mourning, and weeping, and great howling: n Rachel weeping for her children, and would not be comforted, becauſe they were not.

19 3 And when Herod was dead, beholde, an Angel of the Lord appeareth in a dreame to Ioſeph in Egypt, 20 Saying, Ariſe, and take the babe and his mother, and goe into the land of Iſrael: for they are dead which ſought the babes life.

21 Then he aroſe vp and tooke the babe and his mother, and came into the land of Iſrael.

22 But whē he heard ỹ Archelaus did reigne in Iudea in ſtead of his father Herod, he was afraide to go thither: yet after he was warned of God in a dreame, he turned aſide into the parts of Galile, 23 And went and dwelt in a citie called Nazareth, that it might be fulfilled which was ſpoken by the Prophets, which was, That hee ſhould be called a Nazarite.

14 But Iohn earneſtly put him backe, ſaying, I haue neede to bee baptized of thee, and commeſt thou to me?

15 Then Ieſus anſwering, ſaide to him, Let be nowe: for thus it becommeth vs to fulfill n all righteouſneſſe. So he ſuffered him.

16 And Ieſus when hee was baptized, came ſtraight out of the water. And lo, the heauēs were opened vnto o him, & Iohn ſawe the Spirit of God deſcending like a doue, and lighting vpon him.

33 8 Againe, ye haue heard that it was sayd to them of old time, ✣ Thou shalt not forsweare thy selfe, but shalt performe thine othes to the Lord.

34 But I say vnto you, Sweare not at all, neither by heauen, for it is the throne of God:

35 Nor yet by the earth for it is his foote stoole: neither by Hierusalem: for it is ỹ citie of the great King.

36 Neither shalt thou sweare by thine head, because thou canst not make one haire white or blacke.

37 ✣ But let your communication be t Yea, yea: Nay, nay. For what soeuer is more then these, commeth of u euill.

38 ¶ 9 Ye haue heard that it hath bene sayd, An ✣ eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth.

39 But I say vnto you, ∵ Resist not euill: but whosoeuer shall smite thee on the right cheeke, turne to him the other also.

40 And if any man wil sue thee at the lawe, and take away thy coate, let him haue thy cloke also.

41 And whosoeuer will compell thee to goe a mile, goe with him twaine.

42 ∴ Giue to him that asketh, and from him that would borow of thee, turne not away.

43 Ye haue heard ỹ it hath bene sayd, ✣ Thou shalt loue thy neighbour, and hate thine enemie.

44 But I say vnto you, * Loue your enemies: blesse them that curse you: doe good to them that hate you, ✣ and pray for them which hurt you, and persecute you, 45 10 ✣ That yee may be the children of your father that is in heauen: for he maketh his sunne to arise on the euill, and the good, and sendeth raine on the iust, and vniust.

46 For if ye loue them, which loue you, what rewarde shall you haue? Doe not the Publicanes euen the same?

47 And if ye be friendly to your brethren onely, what singular thing doe ye? doe not euen the x Publicanes likewise?

48 Ye shal therefore be perfite, as your Father which is in heauen, is perfite.

ỹ He speaketh of the iudgement of God, and of the difference of sinnes, & therefore applieth his wordes to the forme of ciuill iudgments, which were then vsed.

m Whereas wee reade here, Hell, it is in the text it selfe, Gehenna, which is an Hebrewe worde made of two, and is as much to say, as the valley of Hinnom, which otherwise the Ebrewes called Tophet: it was a place where the Israelites were wont most cruelly to sacrifice their children to false gods, whereupon it was taken for a place appointed to torment the reprobates in, Iere. 7. 31.

n The Iewes vsed foure kindes of punishments, before their gouernment was taken away by Herode, hanging, beheading, stoning, and burning: this is it that Christ shotte at, because burning was the greatest punishment, therefore in that he maketh mention of a iudgement, a councill, and a fire, he sheweth that some sinnes are worse then other some, but yet they are all such that wee must giue accompt for them, and shall be punished for them.

o The couetous Pharises taught that God was appeased by the sacrifices appointed in the Law, which they them selues deuoured. But Christ on the contrary side denieth that God accepteth any mans offering, vnlesse he maketh satisfaction to his brother whome he hath offended: and sayeth moreouer, that these stubburne and stiffe necked despisers of their brethren, shall neuer escape the wrath and curse of God, before they haue made full satisfaction to their brethren.

p He applieth all this speach, to the state of his time, when as there was an altar standing in Hierusalem: and therefore they are very foolish, that gather hereupon, that we must build altars, and vse sacrifices: but they are more fooles, which drawe that to purgatorie, which is spoken of peace making and atonement one with another. ✣ Luke 12.58.

q Thou shalt be dealt withall, to the vtmost extremitie.

1 Almes. 5 Prayer. 14 Forgiuing our brother. 16 Fasting. 19 Our treasure. 20 We must succour the poore. 24 God and riches. 25 Carefull seeking for meate and drinke, and apparell, forbidden. 33 The kingdome of God and his righteousnesse.

TAke heede that ye giue not your 1 almes before men, to be seene of them, or els yee shall haue no a reward of your Father which is in heauē.

1 Ambition maketh almes vaine.

a This worde, Reward, is alwayes taken in the Scriptures for a free recompence, & therefore the scholemen doe fondly set it to be answerable to a desert, which they call merite. ∵ Rom. 12 8.

2 ∵ Therefore when thou giuest thine almes, thou shalt not make a trumpet to be blowen before thee, as the b hypocrites doe in ỹ Synagogues and in the streetes, to be praysed of men. Verely I say vnto you, they haue their reward.

b Counterfeites, for Hypocrites were players that played a part in a play.

3 But when thou doest thine almes, let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doeth,

4 That thine almes may be in secret, and thy Father that seeth in secret, hee will rewarde thee openly.

2 He reprehendeth two foule faultes in prayer, ambition, and vaine babbling.

5 2 And when thou prayest, be not as the hypocrites: for they loue to stand, and pray in the Synagogues, and in the corners of the streetes, because they would be seene of men. Verely I say vnto you, they haue their reward.

6 But when thou prayest, enter into thy chamber: and when thou hast shut thy doore, pray vnto thy Father which is in secret, and thy Father which seeth in secret, shall reward thee openly.

7 Also when ye pray, vse no c vaine repetitions as the Heather: for they thinke to be heard for their much babbling.

c Long prayers are not condemned, but vaine, needlesse, and superstitious.

8 Be yee not like them therefore: for your Father

Father knoweth whereof yee haue neede, before ye aske of him.

9 3 After this maner therefore pray ye, ✣ Our father which art in heauen, halowed be thy name,

10 Thy Kingdome come, Thy will bee done euen in earth, as it is in heauen.

11 Giue vs this day our [6]dayly bread.

12 And forgiue vs our dettes, as wee also forgiue our detters.

13 And [1] leade vs not into temptation, but deliuer vs ✣ from [e] euill: for thine is the kingdome, and the power, and the glory for euer. Amen.

14 ∵ [4] For if yee doe forgiue men their trespasses, your heauenly Father will also forgiue you.

15 But if ye doe not forgiue men their trespasses, no more will your father forgiue you your trespasses.

16 [5] Moreouer, when ye fast, looke not sowre as the hypocrites: for they [f] disfigure their faces, that they might seeme vnto men to fast. Verely I say vnto you, that they haue their reward.

17 But when thou fastest, anoint thine head, and wash thy face, 18 That thou seeme not vnto men to fast, but vnto thy Father which is in secret: and thy Father which seeth in secret, will reward thee openly.

19 ¶ [6] Lay not vp treasures for your selues vpon the earth, where the mothe & canker corrupt, and where theeues digge through and steale.

20 ✻ But lay vp treasures for your selues in heaue, where neither the mothe nor canker corrupteth, & where theeues neither dig through, nor steale.

21 For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

22 ¶ ✻ [7] The light of the body is the eye: if then thineg eye be single, thy whole body shall [h] e light.

23 But if thine eye be wicked, then all thy body shalbe darke. Wherefore if the light that is in thee be darkenes, howe great is that darkenesse?

24 * [8] No man can serue [b] two masters: for eyther he shall hate the one, and loue the other, or els he shal leane to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serue God and [i] riches.

25 ✣ [9] Therefore I say vnto you, be not carefull for your life, what yee shall eate, or what yee shall drinke: nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on. Is not the life more worth then meate? and the body then raiment?

26 Behold the foules of the [k] heauen: for they sowe not, neither reape, nor cary into the barnes: yet your heauenly Father feedeth them. Are yee not much better then they?

27 Which of you by [l] taking care is able to adde one cubite vnto his stature?

28 And why care ye for raiment? Learne howe the lilies of the fielde doe growe: they [m] are not wearied, neither spinne:

29 Yet I say vnto you, that euen Solomon in all his glory was not arayed like one of these.

30 Wherefore if God so clothe the grasse of the fielde which is to day, and to morowe is cast into the ouen, shall he not doe much more vnto you, O yee of litle faith?

31 Therefore take no thought, saying, What shal we eate? or what shall we drinke? or where-with shall we be clothed?

32 (For after all these things seeke the Gentiles) for your heauenly Father knoweth, that ye haue neede of all these things.

33 But seeke yee first the kingdome of God, and his righteousnesse, and all these things shall be ministred vnto you.

34 Care not then for the morowe: for the morowe shall care for it selfe: the day hath ynough with his owne griefe.

CHAP. VII.

1 We may not giue iudgements of our neighbour, 6 Nor cast that which is holy to dogges. 13 The broade and straite way. 15 False prophets. 18 The tree and fruite. 24 The house built on a rocke, 26 and on the sande.

IVdge [1] not, that ye be not iudged.

2 For with what ✣ iudgement ye iudge, yee shall be iudged, and with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you againe.

3 And why seest thou the mote, that is in thy brothers eye, and perceiuest not the beame that is in thine owne eye?

4 ∵ Or howe sayest thou to thy brother, Suffer me to cast out the mote out of thine eye, and beholde, a beame is in thine owne eye?

5 Hypocrite, first cast out that beame out of thine owne eye, and then shalt thou see clearely to cast out the mote out of thy bothers eye.

6 ¶ [2] Giue ye not that which is holy to dogs, neither cast yee your [a] pearles before swine, lest they treade them vnder their feete, and turning againe, all to rent you.

7 ¶ ✻ [3] Aske, and it shall be giuen you: seeke, and ye shall finde: knocke, and it shalbe opened vnto you.

8 For whosoeuer asketh, receiueth: and hee that seeketh, findeth: and to him that knocketh, it shall be opened.

9 For what man is there among you, which if his sonne aske him bread, would giue him a stone?

10 Or if he aske fish, wil he giue him a serpent?

11 If ye then, which are euill, can giue to your children good giftes, howe much more shal your Father which is in heauen, giue good thinges to them that aske him?

12 ✻ [4] Therefore whatsoeuer yee woulde that men should doe to you, euen so doe yee to them: for this is the [b] Lawe and the Prophets.

13 ¶ * [5] Enter in at the straite gate: for it is the wide gate, and broade way that leadeth to destruction: & many there be which goe in thereat, 14 Because [c] the gate is streight, and the way narowe that leadeth vnto life, and fewe there be that finde it.

15 ¶ [6] Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheepes clothing, but inwardly they are rauening wolues.

16 Ye shal knowe them by their fruites. ✣ Doe men gather grapes of thornes? or figs of thistles?

17 So euery good tree bringeth foorth good fruite, & a corrupt tree bringeth forth euil fruite.

18 A good tree cannot bring forth euil fruite: neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit.

19 ✣ Euery tree that bringeth not forth good fruite, is hewen downe, and cast into the fire.

20 Therefore by their fruites yee shall knowe them.

The Leper clenſed. 5 The Centurions faith. 11 The calling of the Gentiles, 12 and caſting out of the Iewes. 14 Peters mother in lawe healed. 19 A Scribe deſirous to followe Chriſt. 23 The tempeſt on the ſea. 28 Two poſſeſſed with deuils cured. 32 The deuils goe into ſwine.

NOwe when hee was come downe from the mountaine, great multitudes followed him,

2 ✣ 1 And loe, there came a Leper and worſhipped him, ſaying, Maſter, if thou wilt, thou canſt make me cleane.

3 And Ieſus putting foorth his hand, touched him, ſaying, I will, be thou cleane: and immediatly his leproſie was clenſed.

4 Then Ieſus ſaide vnto him, See thou tell no man, but goe, and ſhewe thy ſelfe vnto the Prieſt, and offer the gift that ✣ Moſes commanded, for a witneſſe to them.

5 ¶ ∵ 2 When Ieſus was entred into Capernaum, there came vnto him a Centurion, beſeeching him,

6 And ſaide, Maſter, my ſeruant lyeth ſicke at home of the palſie, and is grieuouſly pained.

7 And Ieſus ſaide vnto him, I will come and heale him.

8 But the Centurion anſwered, ſaying, Maſter, I am not worthie that thou ſhouldeſt come vnder my roofe: but ſpeake the worde onely, and my ſeruant ſhall be healed.

9 For I am a man alſo vnder the authoritie of another, and haue ſouldiers vnder me: and I ſay to one, Goe, and he goeth: and to another, Come, and he commeth: and to my ſeruant, Doe this, and he doeth it.

10 When Ieſus heard that, he marueiled, and ſaid to them that followed him, Verely, I ſay vnto you, I haue not found ſo great faith, euē in Israel.

11 But I ſay vnto you, that many ſhall come from the Eaſt and Weſt, and ſhall a ſit downe with Abraham, and Iſaac, and Iacob, in the kingdome of heauen, 13 Then Ieſus ſaide vnto the Centurion, Goe thy way, and as thou haſt beleeued, ſō bee it vnto thee. And his ſeruant was healed the ſame houre.

14 ¶ ✣ 5 And when Ieſus came to Peters houſe, he ſawe his wiues mother layed downe, and ſicke of a feuer.

15 And hee touched her hande, and the feuer left her: ſo ſhe aroſe, and miniſtred vnto them.

16 ∵ When the Euen was come, they brought vnto him many that were poſſeſſed with deuils: and he caſt out the ſpirits with his word, and healed c all that were ſicke, 17 That it might be fulfilled, which was ſpoken by ⁎ Eſaias the Prophet, ſaying, He tooke our infirmities, and bare our ſickeneſſes.

18 ¶ ✣ And when Ieſus ſawe great multitudes of people about him, he commanded them to goe d ouer the water.

19 4 Then came there a certaine Scribe, and ſaid vnto him, Maſter, I will follow thee whitherſoeuer thou goeſt.

20 But Ieſus ſaide vnto him, The foxes haue holes, and the birdes of the heauen haue e neſtes, but the Sonne of man hath not whereon to reſt his head.

21 ¶ 5 And another of his diſciples ſaide vnto him, Maſter, ſuffer me firſt to goe, and burie my father.

22 But Ieſus ſaide vnto him, followe me, and let the dead burie their dead.

23 ¶ * 6 And when he was entred into ỹ ſhip, his diſciples followed him.

24 And beholde, there aroſe a great tempeſt in the ſea, ſo that the ſhip was couered with waues: but he was a ſleepe.

25 Then his diſciples came, and awoke him, ſaying, Maſter, ſaue vs: we periſh.

26 And he ſaid vnto them, Why are ye fearefull, O ye of little faith? Then he aroſe, & rebuked ỹ winds & the ſea: & ſo there was a great calme.

27 And the men marueiled, ſaying, What man is this, that both the windes and the ſea obey him!

28 ¶ ✣ 7 And when he was come to the other ſide into ỹ countrey of the Gergeſenes, there met him two poſſeſſed with deuils which came out of the graues very fierce, ſo that no man might goe by that way.

29 And beholde, they cryed out, ſaying, Ieſus the ſonne of God, what haue we doe with thee? Art thou come hither to tormēt vs before ỹ time?

30 Nowe there was f afarre off from them, a great heard of ſwine feeding.

31 And ỹ deuils beſought him, ſaying, If thou caſt vs out, ſuffer vs to goe into the heard of ſwine.

32 And he ſaid vnto them, Go. So they went out and departed into the heard of ſwine: and beholde, the whole heard of ſwine ranne headlong into the ſea, and dyed in the water.

33 Then the heardmen fled: and when they were come into the citie, they told all things, and what was become of them that were poſſeſſed with the deuils.

4 But when Iesus saw their thoughts, he said, Wherefore thinke ye euill things in your hearts?

5 For whether is it easier to say, Thy sinnes are forgiuen thee, or to say, Arise, and walke?

6 And that ye may know that the Sonne of man hath authoritie in earth to forgiue sinnes, (then saide he vnto the sicke of the palsie,) Arise, take vp thy bed, and go to thine house.

8 So when the multitude sawe it, they marueiled, and glorified God, which had giuen such authoritie to men.

9 ¶ ✣ [2] And as Iesus passed foorth from thence, he sawe a man sitting at the [d] custome, named Matthewe, and said to him, Followe me. And he arose, and followed him.

10 And it came to passe, as Iesus sate at meate in his house, beholde, many Publicanes and [e] sinners, that came thither, sate downe at the table with Iesus and his disciples.

11 And when the Pharises sawe that, they said to his disciples, Why eateth your master with Publicanes and sinners?

12 Nowe when Iesus heard it, hee saide vnto them, The whole neede not a Physition, but they that are sicke.

13 But goe ye and learne what this is, ∵ I wil haue mercie, and not sacrifice: for I am not come to call the righteous, but the ⁜ sinners to repentance.

14 ¶ ✣ [3] Then came the disciples of Iohn to him, saying, Why do we and the Pharises fast oft, and thy disciples fast not?

15 And Iesus saide vnto them, Can the [f] children of the marriage chamber mourne as long as the bridegrome is with them? But the dayes will come, when the bridegrome shal be taken from them, and then shall they fast.

16 Moreouer no man pieceth an olde garment with a piece of [g] new cloth: for that that should fill it vp, taketh away from the garment, and the breach is worse.

17 Neither doe they put newe wine into olde vessels: for then the vessels would breake, & the wine would be spilt, and the vessels shoulde perish: but they put new wine into new vessels, and so are both preserued.

18 ¶ * [4] While he thus spake vnto them, beholde, there came a certaine ruler, and worshipped him, saying, My daughter is nowe deceased, but come and lay thine hand on her, and she shal liue.

19 And Iesus arose and [illegible] him with his disciples.

20 (And behold, a woman which was diseased with an issue of blood twelue yeres, came behind him, and touched the hemme of his garment.

21 For she saide in her selfe, If I may touch but his garment onely, I shalbe whole.

22 Then Iesus turned him about, and seeing her, did say, Daughter, be of good comfort: thy faith hath made thee whole. And the woman was made whole at that same moment.)

23 [5] Nowe when Iesus came into the Rulers house, and sawe the [h] minstrels and the multitude making noise, 24 He said vnto them, Get you hence: for the maide is not dead, but sleepeth. And they laughed him to scorne.

25 And when the multitude were put foorth, hee went in and tooke her by the hand, and the maide arose.

26 And this bruite went throughout al ỹ lād.

27 [6] And as Iesus departed thence, two blind men followed him, crying, and saying, O sonne of Dauid, haue mercie vpon vs.

28 And when he was come into the house, the blinde came to him, and Iesus saide vnto them, Beleeue yee that I am able to do this? And they said vnto him, Yea, Lord.

29 Then touched he their eies, saying, According to your faith be it vnto you.

30 And their eies were opened, and Iesus gaue them great charge, saying, See that no man knowe it.

31 But when they were departed, they spread abroad his fame throughout all that land.

32 ¶ ✣ [7] And as they went out, behold, they brought to him a domme man possessed with a deuill.

33 And when the deuill was cast out, the domme spake: then the multitude marueiled, saying, The like was neuer seene in Israel.

34 But the Pharises said, ✣ He casteth out deuils, through the prince of deuils.

35 ¶ And ∵ Iesus went about all cities and townes, teaching in their Synagogues, and preaching the Gospell of the kingdome, and healing euery sickenesse and euery disease among the people.

36 [8] But ⁜ when hee sawe the multitude, hee had compassion vpon them, because they were dispersed, and scattered abroad, as sheepe hauing no shepheard.

37 Then said he to his disciples, ⁜ Surely the harueste is great, but the labourers are fewe.

38 Wherefore pray the Lorde of the harueste, that hee woulde [i] send foorth labourers into his harueste.

8 But what went ye out to see? A man clothed in soft raiment? Behold, they that weare soft clothing, are in Kings houses.

9 But what went yee out to see? A Prophet? Yea, I say vnto you, and more then a Prophet.

10 For this is he of whome it is written, ‡ Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee.

11 Verely I say vnto you, among them which are begotten of women arose there not a greater then Iohn Baptist: notwithstanding, he that is ‡ least in ‡ c kingdome of heaue, is greater then he.

20 ¶ 5 ✻ Then began he to vpbraide the cities, wherein most of his great workes were done, because they repented not.

21 Woe be to thee Chorazin! Woe be to thee, Bethsaida: for if ‡ great works, which were done in you, had bene done in Tyrus and Sidon, they had repented long agone in sackecloth and ashes.

23 And thou, Capernaum, which art lifted vp vnto heauen, shalt be brought downe to hell: for if the greate works, which haue bin done in thee, had bene done among them of Sodom, they had remained to this day.

24 But I say vnto you, that it shal be easier for them of the lande of Sodom in the day of iudgement, then for thee.

25 ✣ At that time Iesus answered, and saide, I giue thee thankes, O Father, Lorde of heauen and earth, because thou hast hid these things from the wise and men of vnderstanding, and hast g opened them vnto babes.

26 It is ✻ so, O Father, because thy ‡ good pleasure was such.

7 Wherefore if yee knewe what this is, ✣ I will haue mercie, and not sacrifice, ye would not haue condemned the innocents.

12 How much more then is a man better then a sheepe? therefore, it is lawfull to doe well on a Sabbath day.

13 Then said he to the man, Stretch forth thine hand. And he stretched it foorth, and it was made whole as the other.

14 ‡ Then the Pharises went out, & consulted against him, how they might destroy him.

31 Wherefore I say vnto you, euery sinne and blasphemie shalbe forgiuen vnto men: but the blasphemie against the holy Ghost shall not be forgiuen vnto men.

32 And whosoeuer shal speake a word against the sonne of man, it shall be forgiuen him: 6 but whosoeuer shall speake against the holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiuen him, neither in this world, nor in the world to come.

33 Either make the tree good, and his fruite good: or els make the tree euil, and his fruite euil: for the tree is knowen by the fruite.

34 7 O generations of vipers, howe can you speake good things, when ye are euill? For of the ∵ abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh.

35 A good man out of the good treasure of his heart bringeth foorth good things: & an euil man out of an euil treasure, bringeth forth euil things.

36 But I say vnto you, that of euery e idle word that men shall speake, they shall giue account thereof at the day of iudgement.

37 For by thy wordes thou shalt be iustified, and by thy wordes thou shalt be condemned.

38 ¶ 8 ⁂ Then answered certaine of ỹ Scribes and of the Phariſes, saying, Master, we would see a signe of thee.

39 But he answered and said to them, An euill and f adulterous generation seeketh a signe, but no signe shall be giuen vnto it, saue that signe of the Prophet Ionas.

40 ⁂ For as Ionas was three dayes & three nights in the whales belly: so shall the sonne of man be three dayes & three nights in ỹ heart of the earth.

41 9 The men of Nineue shal rise in iudgement with this generation, and condemne it: for they *repented at the preaching of Ionas: and behold, a greater then Ionas is here.

42 ⁂ The Queene of the g South shall rise in iudgement with this generation, and shall condemne it: for she came from the h vtmost partes of the earth to heare the wisedome of Solomon: and beholde, a greater then Solomon is here.

43 ¶ ⁂ Nowe when the vncleane spirit is gone out of a man, he walketh throughout dry places, seeking rest and findeth none.

44 Then he saith, I wil returne into mine house from whence I came: and when he is come, he findeth it emptie, swept and garnished.

45 ⁂ Then he goeth, & taketh vnto him seuen other spirits worse then himselfe, and they enter in, and dwell there: & the ende of that man is worse then the beginning. Euen so shall it be with this wicked generation.

46 ¶ 10 ⁂ While he yet spake to ỹ multitude, beholde, his mother, and his brethren stood without, desiring to speake with him.

47 Then one said vnto him, Beholde, thy mother and thy brethren stand without, desiring to speake with thee.

48 But he answered, & sayd to him that tolde him, Who is my mother? & who are my brethren?

49 11 And he stretched forth his hād toward his disciples, & said, Behold my mother & my brethrē.

50 For whosoeuer shall doe my Fathers will which is in heauen, the same is my brother and sister and mother.

1 The parable of the Sower. 11 and 34 Why Christ spake in parables. 18 The exposition of the parable. 24 The parable of the tares. 31 Of the mustard seede. 33 Of the leauen. 44 Of the hidden treasure. 45 Of the Pearle. 47 Of the draw net cast into the sea. 53 Christ is not receiued of his country men the Nazarites.

THe ∵ same day went Iesus out of the house, and sate by the sea side.

2 1 And great multitudes resorted vnto him, so that he went into a ship, and sate downe: and the whole multitude stoode on the shore.

3 Then hee spake many things to them in parables, saying, Behold, a sower went forth to sowe.

4 And as he sowed, some fell by the way side, and the foules came and deuoured them vp.

5 And some fell vpon stony ground, where they had not much earth, and anon they sprung vp, because they had no depth of earth.

6 And when the sunne was vp, they were parched, and for lacke of rooting withered away.

7 And some fell among thornes, and the thornes sprung vp, and choked them.

8 Some againe fel in good ground, & brought forth fruite, one corne an hundreth folde, some sixtie folde, and another thirtie folde.

9 He that hath eares to heare, let him heare.

10 ¶ Then the disciples came, and sayd to him, Why speakest thou to them in parables?

11 2 And he answered, & sayd vnto them, Because it is giuen vnto you, to know the secrets of the kingdome of heauen, but to thē it is not giuen.

12 ⁂ For whosoeuer hath, to him shalbe giuen, and he shall haue abundance: but whosoeuer hath not, from him shalbe taken away, euen ỹ he hath.

13 Therefore speake I to them in parables, because they seeing, doe not see: and hearing, they heare not, neither vnderstand.

14 So in them is fulfilled the prophecie of Esaias, which prophecie sayth, ⁂ By hearing, ye shall heare, and shal not vnderstand, and seeing, ye shall see, and shall not perceiue.

15 For this peoples heart is waxed fat, & their eares are dull of hearing, and with their eyes they haue winked, lest they should see ẅ their eyes, and heare ẅ their eares, & should vnderstand ẅ their hearts, & should returne, that I might heale them.

16 3 But blessed are your eyes, for they see: and your eares, for they heare.

17 *For verely I say vnto you, that many Prophets, & righteous men haue desired to see those things which ye see, & haue not seene them, & to heare those things, which ye heare, and haue not heard them.

* Luke 10.24.

18 ¶ Heare ye therefore the parable of the sower.

19 Whensoeuer any man heareth the word of that kingdome, and vnderstandeth it not, that euill one commeth, and catcheth away that which was sowen in his * heart: and this is hee which hath receiued the seede by the way side.

20 And hee that receiued seede in the stonie ground, is hee which heareth the worde, and incontinently with ioy receiueth it, 21 Yet hath he no roote in himselfe, and dureth but a season: for assoone as tribulation or persecution commeth because of the worde, by and by he is offended.

22 And hee that receiued the seede among thornes, is he that heareth the worde: but the care of this worlde, and the deceitfulnesse of riches choke the word, and he is made vnfruitfull.

23 But he that receiued the seede in the good ground, is he that heareth the word, and vnderstandeth it, which also beareth fruite, and bringeth foorth, some an hundreth folde, some sixtie folde, and some thirtie folde.

24 ¶ † An other parable put he foorth vnto them, saying, The kingdome of heauen is like vnto a man which sowed good seede in his field.

25 But while men slept, there came his enemy, & sowed tares among ỹ wheate, & went his way.

26 And when the blade was sprung vp, and brought forth fruit, then appeared the tares also.

27 Then came ỹ seruants of the housholder, & said vnto him, Master, sowedst not thou good seed in thy field? from whence then hath it tares?

28 And he said to them, Some enuious man hath done this. Then the seruants said vnto him, Wilt thou then that we go and gather them vp?

29 But he said, Nay, lest while ye go about to gather the tares, ye plucke vp also with them the wheate.

30 Let both grow together vntil ỹ harueſt, & in time of harueſt I wil say to the reapers, Gather ye first ỹ tares, and bind them in sheaues to burne them: but gather the wheate into my barne.

31 ¶ ‡ Another parable he put forth vnto them, saying, The kingdome of heauen is like vnto a graine of mustard seed, which a man taketh and soweth in his field:

32 Which indeede is the least of all seedes: but when it is growen, it is the greatest among herbes, and it is a tree, so that the birds of heauen come and build in the branches thereof.

33 ¶ ∴ An other parable spake hee to them, The kingdome of heauen is like vnto leauen, which a woman taketh and hideth in three pecks of meale, till all be leauened.

34 ¶ ※ All these things spake Iesus vnto the multitude in parables, & without parables spake he not to them, 35 That it might be fulfilled, which was spoken by the Prophet, saying, ※ I will open my mouth in parables, and will vtter the thinges which haue beene kept secret from the foundation of the world.

36 Then sent Iesus the multitude away, and went into the house. And his disciples came vnto him, saying, Declare vnto vs the parable of the tares of that field.

37 ∴ Then answered he, and said to them, He that soweth the good seede, is the Sonne of man, 38 And the field is the worlde, and the good seede are the children of the kingdome, and the tares are the children of that wicked one.

39 And the enemie that soweth them, is the deuill, † and the harueſt is the end of the world, and the reapers be the Angelis.

40 As then the tares are gathered and burned in the fire, so shall it be in the end of this worlde.

41 The Sonne of man shall send forth his Angels, and they shal gather out of his kingdome all things that offend, and them which do iniquitie, 42 And shal cast them into a fornace of fire. There shalbe wayling and gnashing of teeth.

43 † Then shal the iust men shine as the sunne in the kingdome of their Father. Hee that hath eares to heare, let him heare.

44 ¶ Againe, the kingdome of heauen is like vnto a treasure hid in the field, which whē a man hath found, he hideth it, & for ioy thereof departeth, & selleth al that he hath, and buieth ỹ field.

45 ¶ Againe, the kingdome of heauen is like to a marchant man, that seeketh good pearles, 46 Who hauing found a pearle of great price, went and solde all that he had, and bought it.

47 ¶ ‡ Againe, the kingdome of heauen is like vnto a drawe net cast into the sea, that gathereth of all kindes of things:

48 Which, when it is full, men draw to land, and sit and gather the good into vessels, and cast the bad away.

49 So shall it be at the end of the world. The Angels shal go foorth, and seuer the bad from among the iust, 50 And shall cast them into a fornace of fire: there shalbe wayling and gnashing of teeth.

51 ¶ ∴ Iesus said vnto them, Vnderstand yee all these things? They said vnto him, Yea, Lord.

52 Then said he vnto them, Therefore euerie Scribe which is taught vnto ỹ kingdome of heauen, is like vnto an housholder, which bringeth forth out of his treasure things both new & olde.

53 ¶ And it came to passe, that when Iesus had ended these parables, he departed thence, 54 ∴ And came into his owne country, and taught thē in their Synagogue, so that they were astonied, and saide, Whence commeth this wisedome and great workes vnto this man?

55 Is not this the carpenters sonne? Is not his mother called Marie, ※ and his brethren Iames and Ioses, and Simon and Iudas?

56 And are not his sisters al with vs? Whence then hath he all these things?

57 And they were offended with him. Thē Iesus said to thē, ※ A prophet is not without honor, saue in his owne country, and in his owne house.

58 And he did not many great workes there, for their vnbeliefes sake.

2 And saide vnto his seruants, This is that John Baptist, he is risen againe from the dead, & therefore great a workes are wrought by him.
3 ✤ For Herod had taken Iohn, and bound him, and put him in prison for Herodias sake, his brother Philips wife.
4 For Iohn said vnto him, It is not a lawful for thee to haue her.
5 And when hee woulde haue put him to death, hee feared the multitude, because they counted him as a ✱ Prophet.
6 But when Herods birth day was kept, the daughter of Herodias danced before them, and pleased b Herod.
7 Wherefore he promised with an othe, that he would giue her whatsoeuer she would aske.
8 And shee being before instructed of her mother, saide, Giue me here Iohn Baptists head in a platter.
9 And the King was sorie: neuertheless, because of the othe, and them that sate with him at the table, he commanded it to be giuen her,
10 And sent, & beheaded Iohn in the prison.
11 And his head was brought in a platter, and giuen to the maide, and shee brought it vnto her mother.
12 And his disciples came, and tooke vp the body, and buried it, and went, and tolde Iesus.
13 ✱ And when Iesus heard it, hee departed thence by shippe into a desert place apart. And when the multitude had heard it, they followed him on foote out of the cities.
14 2 And Iesus went foorth and sawe a great multitude, and was mooued with compassion toward them, and he healed their sicke.
15 ¶ And when euen was come, ✱ his disciples came to him, saying, This is a desert place, and the time is alreadie past: let the multitude depart, that they may goe into the townes, and bie them vitailes.
16 But Iesus saide to them, They haue no
neede to go away: giue ye them to eate.
17 Then saide they vnto him, Wee haue here but fiue loaues, and two fishes.
18 And he saide, Bring them hither to me.
19 And hee commanded the multitude to sit downe on the grasse, and tooke the fiue loaues and the two fishes, and looked vp to heauen and blessed, and brake, and gaue the loaues to his disciples, and the disciples to the multitude.
20 And they did all eate, and were sufficed, and they tooke vp of the fragments that remained, twelue baskets full.
21 And they that had eaten, were about fiue thousand men, beside women and little children.
22 ¶ And straightway Iesus compelled his disciples to enter into a shippe, and to goe ouer before him, while he sent the multitude away.
23 And as soone as he had sent y multitude away, he went vp into a mountaine alone to pray: &
when y euening was come, he was there alone.
24 3 And the shippe was nowe in the middes of the sea, and was tossed with waues: for it was a contrary winde.
25 And in the c fourth watch of the night, Ie-sus went vnto them, walking on the sea.
26 And when his disciples sawe him walking on the sea, they were troubled, saying, It is a spirite, and cried out for feare.
27 But straightway Iesus spake vnto them, saying, Be of good comfort, It is I: be not afraid.
28 ✤ Then Peter answered him, & said, Master, if it be thou, bid me come vnto thee on the water.
29 And he saide, Come. And when Peter was come downe out of the shippe, he walked on the water, to goe to Iesus.
30 But when he sawe a mightie winde, he was afraid: and as he began to sinke, he cried, saying,
Master, saue me.
31 Immediatly Iesus stretched forth his hande, and caught him, and saide to him, O thou of little faith, wherefore diddest thou doubt?
32 And as soone as they were come into the ship, the winde ceased.
33 Then they that were in the ship, came and worshipped him, saying, Of a trueth thou art the 27 But she said, Trueth, Lord: yet in deede the whelps eate of the crummes, which fal from their masters table.

28 Then Iesus answered, & said vnto her, O woman, great is thy faith: ʰ be it vnto thee, as thou desirest. And her daughter was made whole at that houre.

Blessed art thou, Simon, the sonne of Ionas: for k flesh and blood hath not reuealed it vnto thee, but my Father which is in heauen.

18 5 And I say also vnto thee, that thou art ✣ l Peter, and vpon this rocke I will builde my Church: & the m gates of hel shal not ouercome it.

19 6 And I ✣ will giue vnto thee the n keyes of the kingdome of heauen, and whatsoeuer thou shalt o binde vpon earth, shalbe bound in heauen: and whatsoeuer thou shalt loose on earth, shall be loosed in heauen.

20 7 Then he charged his disciples, that they should tell no man that he was Iesus that Christ.

21 ¶ 8 From that time foorth Iesus beganne to shewe vnto his disciples, that he must goe vnto Hierusalem, and suffer many things of the p Elders, and of the hie Priestes, and Scribes, and bee slaine, and be raised againe the third day.

22 Then Peter q tooke him aside, and began to rebuke him, saying, Master, pitie thy selfe: this shall not be vnto thee.

23 ? Then he turned backe, and said vnto Peter, Get thee behinde me, r Satan: thou art an offence vnto me, because thou s vnderstandest not the things that are of God, but the things that are of men.

24 10 Iesus then sayd to his disciples, t If any man will follow me, let him forsake himselfe, and take vp his crosse, and follow me.

25 For x whosoeuer will saue his life, shall lose it: and whosoeuer shall lose his life for my sake, shall y finde it.

26 ✣ For what shall it profite a man though he should winne the whole world, if hee lose his owne soule? or what shall a man giue for recompence of his soule?

27 For the Sonne of man shall come z in the glory of his Father with his Angels, and * then shal he giue to euery man according to his deedes.

28 ✣ Verely I say vnto you, there bee some of them that stand here, which shall not taste of death, till they haue seene the Sonne of man come in his a kingdome.

k By this kinde of speech is ment mans naturall procreation vpon the earth, the creature not being destroyed which was made, but deformed through sinne: so then this is the meaning: this was not reuealed to thee by any vnderstanding of man, but God shewed it thee from heauen.

5 That is true faith, which confesseth Christ, the vertue whereof is inuincible.

✣ Iohn 1.42.

l Christ spake in the Syrian tongue, and therefore vsed not this descanting betwixt Petros which signifieth Peter, and Petra, which signifieth a rocke, but in both places vsed this word Cephe: but his minde was that wrote in Greeke, by the diuers termination to make a difference betweene Peter who is a peece of the building, and Christ the Petra, that is the rocke and foundation: or els he gaue his name Peter, because of the confession of his faith, which is the Church as well as his, as the olde fathers write, for so saith Theoph. That confession which thou hast made, shalbe the foundation of the beleeuers.

*m The enemies of the Church are compared to a strong kingdome, and therefore by Gates, are meant cities which are made strong with counsaile and fortresses, and thus is the meaning, whatsoeuer Satan can doe by counsell or strength. a Mar. 9.34. luke 9.46.

AT a the same time the disciples came vnto Iesus, saying, Who is the greatest in the kingdome of heauen?

2 And Iesus called a a little childe vnto him, and set him in the mids of them,

3 And sayd, Verely I say vnto you, except ye be b conuerted, & become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdome of heauen.

4 Whosoeuer therefore shall humble himselfe as this little childe, the same is the greatest in the kingdome of heauen.

5 And whosoeuer shall receiue one such little childe in my Name, receiueth me.

6 c But whosoeuer shall offend one of these litle ones which beleeueth in me, it were better for him, that a milstone were hanged about his necke, and that he were drowned in the depth of the sea.

7 d Woe be vnto the world because of offences: for it must needes be that e offences shall come, but woe be to that man by whome the offence commeth.

8 f Wherefore, if thy hand or thy foote cause thee to g offend, cut them off, and cast them from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life, halt, or maimed, then hauing two hands, or two feete, to be cast into euerlasting fire.

9 And if thine eye cause thee to offend, plucke it out, and cast it from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life with one eye, then hauing two eyes to be cast into hell fire.

10 h See that yee despise not one of these little ones: for I say vnto you, that in heauen their i Angels alwayes beholde the face of my Father which is in heauen.

11 For * the Sonne of man is come to saue that which was lost.

12 How thinke ye? If a man haue an hundreth sheepe, & one of them be gone astray, doth hee not leaue ninetie and nine, and goe into the mountaines, and seeke that which is gone astray?

13 And if so be that he finde it, verely I say vnto you, he reioyceth more of that sheepe, then of the ninetie and nine which went not astray.

14 So is it not the will of your Father which is in heauen, that one of these litle ones should perish.

15 ¶ k Moreouer, If thy brother trespasse against l thee, go and tell him his fault betweene thee and him alone: if he heare thee, thou hast wonne thy brother.

16 But if he heare thee not, take yet with thee one or two, that by the m mouth of two or three witnesses euery word may be n confirmed.

17 o And if hee p refuse to heare them, tell it vnto the q Church: and if he refuse to heare the Church also, let him be vnto thee as an r heathen man, and a Publicane.

18 Verely I say vnto you, What soeuer ye bind on earth, shall be bound in heauen: and s whatsoeuer ye loose on earth, shalbe loosed in heauen.

19 Againe, verely I say vnto you, that if two of you shall t agree in earth vpon any thing, whatsoeuer they shal desire, it shalbe giuen them of my Father which is in heauen.

20 For where two or three are gathered together in my Name, there am I in the mids of them.

21 ¶ Then came Peter to him, & said, Master, how oft shall my brother sinne against me, and I shall forgiue him? u vnto seuen times?

22 Iesus said vnto him, I say not to thee, Vnto seuen times, but, Vnto seuentie times seuen times.

23 Therefore is the kingdome of heauen likened vnto a certaine king, which would take an account of his seruants.

24 And when he had begun to reckon, one was brought vnto him, which ought him x tenne thousand talents.

25 And because hee had nothing to pay, his Lord commanded him to be solde, and his wife, and his children, and all that he had, and the det to be payed.

26 The seruant therefore fell downe, & y worshipped him, saying, Lorde, z refraine thine anger toward me, and I wil pay thee all.

27 Then that seruants Lord had compassion, and loosed him, and forgaue him the dette.

28 But when the seruant was departed, hee found one of his fellow seruants, which ought him an hundred pence, & he layde hands on him, and thratled him, saying, Pay me that thou owest.

29 Then his fellow seruant fell downe at his feete, and besought him, saying, Refraine thine anger towards me, and I wil pay thee all.

30 Yet hee would not, but went and cast him into prison, till he should pay the dette.

31 So when his other fellowe seruants sawe what was done, they were very sory, and came, and declared vnto their Lord all that was done.

32 Then his Lorde called him vnto him, and said to him, O euill seruant, I forgaue thee all that dette, because thou prayedst me.

33 Oughtest not thou also to haue had pitie on thy fellow seruant, euen as I had pitie on thee?

34 So his Lorde was wroth, and deliuered him to the tormentours, till he should pay all that was due to him.

35 So likewise shall mine heauenly Father doe vnto you, if ye from your hearts forgiue not euery one his brother their trespasses.

6 Wherefore they are no more twaine, but one flesh. Let no man therefore put asunder that, which God hath [e] coupled together.

7 [2] They sayd to him, Why did then ✣ Moses commaund to giue a bill of diuorcement, and to put her away?

8 Hee sayd vnto them, Moses [f] because of the hardnes of your heart, [g] suffered you to put away your wiues: but from the beginning it was not so.

9 I say therefore vnto you, ✣ that whosoeuer shall put away his wife, except it be [h] for whoredome, and marry another, committeth adulterie: and whosoeuer marrieth her which is diuorced, doeth commit adulterie.

10 Then said his disciples to him, If the [i] matter be so betwene man & wife, it is not good to marry.

11 [3] But hee sayd vnto them, All men cannot [k] receiue this thing, saue they to whom it is giuen.

12 For there are some [l] eunuches, which were so borne of their mothers belly: and there be some eunuches, which be gelded by men: and there be some eunuches, which haue [m] gelded themselues for the kingdome of heauen. He that is able to receeiue this, let him receiue it.

13 ¶ [4]* Then were brought to him litle children, that he should put his handes on them, and pray: and the disciples rebuked them.

14 But Iesus sayd, Suffer litle children, and forbid them not to come to me: for of such is the kingdome of heauen.

15 And when he had put his handes on them, he departed thence.

16 ¶ [5] ✣ And beholde, one came and said vnto him, Good Master, what good thing shall I doe, that I may haue eternall life?

17 And he said vnto him, Why callest thou me good? there is none good but one, euen God: but if thou wilt enter into life, keepe the cõmandemẽts.

18 He sayd vnto him, Which? And Iesus sayd, ✣ These, Thou shalt not kill: Thou shalt not commit adulterie: Thou shalt not steale: Thou shalt not beare false witnesse.

19 Honour thy father and mother: and thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe.

20 The yong man sayd vnto him, I haue obserued all these things from my youth: what lacke I yet?

21 Iesus sayd vnto him, If [n] thou wilt be perfite, go, sell that thou hast, & giue it to the poore, and thou shalt haue treasure in heauen, & come, and follow me.

22 And when the yong man heard that saying, he went away sorowfull: for he had great possessions.

23 ¶ Then Iesus said vnto his disciples, Verely I say vnto you, that a rich man shall hardly enter into the kingdome of heauen.

24 And againe I say vnto you, It is [o] easier for a [p] camel to goe through the eye of a needle, then for a rich man to enter into ✣ kingdome of God.

25 And whē his disciples heard it, they were exceedingly amased, saying, Who then can be saued?

26 And Iesus beheld them, and sayde vnto them, With men it is vnpossible, but with God all things are possible.

27 ¶ ✣ Then answered Peter, and said to him, Beholde, we haue forsaken all, and followed thee: what therefore shall we haue?

28 [7] And Iesus said vnto them, Verely I say to you, that when the Sonne of man shall sit in the throne of his maiestie, yee which folowed me in the [q] regeneration, ✣ shall sit also vpon twelue thrones and iudge the twelue tribes of Israel.

1 Labourers hired into the vineyarde. 15 The euill eye. 17 He foretelleth his passion. 20 Zebedeus sonnes. 22 The cup. 28 Christ is our minister. 30 Two blinde men.

FOr the kingdome of heauen is like vnto a certaine [1] housholder, which went out at ✣ dawning of ✣ day to hire labourers into his vineyard.

2 And he [a] agreed with the labourers for a peny a day, and sent them into his vineyard.

3 And he went out about the third houre, and sawe other standing idle in the market place,

4 And sayd vnto them, Goe yee also into my vineyard, and whatsoeuer is right, I will giue you: and they went their way.

5 Againe he went out about the sixt & ninth houre, and did likewise.

6 And hee went about the [b] eleuenth houre, and found other standing idle, & said vnto them, Why stand ye here all the day idle?

7 They sayd vnto him, Because no man hath hired vs. Hee sayd to them, Goe ye also into my vineyard, and whatsoeuer is right, that shall ye receiue.

8 ¶ And when euen was come, the master of the vineyard saide vnto his steward, Call the labourers, and giue them their hire, beginning at the last, till thou come to the first.

9 And they which were hired about ✣ eleuenth houre,

1 God is bound to no man, and therefore he calleth whom soeuer and whensoeuer he listeth. This onely every man ought to take heed of, & herevpon beeing warned, that he goe forward and come to the marke without all stopping or staggering, and not curiously to examine other mens doings, or the iudgements of God.

b The last houre: for the day was twelue houres long, and the first houre began at the sunne rising.

houre, came and receiued euery man a penie.

10 Nowe when the first came, they supposed that they should receiue more, but they likewise receiued euery man a penie.

11 And when they had receiued it, they murmured against the master of the house, 12 Saying, These last haue wrought but one houre, and thou hast made them equall vnto vs, which haue borne the burden & heate of the day.

13 And hee answered one of them, saying, Friend, I do thee no wrong: didst thou not agree with me for a penie?

14 Take that which is thine owne, and go thy way: I will giue vnto this last, as much as to thee.

15 Is it not lawfull for me to doe as I will with mine own? Is thine eye [c] euil, because I am good?

16 ✣ So the last shalbe first, and the first last: for many are called, but fewe chosen.

17 ✣ [2] And Iesus went vp to Hierusalem, and tooke the twelue disciples apart in the way, and sayd vnto them,

18 [3] Beholde, wee goe vp to Hierusalem, and the Sonne of man shall bee deliuered vnto the chiefe Priests, and vnto the Scribes, and they shall condemne him to death, 19 [4] And [d] shall deliuer him to the Gentiles, to mocke, and to scourge, and to crucifie him, but the thirde day he shall rise againe.

20 ✣ [5] Then came to him the mother of Zebedeus children with her sonnes, worshipping him, and desiring a certaine thing of him.

21 And hee saide vnto her, What wouldest thou? She said to him, Graunt that these my two sonnes may sit, the one at thy right hand, and the other at thy left hand in thy kingdome.

22 And Iesus answered and sayd, Ye know not what ye aske. Are ye able to [d] drinke of the cup that I shal drinke of, and to be baptized with the [e] baptisme that I shalbe baptized with? they said to him, We are able.

23 And he said vnto them, Ye shall drinke in deede of my cup, and shall be baptized with the baptisme, that I am baptized with, but to sit at my right hand, and at my left hand, is [f] not mine to giue: but it shalbe giuen to them for whome it is prepared of my Father.

24 ✣ And when the other ten heard this, they disdained at the two brethren.

25 Therefore Iesus called them vnto him, and sayde, Ye knowe that the Lordes of the Gentiles haue [g] domination ouer them, and they that are great, exercise authoritie ouer them.

26 But it shal not be so amõg you: but whosoeuer will be great among you, let him be your seruant.

27 And whosoeuer will be chiefe among you, let him be your seruant.

28 * Euen as the Sonne of man came not to be serued, but to serue, and to giue his life for the ransome of many.

29 ¶ [6] ✣ And as they departed from Iericho, a great multitude followed him.

30 And beholde, two blinde men, sitting by the way side, when they heard that Iesus passed by, cryed, saying, O Lorde, the Sonne of Dauid, haue mercie on vs.

31 And the multitude rebuked them, because they should holde their peace: but they cried the more, saying, O Lord, the Sonne of Dauid, haue mercie on vs.

32 Then Iesus stoode still, and [h] called them, and said, What will ye that I should doe to you?

33 They sayd to him, Lord, that our eyes may be opened.

34 And Iesus mooued with compassion, touched their eyes, & immediatly their eyes receiued sight, and they followed him.

13 Then said the King to the [e] seruantes, Binde him hand and foote: take him away, and cast him into vtter darkenes: ✣ there shalbe weeping and gnashing of teeth.

14 ✣ For many are called, but fewe chosen.

15 ¶ [3] Then went the Pharises and tooke counsell how they might [f] tangle him in talke.

16 And they sent vnto him their disciples with the [g] Herodians, saying, Master, wee knowe that thou art true, & teachest the way of God [h] truely, neither carest for any man: for thou considerest not the [i] person of men.

17 [5] Tell vs therefore, how thinkest thou? Is it lawfull to giue [k] tribute vnto Cæsar, or not?

18 But Iesus perceiued their wickednes, and sayd, Why tempt ye me, ye hypocrites?

19 Shewe me the tribute money. And they brought him a [l] peny.

20 And hee sayde vnto them, Whose is this image and superscription?

21 They said vnto him, Cæsars. Then sayd hee vnto them, [6] Giue therefore to Cæsar, the things which are Cæsars, & giue vnto God, those things which are Gods.

22 And when they heard it, they marueiled, and left him, and went their way.

23 ¶ ✣ The same day [7] Sadducees came to him (which say [7] there is no resurrection) & asked him, 24 Saying, Master, * Moses said, If a man die, hauing no [m] children, his brother shall marrie his wife by the right of alliance, and raise vp seede vnto his brother.

25 Nowe there were with vs seuen brethren, and the first married a wife, & deceased: and hauing none yssue, left his wife vnto his brother.

26 Likewise also the second, and the third, vnto the seuenth.

27 And last of all the woman died also.

28 Therefore in the resurrection, whose wife shall she be of the seuen? for all had her.

29 Then Iesus answered, and said vnto them, Ye are deceiued, not knowing the Scriptures, nor the power of God.

30 For in the resurrection they neither marrie wiues, nor wiues are bestowed in mariage, but are as the [n] Angels of God in heauen.

31 And concerning the resurrection of the dead, haue ye not read what is spoken vnto you of God, saying, 32 ✣ I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Iacob? God is not the God of the dead, but of the liuing.

33 And when the multitude heard it, they were astonied at his doctrine.

34 ¶ ✣ [7] But when the Pharises had heard, that hee had put the Sadducees to silence, they assembled together.

35 And [o] one of them, which was an expounder of the Lawe, asked him a question, tempting him, and saying, 36 Master, which is the great commandement in the Lawe?

37 Iesus said to him, ✣ Thou shalt loue [p] Lord thy God with all thine heart, with all thy [p] soule, and with all thy minde.

38 This is the first and the great commandement.

39 And the second is like vnto this, ✣ Thou shalt loue thy [q] neighbour as thy selfe.

40 On these two commaundements hangeth the whole Lawe, and the Prophets.

41 ¶ [8] While the Pharises were gathered tother, Iesus asked them, 42 Saying, What thinke ye of Christ? [r] whose sonne is he? They sayd vnto him, Dauids.

43 He said vnto them, Howe then doeth Dauid in spirit call him Lord, saying, 44 * The Lorde sayde to my Lorde, Sit at my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy foote-stoole?

45 If then Dauid call him Lord, how is he his sonne?

46 And none could answere him a worde, neither durst any from that day foorth aske him any moe questions.

19 But after a long season, the master of those seruants came, and reckoned with them.

20 Then came hee that had receiued fiue talents, and brought other fiue talents, saying, Master, thou deliueredst vnto me fiue talents: behold, I haue gained with them other fiue talents.

21 Then his master sayd vnto him, It is well done good seruant and faithfull, Thou hast bene faithfull in litle, I wil make thee ruler ouer much: [d] enter into thy masters ioy.

24 Then hee which had receiued the one talent, came, & said, Master, I knew that thou wast an hard man, which reapest where thou sowedst not, and gathered st where thou strawedst not:

41 Then shal he say vnto them on ‡ left hand, ✣Depart from me ye cursed, into euerlasting fire, which is prepared for the deuil and his angels.

8 And when his [d] disciples sawe it, they had indignation, saying, What needed this [e] waste?

9 For this ointment might haue beene solde for much, and bene giuen to the poore.

15 And saide, What wil ye giue me, and I wil deliuer him vnto you? and they appointed vnto him thirtie pieces of siluer.

16 And from that time, he sought opportunitie to betray him.

17 ¶ ✠ [6] Nowe [g] on the first day of the feast of vnleauened bread the disciples came to Iesus, saying vnto him, Where wilt thou that wee prepare for thee to eate the Passeouer?

18 And he [h] said, Goe yee into the city to such a man, and say to him, The master saith, My time is at hand: I will keepe the Passeouer at thine house with my disciples.

19 And the disciples did as Iesus [i] had giuen them charge, and made readie the Passeouer.

20 ✣ So when the euen was come, hee [k] sate downe with the twelue.

25 Then Iudas [m] which betrayed him, answered, and said, Is it I, master? Hee saide vnto him, Thou hast said it.

32 But ✠ after I am risen againe, I wil goe before you into Galile.

33 But Peter answered, and saide vnto him, Though that al men should be offended by thee, yet will I neuer be offended.

34 ✣ Iesus saide vnto him, Verely I say vnto thee, that this night, before the cocke crow, thou shalt denie me thrise.

35 Peter saide vnto him, Though I shoulde die with thee, I will in no case denie thee. Likewise also said all the disciples.

36 ¶ * 9 Then went Iesus with them into a place which is called Gethsemane, & said vnto his disciples, Sit ye here, while I go, and pray yonder.

37 And hee tooke vnto him Peter, and the two sonnes of Zebedeus, and began to waxe sorowfull, and [t] grieuously troubled.

38 [10] Then said Iesus vnto them, My soule is very heauie, euen vnto the death: tarie ye here, and watch with me.

a By this word Feast, is meant the whole feast of vnleauened bread: the first and eight day whereof were so holy, that they might do no manner of worke therein, though the whole companie of the Sanhedrin determined otherwise. 16 And they had then a notable prisoner called Barabbas.

17 When they were then gathered together, Pilate said vnto them, Whether will ye ‡ I let loose vnto you Barabbas, or Iesus which is called Christ?

18 (For he knew well, that for enuie they had deliuered him.

19 Also when hee was set downe vpon the iudgement seate, his wife sent to him, saying, Haue thou nothing to do with that iust man: for I haue suffered many things this day in a dreame by reason of him.)

20 But the chiefe Priests and the Elders had perswaded the people that they should aske Barabbas, and should destroy Iesus.

21 Then the gouernour answered, and said vnto them, Whether of the twaine will ye that I let loose vnto you? And they said, Barabbas.

22 Pilate said vnto them, What shall I do then with Iesus, which is called Christ? They all said to him, Let him be crucified.

23 Then sayd the gouernour, But what euill hath he done? Then they cried the more, saying, Let him be crucified.

24 ‡ When Pilate saw that he auailed nothing, but that more tumult was made, he tooke water and ‡ washed his hands before the multitude, saying, I am innocent of the ‖ blood of this iust man: looke you to it.

25 Then answered all the people, & said, ‡ His bloud be on vs, and on our children.

26 Thus let he Barabbas loose vnto them, and scourged Iesus, and deliuered him to be crucified.

27 ¶ ‖ Then the souldiours of the gouernour tooke Iesus into the common hall, and gathered about him the whole band,

28 ‡ And they stripped him, and ‖ put about him a ‡ skarlet robe,

29 And platted a crowne of thornes, and put it vpon his head, and a reed in his right hand, and bowed their knees before him, and mocked him, saying, God saue thee King of the Iewes,

30 And spitted vpon him, and tooke a reede, and smote him on the head.

31 Thus when they had mocked him, they tooke the robe from him, and put his owne raiment on him, and led him away to crucifie him.

32 ‖ And as they came out, they found a man of Cyrene, named Simon: him they ‡ compelled to beare his crosse.

33 ‖ ‡ And when they came vnto the place called Golgotha, (that is to say, the place of dead mens skulles)

34 ‡ They gaue him vineger to drinke mingled with gall: and when he had tasted thereof, he would not drinke.

35 ¶ ‖ And when they had crucified him, they parted his garmentes, and did cast lots, ‡ it might bee fulfilled, which was spoken by the Prophet, ‡ They deuided my garments among them, and vpon my vesture did cast lots.

36 And they sate, and watched him there.

37 ¶ ‡ They set vp also ouer his head his cause written, THIS IS IESVS THE KING OF THE IEWES.

38 ¶ ‖ And there were two theeues crucified with him, one on the right hand, & another on the left.

39 ‖ And they ‡ passed by, reuiled him, wagging their heads, 40 And saying, ‡ Thou that destroiest ‡ Temple, & buildest it in three dayes, saue thy selfe: if thou be ‡ Sonne of God, come down frō ‡ crosse.

41 Likewise also the hie Priests mocking him, with the Scribes, and Elders, and Pharises, said, 42 He saued others, but he cannot saue himselfe: if he be ‡ King of Israel, let him now come downe from the crosse, & we will beleeue in him.

43 ‡ Hee trusted in God, let him deliuer him now, if he wil haue him: for he said, I am ‡ Sonne of God.

44 The selfe same thing also ‡ theeues which were crucified with him, cast in his teeth.

45 ‖ Now from the sixt houre was there darknesse ouer all the land, vnto the ninth houre.

46 And about ‡ ninth houre Iesus cried with a loud voyce, saying, ‖ Eli, Eli, lama sabachthani? ‡ is, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?

47 And some of them that stood there, when they heard it, said, This man calleth ‡ Elias.

48 And straightway one of them ran, & tooke ‖ a spunge, and filled it with vineger, and put it on a reed, and gaue him to drinke.

49 Other said, Let be: let vs see, if Elias wil come and saue him.

50 ‖ Then Iesus cried againe with a loude voyce, and yeelded vp the ghost.

51 ‖ And behold, ‡ the ‡ vaile of the Temple was rent in twaine, from the top to the bottome, & the earth did quake, & the stones were clouen.

52 And the ‡ graues did open themselues, and many bodies of the Saints, which slept, arose, 53 And came out of ‡ graues after his resurrectiō, & went into ‡ holy citie, & appeared vnto many.

54 When the Centurion, and they that were with him watching Iesus saw the earthquake, and the things that were done, they feared greatly, saying, Truely this was the Sonne of God.

55 ¶ And many women were there, beholding him afarre off, which had followed Iesus from Galile, ministring vnto him.

1 Seeing this prophecie is read in Zach. 11. 12. it cannot be denied but Ieremies name crept into the text, either through the Printers fault, or by some others ignorance: it may be also that it came out of the margent by reason of the abbreuiation of the letters, the like being ioa, & ier, which are not much vnlike: But in the Syrian text the Prophets name is not set downe at all. ‡ Zecha. 11. 12.

2 The Euangelist doth not follow the very words, but the meaning, which he sheweth to be fulfilled.

3 Christ holdeth his peace when he is accused, that we may not be accused: acknowledging our guiltines, & therewithall his owne innocencie. ‡ Marke 15. 2. luke 23. 3. ioh 18. 33.

4 Christ is first quited of the same Iudge, before he be condemned, that we might see how the iust died for the vniust. ‡ Marke 15. 11. luke 23. 18. ioh 18. 40. act 3 14.

4 Christ being quit by the testimonie of the Iudge himselfe, is notwithstanding condemned by the same to quit vs before God.

‖ It was a maner in old time, when any man was murthered and in other slaughters, to wash their hands in water to declare themselues guiltlesse.

‡ Of the murder, an Hebrew kind of speach.

‡ If there be any offence committed in slaying him, lest vs and our posteritie inquire for it. ‡ Marke 15. 16. ioh 19. 2.

5 Christ suffereth that reproch which was due to our sinnes, notwithstanding in the meane time by the secret prouidence of God, hee is intituled King by them which did him that reproch. & They cast a cloke about him, and wrapped it about him, for it lacked sleeues. ‖ Iohn and Marke make mention of a purple robe, which is also very pleasant red. But these prophane and malepert saucie souldiers clad Iesus in this sort, to mocke him withall, who was in deed a true King. ‡ Marke 15. 21. luke 23. 26.

‡ They compelled a man to beare his burden perforce. ‖ Wretched Master, seeth the deed, & yet not ashamed to take vpon him to beare the crosse, that he may be stamped by the way, & trod on for Iohn 19 17. that he may beare the crosse after him. ‡ Marke 15. 21.

7 Christ found no cōfort any where, that in him we might be filled with all comfort.

8 He is made a curse, that in him we may be blessed: he is spoiled of his garments that we might be enriched by his nakednes. ‡ Psal. 22. 18. marke 15. 24.

10 Christ began then to iudge the world, when also his iudgement began to be done betwixt the theeues.
